Hinds CC gridiron Eagles look to build off late season momentum

The 2016 Hinds Community College Eagles are eager to build off the momentum of a 2015 season where they finished out by winning three straight games. Overall, the Eagles finished 6-3 bolstered by those three-in-a-row final wins.

Gene Murphy returns for his 25th season as the head coach of the Hinds football program. With a 170-69-5 overall record, Murphy is currently the winningest active coach in the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA).

The Eagles will be placing a young, but very talented group on the field this season. There are many new faces in the Eagle locker room, but expect these newcomers to step in and have a huge impact.

BRIAN KING

The offense will look different this season mainly because of the departure of 2015 quarterback, Jaquez Parks. Parks is now continuing his career at Georgia State University.

"Initially, losing our quarterback was a blow. We immediately started searching the country high and low for a quarterback," Murphy said.

"We found our guy in Micah Zanders (Jacksonville, Fla.). Micah has been a good fit for us. At this point, we feel really good about the quarterback position. This team has a chance to be really special. My players have shown a lot of character and have already shown that they can overcome adversity" he finished.

The Eagles will enter the season with a lot of talent across the board, especially at the skill positions.

The receiving core should be a very intriguing group to watch. The group will be led by Stephen Guidry, who is rated as the No. 1 JUCO receiver in the country. Guidry (Livonia, La.) brings both size and speed to the field. Guidry has already committed to continue his career at Louisiana State University. Along with Guidry, John Hightower is expected to be another leader.

Wide Receiver John McInnis (Collins) returns as the veteran leader of the bunch. McInnis finished the 2015 season averaging 12.8 yards per catch.

of newcomers DeMichael Harris (Vicksburg), Freddy Jordan (Waynesboro), Rameik Wallace (Waynesboro), Chris Blair (Louisville) and Demarcus Frazier (Louisville).

"We are expecting to throw the ball around this year and put up some points. This offense should be fun to watch" Kelly Murphy said.

Coach Larry Williams returns as the head of the Eagle defense. The defense will look to continue to play fast and be a stingy bunch. The Eagle defense forced 13 turnovers in nine games a year ago.

The strength of the defense will be at linebacker and in the secondary.

Linebacker Nic Chatman (Clinton) returns for his second season with the defense and is the team's leading returning tackler from a year ago.

Linebacker Alvin Wilson (Lexington) returns for his second season as well and is expected to have a breakout year.

The secondary will be led by a three-headed monster Lloyd Jenkins (McComb), Kareem Butler (Vicksburg) and Clint Parham (Moss Point). All three of the defensive backs played significant number of snaps a year ago and are all expected to have big seasons.

The defensive line will be very young and inexperienced, but expect the boys up front to create havoc in the trenches for the Eagles this season.

Head Coach

GENE MURPHY, HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

Gene Murphy, who also serves as athletic director at Hinds Community College, is now in his eighth season in his second stint as head coach of the Hinds football program.

The Raymond native has served as the school's athletic director since July 1997, after serving as the head football coach from 1987 to 2003. Murphy had remarkable success during his first stint, compiling a 133-41-5 overall record.

Murphy has since gone 37-28 in his seven seasons back on the sidelines and his overall record now stands at 170-69-5, making him the winningest active coach in the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA).

The 2013 version saw the Eagles win their final five regular season games to finish the season with a 7-2 mark before dropping the Brazos Valley Bowl to Navarro (Texas) College, 31-24, in the game's final minute. In the process, three Eagles were named to the Mississippi Association of Community and Junior Colleges (MACJC) and All-Region first teams, six players were selected to the All-State second team and six more student-athletes were selected to the All-State honorable mention team.

The Eagles also returned to the MACJC playoffs in 2011 after finishing second in the South division, and Dontrill Hyman (DL) and Kyle Williams (K/P) were named to the NJCAA All-American team.

The Eagles won six state and regional championships during his first go-round, including four consecutive titles from 1994-1997. Numerous former Eagles coached by Murphy continued their playing careers at four-year universities throughout the nation and 46 former Eagle stars have gone on to play in the National Football League (NFL).

Murphy, who was also the offensive coordinator during his first time around, was selected as Region 23 Coach of the Year six times in 16 years as the Eagles head man. He has coached 40 NJCAA All-Americans and two NJCAA National Players of the Year, and has led the Eagles to 14 MACJC state playoff appearances, 12 South division titles and eight national bowl game appearances in his 22 seasons at the helm.

Before coming to Hinds in 1983 as the defensive coordinator, Murphy spent three years as the head football coach and athletic director at Caldwell High School in Columbus, where he led the team to a South Little Ten Conference runner-up finish.

Murphy also spent one season as the assistant football coach and head baseball coach at Philadelphia High School before relocating to Caldwell High.

