The Gateway Conference

The Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference enters its fifth year of existence and second season of its operation of a seven-school NCAA I-AA football division.

The Gateway Conference was founded, as a women's athletic organization, by ten midwestern universities with similar academic and athletic interests in 1982.

The conference is comprised of schools which are members of two different conferences for men's athletics and is spread out over five states. Six Gateway members belong to the Missouri Valley Conference: Bradley University, Drake University, Illinois State University, Indiana State University, Southern Illinois University and Wichita State University. Four others belong to the Association of Mid-Continent Universities (AMCU): Eastern Illinois University, University of Northern Iowa, Southwest Missouri State University and Western Illinois University.

The Gateway sponsors championships in nine women's sports and one men's sport, football. The women's sports include cross-country, volleyball, basketball, indoor track and field, swimming and diving, golf, tennis, softball and outdoor track and field.

On August 21, 1985, the Gateway Conference President's Council voted to add a I-AA football division, for six of its members, to their previously all-women's athletics organization. Forming the football division were Eastern Illinois, Illinois State, Northern Iowas, Southern Illinois, Southwest Missouri and Western Illinois. This move marked the first time in college annals that men's football was added to a women's conference.

This past June, Indiana State University enrolled as the seventh member of the Gateway Conference football division and will be eligible for the 1986 league championship.

Patty Viverito has governed the Gateway Conference since its birth. In fact, Mrs. Viverito became the first woman commissioner to govern a conference associated with men's athletics last summer when the football division was formed.

The conference has made great strides since its inception and I feel we will grow even stronger," Commissioner Viverito commented. "The ten members are so committed to women's athletics that their well-established programs will get even stronger. In addition, I look forward to the added excitement and challenge that football will bring to this fine conference. The national prominence of football will also help to increase the visibility and enhance the prestige of our women's program."

The University

Whether it be in athletics or academics, Indiana State University has a long-standing tradition of excellence.

Established in 1865 along the banks of the Wabash River in west central Indiana, the University has grown to a current enrollment of 11,500 students who are earning degrees in education; business; nursing; technology; health, physical education and recreation; and the arts and sciences.

Diversity in the academic offerings of the institution, as well as in the faculty and student populations, makes Indiana State University uniquely qualified to serve the academic needs of the community of Terre Haute (metro population—114,000), the state and the nation.

Perhaps one of the best indicators of ISU's quality of instruction is recognition by accrediting boards nationwide. The University's academic programs are accredited by some two dozen national professional organizations. The teacher education program has been approved by the Teacher Training and Licensing Commission for the State of Indiana and by the National Council for Accreditation for Teacher Education. The American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business ranks the undergraduate and graduate programs in the School of Business among the top 10 percent in the nation. And ranked among the top four in the nation is the graduate criminology program at ISU.

The University was the first in the nation to offer both undergraduate and graduate instruction in athletic training and today is one of only eight with a graduate program in the field. Indiana State is also one of 30 some universities in the nation to offer a music merchandising program, an intensive music degree which provides a strong business minor.

Today the University offers 114 baccalaureate programs, 13 associate degree programs, 85 master's degree programs, 22 doctoral programs and 11 educational specialist programs.

The men's athletic teams joined the Missouri Valley Conference in 1976 while the women's teams belong to the Gateway Athletic Conference, which was founded in 1982. In 1986 the football team became a member of the Gateway Conference.

The reputation of Indiana State's academic and athletic programs is enriched by the successes of the University's 56,000 alumni. Graduates have distinguished themselves as Pulitzer-Prize winning journalists, nationally acclaimed heart specialists, University administrators, Professional athletes and outstanding members of the communities in which they work and live.

Dr. Richard Landini

Presently in his 11th year as President of Indiana State University, Dr. Richard Landini has been a strong supporter of all of the University's athletic programs.

Working with representatives of the Athletic Department, he was an advocate of ISU's membership in the Missouri Valley and Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conferences. His concern for the academics of athletics has been evidenced by his active involvement in policy making by the National Collegiate Athletic Association. In 1983 he helped draft the NCAA rule which states that a student athlete must make satisfactory progress toward specific degree requirements.

Landini earned his bachelor's and master's degrees in literature from the University of Miami in 1954 and 1955. After earning his Doctor of Philosophy degree (1959) at the University of Florida, he served on the faculty and administrative staff of Arizona State University for 11 years (1959-70). In 1970, he was appointed academic vice-president and professor of English at the University of Montana. He is ISU's eighth president, succeeding Dr. Alan C. Rankin in 1975.

