Alumni Reflections

One step outside and you can barely see the field from the downpour of rain. We knew we were in for a long one when, instead of going out to the field, we took a quick right turn to go around the building.

As we were rolling through the sand, I remember thinking, "well this is pretty stupid", until I got up and tried to run back to the end of the line and face-planted. It made everything harder, trying to crawl through the sand was now a battle of crawling in a straight line without getting trampled by the guy next to you. When we were finished with the sand pit, I thought to myself, "thank God we are done". Wow, I was wrong. Run test next. We all collapsed on couches, lockers and the floor, gasping for air, exhausted and mentally drained. As I looked around I came to the realization that it was somehow over and it was hell, but we did it, and we did it together.

Going to Hofstra was the best experience I could have asked for. It teaches you how to be a man and how to handle every day like a man. You're going to have bad days, it's inevitable; how you deal with it is up to you. You don't realize it while it's happening, but every day shapes and changes who you are as a person. Every thing you do is for a reason and it is to better you as a person. Hofstra teaches you how to have respect and to understand how to act in certain situations. But, also when you need to be mentally and physically tough.

JOSH BYRNE

Class of 2017

I'm turning 60 in a few weeks and just received a call from Coach Tierney asking me to describe my Hofstra Lacrosse story. What a big smile I have on my face. I want to thank Seth for this opportunity.

I went to Clarke High School in East Meadow, a baseball powerhouse. Fortunately, we also had a lacrosse program. Some of the older kids on my block played lacrosse at Clarke. So, Christmas, when I was in fifth grade, I got my first lacrosse stick. Yes, it was wood. Organized lacrosse didn't start until I was in seventh grade. During my high school years, before I could drive, my friends and I would walk to Hofstra to watch "The Flying Dutchmen" on the turf. FYI, it was the only turf field in New York State and only the third collegiate field in the country back in 1968. I was hooked and wanted to play at Hofstra. D3 football and D1 lacrosse was a perfect fit for me. I was fortunate enough to captain the football team my senior year and the lacrosse team my junior and senior years.

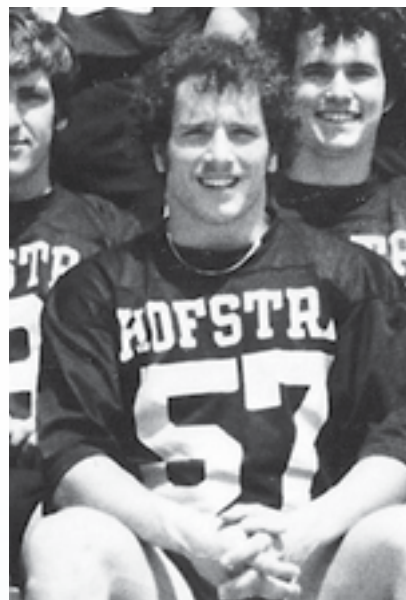

Hofstra Lacrosse and Coach Harry Royle ran a perfect system for me to step into. My freshmen year, during our first scrimmage, Coach Royle put me on the wing with my long stick for a faceoff. That wasn't done in the 70's. It worked and I played long stick middle before they had that position. Thanks, Coach Royle! Every day at practice, I played with and against Hofstra greats Kevin Huff, Vinny Sombrotto, Jim Metzger, Mike Fowler and Tony Petillo to name a few. After covering Vinny Sombrotto every day in practice, anyone else was no problem. I was honored being selected as an All-American my senior year and representing Hofstra in the North/South game. I also played in the Superstar game - the college all-stars against the club all-stars. I continued playing after college for the Long Island Lacrosse Club and won a national championship.

When my playing days were over, my children started to play. I coached youth lacrosse for eight years and was a board member of Nassau County PAL Lacrosse. I was able to watch my daughter and son play lacrosse at St. Anthony's High School. I have been officiating high school football and lacrosse for 14 years and college lacrosse for nine years. I am the president of the Nassau County Lacrosse Officials Association. Lacrosse will always be a part of my life, going on 50 years now.

I again want to thank Coach Tierney for giving me this opportunity. The Hofstra days were a huge part of my life. Back in the 70's, we had some football players that also played lacrosse. I feel I was a lacrosse player that also played football.

Alumni Reflections

It seems like kids these days are born with lacrosse sticks in their hand. From a very early age, players are honing their skills and playing at a high level. That certainly wasn't the case for me. My parents moved to Long Island from Queens in the early 80's and, as you can imagine, lacrosse wasn't very prevalent. It wasn't until my elementary school teacher, Mr. Sean Keenan, saw something in me and pushed me to pick up a stick at School No. 5 in Oceanside. I immediately fell in love with the great game of lacrosse. Many years later, our Oceanside High School team earned an opportunity to play in the Nassau County Championships at Hofstra University. Our team was fortunate to come away with the victory, and I also came away with a new found love and respect for a place I was eventually going to call home.

From early on I knew Hofstra was a perfect fit for so many reasons. Firstly, my older brother, Mondo, who I always looked up to, is a Hofstra Lacrosse alumnus and I got to watch him play right in our backyard. Watching my brother and having the ability to be so close to home helped me make an easy and one of the best decisions of my life.

Our senior lacrosse season at Hofstra may be the most memorable as we went 11-3. We, unfortunately, missed the playoffs, but we knew, as did some of the teams that advanced in the NCAA's, that we deserved to be there. That journey with my teammates is something that I still treasure.

I have so many fond memories of playing college lacrosse. Being so close to home, I was so blessed to have been able to play the game I love in front of all my family and friends, which played a huge part in my decision to go to Hofstra. However, my experience at Hofstra can be summed up and best exemplified by what it meant to don "The Grays."

There was no greater privilege than to wear your "Hofstra Grays" on campus, during practices or to just about any function. Those grays represented our team and the camaraderie we shared. They represented our grit and toughness. But wearing them also meant that as a student-athlete, we had a responsibility that came with being part of our lacrosse family. We worked hard both on, and off the field and that certainly helped us earn the respect of the faculty and fellow students but most of all our competitors. Our competition knew, when they came down the turnpike, they were in for a fight.

I can't tell you how much I miss training with my teammates in preparation for our seasons. Stadium stairs, 17's, weight room. We got after it and learned early on that to be successful, we had to work hard! That attitude and discipline remains part of who I am today and continues to serve me in my life after lacrosse.

And last but certainly not least, I must pay homage to Coach Danowski, who was not only a tremendous coach but also stressed academics. So much so that he asked me to take a winter class and, while reluctant, I obliged. It was in that class that I met the love of my life, Tania, who I went on to marry. We now have three beautiful children who are my pride and joy.

My lacrosse journey is something I wouldn't trade for the world. There are so many teammates and coaches that remain like family to me to this day.

Good luck to the 2018 Hofstra Pride and just know I that I will always be Hofstra Proud!!

Nick Colleluori Headstrong Foundation

Nick Colleluori, who would have been part of the class of 2008, fought a "relentless" battle against Non-Hodgkin's Lymphoma, and while Nick lost his battle on November 28, 2006, his vision had just begun.

The HEADstrong Foundation is dedicated to Nick's life. During his 14-month battle, which included chemotherapy, a stem-cell transplant and extensive radiation treatment, it was Nick's vision to establish this foundation to raise awareness and help others affected by this disease. He drew the logo as he was waiting to go into the operating room for a procedure. Because lacrosse was his passion and he can no longer carry the ball, his family and friends will carry the ball for him.

"Make use of the time you have & don't stress the little things. Have a smile and enjoy what you can get out of life."

- Nick Colleluori

The Relentless Cup

The Inaugural Relentless Cup was held in April 2013 at Ridley High School in Folsom, Pennsylvania. The event combined interstate youth games, high school games and was highlighted by Hofstra taking on Saint Joseph's. The event is now in its sixth year and has become an annual battle between Hofstra and Drexel.

HEADstrong Foundation Nick Colleluori Memorial Classic

Over the past 11 years college lacrosse teams have taken the field to honor their fallen brother by participating in the Nicholas Colleluori Classic, held each October. In 2015 the HEADstrong Foundation expanded their collegiate fall event series to include new events in Philadelphia, Long Island and Baltimore with the purpose of raising funds to improve quality of life for those affected by cancer.

Embracing the ever shifting dynamics of collegiate fall lacrosse, the organization was inspired to create a more intimate format allowing for a more productive experience for participating teams while allowing for HEADstrong to rejuvenate, collaborate and maximize its reach in the biggest lacrosse markets in the country. With Hofstra University being HEADstrong founder Nicholas Colleluori's alma mater, James M. Shuart Stadium provided a perfect venue and opportunity for the organization to engage a broader audience. Student philanthropy was at the center of this newly created special event with each of the participating teams hosting fundraisers on their respected campuses to assist the goal. Additionally, each player took the field wearing HEADstrong's iconic lime green shoelaces to promote awareness for the cause.

Since the event started in 2007, more than two million dollars has been raised for the Foundation. For more information on Nick Colleluori and the HEADstrong Foundation, please visit www.HEADstrongfoundation.org

Nick Colleluori Tribute

Rather than retire the jersey of Nick Colleluori, the Men's Lacrosse program decided to honor Nick by assigning the number to a deserving senior each year. Hofstra is determined to keep Nick's memory and his mission alive by educating new players on his life and the inspiration he provided to the team.

HEAD COACH

Seth Tierney

Seth Tierney became the fifth head coach in the history of the Hofstra Men's Lacrosse program when he was hired for the position in August 2006. Entering his 12th season in 2018, Tierney has led the Pride to 98 victories, the 2008 Colonial Athletic Association championship, the 2009, 2011 and 2014 CAA regular season titles, and berths in four consecutive NCAA Championships from 2008 through 2011.

Tierney served as an assistant coach at Hofstra from 1995 through 2000 before leaving for a similar position at his alma mater Johns Hopkins University. During his six-year tenure as an assistant, Hofstra recorded six consecutive winning seasons with a combined overall record of 61-28 and a conference mark of 29-2, captured five league titles, received five top 15 final national rankings, and played in four NCAA Championship tournaments.