He received his bachelor of science degree and master of education degree from Mississippi State University. He also received an additional School Administration Certification from Mississippi College.

He is married to Dot, who currently serves as the assistant athletic director at Hinds. The couple has three children; son Kelly, and daughters Ashley and Jennifer, along with seven grandchildren.

Coordinators

KELLY MURPHY, OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR/QUARTERBACKS

Kelly Murphy begins his eighth season on the Hinds staff and seventh as offensive coordinator in 2016.

He was in charge of a unit in 2013 that finished 16th overall in the final National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) stats in the categories of yards per game (421.6) and points per game (35.2). The offensive force also finished fifth in the Mississippi Association of Community and Junior Colleges (MACJC) in yards per game.

The 2011 version of the Hinds offense was explosive as well, as the Eagles finished fourth in the state in total offense, averaging 401.5 yards per game. QB Deon Anthony finished with 2,024 yards passing and 17 TD passes, with 10 TD passes going to WR Quantavius Leslie. RB Jeremy Palmer led the rushing attack, as he had 709 yards on the ground and seven touchdowns.

As a signal caller Murphy coordinated one of the nation's most explosive offenses in 2010. Running back Matthew Willis finished fifth in the country in total rushing yards while quarterback Anthony Sheppard was 10th in the country in individual passing, as well as 18th in total individual offense. Willis was later named to the NJCAA All-American team for his exploits.

The Eagles ranked 17th in the nation in total offense with 3,335 total yards from scrimmage, an average of 337 yards per game, in nine games.

Murphy played for Hinds in 1997 and 1998, before spending the 1999 and 2000 seasons as a graduate assistant coach. During his time at Hinds, he was a part of two state championship teams, one in 1997 as a player, and one in 2000 as a graduate assistant coach.

The Central Hinds Academy graduate also was part of the 1999 state runner-up team as a coach. Murphy, who coaches the Eagles quarterbacks, came back to Hinds from Wayne County High School, where he served as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach for a program that won the 2002 (5A), 2003 and 2006 (4A) State Championships.

He also won a 2A State Championship at Ackerman High School in his lone year at AHS in 2001.

Murphy, who received a bachelor of science degree from Mississippi State University and a master of science degree from the University of Southern Mississippi, lives in Raymond with his wife Katie, a former Hinds cheerleader, and their two sons, Thomas and Rhett, and a daughter, Lainey Kate.

LARRY WILLIAMS, DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Larry Williams is now in his fourth season in his second stint as the Eagles defensive coordinator, a role in which he previously held from 2003-2009.

His impact on the Hinds defense in his first season back in Raymond was evident from the get-go, as Williams' unit finished 14th in the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) standings in total defense by allowing only 20.2 points per game and allowing only 362.2 yards per game (195.6 passing, 166.6 rushing).

The stingy defense, which also finished fifth in the Mississippi Association of Community and Junior Colleges (MACJC) in total defense, concluded the season with 29 sacks, 19 fumble recoveries and 13 interceptions.

He served as the defensive coordinator at Co-Lin during the 2011 and 2012 seasons, helping lead the Wolfpack to the 2012 MACJC state championship, and spent the 2010 season as the defensive line coach at East Mississippi Community College.

During Williams' previous seven-year stint at Hinds, the Eagles were consistently in the top of the league's standings in total defense. In his first two seasons at Hinds (2003 and 2004), the Eagles posted back-to-back 9-2 campaigns and consecutive state runner-up finishes.

A former standout at Mississippi Delta Community College and Mississippi State University, Williams returned to MDCC to begin his coaching career for a six-year stint, serving as the Trojans' defensive coordinator and defensive line coach from 1997 until 2002. He helped guide Delta to a pair of state runner-up finishes (1997 and 2001) and a state semifinal appearance in 2000.

Williams, a graduate of Indianola Gentry High School, led the Trojans to an undefeated season and the 1993 NJCAA national championship and made second-team NJCAA All-American in the process.

He continued his playing career at Mississippi State as a defensive end under former head coach Jackie Sherrill, where he led the Bulldogs in sacks in both 1994 and 1995 (12.5 career sacks) and was selected as the Bulldogs Most Valuable Defensive Player in the Peach Bowl after collecting a sack as well as a forced fumble and fumble recovery against North Carolina State University.

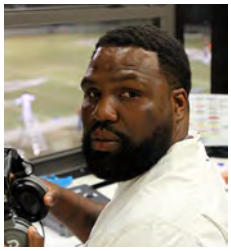

He earned his bachelor's degree in interdisciplinary studies from Mississippi State after spending time with the NFL's Baltimore Ravens and the Scotland Claymores of the World Football League.

Williams has one daughter, Annastasis.

OMARR CONNER, WIDE RECEIVERS

Omarr Conner starts his 2nd season on the staff and his first as the wide receivers coach at Hinds. Conner also serves as the school's assistant track coach.

