Sycamore Radio Network

Sherman

The Indiana State University Athletic Department enters its third year operating the Sycamore Radio Network.

All football and men's basketball games will be aired this season on WTHI-AM (1480), WSDM-FM (97.7), and WNDI-FM (93.5).

The broadcasts will begin with a 30 minute pre-game show featuring an interview with head coach Dennis Raetz and following the broadcast will be a post-game show, including an interview with a member of the coaching staff.

WTHI Sports Director and ISU alumnus John Sherman begins his third season as the "Voice of the Sycamores". He will handle the play-by-play duties for all broadcasts.

ISU continues its long association with WTHI Radio and Wabash Valley Broadcasting. Sycamore football and basketball games have been on WTHI for the last four consecutive years and more than 40 of the last 45 seasons. WSDM "Wisdom 98" is in its third year as a member of the Network and has broadcast ISU baseball for the last four years. WNDI of Sullivan (IN) is also in its third year as an affiliate and has aired ISU women's basketball and softball games as well. All games broadcast on the Sycamore Radio Network can be heard by dialing TEAMLINE at 1-800-846-4700, EXT. 4780.

For the first time since the league's second season, conference membership has changed. This season, charter member Eastern Illinois joins the Ohio Valley Conference and leaves the Gateway Football Conference with six members for the first time since 1985.

Those six members will vie for the league's automatic playoff berth when the 12th season of Gateway Football Conference action gets underway August 29. The Gateway is in its second decade of football competition after celebrating a decade of excellence with the conclusion of the 1994 football campaign.

The original Gateway Conference was founded as a women's athletic organization in August, 1982, following the dissolution of the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women. In September of that year, Patty Viverito was named the first commissioner of the newly founded conference, a position she maintains today. Before moving to its permanent headquarters in St. Louis, the Gateway spent three organizational months on the campus of Eastern Illinois University. Eastern Illinois was the original president institution of the league, a role that will be filled this season by Southern Illinois.

In July of 1992, the 10-team Gateway Conference disbanded as its women's programs realigned with their men's teams in their respective conferences. The league assumed its new name on July 1, 1992, becoming the Gateway Football Conference, an NCAA I-AA football league comprised of seven Midwest institutions.

The Gateway Conference football division was born on August 21, 1985, when the Gateway Conference President's Council voted to add a I-AA football division for six of its members to the previously all-women's athletics organization. Founding members of the football division were Eastern Illinois University, Illinois State University, the University of Northern Iowa, Southern Illinois University, Southwest Missouri State University and Western Illinois University. The creation of the Gateway football division marked the first time in college annals that football was added to a women's conference. In June of 1986, Indiana State University became the seventh member of the Gateway Conference.

Gateway football quickly became a national force on the NCAA I-AA scene. The strength of the new league was confirmed in July of 1986 when the NCAA I-AA Football Committee voted to waive the league's two-year waiting and grant the Gateway an automatic bid to the national playoffs after just one season of play.

The first ten seasons of Gateway football were marked by continual successes. Last season, two Gateway teams (Eastern Illinois and Northern Iowa) represented the league in the I-AA playoffs, and Northern Iowa went to the quarter-finals after beating previously for five weeks. Northern Iowa ended the year No. 3, and league member Western Illinois appeared in the final NCAA poll, ranked No. 20.

In 1991, the Sept. 23 NCAA poll had four Gateway Football Conference teams in the Top 20: Illinois State, Northern Iowa, Southern Illinois and Southwest Missouri State. It was the first time in league history that four Gateway teams were in the Top 20 the same week. Six of seven league members were either in the Top 20 or among schools earning mention at one time or another during the year.

The final national poll in six of the past seven years has had at least two Gateway members among its Top 25. Last year, Eastern Illinois (12), Northern Iowa (18) and Indiana State (24) represented the league in the final Sports Network poll.

In 1991, 1992 and 1994, Northern Iowa and Western Illinois represented the league in the final polls. In 1990, Northern Iowa and Southwest Missouri State were among the Top 20 in the final poll, and in 1989, three league teams were in the final NCAA poll, as Southwest Missouri State (ninth), Eastern Illinois (15th) and Northern Iowa (20th) were among the nation's elite.

The Gateway is among seven I-AA conferences that receive automatic bids to the NCAA I-AA Championship. Those other leagues include the Big Sky Conference, the Midwestern Athletic Conference, the Ohio Valley Conference, the Southern Conference, the Southland Conference and the Yankee Conference. The Gateway and the Yankee are the only NCAA conferences that sponsor I-AA football as their only sport.

Although the league completed its service to women's athletics at the end of 1991-92, the Gateway has an historical place in the development of intercollegiate women's athletics.

The 10 founders of the original Gateway Collegiate Athletic conference currently belong to three conferences. Eight members joined their men's programs in the Missouri Valley: Bradley, Drake, Illinois State, Indiana State, Northern Iowa, Southern Illinois, Southwest Missouri State and Wichita State. Eastern Illinois is in the Ohio Valley Conference, and Western Illinois competes in the Mid-Continent.

In its decade of operation, the Gateway sponsored championships in ten women's sports and football. The women's sports were: basketball, cross country, golf, indoor and outdoor track & field, swimming and diving, tennis, softball, volleyball and, in its early years, field hockey.

unbeaten Murray State. Northern Iowa advanced to the I-AA semifinals in 1985, 1987 and 1992, falling by a touchdown or less to the eventual national champions in 1985 and in 1987. Eastern Illinois has reached the quarterfinals twice and Southwest Missouri State has done it once. Five of the six current league schools have been to the playoffs since 1982.

The Gateway continues to be one of the best I-AA conferences in the nation as it plays one of the most difficult non-league slates in the country. Last season, the league compiled a 22-16 non-conference record, but six of those games were against I-A schools on the road, and another eight were against I-AA top-25 teams. League schools twice defeated the defending national champion (Youngstown State), marking the first time a league school had ever accomplished that feat. The GFC also dominated local I-AA competition, going 6-2 against the nearby Ohio Valley Conference which has been among the elite in I-AA. In 1991, the Gateway was perhaps at its greatest as, for the third straight year, two Gateway Conference teams advanced to the I-AA playoffs. And the league compiled the best non-conference record in all of NCAA I-AA football at 24-12-2—the second-best in Gateway history, trailing only an impressive 24-12-1 slate in the league's first year in 1985.