Tierney also coached seven All-Americans and nearly two-dozen all-conference players during his first tenure at Hofstra. Among them was midfielder Doug Shanahan, who would receive the inaugural Tewaaraton Trophy as College Lacrosse Player of the Year, the Lt. Ray Enners Award as the Division I Player of the Year, and the Lt. Donald McLaughlin Award as the Division I Midfielder of the Year in 2001.

Last season Hofstra opened the season with 10 consecutive victories and rose to number two in the national rankings. The Pride advanced to the CAA Championship semifinals before suffering a one-goal defeat and ended the season at 11-3. In the process, then-senior Josh Byrne earned CAA Player of the Year honors as well as All-CAA first team honors joining four other Pride first team selections. Freshman Ryan Tierney earned CAA Rookie of the Year honors and was one of two all-conference second team picks as well as one of two all-rookie team selections. Goalie Jack Concannon earned USILA All-America second team honors and All-CAA first team accolades.

In 2016 Hofstra recorded a 9-6 record including a big victory over eventual national champions, North Carolina, and returned to the Colonial Athletic Association Championship for the fifth time in his tenure. Finn Sullivan earned CAA Defensive Player of the Year honors and joined a league-high four other Pride players on the All-CAA first team. Two more were named to the All-CAA second team and four seniors were selected for the USILA North-South Senior All-Star Game.

During a difficult season in 2015 that saw the Pride drop seven games by two goals or less, seven Pride players were named to the All-CAA team led by CAA Player of the Year

Sam Llinares and fellow first team selections Ryan Rielly and Kris Clarke. Four seniors were named to the USILA North-South Senior All-Star Game and two seniors earned USILA Scholar-Athlete honors.

In 2014 Hofstra recorded its fourth double-digit victory season during his tenure, posting an 11-5 record and placing 14th in the final coaches poll. The Pride also captured the CAA regular season title with a 4-1 mark and advanced to the conference tournament championship game where they fell to Drexel in triple-overtime, 11-10. Hofstra ranked eighth in the nation in defense, allowing 8.44 goals per outing behind junior goalie Chris Selva, who ranked sixth in the country in goals against average. Eight Hofstra players earned All-CAA honors led by junior Ryan Rielly and sophomores Sam Llinares and Finn Sullivan, who were CAA first team selections. Llinares also earned USILA All-America honorable mention accolades as well. For his hard work, Tierney earned CAA Coach of the Year honors for the second time during his Pride tenure.

In 2013 the Pride possessed one of the top defenses in the country, ranking third in goals against average (7.79) and climbing as high as sixth in the national media rankings and seventh in the coaches rankings. Included were victories at second-ranked Notre Dame and 13th-ranked Fairfield during a 7-7 season. In 2012 Hofstra battled through some key injuries on the offensive side and was involved in eight games decided by two goals or less during a 6-8 season. The Pride enjoyed great success, both on the field and in the classroom. Andrew Gvozden was named a USILA Scholar-All-American and the CAA Men's Lacrosse Scholar-Athlete of the Year and six players were named to the All-CAA Team led by first team selection Adrian Sorichetti.

In 2011 Hofstra recorded a 13-3 record, captured the CAA regular season title and earned its school record-breaking fourth consecutive bid to the NCAA Championship. In addition, the Pride had four players, Jay Card, Mike Skudin, Andrew Gvozden and John Antoniadis, earn USILA All-America honors. Card, Skudin, Antoniadis, Ian Braddish and Adam Mojica were named to the All-CAA first team while Gvozden, Steven DeNapoli and Jamie Lincoln were voted to the second team. The 2008 season saw Hofstra make a return to the NCAA Tournament after a one-year hiatus. The team posted a 10-6 record and won the CAA title in a thrilling overtime win over Drexel. Leading scorer Anthony Muscarella was named an honorable mention All-American, while Kevin Unterstein was the CAA Defensive Player of the Year and Jay Card earned CAA Rookie of the Year accolades. In addition, seven players received All-CAA honors and the Unterstein brothers, Kevin and Michael, were named North-South Game All-Stars and were both selected in the Major League Lacrosse Draft.

In his first year at the helm of the Hofstra program, Tierney took over a team that returned one starter from 2006's NCAA Quarterfinal squad and led them to a 6-8 record that saw seven losses decided by one goal. The team qualified for the CAA Championship, saw one of its star players - Kevin Unterstein - earn honorable mention All-America honors and had seven players named to All-CAA teams, including three all-rookie selections.

Tierney returned to Hofstra after a six-year tenure at John Hopkins, with the final two seasons as associate head coach. As the Blue Jays offensive coordinator, he was the architect of one of the most potent and explosive offenses in the nation. Tierney directed the Blue Jays attack that finished second in the nation in scoring margin, sixth in scoring offense and 16th in man-up offense during Hopkins' NCAA title run in 2005. The Blue Jays led the nation in scoring offense and man-up offense in 2003 and finished fifth in both categories in 2004.

In Tierney's final season at Hopkins the Blue Jays posted a 9-5 record, advanced to the NCAA Championship quarterfinals, and ranked in the top 15 in the country in four statistical categories. A total of 21 Blue Jay midfielders and attackmen earned All-America honors during Tierney's tenure in Homewood. Among them was Kyle Harrison, a two-time first team All-America, who received the Tewaaraton Trophy and the Lt. Enners Award in 2005 and the McLaughlin Award in 2004 and 2005.

Tierney played for the Blue Jays from 1988 through 1991 and served as team captain as a senior. He helped lead Hopkins to the NCAA Tournament in each of his four seasons, including an appearance in the 1989 NCAA title game. He received Hopkins' Turnbull-Reynolds Award as a senior as the player most exemplifying leadership and sportsmanship. Tierney was also selected to play in the North-South game as a senior.

After graduating from Johns Hopkins, Tierney continued his playing career by playing three seasons of indoor lacrosse for the New York Saints before serving as an assistant coach for the Saints for two seasons.

Tierney and his wife, Maureen, have two children - a son, Ryan (19), who is a sophomore on the Hofstra team, and a daughter, Erin (17). The Tierney family resides in Massapequa, New York.

Defensive Player of the Year, also earned USILA Scholar All-American and CAA Men's Lacrosse Scholar-Athlete of the Year honors. To close out the year, Skudin, DeNapoli and Card were named to the North-South Senior All-Star Game with DeNapoli leading all goal scorers in the contest with three.

In 2010 the Pride made its third consecutive trip to the NCAA Championship and finished the year with a 9-5 record. Hofstra had two players named to the USILA All-America team, five named to the All-CAA team and two more named to the CAA All-Rookie Team. In 2009, Tierney directed the Pride to an 11-4 overall, a 6-0 mark during the CAA regular season and his second NCAA Championship bid. Five Hofstra players were named to the All-CAA Teams, including first team selection Jay Card, who was voted the CAA Player of the Year. In addition, four Pride players were named to the USILA All-America team and one was voted to the USILA Scholar-Athlete All-America Team. For his efforts, Tierney was named the CAA co-Coach of the Year.

ASSOCIATE HEAD LACROSSE COACH

Kevin Unterstein

Kevin Unterstein is entering his eighth season on the Hofstra Men's Lacrosse staff and his fifth year as associate head coach in 2018.

During his coaching tenure at Hofstra, he has worked with the defense, the face-off specialists and the man-down unit. Last season the Pride ranked second in the Colonial Athletic Association and 14th in the nation in scoring defense, allowing 8.79 goals per game, and led the CAA and ranked seventh in the country in clearing percentage with an .899 percentage.

In 2016 Hofstra led the conference and ranked 21st nationally in face-off winning percentage with a .541 mark while the defense was second in the conference and 13th in the nation allowing 8.53 goals per game.

In 2015 Hofstra led the CAA and was eighth in the nation in scoring defense (8.44) and was second in the conference and sixth in the country in turnovers per contest (12.1). In 2013, the Pride ranked first in turnovers per game (11.36), third in scoring defense (7.79 gpga) and 28th in man-down defense (.667). In 2011, the Pride led the nation in scoring defense (6.56 gpga) and ranked sixth in face-off winning percentage (.622) and turnover average (13.69). Hofstra was also sixth in man-down percentage (.760) in 2012.

A 2008 graduate of Hofstra with a degree in sociology, Unterstein enjoyed a stellar playing career as a short-stick defensive midfielder from 2005 through 2008. As a senior he recorded a team-leading 70 ground balls while helping to guide the Pride to the Colonial Athletic Association title and the NCAA Tournament. For his efforts, he was an All-CAA first team selection, and was named the CAA Defensive Player of the Year, and the CAA Championship Tournament Most Valuable Player.

As a junior in 2007 Unterstein earned USILA All-American honorable mention honors, and was named to the All-CAA second team as well as the All-CAA Tournament team. In 2006, Kevin, his twin brother, Mike, and their older brother, Chris, combined to help lead Hofstra to a 17-2 record, a No. 2 national ranking and a No. 3 seed in the NCAA tournament. He was also named to the All-CAA Rookie Team as a freshman.

Following graduation in 2008, he became an assistant under Bill Tierney at Princeton in 2009, working with the defense and face-off specialists. He would follow Tierney to Denver in 2010 to help coordinate the Pioneers' man-down unit and work specifically with the defensive midfielders and work with assistant coach Trevor Tierney with the defense and the overall face-off game.

Unterstein has also played professionally in Major League Lacrosse, playing for the Long Island/New York Lizards in 2009, and 2012 through the present, and the Denver Outlaws in 2010 and 2011.

