THIS IS HOFSTRA UNIVERSITY

In its relatively short history, Hofstra has established itself as a world-class institution of higher education and cultural enterprise. Each academic year, the Hofstra campus and the programs offered grow and change to meet the demands of our students and our community.

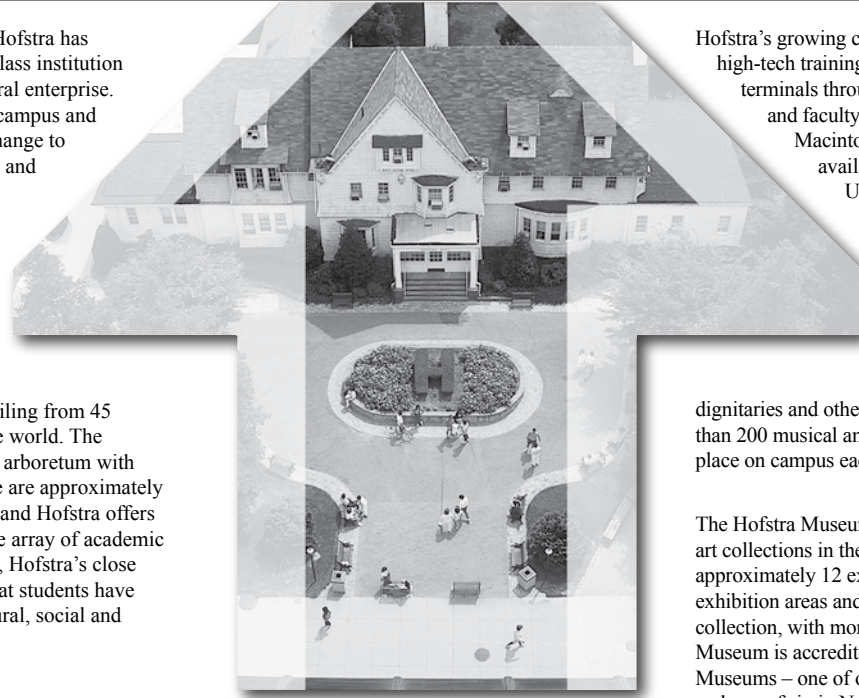

Hofstra opened in 1935 as a commuter school with all classes and offices housed in one building. Since those early days, Hofstra has evolved into an international institution with a student body hailing from 45 states and 61 countries around the world. The beautiful campus is an accredited arboretum with 113 buildings on 240 acres. There are approximately 4,200 students living on campus, and Hofstra offers them and all students an extensive array of academic and social activities. Additionally, Hofstra's close proximity to Manhattan means that students have easy access to the wondrous cultural, social and career offerings of the city.

What has remained consistent throughout the years, however, is the sense of community on campus, the eagerness of our students to learn and the commitment of the Hofstra faculty and administration to provide a challenging education that encourages the pursuit of lifelong learning.

The Colleges and Schools of the University are: Hofstra College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Frank G. Zarb School of Business, New College of Hofstra, School of Communication, School of Education and Allied Human Services, School of Law, School for University Studies, University College for Continuing Education, Honors College and Saturday College. Bachelor's degrees are offered in 140 areas of study. Graduate degrees are offered, including Ph.D., Ed.D., Psy.D., Au.D. and J.D. degrees, advanced certificates and professional diplomas, in more than 150 programs of study.

Recently, the University celebrated the opening of Hagedorn Hall, the new home of our School of Education and Allied Human Services. In 2001 Hofstra University Honors College welcomed its first class. This new division of the University proved to be an immediate success, not only with University faculty and administrators, but among the 93 inaugural students. Every fall since, the number of entering freshmen has increased substantially.

Hofstra's School of Communication is one of the largest, most advanced non-commercial television

Hofstra's growing computer facilities offer extensive high-tech training opportunities. There are computer terminals throughout the campus for student and faculty use, with more than 750 PC, Macintosh and UNIX workstations available in labs and classrooms. The University was ranked 14th in Forbes' list of Most Connected Campuses in 2004, up from 18 in 2003.

Hofstra hosts more than 500 cultural events annually, bringing thousands of scholars, dignitaries and other participants to campus. More than 200 musical and dramatic performances take place on campus each year.

The Hofstra Museum, which houses one of the largest art collections in the metropolitan area, coordinates approximately 12 exhibitions annually and offers exhibition areas and an extensive outdoor sculpture collection, with more than 65 pieces. The Hofstra Museum is accredited by the American Association of Museums – one of only 94 universities in the nation and one of six in New York to hold that distinction.

facilities in the East. Students take classes and work in Dempster Hall, a sophisticated television production/post-production facility with two broadcast-quality studios and control rooms; two advanced online video edit suites; two Avid non-linear digital editing systems and several cuts-only video work stations. Two satellite dishes are available with one dish providing special news feeds for the broadcast journalism room, which also has access to Associated Press, Lexis-Nexis and Dow Jones services. In addition, the facility is capable of broadcasting student-produced programming to the entire campus on our own cable channels. Also located here is the University's radio station (WRHU/88.7-FM), audio production studios, a film/video screening room, film editing rooms, a computer laboratory, a speech performance studio and a large dance studio.

Hofstra's C.V. Starr Hall offers academic facilities that are among the most technologically advanced in the nation. Every seat in every classroom allows students direct access to the Internet and Hofstra network, including the resources of Hofstra's Axinn Library.

Hofstra also has seven theaters, a student newspaper, a lively student center, a recreation center and numerous athletic facilities, including the 15,000-seat James M. Shuart Stadium and the 5,124-seat David S. Mack Sports and Exhibition Complex. Hofstra also has an indoor, Olympic-sized (eight lane, 50-meter) swimming pool, one of the largest such facilities in the New York metropolitan area.

HEAD COACH Richard Nuttall

Richard Nuttall, a former professional soccer player in England and a former member of the Long Island Rough Riders, is entering his 18th season as Hofstra University Head Soccer Coach. Nuttall has guided the Pride to a 159-142-30 record in his 17 seasons and has transformed the program into one of the most competitive in the Northeast.

Last season, Nuttall led Hofstra to its second consecutive Colonial Athletic Association championship and NCAA Division I Tournament berth. The Pride finished the season with a 14-5-3 record, tying for the most wins in school history at the Division I level, while also earning its highest ranking in school history at #13 in the final National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) poll. Hofstra earned its CAA championship with a 1-0 win over #7 Old Dominion in the championship game, the highest ranked team that the Pride has ever defeated. Nuttall was one of eight coaches to earn Regional Coach of the Year honors from the NSCAA.

