FIRST AND 10

THE SERIES — Saturday's game will be the first football meeting between these two schools.

LAST GAME — Tech and Indiana State had different results in their latest games. Tennessee State defeated the Golden Eagles, 41-21, in Tucker Stadium last Saturday. Indiana State captured its first victory of the season, a 70-7 trouncing of Quincy in Terre Haute in the team's home opener two weeks ago. Quarterback Mike Perrish threw for 379 yards as ISU piled up 671 yards of offense. Twelve different receivers caught passes.

OUT OF THE LEAGUE — The game is Tech's final non-conference game of 2013.

VALLEY vs. VALLEY — The Golden Eagles are 6-14 all-time against teams currently in the Missouri Valley Football Conference. Tech is 5-11 against Youngstown State (which used to be a member of the OVC), 1-1 against South Dakota, and 0-2 against Illinois State. Tech has not played a member of the MVFC since 1996, when first-year TTU coach Mike Hennigan's team dropped a 26-19 contest at Illinois State. The Sycamores are 49-58-4 all-time against current membership of the OVC. ISU has not played an OVC foe since a 2009 game against Eastern Illinois.

ANOTHER FIRST-YEAR COACH — For the third time in the first five games, the Golden Eagles face a coach who is in his first season at the school. Both Cumberland and Wisconsin featured first-year coaches, while Indiana State is under the direction of Mike Sanford in his first season at the helm.

PAYTON AWARD WATCH LIST — Indiana State senior Shakir Bell is one of 20 FCS student-athletes nationally to be named to the 2013 Walter Payton Award Watch List by The Sports Network. The Walter Payton Award is given annually to the top offensive player in FCS Football. This marks the third consecutive season in which Bell has appeared on The Walter Payton Award Watch List. Bell finished tied for second in the voting back in 2011 when he became the first Indiana State Sycamore to be invited to the FCS Awards Presentation in Frisco, Texas. Last season, Bell finished 12th overall and was the second leading vote getter.

BROTHER ACT — Watson Brown and his younger brother, Mack, the head coach of the Texas Longhorns, are now seven combined victories away from breaking the record for most wins by brothers in Division I college coaching. Watson and Mack have combined for 356 total victories. The record of 362 is held by Vince and Bill Dooley.

THE SENIOR CLASS — The 2013 senior class lists 12 players (literally from A to Z), including a few fifth-year seniors and one graduate student (James Normand, who received his degree in May, completing his undergraduate work in three years). Tech's senior class includes, in alphabetical order: Blake Adams, Bud Golden, Jordan Johnson, Jerry King, Cory McDonald, Seth McDonald, Malcolm Mitchell, Lamar Moore, James Normand, Wesley Sherrill, Zach Ziegler, and Chad Zinchini. The group is featured on the front cover of the Lineup Magazine, the free, in-stadium souvenir program of Golden Eagle football.

EIGHT FIRST-TIMERS — Seven players made the first start of their Golden Eagle careers against Cumberland. One more was a first-time starter against Wisconsin and two were in the starting lineup at Hampton for the first time in their careers, giving Tech 10 first-time starters so far this season. On offense, first-time starters against Cumberland included Matt Martin at left tackle, Randall Reeves at left guard, and Krys Cates at a receiver slot. First-time starters on defense were Avery Rollins at defensive end, Midoho Okpokowuruk at outside linebacker, Jay Rudwall at linebacker, and Cory Webber at rover. In the Wisconsin game, Harison Reid made his first career start. At Hampton, the first-time starters were William Chatmon at left tackle and Jordan Patrick at defensive end.

TWO FULL-TIMERS — Only two of this year's starters were starters in all 11 games in 2012 — James Normand at center (although he started last year at guard), and linebacker Tra'Darius Goff.

ABOUT WATSON — Watson Brown's only concern in 2013 is to get his Golden Eagle team back to the top of the OVC standings. After guiding Tech to a tie for the OVC title in 2011, he watched as injuries and last-drive losses dropped his squad to the other end of the standings in 2012. So, returning to the top perch is the goal.

KEEPING UP WITH WATSON

Fans will have the chance to hear from Watson Brown on radio, television and webstream during the 2013 season, as well as in-person at the Weekly Insider's Lunch. Fans can participate by tweeting questions to The Watson Brown Show.

Weekly on TV and Internet:

The Watson Brown Show presented by IWC Cash & Carry will be streamed each week on the OVC Digital Network and via TTUsports.com. The show will air weekly on WCTE TV, Charter in the Cookeville region, and on cable stations in Lafayette and surrounding counties. The 30-minute show is hosted by Buddy Pearson. Fans are invited to tweet questions and comments.