Conner is a native of Macon, Miss., and graduated from Noxubee County High School. During his career at Noxubee County, Conner was named a Dandy Dozen, a Parade All-American, and was named the Mississippi Player of the Year. He played his collegiate career at Mississippi State University.

After his time at JSU, Dillon returned to Hinds, serving as an assistant football coach from 1997-2004. Dillon has sent numerous athletes to four-year colleges around the nation during his tenure at Hinds.

He has also had the privilege of coaching two Olympians in track and field. In summer 2016 Hinds alumnus Jeff Henderson won a gold medal in men's long jump. As a 2008-2009 Hinds student, Henderson won the NJCAA national championship in 2008 in both the indoor and outdoor long jump events. In 2009, he won the outdoor national championship in the long jump and also won with the 4x100 meter relay team.

Trell Kimmons of Coldwater won the 2006 NJCAA Indoor title when he ran the 60 meter dash in 6.53 seconds as a Hinds student. Kimmons competed in the 2012 London Olympics as the lead man on the 4x100 meter relay team, earning a silver medal.

Dillon currently resides in Raymond.

Chris Mattox returns to Hinds for his second stint on the staff. Mattox will serve as the cornerbacks coach.

Mattox is a native of Palm Harbor, Fla., and graduated from Clearwater Central Catholic High School. He received his Bachelor's degree from the University of Central Florida.

Mattox began at Hinds in 2011 as the safeties coach. He then coached the defensive backs at Coahoma Community College from 2013-2014. In 2015, he was the co-defensive coordinator at Coffeyville Community College (Kansas). While there, he coached the number one junior college cornerback that went on to sign with the University of South Carolina. That particular defense had seven Division I signees.

CLARENCE MCDOUGAL, SECONDARY

Clarence McDougal begins his fourth season as the safeties/assistant strength coach for the Hinds football program in 2016.

McDougal, a graduate of Clinton High School and Mississippi State University, previously spent five seasons (2008-2012) as the linebackers coach at Copiah-Lincoln Community College, helping lead the Wolves to the 2012 Mississippi Association of Community and Junior Colleges (MACJC) state championship.

He made an immediate impact his initial season in 2013, helping lead Kenya Dennis, a University of Missouri signee, to All-Region and MACJC All-State first team recognition.

During his high school career, McDougal was selected to The Clarion-Ledger Dandy Dozen team as both a defensive back and wide receiver. He was also named First Team All-State, All-Metro Player of the Year and was selected to play in the Mississippi-Alabama All-Star Game.

McDougal was rated as the No. 6 safety in the country and was a high school All-American. He was also selected to the high school All-Decade Team.

He received a bachelor's degree in interdisciplinary studies at Mississippi State University, where he was a three-year starter for the Bulldogs from 2001-2005.

McDougal later spent time in training camp with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers of the National Football League (NFL).

He is married to Crystal and the couple has three children, Cameren, Lauren Crislyn and Clarence Jr.

HINDS COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Follow us @HindsCCSports

As the largest community college in Mississippi and the fourth largest institution of higher education in the state, Hinds Community College offers a full slate of varsity sports for student-athletes.

For many students, athletics is the pathway that helps many of them excel in the classroom. Sports can often guide them and keep them on a steady path, thanks to caring coaches who see that they learn the life skills as well as the academic skills they need to leave Hinds and be successful in their next phase of life.

Wherever they go, we want student athletes to leave Hinds Community College with a diploma in hand and with the abilities to be productive citizens.

The quality of our athletics program at Hinds is reflected in some of the names you see fronting our facilities – from legendary coaches, outstanding athletes and loyal fans of the game.

Baseball . . . . . Coach Sam Temple
Softball . . . . . Coach Mike Grzanich
Cheerleading . . . . . Coach Ashley Horne

Women's soccer . . . . . Coach Emily Homan
Men's and women's track and field . . . . . Coach Reginald Dillon

Hinds Community College Athletics
Mission Statement

We will strive to foster the personal growth of student athletes with the highest quality academic, athletic and social experience. Our goal is to achieve competitive success in every program and to develop and maintain an environment that promotes meaningful standards of scholarship, athletic performance, leadership, civic contribution, sportsmanship, teamwork, compliance, equity and diversity. We believe the student athlete has the right and responsibility to exhibit integrity in academics, in citizenship and in athletic competition.

Through sport, we seek to contribute to Hinds Community College's collegiate identity and positive perception within the institution and through the community.

As a department, we strive for excellence in the competitive environment in accord with the philosophy, rules, and regulations of the Mississippi Association of Community and Junior Colleges and the National Junior College Athletic Association.

Halbrook Award indicates quality of academic program

At Hinds Community College, we care about athletes' academic progress as well as their performance on the field. One indicator of how important academics are to us is the number of times Hinds has been the recipient of the annual Halbrook Award given each year for the highest number of student-athletes who graduated or completed class work.