During the 2004 campaign, Nuttall guided the Pride to one of their most memorable seasons in school history. After an up-and-down regular season, Hofstra rallied to win the Colonial Athletic Association championship with a dramatic postseason run, outscoring their three opponents (all of which were nationally ranked) by a combined 4-0. Hofstra then went on to receive its first-ever NCAA Division I Tournament berth (and second overall) and defeated nationally ranked Seton Hall, 2-1, in the opening round, before finally seeing its run end with a loss at third-seeded Maryland. That loss snapped a six-game win streak, with five of those six wins coming against teams that were nationally ranked. The Pride finished 2004 with a 12-10-1 record.

Prior to his arrival in Hempstead, the soccer program had posted five losing seasons in nine years, including a 3-9-6 season in 1988. Hofstra has had just six losing seasons in the last 17 years and four of those came during the first four years of Nuttall's tenure. Nuttall's teams have finished .500 or better 11 times in the last 13 seasons, including a streak of seven straight at one point – a remarkable feat considering that Hofstra has been in three conferences (East Coast, America East, Colonial) during that time, each more competitive than the last.

The 1997 campaign was one of Nuttall's finest overall seasons to date as he led the Flying Dutchmen to a 14-4-3 record, including a 9-0 mark in America East play. The team was the top seed in the postseason tournament, but lost a close game to defending champion Boston University in the finals. Nuttall was named Division I Coach of the Year in Region II by the NSCAA.

In 1999 Nuttall led Hofstra to an early season national ranking, before finishing with a 9-9 record. The 2000 season saw Nuttall lead the Pride back to the America East Championship game, a 2-1 overtime loss to Vermont, and an 11-6-3 overall record. In 2001, Hofstra's last season in the America East Conference, Nuttall led his team to a 9-9-1 record and a berth in the America East Tournament for the fourth time in five years.

Hofstra joined the Colonial Athletic Association in 2002 and posted a 10-7-1 overall record and a 3-6 conference mark that saw the Pride lose four one-goal games. The 2003 season saw the Pride post a 7-9-2 record, with a 3-4-2 mark in conference.

Nuttall, a native of South Yorkshire, England, played with Leeds United and Stoke City of the English Football League. He graduated from the Carnegie School (College) of Physical Education in West Yorkshire in 1984. It was during this time that Nuttall received his Football Association coaching certificates.

Nuttall, who moved to Long Island permanently in 1988 after spending summers in the United States since 1983, taught physical education at North Shore High School. He is also a partner in the highly successful NOGA summer soccer camp on Long Island and is active in working with many Long Island communities.

Nuttall and his wife, Christine, reside in New Hyde Park, New York, with their son, Jack (7) and daughter, Caroline (5).

ASSISTANT Coaches

Brian Suskiewicz
Assistant Coach

Brian Suskiewicz is entering his third season as assistant men's soccer coach at Hofstra after helping the Pride to their first two NCAA Division I Tournament berths in 2004 and 2005 in his first two seasons with the program. Suskiewicz brings six years of collegiate coaching experience and four years of major Division I playing experience to the Hofstra sideline.

Hofstra's primary recruiter, Suskiewicz is also involved in all aspects of the program including scheduling, practice and game planning and implementation, coordinating travel plans, organizing off-season training, alumni activities, fundraising and various administrative tasks.

He joined the Pride after serving for three years as an assistant coach at Bucknell University, where he also helped the Bison achieve unprecedented success. Bucknell set school records with 13 wins and 10 shutouts in 2002, and then finished the 2003 season undefeated in Patriot League play (5-0-2) for the first time in school history. The 24 combined wins the Bison had in 2002 and 2003 were the most wins in program history over a two-year period.

Suskiewicz also helped Bucknell tie for the third best single-season improvement in the nation in 2002, a six-and-a-half game improvement over its 2001 campaign. Bucknell also had the fifth best team defense in the country in 2002 (0.62 goals against average), as well as the sixth best shutout percentage in the nation (10 shutouts in 19 games).

Bucknell had success off the field under Suskiewicz's guidance as well, as its 3.31 team grade point average in 2002-03 was the second highest in the country in Division I. The Bison received a National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) Team Academic Award for its efforts in the classroom.

Prior to coaching at Bucknell, Suskiewicz served as an assistant coach at Washington & Lee University, where he helped his team to a 19-2 record, the best in the 56-year history of the program. The 19 wins shattered the previous school record of 12, while the program also earned a No. 8 national ranking in the final NCAA Division III poll. His squad captured the Old Dominion Athletic Conference championship, earned its first-ever NCAA Tournament berth and advanced to the regional finals.

Suskiewicz was a four-year letter winner at Boston College, where he was named to the NSCAA All-New England team as a senior. He also received the Athletic Director's Award for academic achievement with the Eagles. He helped his squad to a 1995 Big East regular season championship.

Suskiewicz, who holds the United States Soccer Federation "A" License and the NSCAA Advanced National Diploma, graduated from Boston College in 1998 with a degree in history. He also holds a master's in secondary education with a concentration in history from Boston College.

Suskiewicz, who has also coached the LIJSL U-17 Olympic Development Team for the last two years, is single and resides in Mineola, New York.

Gary Book
Assistant Coach

Gary Book enters his second season as an assistant coach with the Hofstra Men's Soccer staff after joining the program in 2005, when he helped the team to a second consecutive Colonial Athletic Association championship and NCAA Tournament appearance. Book joined the Pride after 13 seasons as an assistant coach at St. John's University, where he helped the Red Storm achieve unprecedented success.

Book was an assistant coach on the 1996 squad that captured the first national championship in St. John's history in any sport. His teams also qualified for the NCAA Tournament in all 13 seasons, while reaching the Sweet 16 nine times and the Final Four three times. In addition, St. John's captured five Big East regular season championships and six Big East Tournament titles during his tenure.

Book is also currently the technical director of the Long Island Junior Soccer League, where he is responsible for facilitating the soccer education process of over 150,000 soccer players in the Long Island area. He also holds the post of regional technical director for the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) and is a NSCAA national staff coach.

Since 1990, Book has served as the chief executive officer of NOGA soccer, a Long Island-based soccer services company that is one of the largest in the country in its field.