Weekly Insider's Lunch:

Each Monday from 12-1 p.m., coach Watson Brown hosts the Insider's Lunch in the Eagles' Nest in the Eblen Center. The cost of the lunch is $10 each week, with the meal catered by Chartwell's. Fans must call in by Friday at noon to reserve a place at the lunch.

of everyone within the program. While he's not concerned with personal numbers, Brown should reach of a couple of impressive milestones in 2013. He will coach in his 300th game as a head coach, and he will chase a national record along with his brother, Texas head coach Mack Brown. The pair entered the year with 352 career victories, needing 11 more to surpass Vince and Bill Dooley (362 wins) to become the winningest brothers in college football history. Brown is in his 29th season as a Division I head coach (with previous stops at Austin Peay, Cincinnati, Rice, Vanderbilt and UAB). He was voted the OVC Coach of the Year and finished 11th in voting for the Liberty Mutual National FCS Coach of the Year in 2011, and was a finalist for the prestigious Eddie Robinson award, which honors the national coach of the year in the FCS. Watson was the third different Golden Eagle head football coach to earn OVC Coach of the Year honors, joining Don Wade (who won the honor in 1971, 1972 and 1975) and Jim Ragland (who won the award in 1992 and 1993).

ACADEMIC ALL-DISTRICT — Two current members of the squad have been named CoSIDA/Capital One Academic All-District during the past two years. In 2011, James Normand received the honor, while last year it was Stephen Bush.

GRAD STUDENTS — Three current Golden Eagles have already received their undergraduate degrees and are playing this year as graduate students. James Normand earned his degree in just over three years, while Zach Ziegler and Marty Jones took four seasons to complete their work.

PRESEASON ALL-OVC — Two Golden Eagles were named to the Preseason All-OVC team, selected by the conference coaches and SIDs. Meanwhile, two other preseason all-OVC teams listed several more Golden Eagles. The league's preseason all-OVC honors went to seniors Wesley Sherrill and Chad Zinchini. College Sports Madness named Zinchini, along with Austin Tallant, Ladarius Vanlier, Jordan Johnson, Cody Matthews and Bill Dillard. Phil Steele's Football named Tallant, Johnson, Zinchini, Dillard and Vanlier.

MORE PRESEASON NODS — Punter Chad Zinchini and returner Ladarius Vanlier were named to College Football Performance Awards (CFPA) Preseason Watch Lists.

ALL-AMERICA TEAMS — Punter Chad Zinchini was named to two preseason All-America squads, being tabbed by The Sports Network and Beyond Sports Network.

Notes on the OFFENSE

BELL RINGERS — Indiana State tailback Shakir Bell enters the game with 3,907 career rushing yards. Tennessee Tech doesn't have anybody with the experience to counter Bell's numbers. In fact, if you add up Tech's seven current running-backs and two quarterbacks, those nine Golden Eagles combine for 2,472 career rushing yards, or 1,435 yards less than Bell alone. Here's a listing of Tech's career rushing yardage totals:

Ball Carrier	Yards
Darian Stone	768
Cody Forbes	431
Bud Golden	347
Zach Ziegler	281
Stephen Bush	244
Ladarius Vanlier	233
Radir Annoor	117
Isaiah McKinney	51
TOTAL YARDS	2,472

MOVING THE BALL — The Golden Eagle offense racked up 505 yards in the season opener against Cumberland, marking the sixth time in Watson Brown's TTU career that Tech has eclipsed that plateau. Last year, Tech churned out 575 yards of offense against UT Martin, the most in Brown's tenure at Tech. Earlier last year, Tech had 560 yards of total offense at Southeast Missouri and 548 yards against Hampton, giving the team three 500-yard games last season.

SIX OVER 500 — The Golden Eagles never reached the 500-yard mark in Watson Brown's first four seasons, but hit that mark twice during the championship season in 2011, three times in 2012 and once so far in 2013. Tech's 500-yard efforts under coach Watson Brown:

575 yards vs. UT Martin (Nov. 10, 2012)
566 yards vs. Maryville (Sept. 8, 2011)
560 yards vs. SEMO (Sept. 22, 2012)
548 yards vs. Hampton (Aug. 30, 2012)
511 yards vs. SEMO (Sept. 24, 2011)
505 yards vs. Cumberland (Aug. 29, 2013)

IN A RUSH — With five different ball carriers gaining 47 yards or more on the ground, the Golden Eagles rushed for 323 yards against Cumberland in the season opener. It was the third-highest rushing total in Watson Brown's time at Tech. The only two higher totals came during the 2011 season in which Tech claimed the OVC championship. Tech's top rushing games under Brown:

346 yards vs. Austin, Nov. 19, 2011
342 yards vs. Maryville, Sept. 8, 2011
323 yards vs. Cumberland, Aug. 29, 2013
298 yards vs. UT Martin, Nov. 10, 2012

A ROLLING STONE — Darian Stone returned this season as the starter at quarterback, a role he inherited for the final four games of the 2012 season. He finished the year strong, actually leading Tech in rushing yards with 553 on 89 carries (6.2 per try) and threw for 786 yards and 10 touchdowns. In the opener against Cumberland, Stone passed for 143 yards (8-for-11) with two touchdowns, and rushed for two touchdowns, getting 31 yards on eight carries. His four touchdowns responsible for is a career-high. He has now started eight games in his career.