In addition, the Gateway has been well represented in national polls in each of its ten years. In 1992, Northern Iowa achieved the Gateway's first No. 1 national ranking as the Panthers were ranked No. 1 by the NCAA and by the Sports Network

Sycamores Hungry For More Success

Once you get a taste of success—you crave for more. Coach Dennis Raetz can only hope that the Sycamores will have the appetite to exercise their talents during the upcoming 1996 season. The 1995 season was a breakthrough campaign for the Sycamores as they posted their first winning season since 1984 and their 7-4 record left them one victory short of a berth in the NCAA I-AA playoffs. The win total represented the fifth best mark in school history.

The Sycamores spent five weeks in the Sports Network Top 25 Poll and were slotted 24th in the final rankings. ISU placed eight players on the All-Gateway Conference squad and three individuals earned All-America honors.

"We had some good things happen to us last year," says Raetz. "Our nucleus is very good, and we have to fill in some places. The big questions will be how we replace some offensive linemen and what we do at tight end."

The returning nucleus Raetz refers to includes eight starters on defense and five on offense. The backbone of this returning nucleus would once again be the defense that limited the opposition to just 16.9 points per game last season, despite allowing 56 to I-A foe Mississippi. The returnees on the offensive side of the ball are in skill positions with quarterback Kevin Cox, fullback Ben Wolfe, wide receivers Larry Brown and Micah Reid joining offensive lineman Brad Schwing as veterans.

The Sycamores will attempt to string together back-to-back winning seasons for the first time since 1983-84. The returnees have some unfinished business left from 1995, which will include a playoff berth and a conference crown, all items well within reach for this talent-laden contingent.

OFFENSE

The Sycamore offense was functional throughout most of the 1995 season until the last three games when it failed to reach the endzone. Overall, Indiana State ranked second in the league rushing statistics with a 171.5-yard average per game. The passing attack averaged 155.6 yards per outing, a 31 yard improvement per game over the previous year. Last year's leading rusher David Wright has finished his eligibility, but Raetz and Co. don't feel there will be much of a drop with Jason Potter taking over the reins at tailback. The passing game should continue to improve with Cox back calling the signals and throwing to a veteran group of receivers that includes six of the top seven receivers from '95.

Offensive Line

Last year's starting center Brad Schwing will be making a position switch to guard, after spending spring drills at tackle. He will be joined by Mike Nichols at guard, Doug Hurt at center, Richard Madura and Marque Weise at the tackle spots. Newcomers Michael Holden, a transfer from Northeastern Oklahoma JC, and Ace Robertson, a transfer from Texas A&M and a first team junior college All-American, will have the opportunity to make a sudden impact in this area when they reach campus in August along with holdovers Larry Lewis and Brian Sitz.

Quarterback

Cox threw for 1,672 yards last season, the most by an ISU quarterback since 1990, and 11 touchdowns, while completing 45 percent of his passes. Cox established himself last season as a threat to throw the deep ball and intermediate pass with accuracy. He will be backed up sophomore Matt Gajewski, junior Toby Deal, and redshirt freshman Greg Murphy. Gajewski saw limited action last season and missed all of spring drills while playing for the baseball team.