In January 2018 Unterstein was named to the United States Lacrosse National Team for the 2018 FIL World Championships in Israel in July. He has participated, as a player, in numerous U.S. Lacrosse events since 2013. In September 2016, he participated in the U.S. Lacrosse Headquarters Grand Opening celebration weekend as a member of the U.S. Lacrosse team's intra-squad exhibition roster. In January

2017, Unterstein was named to the Team USA roster for their Spring Preview exhibition against Notre Dame. Last July, he was named to the U.S. National Training Team and he added the Team USA Fall Classic to his resume in October of 2017

A native of Shoreham, New York, he was a high school All-

American at Shoreham-Wading River High, where he was part of four Suffolk County championships and one state championship.

Unterstein and his wife, Melissa, are the proud parents of a daughter, Noa, who was born in October 2017. The Unterstein family resides in Massapequa Park, New York.

ASSISTANT LACROSSE COACH

J.P. Brazel

Hofstra alumnus J.P. Brazel is in his seventh season on the Pride Men's Lacrosse staff in 2018. He is entering his sixth season as offensive coordinator, and seventh season as goalies coach and recruiting coordinator.

During his tenure at Hofstra he has directed goalies Andrew Gvozden, Chris Selva and All-American Jack Concannon, who have ranked in the Top 12 in the nation while the team defense has been among the top 15.

Last season he directed Concannon to USILA All-America second team honors as well as All-Colonial Athletic Association first team accolades.

Concannon led the CAA in goals against average and save percentage and ranked fifth nationally in save percentage and 14th in goals against average. In 2016 he coached Concannon to All-CAA first team honors after the netminder placed second in the conference and 14th in the nation in goals against average, and second in the CAA and 10th in Division I in save percentage.

A former goalie at Hofstra during the 2001 and 2002 seasons, Brazel returned to Hofstra in 2011 after serving as an assistant coach under head coach Bob Shillinglaw at CAA-foe Delaware during the 2010-11 academic year. While with the Blue Hens, he served as an offensive assistant coach and coached the Delaware goalies as well as the team's attack unit. He coached four All-CAA players and one USILA All-America selection as the Blue Hens won the CAA Championship and advanced to the NCAA Championship Tournament.

Prior to coaching at Delaware, Brazel spent three seasons (2007-10) at Sacred Heart University in Fairfield, Connecticut. While at Sacred Heart, Brazel's duties included coaching goaltenders, coordinating the team's defense and man-down unit, recruiting, monitoring academic progress and assisting head coach Tom Mariano with all other day-to-day lacrosse operations. During his tenure at Sacred Heart, Brazel coached three All-CAA defenders in addition to coaching the programs goaltenders to top 15 national rankings in save percentage and top two national rankings in saves per game in 2009 and 2010.

Brazel began his Division I coaching career during the 2006-07 year at Manhattan College in Riverdale, New York. He served as offensive coordinator and goalie coach at Manhattan under Head Lacrosse Coach Tim McIntee. Under his assistance, the Jaspers made a jump of more than three goals per game during the 2007 season.

Brazel began his college coaching career as an assistant coach under Rich Speckmann from 2003 to 2006 at Nassau Community College. While at Nassau, Brazel guided the development of the team's goaltenders and defensive units as well as working with the team's face-off specialists. He helped lead the school to the NJCAA semifinals and regional championship in both 2003 and 2004. During his tenure at Nassau, Brazel coached seven NJCAA All-American defenders as well as a two-time All-American goalie.

Nassau was also the start of Brazel's college academic and athletic career. In 1999, Brazel earned National Junior College Athletic Association All-American and NJCAA Goalie of the Year while helping the Lions to NJCAA national title. As a freshman in 1998, he was a member of Nassau's NJCAA semifinal team.

Brazel then moved on to Hofstra and was part of the Pride's NCAA Tournament appearances in 2001 and 2002. He was also a member of the second highest ranked team in Hofstra history in 2002.

Brazel holds a degree in psychology from Hofstra University and has presented at the U.S. Intercollegiate Men's Lacrosse Coaches Association and the Connecticut High School Coaches conventions in recent years as well as the Nexstar Showcase and Camp.

Brazel and his wife, Jenna, are the proud parents of two sons, Eamon (4) and Finnegan, who was born in November 2017. The Brazel family resides in Massapequa, New York.

ASSISTANT LACROSSE COACHBrandon Mangan

Brandon Mangan, former Yale standout and a member of the 2016 Major League Lacrosse finalist Ohio Machine, is in his second year as the Pride's volunteer assistant coach in 2018.

A native of Wantagh, New York, Mangan played four seasons in the MLL, playing with the New York/Long Island Lizards in 2014, the Florida Launch in 2015, the Ohio Machine in 2016 and the Machine and the Florida Launch in 2017. He played in 12 games in 2016, including the MLL Championship Game, for the Machine and recorded eight goals and two assists on the season. He tallied 12 goals and four assists in 18 career games.

The Yale University graduate (2014) was a USILA All-American honorable mention as a junior, a two-time All-New England first team selection and an All-Ivy League second team pick during his four stellar years as a Bulldog. He made his collegiate debut in 2011 and led Yale newcomers with 11 goals and six assists in 12 games. His sophomore season saw Mangan start all 16 games and finish third on the team with 26 goals and 11 assists.

He posted his best numbers at Yale as a junior, leading the team with 39 goals and 64 points—both Bulldog junior records—and earning All-America, All-Ivy and All-New England honors as well as being a Tewaaraton Trophy candidate. Mangan tallied 23 goals and 22 assists as a senior earning All-New England accolades and All-Ivy honorable mention as well as an invitation to the USILA North-South Senior All-Star Game. He finished his Bulldog career with 99 career goals, which ranked him fourth at Yale, and 163 points, which ranks sixth.

Before coming to Hofstra Mangan served as the assistant lacrosse coach at Farmingdale (NY) High School in 2015 and 2016, working as an offensive assistant for the Dalers. He has also served as a coach since September 2014 and event sales director from 2015 until July 2016 for the For Love of the Game Lacrosse program in Massapequa, New York.

Mangan was a U.S. Lacrosse All-American first team selection and Nassau County Player of the Year at Wantagh High School. He recorded 195 goals and 138 assists during his four-year scholastic career.

Mangan, who has a bachelor of political science degree in international relations from Yale, resides in Wantagh, New York.

ASSOCIATE HEAD STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING COACH

Jimmy Prendergast

James Prendergast is in his ninth year on the strength and conditioning staff and his first as head strength and conditioning coach at Hofstra University in 2017-18. He previously served as associate head strength and conditioning coach at Hofstra from 2014-17.

Prendergast has worked with the men's lacrosse, women's lacrosse, baseball, volleyball and wrestling teams during his tenure at Hofstra. He currently works with the Pride men's lacrosse, men's basketball, volleyball and wrestling teams.

In his day-to-day work with the Pride teams, Prendergast administers drills for speed, agility and flexibility in addition to instructing the student-athletes on proper technique and form during weight training.

A NSCA Registered Strength and Conditioning Coach as well as a NSCA Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist, Prendergast is also certified by USA Weightlifting and is a member of the National Strength and Conditioning and Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Associations. He also holds American Red Cross CPR and AED certification.

A 2009 graduate of Hofstra, Prendergast was an exercise specialist major and minored in community health and psychology. He also holds a master's degree with distinction in sports science from Hofstra in 2015. Prendergast and his wife, Christina reside in Northport, New York with their daughter, Zoey (1).

SENIOR ASSOCIATE ATHLETIC TRAINER

Robert Sullivan

Robert Sullivan came to Hofstra University as assistant athletic trainer in September 2004 and was promoted to senior associate athletic trainer in 2016. He oversees the Margiotta Hall Athletic Training Room and the athletic training needs for the Pride Men's Lacrosse and Golf teams.

Sullivan attended Frostburg State University from 1988 through 1992 and earned a degree in health and physical education with a concentration in athletic training. From 1991 through 1994, he served as a seasonal assistant athletic trainer for the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

Sullivan served as head athletic trainer at the Spagnoli Physical Therapy Clinic in Centereach, New York, from April 1995 through August 1999. He then went on to serve as head athletic trainer at Kings Park (NY) Physical Therapy from September 1999 through February 2004, including a two-year stint (1999-2001) as head athletic trainer at Northport (NY) High School. During that time Sullivan also completed an advanced master's degree in athletic training at Long Island University-Brooklyn in 2003.

In February 2004 Sullivan accepted a position as assistant athletic trainer for the Berlin Thunder of the NFL-Europe League. The Thunder captured the NFL-E World Bowl Championship that season.

Sullivan, a native of Port Jefferson Station, New York, currently resides in Roslyn, New York.

ASSOCIATE DEAN OF

UNIVERSITY ADVISEMENT

Rachel Peel-Macandrew

Rachel Peel-Macandrew is an associate dean for the Center for University Advising. She has worked at Hofstra since 2003, first serving as an assistant dean before being promoted to an associate dean in 2007.

Peel-Macandrew supervises and directs the student-athlete advisement program, helping to develop a comprehensive advisement center for all student-athletes while ensuring compliance with the NCAA. She also coordinates registration efforts and develops graduation plans.

She serves as a liaison to the Office of the Provost to resolve academic questions and monitors the academic progress of student-athletes while paying special attention to at-risk students. In her role, she submits NCAA academic performance data, including APR and graduation success rates, to the compliance office.

In October 2016 Peel-Macandrew was appointed to the NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship Region 1 Selection Committee. In her role on the five-member committee, Peel-MacAndrew will take part in selecting regional finalists and forwarding their applications to the NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship Committee for its review.

Before coming to Hofstra, Peel-Macandrew was an associate vice president for Credit Suisse First Boston Corp from 1999 to 2003. In that role, which featured time in New York City and Melbourne, Australia, she managed a team that was responsible for all equity and debt. Her staff traded and stabilized companies listed on the New York Stock Exchange and NASDAQ.

Peel-Macandrew started her full-time financial career as an analyst for Salomon Smith Barney in London, working in equity capital markets from 1995 to 1999. She coordinated internal and external agency systems and worked on multi-departmental initiatives that encompassed the operations, financial and technology departments.