Edwin Schieferstein
Volunteer Assistant Coach

Edwin Schieferstein enters his fifth season as an assistant coach with the Hofstra Men's Soccer program, where his primary responsibility will be coaching the Pride goalkeepers. He has been involved with Long Island soccer for the last 29 years, since his playing days at Harborfields High School (1973-76). He has most recently served as an assistant coach at Kellenberg Memorial High School from 1991 through 1999, before spending one year as an assistant women's soccer coach at Caldwell College in New Jersey.

Schieferstein has also been heavily involved in Long Island club soccer, serving as coach for the Syosset Soccer Club since 1995 and coaching the Huntington Soccer Club from 1974 to 1993. A native of Huntington, New York, Schieferstein played collegiate soccer for three seasons at Slippery Rock University in Slippery Rock, Pennsylvania from 1976 to 1978.

SOCCER Academic Success

The Hofstra Soccer program places a great deal of emphasis on the academic development of its players in addition to their on-field performance. In recent years many players have personified the meaning of student-athlete.

Arni Gunnarsson, a 2004 graduate with a degree in engineering science, was a two-time CoSIDA Division I Academic All-American, and a three-time Academic All-District selection. He also earned Colonial Athletic Association Men's Soccer Scholar-Athlete of the Year accolades as a senior. On the field Gunnarsson was a two-time first team All-CAA selection.

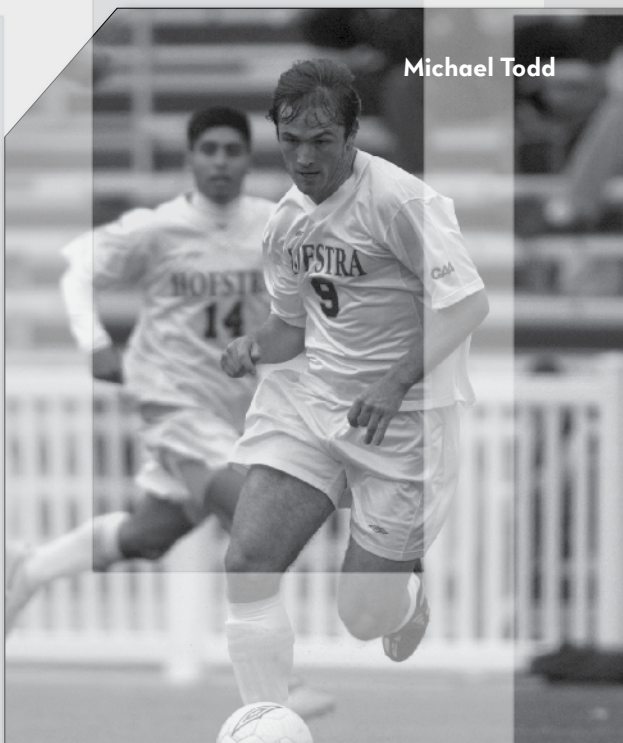

Michael Todd, currently a senior majoring in exercise science, was a CoSIDA Academic All-American in 2005. In 2004 he was the CAA Men's Soccer Scholar-Athlete of the Year and a second team CoSIDA Academic All-District selection. A three-time All-CAA selection, Todd has led the Pride in scoring in each of his seasons at Hofstra.

Matthias Gumbrecht, who graduated this past May, was a CoSIDA Academic All-District selection this past season and holds Hofstra career records for games played as a keeper (69) and career shutouts (23).

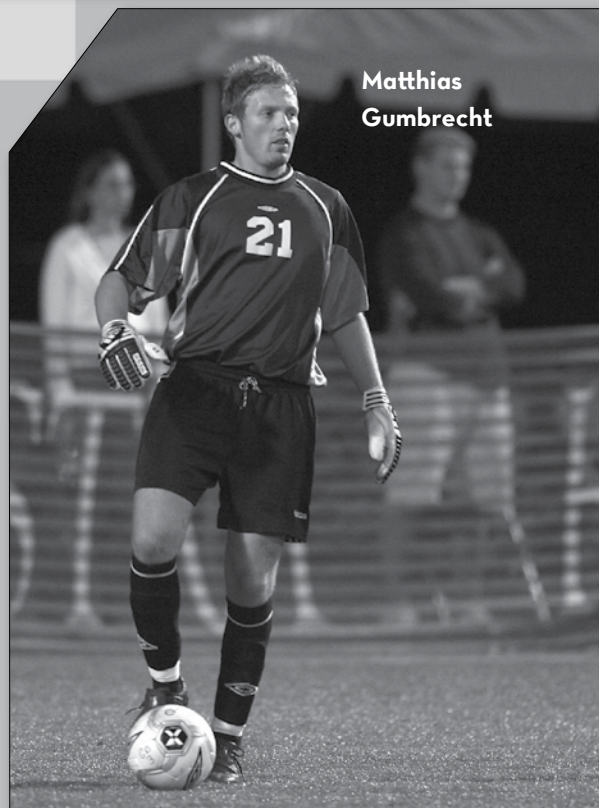

In addition to those accolades, last season 12 student-athletes were recipients of the CAA Commissioner's Academic Award.

2006 HOFSTRA UNIVERSITY Men's Soccer Outlook

The Hofstra Men's Soccer program embarks on the 2006 season in a new position as the hunted team in its conference. After back-to-back CAA championships in 2004 and 2005 and with a strong nucleus of returning players, the Pride figures to be one of the odds-on favorites for the 2006 title.

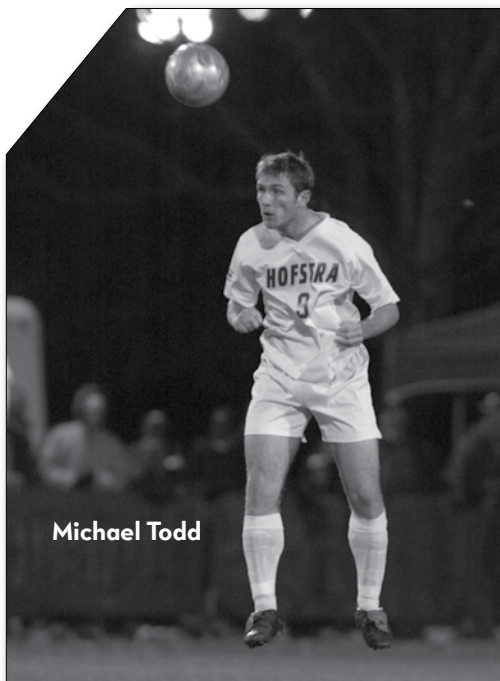

The Pride had a Cinderella run to the 2004 championship, winning the CAA Tournament as the fifth seed in a six-team field. Hofstra was still overlooked somewhat heading into last year, as the CAA coaches picked the Pride to finish fourth in the preseason poll. Instead, Hofstra finished second (7-2-2) in the regular season and won its second straight CAA title in dramatic fashion, scoring a goal with eight seconds left in the championship game against top-seeded Old Dominion.