Hinds has won the Halbrook Award in the community college division 15 times since it was instituted in 1987, most recently during the October 2015 Mississippi Association of Colleges annual conference at Millsaps College.

Hinds received the award for having the highest number of student-athletes in the community college division who graduated or completed class work for all second season participants in the 2014-2015 academic year, posting a 96 percent graduation/completion rate

The Halbrook Award for Academic Achievement Among Athletes was established in 1984 as a result of House Concurrent Resolution No. 88. The awards program is made possible through endowments from former Rep. David M. Halbrook and his brothers. Holbrook served in the Mississippi House of Representatives for 26 years until his retirement in 1996.

Dot Murphy, assistant athletic director and assistant football coach, said the college's success depends on a joint effort."Our athletic department has always taken pride in excelling in athletics and academics, which is part of our recruiting tool. We stress to the student-athletes that we recruit that the classroom is something that we truly emphasize," she said.

Murphy also pointed to the work of the academic counselors and coaches, saying that the counselors make sure the "student-athletes get in the correct classes that lead to graduation."

"The coaches also stay on top of their student-athletes to ensure they are attending classes and finishing their work," she said. "Between the coaches and the counselors, we make sure they're on track to graduate. The teachers do a tremendous job of keeping in contact with our coaches and making them aware of how they are doing in the classroom. Our college, as a whole, puts a lot of effort into it and that is what makes it successful."

Preparing to become an Eagle Football Cheerleader

We are looking for well-rounded individuals with an outgoing personality and good character. We want our cheerleaders to represent Hinds Community College in a positive manner. Grades and recommendations are considered as well. Good collegiate motions, tumbling and stunting are extremely important. Being talented is important but leading the crowd, having expression and sharp motions with good placement are the faces of Hinds cheerleading.

FRANKLIN

MURRAH HIGH GRAD RETURNS TO METRO AS NEW HINDS SID

Alvin Franklin joined Hinds Community College as Sports Information Director. He also serves as an assistant baseball coach under head baseball coach Sam Temple.

Franklin, of Jackson, arrives at Hinds from Mississippi State University, where he worked as a graduate assistant in the Bulldog Club at Mississippi State University.

As Sports Information Director he has a wide range of responsibilities that all boil down to making sure Hinds Community College athletes as well as the individual sports receive the positive attention they deserve, both in the media and in college publications, on the website and in social media.

"I am responsible for promoting each sport and ensuring each one receives wide-ranging coverage," he said. "Also, I will be responsible for the sports social media pages and maintaining the athletic website."

A Murrah High School graduate, he earned an associate degree from Meridian Community College in 2013, then his bachelor's degree in economics from Jackson State University two years later. He is finishing coursework on a master's in Sports Administration from MSU.

"I hope to engage our athletes off the field in our publications more," Franklin said. "I would also like to promote our athletes who are excelling in the classroom. A main focus will also be to give our coaches the attention that they deserve. I want the whole state, and not just this area, to know what we have going on at Hinds."

On the coaching side, he'll focus on keeping steady a baseball program accustomed to deep playoff runs.

"I hope to bring in high caliber recruits each here along with getting over the hump and winning a national championship," he said.

Housed in the Public Relations office in the Student Union Building on the Raymond Campus, Franklin joins Tracy Duncan, who handles sports marketing and sports photography, and April Garon, multimedia specialist, who handles sports highlight video.

Jeff Henderson leaped and struck gold

Hinds Community College alumnus Jeff Henderson returned home with something that he did not have before he represented the United States in the 2016 Olympic Games in Rio. He came home with a gold medal after leaping 8.38 meters to win gold by one centimeter. In doing so, Henderson happens to be the second Hinds alum to win a medal at the Olympics, but the first to win gold.

Henderson's success has been pretty fulfilling to Hinds Community College track and field coach Reginald Dillon. Dillon has experienced tremendous success at Hinds and has produced 21 individual national champions during his eight-year tenure with the school. Henderson happens to be his first gold medalist.

"Dick Booth, the jumps coach at the University of Arkansas, contacted me and told me there was a kid out of his state that I needed to sign. He contacted me because he did not think Jeff would qualify (at Arkansas) but thought that he was a special athlete. I then received a call from Nick Fortenberry at the University of Memphis about Jeff. I knew then that this kid could be special," Dillon said.

It turns out that Dillon read the situation correctly. While at Hinds, Henderson won the NJCAA (National Junior College Athletic Association) national championship in 2008 in both the indoor and outdoor track long jump events.

In 2009, he won the outdoor national championship in the long jump and also won with the 4x100 meter relay team. Henderson also became a National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) All-American at Stillman College after leaving Hinds.