Dr. Landini and his family reside in historic Condit House on the University campus.

Bernard "Beanie" Cooper

Beanie Cooper was named Athletic Director at Indiana State University on March 13, 1981. Prior to being named AD at ISU Cooper served at the University of South Dakota where he was Chairman and Director of the Department of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Athletics since July, 1975.

Cooper served as head football coach at South Dakota from 1974-79, with his 1978 team capturing the North Central Conference championship. His coaching career began at Algona, IA in 1958, and he recorded a 92-38-2 record in 16 years of high school coaching. Cooper served six highly successful years as head coach and athletic director at Heelan High School in Sioux City, where his teams posted an overall record of 43-11.

Cooper was named Iowa Coach-of-the-Year in 1971 and was Siouxland Coach-of-the-Year in 1979. He has served as president of the Iowa Football Coaches Association (1971) and was on the board of directors for the Iowa High School Athletic Directors Association. For his hard work and devotion to Iowa High School football he was inducted into the Iowa Football Coaches Hall-of-Fame in 1972.

While at Indiana State Cooper has served as the Chairman of the Missouri Valley Conference Television Committee and on the MVC Finance Committee. He still keeps his hand in the football establishment, serving as the Chairman of the Central District NCAA 1-AA Football Committee, and as a member of the National Association of Athletic Directors.

The Coaches

Head Coach Dennis Raetz

Since taking over the reins of the Sycamore grid program in 1980, Raetz has guided Indiana State into the upper echelons of I-AA football with a successful mix of hard-hitting defense and an opportunistic offense.

Ever the defensive coach, Raetz was instrumental in the development of four Missouri Valley Conference "Defensive Players of the Year" honorees: end Gerry Gluscic (1979), linebacker Craig Shaffer (1981), cornerback Wayne Davis (1984) and weak safety Vencie Glenn (1985). Also, in the three years that ISU has been a I-AA participant, three Sycamores have been named first-team I-AA All-Americans: end Ed Martin (1983), cornerback Wayne Davis (1984) and weak safety Vencie Glenn (1985).

Offensively, two quarterbacks have been named as MVC "Offensive Players of the Year" during Raetz' tenure as an assistant and head coach: Reggie Allen (1979) and Jeff Miller (1984, 1985).

Raetz and his wife, Betty, have two children, Jaime and Mark, and reside in the Terre Haute suburb of Riley.

Dennis Raetz

Indiana State's Dennis Raetz (pronounced RATES) is beginning his seventh season as the head football coach at the Terre Haute, Ind. campus.

Already the third-winningest football coach in ISU history, the 1984 Missouri Valley Conference's "Coach of the Year" has guided the Sycamores into the NCAA I-AA post-season playoffs twice (1983, 1984). In fact, I-State was ranked No. 1 in all of I-AA football for most of the 1984 season.

The North Platte, Neb., native began his coaching career at North Kansas City, Mo., High School in 1968, where he was an assistant for five seasons under current ISU offensive coordinator Jerry Boyce. He was named as the head football coach at J.C. Harmon High School in Kansas City, Kansas, and served in that position for four years, from 1973-76. While at Harmon High, Raetz had the opportunity to coach current National Football League All-Pro defensive back Mark Haynes.

In 1977, Raetz was offered the chance to move to the collegiate coaching ranks by former University of Missouri mentor Al Onofrio. While at the Big Eight Conference school, Raetz was in charge of the Tigers' junior varsity program as well as coaching the varsity defensive ends.

When another Missouri assistant, Dick Jamieson, was named as Indiana State's head football coach in late 1977, Raetz was asked to move east as Jamieson's defensive coordinator, a position he held for two seasons prior to being named head coach.

Head Coach Dennis Raetz

Dennis Raetz' Coaching Achievements

- Dennis Raetz has averaged six wins per season while compiling a six-year record of 38-29-1.
- Raetz has led Indiana State to the two most successful seasons in the school's history, winning nine games each in 1983 and 1984.
- During Raetz' tenure at ISU, the Sycamores have been to the I-AA post-season playoffs twice and have been ranked No. 1 in the country in I-AA.
- Since Raetz became the head coach at Indiana State, over 20 players have either been drafted or signed free agent contracts, including cornerback Wayne Davis (2nd round, San Diego Chargers, 1985) and weak safety Vencie Glenn (2nd round, New England Patriots).
- Raetz' teams have placed either first or second in team defense in the Missouri Valley Conference in four of the last six seasons.