Peel-Macandrew earned her undergraduate degree in social policy and economics from Leeds University in Yorkshire, England, graduating with honors in 1993. She also holds two master's degrees from Hofstra, earning one in physical education in 2005 and another in educational leadership and policy studies in 2012. On the five-member committee, Peel-MacAndrew will take part in selecting regional finalists and forwarding their applications to the NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship Committee for its review.

2018 Preview

Coming off an 11-3 season, including 10 consecutive victories to open the season, and an appearance in the Colonial Athletic Association Championship semifinals, Hofstra Head Men's Lacrosse Coach Seth Tierney heads into his 12th season with the Pride looking to finish the job that was left incomplete last season.

The Pride, who started off the year so well with those 10 straight wins to climb as high as number two in the country in both the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association Coaches Poll and the Inside Lacrosse-Maverik Media Poll, fell short of their CAA Championship goal on an unfortunate, fluke goal in the conference semifinals. That sudden ending has left a bad taste in the mouths of Hofstra returnees since last May.

Armed with 31 lettermen and eight starters, Hofstra will be looking to dethrone three-time champion Towson and return to the top of the CAA and into the NCAA Division I Championships in 2018. While the Pride return 10 of their top 11 scorers from last season, that one player lost to graduation-Josh Byrne-is a whopper to replace. Byrne led the Pride and the CAA in scoring with 41 goals and 25 assists and was named to the USILA All-America third team in addition to winning the CAA Player of the Year Award and all-conference first team accolades.

Despite the loss of Byrne, Hofstra returns a tremendous and experienced line-up that includes 17 seniors and talent all over the field. Pride senior tri-captains goalie Jack Concannon, defender Brett Osman and midfielder Dylan

Jack
Concannon

Alderman provide leadership and experience up and down the field.

GOALIE

Defensively, the Hofstra talk begins with 2017 USILA All-American second team selection, senior Jack Concannon. The two-time All-CAA first team selection played all but 15 minutes last season and recorded an 11-3 record with an 8.80 goals against average, 161 saves and a .571 save percentage. Concannon, who was named to the 2018 Inside Lacrosse Preseason Media All-America first team, recorded double-digit saves nine times last season including a career-high 19 stops in a win over Providence.

Sophomore Robert Casey, who was the only other goalie to see time for the Pride last season and that was all of 15 minutes in a lopsided victory over NJIT, and freshman Jacob Coleman, a two-time all-division and All-Suffolk County selection from Riverhead High School, will be backing up Concannon.

DEFENSE

The Pride defense lost an underrated starter Michael Diener, who was second on the team with 41 ground balls while forcing nine turnovers and scoring twice, to graduation but returns the other two starters who both received all-conference honors. Senior preseason All-American Brett Osman, who earned CAA first team honors after forcing 10 caused turnovers and picking up 25 ground balls in 2017, was named Hofstra's 2018 Nicholas Colleluori Tribute Award recipient for his determination and leadership. Classmate Tanner Griffin, who could also see action at the long-stick midfielder position, had 28 ground balls and 11 caused turnovers to earn CAA second team honors in 2017.

The final starting spot should provide a good battle between a couple of returnees bouncing back from injuries and several newcomers. Red-shirt junior Liam Blohm saw action in just five games last year while red-shirt sophomore Jonathan Warg is coming off two leg injuries. Junior Brian Philbin, a transfer from Mount St. Mary's College who started all 14 games for the Mountaineers, and freshmen Keegan Santos, a two-time All-North Carolina selection from New Hanover High School in Wilmington, North Carolina, and Long Islander Michael Peco, an All-Nassau County selection from powerhouse Massapequa High School, should give the Pride some depth on the back line.

MIDFIELD

The two Hofstra midfielders return intact from last year's squad although there could be some shuffling around. Two All-CAA first team midfield selections, Dylan Alderman, who tallied 18 goals and 18 assists, and Brendan Kavanagh, who posted 23 goals and six assists, also return for their senior seasons after starting all 14 games in 2017. Alderman was selected as one of the 2018 Pride tri-captains while Kavanagh was the Nicholas Colleluori Tribute Award recipient last year. Senior Alex Moeser, who added career-highs of 16 goals and eight assists while starting all 14 games in 2017, also returns for the Pride.

Dylan

The second midfield will present another battle between veterans and key newcomers. Senior Dale Stasco played in 14 games and tallied two goals and two assists at midfield last season. Junior James Kitchen and sophomore Ryan Kinnard, who have both seen limited action, will be looking for more playing time in 2018. Freshman Dominic Pryor, an All-American and an All-Long Island selection at New York State champion, Ward Melville High School in 2017, was a three-sport athlete in high school and has impressed the coaching staff. Classmate Bryce Tolmie, a big Canadian from Whitby, Ontario, was an All-Prep and All-Area selection at The Hun School in New Jersey.

On face-offs last season, the Pride plans were thrown into chaos during the preseason when three-year starter and senior Kris Clarke suffered a preseason injury that pushed freshman Kyle Gallagher into the spot. Gallagher's story was unique in itself as he suffered a serious injury just before the start of the school year and wasn't expected to play in 2017. While Clarke returned for the sixth game of the year, he wasn't close to 100 percent and only took 78 face-offs. Gallagher took 220 face-offs and won 105 and added two goals and two assists with 64 ground balls.

While Gallagher is the front-runner for the face-off job in 2018 he will be challenged by two newcomer transfers in sophomore Brendon Luu, a transfer from Colgate who was an Under Armour Underclassman All-American at Chaminade High School on Long Island, and freshman Brian Herber, who joins the Pride after one semester at Penn State following a four-year career at Smithtown East High School.

The short-stick defensive middle position has plenty of depth with the return of seniors Luke Gomez, who played in all 14 games last year and tallied two goals and two assists while forcing four turnovers and picking up 12 ground balls, and Brenden Lynch, who also played in 14 games and tallied three assists, five caused turnovers and picking up 29 ground balls. Junior Griffin Barnathan, also played in all 14 games in 2017 and picked up 16 ground balls. Senior Mitch Kingsley, who has been plagued by injuries over his career, will be looking for more playing time after moving from attack for 2018. Graduate-student Mark Ellis, who comes to Hofstra after graduating from Stony Brook, is athletic and gives the Pride more depth. Freshman Corey Kale is another three-sport athlete who was an All-American and All-New Jersey selection at Robbinsville, New Jersey.

The pole spots also have experience and depth led by red-shirt junior Liam Blohm, who played in just five games last season due to injury after playing in all 15 in 2016. Sophomore Michael Altmann played in 12 games last year as a true freshman. They will be joined by red-shirt seniors John Puckhaber, who played in 13 games last season, and Cole Considine and sophomore Eric Wenz, who also played in 13 games. Junior Joe Cuccias, who did not see any game action after transferring from Washington College last year, give the Pride more depth at the pole after switching from the short stick.

ATTACK

While Hofstra lost its top scorer in 2017 Colonial Athletic Association Player of the Year Josh Byrne, who went on to earn Major League Lacrosse Rookie of the Year honors as well as being the number one pick in the National Lacrosse League Draft, the Pride lost just three more goals to graduation last May.

Ryan Tierney

While Byrne has graduated, two starters do return on attack for the Pride in 2018. 2017 CAA Rookie of the Year, sophomore Ryan Tierney, and junior Jimmy Yanes return after combining for 51 goals and 21 assists. Ryan Tierney, who was also named to the All-CAA second team, recorded one of the best freshman seasons in school history, posting 31 goals and 16 assists while starting all 14 games. Yanes was fourth on the team in goals and fifth in points with 20 goals and 25 points.

The third starting spot on attack, as well as back-ups, will also provide a good battle for both returnees and newcomers. Freshman Dylan McIntosh, a big newcomer from British Columbia, showed great potential during the fall season. Senior Matt Perettine will be looking to challenge for the starting role in his final year. Fifth-year senior Trevor Kupecky, who missed all of last season with an injury, will be looking to return to his 2016 form when he tallied nine goals and seven assists in 14 games. Senior midfielder Christian Durkota, who also missed last season with an injury, is being looked at on the attack line in 2018. In another move, graduate-student Tyler Fleury, whose career has been plagued by injuries, is being moved from defense to attack.

HOFSTRA'S TOURNAMENT SEEDING

The Pride achieved their best NCAA Championship seeding with a number three placement in 1973 and 2006. In 2006, Hofstra defeated Providence at Stuart Stadium, 14-8, in the first round before losing a heart-breaking 11-10 overtime decision to Massachusetts in the quarterfinal at Stony Brook. In 1973, the Flying Dutchmen were ranked third in the eight-team tournament field and lost to Virginia, 12-5 in the first round.

In 1971 Hofstra was seeded fifth and lost to Army, 19-3, in the first round.

In 1975, 1993 and 1996, Hofstra was seeded sixth. In 1975 Hofstra lost to Maryland, 19-

7. In 1993 Hofstra dumped Massachusetts, 9-8, in the first round of the field of 12 before losing to eventual national champion Syracuse, 20-8, in the quarterfinals. In 1996 Hofstra dropped a 15-12 decision to Harvard.

In both 1974, 1978 and 1999, Hofstra was placed seventh in the Championship. In 1974, Hofstra dropped an 18-10 decision to Johns Hopkins and in 1978 the Blue Jays eliminated Hofstra, 20-8 both in the first round. In 1999 Hofstra earned the seventh seed and defeated Navy, 15-7, in the opening round before falling to Johns Hopkins in the quarterfinals, 11-7.

Hofstra was not seeded in 1997, 2000, 2001, 2003, 2008, 2009, 2010 or 2011.

NCAA DIVISION I LACROSSE QUARTERFINALS AT HOFSTRA

For the tenth time since 1997, Hofstra University will serve as the proud hosts of one of the 2018 NCAA Division I Men's Lacrosse Championship Quarterfinal doubleheaders at James M. Shuart Stadium on May 19, 2018.