This year, the Pride will no longer be able to surprise anyone, and it must face the burden of being a team that everyone is fired up to play during the regular season. Hofstra knows, though, that it can face those battles with the top returning goal scorer in the CAA (Michael Todd), the leading assist man in the league (Constantinos Christoudias), a first team All-CAA midfielder (Chris Cox) and a four-year starter at center back who was named the Most Outstanding Player of the CAA Tournament (Gary Flood).

Following is a position-by-position outlook of the Hofstra Men's Soccer team heading into the 2006 season.

FORWARD

Hofstra is in excellent shape at the forward position as senior Michael Todd is back for his fourth season. Todd tallied 12 goals and five assists last year, the highest goal total (and point total) for a Pride player since 1998. His ability to finish is an important weapon for Hofstra, as is his ability to be a target player, warding off defenders and winning possessions to allow the Pride's midfield to get into the attacking third.

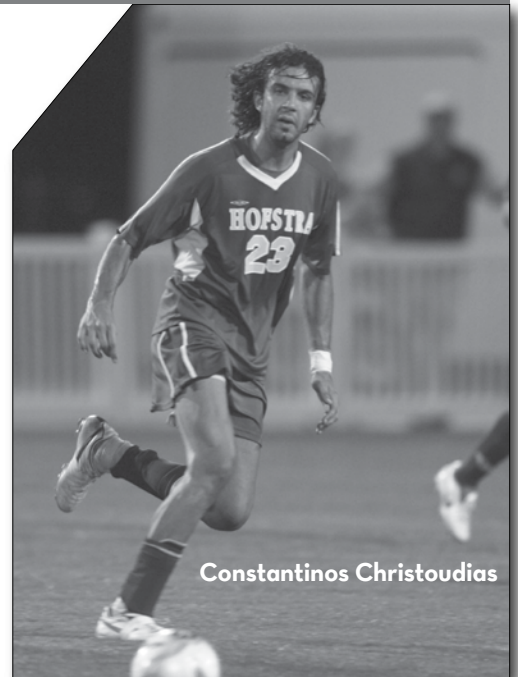

Michael Todd

The Pride is prone to changing its alignment and will sometimes play with Todd as the lone striker in a 4-5-1. When it goes to a more traditional 4-4-2, junior Constantinos Christoudias often pushes up top as a second forward. A unique player with a long stride (6-2) and creative skills, Christoudias often poses match-up problems with his height and speed. His nine assists last year led the CAA, while he also tallied eight goals, including the first hat trick for a Hofstra player since 2000.

Ray Hassett, a transfer from Loyola (Md.) College, is a strong candidate to contribute as well after tallying seven goals for the Greyhounds last season, while he could also play in the midfield as well. Junior Cole Wollerman and freshman Lewis Irish will also get the opportunity to contribute up top.

MIDFIELD

Hofstra's midfield in 2005 centered around junior Chris Cox and graduated senior Matthew Telling. Cox is back after earning first team All-CAA honors last year with six goals and three assists, while developing a reputation as an outstanding two-way player. Telling's creativity in the central midfield will be missed, but junior Adrian Papaluca should be able to fill much of that role. Papaluca emerged as the postseason hero last year, scoring the winning goal in overtime in a 3-2 CAA semifinal win over James Madison and tallying the game-winner with eight seconds left in a 1-0 win over Old Dominion in the championship. On the outside, the Pride has the option of three experienced seniors in Arman Osooli, Arnel Andrada

Chris Cox

Men's Soccer

and Brian Sosa. Osooli is one of the fastest players on the roster and can take on defenders in one-on-one situations with his speed. Andrada is a steadying influence who is rarely out of position and has the ability to sneak up the sidelines into the offensive third as well. Sosa, a shifty, quick midfielder with solid technical skills emerged as a consistent contributor last season and tallied a goal and three assists.

One newcomer who is expected to bolster the Pride's midfield is sophomore transfer

Justin Flood, Gary's younger brother, who played at Boston College last year as a freshman. Justin transferred after the fall semester and had the chance to work with the Pride players in the spring. Sophomore Eric Schmidt is also expected to contribute in the central midfield this season after seeing some action off the bench last year. Bill Pinto, who red-shirted last fall, will add to the options for the coaching staff, while incoming freshmen Demont Mitchell, Rory McCreary, and Rob Youhill will look to crack the rotation.

Arman Osooli

Gary Flood

DEFENSE

Hofstra ended the 2005 regular season with five straight shutouts, and the two center backs from that unit are both returning. Gary Flood has been a mainstay at center back for the last four years and picked up Most Outstanding Player honors at the CAA Tournament for his work on the Pride's back line. Arguably the top man-to-man defender the Pride has ever had, Flood is nearly impossible to beat one-on-one and has developed into an outstanding defensive quarterback.

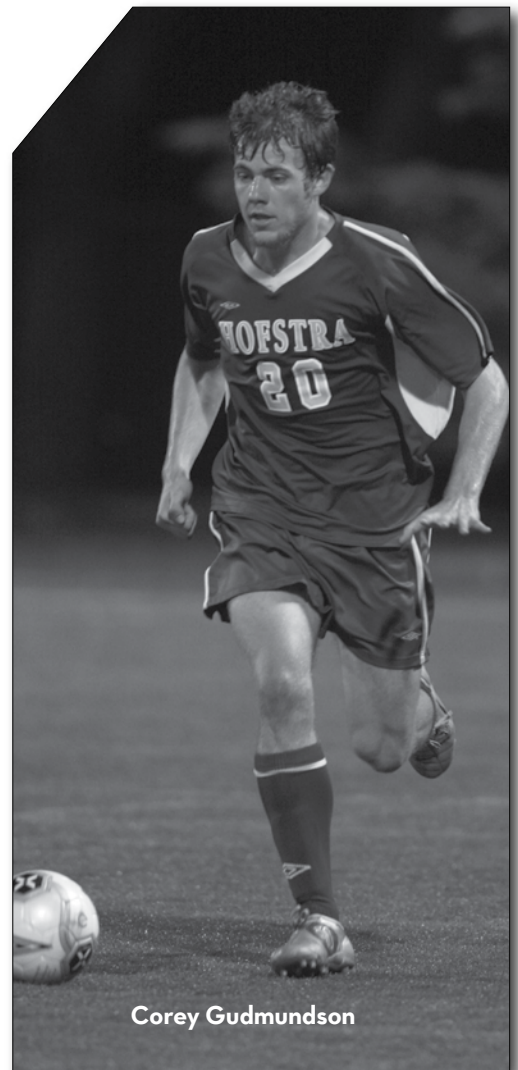

Sophomore Corey Gudmundson stepped in to a starting center back position as a freshman last year and started every game. A physical defender who is strong in the air, Gudmundson provided a perfect complement to Flood last year, improving as the season went on. His defensive work on CAA Player of the Year Brian Cvilikas in the conference title game helped the Pride pick up the shutout victory.

