BLUE JAY NOTABLES

OPENING DRAW

• Johns Hopkins returns home for the first of two straight at Homewood Field as the Blue Jays welcome Georgetown to Baltimore.

• The Blue Jays are coming off a 10-8 win at then 19th-ranked Penn last Saturday at Franklin Field.

WRAPPING UP FEBRUARY

• The Blue Jays capped the February portion of their 2022 schedule with last week's win at Penn. Hopkins is 40-21 (.656) under head coach Janine Tucker in the month of February.

• Now in their 47th season, the Blue Jays did not play a game in the month of February until 2002. Hopkins, then in just its fourth season as a Division I program, lost to Vanderbilt, 7-4, on February 24.

BACK TO NORMAL

• The Blue Jays are looking forward to a more traditional schedule in 2022 with 11 non-conference and six Big Ten contests. Last year, due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Hopkins was unable to practice in the fall and then faced a Big Ten-only schedule in the spring, playing each Big Ten team twice.

• The 2022 schedule features 10 home games and three new opponents (VCU, East Carolina and Coastal Carolina). Seven of the Blue Jays' 2022 opponents advanced to the NCAA Tournament last season, including one which advanced to the national semifinals.

LAST SEASON, BEST SEASON

• Head coach Janine Tucker announced in August that 2022 will be her final season at Johns Hopkins. She is in her 29th, and final, season and sports a career record of 305-172 (.639), including a 237-156 (.603) record since she successfully transitioned the program from Division III to Division I in 1999.

• The all-time winningest coach in program history, Tucker has led the Blue Jays to double-digit wins 22 times, 13 NCAA Tournament appearances and three ECAC Division I championship games. Her 305 wins are the second most by a female coach in any sport in Johns Hopkins history.

• In a career filled with thrilling victories and big moments, Tucker's most recent milestone came in 2021 as she became just the ninth coach in NCAA Division I history to reach 300 wins when her Blue Jays beat 13th-ranked Penn State, on April 18.

• Tucker was presented with the IWLCA's Diane Geppi Aikens Award in November. The award is named in honor of the legendary Loyola coach whose courageous battle with cancer inspired the nation and recognizes lifetime achievement to the women's college game.

• After a successful career as an All-American lacrosse player at Loyola, Tucker broke into the coaching ranks at her alma mater as an assistant alongside Geppi Aikens.

LAST TIME OUT (Johns Hopkins-10, Penn-8 / Feb. 26, 2022)

• Penn jumped out to a three-goal lead in the first seven minutes of the game with three different Quakers getting on the board early. Junior Madison McPherson got the Blue Jays on the board with 3:29 to play in the first when she dodged the middle of the fan and scored on a lefty shot on the run. Just 80 seconds later, freshman Charlotte Smith buried a free position shot to pull Hopkins within one. The teams traded goals in the final two minutes of the first quarter, which ended with Penn holding a 4-3 lead.

• The Blue Jays drew even just 1:31 into the second quarter as sophomore Abbey Hurlbrink weaved thru the defense and beat Krissy Kowalski to the lower left corner. Penn retook the lead midway through the quarter when Niki Miles found Lexi Edmonds on the back-door for the one-timer.

• Shelby Harrison answered when she blew home a hard shot from 10 yards out to tie the game at five with 5:51 to go in the quarter before Kaitlyn Cumiskey gave Penn a 6-5 lead at the half after she scored just under three minutes before intermission.

• Hopkins struck quickly early in the third quarter, scoring twice in just nine seconds to grab its first lead of the game. Senior Georgia Esmond found Smith open to her right and she beat Kelly Van Hoesen to tie the game. The Blue Jays were awarded the draw after a Quaker foul and just nine seconds later Harrison gave Hopkins the lead with her third of the game. An Edmonds goal with just three seconds on the third-quarter clock tied the game entering the fourth quarter.

• The Blue Jays erupted for three goals in a span of just two and a half minutes to push out to a 10-7 lead. After an Annika Meyer takeaway, McPherson found Esmond deep in the Quaker zone. Esmond drew a double team and scored over the top to put JHU on top. Just 60 seconds later, she took a pass from Smith on the doorstep, hitched a couple of times and then slipped a shot over Van Hoesen's shoulder. Sophomore Jordan Carr then beat Van Hoesen and the possession clock with a bouncer from in-tight to put the Jays up three.

POLL POSITION

• Hopkins jumped up to 20th in this week's IL Women/IWLCA Poll. The Blue Jays had been ranked 24th before topping 19th-ranked Penn.

AGAINST THE HOYAS

- Hopkins and Georgetown are meeting for the 26th time in a series that began in 1977
- Johns Hopkins leads the all-time series 13-12 and the Blue Jays have won two straight and seven of the last 10, including a thrilling 15-14 win in the last meeting on February 26, 2020.
- The last four meetings in the series have all been one-goal affairs with the Blue Jays taking decisions of 11-10 (2017), 12-11 (2019) and 15-14 (2020) and the Hoyas snagging a 15-14 win in 2018.

A FAMILIAR FACE

- Ricky Fried, the head coach at Georgetown, spent nine years as an assistant coach under Janine Tucker from 1994-2002. During his time at Home-wood, Fried helped Tucker transition the Blue Jays from a highly-successful Division III program to an up-and-coming Division I program in 1999.

I'M HONORED - PART I

- Senior defender Annika Meyer has been named to the 2022 Tewaaraton Award Watch List.