"Jeff was a great kid that did not display any discipline problems and was one of the best character guys that I have ever had in this program. He was a workhorse and was at the facility early and always stayed late," Dillon said.

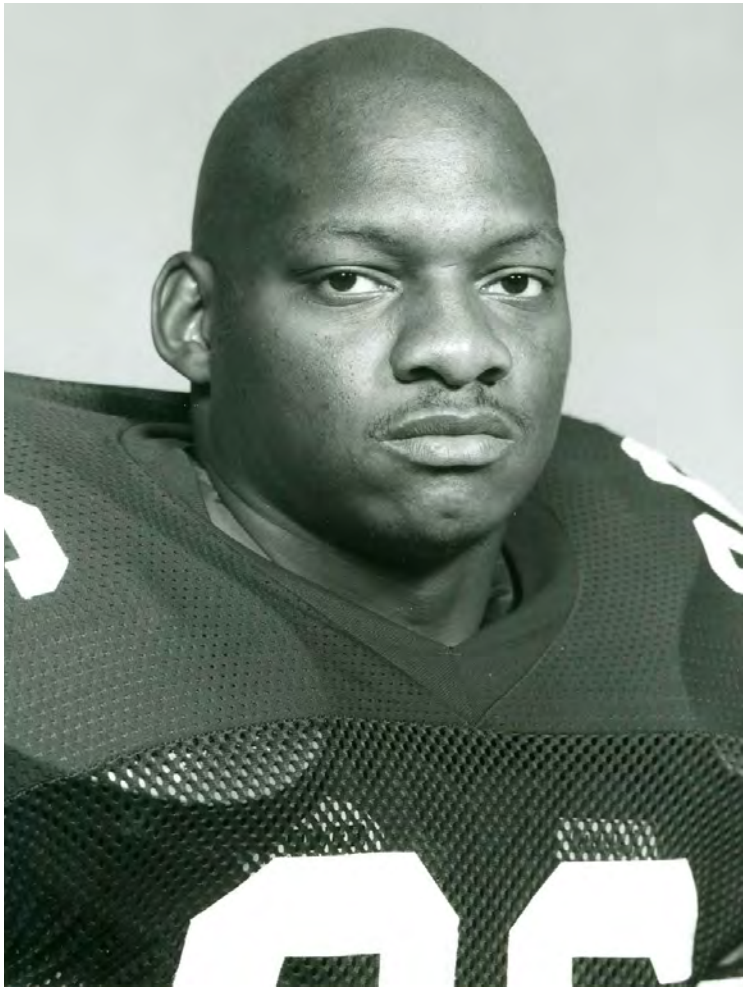

Dillon is certainly happy for Henderson but he also knows that Henderson's success is good for Hinds.

"This feat helps tremendously in recruiting. It shows that that our program develops great athletes and that you can come to Hinds and become the best in the world," Dillon said.

Hinds' Walker named to NJCAA football Hall of Fame

The National Junior College Athletic Association Football Coaches Association recently announced four new inductees, including former Hinds Community College defensive end Gary Walker, a native of Lavonia, Ga..

Few men in the trenches of National Junior College Athletic Association football experienced the success of Walker. Anchoring the Hinds defensive front during the 1991 and 1992 seasons with a sophomore season that was particularly stellar, Walker would go on to excel at Auburn and in his 11-year NFL career.

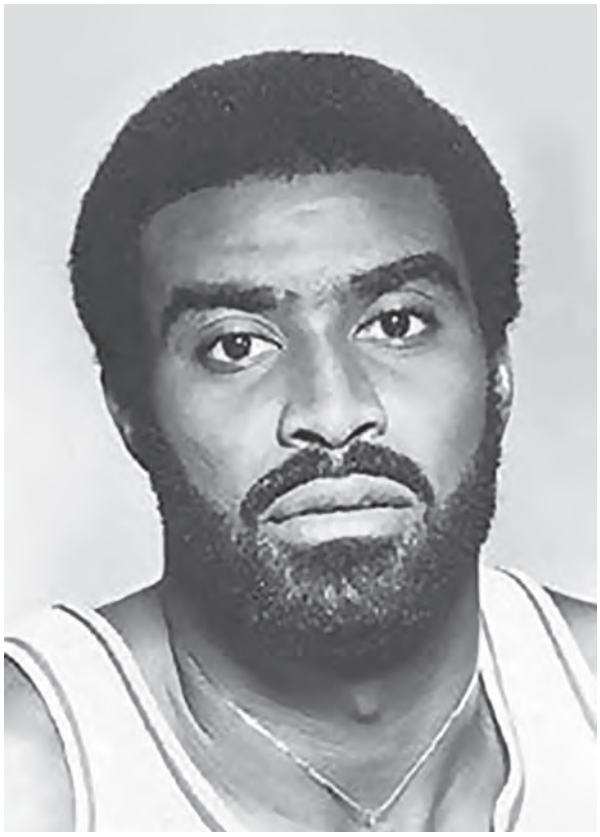

Playing an integral role on the Eagles defensive line in both of his seasons at Hinds, Walker's production steadily increased garnering him NJCAA Second Team All-America accolades as a sophomore in 1992 before he signed with Auburn on a football scholarship.