Shuart Stadium has been an important venue in NCAA Lacrosse history as it served as the site of the first-ever NCAA Lacrosse Championship game in 1971, which saw Cornell post a 12-6 victory over Maryland. Since then the stadium has hosted first round NCAA Tournament games in 1973, 1993 and 2006, and NCAA Quarterfinals in 1997, 1998, 1999, 2001, 2002, 2009, 2011, 2014 and 2017.

Hofstra last hosted one of the two NCAA Division I Men's Lacrosse Championship Quarterfinal doubleheaders at James M. Shuart Stadium on Saturday, May 20, 2017 as Ohio State and Denver advanced to the national semifinals. In 2014, a standing room only-Shuart Stadium record crowd of 13,519 watched the doubleheader that saw Notre Dame and Maryland advance to the semifinals.

The four largest crowds in Shuart Stadium history occurred during the hosting of the NCAA Lacrosse Quarterfinals. In addition to the record Shuart Stadium record crowd, the largest-ever lacrosse crowd on Long Island, the 2014 NCAA Quarterfinal crowd in 2014 is the third largest attendance in NCAA Division I history. In 2011, 13,447 watched the NCAA Quarterfinals at Hofstra. In that doubleheader, Virginia, on their way to their third national title in the nine years, defeated Cornell, and Denver downed Johns Hopkins. In 1999, a then-NCAA Men's Lacrosse Championship Quarterfinal record of 12,292 witnessed Johns Hopkins defeat the Pride and Georgetown upend Duke. Two years later, 10,510 fans attended the 2001 quarterfinals to see Princeton, on the road to a national title, edge Loyola and Syracuse down Hofstra.

James M. Shuart Stadium is the largest outdoor sports complex on Long Island. Opened in 1963, Shuart Stadium has served as the site for NCAA Championships, New York State High School Championships, world championships, and professional contests.

The eventual national champion has come through the NCAA Quarterfinal at Hofstra in six of the nine quarterfinals at Shuart Stadium.

VICE PRESIDENT AND DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS Jeffrey A. Hathaway

Jeffrey A. Hathaway is in his sixth year as Vice President and Director of Athletics at Hofstra University in 2017-18. Hofstra President Stuart Rabinowitz introduced the former director of athletics at the University of Connecticut and chairman of the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee on May 15, 2012.

The ninth Director of Athletics at Hofstra, Hathaway also serves on the NCAA Council as the Colonial Athletic Association representative and is chair of the NCAA Men's Basketball Oversight Committee. This past September he was named to the newly-formed NCAA Commission on College Basketball. Hathaway is a three-time Under Armour Athletic Director of the Year Award recipient, earning the honor in 2006-07, 2009-10 and 2014-15.

In his first year at Hofstra, Hathaway oversaw a department that produced four Colonial Athletic Association championship and NCAA Tournament teams, as well as two other teams that reached the conference championship game. In addition, Hofstra Athletics saw three student-athletes earn Academic All-America accolades and five garner CAA Scholar-Athlete of the Year (the CAA's highest academic recognition) honors. One of those Academic All-Americans, Joe Burg, also was a finalist for a Rhodes Scholarship in 2012, becoming just the second Hofstra student to ever earn the distinction. In 2013-14 Hofstra had two NCAA Tournament appearances (wrestling and softball), a regular season men's lacrosse championship, two Academic All-District selections, two CAA Players of the Year and two CAA Defensive Players of the Year. The 2014-15 year saw the volleyball, wrestling and softball programs make appearances in the NCAA Tournament, with both volleyball and softball capturing CAA titles. In addition, men's soccer and women's lacrosse were both regular season CAA champions. Five Hofstra student-athletes earned CAA Player of the Year honors and three were named CAA Scholar-Athletes in their respective sports. Hofstra once again achieved athletic and academic success in 2015-16 with four CAA regular season championships and postseason appearances from both soccer programs (NCAA Second Round), both basketball programs (NIT/WNIT) and the wrestling program (NCAA). Four student-athletes earned All-America honors, while five were named CAA Scholar-Athletes of the Year in their respective sports including Stella Schoen of the field hockey program who earned Academic All-America accolades as well. The men's soccer team won the CAA regular season championship, while the men's lacrosse team was ranked as high as second in the nation during the 2016-17 academic year. In addition, Hannah Klemm and Stella Schoen garnered Academic All-America honors.

In Hathaway's five years as vice president and director of athletics, there have been 12 teams that qualified for the NCAA Tournament, seven CAA titles, nine regular season CAA titles and four other postseason appearances (College Basketball Invitational, National Invitation Tournament and Women's National Invitation Tournament). Nine new head coaches have joined the Pride staff during Hathaway's tenure including Head Men's Basketball Coach Joe Mihalich who took a team that finished in last place four years ago to the CAA regular season title, the CAA title game and an NIT appearance in 2015-16.

During Hathaway's tenure more than 1100 student-athletes have earned 3.0 grade point averages or better and more than 90 have posted a perfect 4.0 GPA. Hofstra has also had a tremendous amount of success in the NCAA Division I Academic Performance Program as 10 Hofstra teams had perfect 1,000 single year scores (out of the 17 teams that the University sponsors) in the latest NCAA Academic Progress Rates (APR). That marked the third consecutive year that Hofstra has had 10 or more teams with perfect scores. In the multi-year APR, which covers the 2012-13 through 2015-16 academic years, Hofstra had three programs achieve perfect 1,000 scores.

The Hofstra Athletics Pride Club has increased fundraising during each year of his tenure. Hathaway has also overseen areas of capital improvement with the completion of the Hofstra Basketball Practice Facility in July 2014 as well as the replacement of artificial turf surfaces at James M. Shuart Stadium, the Hofstra Soccer Stadium, the Indoor Practice Facility and University Field (baseball). Hofstra student-athletes have increased their community service efforts during Hathaway's tenure, earning a pair of awards from Hofstra's Office of Student Leadership and Activities in 2013-14 and another in 2015-16. In 2014 the athletic department unveiled an updated GoHofstra.com. In addition, Hofstra introduced a brand-new online ticketing system (HofstraTickets.com), along with an on-line donor management system to better manage donor accounts.

Hathaway was named to the NCAA Division I Leadership Council, continuing his tradition of service on the national level. He had served a five-year term as a member of the prestigious NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee, representing the Big East Conference, and was chair of the committee in 2011-12.

Hathaway also served on NACDA's Executive Committee, was a board member of the Division I-A Athletic Directors Association and a member of the NCAA Division I Championships/Competition Cabinet. He served the Big East Conference in a wide range of leadership roles including as chair of the athletic directors.

Hathaway guided the Connecticut Division of Athletics through an unprecedented period of academic and athletic achievement during his eight years as director of athletics from 2003 to 2011 and as the executive associate director of athletics from 1990 to 2001. At the same time, he became an influential leader for college athletics on both the national and conference level. The Huskies would capture nine national titles during his tenures. He played a key role in the transition of the football program from Division I-AA to FBS status. Highlights of this transition included membership in The Big East Football Conference, twice winning the conference championship, the construction of a new off-campus football stadium and on-campus football complex/indoor practice facility and participation in five bowl games, including the 2011 Fiesta Bowl.

During Hathaway's career, he has always made the academic success of student-athletes a top priority. Connecticut consistently maintained a 99 percent academic retention rate among its student-athletes. The National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS) saluted Connecticut three times under Hathaway's watch for its community service efforts. UConn was also honored by the NCAS in 2006 and 2007 for its efforts to assist former student-athletes in earning their college degree. At the time Hathaway left Connecticut, the athletic department had raised over $71 million towards the University's capital campaign – more than any other single unit at the University.

Hathaway was also responsible for negotiating several key revenue and partnership agreements with IMG (over $80 million) and NIKE (over $46 million) while also securing major fundraising gifts.

During Hathaway's tenure at Colorado State (2001-03) he was an extremely successful fundraiser. The school drew national attention for a $15.2 million gift for football stadium renovations and expansion. The football team won the Mountain West championship and advanced to two bowl games, while men's basketball won the conference tournament going to the NCAA Tournament for the first time in 13 years, along with championships and NCAA Tournament appearances in other sports. Hathaway worked in the University of Maryland athletic department between 1982 and 1990 in a variety of administrative roles.

Hathaway earned his degree in athletic administration from Maryland in 1981. He later received a master's degree in general administration from Maryland and has completed additional graduate school courses in Connecticut's Department of Educational Leadership. He has completed executive education programs at Harvard University's Management Development Program in the Graduate School of Education and The Sports Management Institute, which is a consortium of Notre Dame, Southern California and UNC.

A graduate of DeMatha Catholic High School in Hyattsville, Maryland, Hathaway was recognized in October 2015 with the school's Distinguished Alumnus Award as well as an induction into the DeMatha Catholic Hall of Fame.

Hathaway and his wife, Paula, have two adult children – Meghan and Michael.

JOSEPH M. MARGIOTTA HALL

Opened in 1992, Joseph M. Margiotta Hall, a magnificent three-story, 22,500-square-foot building, is a centerpiece of the Hofstra University Athletics program. The state-of-the-art field house, combined with Hofstra's 13,000-seat stadium, has created one of the finest facilities in the nation. The facility was named after Joseph M. Margiotta '50, a former Pride student-athlete and long-time supporter. Margiotta, who founded and served as President of the Hofstra Pride Club for more than 20 years, passed away in November 2008.

Margiotta Hall features a 3,500-square-foot weight room on the first floor. The building also contains locker rooms for men's lacrosse and women's lacrosse, all of which have undergone major renovations, a 178-seat theater and additional meeting rooms.

The state-of-the-art athletic training room, also located on the first floor, has hydrotherapy and electrotherapy areas, cardiovascular and isokinetic equipment, as well as taping areas, a rehabilitation area, an aerobics room, and athletic trainer and physician offices.

