WHAT TO KNOW...

- Marshall women's tennis begins its home slate Saturday afternoon and evening with a doubleheader against Wright State and West Virginia State.
- This is the first meeting between Marshall and Wright State.
- Saturday's doubleheader marks the first two matches of a five-match homestand for the Thundering Herd.
- Head coach John Mercer is Marshall's all-time leader in wins (246) and is entering his 17th season as the head coach of the Thundering Herd.
- Victoria Walter became the first Marshall player to reach double-digit wins this season (fall and spring) and was the only player to earn a win against (RV) Kentucky.
- Marshall has four players making their home debut Saturday.
- This is the fourth consecutive season that Marshall will play in a doubleheader. All four doubleheaders have included at least one home match with three of them, including this one, having both matches at home.

FALL 2018 HIGHLIGHTS

- Marshall's roster is the youngest in Conference USA in terms of experience. The Herd had no seniors or juniors on its fall roster and just one sophomore.
- Marshall entered the season as the only school in Conference USA with no juniors or seniors on its roster.
- Head coach John Mercer signed three freshmen for the 2018-19 season: Madi Ballow (Dallas, Texas), Liz Stefancic (Aurora, Ill.) and Victoria Walter (Vienna, Austria).
- Victoria Walter tied the Marshall freshman record for most singles wins during a fall season with nine (Rachael Morales, 2013).
- Each of Marshall's three newcomers won at least six singles matches over the course of the fall season, marking the first time since 2011 that three freshmen had five or more singles wins in a fall season at Marshall (Kai Broomfield, Ellie Ball, Maria Voscekova).
- Walter and Liz Stefancic each qualified for the main draw of the ITA Atlantic Regional after winning two qualifying rounds.
- Walter reached the second round of the regional tournament.
- Walter reached the finals of her singles bracket at the Hokie Fall Invite.
- Stefancic finished in third place in her singles bracket at the Hokie Fall Invite.
- Anna Smith won the consolation bracket of her singles flight at the Hokie Fall Invite.
- Marshall defeated a total of six opponents from schools in the Power Five conferences: three from West Virginia, two from Penn State and one from Iowa State.
- Marshall added two players for the spring season: Daniela Dankanych (Uzhgorod, Ukraine) and Matilde Mulatero (Givoleto, Italy).

TEAM NOTES: WHAT TO KNOW

HAVE YOU HERD?

- Marshall and Wright State are meeting for the first time in program history.
- Marshall is seeking its first win over a Horizon League opponent since ().
- Head coach John Mercer is four wins shy of recording his 250th career victory at Marshall. Mercer already holds the school record for most wins by a women's tennis head coach at Marshall (246).

SCOUTING THE OPPONENT

- Wright State will begin its 2019 dual match season on Friday with a home contest against Chicago State. The Raiders will then make the trip to Huntington for a quick turnaround match against the Thundering Herd.
- Head coach Eric Burns is now in his fourth seson at the helm for the Raiders after previously leading the now-defunct squad at Purdue Fort Wayne.
- Wright State returns seven players from its 2017-18 team that won 20 games and made the semifinals of the Horizon League Tournament, including all-conference performer Haily Morgan.

YOUTH MOVEMENT

- Marshall entered the fall season as the only team in Conference USA to not have a junior or senior on its roster. While that stat has changed, the Herd still boasts the youngest roster in Conference USA in terms of experience, as four of its six players are freshmen, while the Herd returns just one player from its 2017-18 team.
- Marshall's three freshmen who played in the fall each made an impact on the court and etched their names into the record books. Victoria Walter tied Rachael Morales' mark for most singles wins by a freshman in a fall season with nine, while Liz Stefancic and Madi Ballow won six matches apiece, which is tied for ninth in school history for wins in a fall season by a freshman. Walter and Stefancic each made it through qualifiers at the ITA Atlantic Regional, with Walter reaching the second round of the tournament.
- Anna Smith, the Herd's lone returning player from the 2017-18 team, continued her development from last season to this season with seven singles wins, a five-win improvement from her win total during the fall 2017 season.

WELCOME BACK

- A familiar face has returned to the courts in Huntington, as Daniela Dankanych will make her Marshall return Wednesday after missing the last two semesters for the Herd.
- Dankanych won six singles matches in each of her first three semesters at Marshall and has a combined 36 wins in her career (18 singles, 18 doubles).

MAKING HISTORY

- Matilde Mulatero made school history last week against (RV) Kentucky as the first Italian to ever play for the Herd. Mulatero is from Givoleto, which is about 15 miles northwest of Turin. Mulatero will also become the first freshman to join the team mid-season since Derya Turhan did so prior to the 2014 spring season.

JOHN MERCER

HEAD COACH - 17TH SEASON

PENN STATE '85 - TEXAS '88

246
CAREER WINS

3
CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIPS

54
ALL-CONFERENCE SELECTIONS

Marshall head tennis coach John Mercer's run at the school can be described as nothing short of remarkable. Mercer, now in his 17th season at the helm of the Thundering Herd, is the school's all-time leader in wins with 246 and has posted a record of at least .500 in 15 of his first 16 seasons.

Mercer took Marshall to the NCAA Tournament in each of his first three seasons as head coach, also a first for the program, and has coached 54 all-conference selections during his tenure, including 45 during Marshall's current tenure in Conference USA. Prior to Mercer's arrival, Marshall had just one NCAA Tournament appearance and 19 all-conference selections.

Following three consecutive Mid-American Conference regular season and tournament championships, Marshall moved to Conference USA prior to the 2005-06 season. In Marshall's first 13 seasons in the conference, Mercer has led the Thundering Herd to 186 wins, an average of more than 14 wins per season. The Herd has garnered a spot in the ITA's final rankings six times during that span and has reached the finals of the conference tournament four times, while reaching at least the quarterfinals in 12 of the 13 seasons.

During Mercer's tenure at Marshall, the Thundering Herd has found profound success on the court against opponents from Power Five conferences. Marshall has defeated the likes of Pitt, Louisville, Virginia Tech and Virginia from the ACC, Penn State, Ohio State, Michigan State, Wisconsin and Minnesota from the Big Ten, West Virginia, TCU and Iowa State from the Big 12, Washington State from the Pac 12 and Kentucky from the SEC.

Mercer's tenure has also resulted in five conference players of the year, one freshman of the year and one newcomer of the year.

Mercer, the 2005 ITA East Region Coach of the Year, sits just four wins shy of becoming the first coach in school history to reach 250 wins.