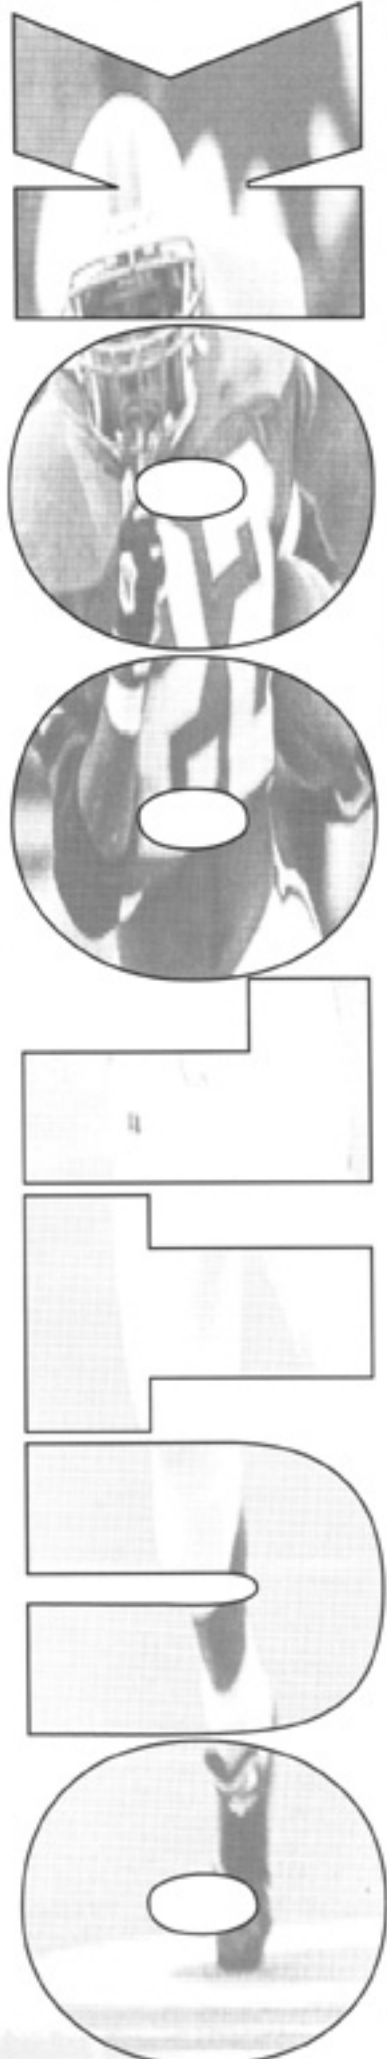

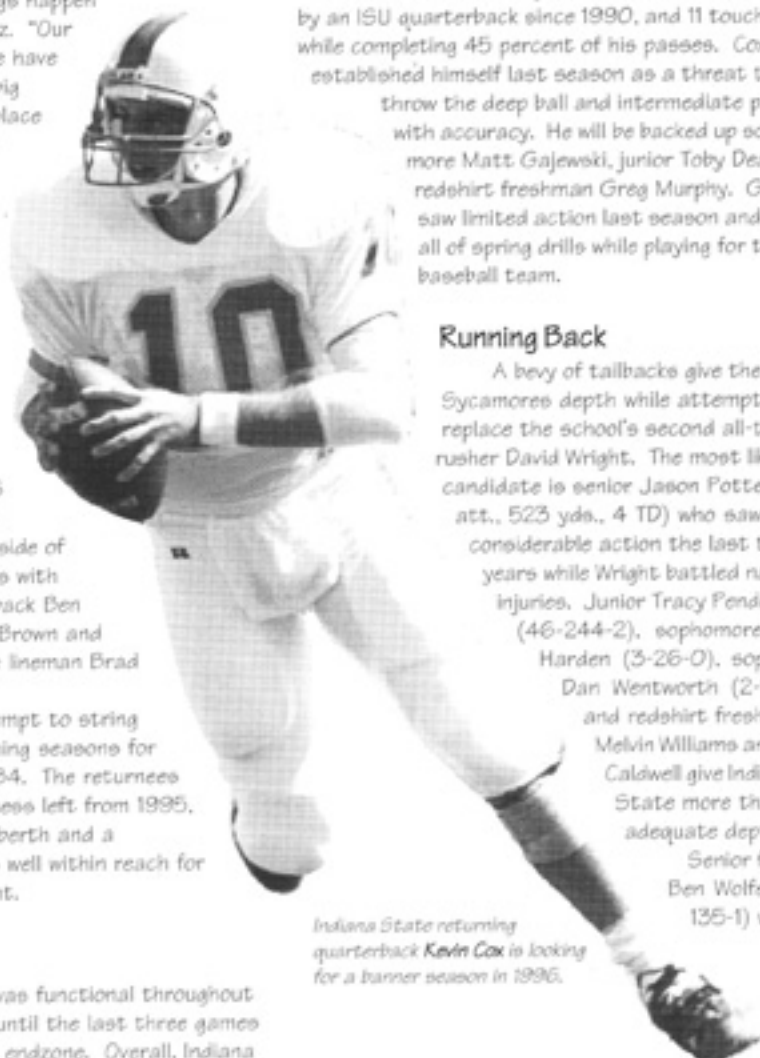

Running Back

A bevy of tailbacks give the Sycamores depth while attempting to replace the school's second all-time rusher David Wright. The most likely candidate is senior Jason Potter (118 att., 523 yds., 4 TD) who saw considerable action the last two years while Wright battled nagging injuries. Junior Tracy Pendleton (46-244-2), sophomore Louis Harden (3-26-0), sophomore Dan Wentworth (2-18-0), and redshirt freshmen Melvin Williams and Sha' Caldwell give Indiana State more than adequate depth here.

Senior fullback Ben Wolfe (39-135-1) will likely be tabbed as the starter for the third consecutive season. He has built a reputation on being a solid blocker, exceptional receiver out of the backfield, and has a nose for getting the tough yard in short yardage situations. Senior Mike Barwick returns for his final season after a knee injury sidelined him for the 1995 campaign. He rushed for 194 yards as both a tailback and fullback in 1994.

Receivers

The Sycamores are blessed with the return of every wide receiver from last season. Senior Larry Brown (29 rec., 359 yds., 3TD) begins the season ranked seventh on the school's all-time reception list with 98. This unit, nicknamed "Air Blue" will also include last year's leading-receiver senior Micah Reid (32-405-2), deep threat sophomore Courtland Tubbs (17-278-3), senior Adam Evans (14-163-1), and senior Dan Cheatham (8-118-0). Evans was impressive in spring drills as Cox's favorite target.

The tight end spot will be somewhat of a question mark entering fall drills as Larry Gauer graduated after making 24 grabs for 226 yards last season. Junior Craig Holok enters August as the No. 1 tight end, followed by freshman Chad Ames. Fullback Mike Barwick could also see action at tight end.

DEFENSE

Defensive Line

This area of the team was a strength last season and should remain that way, despite the losses of All-America defensive end Dan Brandenburg and down linemen Rahsaan and Sharif Baskerville. Senior defensive tackle Mike Likens will anchor this unit after 54 tackles and four sacks in 1995. His supporting cast will include tackle Dave Remter (6-12-18) and bookends David Hunter and John Wilson in the defensive ends spots. The coaching staff is also high on newcomer Shannon Jackson who had a stellar spring.

Linebackers

Starters Chris Libaire and Richard Moss return for their final season. This duo racked up 254 total tackles as the top two stoppers on the squad. Libaire was an All-American as a junior and Moss has been selected as the 1996 defensive captain. Sophomore Mike Bandy made 19 stops in a reserve role last season and will see plenty of action in the linebacking rotation.

Secondary

All starting members of last year's secondary are back for this season. Senior cornerbacks Dye Knox and Larry Scally give the Sycamores loads of experience in coverage. Knox has led the squad in interceptions in each of the last two seasons. Safeties Kyle Bibbs and Robert High are versatile in being able to play the pass and the run with equal effectiveness. All members of this unit are all-conference candidates. Chris Crowder and Matt Graham will compete for playing time at the apache spot. Graham started the first four games last season before suffering a knee injury against Southern Illinois that finished his season. Crowder stepped in and started the remaining seven games. Both are healthy and ready to go for 1996.

Sycamore linebacker Joe Dunn figures to be a key performer this fall.

Kicking Game

Jay Gerth will handle the punting duties for the third consecutive season with good consistency. The kicking chores remain up in the air with redshirt freshman Nate Davis entering fall drills after a solid spring. The rookie nailed three field goals in the annual Blue and White spring scrimmage.

Schedule

The Sycamore slate is a formidable one which will feature nonconference contests against NCAA-IA top ten foe Kansas State, former Gateway member Eastern Illinois, and I-AA powers Liberty and Western Kentucky. ISU will play its first five games out of conference and close with five of the last six in the Gateway. Coach Dennis Raetz' club will close the season with home dates against perennial league powerhouses Northern Iowa and Southwest Missouri State.

Staff Changes

Last year's Offensive coordinator and offensive line coach Marty Fine has departed for a position at Colgate and will be replaced on the line by Bruce Cowdrey, a veteran whose resume includes stops at Purdue, Northwestern, Oklahoma State, and the CFL's Toronto Argonauts. Two-year staff member Bill Dudley will take over the offensive coordinator role and Darryl Jackson moves from the defensive side of the ball to coach the runningbacks.

Overall

The Sycamores are poised to post back-to-back winning seasons for the first time since 1983-84 and have the personnel to do it. Questions must be answered within the offensive line and Raetz hopes to make the passing game more efficient in order to again contend for the Gateway Conference title. The defense should be rigid once again and the offense must maintain its level of efficiency with Jason Potter taking the reins from David Wright at the tailback spot. Intangibles are always a key and things like turnovers, injuries, and the ability to win nailbiters on the road will play a role.