On the second floor, an attractive multi-purpose room, enclosed by a glass wall, provides a panoramic view of James M. Shuart Stadium. Meetings and receptions for alumni, parents and friends of the Hofstra Athletic program are held in this area. Located on this level are the offices for the men and women's lacrosse coaching staffs.

MEN'S LACROSSE

The lacrosse office was the benefit of a major renovation project in 2008. The offices are equipped with video equipment, a 12-seat theater with stadium seating for group film and meeting sessions, as well as a viewing room with hardwood flooring and a 50-inch flat screen television that overlooks the field.

In 2010 Margiotta Hall was the recipient of a "Traditions Project" that provides a sense of history of the lacrosse programs. The walls of the second floor of Margiotta Hall contain pictures and brief text descriptions of the key moments and people in Hofstra Lacrosse history. The project was made possible through the generosity of former lacrosse All-American James C. Metzger '83.

JAMES M. SHUART Stadium

Originally opened in 1963 as Hofstra Stadium and renamed James M. Shuart Stadium in August 2002, the facility serves as the home to Hofstra's lacrosse teams.

Named after the former Hofstra President, who played lacrosse and football during his undergraduate days at Hofstra, James M. Shuart Stadium has served as the host for the NCAA Division I Men's Lacrosse Championship Quarterfinals and first round games in the NCAA Men's and Women's Lacrosse Championships, numerous conference championship contests, the Long Island All-Star Football Game, the Fun City Bowl featuring the New York City Police and Fire Department teams, the Empire Challenge Football Game between Long Island and New York City, and various Long Island high school and New York state championship games. The stadium also served as a home for the Long Island Rough Riders of professional soccer's A-League and the New York Cosmos of the North American Soccer League.

In addition to Hofstra, the Long Island Lizards of Major League Lacrosse call James M. Shuart Stadium home.

In 1968 the stadium became the third college facility in the nation to install an artificial playing surface. James M. Shuart Stadium underwent a major renovation and expansion that was completed in the fall of 1996, making the facility into one of the premier complexes in the Northeast.

The project included the expansion of the seating capacity from 7,000 to 13,000; the creation of the Howdy Myers Pavilion in the southeast corner of the stadium; and the installation of scoreboards in both end zones. The renovation transformed James M. Shuart Stadium into the largest outdoor sports and entertainment complex on Long Island. In 2007 the artificial turf at James M. Shuart Stadium was replaced with FieldTurf, then in 2009 new scoreboards were installed in the north and south end zones. In 2012 and 2018, the existing FieldTurf was replaced by the new FieldTurf Revolution playing surface.

The largest crowds in James M. Shuart Stadium history occurred during the hosting of the NCAA Lacrosse Quarterfinals. A stadium record of 13,519 people, the largest-ever lacrosse crowd on Long Island, were in attendance for the 2014 NCAA Quarterfinals. A crowd of 13,447 people witnessed the 2011 NCAA Quarterfinals, while 12,292 fans witnessed the 1999 NCAA Quarterfinals featuring Hofstra versus Johns Hopkins. In 2009 11,292 fans were present and 10,510 fans attended the 2001 quarterfinals that featured Hofstra against Syracuse.

HOFSTRA LACROSSE VICTORY WALK

In 2004 Hofstra Athletics and the Pride Men's Lacrosse program created a Victory Walk to commemorate the more than 500 victories achieved since the programs' inception in 1949. The Victory Walk, spearheaded by then-Hofstra Head Lacrosse Coach John Danowski, is located at the field entrance to James M. Shuart Stadium and the Pride players walk on it as they enter the field from the locker room. The walkway consists of individual bricks showcasing all the victories of the Hofstra Men's Lacrosse program. Each brick is inscribed with the year, the opponent and the score of the contest. Included in the project are several memorial gardens and benches. The project generated more than $70,000 in donations and had more than 220 contributors, of which more than half were former players.

HOFSTRA INDOOR PRACTICE FACILITY

The Pride has use of the Hofstra Indoor Practice Facility that formerly was the property of the New York Jets of the National Football League. The 50-yard turf field gives Hofstra a unique environment that many teams in the Northeast do not have. The practice bubble is located on the North Campus, behind the David S. Mack Sports and Exhibition Complex.

HOWDY MYERS Pavilion

In October 1998 then-Hofstra University President Emeritus Dr. James M. Shuart presided over the dedication ceremony for the Howdy Myers Pavilion in the south end zone of Shuart Stadium. Howdy Myers served as Hofstra University's director of athletics, head men's lacrosse coach and head football coach for a quarter of a century. His extraordinary coaching talents in both lacrosse and football from 1950 to 1975 made Howdy Myers a legend in both sports.

Myers was personally credited with the tremendous growth of lacrosse on Long Island, through the creation of scholastic clinics and demonstrations in the 1950s, and leading the Hofstra Lacrosse program to national prominence. He was years ahead of the intercollegiate athletic world with his use of many coaching innovations in both lacrosse and football.

As Hofstra lacrosse coach, Howdy Myers coached 26 seasons (1950-75) and recorded a 216-138-4 record. He coached Flying Dutchmen teams that captured eight divisional championships and made four NCAA Division I Championship Tournament appearances. In 1970 he received the F. Morris Touchstone Award as the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association (USILA) Division I Coach of the Year. In 1971 Howdy Myers received the Governor's Trophy for providing continuous and meaningful contributions to lacrosse. That same year he received lacrosse's highest honor when he was inducted into the United States Lacrosse Hall of Fame.

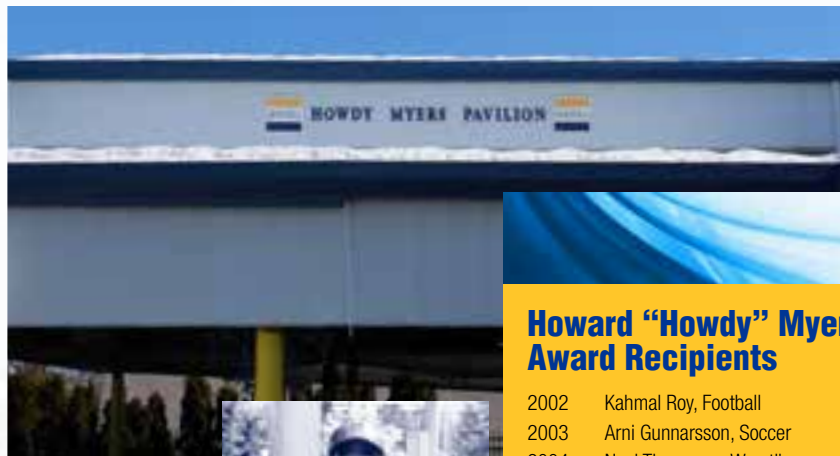

As Hofstra's football coach for 25 years (1950-74), Coach Myers recorded 15 winning seasons and a 141-98-4 record. In 1959 he led the Flying Dutchmen to the first undefeated (9-0-0) season in Hofstra Football history.

Dr. Shuart, who served as a team captain under Coach Myers in both football and lacrosse in the early 1950s, praised the coaching legend. "Howdy Myers had a huge impact on intercollegiate and scholastic sports," Shuart said. "Renowned for his coaching abilities throughout collegiate sports, Coach Myers will always be a Hofstra legend."

Howard "Howdy" Myers passed away in 1980. In 2006 he was among the inaugural class inducted into the Hofstra University Athletics Hall of Fame. Hofstra's connection to the Myers family includes his son, Howard Myers III, his daughter, Dorsey Donnelly, and his son-in-law, William Donnelly, who are all Hofstra alumni.

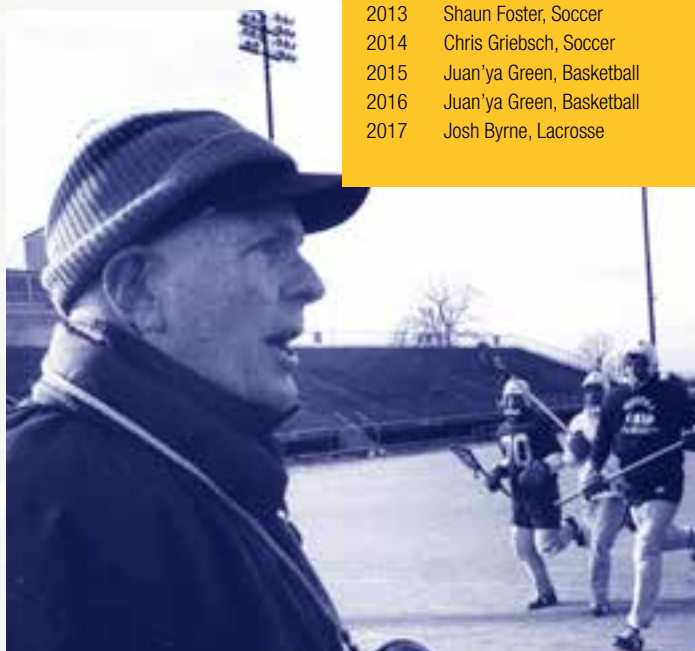

A portrait sculpture of Howdy Myers, created by artist Peter Homestead, stands in front of the Pavilion facing the Shuart Stadium field. In creating the sculpture,

Mr. Homestead worked from photographs and consultations with Coach Myers' family and friends. The completed sculpture captures the spirit and strength of Howdy Myers. Alumni and friends of Coach Myers have joined together to establish the Howard M. Myers Jr. Endowed Athletic Scholarship in his honor. In 2002 Hofstra created the Howard "Howdy" Myers Award, which is presented to a male student-athlete in recognition of outstanding leadership and athletic performance.

JAMES C. Metzger Hall

Built in 1996, the James C. Metzger Hall, located on the west side of James M. Shuart Stadium, is home to the Fried Center for Student-Athlete Development and offices for Hofstra's Student-Athlete Services staff. The four-story building has a roof level that serves as video and photo deck and also provides direct access to the suites on the third floor and the Stadium press box on the fourth floor.

