THIS IS HOFSTRA UNIVERSITY

Founded in 1935 in one building on 15 acres in Hempstead, New York, Hofstra University today has approximately 111 buildings on 240 acres. Located on Long Island, 25 miles east of Manhattan, the Hofstra student body of approximately 13,400 comes from 44 states and 64 countries. The Colleges and Schools of the University are: Hofstra College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Frank G. Zarb School of Business, New College, School of Communication, School of Education and Allied Human Services, School of Law, School for University Studies, University College for Continuing Education, Honors College and Saturday College. Bachelor's degrees are offered in 130 areas of study. There are also approximately 130 graduate programs, including Ph.D., Ed.D., Psy.D. and J.D. degrees, advanced certificates and professional diplomas.

The George Dempster Hall for Communications is one of the largest, most advanced, non-commercial television facilities in the East. It houses a highly sophisticated television production/post-production facility with two broadcast quality studios and control rooms; two advanced online video edit suites; two Avid non-linear digital editing systems and several cuts-only video work stations. Two satellite dishes are available with one dish providing special news feeds for the broadcast journalism room, which also has access to Associated Press, Nexis-Lexis and Dow Jones services. In addition, the facility is capable of feeding student-produced programming to the entire campus on our own cable channels.

Also located here is the University's radio station (WRHU/88.7-FM), audio production studios, a film/video screening room, film editing rooms, a computer laboratory, a speech performance studio and a large dance studio.

Hofstra's C.V. Starr Hall offers academic facilities that are among the most technologically advanced in the nation. Every seat in every classroom allows students direct access to the Internet and Hofstra network – including the resources of Hofstra's Axinn Library.

Hofstra's growing computer facilities offer extensive high-tech training opportunities.

There are computer terminals throughout the campus for student and faculty use. The University was ranked as one of Yahoo Internet Life's "100 Most Wired Colleges" for 2001-2002, with more than 750 PC, Macintosh and UNIX workstations available in labs and classrooms.

The fully computerized Hofstra Libraries contain 1.6 million volumes for student use. Only about 5 percent of American colleges have collections as extensive, and 85 percent have fewer than half that number.

Hofstra sponsors more than 500 cultural events annually, bringing thousands of scholars, dignitaries and other participants to campus. Hofstra has more than 200 musical and dramatic performances on campus each year.

Hofstra has 12 galleries and exhibition areas and an extensive outdoor sculpture collection. Five of the galleries and exhibition areas, and the outdoor sculpture collection are directly under the auspices of the Hofstra Museum. In addition, the entire 240-acre campus is used as an open-air gallery that includes more than 65 outdoor sculptures, acting as a showcase for the Hofstra Museum, which houses one of the largest art collections in the metropolitan area. The Hofstra Museum is accredited by the American Association of Museums, one of only 94 universities in the nation and one of six in New York with such credentials.

Hofstra also has seven theaters, a student newspaper, a Student Center, a recreation center and numerous athletic facilities, including the 15,000-seat James M. Shuart Stadium and the 5,124-seat Hofstra Arena.

The Facts

Hofstra offers bachelor's degrees in 130 areas of study.

The University offers approximately 140 graduate programs.

Hofstra was ranked as one of Yahoo Internet Life's "100 Most Wired Colleges" for 2001-02.

Hofstra has 507 full-time faculty members and 1,291 total faculty members.

The student-faculty ratio is 15:1; Average class size is 22 students

Hofstra is one of only 262 institutions out of more than 3,600 with a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

The Hofstra Libraries are fully computerized and contain 1.6 million volumes available for student use.

Hofstra's campus has 37 residence halls, housing about 4,100 students, and 13 dining facilities.

Hofstra has more than 155 student clubs and organizations of which there are 36 local and national fraternities and sororities.

Hofstra also has an indoor, Olympic-sized (eight lane, 50-meter) swimming pool, one of the largest such facilities in the New York metropolitan area.

The Hofstra athletic program competes on the NCAA Division I level and is a member of the Colonial Athletic Association and the Atlantic 10 Football Conference. The University sponsors 18 intercollegiate programs – nine men's sports and nine women's sports. Hofstra has men's teams in basketball, football, baseball, lacrosse, golf, tennis, wrestling, soccer and cross country. Women's sports include basketball, volleyball, softball, tennis, soccer, field hockey, lacrosse, cross country and golf. The 18 men's and women's intercollegiate athletic teams account for more than 150 home contests annually.

With its beautiful landscaping, Hofstra has won national awards for campus beautification. It is a registered member of the American Association of Botanical Gardens and Arboreta, featuring approximately 8,000 trees representing 425 species.

Hofstra's academic programs are accredited by numerous national agencies and the University is one of only 262 schools, out of more than 3,600 colleges and universities nationwide, with a chapter of the national honor society Phi Beta Kappa. Of Hofstra's 1,291 faculty members, 507 are full time and 91 percent hold the highest degree in their fields. The student/faculty ratio is 15-to-1.

Hofstra University is 100-percent program accessible to persons with disabilities, and has been cited as a national model for this achievement.

COACHING STAFF

Richard Nuttall
Head Coach

Richard Nuttall, a former professional soccer player in England and a former member of the Long Island Rough Riders, is entering his 15th season as Hofstra University Head Soccer Coach. Nuttall has guided the Pride to a 126-118-24 record in his 14 seasons and has transformed the program into one of the most competitive in the Northeast.

Prior to his arrival in Hempstead, the soccer program had posted five losing seasons in nine years, including a 3-9-6 season in 1988. Hofstra has had just five losing seasons in the last 14 years and four of those came during the first four years of Nuttall's tenure. Nuttall's teams have finished .500 or better nine times in the last 10 seasons, including seven straight – a remarkable feat considering that Hofstra has been in three conferences (East Coast, America East, Colonial) during that time, each more competitive than the last.