Memorial Stadium

Indiana State plays their home football games at Memorial Stadium, which is located on the corners of Wabash and Brown Avenues in Terre Haute.

The stadium was acquired by the University in 1967 and, prior to that time, was used for both football and baseball. Since the installation of the synthetic playing surface, however, the field has been used for football and field hockey.

The first university in the world to own and make outdoor application of Astroturf was Indiana State and the Sycamores put the new field to good use in September of 1967 as ISU hosted Eastern Illinois.

The Astroturf in use at Indiana State is similar to that used in Houston's famed Astrodome. Plus factors in the use of the synthetic surface include durability (some 15 college and high school football games are played on the field each year; and in addition the ISU football team conducts all practices on the field) and a constant surface which will provide sure footing regardless of weather.

Each blade of grass is 3/8 inches long and is attached to a sponge-rubber pad 1/4 inches thick. This sponge pad is then set upon a fiber pad 1/2 inch thick. Both the sponge pad and the fiber pad are set on a two-inch layer of asphalt. Memorial Stadium was open to the public for the first time May 5, 1925 as the local minor league baseball team, the Terre Haute Tots, played the Peoria (IL) Tractors with an estimated crowd of 9,000 on hand for the event.

Among the honored guests at the game were major league baseball commissioner Judge Kennesaw Landis and Charles Barnard, a representative of the Cleveland Indians.

The first use of the playing field was in the fall of 1924 as local high schools, Wiley and Garfield, played their traditional Thanksgiving Day game.

Work on Memorial Stadium was begun in 1922 at a cost of $450,000.

After the University gained control of the stadium in 1967, a three-part renovation project was started which included the reorientation of the playing field from a north-south direction to an east-west line; installation of Astroturf; and a building of some 4,500 bleacher seats on the north side of the field as well as rebuilding of seats on the south side of the field.

Capacity of Memorial Stadium is now 20,500.

1986 Indiana State Sycamores

1986 ISU Football Preview:

The Team

Murphy's Law certainly pertained to the Indiana State University football team in 1985 as the Sycamores suffered their first losing season (4-6) since 1982. If anything could go wrong, it did.

Three of the six losses were by three points or less as ISU dropped a 29-27 decision to former Missouri Valley Conference foe West Texas State in Canyon; lost 29-27 to in-state rival Ball State at the Indianapolis Hoosier Dome; and fell 24-21 to another former MVC foe, and current Gateway Conference member, Illinois State.

1986 will be a rebuilding year, of sorts, for the Indiana State football program as the Sycamores must find needed replacements for graduated quarterback Jeff Miller, a two-time MVC "Offensive Player of the Year" honoree; weak safety Vincie Glenn, the 1985 MoVal "Defensive Player of the Year," and a second-round draft choice of the New England Patriots; and noseguard Doug Arnold, an all-league mention for the past three seasons.

That's just the tip of the iceberg for I-State as veteran head coach Dennis Raetz must also find suitable replacements for graduated receivers Terry Bell, Joe Downing and Anthony Kimball; graduated offensive tackles Mark Boster and David Heuser; defensive ends Kurt Bell and Bobby Boyce; and placekicker Scott Bridges.

The Offense

The main objective for ISU is to find a starting quarterback. Gone is four-year starter Jeff Miller, now the property of the Super Bowl champion Chicago Bears. Look for a three-way battle between redshirt freshman John Sahm (6-1, 210), junior Kevin Clancy (6-3, 216) and sophomore transfer Kyle Frondorf (6-1, 190). Sahm had a great spring and appears to be the frontrunner at this point in time, although Clancy and Frondorf aren't too far behind.

Topping the list of running backs this fall are seniors Tracy Stewart (5-10, 178) and Jimmy Edwards (5-7, 215). Stewart will be ISU's No. 1 tailback at the beginning of fall drills and Edwards returns for his third season as the Sycamores' starting fullback. Other backfield possibilities include junior Charles Walls (6-0, 208), sophomore Darren O'Neal (5-11, 210), junior William Martin (6-1, 233), senior Leonard Winborn (5-9, 215), sophomore Brent Fleming (5-11, 212), junior Hank Foley (5-11, 225) and sophomore Mark Sike (6-1, 220).