Hofstra did lose its two starting outside backs to graduation, but has plenty of options, as Andrada or Osooli could move back from the midfield to an outside back spot. The Pride also has junior Charalambos Rossides to add to the mix. Rossides started eight games last year and Hofstra allowed only one goal in those eight contests (on a penalty kick against Columbia). Rossides played both on the back four and as a defensive midfielder and could be used in either spot this fall.

Freshmen Evan Jaep, Jamal Neptune, Richard Martinez and Andrew Hinkson also join the Pride with some strong credentials and should give Hofstra plenty of depth in the back.

GOALIE

Four-year starter Matthias Gumbrecht graduated, but the Pride is fortunate to have his replacement already groomed and ready to step into the starting role. Junior Tom Johansen has backed up Gumbrecht the last two years and started two non-conference games last year, picking up his first career win in a 2-1 victory at Saint Peter's. Incoming freshmen James Winters is expected to challenge for playing time right away, while fellow freshman Kyle Ray will also look to be in the mix.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS Jack Hayes

Jack Hayes is in his third year as director of athletics at Hofstra University in 2006-07. Hayes was appointed by Hofstra President Stuart Rabinowitz as the University's new director of athletics on October 4, 2004. Hayes came to Hofstra after serving as an associate director of athletics at the University of Connecticut for three years.

Hayes, the eighth director of athletics at Hofstra, oversees Hofstra's 18 Division I teams, an athletic administration of more than 70 professional staff, and 430 student-athletes.

Hayes' proven expertise in enhancing academic and athletic success of student-athletes, strategic planning, fundraising, marketing, university relations, facility enhancement, budgetary management, and NCAA compliance will complement Hofstra University's athletic department in its quest to further enhance its athletic program, and assist Hofstra's student-athletes both on and off the field.

2005-06 was a banner year for Hofstra Athletics as the Pride won Colonial Athletic Association (CAA) championships in men's soccer, women's soccer, wrestling, softball and men's lacrosse and competed in NCAA Tournaments in each sport. In addition, the men and women's basketball teams were selected to play in the National Invitation Tournament (NIT). In his first year (2004-05) as Hofstra's athletics director, the Pride captured three CAA championships and advanced to postseason play in four sports – men's soccer, wrestling and softball took part in the NCAA Tournament, while men's basketball participated in the NIT.

Hayes has placed a significant emphasis on fundraising during his first two years. Pride Club membership reached all-time highs, both in terms of the number of contributors and funds raised. Resources generated through fundraising efforts have been used to enhance programs and facilities available to student-athletes. Recent initiatives include the renovation of the study lab in Margiotta Hall and a new academic study area in the Physical Fitness Center.

Hayes came to Hofstra University with more than 14 years of athletic administration experience, including management positions at four Division I institutions. The three years prior to taking his current position were highlighted by leading the University of Connecticut Division of Athletics fund-raising efforts, where his responsibilities included managing the operations of the UConn

Athletic Development Fund, implementing policies and procedures for the annual giving program, assisting with the cultivation and solicitation of major gift prospects, coordinating capital project campaigns, overseeing special events, and managing the athletic ticketing operation. While at UConn, he served as a senior staff member for a $40 million program that supports 24 sports and 650 student-athletes.

From 1998 to 2001 Hayes served as director of athletic administration at Fordham University, where he was responsible for the comprehensive internal operations of the athletic department, including fiscal management, facilities management, staff training and development, ticket operations, and NCAA compliance initiatives.

Prior to his tenure at Fordham, Hayes served as assistant director of athletics at St. John's University, where he managed the fiscal operations of the athletic department and supervised the business office. Hayes began his professional career in college athletics at Fairfield University, where he served as assistant director of athletics. He oversaw the addition of four sports programs at Fairfield University – football, women's rowing, women's lacrosse and women's golf.

Hayes received a master's degree in education in 1992 with a concentration in sport management from the University of Connecticut. He holds a bachelor's degree (1989) from Providence College, where he was a member of Providence's lacrosse team. He was also awarded a certificate of completion in 2001 from the Sports Management Institute, Consortium of the Universities of Michigan and Texas.

A native of Providence, Rhode Island, Hayes graduated from the Providence Country Day School where he lettered in football, basketball and lacrosse. He was inducted, as a member of his high school basketball team, into the Providence Country Day Athletic Hall of Fame in October 2004. He resides in East Northport, New York, with his wife Bridget, daughter Katie (4) and son Matt (1).

HOFSTRA SYMBOLS and Heritage

The Symbols of Hofstra University

The Shield Logo

In 2005 Hofstra introduced a new logo as part of a University-wide re-imaging. Both the University's logo as well as the Pride logo were designed by advertising agency Powell New York, a full-service branding and marketing agency, noted as one of the ten firms to watch in 2005 in Advertising Age.

The new University logo features an "H" within a shield design. Hofstra University has always been known for both a tradition of academic excellence and a willingness to evolve to meet the needs of students and the greater society. This shield represents the University's commitment to our heritage and a tradition of academic excellence, while the dynamic representation of the H within the shield embodies the evolutionary, changing nature of the University. Hofstra University has both honored its traditions and heritage while embracing changing disciplines, using new technology and remaining relevant to scholarly pursuits and the demands of industry.

The Seal

The Hofstra seal was designed from the royal Dutch emblem by art instructor Constant Van de Wall. The seal is modeled on the coat of arms of the House of Orange-Nassau. The round seal includes the coat of arms, flanked by lions on either side. A lion also stands in the center of the coat of arms, holding a sword in its right claw and a bundle of seven arrows, which represent the seven provinces of Holland, in its left. The seal also carries the motto of the House of Orange-Nassau in Old French: "Je maintiendray" (I stand steadfast). In 1988 one of the two lions on the seal was officially replaced with a lioness. The Hofstra seal is still in use today, though not as a logo. The seal will be affixed to formal documents, and used for official purposes such as commencement, convocations, and official University functions.

