HINDS COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Dear Visitors:

On behalf of the Board of Trustees and the entire Hinds family, I am pleased to welcome you to Hinds Community College where you will find a quality education with a personal and friendly approach at a reasonable cost.

The focus of our college is on the student, and we make every effort to provide programs and services that enable students to be successful. We are extremely pleased with the graduation/completion rate of our athletes.

Among those working hard for the betterment of the college are members of the coaching staff who have gone out of their way to prepare their team for this athletic event. Also to be commended are the band, Hi-Steppers, cheerleaders and their sponsors, the athletic director and the athletes.

We are particularly pleased to have parents, students, and alumni here. We thank you for your support of our educational endeavors. We hope you enjoy the game and continue to take an interest in the activities at Hinds.

The college's athletics program is just one extension of the comprehensive academic, vocational and technical instruction offered at Hinds. Athletics complement a strong instructional base that provides educational opportunities of the highest caliber at the college's six locations.

With the college serving the local communities since 1917, we at Hinds look eagerly toward many more years of providing a wide variety of educational and cultural opportunities as we continue to motivate students with a learning environment that's close to home, affordable and friendly.

To our visiting coaches, players and college representatives, we extend a warm welcome. We hope you enjoy your visit at Hinds as well as the athletic competition that adds excitement and challenge to the students' educational experience.

Douglas Highlights

Iron Eagle Challenge

Eric Douglas of Vicksburg, a sophomore outfielder, recently won the first annual Iron Eagle Challenge. The Challenge is a series of strength and conditioning tests that took place over three days and signified the culmination of fall baseball at Hinds.

Points were given to the top five finishers in each event, and the final points were tallied at the end of the Challenge to determine an individual winner among the position players and pitchers and a winner among the Maroon and Gray teams.

Douglas finished first among the position players by totaling 640 points, while Daniel Cowart of Brandon finished first among the pitchers with 475 points, narrowly beating Derek Casola of West Monroe, La., who finished with 465 points.

The Maroon team was the winning team, prevailing by a large margin over the Gray team.

The events included a dumbbell bench press, shuttle run, mile run and towel hold among many others. The Challenge concluded with a grueling obstacle course spread out over the track and practice football field.

"I thought this was a great way to conclude our fall," said Hinds coach Sam Temple. "The guys really competed in each event, and it was nice to see them get after it and try to beat one another."