WINNING DRIVE — Darian Stone directed Tech on a 96-yard, 10-play scoring drive at Hampton that proved to be the winning points when he connected with Cody Matthews on fourth-and-14 and the junior receiver outraced defenders to the end zone for a 30-20 lead. The drive began when Stone threw out of his own end zone and hit a sliding Matthews over the middle for a 28-yard pickup. Stone completed his first four passes on the drive, including a pair of nine-yard connections to Parker Teeter and Matthews. He also hit Matthews for an 18-yard first down. The drive was Tech's longest of the season, so far.

BIG GAME — Darian Stone was named the FCS National Offensive Player of the Week after his record-setting performance in Tech's 45-44 overtime win over UT Martin (Nov. 10, 2012). Stone tied the school record for most yards rushing by a quarterback, with 190 yards on 25 carries. He accounted for 467 yards of offense, the second-most in school history. After his team fell behind, 31-17, in the third quarter, Stone directed scoring drives of 80, 80, and 79 yards to lift the Golden Eagles to a 38-31 lead with 1:10 remaining. The third score was a 79-yard pass to Ryan Tilghman, the eighth-longest pass completion in school history. He was also named the OVC Offensive Player of the Week and earned honorable mention as National Quarterback of the Week from the College Football Performance Awards (CFPA).

SOLID AS A ROCK — Darian Stone

made his first career start in the game at Tennessee State (Oct. 27, 2012) and nearly led Tech to an improbable upset of the No. 21 Tigers. A week later, making his second career start, he nearly upset eventual league champion Eastern Illinois. At TSU, Stone passed for 77 yards and two touchdowns, and also rushed for 86 yards and one touchdown. Against EIU, Stone became only the second TTU quarterback to finish with 100+ yards rushing, leading the Golden Eagles with 119 yards on 20 carries. He was the first Tech signal-caller to rush for 100+ yards in 21 seasons, since Randy Beaman did it twice while directing the wishbone attack in 1991.

DRIVER'S SEAT — Darian Stone

has gotten Tech into the end zone almost every game, no matter who he faces. He has led the offense on scoring drives in 10 of the 13 games in which he has played, including both games as a red-shirt freshman in 2011. Stone directed Tech on its lone scoring drive at Iowa in the 2011 season opener, and a week later against Maryville. Last year, he came off the bench to direct the Golden Eagles on a touchdown drive at No. 4 Oregon, and in the game at Murray State. The only three games in which he didn't chalk up scores were against North Greenville and Eastern Kentucky, where he saw extremely limited action, and last week at No. 21 Wisconsin. Once he became a starter last year, he threw for eight touchdowns (and rushed for another) in the final four games.

a starter last year, Darian Stone passed for 752 yards and rushed for 497 yards. He averaged 124.5 rushing yards per game and 188 passing yards per contest. That adds up to 312.5 yards of total offense per game. Extended out over the season, his averages as a starter would have ranked him third in the league in both rushing and total offense, and eighth in passing.

NUMBER TWO — Redshirt freshman Jared Davis is the backup at quarterback, and has proven efficient in his limited action this season. In the last two games, he has directed four scoring drives for 24 points. After a redshirt season last year, Davis saw his first game action in the 2013 season opener (Aug. 29). His first collegiate pass (and only pass of the game) was a 39-yard touchdown to Colton Belew. At Hampton, he led Tech to a touchdown and field goal, all in the third quarter as Tech erased a 20-10 deficit and tied the game, 20-20. Against Tennessee State, Davis engineered a nine-play, 65-yard touchdown drive and a 10-play, 37-yard touchdown drive. He finished the game 7-for-14 for 74 yards and one touchdown.

CARRYING THE TORCH — Cody Forbes

has been Tech's starter in the backfield the past two games, and currently leads Tech in rushing with 187 yards on 45 carries, an average of 4.2 per carry and 46.8 yards per game. He opened the year with a career-high 69 yards on eight carries against Cumberland, then raised that barrier against Hampton when he rushed for 73 yards on 19 carries (both career-high numbers). Forbes is the leading rusher among the runningbacks on Tech's 2013 roster with 431 career yards.

MOVING VAN(LIER) — Against Hampton, sophomore Ladarius Vanlier got his first start of the season at the "A" runningback position, and finished the game with 146 all-purpose yards. As a true freshman, Vanlier had 17 carries for 109 yards. In the opener against Cumberland, Vanlier had 51 yards in just two carries (25.5 yards per carry), including a 52-yard touchdown romp, the first rushing TD of his career. He currently ranks third on the team with 124 rushing yards.