The Sycamores remain a hungry bunch, especially after last year's season-concluding loss to Eastern Illinois that kept them out of the I-AA playoffs. Raetz will boast a veteran team that has spent the off-season thinking about how a good season could have been even better with a trip to the playoffs. That will be the goal for the 1996 season as the craving for continued success grows greater.

"Our nucleus is very good and what we accomplished last season should have a great impact on this year," said Raetz. "Maybe, just maybe, being successful in 1995 will get us one step farther this year. We had a taste of success and you can feel good about that. These seniors were a part of that. Now they will have the challenge of stepping up like last year's senior class did and give us more of the same."

The winningest coach in Indiana State history, Dennis Raetz, will return to the gridiron this season for his 17th year at the helm of the Sycamore program. Raetz surpassed Wally Marks four seasons ago to become the winningest coach in school history with his 63rd victory and now holds a record of 84-93-1.

The "Dean of the Gateway Conference" coaches has guided the ISU program to its greatest heights including a No. 1 national ranking during most of the 1984 season and two trips to the NCAA I-AA playoffs. Raetz was named the Missouri Valley Conference Coach of the Year in 1984 while also garnering Kodak I-AA District Coach of the Year honors. Last year, Raetz guided the Sycamores to their fifth best record in school history.

Raetz has been a fixture at ISU since 1978 when he came to Terre Haute to serve on Dick Jamieson's staff as defensive coordinator and linebacker coach. He remained in that position for two seasons before taking over the top job on February 25, 1980.

A native of North Platte, Nebraska, Raetz attended the University of Nebraska on a football scholarship, but his playing career was cut short by a severe knee injury. Following his college graduation in 1966, he was an assistant coach at North Kansas City High School in Missouri for five seasons before accepting head coaching responsibilities at J.C. Harmon High School in Kansas City, Kansas. In four seasons at Harmon where he coached former Denver Bronco All-Pro cornerback Mark Haynes, Raetz guided his clubs to two conference championships and a 24-13 record.

In 1977, Raetz joined the University of Missouri coaching staff where he worked with the defensive ends in addition to his duties as the junior varsity head coach. It was at Mizzou that he began a working friendship with Jamieson who one year later became the head coach at Indiana State.

Raetz followed Jamieson to ISU and, after the 1979 season, became the school's 15th head coach when Jamieson became an assistant with the NFL's St. Louis Cardinals.

Raetz quickly put his stamp on Indiana State football with a stiff defense and efficient offense. After posting 6-5, 5-5-1, and 5-6 marks in his first three campaigns, Raetz broke through in 1983. The Sycamores got out of the gates quickly with two wins to open the season before making a trip to national power Florida. ISU battled the mighty Gators down to the wire only to fall, 17-13. Raetz' crew finished with a flourish in winning the last three regular season games and earned a Division I-AA playoff berth for the first time in school history. The Sycamores defeated Eastern Illinois in the first round and fell to Southern Illinois in the quarterfinals.

State took that momentum gained from the 1983 season and rattled off nine straight victories to start the 1984 campaign and earn a No. 1 national ranking in the I-AA polls. The Sycamore season came to an end in the NCAA playoffs for the second consecutive season, this time dropping a 42-41 decision to Middle Tennessee State in overtime.

Raetz has led the Sycamore football program to two of its three nine-win seasons, the highest victory total in school history.

In recent years the Sycamores have given several scares to much bigger Division I-A foes, including 1993's 27-10 setback at Big Ten foe Minnesota and 1994's 20-17 loss at Toledo. Perhaps the most memorable near-miss was in 1991 at Kansas State. The Sycamores took a 25-24 lead over their Big Eight Conference opponents with 3:24 to play in the game and set up for a two-point conversion. The two-point pass attempt was intercepted and returned for a two-point defensive conversion and a Kansas State, 26-25, victory.

Perhaps what is even more impressive than Raetz' teams hard-fought battles against Division I-A opposition is the fact that his Sycamores have never lost a contest against a team in a lower classification than I-AA.

Since taking over the reins of the ISU program, Raetz has been instrumental in the development of several standout players including Missouri Valley Conference Defensive Players of the Year Gerry Glusic (1979), Craig Shaffer (1981), Wayne Davis (1984), and Vencie Glenn (1985); and MVC Offensive Players of the Year Reggie Allen (1979) and Jeff Miller (1984). The Sycamores' 1991 class included Gateway Offensive Player of the Year and All-American Derrick Franklin along with All-American Charles Swann. Running back David Wright earned All-America honors in 1992, while offensive guard Shawn Moore and defensive end Dan Brandenburg have earned All-America honors the last three seasons.

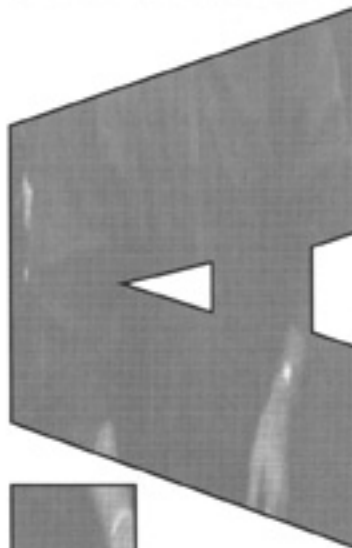

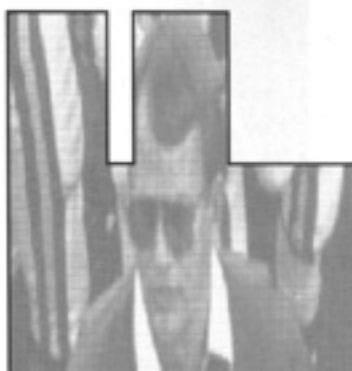

Several of the above mentioned players have gone on to NFL careers. In all, 41 Sycamores have signed NFL contracts under Raetz' tutelage.

The veteran coach has also been extremely successful at turning out top notch coaches. Former Raetz assistants include Dave McGinnis of the NFL's Arizona Cardinals, Bobby Turner, NFL's Denver Broncos and Alvin Reynolds of the NFL's Baltimore Ravens, Steve Brickey, Pat Henderson and Pete Hoener at Texas Christian University, Trent Miles at Hawaii, Kevin Ramsey at Tennessee, Sean Payton at Illinois, Dave Magazu at Kentucky, and Bobby Boyce at Southwest Missouri State.