Hofstra's Dutch Heritage

Ties to Dutch heritage and the Netherlands began with William S. Hofstra, after whom the school is named and on whose property the University was started. William Hofstra died in 1932 and when his wife, Kate, died 16 months later, her will provided that their house, 15-acre estate, and bulk of her inheritance were to be used for a "public, charitable, benevolent, or scientific purpose" as a memorial to her husband.

The idea for a college came from Truesdel Peck Calkins, former Hempstead superintendent of schools, who was then with New York University. He suggested that NYU might offer extension courses on the Hofstra property. Hofstra opened in September 1935, as a two-year extension branch of NYU; its official name was "Nassau College – Hofstra Memorial of New York University at Hempstead, Long Island." When the doors opened, the sole building on campus was Hofstra's mansion, which he had affectionately named the Netherlands after his homeland, and all classes were held there. The mansion, which houses administrative offices, is now the center of Hofstra's 240-acre campus, and has been renamed Hofstra Hall.

The Pride

As of July 1, 2005, our athletic teams are officially known as the Pride, providing our teams with a strong, consistent image that resonates with the Hofstra community. The new Hofstra Athletics logo consists of a graphic mark of a male and female lion in powerful, synchronized motion with the word mark of the Hofstra Pride or the specific sports team. This logo will be the only one used by Hofstra Athletics.

The Hofstra Pride refers to a pack of lions, male and female, which work together towards a common goal and symbolize determination and strength. The Pride conveys both the teamwork and togetherness that is a trait of lions living in prides, who have a close bond and work together for the good of the entire group. The teamwork evident in prides are traits of Hofstra's student-athletes, who support each other in furtherance of a common goal, while working tirelessly to represent their teams and, in turn, the University. Lions also possess speed, tenacity, and agility, and are relentless in their pursuit of a goal, which are traits our student-athletes demonstrate both on and off the field.

The first consistent use of the word "Pride" relating to athletics was in 1989 when the University's athletic booster club was founded and called itself The Pride Club, which at the time simply referred to the pride that alumni and fans had for our teams. The Pride identity has progressed over the past decade in a more specific fashion than just the expression of a feeling. After one lion on the Hofstra seal was changed into a lioness to symbolize gender equity, the University mascots -- Kate and Willie Pride, a lioness and lion -- were introduced.

LONG ISLAND and New York City

About Long Island...

Long Island has a rich history as an active, vibrant community, a summer playground, and home to some of New York's most prominent families.

Five distinct regions make up Long Island:

- North Shore, otherwise known as the Gold Coast, with dozens of historic sites dating back to colonial days and Gatsby-era mansions.
- South Shore, the Island's spectator sports and entertainment center, with world-famous Jones and Fire Island Beaches, and home to the New York Islanders.
- Central Suffolk, with beautiful forests and natural inlets, the world's largest factory outlet center and a huge water park.
- North Fork, with an array of vineyards, waterfront ports and farm stands.
- South Fork, widely known as "The Hamptons," with its pristine beaches and exclusive villages.

You can catch a Hofstra shuttle bus to Jones Beach – a state park with six miles of gorgeous coastline, a boardwalk, swimming pools, golf and outdoor concerts.

With everything from museums, historical sites and lighthouses, to sophisticated malls, designer outlets and shopping villages, to wineries and farm stands, to family fun parks, aquariums and zoos, there is plenty to do on Long Island.

About New York City...

Hofstra is located only 30 miles from New York City – the capital of culture and finance. You can visit Carnegie Hall, South Street Seaport, Hard Rock Café, Grand Central Station, Central Park, NBC Studios in Rockefeller Center, Little Italy or Chinatown.

Study the world's finest sculptures and paintings at the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Go and cheer along with capacity crowds at a Yankees, Mets, Rangers or Knicks game.

Wave at the TV cameras in the street-level studios of FOX, CNN, NBC or ABC's "Good Morning America."

Walk through the financial capital of the world at the New York Stock Exchange on Wall Street.

Take the subway to Coney Island for a Nathan's hot dog and a ride on the Cyclone, the last of the great wooden rollercoaster's.

ACADEMIC Support

Hofstra University is committed to the pursuit of academic and athletic excellence. The University views participation in intercollegiate athletics as benefiting the student-athlete in an educationally enhancing experience beyond any other opportunity available. Hofstra also realizes the time commitment made by student-athletes and has committed the facilities and resources to support all students.

The University Tutorial Program (UTP) provides free tutoring in every subject area to any Hofstra student. In addition to this service, the UTP has an athletic component that addresses the academic needs of student-athletes. The UTP academic counselor administers this athletic component. The UTP emphasizes four areas in their efforts to ensure the academic success of Hofstra's student-athletes.

Area one is academic counseling. Services are provided in the areas of academic planning, career planning, personal counseling, and campus and community referrals. The counselor also meets with prospective student-athletes, at the coach's request, to share the many benefits of a Hofstra University education.