AND MCKINNEY, TOO — True freshman Isaiah McKinney made his collegiate debut against Cumberland when he rushed for 47 yards on seven carries, an average of 6.7 per carry. He bulled his way into the end zone for a seven-yard TD in the fourth quarter for Tech's final score of the night.

CAREER NIGHT — Cody Matthews

caught a career-high nine passes against Hampton, and posted the second 100-yard game of his career with 114 yards. He caught a 32-yard touchdown pass from Darian Stone with 4:09 to play which proved to be the winning points. Matthews has 13 catches for 173 yards and two touchdowns to lead Tech this season.

TIMES TWO — Cody Matthews

ranked second among Tech's receivers last year in receptions (28), yards (477), and touchdowns (4). In the opener against Cumberland, he led Tech with three catches for 47 yards, including a sensational 26-yard TD grab pinned against the sidelines in the end zone. Matthews made quite an impression in the last few weeks of the 2011 season, and finished his rookie year with 12 catches for 169 yards and three touchdowns. At Murray State last year, he chalked up his first 100-yard game, grabbing three passes for 119 yards and a TD. His per-catch average of 17 yards was the second-highest on the team. In the past two-plus years he has 53 catches for 827 yards and nine scores.

YOUNG...AND EXPERIENCED — In addition to Matthews, the depth chart lists seven receivers, five of whom have seen action but none more than a sophomore. Backing Matthews at the "W" spot is true freshman Maleek Hall. At the inside receiver position, the depth chart includes sophomores Krys Cates, Neil Gannaway and Steve Wilson. At the outside receiver, the depth chart features sophomores Jordan Smith and Eric Belew and redshirt freshman Colton Belew.

FIRST-TIMERS — Redshirt freshman Colton Belew and true freshman Maleek Hall each hauled in their first career touchdown against Cumberland. Hall opened the scoring with a diving catch of a 16-yard toss from Darian Stone. Belew's was a 39-yard pass from Jared Davis. Redshirt freshman Krys Cates didn't get into the end zone, but he led Tech with 63 receiving yards on two catches.

ZACH ATTACK — Senior Zack Ziegler led Tech with five catches for 43 yards against Tennessee State.

A TIGHT SHIP — Sophomore Parker Teeter had four catches for 37 yards at Hampton, the most catches by a Golden Eagle tight end since Beau Fullerton caught five passes for 64 yards against Samford on Nov. 1, 2003. Teeter has already grabbed seven catches for 53 yards this season.

985 POUNDS OF MOVERS — In short yardage situations, the Golden Eagles have employed four tight ends for added muscle, including freshman Britton Woodall, freshman Dametris Watson, sophomore Parker Teeter and senior DeJuan Brown.

FRONT MEN — A pair of seniors (James Normand and Wesley Sherrill) headline the offensive front line for the Golden Eagles, and each went through a position change during the preseason. Normand starts at center, the spot he manned when he first arrived at Tech. He has also played both guard and tackle. Sherrill, meanwhile, was planning a move from tackle to guard, but has moved back to the starting spot at right tackle.

NOT NORMAL — Senior center James Normand scored Tech's first touchdown against Tennessee State, recovering a fumble by Darian Stone in the end zone. It was his first career touchdown (did we really need to say that?).

SIZING IT UP — In addition to the two seniors in the starting lineup (above), Tech's offensive line includes two juniors (Randall Reeves and Matthew Smith), three sophomores (Jibrin Linge, Justin Ivory and Brett Dillard) and three redshirt freshmen (Matt Martin, William Chatmon and J.T. Rankin). Chatmon made his first career start at Hampton, filling in for injured starter Matt Martin.

Notes on the DEFENSE

SWARMING DEFENSE — In the season opener against Cumberland, 32 different players were credited with tackles. The Golden Eagles had 105 total tackles including 12 tackles-for-loss, three quarterback sacks and two interceptions. Tech limited the Bulldogs to just 179 yards of offense, including just 51 passing yards.

SHUTTING DOWN THE RUN — Tech's defense completely shut down the run against Hampton, limiting the Pirates to 55 total yards on the ground on 29 carries. Tech had nine tackles-for-loss for 26 yards. Against Tennessee State, bolstered by solid play from the defensive line, Tech held the Tigers to 95 rushing yards on 36 attempts with 7.5 tackles-for-loss. Those two games marked the 10th and 11th times under Watson Brown that Tech has held an opponent under 100 rushing yards, and the first since limiting Eastern Illinois to minus six rushing yards on Sept. 17, 2011.