With ISU's top three receivers from a year ago (Bell, Downing and Kimball) gone, the Sycamores must develop needed depth in this key area. Junior Gary Cannon (5-10, 188) was the No. 4 receiver last fall but will be the "man of the hour" in '86. Cannon hauled in 12 passes for 132 yards and two TD's a year ago. Other receiver candidates are expected to be sophomore Chris Johnson (6-0, 178), junior Jeff Chestnut (6-0, 187), junior Pat Duncan (6-3, 203), and redshirt freshman Walter Brandon (5-10, 170). Brandon and Cannon are the speediest of that group. Don't count out incoming freshmen Rodney Porter (6-2, 190) and Fred Stroud (6-1, 170). Both enter the collegiate ranks with impressive prep credentials.

Senior Bill Hayes (6-2, 230) is the heir apparent at tight end after the graduation of two-year starter Don Hitz. Hayes split time with Hitz a year ago and has proven to be a good receiver and blocker. Expect Hayes' stiffest competition to come from a pair of youngsters, sophomore Jamie McLaughlin (6-6, 220) and redshirt freshman Darnell White (6-4, 230).

1986 ISU Football Preview:

Anchoring Indiana State's offensive line this fall will be senior offensive guard/tackle Mike Simmonds (6-4, 275). A pre-season I-AA All-American candidate, Simmonds is considered prime pro material and is being compared with former Sycamore (and now Pittsburgh Steeler) lineman Tunch Ilkin. Junior Mark Blakey (6-3, 252) returns at center. Junior Stu Sevald (6-4, 272), junior Mike Miller (6-2, 262) and sophomore David Fleet (6-3, 264) are all expected to see playing time at either guard or tackle. Junior tackle Luke Howard (6-5, 269) is another possibility. In the offseason, ISU added junior college transfers Jim Covelliers (6-3, 235), Mike Edwards (6-3, 260) and Pete Endre (6-6, 260). Also, former Drake University starting offensive guard Jeff Rebhan (5-11, 258) has transferred to ISU and is eligible to play this fall.

The Defense

Leading tackler Tim Cunningham (6-3, 232) returns for Indiana State from his inside linebacker position. Cunningham was in on 85 total stops in 1985 after getting off to a slow start. Cunningham's linebacking mate, fellow senior Troy Johnson (6-0, 222), had an injury plagued season last fall but is ready for his final season of action. Providing support to both Cunningham and Johnson in reserve roles are sophomore Ken Hopp (6-2, 204), sophomore Matt Campbell (6-1, 213), and incoming freshmen Steve Hein (6-1, 208), Jeff Propst (6-2, 220) and Gaylord Minett (6-2, 212).

Junior Greg Corsaro (6-2, 220) and senior Kevin Buchanan (6-0, 218) are the expected starters at the defensive end (outside linebacker) slot, replacing Boyce and Bell. Both Corsaro and Buchanan saw game action a year ago, Corsaro ranking fifth in tackles with 45. Sophomore Antoine Liddell (6-3, 218) and incoming freshman Pete Georges (6-2, 220) could also see playing time.

Sophomores Rhett Schmidt (6-3, 232) and Paul Wafzig (6-5, 268) will be ISU's starting tackles while senior Dan Curley (6-2, 225) will get the call at noseguard. Schmidt was a starter a year ago while Wafzig was moved over to the defense from offensive tackle during spring drills. Curley served as a backup to Doug Arnold for the past several seasons and now gets a chance for a starting position. Redshirt freshman Mark Bertram (6-5, 230), sophomore Brad Whitaker (6-3, 263) are in reserve. Blackburn and Lowe are junior college transfers.

The Indiana State secondary will definitely have a new look in 1986 as junior Steve McKeel (6-0, 182) has moved from his customary cornerback position to strong safety for this fall. ISU will be youth-oriented at cornerback as redshirt freshmen Lavent Blaylock (5-10, 180) and Derek Williams (5-10, 183) are the probable starters. Two other youngsters, sophomore Rudolph Richard (5-11, 183) and redshirt freshman Milton Seaton (5-10, 170), will serve as backups on the corner. Junior Steve Brown (6-4, 210) and redshirt freshman Walter Crutchfield (5-11, 185) are battling for the starting weak safety position.