In his first Auburn season in 1993, Walker's presence on the defensive front played a pivotal role in there perfect 11-0 season. He took his game to another level during his senior year in 1994, claiming All-SEC honors as the Tigers enjoyed a 9-1-1 campaign. Overall he collected 148 tackles and 15 sacks in two seasons and was named to the All-Southeastern Conference (SEC) second team after his senior season in 1994.

Drafted in 1995 by the Houston Oilers, Walker played 11 seasons in the NFL. He made the Pro Bowl as a member of the Jacksonville Jaguars in 2001 and returned to the game in 2002 with the Houston Texans during their expansion season. Retiring in 2005, Walker finished his pro football career with 315 tackles, 46.5 sacks and nine forced fumbles.

Walker was inducted into the Hinds Community College Sports Hall of Fame in 2013. He currently resides in Georgia with his wife, Sabrina, and their four children The Walker legacy at Auburn continues as his son – Gary Walker Jr. – is currently a redshirt freshman on the Tigers defensive line.

Utica Campus basketball standout Hall of Fame inductee

Alonzo Bradley, a Utica Junior College standout from 1973-1975, was inducted into the 2016 National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) Men's Basketball Coaches Association Hall of Fame.

While attending what is now the Utica Campus of Hinds Community College, Bradley caught the attention of many four-year programs. As a result of his success athletically and academically, Bradley garnered numerous awards including being twice named to the NJCAA All-America team and earning the Governor's Merit Award of Excellence in 1975.

In spite of more prestigious programs looking to sign the Utica star, Bradley decided to follow his coach, Robert Moreland, to Texas Southern University, where he averaged 25.1 points and 8.1 rebounds a game over his two seasons and led the Tigers to back-to-back National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) national tournament appearances.

As a senior, Bradley was a key component in leading TSU to the 1977 NAIA national championship and a 31-5 mark, winning MVP honors at the national tournament and earning the NAIA Player of the Year Award.

He was then chosen by the Indiana Pacers as the 29th overall selection in the 1977 NBA draft, but was traded to the Houston Rockets, where he would spend three seasons before concluding his career at the end of the 1979-1980 season.

Bradley appeared in 43 games as a rookie, averaging nearly 19 minutes and seven points per game. That season Bradley averaged seven points per game and dished out 54 total assists.

In his post-playing career, Bradley spent time as the head coach of the Galveston Storm of the Southwest Basketball League and later, Unisys Space Systems, where he has served as chairman of the board, as well as being president and vice president of the National Association of Security Dealers (NASD).

Bradley, who holds a bachelor's degree in business administration and computer science from Texas Southern, is also an inductee in the Utica Campus Sports Hall of Fame, Southwestern Athletic Conference (SWAC) Hall of Fame and Texas Southern University Tiger Athletics Hall of Fame.

JOHN EARL HAGAN, TRACK AND FIELD, 1962-1964

John Earl Hagan, a Jackson native, was a key cog in the Eagles' track and field machine in the early 1960s.

Hagan excelled in the 100-yard dash, 440-yard and 880-yard relays and low hurdles for the Hinds "thinclads" pair of state champion teams. The sprinter was the 100-yard dash state champion and anchored the two relay teams during each title run. He was also a manager on the Hinds football team.

After Hinds, he attended Mississippi State University on a track scholarship. He lives in Homewood, Ala.

JOHN HAGAN

JARET HOLMES, FOOTBALL, 1994-1995

Holmes was the placekicker on teams that lost just two games and competed in a bowl game and the National Junior College Athletic Association playoffs. He was an All-American his second year, and in 1995 won the Eagle Award given to the college's best male and female athletes.

He graduated from Auburn University in 1998 after a stellar career on the field and off. He was an All-Southeastern Conference selection in 1996 and 1997 and became the first kicker to win the university's Pat Sullivan Award for Most Outstanding Player.

Holmes spent time on the rosters of six different NFL teams from 1998 to 2002, appearing in 11 regular season games with the Chicago Bears, New York Giants and Jacksonville Jaguars. After the 1999 season, the Bears sent him to NFL Europe, where he was Special Teams Player of the Year with the Berlin Thunder. His stint with the Giants in 2000 came during the team's run to Super Bowl XXXV.

In 2003, Holmes returned to Mississippi and opened Holmes Specialty Advertising Inc. in Clinton.