AN EYE FOR TALLANT — In just two-plus seasons, Austin Tallant has racked up 203 career tackles, tops among all active Golden Eagles. After leading the team with 92 as a true freshman, he ranked second on the squad with 94 last year. He was named to the OVC All-Newcomer team following the 2011 season, in which he stepped into the starting role after Marty Jones was injured on the first play of the opening game at Iowa. This season, he has 14 tackles and one interception.

BIG NUMBERS — Austin Tallant made a career-high 17 tackles against both Jacksonville State and Eastern Kentucky, and added 10 more stops in each of the final three games of the year against Eastern Illinois, UT Martin and Austin Peay. He has hit double figures in tackles 10 times in his career. At SEMO, he nabbed his first career interception, a pick at the Tech goal line to thwart a first quarter drive. He had 11 stops against North Greenville. He also pulled down an interception against the No. 21 Wisconsin Badgers. This season he has 17 total tackles.

FILLING HOLES — Tra'Darius Goff led Tech in total tackles in 2012 with 101, the first Tech tackler to top 100 since Corey Reed in 2008. Goff made a career-best 15 stops against Eastern Kentucky, 14 against UT Martin, and 12 against Eastern Illinois and Jacksonville State. He also had 10 stops against North Greenville, and last week chalked up 11 tackles, giving him six double-digit games. He had nine stops and blocked a kick at No. 4 Oregon. This season, he is second on the team with 27 tackles.

NO SURPRISE — Tra'Darius Goff's success comes as no surprise. He enjoyed phenomenal success in Tech's Tucker Stadium in December of 2010 during the TSSAA Football State Championships (hosted by Cookeville and Tech). Goff led his Columbia Central squad to the state championship and was named both the Offensive MVP and the Defensive MVP in the title game. A runningback and linebacker in high school, Goff moved into a starting role at linebacker last season after seeing action in a backup role as a freshman. In just two-plus seasons, Goff has piled up 127 career tackles, and ranks fourth among all active players in total tackles.

J.J. IN THE MIDDLE — Jordan Johnson recorded a career-high seven tackles against Tennessee State, including two tackles-for-loss. He is tops among Tech's defensive linemen with 17 tackles this season, and has 82 career stops. He is tops among all active players in career tackles-for-loss with 10.5.

THE MITCHELL PLAN — Malcolm Mitchell leads the team this season in both quarterback sacks (3.0) and tackles-for-loss (4.5). Mitchell is tops among active players with 4.5 quarterback sacks, and ranks second on the team in career tackles-for-loss with 7.5. Mitchell returned to his starting spot at the "bear" linebacker position where he started the final six games of 2012. He had two tackles-for-loss and one QB sack at No. 21 Wisconsin. In the season opener, Mitchell had four tackles including 1.5 tackles-for-loss. He sacked the Cumberland quarterback and forced a fumble on the play. He finished the 2012 season with 44 tackles, ranking second on the squad among defensive linemen. He posted a career-high eight tackles against Jacksonville State and seven against Eastern Illinois. Mitchell transferred to Tech from Louisville a year ago, and is one of two FBS transfers on the roster (along with RB Bud Golden from Illinois). Mitchell was a high school teammate of Jerry King and Blake Adams, and a quarterback's nightmare during his days on the defensive line at Dunwoody High School in Atlanta. Mitchell appeared in 11 games at defensive end for the University of Louisville over two years. He recorded one touchdown for the Cardinals on a 36-yard fumble return.

WELCOME BACK — Marty Jones leads the Golden Eagles in tackles this season with 28 total stops, including 10 at Wisconsin, seven at Hampton and eight against Tennessee State. Jones has gone through two tough seasons, missing all but the opening play of 2011, and seeing action in a little more than one game last year. In both cases, injuries sidelined him for the year. This season, he is back and showing leadership and the ability to return to his dominating role as the starter at free safety. In 29 career games, Jones has 173 total tackles to rank second among all active players (behind Austin Tallant). After making 43 tackles as a true freshman in 2009, he stopped the ball carrier 87 times in 2010. He had 15 tackles in just five quarters last year when he was injured, including 13 in the opening-day win over Hampton, one shy of his career-best (14 at Southeast Missouri). He now has six games with tackles in double digits. Jones is also the leader in career interceptions on the team with six, including four as a sophomore in 2010.

NUMBER 33/44 — Sophomore Jay Rudwall (33) and senior Blake Adams (44) have each started games this season at an inside linebacker position, and are splitting playing time. Rudwall appeared in eight games last year as a true freshman and finished the year with 13 total tackles. In the 2012 season opener against Hampton, Rudwall made six tackles in his first collegiate game. In this year's season opener, he matched his career-high with six tackles against Cumberland and had five against TSU. Adams has made 123 career tackles in 36 games.