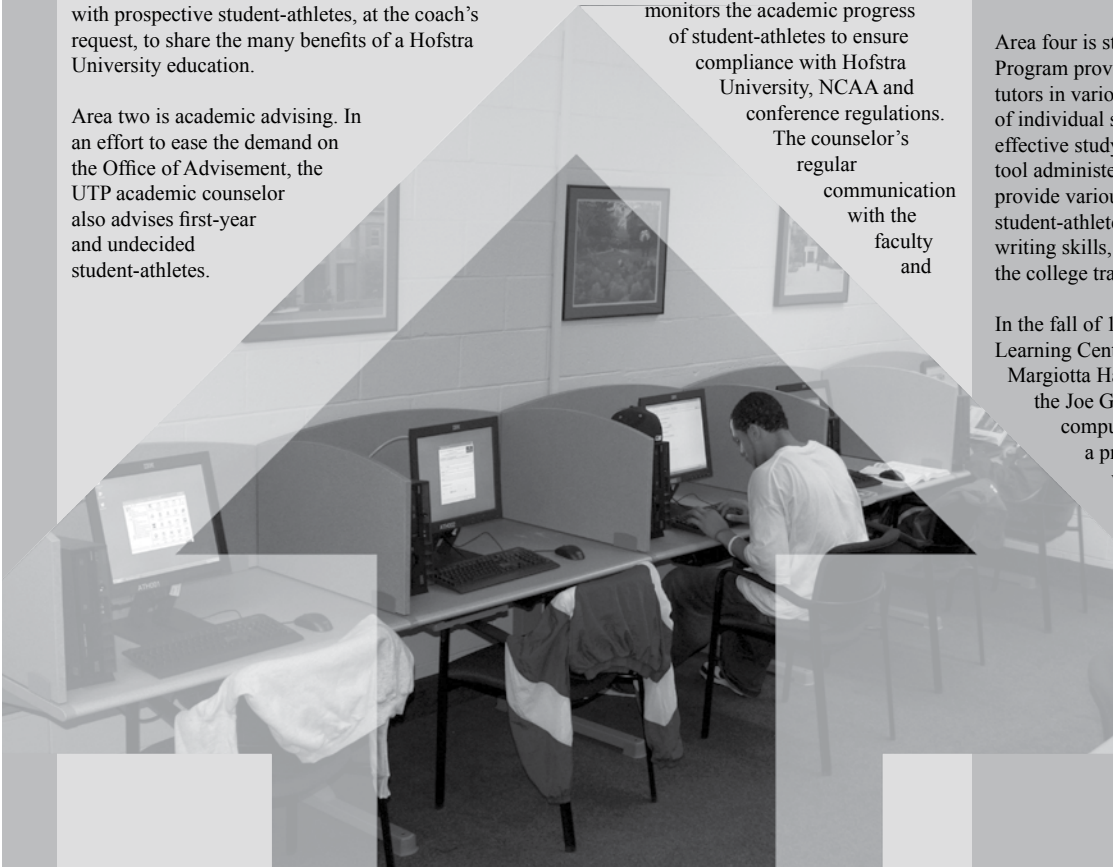

Area two is academic advising. In an effort to ease the demand on the Office of Advisement, the UTP academic counselor also advises first-year and undecided student-athletes.

Area three is academic monitoring. The UTP counselor monitors the academic progress of student-athletes to ensure compliance with Hofstra University, NCAA and conference regulations. The counselor's regular communication with the faculty and coaches provide an opportunity for early intervention should academic difficulties arise.

Area four is study halls. The University Tutorial Program provides all athletic study halls with tutors in various subjects and assesses the needs of individual student-athletes to provide the most effective study environment. The assessment tool administered by the UTP is also used to provide various enrichment seminars for the student-athletes such as time management, writing skills, campus resources, and surviving the college transition.

In the fall of 1999, the Pride Teaching and Learning Center opened on the second floor of Margiotta Hall. Funded in part by proceeds from the Joe Gardi Golf Open, the state-of-the-art computer lab and learning center features a projection system and 18 computer workstations, which are connected to the University network for easy research access to the Internet. The Pride Teaching and Learning Center was refurbished in 2005 with new furniture and computers. In addition to the Teaching and Learning Center, a new study area was created in the Physical Fitness Center.

SPORTS MEDICINE/Athletic Training

Through a comprehensive athletic training program, Hofstra University student-athletes are provided excellent health care during their attendance at the University. A coordinated effort between the University Health and Wellness Center, the Athletic Department and outside health care providers ensures every student-athlete the best medical attention possible.

University student-athletes have direct access to a myriad of health care services. Managing the coverage of every practice and competition event is Hofstra University's athletic training staff, which is led by third-year Head Athletic Trainer Evan Malings and features nine full-time athletic trainers and numerous student athletic trainers. The athletic trainers provide injury management, rehabilitation and treatment to the entire Athletic program. Utilizing three state-of-the-art athletic training rooms, these professionals work tirelessly to ensure the safe participation of Hofstra's student-athletes and to return injured athletes to play quickly and safely.

Supporting the athletic trainers is team physician Dr. Damion Martins. Dr. Martins, a physician with Pro Health Care, Inc. in Lake Success, New York, is in his fourth year on Hofstra's medical team. Martins experience in the sports medicine field includes serving as team physician for the University of Maryland, University of Maryland-Baltimore County and Coppin State athletic departments. He was also on the medical staff of the National Football League's Baltimore Ravens.

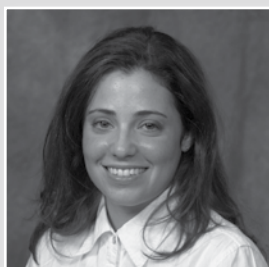

Hofstra University sponsors a fully accredited, highly competitive undergraduate degree program for athletic training majors, in which Hofstra student athletic trainers participate in all aspects of the health care system.

HOFSTRA UNIVERSITY Soccer Stadium

The Hofstra Men's and Women's Soccer teams play at the recently constructed Hofstra University Soccer Stadium, located on the University's north campus, adjacent to the Hofstra Physical Fitness Center. The Stadium, constructed in 2003 through a partnership with the New York Jets, features a 120-yard by 74-yard FieldTurf surface, stadium lighting, metal bleachers the length of the field, the Gorman Memorial Gateway and the Hofstra Soccer Walls of Honor.

"We are very pleased to be able to add to our campus a first-rate soccer facility with lights and seating for approximately 1,600 spectators," said Hofstra President Stuart Rabinowitz. "This facility will enhance our soccer programs, and will also permit us to host exhibitions and other community contests. We are most grateful to the New York Jets for their generosity in making this facility possible."

The FieldTurf system, which was installed by Landtek of Amityville, New York, replicates a natural grass surface, but offers the durability and cost benefits of synthetic fields. FieldTurf is a safe alternative, resulting in a documented reduction of sports injuries. The sand and rubber infill system is the biggest technical development that the sport surfacing industry has seen in the last 25 years. This patented technology sets FieldTurf apart from all other sports surfaces.

In June 2001 the Federation Internationale de Football Association (FIFA), the worldwide governing body for the sport of soccer, gave its official recommendation to the artificial grass FieldTurf installation at Boston University's Nickerson Field for international competition and domestic league play. The historic ruling, the first and only certification of an artificial surface in the world at this time, means that venues with FieldTurf can be used for all preliminary competition matches for the FIFA World Cup and Olympic Football Tournaments as well as for professional league play. There have been more than 500 FieldTurf installations worldwide in recent years.

The facility is lit with a system from the Iowa-based Musco Lighting Company. Musco is recognized as a world-class leader in sports lighting with lighting systems installed around the globe. A leader in developing sports-lighting technology – including solutions for permanent and temporary lighting, and sports facility management – Musco offers innovative systems, a comprehensive package of services, and decades of experience.