1997 was Nuttall's finest season to date as he led the Flying Dutchmen to a 14-4-3 record, including a 9-0 mark in America East play. The team was the top seed in the postseason tournament, but lost a close game to defending champion Boston University in the finals. Despite that loss, Hofstra was still considered for an at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament. Nuttall was named Division I Coach of the Year in Region II by the NSCAA.

In 1999 Nuttall led Hofstra to an early season national ranking, before finishing with a 9-9 record. 2000 saw Nuttall lead the Pride back to the America East Championship game, a 2-1 overtime loss to Vermont, and an 11-6-3 overall record. In 2001, Hofstra's last season in the America East Conference, Nuttall led his team to a 9-9-1 record and a berth in the America East Tournament for the fourth time in five years.

Hofstra joined the Colonial Athletic Association in 2002 and posted a 10-7-1 overall record and a 3-6 conference record which saw the Pride lose four one-goal games.

Nuttall, a native of South Yorkshire, England, played with Leeds United and Stoke City of the English Football League. He graduated from the Carnegie School (College) of Physical Education in West Yorkshire in 1984. It was during this time that Nuttall received his Football Association coaching certificates.

Nuttall, who moved to Long Island permanently in 1988 after spending summers in the United States since 1983, taught physical education at North Shore High School. He is also a partner in the highly successful Pro Excel summer soccer camp on Long Island and is active in working with many Long Island communities.

Nuttall and his wife, Christine, reside in New Hyde Park, New York, with their son, Jack (4) and daughter, Caroline (2).

ASSISTANT COACHES/STAFF

Eugene Larkin
Associate Head Coach

Eugene Larkin is entering his 11th season on the Hofstra University Soccer staff and his second season as Associate Head Coach. As Associate Head Coach, Larkin is responsible for assessing and recruiting potential student-athletes, preparing the daily coaching schedule and academic evaluations. In addition to his duties at Hofstra, Larkin also serves as head trainer for the Massapequa Soccer Club and is one of the directors of Pro Excel Soccer.

Larkin holds a National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) Advanced Diploma and a United States Soccer Federation (USFF) "B" License.

The former L.I.U.-C.W. Post soccer standout was a three-time All-New York Collegiate Athletic Conference first team selection from 1989 through 1991, an All-American selection, an All-New England Region pick and a CoSIDA/GTE Academic All-American selection in 1990. He was also named the New York Collegiate Athletic Conference's Most Valuable Player in 1990.

Larkin earned a bachelor's in physical education with a minor in business administration, and a master's in health education from Hofstra in 1999. Originally from Middlesbrough, England, Larkin resides in Williston Park, New York.

Nick Iadanza
Assistant Coach

Nick Iadanza enters his fourth season as a coach for the Hofstra Soccer program. Iadanza joined the Pride after serving as the assistant men's soccer coach at Dowling College from 1994 through 2000. At Dowling, Iadanza helped turn the Lions into a perennial top 10 Division II program. Iadanza also served as an assistant women's coach at Stony Brook from 1991 through 1993. Iadanza is currently a staff coach with the Long Island Junior Soccer League, serving as a clinician and assisting with the certification of licensed coaches. A 1986 graduate of SUNY-Cortland, Iadanza is also a staff coach with the National Soccer Coaches Association of America.

Edwin Schieferstein
Assistant Coach

Edwin Schieferstein enters his third season as an Assistant Coach with the Hofstra Men's Soccer program, where his primary responsibility will be coaching the Pride's goalkeepers. He has been involved with Long Island soccer for the last 30 years, since his playing days at Harborfields High School (1973-76). He most recently served as an assistant coach at Kellenberg Memorial High School from 1991 through 1999, before spending one year as an assistant women's soccer coach at Caldwell College in New Jersey, in 2001. He has also been heavily involved in Long Island Club Soccer, serving as coach for the Syosset Soccer Club since 1995 and coaching the Huntington Soccer Club from 1974 to 1993. A native of Huntington, New York, Schieferstein played collegiate soccer for three seasons at Slippery Rock University in Slippery Rock, Pennsylvania, from 1976 to 1978.

Stacey Taradash
Assistant Athletic Trainer

Stacey Taradash is in her second year as an Assistant Athletic Trainer at Hofstra University after serving as a Graduate Assistant during the 2001-2002 academic year. Taradash, a graduate of Penn State University, gained a wealth of athletic training experience as an undergraduate with the Nittany Lions.

Taradash served as a student athletic trainer at Penn State University in State College, Pennsylvania, from August 1999 until her graduation in May 2001. She worked with a variety of athletic programs at Penn State, including intramural rugby and ice hockey, men's lacrosse, softball and men's and women's gymnastics. She also assisted with several big events that took place on the Penn State campus, including the 2000 NCAA National Duals, the 2001 Big Ten Indoor Track and Field Championships, the TJ Maxx Tour of World Gymnastics Champions and the World Wrestling Federation.

Taradash was a student athletic trainer at the 2000 Jay Wright Basketball Camp at Hofstra University, and served in the same capacity at Herricks High School from December 1995 through January 1997.

2003 HOFSTRA UNIVERSITY Men's Soccer Outlook

The Hofstra Men's Soccer team enters the 2003 season hoping to fulfill much of the promise it showed in the first half of the 2002 campaign. The Pride jumped out to a 7-1-1 record in its first nine games and was nationally ranked for six weeks (including five weeks in a row at one point), reaching as high as #18 in the polls. However, when the Colonial Athletic Association schedule rolled around, Hofstra saw its early-season success fade away. The Pride finished the season with a respectable 10-7-1 record, but failed to qualify for its conference tournament for the first time since 1999.

Hofstra enters the new campaign with a very experienced defensive unit, but needs to rely on some new faces for most of the goal scoring, as last year's starting forwards – Shaun Higgins (five goals, seven assists) and Jochen Strobel (eight goals) – have both moved on. If the Pride can find some offensive firepower in its recruiting class, then it could find itself in the CAA title hunt this fall.