GRILLING THEM — In two-plus seasons, Cory Webber has made 71 career tackles and recovered two fumbles. This season, making his first career start, he had five tackles and picked off his first career interception against Cumberland. He had six stops at No. 21 Wisconsin and five more against both Hampton and TSU. He closed the 2011 season strong, averaging 8.0 tackles per game over the final four contests. Last year, injuries kept him from full-time action, but this fall he is fully recovered and has vaulted into the starting spot at the rover position. He had career-highs of eight tackles against both Murray State and Eastern Kentucky in 2011, and added six against Austin Peay and seven against Central Arkansas to close the campaign. Last year, his season-high was four tackles at Murray State.

OVER ON THE CORNER — Demario Donnell and James Huguely are starting at the corners. Against Wisconsin, Huguely made eight tackles, including a pair of touchdown-saving stops. Against Tennessee State, Donnell had seven tackles. Huguely has 19 total tackles this season and Donnell has 17 stops.

CALL HIM BILL — As a true freshman, Bill Dillard was all over the field and ranked fifth on the team in total tackles with 73. This season he ranks third on the team with 22 stops through four games. Against Eastern Kentucky last year, he made a career-best 16 tackles. He made 56 tackles in the last six games to average 9.3 per game. He topped Tech at Hampton with eight tackles.

GETTING MOORE — Senior Lamar Moore started four games last season on the defensive line and tied for second on the team in quarterback sacks with 1.5. At No. 21 Wisconsin, he got the starting nod once again and has remained in the starting lineup for the past three games. Against TSU, he had four tackles including 1.5 tackles-for-loss. Moore had a solid effort at Tennessee State in 2012 in his first career start, where he took over for the injured Jordan Johnson. Moore had four total tackles, including a tackle-for-loss, and recovered a fumble. He had a similar outing against UT Martin, making a career-best six tackles. He finished with 30 total tackles and recovered two fumbles.

Notes on the SPECIAL TEAMS

MANY HAPPY RETURNS — Ladarius Vanlier had an 80-yard kickoff return which may have turned the tide in Tech's 30-27 win at Hampton. Trailing 20-10, he returned the kick all the way to the Pirates' 19-yard line, and Tech took it in for a touchdown four plays later to start a 20-point stretch for the visitors. He leads the team and ranks fourth in the OVC with 499 all-purpose yards, an average of 124.8 yards per game. He has 124 rushing yards, two receiving, 113 on punt returns and 260 on kick returns.

NATIONAL HONORS — Ladarius Vanlier on a pair of honors after the opener against Cumberland, being named as the OVC co-Special Teams Player of the Week and a CFPA National Punt Return Performer of the Week. Vanlier touched the ball just four times and accounted for 188 all-purpose yards, all before halftime. He had two carries for 51 yards, including a 52-yard touchdown run. As a return man, he brought the opening kickoff back 44 yards and in the second quarter, he picked up a bouncing punt at the seven and weaved his way through traffic for a 93-yard touchdown. It was his first career punt return for a touchdown, and Tech's first in 23 seasons.

WATCH THIS — Ladarius Vanlier was named to the College Football Performance Awards (CFPA) National Watch List of returners in 2013. Vanlier was also named preseason all-OVC by both College Sports Madness and Phil Steele's College Football. The speedy freshman was named the OVC Special Teams Player of the Week following Tech's game against Murray State, and also earned three national honors after his record-setting, all-purpose performance in which he broke two school records. Vanlier had 291 all-purpose yards in the game, the fourth-best single-game total in school history. He set the Tech and OVC record with 11 kickoff returns, and the TTU record with 239 yards on kick returns. That total included a 94-yard return for a touchdown, the sixth-longest in school history and first for Tech since 2008. Vanlier also had one punt return for 30 yards and four receptions for 24 yards.

BIG FOOT — Chad Zinchini not only leads the OVC, he ranks first nationally in punting average, at 48.2 yards per kick in 22 punts. He has 10 kicks of 50 yards or more, and has had seven of his 22 kicks downed inside the opponent 20-yard line. Zinchini was named OVC co-Special Teams Player of the Week and earned honorable mention CFPA Punter of the Week after his big game at No. 21 Wisconsin. Zinchini kicked nine times and averaged 50 yards, including a 70-yard bomb that he angled out of bounds inside the UW one-yard-line. He also had a 64-yard kick which tied his career-long, which he promptly broke in the third quarter. At Hampton, he had six punts and averaged 49.5 yards, and he averaged 45.7 against Tennessee State. He received honorable mention CFPA honors each of the past three weeks. Zinchini ranked first in the OVC in punting (most punts, most yards, highest average, most kicks inside the opponent 20, and most kicks of 50-yards or more), and was fourth in the nation (FCS) last year. This season, the senior received two preseason All-America labels and three different preseason all-OVC nods. He averaged 44.8 yards in 65 kicks last year, setting a school record for highest average. He has the most kicks over 50 yards (25) and the most punts downed inside the opponents' 20-yard line (19) in the league. Zinchini twice earned honorable mention as FCS Punter of the Week by the College Football Performance Awards (CFPA), and was chosen as the National Punter of the Week after his performance against Tennessee State when he set a school record by averaging 52.6 yards per kick.