Working with organizations such as Amateur Softball Association, Babe Ruth League, Disney, England and Wales Cricket Board, Little League Baseball®, Major League Baseball, NASCAR, and the NBA, Musco has played a key role in developing guidelines for safe, efficient sports facilities. Musco is a Major Partner with the National Recreation and Park Association (NRPA); provides the Official Sports-Lighting System for Little League Baseball and was selected to light Disney's Wide World of Sports Complex — a state-of-the-art 200-acre complex with facilities for more than 30 sports.

The facility is outfitted with a seating system from the Southern Bleacher Company of Graham, Texas. Since 1946, Southern Bleacher has set the standard of excellence in the design and manufacturing of sports stadiums and entertainment venues. Southern Bleacher products grace professional baseball diamonds and soccer fields, college campuses, school districts, NASCAR tracks and rodeo arenas across the United States.

THE COLONIAL ATHLETIC Association

Coming off one of the most successful seasons in its 21-year history, the Colonial Athletic Association continues to enhance its reputation as one of the nation's top collegiate conferences.

With a geographic footprint that stretches from Boston to Atlanta, the CAA encompasses five of the nation's nine largest metropolitan areas. On the playing field, the conference has produced 16 national team champions in five different sports, 33 individual national champions, 12 national players of the year, 11 national coaches of the year and 12 Honda Award winners. Even more impressive, however, are the honors accumulated away from competition, which include five Rhodes Scholars and 19 NCAA post-graduate scholars. In 2005-06, the CAA had 11 ESPN The Magazine Academic All-Americans and more than 1,500 of our 4,000 student-athletes posted at least a 3.2 grade point average while lettering in a varsity sport and received the CAA Commissioner's Academic Award.

The landscape of the conference stretches along the majority of the East Coast, and includes six of the nation's top 25 media markets – New York (1), Philadelphia (4), Boston (5), Washington, D.C. (8), Atlanta (9) and Baltimore (23). The number of television homes in the CAA market exceeds 19 million.

The CAA conducts championships in 21 sports. Male athletes compete for championships in baseball, basketball, cross country, golf, lacrosse, soccer, swimming & diving, tennis, track & field and wrestling. Female athletes battle for conference titles in basketball, cross country, field hockey, golf, lacrosse, soccer, softball, swimming & diving, tennis, track & field and volleyball. The CAA will also begin sponsorship of a 12-team Division I-AA football league in the fall of 2007.

The conference made its presence known nationally in men's basketball, with four teams advancing to post-season play for the second year in a row. George Mason became the first mid-major program since 1979 to reach the Final Four, knocking off powerhouses Michigan State, North Carolina, Wichita State and Connecticut along the way. The Patriots were ranked #8 in the final ESPN/USA Today Top 25 poll, which was the highest ever for a CAA team. UNC Wilmington claimed its third league title in the past five years before dropping an overtime decision in the NCAA Tournament. Old Dominion became the first conference team to reach the final four of the NIT, defeating league member Hofstra in the quarterfinals. Drexel was the first CAA squad to make the final four of the NIT Pre-Season Tip-Off Tournament, where it dropped close decisions to national powers Duke and UCLA. The CAA was ranked eighth out of 31 conferences in the final RPI with six teams among the top 88 in the country.

In women's basketball, the CAA had a league-record four teams earn post-season berths and was ranked #8 in the final RPI. Perennial power Old Dominion, which claimed its 15th consecutive conference title, has a storied history that includes three national championships (1979, 1980, 1985) and a national runner-up finish in 1997. Delaware, James Madison and Hofstra received berths in the 2006 WNIT.

The conference also excels in many other sports. CAA squads have won 10 field hockey national titles since the championship began in 1981 and Old Dominion advanced to the national semifinals in 2005. In baseball, James Madison's Kellen Kulbacki was chosen as the Co-National Player of the Year and the league had 28 players chosen in the 2006 Major League Baseball draft. The CAA is annually ranked among the nation's top 10 conferences in men's and women's soccer, and traditionally sends multiple teams to the NCAA Tournament. Hofstra's men's lacrosse team was ranked #2 in the nation last season and tied an NCAA record with 17 victories while CAA women's tennis players Megan Moulton-Levy of William & Mary and Tatsiana Uvarova of VCU both earned All-America honors after facing off in the quarterfinals of the NCAA Championship. In 2005-06, 21 league teams earned NCAA Tournament berths in 16 sports. There were 37 CAA student-athletes who earned All-America honors.

CAA member institutions are committed to excellence in the classroom. The Colonial Academic Alliance was created in 2002 by the league's presidents with a goal of expanding their partnership to all aspects of university life outside of intercollegiate athletics. Among the programs already established are an undergraduate research conference, coordination of study abroad programs and granting visiting academic status to student-athletes traveling to an away contest so that they have access to libraries, academic resource centers and computer labs.

In 2002, two faculty members from CAA institutions were awarded academia's most coveted distinction – the Nobel Prize. John B. Fenn, a research professor in the Department of Chemistry at Virginia Commonwealth University, received the Nobel Prize for chemistry, and Vernon Smith, a professor of economics and law at George Mason University, shared the Nobel Prize in economic sciences.

Commissioner Thomas E. Yeager has guided the CAA since its inception. Long-time members George Mason University, James Madison University, the University of North Carolina at Wilmington, Old Dominion University, Virginia Commonwealth University and the College of William & Mary were joined by the University of Delaware, Drexel University, Hofstra University and Towson University in 2001. Georgia State University and Northeastern University became members of the conference on July 1, 2005.

The CAA traces its roots back to 1983 when three of its current members- George Mason, James Madison, and William and Mary - were aligned with East Carolina University, the United States Naval Academy and the University of Richmond as a basketball league (ECAC South). During the next two years, the league added 11 sports, acquired two new members (UNC Wilmington and American University) and decided to form a new association. The transformation from ECAC South to CAA took place on June 6, 1985. Old Dominion became a member of the CAA in 1991-92 and VCU joined the conference prior to the 1995-96 season.

From all-star athletes to Nobel Prize winning faculty, the CAA takes great pride in producing performers who stand out both on the playing field and in the classroom.

HOFSTRA IN THE Community

The Hofstra Soccer team is quite active in the Long island soccer community. The team conducts several clinics each year, working in conjunction with the Uniondale Police Athletic League. This past spring English soccer star Michael Owen took part in a soccer clinic held by the Pride.

In addition to their on-field work with the community, Hofstra Soccer players also take part in school reading programs and charity fund raising events, as well as volunteer with the Special Olympics.