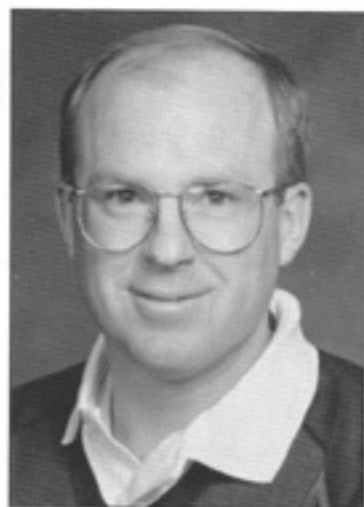

Raetz and his wife Betty reside in nearby Riley with their daughter Jaime (21), a junior at the University of Nebraska, and son Mark (18), a multi-sport senior athlete at Terre Haute South High School.

ISU's Strength And Conditioning Program

ISU's strength and conditioning program has recently doubled in size. The 10,000 square foot facility is housed in University Hall on campus. The facility is funded by private donations and is under the supervision of strength and conditioning coach Nick Kyros. Indiana State's strength and conditioning program is an integral part of a football player's development. The program is divided into three eight week cycles that include base, strength and speed/explosion phases. All weight training is coordinated with activities on the practice field. "If we are asking the players to be fast and explosive on the field, then we are doing fast and explosive training in the weight room," says Kyros.

The program also includes a speed and movement program designed to improve the players speed and athletic ability. Prevention of injuries is an important part of the total picture. The facility is divided into three main areas which include free weights and weight machines, movement drills, and plyometric training. Renovation is currently fifty percent completed.

Athletic Training

Indiana State University has long prided itself as a leader in sports medicine. The University is a nationally recognized institution offering both undergraduate and graduate programs in athletic training. The staff athletic trainers provided by Sycamore Sports Medicine, enable ISU student-athletes to receive the highest quality care possible.

Sycamore Sports Medicine is a joint effort of Methodist Sports Medicine and Union Hospital. Heading Indiana State's Sports Medicine Staff are team physicians: Dr. Tom Klotwyk, orthopaedist of Methodist Sports Medicine and Dr. John Welch, family physician of AP&S Northside Family Medicine.

Head athletic trainers Dave Ralston and Lori Vancza, with assistance from graduate and undergraduate student athletic trainers, staff the state of the art training rooms on campus.

The Academic Support Program for Athletics, headed by Coordinator of the Athletic Study Center Henry Villegas is based upon the belief that the STUDENT in Student-Athlete comes first, and for that reason we have developed a program that insures every student-athlete the best possible opportunity for personal success. The Academic Support Services Program for Athletics provides academic support for all male and female, scholarship and walk-on participants on all 14 intercollegiate Athletic teams, approximately 350 students per year. The goals of the program are as follows:

- To help student-athletes bridge the gap from college life to professional life through the Life Skills program.

The Academic Support Program for Athletics, has adopted a pro-active approach to academics in order to prepare the students for the many challenges associated with balancing both academics and athletics. Beginning with the Athletic Department Orientation and Study Skills Class (University 101), student-athletes are provided with a wealth of information and strategies for success during their first term at Indiana State. The class, teamed with study halls, tutoring, small study groups, and periodic progress monitoring, helps to ensure that each and every student-athlete at Indiana State has the best possible opportunity for both personal and academic success.

University 101 is a course to help students make a successful transition into the University by introducing the concepts and values of a University education, of liberal studies, and of the preparation in the disciplines; by fostering a series of ideas and people; by developing critical thinking skills as well as academic and personal skills necessary for success; and by providing an introduction to the resources and services of the University.

The Academic Support Program has been able to make continuous gains in the level of academic achievement in the percentage of scholar athletes compiling a 3.0 grade point average or better. This past year at least 40 percent of our student-athletes achieved a 3.0 GPA, earning a spot on the Athletic Director's Honor Roll. Coaching staffs, administration, faculty, and the university community have all been very supportive of our efforts as we assist student-athletes work toward that ever important goal of gaining a college degree. Lessons learned through the academic advisement program have proved extremely valuable to several members of the ISU football program.

'95 in review

Indiana State's football program enjoyed its best season in over 10 years as the 1995 squad came within an eyelash of making a return trip to the NCAA Division I-AA post-season playoffs.

The nationally-ranked Sycamores posted a 7-4 overall win-loss record and finished tied for third (along with Illinois State) in the Gateway Conference standings with a 3-3 mark behind eventual league co-champions Northern Iowa and Eastern Illinois. Among the big wins recorded by Indiana State during its banner 1995 campaign was a 13-6 road decision over defending I-AA national champion Youngstown State.

In fact, Indiana State's post-season chances all came down to a Nov. 18th meeting with EIU. A Sycamore win would most likely send three Gateway Conference teams to the playoffs (Northern Iowa, Eastern Illinois and Indiana State), while a loss would keep ISU at home for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Eastern Illinois won by a 27-6 score at Terre Haute's Memorial Stadium, but the loss could do little to erase the many accomplishments recorded by a heady group of players who had rekindled the hopes and aspirations of the Sycamore football faithful.

Senior defensive end Dan Brandenburg was selected in the seventh-round of the National Football League's player draft by the Buffalo Bills. Brandenburg was the only Gateway Conference player taken in the draft.

Brandenburg was one of three Indiana State players to sign pro contracts at the conclusion of the 1995 campaign. Senior offensive tackle Omari Mangrum signed a free agent contract with the NFL's Jacksonville Jaguars while senior tailback David Wright was signed by Montreal of the Canadian Football League.

Brandenburg played in the 1995 Blue-Gray All-Star Football Game, becoming just the third Indiana State player to earn a trip to the Christmas Day classic (joining current NFL standout Vencie Glenn and former NFL linebacker Craig Shaffer). He also participated in the NFL's Scouting Combine at the RCA Dome in Indianapolis.

Brandenburg (first-team, The Sports Network; third team, AP; honorable mention, The Football Gazette) was one of three Indiana State players to earn post-season All-America honors. Also selected by various media organizations were junior inside linebacker Chris Libaire (second team, The Football Gazette) and senior placekicker Tom Allison (first-team, The Football Gazette). Brandenburg concluded his Indiana State career with a school-record 32 quarterback sacks. He was runnerup for Gateway Conference "Defensive Player of the Year" honors.

Senior placekicker Tom Allison had a banner season in 1995, converting on 55 consecutive PAT attempts dating back to the opening game of the 1994 campaign. Allison, who also was a recipient of a Burger King national academic award, finished his Indiana State career as the Sycamores' No. 1 all-time kick scorer and No. 2 all-time career scoring leader with 196 points. He also ended his career with 38 field goals to set another ISU career mark. Allison finished with a mark of 38 of 56 in career field goal attempts.