Here is a position-by-position look at the Pride heading into the 2003 season:

Paul Saccoccio

Forwards

This is the one area of concern for the coaching staff, as Higgins and Strobel earned the majority of the playing time at forward last season. Senior Paul Saccoccio (Holtsville, NY) split time between the forward and midfield positions last fall, and finished the year with three goals and two assists, tying him for the scoring lead amongst returning players. Saccoccio has been a steady contributor for the Pride in each of the last three years and has the experience to have a breakthrough season as a goal-scorer this fall. Sophomore Jason Gates (Fort Collins, CO) appeared in 16 games off the bench and had a goal (the game-winning goal in the closing minutes of the Pride's season finale against George Mason) and an assist. His speed in the open field gives him the potential to be a dangerous offensive weapon for the Pride for the next three seasons. Gates can also be used at an outside midfield position as well. Newcomers include freshmen Michael Todd (Cleveland, England) and Paulo Walters (Niantic, CT), and red-shirt freshman Adam Schweizer (Highland Mills, NY). Todd brings a combination of size, speed and toughness to the position, while Walters was an NSCAA All-American and the Gatorade Player of the Year at East Lyme High School in Connecticut. Schweizer was a red-shirt in 2002 and gives the Pride additional size and depth at the position.

Matthew Telling

Midfield

Hofstra has the luxury of some experience to go along with the talented new faces in the midfield this season. Junior Matthew Telling (Rotherham, England) is a creative, attacking midfielder, who should help to generate good scoring chances for the forwards. Telling had two goals and three assists last season in his first year with the Pride. Sophomore Michael Hermann (Erlangen, Germany) was used primarily as an outside midfielder last fall and is a skilled player with a tremendous work rate. He scored two goals and added two assists as a freshman, and he may be used in the central midfield this season. Sophomore Billy Chung (Succasunna, NJ) was also used on the outside last year, where his speed was a dangerous weapon coming off the bench. Mitchell College transfers Edison Lara (Lodi, NJ) and Pablo Lara (Lodi, NJ), as well as freshmen Andri Albertsson (Akureyri, Iceland), Arnel Andrada (Staten Island, NY), Arman Osooli (Commerce, MI) and Brian Sosa (Plainview, NY), and red-shirt freshman Jiva Milenovici (Flushing, NY) will all push for playing time at the position. Edison Lara, a junior, was an NJCAA All-Region XXI selection last season after tallying six goals and seven assists for Mitchell College. His twin brother, Pablo, also a junior, was a two-time All-Region XXI pick who had 12 goals and eight assists last season. Albertsson brings a great deal of international experience to the field, while Andrada was a Staten Island Advance All-Star as a senior at

Arni Gunnarsson

Staten Island Technical High School. Osooli is a physical midfielder who could outmuscle smaller players for the ball, while Sosa earned All-Nassau County honors at Plainview-Old Bethpage JFK High School. Milenovici, who red-shirted last season, was an All-New York State selection as a senior at Holy Cross High School.

Defense

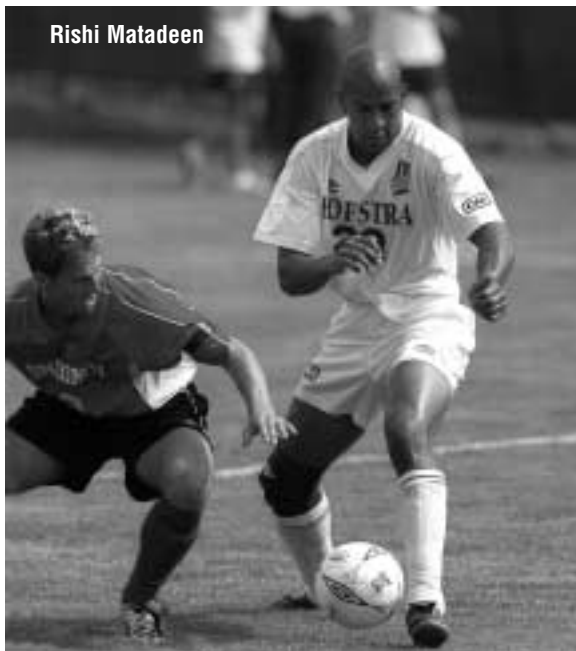

Hofstra is in great shape defensively, where the majority of its key players return, including three seniors who have been regular starters since their freshman seasons. Leading the way will be senior Arni Gunnarsson (Kopavogur, Iceland), the team's Most Valuable Player last fall, who can handle either the defensive midfield or center back positions. Gunnarsson, who also came forward to score three goals and add two assists, was named first team All-CAA and first team Verizon/CoSIDA Academic All-America last fall. Arguably Hofstra's steadiest player, he is extremely adept at winning 50-50 balls in the Pride's defensive end and has an exceptional work rate. Senior Rishi Matadeen (South Yorkshire, England), meanwhile, provides the Pride with size (6-2), skill and a wealth of experience at the center back position. He has also had success in his career at coming forward on restarts, where his ability to win balls in the air makes him an inviting target. He was hampered last season with an injured knee, but expects to be in top physical condition this fall. Senior Stephen Kent (Somerset, England) can play either outside back or outside midfield and has the ability to get behind the defense on long runs up the sideline. He has been a regular in the starting lineup in the last three years, and his experience will be a vital part of the Pride's back line this fall. The threesome of Gunnarsson, Matadeen and Kent gives Hofstra, quite possibly, one of the most experienced defensive units in the country.

Stephen Kent

Sophomore Alexander Kornprobst (Erlangen, Germany), who stands 6-3, provides the Pride with another big central defender, who can play physically and defend against high crossing passes. Junior James Bentley (East Patchogue, NY) also emerged as a consistent central defender in the second half of last season and will be counted on again to provide support to the Hofstra back line. Newcomer Gary Flood (Hauppauge, NY) may also contribute right away after earning numerous accolades, including All-New York State and All-Long Island, at Hauppauge High School.

