Outpace. Out play. Outperform.

For 25 years, the Invesco QQQ ETF has busted brackets and outperformed the S&P 500 by 350%* (as of December 31, 2023).

Let's rethink possibility.

 Invesco QQQ

The Official ETF of the NCAA®

Not FDIC Insured | May Lose Value | No Bank Guarantee

*Cumulative returns based on NAV. Standardized Performance as of 12/31/23: Invesco QQQ ETF (NAV): 1YR 54.76%; 5 YR 22.41%; 10 YR 17.66%. Invesco QQQ ETF (Mkt Price): 1YR 54.85%; 5 YR 22.40%; 10 YR 17.66%. S&P 500 Index: 1YR 26.29%; 5 YR 15.69%; 10 YR 12.03%. Fund performance shown at NAV. Invesco QQQ's total expense ratio is 0.20%. Performance data quoted represents past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results. Investment returns and principal value will fluctuate, and shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be higher or lower than performance quoted. There are risks involved with investing in ETFs, including possible loss of money. ETFs are subject to risks similar to those of stocks. Investments in the technology sector are subject to greater risk and are more greatly impacted by market volatility than diversified investments. The road to the top is rarely paved.

We've been pushing the limits of capability, testing the boundaries of the off-road, and navigating new territories for over 60 years in order to make our way to the top. And now that we're here, what's next? Easy, we're going to keep pushing and reinventing our thrilling performance for another 60 years. This is Nissan.

FROM THE DESK OF NCAA PRESIDENT

CHARLIE BAKER

Dear students, families and fans,

Thank you for coming, and welcome to the 2024 winter sports championship season. So far, my favorite memories on the job have come from attending NCAA championships — witnessing years of sweat, perseverance and the passion of student-athletes and coaches on display as they compete for a title. There is no feeling like seeing the winning team score that final point, hit that last shot or make that daring play before the team rushes on the field to hoist the national champion trophy.

I believe college athletics is the largest human potential development program in the world. It opens doors to opportunity, forges friendships and captivates a nation. It teaches young people about accountability, teamwork, how to get back up after being knocked down and many other valuable skills. The NCAA has more than 500,000 student-athletes and 1,200 schools and conferences across three divisions. Championship season represents the best of the best.

I also believe college athletics is in a time of change. When I started as NCAA president, I promised to put the interest of student-athletes first. In response to this promise, beginning Aug. 1, the NCAA will offer member schools post-eligibility injury insurance coverage. This will provide student-athletes from Divisions I, II and III access to health insurance for athletics-related injuries that require treatment beyond the end of their college playing careers.

The NCAA is also working hard to respond to the rise of sports betting. We've teamed up with tech companies to monitor and respond to threats and abuse online. The NCAA is running the world's largest sports betting harm education program, educating student-athletes online and on campus about the dangers of problem gambling.

On the championships front, we've partnered with a leading sports data technology and analytics firm to increase fandom across the 90 NCAA championships. Our goal is to grow the NCAA's reach by four to five times by 2030. After all, championships deserve to be celebrated.

As a former student-athlete from a family of former student-athletes, I understand the dedication each student-athlete, coach and parent gives. Those late nights, early mornings and tough practices are now recognized in the pinnacle of this championship moment. I know work still lies ahead, but I'm tremendously proud of the NCAA's commitment to enhancing the student-athlete experience.

To the fans, event hosts, volunteers and countless others who make these events possible, thank you. We couldn't do it without you. We hope the memories you create here last a lifetime. Enjoy the championship.

Did you know?

From crowning champions to providing life-changing educational opportunities, the NCAA is now making changes to do even more!

Starting this year, student-athletes will have access to:

- Mental health support and services.
- Guaranteed scholarships and tutoring support.
- Tuition assistance to aid in degree completion.
- And when their playing days are over, access to health care.