OH, SNAP — Junior Ben Viaene, a transfer walk-on from Minnesota-Crookston, is handling the role of long snapper.

DOZEN POINTS — Zach Sharp scored 12 points at Hampton, including three field goals and three PATs. Sharp set the school record late last season for consecutive made PAT kicks (previous record was 46), and has now made 72 consecutive successful PATs. He was voted the OVC Special Teams Player of the Week last season after a perfect effort in the win over UT Martin. In addition to a 39-yard field goal, Sharp was 6-for-6 on his PAT attempts with his final point accounting for the eventual winning margin in overtime. Sharp was 6-for-11 on his FG tries and 46-for-46 in PAT kicks. He led Tech last season with 64 total points.

CLIMBING CHARTS — Zach Sharp is 18-for-30 on field goal tries and 105-for-106 on PAT kicks. He has scored 159 career points. During the 2013 preseason, he drilled a 52-yard field goal in Tech's final scrimmage. The longest official field goal of his TTU career is 49 yards, coming in the 2011 season. His longest last year was 39 yards.

RECORD KICKER x 2 — Zach Sharp broke the school record for most PAT kicks in a season with 46 in 2011, topping the previous mark of 42 set by Wayne Anderson in 1977. Last season, Sharp kicked the exact same number with 46 PATs. With 73 points as a freshman, Sharp came up just short of the school record for most points scored by kicking in a season (75, by Justin Kraemer in 2007).

BIG DAY — Zach Sharp was 4-for-5 on field goals against Tennessee State (Oct. 15, 2011) as a freshman. His four field goals were the second-most in school history, and his 16 points kicking was also the second-best game in school history. Sharp's effort included a career-long 49-yard field goal.

TWO BLOCKS — Tra'Darius Goff has blocked two kicks, one as a freshman and one as a sophomore. He rejected a field goal attempt at No. 4 Oregon last year. As a freshman, he blocked a punt by Eastern Kentucky midway in the third quarter which set up a 17-yard Tech scoring drive and gave the Golden Eagles a 21-14 lead.

ON THE BLOCK — Tech has blocked 19 kicks under Watson Brown. Tech's blocked kicks in the Brown years:

DURING 2012

Tra'Darius Goff (FG vs. Oregon)

Conor Sparkman (Punt vs. Eastern Kentucky)

DURING 2011

Stephen Bush (Punt vs. UT Martin)

Tra'Darius Goff (Punt vs. Eastern Kentucky)

One of the byproducts of a long and successful coaching career is a checklist of big numbers. Wins and losses. Players who receive their college degrees. Friendships, fans, and memories. All of those totals really begin to pile up.

For Watson Brown, entering his 41st season as a collegiate coach and his 29th as a head coach, many of those numbers are, quite simply, incredible.

In the coming season, Brown will be on the sidelines for his 300th game as a head coach. And, at some point in the season, Watson and his brother Mack, the head coach of the Texas Longhorns, will likely achieve a record by earning more Division I coaching victories by brothers than anybody in history.

The Brown brothers came into 2013 with 352 career combined victories. They now need nine to surpass the standing record of 362 held by Vince and Bill Dooley.

But, when Watson roams the sidelines this season, none of those personal milestones will be in his thoughts — he will be out to lead the Golden Eagles to their second Ohio Valley Conference championship in three years.

After guiding Tech to a share of the 2011 OVC title, his program hit a major detour in 2012 when injuries wiped out the roster. The veteran coach kept his program moving forward, and this year the Golden Eagles should reap the benefits — many, many players got to see game action last year in place of those who were injured.

Brown's staff has done a remarkable job in recruiting the past several years, and has raised the talent level walking the sidelines in Tucker Stadium. This year, the roster is loaded with promising talent.

Born and raised in Cookeville, Watson Brown came back home in 2007 to take the helm of the Golden Eagle program. Five years later, he led Tech to its first OVC title in 36 years.

The veteran coach has used an even-tempered approach to teach his young staff and players. The 2013 is his seventh season at the Tech helm.

Brown, 63, was named in December 2006 as the new head football coach of the Tennessee Tech University Golden Eagles. He returned to his hometown as the 10th head football coach in Tech history.

Brown has previously coached at two schools that are members of the Ohio Valley Conference, serving as head coach at Austin Peay for two years and assistant coach at Jacksonville State, then a Division II program, for two years.