Rishi Matadeen

Goalkeeper

Both of the Pride's goalkeepers from last year return again this fall and they will once again be neck-and-neck for the starting job. Daniel Greening (Lake Grove, NY) and Matthias Gumbrecht (Hemhofen, Germany) each finished last season with an identical 1.49 goals against average. Greening had a slightly higher save percentage (.780 to .746) and a better win-loss percentage (5-2, .714 to 4-5-1, .450), although Gumbrecht showed tremendous promise with a nine-save shutout in a huge 1-0 win over nationally ranked Yale. The two may split time evenly again, although Coach Nuttall will not hesitate to stick with the hot hand, should one emerge.

Schedule

Hofstra will again challenge itself with a couple of tough early-season tournaments, traveling to face regional power Hartwick and national power San Diego in the non-conference portion of its schedule. The Pride's season-opening home game against Villanova will take place at the new Hofstra Soccer Stadium on September 1. The Colonial Athletic Association will once again provide some tough challenges, including home games against 2002 NCAA College Cup qualifiers William & Mary, Virginia Commonwealth and Old Dominion.

STUART RABINOWITZ

President of Hofstra University

Stuart Rabinowitz was chosen by the Hofstra University Board of Trustees to serve as the eighth President of the University on December 20, 2000. Prior to his appointment, he served as Dean of Hofstra University School of Law from September 1989 through June 2001. He joined the faculty of the Law School in 1972. President Rabinowitz currently holds the Andrew M. Boas and Mark L. Claster Distinguished Professorship in Civil Procedure.

President Rabinowitz holds positions with a number of important government and community organizations, including the Nassau County Health and Welfare Council, Cradle of Aviation Museum, Fund for Modern Courts, Holocaust Memorial & Educational Center of Nassau County, Long Island Association and the Long Island Coalition for Fair Broadcasting. He is a former member of the Nassau County Blue Ribbon Financial Review Panel and former chair of the Nassau County Local Advisory Board. Additionally, President

Rabinowitz served as a member of the Nassau County Commission on Government Revision, which was charged with drafting a new charter and a new form of government for the County. He is the recipient of numerous honors and awards, including the Martin Luther King Living the Dream Award, EOC; Award for Distinguished Service in the Cause of Justice, Legal Aid Society; Leadership Award, UJA Federation; and the Bar Association of Nassau County Proclamation for Outstanding Service to both the Legal Profession and the Community.

President Rabinowitz received a juris doctor degree, magna cum laude, from Columbia University School of Law, where he was a member of the board of editors of the Columbia Law Review and a Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar. He graduated from City College of New York with honors, and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and the American Law Institute.

HOFSTRA UNIVERSITY

Athletic Administration

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Harry Royle

Harry Royle is in his seventh year as Director of Athletics at Hofstra University. After serving as Interim Director from June 1997 through February 1998, Royle, a longtime Hofstra University athletic administrator, was selected as the University's sixth Director of Athletics. During Royle's tenure, Hofstra has upgraded nearly all of its athletic facilities, moved into the Colonial Athletic Association for all sports but football and joined the highly competitive Atlantic 10 Football Conference after years of playing as a I-AA Independent.

Royle, a Hofstra alumnus who received his bachelor's in history in 1970 and master's in educational administration in 1990, has worked in the Athletic Department at Hofstra for more than three decades. After a stellar four-year football playing career at Hofstra, where he was 1968 team captain and the third recipient of the Mayor's Trophy, Royle served as an Assistant Football Coach under three Head Coaches, Howard "Howdy" Myers, Bill Leete and Mickey Kwiatkowski, from 1969 through 1987. During this time, he served as a position coach and Defensive Coordinator with the Flying Dutchmen and made three NCAA Championship appearances.

Royle also served as an Assistant Lacrosse Coach under Myers from 1971 through 1975 before replacing the legendary Hall of Fame coach upon his retirement in 1976. He directed the Flying Dutchmen Lacrosse program as Head Coach from 1976 through 1985, compiling a 58-55 record and leading the program to a Top 13 ranking or better in five of those 10 years. In 1978 Royle led the Flying Dutchmen to an 8-5 record, an NCAA Championship Tournament bid and a seventh-place national ranking.

Royle became Hofstra's Assistant Director of Athletics in 1985, serving as team administrator for numerous programs, including Football and Lacrosse. In 1995 he was promoted to Associate Director of Athletics for Compliance and University Eligibility.

Royle has served as tournament director for the highly successful NCAA Division I Men's Lacrosse Championship-Northern Quarterfinals at Hofstra Stadium in 1997 and 1998, and was a member of the NCAA Men's Lacrosse Committee. Royle and his wife of 37 years, Mary, have three children, Michael (36), Paul (31) and Danny (23). The Royle family resides in Babylon, New York.

HOFSTRA UNIVERSITY SOCCER STADIUM

The Hofstra Men's and Women's Soccer Teams play at the newly constructed Hofstra University Soccer Stadium, located on the University's north campus, adjacent to the Hofstra physical Fitness Center. The Stadium, which was constructed through a partnership with the New York Jets, features a 120-yard by 74-yard FieldTurf surface, stadium lighting and metal bleachers the length of the field.

"We are very pleased to be able to add to our campus a first-rate soccer facility with lights and seating for approximately 1,600 spectators," said Hofstra president Stuart Rabinowitz. "This facility will enhance our soccer programs, and will also permit us to host exhibitions and other community contests. We are most grateful to the New York Jets for their generosity in making this facility possible."

The FieldTurf system, which was installed by Landtek of Amityville, New York, replicates a natural grass surface, but offers the durability and cost benefits of synthetic fields. FieldTurf is a safe alternative, resulting in a documented reduction of sports injuries. The sand and rubber infill system is the biggest technical development that the sport surfacing industry has seen in the last 25 years. This patented technology sets FieldTurf apart from all other sports surfaces.