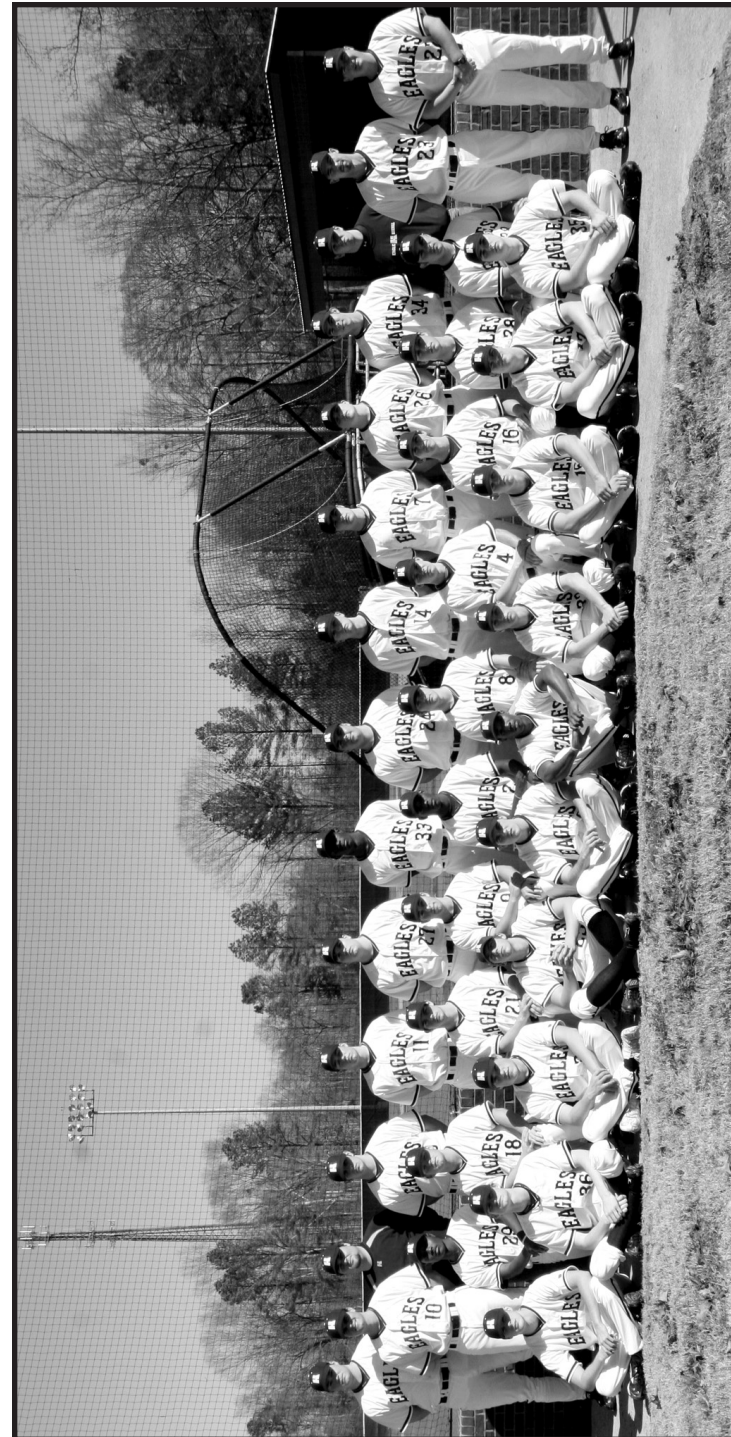

The top five position players were recognized, while only the top three pitchers were recognized due to the smaller number of pitchers.

Final standings of the 2007 Iron Eagle Challenge

Best of Luck for the 2008 Season

SAM TEMPLE

Head Coach

SAM TEMPLE is in his third season as head coach of the Hinds Community College baseball program. The Vicksburg native has turned around the program in a short period of time, leading the Eagles back to the upper level of Mississippi junior college baseball.

Temple's first year, 2006, was a trying year for him and his staff, as the Eagles finished 13-28 on the season. Hinds experienced the typical bumps and bruises that go along with rebuilding a program. However, the optimism of the program's future was evident in local area talent, as 14 high school seniors inked with Hinds after the 2006 season.

The second season was a remarkable improvement from the first, as Hinds finished with a 27-15 record, narrowly missing the state playoffs. Seven members of the team were named All-State, with outfielders David Mooney and Corey Stevens making All-Region as well.

Temple is an alumnus of Porter's Chapel Academy in Vicksburg, where he was a two-year letterman, all conference honoree and a Mississippi Private School Association All-Star as a catcher. After completing his associate of arts degree here at Hinds, Temple then went on to Delta State University and served two seasons as backup catcher for the Statesmen.

After earning his bachelor's degree in health and physical education, Temple served DSU as a graduate assistant for two years while completing his master's degree.

He began his career in coaching as head baseball coach at Warren Central High School in Vicksburg from 1996 to 2001. By his second season there, Temple had the Vikings on the upswing to a district title and took them to the state playoffs. The following season, it was the district title, state playoffs, school record for wins, and that summer, American Legion State Champions.

In 2000, the Vikings earned a district title, state playoff trip, USA Today's Top 20 in the nation, and, that summer, won the Amateur Athletic Union state championship.

In Temple's final season at Warren Central, 2001, the Vikings ended with a 36-3 record, 5A state championship, USA Today's Top 20 in the Nation (#4 in the nation and #2 in the south), High School Baseball America's Top 20 and a new school record for wins. In addition, since 1996, Warren Central's baseball program has raised more than $80,000 for baseball facility improvements.