The Fried Center and offices are located on the second floor and includes a visitor reception area, two conference rooms, a computer lab and a 40-seat student-athlete study room. All rooms have high-speed Internet, satellite television and intranet connections. The press box provides 35 seats in the main press area, four radio booths, two coaches' booths, an administrative booth, and a pre-wired television suite. A 30-yard video and camera deck is located on the roof above the press box.

James C. Metzger Hall was dedicated in April 7, 2015, prior to the Pride's win over Marist. The dedication, in honor of Hofstra alumnus James C. Metzger '83, recognizes the many contributions that Metzger has made to Hofstra University and the Department of Athletics.

"We are thrilled to honor Jim's many contributions as a student-athlete and benefactor to Hofstra University and the Department of Athletics," commented Hofstra Vice President and Director of Athletics Jeffrey A. Hathaway. "Jim's dedication to supporting Pride Athletics is unequalled and we are happy to recognize him and his amazing philanthropy towards Hofstra University with this tremendous honor."

Metzger, a lacrosse All-American at Hofstra in 1980, is chairman and CEO of the Whitmore Group Ltd., a leading insurance brokerage and financial services firm on Long Island. Metzger founded the company in 1989. He has become one of the top civic-minded, community-engaged philanthropists in the Metropolitan area.

Metzger was also inducted into the Hofstra Athletics Hall of Fame in the "Extraordinary Service to Hofstra Athletics" category on April 12, 2015.

- This schedule reflects the daily planner of a Hofstra Lacrosse student-athlete for a Monday in April as the team prepared for a game that Saturday.

HOFSTRA Academic Support

Hofstra University is committed to the pursuit of academic and athletic excellence. The University views participation in intercollegiate athletics as benefiting the student-athlete in an educationally enhancing experience beyond any other opportunity available. Hofstra also realizes the time commitment made by student-athletes and has committed the facilities and resources to support all students.

The University Tutorial Program (UTP) provides free tutoring in every subject area to any Hofstra student. Students are able to obtain up to 1 1/2 hours of individual tutorial assistance per week for up to three courses. They are also able to utilize the various help labs on campus, which specialize in providing assistance in writing, business and QM, and biology and chemistry. In addition to this service, student-athletes are assigned an academic advisor, through the Center for University Advisement, who helps address the various needs of student-athletes. The academic advisor emphasizes four areas in their efforts to ensure the academic success of Hofstra's student-athletes.

Area one is academic counseling. Services are provided in the areas of academic planning, career planning, personal counseling, and campus and community referrals. The advisor also meets with prospective student-athletes, at the coach's request, to share the many benefits of a Hofstra University education.

Area two is academic advising. The academic advisor serves as the primary advisor for first-year and undecided student-athletes, and also assists upperclassmen who have declared a major.

Area three is academic monitoring. The advisor monitors the academic progress of student-athletes to ensure compliance with Hofstra University, NCAA and conference regulations. The advisor's regular communication with the faculty and coaches provide opportunities for early intervention should academic difficulties arise.

Area four is study halls. The University Tutorial Program supports athletic study halls by providing tutors in various subjects as necessary. The academic advisors also assess the needs of individual student-athletes to provide the most effective study environment. The assessment tool administered by the Center for University Advisement is also used to provide various enrichment seminars for the student-athletes such as time management, writing skills, campus resources, and surviving the college transition.

In 2010 The Fried Family Student-Athlete Development Center was opened on the second level of James C. Metzger Hall. The center houses the offices of the academic advisors as well as the student-athlete services staff. A large computer lab with printer access for use by Hofstra student-athletes, a quiet study area with wireless internet access and two group study/tutor rooms with power point access and white boards are also available.

HOFSTRA Athletic Training/ Sports Medicine

Through a comprehensive athletic training program, Hofstra University student-athletes are provided excellent health care during their time at the University. A coordinated effort between the University Health and Wellness Center, the Athletic Department and outside health care providers ensures every student-athlete the best medical attention possible.

University student-athletes have direct access to a myriad of health care services. Managing the coverage of every practice and competition event is Hofstra University's Athletic Training staff, which is led by Head Athletic Trainer Evan Malings and features six full-time athletic trainers and numerous student athletic trainers. The athletic trainers provide injury management, rehabilitation and treatment to the entire Athletic program. Utilizing three state-of-the-art athletic training rooms, these professionals work tirelessly to ensure the safe participation of Hofstra's student-athletes and to return injured athletes to play quickly and safely.

Supporting the athletic trainers is team physician Dr. Brian Daniels and team orthopedist Dr. Michael Schwartz and their team at Pro Health Care, Inc. Physical therapists Roger Gerland and Brian Krebs of STARS of Northwell Health also aid in Hofstra's student-athlete care.

Hofstra University sponsors a fully accredited, highly competitive undergraduate degree program for athletic training majors, in which Hofstra student athletic trainers participate in all aspects of the health care system.

ABOUT

Long Island

Long Island has a rich history as an active, vibrant community, a summer playground, and home to some of New York's most prominent families.

Five distinct regions make up Long Island:

- North Shore, otherwise known as the Gold Coast, with dozens of historic sites dating back to colonial days and Gatsby-era mansions.

- South Shore, with world-famous Jones and Fire Island Beaches.
- Central Suffolk, with beautiful forests and natural inlets, the world's largest factory outlet center and a huge water park.
- North Fork, with an array of vineyards, waterfront ports and farm stands.

- South Fork, widely known as "The Hamptons," with its pristine beaches and exclusive villages.

You can catch a Hofstra shuttle bus to Jones Beach – a state park with six miles of gorgeous coastline, a boardwalk, swimming pools, golf and outdoor concerts.

With everything from :

- museums, historical sites and lighthouses,
- to sophisticated malls, designer outlets and shopping villages,
- to wineries and farm stands,
- to family fun parks, aquariums and zoos,

...there is plenty to do on Long Island!

HOFSTRA

In The Community

The Hofstra Men's Lacrosse team lends a great deal of time to the Long Island community.

Hofstra is actively involved in the fight against blood cancer through the HEADstrong Foundation, which was founded by Nick Colleluori before his passing due to Non-Hodgkin's Lymphoma. The team has raised awareness and a great deal of funds through the sales of "Relentless" t-shirts and lime green shoelaces. Each year the team participates in the Nick Colleluori Classic, which serves as the organization's biggest fundraiser. The team also competed in the first-ever Relentless Cup game in 2013 to benefit HEADstrong. The all-day event took place at Ridley (PA) High School and featured youth and high school games during the day and a matchup of Hofstra and Saint Joseph's in the evening.

The team also raises money for the Stephen Siller Tunnel to Towers Foundation by competing in the Tunnel to Towers Run/Walk in honor of Firefighter Stephen Siller, who lost his life September 11, 2001.

The team frequently conducts lacrosse clinics for children, as well as participating in events to aid the homeless, including the Have a Heart for the Homeless Candlelight Vigil sponsored by the Long Island Coalition for the Homeless (LICH). The Pride has helped set-up, sort and pack clothes and goods for both individuals and homeless shelters.

Each holiday season, the Pride participates in Holiday Magic, a program that Coach Tierney initiated while he was at Johns Hopkins and brought with him to Hofstra. The team helps collect, wrap and distribute toys to underprivileged children, providing a bit of joy to those in need.

The team has also joined with the Friends of Jaclyn Foundation and has "adopted" Dylan Beach. Team members and coaches spend time with Dylan and welcome him to home games.

The team is also involved with a variety of initiatives with Hofstra's Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC), including reading programs at local schools, Big Brothers Big Sisters of Long Island clothing drives, the Special Olympics, Shake-A-Rake and Long Island Cares Holiday food drives.

THE Colonial Athletic Association

The Colonial Athletic Association has established itself as one of the nation's top collegiate conferences both athletically and academically for more than 30 years.

The CAA encompasses many of the nation's largest metropolitan areas with a geographic footprint that stretches from Boston to Charleston, S.C. The conference has produced 15 national team champions in four different sports, 33 individual national champions, 13 national players of the year, 12 national coaches of the year and 13 Honda Award winners. Just as impressive, however, are the honors accumulated away from competition, which include five Rhodes Scholars and 24 NCAA post-graduate scholars. In 2015-16, more than 2,000 of the league's 4,000 student-athletes received the Commissioner's Academic Award after posting at least a 3.2 grade point average while lettering in a varsity sport. The conference had 37 teams in 20 different sports receive NCAA Public Recognition Awards based on the latest Academic Progress Report released in 2016.

The landscape of the conference stretches along the majority of the East Coast, and includes several of the nation's top media markets – New York (1), Philadelphia (4), Boston (7), Washington, D.C. (8) and Baltimore (27). The number of television homes in the CAA market exceeds 19 million.

The CAA conducts championships in 22 sports. Male athletes compete for championships in baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, lacrosse, soccer, swimming & diving, tennis and track & field. Female athletes battle for conference titles in basketball, cross country, field hockey, golf, lacrosse, rowing, soccer, softball, swimming & diving, tennis, track & field and volleyball. In 2015-16, 25 teams earned NCAA Tournament berths and 40 student-athletes received All-America honors in 12 different sports.

The conference has made its presence known nationally in men's basketball with two teams – George Mason (2006) and VCU (2011) – advancing to the NCAA Final Four over the past 11 years. CAA teams have combined to win 43 games in postseason play since 2006, including 14 victories in the NCAA Tournament. The CAA has posted at least one NCAA Tournament win in six of the past 11 years. The conference has had five or more teams compete in postseason play in five of the last eight seasons.

In women's basketball, CAA champion James Madison made its fifth trip to the NCAA Tournament in the last seven years and recorded its 11th consecutive postseason appearance. In 2013, Delaware became the 12th CAA team to reach the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament and Drexel captured the WNIT championship with a 46-43 victory over Utah. CAA teams have recorded 26 victories in postseason play over the past five years.