In June 2001, The Federation Internationale de Football Association (FIFA), the worldwide governing body for the sport of soccer, gave its official recommendation to the artificial grass FieldTurf installation at Boston University's Nickerson Field for international competition and domestic league play. The historic ruling, the first and only certification of an artificial surface in the world at this time, means that venues with FieldTurf can be used for all preliminary competition matches for the FIFA World Cup and Olympic Football Tournaments as well as for professional league play. There have been more than 500 FieldTurf installations worldwide in recent years.

The new facility will be lit with a system from the Iowa-based Musco Lighting Company. Musco is recognized as a world-class leader in sports lighting with lighting systems installed around the globe. A leader in developing sports-lighting technology – including solutions for permanent and temporary lighting, and sports facility management – Musco offers innovative systems, a comprehensive package of services, and decades of experience.

Working with organizations such as Amateur Softball Association, Babe Ruth League, Disney, England and Wales Cricket Board, Little League Baseball®, Major League Baseball, NASCAR, and the NBA, Musco has played a key role in developing guidelines for safe, efficient sports facilities. Musco is a Major Partner with the National Recreation and Park Association (NRPA); provides the Official Sports-Lighting System for Little League Baseball and was selected to light Disney's Wide World of Sports Complex — a state-of-the-art 200-acre complex with facilities for more than 30 sports.

The facility will be outfitted with a seating system from the Southern Bleacher Company of Graham, Texas. Since 1946, Southern Bleacher has set the standard of excellence in the design and manufacturing of sports stadiums and entertainment venues. Southern Bleacher products grace professional baseball diamonds and soccer fields, college campuses, school districts, NASCAR tracks and rodeo arenas across the United States.

"Our soccer programs have enjoyed tremendous growth and success in recent years," Hofstra Director of Athletics Harry Royle stated. "Two years ago, Hofstra moved into the Colonial Athletic Association, which is one of the top soccer conferences in the country. We are confident that this new facility will be the final piece of the puzzle that will allow us to take our soccer programs to the next level, both regionally and nationally."

HOFSTRA HERITAGE

The history of athletics at Hofstra is as old as the University itself, and is steeped in the Dutch heritage that helps to make Hofstra such a unique school.

Hofstra has always had strong roots in tradition. Ties to Dutch heritage and the Netherlands began with William S. Hofstra, after whom the school is named and on whose property the University was started. When the doors opened in 1935, the sole building on campus was Hofstra's mansion, which he had affectionately named the Netherlands after his homeland. The mansion, which houses administrative offices, is now the center of Hofstra's 240-acre campus, and has been renamed Hofstra Hall.

Also adopted in this early stage of Hofstra's history was the school alma mater, "The Netherlands." The lyrics were written by a faculty member to the music of the Dutch national anthem by the 16th-century Dutch composer Valerius.

The Hofstra Flag

The Hofstra storm flag is modeled after an actual Dutch geus, a privateer's flag. In 1991 a representative of Holland's Queen Beatrix presented the banner to then Hofstra President (now President Emeritus) James M. Shuart. The history of the flag dates back to 1572, when a group of Dutch loyalists called Watergeuzen used the flag's mast to ram the gates of a Dutch city in their opposition to Spanish rule. While the Netherlands Royal Navy flies the original red, white and blue geus, the Hofstra version has been redesigned in the school colors of gold, white and blue.

The gold, white and blue Hofstra colors themselves spring from Dutch roots. The first official Hofstra flag appeared on April 19, 1940, when Dr. Alexander Loudon, an envoy for Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, presented his country's flag to Hofstra in a special ceremony. However, the flag he presented was not the red, white and blue flag of the Netherlands, but the orange, white and blue banner of William of Nassau with a Hofstra emblem placed on the flag. The University has used the design ever since, although President Shuart, after researching the colors, replaced the orange hue with gold, making the flag truer to the original House of Nassau. The flag is one of Hofstra's most recognizable symbols, utilized in publications, pins and souvenirs.

The Hofstra Seal

The Hofstra seal, another easily recognizable emblem, was designed from the royal Dutch emblem by art instructor Constant Van de Wall. The seal is modeled on the coat of arms of the House of Orange-Nassau. The round seal includes the coat of arms, flanked by lions on either side. A lion also stands in the center of the coat of arms, holding a sword in its right claw and a bundle of seven arrows, which represent the seven provinces of Holland, in its left. The seal also carries the motto of the House of Orange-Nassau in Old French:

"Je maintiendray" (I stand steadfast). In 1988 one of the two lions on the seal was officially replaced with a lioness. The seal is now the focal point of the "Hofstra Pride" logo.

HOFSTRA HERITAGE

The Hofstra Nicknames

The Hofstra nickname has also evolved over the years. For decades, Hofstra athletic teams have used the nicknames Flying Dutchmen, Dutchmen, or Dutch. Recently, an additional nickname of The Pride has become popular. We have not changed our nickname. We are both the Dutch (and its variations) and the Pride.

The Pride nickname started during the University's dramatic recovery and growth in the mid to late '80's from a major fiscal crisis during the previous decade. The first consistent use of the word "Pride" relating to athletics started in 1989 when the University's athletic booster club was founded and called itself The Pride Club. At that time it had no meaning associated with our teams. It was simply consistent with a general feeling about all of our efforts.

The Pride nickname has also evolved over the past decade in a more specific fashion than just the expression of the feeling. The word pride is used to describe a sense of having strong self-respect or a sense of accomplishment. But in 1988 the lion on the right side of the shield on the Hofstra seal was changed into a lioness to symbolize gender equity. This, in turn, led to the development of the University mascots — Kate and Willie Pride, a lion and lioness. The two lions led to extensive use of the word "Pride" in talking about Hofstra, as a group of lions is called a pride. In 1995 bronze reproductions of the lion and lioness were added to the campus scenery. In fact, there are now four such pairs of sculptures on campus.