Junior inside linebacker Chris Libaire led the Gateway Conference with 145 total tackles. Libaire set the Indiana State single-game mark for assisted tackles with 16 against Eastern Illinois in the season finale. He had 25 total tackles against EIU. He was named as the NCAA Division I-AA national "Player of the Week" for his performance against Western Illinois. Libaire had 18 total tackles (eight solo), a pass broken up, two quarterback sacks and an interception.

Senior tailback David Wright ended his Indiana State career as the second all-time leading rusher in both Gateway Conference and school history with 4,181 yards. Wright also set the Gateway Conference mark with 19 100-yard rushing performances and concluded his collegiate career as the No. 4 all-time leading rusher in I-AA history.

Indiana State's football team was nationally-ranked in two polls, The Sports Network and The Football Gazette, all season. The Sycamores got as high as 13th in The Football Gazette poll and 19th in The Sports Network poll. The Sycamores finished the season ranked 24th by TSN.

Indiana State's seven wins in 1995 ranked as only the third seven-win season in school history (1933, 1972, and 1995). There have been three other Sycamore teams that have won as many as nine games in a season (1968, 1983, and 1984) and there has been one eight-win season (1979). Head Coach Dennis Rastz has been on the coaching staff for four of the Sycamores' most successful seasons (assistant coach, 1979; head coach, 1983, 1984, and 1995).

The Sycamore defensive unit intercepted 18 passes in 1995, eight short of tying the school's single-season high of 26 in 1984. Junior cornerback Dre' Knox led the way with four.

NCAA I-AA playoff games

1983 FIRST ROUND

Memorial Stadium (Terre Haute, IN)

Indiana State 16, Eastern Illinois 13 (2 OT)

Record-setting kicker Scott Bridges booted a 25-yard field goal in the second overtime to give Indiana State a hard-fought win in its first-ever NCAA I-AA playoff game.

Linebacker Quintin Mikell intercepted a Sean Payton pass in the second OT to set up Bridges' heroics. Eastern Illinois tied the game at the end of regulation with 10 fourth quarter points for a 10-10 deadlock. The teams traded field goals on their first possession, leading to Mikell's interception and the winning ISU field goal in the second OT.

1983 QUARTERFINALS

McAndrew Stadium (Carbondale, IL)

Southern Illinois 23, Indiana State 7

The Sycamores scored early with a 56-yard, six-play drive on their first possession, but the Salukis stopped ISU the rest of the way enroute to a 23-7 NCAA Quarterfinal win.

Jeff Miller threw for a four-yard pass to Don Hitz for the ISU score and the early 7-0 lead in Carbondale, then the Salukis scored 23 unanswered points limiting the Sycamores to four total first downs on the day and only 55 total yards.

Indiana State closed the season with a school record nine victories and the Salukis went on to capture the 1983 NCAA I-AA Championship with easy wins in the semifinal and final games.

1984 QUARTERFINALS

Memorial Stadium (Terre Haute, IN)

Middle Tennessee State 42, Indiana State 41 (3 OT)

Indiana State came back from a 21-point first quarter deficit and tied the game at 21 all with a two-point conversion in the fourth quarter to end regulation knotted with the Blue Raiders.

The wild NCAA quarterfinal went to three overtimes with the two teams trading TDs in the first 2 OTs and in the third, ISU went for the win after its TD and attempted a two-point conversion try that failed.

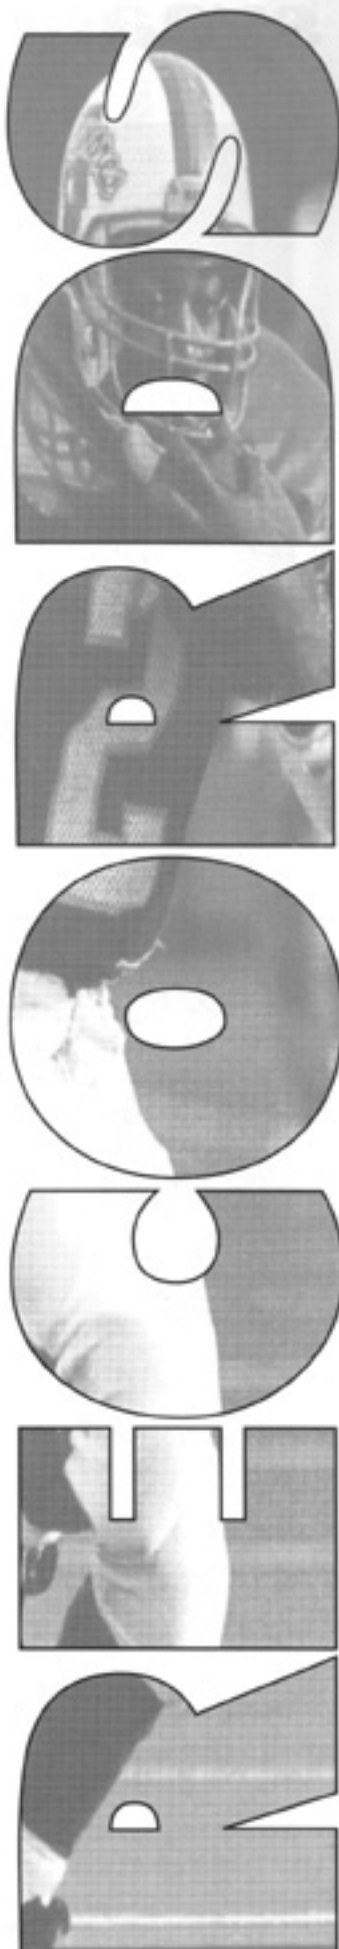

The game ended an outstanding 1984 season which saw the Sycamores as the nation's No. 1 team for much of the campaign, ending with a school record-tying 9-3 record.

Indiana State University, home of the Sycamores, is located in Terre Haute, Indiana (population 60,000) in the heart of mid-America. Its urban campus has been transformed with pedestrian brick walkways and landscaped open areas replacing streets and outdated buildings.

Founded in 1865 as a training school for teachers, ISU enrolled its first 21 students in 1870. Today — three name changes later — the University offers its 11,000 students more than 160 degree programs through the College of Arts and Sciences and the Schools of Business; Education; Technology; Graduate Studies; Nursing; and Health and Human Performance. Degrees are awarded at associate, baccalaureate, master's, educational specialist and doctoral levels.