JARET HOLMES

CHRISTI SMITH, SOFTBALL, 1988-1990

Christi Smith, a Pearl native, was a two-time All-American shortstop for the Hinds Lady Eagles.

She entered Hinds having won the Best Offensive Softball Award at two different high schools, Northwest Rankin and Pearl, plus an array of other merits for softball and track. At Hinds, she was a vital cog in a scoring machine that won the state and Region XXIII championships in 1989. Her .614 batting average was tops on the team.

In 1990, Smith was selected for an Eagle Award, given to the college's best male and female athletes. In addition to her duplicating her place on the National Junior College Athletic Association's All-America team, her batting average (.592) once again led the team. Off the field, she was two-time Academic All-American as well, with a 4.0 GPA.

CHRISTI SMITH

OLIVER P. "PETE" STONE, BASKETBALL, 1970-71

Oliver P. "Pete" Stone, a Vicksburg native, was the big man in the middle for Hinds' state champion basketball team in his only season at the school.

Stone had entered Hinds from a single season at Mississippi State University. Once at Hinds, Stone, the team's starting center, and his Eagles teammates had their way on the hardwood in 1971. They finished 24-1 and swept the state playoffs and finals, where they defeated Northeast Mississippi Community College 82-72 for the title. The talented squad also featured two other future Hinds Sports Hall of Famers, forwards Wade Evans and Randy Shelton, and one of this year's honorees, guard Freddie Townsend.

Stone made first team All-State and led the team in scoring. After finishing up at Southeastern Louisiana College, he pursued a career in business in his hometown.

OLIVER "PETE" STONE

FREDDIE TOWNSEND, BASKETBALL, 1969-71

Freddie Townsend, a Pelahatchie native, was another key piece of Hinds' championship basketball team during his sophomore season.

Townsend, a guard on the near-perfect team Hinds fielded in 1971, excelled in the backcourt under head coach Robert Garrison's first team after succeeding longtime coach Troy Arlis Ricks. During his freshman season, Townsend was fifth in scoring on the 11-member team.

He finished up his college basketball career at Belhaven University, where he was the school's Most Valuable Player during his senior year and shot 92.5 percent from the free throw line, a mark that led the NAIA. In the classroom, he earned a bachelor's degree in Business and Physical Education.

After college, he managed his family's farm for 10 years, then went to work at Hudspeth Center as a recreation therapist. Townsend died in August 2015 of liver disease.

Alumni Service Award: Senator Dean Kirby

State Sen. Dean Kirby referred to himself as a "spoke in the wheel" in 2009 during the celebration of the new Career-Technical Education building Hinds Community College had then recently acquired.

But Kirby of Pearl, this year's Alumni Service Award recipient, is much more than that when it comes to support of community colleges, Hinds Community College in particular and especially the Rankin Campus.

A legislator since 1992, Kirby was a key player in the 2008 Legislature in helping Hinds President Dr. Clyde Muse persuade legislators to support a special appropriation to purchase what was the United Association of Plumbers and Pipefitters Gulf Coast Regional Training Center on Commercial Park Drive off Greenfield Road in Pearl.

"He was able to work through the minefield and get us some help to enable us to buy that building, which, by the way, is one of the finest buildings in the entire district. We've got it full of students right now," said Muse, who has known the Rankin County legislator and retired insurance executive for more than 20 years.

At the time, Kirby chaired the Senate Finance Committee, which handles capital improvement bonds. Hinds paid $3.2 million for the building that appraised for three or four times that with a special Fiscal year 2009 state bond appropriation along with additional capital funding support from Rankin County.

"Dr. Muse came to me and said, 'Dean, we've got this great deal. It will really help your area and it will really help Hinds a whole lot,'" Kirby recalled.

The building now houses classes for plumbing, electrical, welding, industrial maintenance, practical nursing and Associate Degree Nursing with about 200 students and 24 total employees.

Kirby calls the campus in Pearl one of the greatest engines of economic progress in the county. "I never dreamed how much it would mean to Rankin County, how important it would be to those people that are maybe married and out of school and want to continue their education. It's really been helpful," he said. "I'm really excited about Hinds and what it has done for Rankin County, and hopefully we've been as good to Hinds as Hinds has been to us."

Most recently, Kirby spoke to the Mississippi Association of Community and Junior College Trustees at their summer conference.

"He has always been ready to help the community colleges and particularly Hinds," Muse said. "He is one of the finest legislators that we have at the Capitol. He is very competent, he always does his homework on every piece of legislation that comes to him and his committee. He has always an open door for the community colleges."

Alumnus of the Year: Dr. Wayne Lee

They say home is where the heart is, and for Dr. Wayne Lee (1955) home has been many places since his days on hardwood for Hinds and in small-town schools in Mississippi.

Lee, of Ponchatoula, La., was a guard and forward on the Hinds basketball team for Coach Troy Arlis Ricks, the legendary Hinds basketball coached from 1951 to 1970. "I was the skinny kid with a scholarship to play basketball – and poor as a son of a gun."