However, the evolution continues even further. In 1997, the University purchased a sculpture by Paul Manship of "Atalanta," a figure from Greek mythology. It is an impressive 14-foot tall figure of a running woman. It is on the west side of Hofstra Stadium. To complement this figure, in 1998, the University commissioned Gregg Wyatt to sculpt a similarly sized figure of a running man. In this case it was a representation of "Hippomenes" who was a central figure in the myth. The myth of Atalanta and Hippomenes relates closely to Hofstra symbology.

As the myth goes, an Oracle told Atalanta, as a young girl, that she must never marry. Thus, Atalanta avoided men and devoted herself to the chase. Soon she could outrun any man. Yet because Atalanta was so attractive she had many suitors. To deal with them she imposed an almost impossible condition. She would only marry one who could beat her in a foot race. While she would be the prize of such a race, the penalty for losing was death. Nonetheless there were suitors and there was need of a judge for such races. Hippomenes was chosen for this role. However, when he saw Atalanta he immediately fell in love with her. Knowing he could never out run her, he sought the help of Venus.

Venus agreed, and gave him three golden apples, which Hippomenes was to throw in front of Atalanta during the race. The apples were so desirable it would be impossible for her to resist picking them up, and thus she would lose the race. All this came to pass, and when the race was over and won by Hippomenes, they fell deeply in love and the youth carried off his prize. However, they angered Venus for their failure to thank her. As punishment, she turned Hippomenes into a lion and Atalanta into a lioness.

With this strong identification with lions and the multiple meanings of the word pride, our coaches and players, as well as the sports media, have begun to use it extensively over the last several years. Our women's teams especially are more comfortable calling themselves The Pride, which is genderless, than they are calling themselves The Flying Dutchwomen or the Lady Dutch. The men's teams are also comfortable with the nickname Pride.

However, as noted earlier, we have not abandoned the Flying Dutchmen or formally adopted The Pride. There is nothing wrong with having more than one nickname. It is not uncommon for a school to have two nicknames as institutions such as Yale, Virginia, Georgia Tech and Army have multiple monikers. The bottom line is our name is HOFSTRA.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

Hofstra University is committed to the pursuit of academic and athletic excellence. The University views participation in intercollegiate athletics as benefiting the student-athlete in an educationally enhancing experience beyond any other opportunity available. Hofstra also realizes the time commitment made by student-athletes and has committed the facilities and resources to support all students.

The University Tutorial Program (UTP) provides free tutoring in every subject area to any Hofstra student. In addition to this service, the UTP has an athletic component that addresses the academic needs of student-athletes. The UTP academic counselor administers this athletic component. The UTP emphasizes four areas in their efforts to ensure the academic success of Hofstra's student-athletes.

Area one is academic counseling. Services are provided in the areas of academic planning, career planning, personal counseling, and campus and community referrals. The counselor also meets with prospective student-athletes, at the coach's request, to share the many benefits of a Hofstra University education.

Area two is academic advising. In an effort to ease the demand on the Office of Advisement, the UTP academic counselor also advises first-year and undecided student-athletes.

Area three is academic monitoring. The UTP counselor monitors the academic progress of student-athletes to ensure compliance with Hofstra University, NCAA and conference regulations. The counselor's regular communication with the faculty and coaches provide an opportunity for early intervention should academic difficulties arise.

Area four is study halls. The University Tutorial Program provides all athletic study halls with tutors in various subjects and assesses the needs of individual student-athletes to provide the most effective study environment. The assessment tool administered by the UTP is also used to provide various enrichment seminars for the student-athletes such as time management, writing skills, campus resources, and surviving the college transition.

In the fall of 1999, the Pride Teaching and Learning Center opened on the second floor of Margiotta Hall. Funded in part by proceeds from the Joe Gardi Golf Open, the state-of-the-art computer lab and learning center features a projection system and 18 computer work stations, which are connected to the University network for easy research access to the Internet.

SPORTS MEDICINE/ATHLETIC TRAINING

Through a comprehensive athletic training program, Hofstra University student-athletes are provided excellent health care during their attendance at the University. A coordinated effort between the University Health and Wellness Center, the Athletic Department and outside health care providers ensures every student-athlete the best medical attention possible.

University student-athletes have direct access to a myriad of health care services. Managing the coverage of every practice and competition event, Hofstra University's Athletic Trainers provide injury management, rehabilitation and treatment to the entire Athletic program. Utilizing three state-of-the-art athletic training rooms, these professionals work tirelessly to ensure the safe participation of Hofstra's student-athletes and to return injured athletes to play quickly and safely.

Supporting the athletic trainers is team physician Dr. Damion Martins. Dr. Martins, a physician with Pro Health Care, Inc. in Lake Success, New York, is in his second year on Hofstra's medical team. Martins experience in the sports medicine field includes serving as team physician for the University of Maryland, University of Maryland-Baltimore County and Coppin State athletic departments. He was also on the medical staff of the National Football League's Baltimore Ravens.

Hofstra University sponsors a fully accredited, highly competitive undergraduate degree program for athletic training majors, in which Hofstra student athletic trainers participate in all aspects of the health care system.

LONG ISLAND, NEW YORK

Long Island offers the best of both worlds: it is a suburban haven that is also convenient to New York City. Location, however, is just one of many assets that makes Long Island attractive to both native residents and visitors alike. The people, the sites and the unique geography of Long Island bring people back again and again.

New York City's

beach, boardwalk, bay beach, pool, golf and outdoor concerts. It is 10 minutes from Hofstra and, in the summer, students can catch a Hofstra shuttle bus to the beach.