In addition, ISU offers a variety of non-credit courses, cultural and recreational opportunities, and diversified workshops, seminars and conferences.

Characterized by small classes, Indiana State has a faculty and staff committed to a personal approach to higher education. And nine out of 10 classes are taught by full-time professors.

ISU's 70,000 alumni occupy positions of leadership in education, business, industry, government and public service.

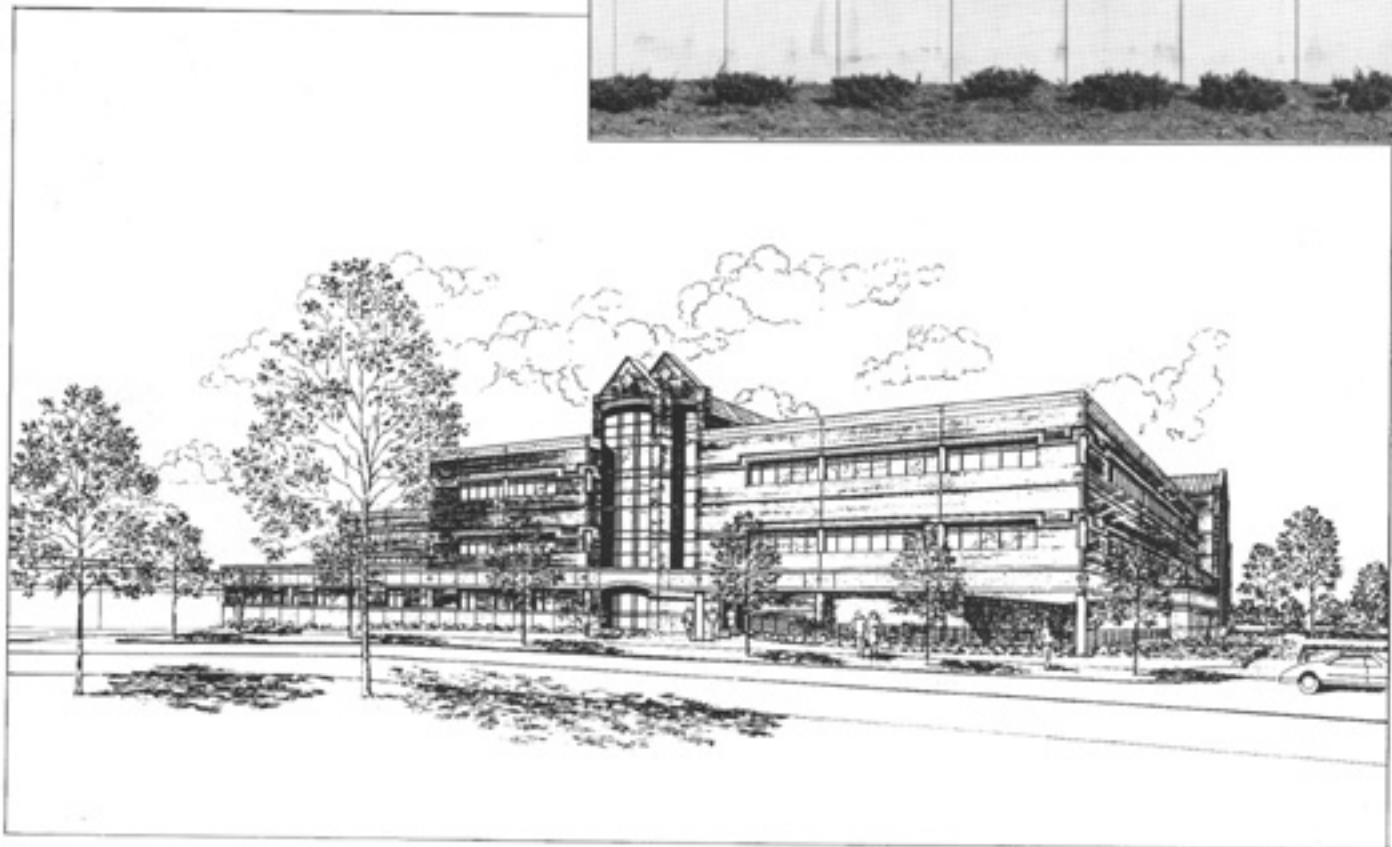

More than 60 buildings, plazas and walkways comprise the main campus on 90 acres adjacent to the Terre Haute business district. In addition, the University maintains family housing units on a 15-acre site one mile south of the main campus and a 20,500-seat football and athletic facility two miles to the east. The 35-acre river campus located along the Wabash is the site of the Ukrainian outstanding baseball program.

The campus is continually changing, with two facilities — the Music Rehearsal Hall and the Technology Center — currently under construction. The music building will feature a rotunda lobby with a 175-seat recital hall, rehearsal rooms, teaching studios and an art gallery. The technology structure, with 35 state-of-the-art laboratories and a 100-seat multimedia room, will have a skylit, three-story atrium as its major design feature. Both are scheduled for completion in 1997.

Cunningham Memorial Library houses more than 2 million books, periodicals, documents and audiovisual and microfilm items; it also is a government depository containing more than 100,000 government documents. The Rare Books

The new Technology Center is scheduled for completion in 1997. It will hold 35 state-of-the-art laboratories and a 100-seat multimedia room, will have a skylit, three-story atrium as its major design feature.

Dede Plaza is one of the gathering places for students which is outside the Hulman Memorial Student Union.

and Special Collections section houses the Eugene V. Dede papers, early Indiana textbooks and one of the largest early dictionary collections in the world. An interlibrary loan service and several database searching units also are available.

Hulman Center, completed in 1973, probably is best known as the arena basketball star Larry Bird played in during his college career. Its versatility also provides an ideal location for conferences, conventions, concerts, banquets, stage shows and other services.

Hulman Memorial Student Union became the hub of campus upon its completion in 1991. Students gather by the attractive outdoor plaza and its circular fountain. The soothing sounds of cascading water set the tone for the activity that takes place in the renovated nine-story building.

Within its walls, the Dede Activity Center provides meeting space as well as recreational and fitness opportunities while a variety of retail services and food is available in The Commons — from favorite fast-food franchises and sit-down restaurant to a bookstore, bank and convenience store.

Tilson Auditorium, located in Tiley Hall, houses the Terre Haute Symphony Orchestra and the University's Convocation Series, which brings touring Broadway productions and other entertainment to campus. The former union building also has a recital hall which features weekly concerts by University faculty and students.