The conference also excels in many other sports. Four CAA women's soccer teams received NCAA berths for the first time in league history last season and three of them advanced to the second round. The CAA sent multiple teams to the NCAA Men's Soccer Championship for the sixth straight year and each current member of the conference has reached the NCAA Tournament since 2006. James Madison received a #7 national seed in the 2016 NCAA Softball Championship and became the second team in conference history to advance to the Super Regionals, joining Hofstra in 2012. In baseball, UNCW and William & Mary received NCAA berths last season and both advanced to the finals of their respective NCAA Regionals, with the Tribe knocking off defending national champion Virginia. College of Charleston's baseball team reached the NCAA Super Regionals in 2014. William & Mary sophomore Regan Rome earned All-America accolades in cross country and track and field a year ago. Delaware and Towson have each reached the Final Four of the NCAA Men's Lacrosse Championship and the Tigers advanced to the NCAA quarterfinals in 2016 after upsetting defending national champion Denver. For the first time in conference history, two CAA men's golfers – CofC's Will Rainey and JMU's Ryan Cole – advanced to the NCAA Men's Golf Championship. Two CAA teams competed in the NCAA Women's Lacrosse Championship for the first time since 2010 as Towson and James Madison received berths. CAA squads have combined to win 10 field hockey national titles since the championship began in 1981. The conference has had at least 11 players selected in 12 of the last 14 Major League Baseball drafts.

CAA member institutions are committed to excellence in the classroom. The Colonial Academic Alliance was created in 2002 by the league's presidents with a goal of expanding their partnership to all aspects of university education and life outside of intercollegiate athletics. The Alliance has enabled hundreds of students to showcase their research in the annual Undergraduate Research Conference and Journal, facilitated leadership exchanges to promote professional development, developed an academic resource sharing program to support student athletes, and created opportunities for institutions to partner on a wide range of initiatives that enhance student success.

CAA schools are also very active in community service projects. The CAA Blood Challenge, which is held each fall, has raised more than 43,000 units of blood over the past 14 years. The CAA Food Drive Challenge, which is held each spring, has resulted in over 22,000 pounds of donated food and $11,000 in cash contributions in only three years.

On July 1, 2016, Joseph D'Antonio began his tenure as only the second Commissioner in the history of the CAA. He replaced Thomas E. Yeager, who guided the CAA since its inception in 1985.

The conference traces its roots back to 1983 when two of its current members - James Madison University and the College of William and Mary - were aligned with East Carolina University, George Mason University, the United States Naval Academy and the University of Richmond as a basketball league (ECAC South). During the next two years, the league added 11 sports, acquired two new members (the University of North Carolina at Wilmington and American University) and decided to form a new conference. The transformation from ECAC South to CAA took place on June 6, 1985.

Old Dominion University joined the CAA in 1991 and was followed by Virginia Commonwealth University in 1995. The conference added the University of Delaware, Drexel University, Hofstra University and Towson University in 2001. Georgia State University and Northeastern University became members of the conference in 2005. College of Charleston began its first year as a CAA member in 2013 and Elon University joined the conference on July 1, 2014.

HOFSTRA National Team Alumni

Hofstra has had 12 alumni play or coach on a United States National Team. In 2006 three former Pride lacrosse players were members of the United States National Lacrosse Team at the International Lacrosse Federation World Championship in Hamilton, Ontario, Canada. Attackman Blake Miller '96, midfielder Doug Shanahan '01 and defenseman Nicky Polanco '02 all played key roles in the United States' silver medal finish. Shanahan scored eight goals, added three assists and scooped up a team-high 27 ground balls in seven games at the World Championship, while Miller added four goals and two assists, and Polanco, the team's key defender, picked up 10 ground balls. Miller and Shanahan were making their second appearance on the U.S. National Team, while Polanco was a first-time selection after

Nicky Polanco

2006 Members of the National Lacrosse Team

The complete list of Hofstra's U.S. Team members is as follows:

Jack Kaley - 1974 (Assistant Coach)
Phil Marino - 1978
Vin Sombrotto - 1982, 1986, 1990, 1994
Rich Garguilo - 1992 (Under 19)
Kevin Jacobs - 1992 (Under 19)
Blake Miller - 1998, 2006
Evan Kostewka - 1998 (Under 19)
Doug Shanahan - 2002 (MVP), 2006
Nicky Polanco - 2002 (Alternate), 2006
Brett Moyer - 2003 (Under 19)
Kevin Unterstein - 2018
Steve DeNapoli - 2018
Joe Amplo - 2018 (Assistant Coach)

Team USA members
Steven DeNapoli, Seth Tierney and Kevin Unterstein

The Pride had three players named to the United States National Indoor Team, which competed in the 2011 World Indoor Lacrosse Championship in May. The World Indoor Lacrosse Championship took place at Telsa Arena in Prague, Czech Republic, on May 21-28, 2011. Australia, Canada, Czech Republic, England, Finland, Ireland and the Iroquois Nationals joined the United States in the one-week tournament with the U.S. placing third behind Canada and the Iroquois Nationals. Hofstra's representatives were:

John Orsen
Brian Langtry
Chris Panos

In addition to Hofstra's connection with the U.S. World and National Teams, the Pride has been well represented as coach or player for foreign teams. The complete list as follows:

About Your Host: Jim Sheehan is in his 38th year in the sports public relations profession and in his 30th year at Hofstra University. Sheehan came to Hofstra in 1988 after serving as assistant commissioner of the I-AA Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference in St. Louis, Missouri, from 1985 through 1988. Prior to his Gateway stint, he served as coordinator of media relations for the Houston Gamblers of the United States Football League in 1984-85. Sheehan has also served as director of sports information at the University of Tampa from 1982 through 1984; assistant to the commissioner/information director of the Sunshine State Conference from 1980 through 1984 and director of sports information at his alma mater, Biscayne College, in 1981-82. Jim and his wife, Maureen, have a daughter, Jillian (25). The Sheehan family resides in Middle Village, New York.

Press Box: The James M. Shuart Stadium press box, located on the fourth floor of the Shuart Stadium Building, is intended for working media and scouts. All media members, including radio and television stations, will be seated on the fourth floor while video and television camera locations are on the roof. All press box guests must have a pass, issued by the Hofstra Office of Athletic Communications, to gain entrance. Spouses, dates and non-workers are not permitted in the press box.

Credentials: All members of the press should contact the Office of Athletic Communications at least 48 hours before each game for press box space and credentials. Press passes will be left at the media entrance (Gate A) on the west side of the stadium on Meadowbrook Place.

Press Parking: Media parking passes should be requested at the same time press box/sideline passes are requested. The Reserved-Media parking lot is located across the street from the Stadium Building, which houses the press box, on the corner of Belmont Place and Meadowbrook Place. To enter the lot off of Hempstead Turnpike, go south (turn left if coming from the east) on California Avenue. Go 20 yards on California Avenue to Belmont Place and turn left. Go down the block to the last lot on the left, which is on the corner of Meadowbrook Place. Parking is limited and on a first-come, first-serve basis in the Reserved-Media lot. Once that lot is filled, media will be directed to the general public parking areas around Shuart Stadium.

Photographers: Photographers who intend to shoot from the field should request a sideline photo pass. Only press and staff photographers will be allowed on the sidelines. All members of the press photo corps are reminded to stay out of the bench areas and stand five yards behind the sideline during the course of the game. Photo sideline passes should always be visible when on the field. Freelance photographers are not allowed on the James M. Shuart Stadium field.

Game Services: Members of the media are asked to pick up their game information packets consisting of media guides, programs, releases and notes on the tables behind the first row of press seating. A quickie statistics sheet will be distributed at halftime. In-game stats can be accessed on your laptop at Hofstrastats.com. Complete game statistical books will be available in the press box and in the interview room (theater) 20 minutes after each game.

Telephones: Hofstra University provides several telephone lines for use by the media in the press box. Please indicate your telephone needs when you request your credentials.

Radio: The Hofstra Office of Athletic Communications will provide a touch-tone digital phone line for the opponent's commercial and student radio stations. Visiting teams will need to give the Athletic Communications Office two weeks notice of their intention to broadcast. All calls must be made collect or direct dial from the radio station to James M. Shuart Stadium.

Postgame Interviews: Hofstra players and coaches will be available for postgame interviews in the Hofstra Theater on the lower level of Margiotta Hall. Media with credentials should enter Margiotta Hall at the north side door facing the field and take the elevator down. Please contact the visiting publicist concerning the visiting team's post-game policy in their locker room on the east side of Shuart Stadium.

Player Interviews: All requests for player interviews during the week should be made at least one day in advance with the Office of Athletic Communications. If you are requesting a phone interview, we will either put you through to the player requested or have the player return your call at a mutually convenient time. Player home phone numbers will not be distributed. In-person interviews may be conducted in a number of locations in and around Margiotta Hall. However, interviews may not be conducted in the locker room or the athletic training room.

Hofstra Lacrosse on the Web: Visit GoHofstra.com for the latest information on Hofstra Men's Lacrosse or any of the University's 17 athletic teams.

THE HOFSTRA Hundred Club

The "Hofstra Hundred Club" is a fund-raising initiative for the men's lacrosse program under the umbrella of the Hofstra Pride Club. Each member of this elite club is asked to donate $100 for each victory earned. All contributors to this program will be recognized as Hofstra Pride Club members and will receive all benefits afforded to them through the Hofstra Pride Club. Besides supporting the members of the Pride Lacrosse team both on and off the field, these generous donations will allow Hofstra Lacrosse the opportunity to continue to operate in a first-class manner, while setting a new standard for a Division I lacrosse program.

The Hofstra Men's Lacrosse program would like to thank the Hofstra Hundred Club members and our generous contributors. With your support we have the resources and ability to do the 'little things' that make a big difference for our lacrosse program.