In addition, Long Island is home to 20 state parks, 115 golf courses, 95 tennis clubs and 429 yacht clubs and marinas. The active person can enjoy camping, canoeing, bicycling, water skiing, boating or fishing. Others might enjoy visiting any of the lighthouses, the millionaire mansions, the art galleries or one of Long Island's 14 wineries. The tourist may join the crowd at theaters and gourmet seafood restaurants, or hit one of the many exciting nightclubs. Families might cool off at the beach or the water park. The Hamptons, at the heart of the South Fork, are considered a summer resort area and are famous as the playground community of the rich and famous.

Great South Bay

Long Island is the largest island adjoining the continental United States. Twenty miles wide and approximately 130 miles long, Long Island is separated from the mainland on the north by the Long Island Sound and on the south by the Atlantic Ocean. It measures 100 miles from the Nassau-Queens border to Montauk Point, which lies on the eastern tip of the South Fork. The eastern tip of the North Fork is called Orient Point. The forks are separated by the beautiful waters of the Great Peconic Bay and Gardiner's Bay. Nestled in the bays between the two forks are Shelter Island and Gardiner's Island.

With a population of 2.7 million people, Long Island has a population larger than 20 states. It has 23 colleges and universities with more than 150,000 students, 127 public school districts with more than 405,000 students and 231 private schools with more than 52,000 students. The region is considered one of the nation's wealthiest areas with a per household median income of $49,500.

The work force on Long Island now exceeds 1.4 million persons, and the region boasts one of the lowest unemployment rates in the nation. The economy is made up of more than 84,000 businesses, has 50 million square feet of office space, and has more than 1,000 shopping malls. Roosevelt Field is the premier mall on Long Island, featuring department stores and specialty shops, and is only minutes from the Hofstra University campus.

Montauk Point

The most distinguishing features of Long Island, however, are its scenic beauty and its many sites and attractions. It has become a vacation spot for many, a "getaway" from big city hassles and distractions. People travel to enjoy the 1,100 square miles of shoreline on more than 150 different beaches. No area of the Island is more than 15 minutes from a world-class beach.

Jones Beach, which lies on the south shore, is a 2,400-acre park with six miles of ocean

Long Island is the place for the sports fan, as well. The Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum, which is literally across the street from Hofstra, offers concerts, children's shows and is home to the National Hockey League's New York Islanders. Belmont Park, home of horse racing's Belmont Stakes, offers the thoroughbred horse enthusiast an outlet in beautiful surroundings. Heading into Queens, there's Shea Stadium, home of the New York Mets. Further west, and a short ride via the Long Island Rail Road, is New York City, where students can frequent museums, theaters, retailers, Madison Square Garden, South Street Seaport and more.

More than 25 million people visit Long Island each year pumping approximately $2.5 billion into its economy through tourism. Long Island is not merely a place for the tourist, however. Generations have settled down and made their living on Long Island, enjoying the benefits of moderate climate, miles of beautiful beaches, easy access to New York City, and a place to call home. With scores of major attractions and distinctive sites, Long Island has it all for the tourist, as well as the year-round resident.

THE COLONIAL ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Boasting a roster of 10 well-respected academic institutions, the Colonial Athletic Association continues to build on a proud history as one of the nation's top collegiate conferences.

With a geographic footprint that stretches from the shadow of the Statue of Liberty to the beaches of North Carolina, the landscape of the CAA is dotted with major metropolitan areas that include four of the nation's top 25 media markets – New York (1), Philadelphia (4), Washington, D.C. (8) and Baltimore (24).

The CAA showcases the athletic and academic skills of some of the nation's top student-athletes. On the playing field, the conference has produced 15 national team champions in four different sports, 28 individual national champions, 11 national coaches of the year and 10 national players of the year. In 2002-03, the conference sent two or more teams to the NCAA Tournament in seven different sports. The CAA has ranked as the top Division I non-football conference in the Sears Directors Cup standings in recent years.

Even more impressive, however, are the honors accumulated away from competition, which include five Rhodes Scholars, 11 NCAA post-graduate scholars and 12 Honda Award winners. Last year, the CAA had 17 Verizon Academic All-Americans, including six who were selected to the first team. Nearly 1,000 CAA student-athletes posted at least a 3.2 grade point average while lettering in a varsity sport and received the CAA Commissioner's Academic Award in 2002-03.

The CAA conducts championships in 21 sports. Male athletes compete for championships in baseball, basketball, cross country, golf, lacrosse, soccer, swimming & diving, tennis, track & field and wrestling. Female athletes battle for conference titles in basketball, cross country, field hockey, golf, lacrosse, soccer, softball, swimming & diving, tennis, track & field and volleyball.

In men's basketball, the CAA has earned a reputation as a "giant killer" in the NCAA Tournament. Since 1981, CAA schools have posted 12 wins over higher-seeded teams, including UNC Wilmington's upset of Southern California in 2002. Nine of the conference's 10 teams have made at least two NCAA Tournament appearances since 1990. In women's basketball, Old Dominion has captured three national championships (1979, 1980, 1985) and reached the title game again in 1997. In 2002, the Lady Monarchs advanced to the Elite Eight.

The conference has also excelled in many other sports. CAA squads have won 10 field hockey national titles since the championship began in 1981, which is not only more than any other conference but represents nearly half of all titles won. In baseball, the CAA has ranked as one of the nation's top five conferences in four of the past six seasons. The CAA is annually ranked among the nation's top 10 conferences in men's and women's soccer, and has traditionally sent multiple teams to the NCAA Tournament. The conference finished the 2002-03 campaign with teams ranked among the top 25 nationally in cross country, field hockey, men's soccer, wrestling, men's and women's tennis and men's and women's lacrosse.

CAA member institutions are also committed to excellence in the classroom. The Colonial Academic Alliance was created in 2002 by the league's presidents with a goal of expanding their partnership to all aspects of university life outside of intercollegiate athletics. Among the programs already established is granting visiting academic status to student-athletes traveling to an away contest so that they have access to libraries, academic resource centers and computer labs.