The New Theater offers a modern "in-the-round" setting for year-round dramatic presentations. ISU's successful SummerStage program has provided excellent entertainment for more than 30 years. The Dreiser Theater, located in Dreiser Hall, provides a proscenium stage for more traditional performances.

For more than a century and a quarter, Indiana State has played an important role in Indiana's public service. Today, ISU makes a number of contributions to economic development locally, regionally and nationally.

The Technology Services Center in the School of Technology contracts with small- and medium-sized manufacturing companies to facilitate technology transfer to increase productivity and improve competitiveness.

The Center for Research and Management Services in the School of Business contracts with businesses throughout Indiana to provide targeted industry studies, applied research, consultation and training. A Small Business Development Center is part of the larger center.

The Interdisciplinary Center for Cell Products and Technology focuses on areas concerned directly with biotechnology, its commercialization and its social and ethical implications.

Also on campus is the Indiana Institute on Recycling, the country's first state-created institute charged with developing effective voluntary recycling programs.

this is terre haute

Terre Haute is the center of the United States. Literally! More than half the population of the United States live within a 500-mile radius of Terre Haute, and the city is circled by a number of metropolitan areas. Indianapolis is only 68 miles away; Louisville, 196 miles; and Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati are all within 180 miles.

Terre Haute is located along the western edge of Indiana and is supplied with an efficient network of highways, which have contributed to the city's official designation as the "Crossroads of America."

Terre Haute is a city of 59,196 people, located in West-Central Indiana. Terre Haute has over 1,716 hotel rooms in 19 hotels, 125 or so restaurants, 14 movie screens in four theaters; 90 bowling lanes, 60 tennis courts, approximately 1.8 million volumes of books in five libraries (and the world's largest collection of English language dictionaries), and the nation's first and largest compact disc manufacturing facility.

A town for all seasons, Terre Haute is a community with big-city advantages, a small-town touch and a distinct personality. It can be energetic or easy-going. You can dress up for dinner and the symphony or go casual for hot dogs on the grill. Densely forested hills and urban skylines along with gracious old neighborhoods and modern suburbs truly make Terre Haute a city of contrasts.

The Terre Haute and Vigo County parks and recreational facilities offer an array of activities such as swimming, hiking, fishing, boating, golfing, tennis and even ice skating.

Festivals abound in this area, from the city's Ethnic Festival and Vigo County's Pioneer Days to those in the area, including the Parke County Covered Bridge Festival, the Cory Apple Festival, the Fontanet Bean Dinner, and Sullivan's Corn Festival. Terre Haute has several points of interest, including historical landmarks and museums, plus a planetarium. Of particular interest are the Children's Science and Technology Museum, the Historical Museum of the Wabash Valley and the Dobbs Park Nature Center.

In addition to Indiana State, Terre Haute is home to four other higher education institutions—Indiana Vocational Technical College, Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology, St. Mary-of-the-Woods College, and Indiana Business College.

The history of Terre Haute, like that of any other Indiana community, can be traced through its roads, waterways, people, and natural resources. The city is built on a high bluff on the east bank of the Wabash River. The 18th-century French maps called this location "terre haute," meaning "high land."

A variety of national figures have called Terre Haute their home, among them Eugene

The Vigo County Courthouse is a French, Neo-Baroque building completed in 1888, four years after its cornerstone was laid. Still in daily operation, it houses the county courts, voters' registration, County Clerk's and other offices.

V. Debs, early labor leader and five-time presidential candidate; Paul Dresser, composer of the Indiana state song, "On the Banks of the Wabash;" his brother, Theodore Dreiser, who wrote "An American Tragedy" and other early 20th-century novels; poet Max Ehrmann, best known for his work "Desiderata;" Edward James Royce, who became the fifth president of Liberia; and actor-musician Scatman Crothers. Tony Hulman, Jr., had a powerful impact on the Terre Haute community. The Hulman Family still owns and operates the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Terre Haute has also seen its share of quality athletes and coaches, including basketball's Larry Bird, John Wooden, Clyde Lovellette and Bobby Leonard; baseball's "Three-Fingered" Mordakai Brown, Tommy Johnson and Dizzy Trout; and Olympians Greg Bell (track), Kurt Thomas (gymnastics), and Bru Baumgartner (wrestling).

memorial stadium

Standing at its present site since 1924, and acquired by Indiana State University in 1967, Memorial Stadium is the home of Sycamore Football. The 20,500-seat structure is located at the corner of Wabash and Brown Avenues in Terre Haute.

The stadium has been kept in excellent shape through the years and its latest addition was a $400,000 All-Pro Turf surface installed prior to the 1989 season.

Memorial Stadium is not new to synthetic surfaces though, as the stadium and ISU claim distinction as the world's first university to own and make outdoor application of AstroTurf. Following the University's acquisition of the Stadium, ISU opened the 1967 season with a 41-6 win over Eastern Illinois in the first game played on the new surface. The AstroTurf at Memorial Stadium was similar to the indoor turf at the Houston Astrodome which saw the first college game ever played on the artificial surface in 1966 between Houston and Washington State.

Advantages to using synthetic surfaces include durability (some 15 college and high school football games are played on the surface each year in addition to daily ISU practices), a constant surface, and sure footing regardless of weather. The All-Pro Turf is also designed to provide more cushion and reduce injuries.

Memorial Stadium was dedicated to the public for the first time on May 5, 1925 as the local minor league baseball team, the Terre Haute Tots, played the Peoria Tractors before an estimated crowd of 9,000. Among the honored guests were Major League Baseball Commissioner Judge Kennesaw Mountain Landis and Charles Barnard of the Cleveland Indians front office.

The first use of the playing field was in the fall of 1924 when Wiley and Garfield High Schools played their traditional Thanksgiving Day game.

Original construction of Memorial Stadium was begun in 1922 at a cost of $450,000. Upon the University gaining control in 1967, a three-part renovation project was started which included: the re-orientation of the playing field from a north-south direction to its present east-west configuration; the installation of AstroTurf; and the construction of some 4,500 bleacher seats on the north side of the field as well as the rebuilding of seats on the south side.

No one has taken better advantage of Memorial Stadium than current ISU coach Dennis Raetz. His Sycamore teams have posted a 62-24-1 mark for a .721 winning percentage in the friendly confines of Memorial Stadium. Raetz and Co. are even better under the lights at the Stadium where he boasts a 30-4-1 mark for an .871 mark.
