• The Rainbow Wahine come into the Bank of Hawai'i Classic mirroring the same record as last season at 0-2 and would eventually roll into 0-3 and 1-4 after the event. UH followed it up by going 19-7 the rest of the way.

• Sophomore forward Daejah Phillips made a statement to start the season by playing a combined 62 minutes in the first two games while scoring 37 points, including a career-high 25 against Portland.

• UH has not won the Bank of Hawai'i Classic outright since 2017, when they beat Northern Arizona and San Diego. In the three other occasions of the Classic, with 2020 being the exception due to COVID-19, UH has gone 3-3, splitting the Classic all three times. Since the beginning of the Classic in 1980, the 'Bows have won the yearly event six times. (1989, 1991, 1993, 1999, 2016, 2017)

• Portland won the Classic last season by going 2-0 with wins over UH and Prairie View. Florida Gulf Coast visited the island twice before but didn't compete in the Classic, but rather the Rainbow Wahine Showdown in 2018. Lipscomb has also been to O'ahu twice, but only once in the Classic, and that was in 2007 when they went 0-2.

A HISTORY LESSON

For forty years, the Bank of Hawai'i Classic, formerly known as the Rainbow Wahine Classic, has been a staple as one of the best non-conference early-season tournaments in the country. The Classic has hosted several big-name teams over the years, and only six programs have won the Classic Championship more than once. UH leads the way with six titles, while Stanford is next in line with five. Tennessee, Texas, North Carolina, and North Carolina State have claimed the title twice.

WELCOME TO PARADISE

November brings excitement to college basketball fans everywhere, with it being the start of the season and the first of two signing periods. Head coach Laura Beeman didn't waste any time, as she and the staff signed two in the early period. Brooke Murrell, a 6'2 forward from Denver, Colorado, and Vivienne Berrett, a 6'4 center from Stanwood, Washington. Both add size and skill set to solidify the 'Bows depth for years to come.

DOUBLE U, BOOM, BOOM, BABY

For 13 years, there has been one consistent element to the Rainbow Wahine program, and it has been on the radio. The 2022-2023 campaign marks the 13-year "on-air marriage" of play-by-play man Dave Kawada and color analyst Tiff Wells. The tandem is a fan favorite, with their wit and banter setting the stage for nearly every home game on ESPN Honolulu. Aside from their on-air duties, Kawada was recently named Na Koa's president, the leading UH athletics booster club. At the same time, Wells serves as the play-by-play voice for men's and women's volleyball at UH, solidifying himself as one of the best in the country behind the mic calling the fast-paced action.

ONCE AGAIN, BACK IS THE INCREDIBLE

It's official; the 'Bows have a target on their back in 2022-23 as the Big West coaches selected UH as the No. 1 team in the preseason rankings, claiming nine of the 11 votes. It marks the second time in program history that UH was selected as the Big West favorite, the other coming before the 2015-16 season. For reference, when it occurred eight years ago, UH finished second in the regular season and won the conference tournament title. On top of the team honor, UH had a player named to the Preseason Team for the second consecutive season. Sophomore guard Lily Wahinekapu claimed the honor, following Atwell from a year ago.

HAWAI'I IS THE PLACE WITH THE HARDWARE FOLKS

It's well-established what the 'Bows accomplished as a team in 2021-22, but this year's squad has plenty of individual awards. Sophomore forward Daejah Phillips is a Big West Sixth Man of the Year from 2021 and a conference Honorable Mention from 2022. Phillips and sophomore guard Kelsi Imai were conference All-Freshmen team members in 2021. Wahinekapu was the Big West Freshman of the Year in 2022 as a member of the Cal State Fullerton squad. Wahinekapu was also named the Gatorade High School Player of the Year in Hawai'i following the 2020-2021 season. A year later, her sister, freshman guard Jovi Lefotu received the same honor in 2022. Graduate center Kallin Spiller was named the WAC Freshman of the Year during the 2017-18 season while playing for Seattle University. Rounding it all out is head coach Laura Beeman who was named Big West Coach of the Year two times in her career, including last season.

A SEASON OF HISTORY

The 2021-22 basketball season is one no Rainbow Wahine follower has ever experienced and won't forget any time soon. For the first time in program history, the 'Bows won both conference regular season and tournament titles, earning the program's seventh trip to the NCAA tournament. Amy Atwell left her mark by becoming the program's three-point queen with 205 made three-pointers over her career, and 76 made threes in one season. Atwell also became the program's first-ever Big West Player of the Year and ranks No. 7 all-time in scoring for the 'Bows with 1,270 points.

PIPELINE DOWN UNDER

Since 2016, Beeman has had a tie to Australia, as this marks the seventh consecutive season a player from Australia has been on the roster. Meg Jefferson hails from Sydney, Australia. To go a step further, Beeman has had a player on the roster from New Zealand or Australia in her 11 seasons.

2022-23 UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII RAINBOW WAHINE BASKETBALL

Laura Beeman

HEAD COACH

11TH SEASON

UC SAN BERNARDINO (1992)

HAWAII RECORD: 162-135

For over 25 years, Laura Beeman has been a standard-bearer in the profession of women's basketball, leading by example on and off the court while winning championships and helping young ladies full fill their dreams of earning a college education. In the past 10 years, she has upheld her standard at the helm of the University of Hawaii, bringing the program back to prominence. Most recently, putting the program in the national spotlight and one to keep an eye on.

In 2016 she led the Rainbow Wahine to its first conference tournament title in 20 years, earning a spot in the NCAA Championship tournament. She did it again in 2022 but made history by coaching the first team in program history to win both the Big West Conference regular-season and conference tournament championship. The 2021-22 campaign was one for the record books for UH as Beeman won her second conference coach of the year honor at UH, and saw its first-ever conference player of the year winner in Amy Atwell. Later, Atwell became only the second player ever from the program to be drafted to the WNBA as she was selected 27th overall by the Los Angeles Sparks.

In her 25 years of roaming the sidelines, Beeman has accumulated over 550 wins, including over 160 at UH. She has been inducted into two Hall of Fames for her contributions to the game and has been named "Coach of the Year" six times while serving as the head coach at two programs. At UH, she has coached 22 All-Big West selections and led the Bows to a total of six national post-season selections.

A native of Bernardino, California, Beeman has a bachelor's degree in business from CS San Bernardino University, along with two master's in education, one being from the University of the Redlands in Counseling, the other in Physical Education from Azusa Pacific.