In 2002, two faculty members from CAA institutions were awarded academia's most coveted distinction – the Nobel Prize. John B. Fenn, a research professor in the Department of Chemistry at Virginia Commonwealth University was one of three recipients of the Nobel Prize in chemistry, and Vernon Smith, a professor of economics and law at George Mason University, shared the Nobel Prize in economic sciences.

Under the direction of Commissioner Thomas E. Yeager, who has guided the CAA since its inception, the league recently expanded to 10 members. The University of Delaware, Drexel University, Hofstra University and Towson University were introduced as the conference's newest members on December 13, 2000, joining George Mason University, James Madison University, the University of North Carolina at Wilmington, Old Dominion University, Virginia Commonwealth University and the College of William & Mary.

The CAA traces its roots back to 1983 when three of its current members- George Mason, James Madison, and William and Mary - were aligned with East Carolina University, the United States Naval Academy and the University of Richmond as a basketball league (ECAC South). During the next two years, the league added 11 sports, acquired two new members (UNC Wilmington and American University) and decided to form a new association. The transformation from ECAC South to CAA took place on June 6, 1985. By the fall of 1986, the league gained automatic bids to NCAA Championships in men's basketball, soccer, baseball and women's basketball and formed an officials' bureau. Old Dominion became a member of the CAA in 1991-92 and Virginia Commonwealth University joined the conference prior to the 1995-96 season.

From all-star athletes to Nobel Prize winning faculty, the CAA takes great pride in producing performers who stand out both on the playing field and in the classroom.

GETTING TO HOFSTRA

From Southern New Jersey, Southeastern Pennsylvania, Maryland, Washington, D.C. and Virginia:

Take the New Jersey Turnpike to Exit 13. Cross the Goethals Bridge and continue on Route 278 to the Verrazano-Narrows Bridge. Stay in the left lane of the Bridge and take the Belt Parkway-East. The Belt Parkway becomes the Southern State Parkway at the Nassau County line. Take the Southern State Parkway to the Meadowbrook Parkway North (Exit 22). Exit the Meadowbrook Parkway at Exit M4 (Hempstead Turnpike Route 24). Head west to Hofstra (approximately 1 mile).

From Northwestern New Jersey, Northern Pennsylvania and the Middle States:

Take Interstate 78, Interstate 80, U.S. Route 22, New Jersey Route 4 or New Jersey Route 17 to the George Washington Bridge. Proceed over the bridge to the Cross Bronx Expressway. Take the Cross Bronx Expressway to the Throgs Neck Bridge. Follow directions from the Throgs Neck Bridge from this point.

From Upstate New York:

Take New York Thruway over the Tappan Zee Bridge to Cross Westchester Expressway (Interstate 287). Stay on the Expressway to the New England Thruway (Interstate 95). Proceed south on the Thruway to the Throgs Neck Bridge. Follow directions from the Throgs Neck Bridge from this point.

From the Throgs Neck Bridge:

Follow signs for Eastern Long Island. Take the Cross Island Parkway to the Grand Central Parkway-East. The Grand Central becomes the Northern State Parkway at the Nassau County line. Take the Northern State Parkway-East to the Meadowbrook Parkway-South (exit 31A). Take the Meadowbrook Parkway-South to Exit M4 West (Hempstead Turnpike Route 24). Follow Hempstead Turnpike West to Hofstra (approximately 1 mile).

For Team Travel Via Bus:

Commercial buses are not allowed on New York City (Belt, Grand Central or Cross Island) or Long Island (Southern State or Northern State) Parkways. Team buses should take the Brooklyn-Queens Expressway from the south, and the Clearview Expressway from the north, to get to the Long Island Expressway for the trip to Hofstra. Once on the Long Island Expressway (I-495), buses should proceed to Glen Cove Road-South (exit 39). Head south on Glen Cove Road for approximately eight miles to Hempstead Turnpike/Fulton Avenue and turn left (east). Hofstra University is approximately two miles east on Hempstead Turnpike.

Public Transportation from Airport:

If a visitor arrives at either La Guardia or Kennedy Airport, the most direct means of reaching the University is by one of three limousine companies that service both airports and the Hofstra University area. Larry's Taxi Service (516) 483-3333; Transport Limousine Service (800) 654-1164 (out of state) (800) 832-5466 (in New York state); Winston Limousine Service (800) 4-AIRPORT.

Railroads:

AMTRAK services Pennsylvania Station in Manhattan, approximately 30 miles from the Hofstra campus. To get to Hofstra from Penn Station, take the Long Island Rail Road to the Hempstead station. The Hofstra University Courtesy Bus and taxi services are available there. Hofstra is approximately 1.5 miles from the station.

SERGIO VILLANUEVA SCHOLARSHIP FUND

The FDNY Soccer Club and Hofstra alumnus Jonathan Kanovsky ('86) have created a scholarship fund at Hofstra University in memory of firefighter Sergio Villanueva, who was among those who perished on September 11, 2001. This soccer scholarship will assist a deserving Hofstra University student-athlete in pursuing their goal of a college education. The recipient will demonstrate the work ethic, integrity, discipline and courage that exemplified Sergio's life. To get more information or to donate to the fund go to www.fdnysoccer.com or contact the Hofstra University Office of Development at (516) 463-5542.

THE GORMAN GATEWAY

Plans are underway to create a gateway and alumni complex that will surround the newly constructed Hofstra University Soccer Stadium. Included in the new complex will be a gateway entrance named in honor of former Hofstra Soccer player Frank "Stormin" Gorman, who passed away on January 5, 2003.

Donors to the Gorman Gateway fund will have their names inscribed on a plaque at the gateway entrance to the Hofstra University Soccer Stadium.

For more information, please contact Mark Cox, Associate Athletic Director for External Affairs at (516) 463-6144.