His hoops career continued at Delta State, where he earned a Bachelor of Science degree in biology. Drafted into the Army, he served two years, mostly in Germany. "I set up a division basketball team over there, where we traveled around to villages and towns and played teams there. It kept me sane. I was so glad to get home I kissed the ground when I got back to Mississippi."

He coached hoops and taught for five years, in Anguilla and Belzoni, before earning his first master's, in biology, from Mississippi College.

After a short stint in sales, he returned to school, this time to the University of Southern Mississippi, where in 1972 he earned a doctorate degree, in Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

He took his skills to Louisiana, where he worked for the state for the next 28 years, 24 of them at Southeastern Louisiana University as a professor of physical education and health studies. In the middle, he worked four years with the state's Department of Education, in educational support and research development.

In 2000, he returned to his college alma mater in Cleveland, Miss., for his final years in the health education classroom, which ended earlier this year.

In 1994, he was inducted into the Hinds Sports Hall of Fame.

Brian Oakes, assistant football coach and physical education instructor at Hinds, was a graduate student of Lee's at DSU. "At the age of 82 years young, he still calls, texts and sends emails to check on me," Oakes said. "I can't say enough good things about Dr. Lee and the passion he has displayed as a lifetime educator."

One message he's made sure to get across to his students through the years is persistence in finding ways to pay for college.

"Nowadays, there's so many ways you can pay for school," he said. "Back in my day, either your parents had money or you got a scholarship. Thank goodness I got a scholarship, or I don't know what I'd be right now. Without Hinds Community College and Delta State, I don't know what I'd be."

Minor Hines (1953-1954), Football,Baseball

Minor Hines (1954) was inducted into the Mississippi Association of Community and Junior Colleges Sports Hall of Fame (MACJC) on April 26. Hines, a native of Utica, was a star on the gridiron at Hinds Junior College in 1953 and 1954, as well as being a major producer on the Eagles baseball team.

Hines, who played under fellow MACJC Sports Hall of Fame inductee Joe Renfroe (class of 2008), was an All-American fullback as a sophomore and helped lead the Eagles to the 1954 national championship and victory in the Junior Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif.

Hines

The Junior Rose Bowl was the first of its kind in the Southeast, as the Eagles were the first team east of the Mississippi River to earn an invite to the prestigious postseason game.

Due to his being named All-American, his hometown of Utica honored him with "Minor Hines Day" at the conclusion of his second season at Hinds. He was also chosen as the fullback on the All-Time Joe Renfroe Team established after the legendary coach's career came to a close.

Hines would then join fellow Hinds teammates Earl Leggett (MACJC SHOF class of 2007), Don Scully and Durwood Graham (MACJC SHOF class of 2009) by signing with Louisiana State University to continue his academic and athletic career. However, he sustained a severe concussion during spring practice that forced his playing career to come to an end, but LSU still honored Hines' football scholarship and allowed him to serve as the team's manager, for which he earned a letter and membership in the National L Club.

After his 1957 graduation from LSU, Hines served for two years in Korea, where he was a captain of the 1st Corps baseball team which had a 55-3 record.

When his time in the military was up, Hines went to work for Foster Creighton Company in Nashville, Tenn., where he rose up the ranks from office manager to project superintendent over the interstate system, which was in its infancy in the early 1960s.

Hines later spent a decade working as a superintendent and manager of operations in the concrete division for General Contractor in Chattanooga, Tenn., before moving back to Jackson and spending five years as a manager at Con-Lex.

In 1984, Hines went to work for Circle, Inc. in Gretna, La., as a division manager and would later retire with the same company in 2001, rising up to his final role as the vice president of construction.

Hines was the husband to the late Dorris Crow of Mentone, Ala., and the couple had two sons, Dwight (deceased) and Dwayne and a daughter, Melinda.
He currently resides in Canton, Ga., and has five grandchildren.

Celebrate

Hinds Centennial

In 1917, when 117 students arrived to begin classes at the new Hinds County Agricultural High School, nobody would have known that it would become an important day in history. That day served as our beginning. Today we are the largest community college in the state of Mississippi and the fourth largest institution of higher learning. Our alumni list includes multiple governors, an attorney general, a United States Secretary of Labor, a state treasurer, numerous physicians and nationally recognized business leaders, to name a few.

On January 3, 2017, Hinds CC will launch a year-long series of special events to mark our centennial year. There will be many reunions, recognitions and special award presentations along with the celebration culminating in a festive Maroon Tie Gala.

INFLUENCE

Who will he follow?
You can play a vital role in his decision.

Many junior high, high schools and colleges have chartered Fellowship of Christian (FCA) huddles. You can help by seeing that your school becomes an official huddle.