Temple next served Clinton High School's baseball program as head coach for one year, ending the 2002 season with a 25-8 record, a co-district championship and a berth in the state playoffs.

Temple then moved on to nearby Mississippi College, where he became assistant baseball coach and recruiting coordinator in July 2002. In his three seasons at the Clinton school, the Choctaws finished 90-43 overall, winning the American Southwest Conference championship in 2003.

Temple received three Coach of the Year awards in 2001, was named the coach of the North team in the Mississippi All-Star game in 2001 and received the Doug Shanks Leadership Award in 2003.

Temple has contributed to the game of baseball in a number of ways during his career. He has served as head coach of the semipro Mississippi Stars baseball team, been an instructor and camp director for Jim Page's Champions Baseball Camps, and from 1998-2000 served as commissioner of American Legion Baseball in Mississippi, coordinating games in central Mississippi.

He resides in Clinton with his wife Kristen and their two children; son, Garren and daughter, Grayson.

Thoughts on the previous year: "We had a very good year in 2007, and we just missed out on the playoffs. We had a nice group of freshmen that really contributed to our success."

Thoughts on the upcoming year: "We have an excellent group of returning sophomores who will hopefully provide a lot of leadership for us this season. If we can stay healthy and our pitchers perform the way they are capable, we should compete for a championship."

Assistant Coaches

MIKE GRZANICH

MIKE GRZANICH is currently in his third year as a member of the Hinds baseball staff. Grzanich serves as the pitching coach for the Eagles. The 2007 Eagle staff finished among the nation's best, posting a team earned run average under three.

In 2007, Grzanich helped tutor Brandon Martin and David Mooney, both All-State honorees as freshmen. The final members of the Eagles pitching staff to be named All-State in 2007 were Jack Craven and Matt Jordan, giving Hinds four All-State pitchers.

Grzanich was born and raised in Illinois, playing one year of junior college ball at Parkland College before being drafted by the Houston Astros in the 19th round of the 1992 MLB draft. Mike played for the Astros minor league teams over the next seven years before being called up to the major leagues during the 1998 season.

In 1999 Grzanich was picked up off waivers by the Detroit Tigers and ran into arm problems. After undergoing Tommy John surgery in 1999, Grzanich tried to make a comeback in 2001 with the Yuma Bullfrogs of the Independent League. However, he ran into more arm problems that forced him to retire.

Grzanich returned to school after his playing career came to an end, receiving his associate of arts degree at Hinds Community College. He then moved on to Mississippi College, completing his Bachelor of Arts degree in Fitness Management. Grzanich is currently working on a master's degree from Jackson State University.

Grzanich and his wife Karen live in Byram. The couple has two lovely daughters, Ryleigh and Amory.

DAN RIVES

DAN RIVES is in his third season as an assistant coach with the Hinds baseball program. Rives works with the infielders and assists with the Hinds hitters.

Rives also serves as the sports information director at Hinds, where he has overseen the transformation of the new athletic web site and production of all athletic publications and news releases.

Rives completed his Bachelor of Science degree in kinesiology from Mississippi College in 2005, where he earned All-Southwest Conference honors as a senior. He was voted Team MVP by his teammates and coaches and also obtained All-Academic honors in his junior and senior seasons.

Rives received his Master of Arts degree in Social Science from MC in 2007.

He and his wife, Andrea, reside in Byram with their new daughter Madelyn.

JAKE PARKER

JAKE PARKER is in his first season as a volunteer assistant coach with the Hinds baseball program. He is no stranger to the Raymond campus, having played his sophomore season at Hinds in 2004.

Parker then took his baseball talents to the University of Arkansas-Monticello in Monticello, Ark., playing the 2005 season as a catcher for the Boll Weevils.

Parker completed his degree in fitness management from Mississippi State University in December, 2007. He resides in Brandon.