Brown returned to the town where he was a talented baseball, football, and basketball player at Cookeville High School. He signed with Vanderbilt out of high school and was a standout quarterback for the Commodores from 1969-72. He is best remembered by many Commodore fans for leading Vandy to a 14-10 victory over Alabama in 1969. Brown was named the Sports Illustrated National Back of the Week for his efforts.

In his stint as TTU head coach, Brown has worked hard in his effort toward rebuilding the Golden Eagles into Ohio Valley Conference champions and has had the support of the community and the Upper Cumberland Region. A popular speaker, Brown has addressed numerous clubs and organizations throughout the region during his time at Tech.

Raising the talent level at Tech is a key step in taking the Golden Eagles to a conference championship. It's a step that Brown is familiar with — after all, working to build struggling programs has been a calling card for Watson Brown.

The remarkable growth of the UAB program under Brown's guidance was a major factor in UAB's entry into Conference USA play in 1999. That year for their C-USA debut, the Blazers recorded a 5-6 overall record against a brutal all I-A schedule, finishing in a four-way tie for second place with a 4-2 league record.

Under Brown, UAB was bowl-eligible three times in seven seasons and in 2004 attained their previously elusive first bowl invitation with a trip to Honolulu to play in the Sheraton Hawai'i Bowl.

A proven veteran in the coaching profession, Brown is known as one of the best offensive minds in football.

He made his head coaching debut in 1979 in the Ohio Valley Conference directing the Austin Peay Governors, and at age 29, he was one of the youngest head coaches in the nation. He posted 7-4 records in both 1979 and 1980, twice being runner-up for Ohio Valley Conference Coach of the Year honors.

Brown began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Vanderbilt in 1973 and was a full-time assistant coach for the first time in 1974 as Pat Dye's quarterback and receiver coach at East Carolina. The Pirates were 7-4 in 1974 and 8-3 in 1975, posting victories over several Atlantic Coast Conference opponents.

Brown was the offensive coordinator at Jacksonville State University in 1976 and 1977 (at the time JSU was a Division II program, and currently is a member of the OVC). During those two seasons, the Gamecocks finished 7-4 and 11-3, and played for the Division II national championship in 1977.

Brown was the quarterbacks and receivers coach at Texas Tech in 1978, where the Red Raiders posted a 7-4 record in what was supposed to be a rebuilding year.

While serving as offensive coordinator at Vanderbilt for two seasons (1981-82), Brown's offense set 57 school records and the Commodores posted an 8-3 record and made a Hall of Fame Bowl appearance (1982).

In 1983, Brown was head coach at Cincinnati, where he led the Bearcats to a season-opening 14-3 victory at defending national champion Penn State. He ranks that road victory as one of the most memorable in his long coaching career.

Before coaching at Vanderbilt, Brown was athletic director and head football coach at Rice (1984-85). He led the Owls to two of their best offensive seasons.

From 1986-90, Brown was the head coach at Vanderbilt, his alma mater. In 1991 and 1992, Brown was the offensive coordinator at Mississippi State under head coach Jackie Sherrill. During those two seasons, the Bulldogs posted a 14-10 record, made two bowl appearances and upset three nationally-ranked opponents.

Prior to going to UAB, Brown was the offensive coordinator at the University of Oklahoma (1993-94).

Coaching is a big part of Brown's family. His brother Mack Brown is the head coach at Texas and won a national championship with the Longhorns. His grandfather, Eddie "Jelly" Watson, was a legendary prep football coach, compiling a 106-51-13 record at Cookeville High School.

Watson's brother, Mel, resides in Cookeville. Watson Brown is married to the former Brenda Arnold, and they have two children; daughter Ginny, who was a four-year letterwinner at Georgia State University (1996-00), and a son Steven, who was a wide receiver/quarterback for the Golden Eagles in 2007 and has joined his father's coaching staff. After filling a role as a graduate assistant coach in 2008, Steven is now an assistant coach and the team's offensive coordinator.

Watson Brown is Tech's 10th head football coach since 1922, joining the ranks of Loyall Duck, Putty Overall, Hooper Eblen, Star Wood, Wilburn Tucker, Don Wade, Gary Darnell, Jim Ragland, and Mike Hennigan.

Brown's many achievements as a student-athlete and later as a coach in the state of Tennessee have not gone unnoticed. Six years ago he was inducted into the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame.

In 2010, the National Football Foundation recognized Watson by selecting him as the recipient of the Roy Kramer Contribution to Football Award.

Friendly Reminder: It's FCS

Just a reminder to refer to the NCAA division in which the Golden Eagles compete as Division I, FCS (Football Championship Subdivision). Formerly called I-AA, the names changed to reflect that Tech and the Ohio Valley Conference are NCAA Division I programs which will compete for the national championship in a post-season playoff. The other Division I subdivision, formerly Division I-A, is called the Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS), reflecting the Division I teams that will not compete for a championship through the playoffs, but are eligible for post-season Bowl games.