The Kicking Game

Veteran punter Chuck Standiford (6-3, 198) returns for his senior season but the Sycamores need to find a placekicker. Record-setter Scott Bridges has graduated. Standiford could do both jobs (he did as a freshman for half of the season when Bridges was injured), but the ISU coaching staff would rather find someone else to do the placekicking, afraid that the additional duties as a placekicker would ruin his talents as a punter. Junior college transfer Corey Potter (6-0, 193), and freshman Matt Schroeder (6-1, 175) are all candidates for the job.

Look for junior receiver Gary Cannon (5-10, 188) to return kickoffs and punts, as well as senior running back Tracy Stewart (5-10, 178), redshirt freshman receiver Walter Brandon (5-10, 170) and senior receiver Trent Miles (5-7, 155).

Sycamore Media

The 1986 Indiana State University football media guide is designed to assist you, the working media, in your coverage of the Sycamore football program. Requests for any additional information (e.g. travel plans, road accommodations, roster changes, etc.) should be made directly to the Sports Information Office. We welcome your interest in our school and we're looking forward to working with you this season.

CREDENTIALS

Requests should be made to the Indiana State Sports Information Office no later than two days prior to a home game so that we may accommodate you. All written requests should be made on official company letterhead. Due to mail service, press passes will not be mailed in most instances. They may be picked up at the Will Call window at Memorial Stadium, which is located to the left of the main archway. Please keep your press pass visible at all times for proper identification by ISU Security personnel. Media accommodations are on a priority basis with daily newspapers, originating radio stations and TV crews receiving first consideration. Student newspapers and student radio stations may receive no more than two credentials per game (one reporter and one photographer for student papers). Only those photographers on assignment will be awarded credentials. All photographers must keep their press passes visible at all times.

RADIO SPACE

Radio contract requests and information should be made to the attention of Marty Lotz, Sports Information Director, Normal Hall, Room 101, Indiana State University, Terre Haute, Ind., 47809. Radio stations will be provided with a courtesy telephone line if they have been designated by the visiting school as the official station. All other radio stations wanting to broadcast must pay a right's fee of $50 to Indiana State University. There is a self-enclosed, sound-proof booth available for use by the visiting official station. All other stations will be put on top of the Memorial Stadium pressbox due to lack of space in the pressbox itself.

SCOUTING PASSES

Press box requests made by opposing schools for scouting purposes should be directly to Tom James, Assistant Sports Information Director. Priority for scouting passes will be given to upcoming opponents. Arrangements for scouting passes should be made at least one week in advance. All scouts—professional and college—will be seated as space allows in the Indiana State pressbox.

TELEPHONES

There are four telephones available in the Indiana State pressbox on a first-come, first-served basis for media use. It is suggested that newspapers on tight deadlines contact General Telephone of Indiana at 812-238-5444 for telephone setup in the pressbox. Also, there is one telecopier available for use.

PORTABLE COMPUTER

A Radio Shack TRS-80 portable computer is available on a first-come, first-served basis for a nominal fee of $25. Please contact the ISU Sports Information Office well in advance of a home game to inquire about its use.

GAME SERVICES

The Indiana State Sports Information Office will provide pre-game fact sheets, game programs, full statistical summaries and play-by-play sheets at halftime and after the game. Ten minutes after the final gun, Coach Raetz will conduct a post-game interview session in his coaches quarters adjacent to the locker room area. At this time, the locker room area will be open for player interviews. Coach Raetz' post-game remarks will be taped for use by the media. Assistant Head Coach Max Payne will be in the pressbox area immediately after the game for a post-game radio show. He, too, will be available for quotes once the show goes off the air. Visiting coaches will appear outside their locker room areas for post-game quotes. The visiting SID will provide quotes for those reporters unable to get their own due to deadline restrictions.

INTERVIEWS

All requests for player interviews will be handled by the Sports Information Office. To keep press contact organized and to allow our student athletes to keep up with their classwork, we prefer that player interviews be conducted each Monday afternoon before practice. This includes personal and telephone interviews. Exceptions will be made for specific needs, we only ask that you remember our players' academic duties when you make a request. Coach Raetz can be contacted at the football office between 10 a.m. and noon Monday through Thursdays. Videotape interviews with the outstanding players of each game are available through the ISU Sports Information Office.
