For Starters...

The SIU defense will have its hands full with ISU running back Shakir Bell, who averages better than 150 yards per game and has already broken Indiana State's school record for single-season rushing yards. The SIU defense only allows 124.5 yards rushing per game, which is 27th in a country. Only two rushers have gained 100 yards against SIU, but the Salukis lost both of those games. Twice this year, SIU has held the opposing team under 100 yards, going 1-1 in those games. Bell has only been held under 100 yards twice this season. He was held to 43 yards on 13 carries in the season opener against Penn State, and North Dakota State limited him to 81 yards on 16 carries. He was held to 123 yards against Illinois State and 131 yards. He rushed for at least 145 yards in every other game this season, including 145 yards on just 14 carries against Northern Iowa.

The Indiana State Sycamores

Indiana State secured its second straight winning season with last week's 28-20 victory over Missouri State. After dropping the season opener to Penn State, the Sycamores ran off four straight wins, but they dropped three out of four before last week's win. In wins, the Indiana State offense has been dominant, scoring an average of 40 points per game. In the losses, ISU averages just 11.5 points per game. The Sycamores are led by fourth-year head coach Trent Miles. After winning just one game in his first two seasons, Miles has guided ISU to back-to-back six-win seasons. Last year, Miles became the first coach in the history of the school to win MVFC Coach of the Year honors.

Record-setting running back Shakir Bell leads the ISU offense. Bell, a sophomore, leads the nation in rushing by 20 yards per game and averages 7.4 yards per rush. Bell is coming off a 206-yard performance against Missouri State, pushing his season total to 1,533 yards, the most in Indiana State history. Since the season opening game against Penn State, Bell has been held under 100 yards only once, against North Dakota State. He has been over 195 yards five times. Ronnie Fouch leads the Sycamore passing attack. Fouch has thrown for 1,769 yards, 16 touchdowns and eight interceptions.

Defensively, Ben Obaseki has 13.5 tackles for loss and 7.5 sacks, along with nine quarterback hurries. Three players have more than 100 tackles on the year, Aaron Archie, Jacolby Washington and Alex Sewall. Obaseki and Sewall are two of four Sycamores to be named MVFC Defensive Player of the Week during the season.

SIU vs. ISU - The Series

Southern Illinois and Indiana State played their first contest in 1944. This year's matchup will be the 49th meeting between the schools. After Indiana State won nine straight meetings from 1994 to 2002, the Salukis have reeled off eight straight wins, all of them in decisive fashion. The closest game since the winning streak started was a 42-20 win in 2005, and SIU has won the last eight games by an average of 40 points per game. After the loss to Western Illinois broke a nine-game winning streak against the Leathernecks,

Directions to Saluki Stadium

From the West...Take Interstate 64 East to Route 127 South (mile marker 50). Route 127 joins Route 13 at Pinckneyville (23 miles south of I-64). Take Route 13 into Carbondale. Make a right at US 51. Turn right on Saluki Boulevard. The stadium is on your right.

From the North and East...Take Interstate 57, exit at Marion and go west on Route 13. Stay on Route 13 until crossing the railroad tracks in downtown Carbondale. Make a left at US 51. Turn right on Saluki Boulevard. The stadium is on your right.

From the South...Take US Highway 51 North towards Carbondale. Make a left on Saluki Boulevard. The stadium is on your right.

Southern's longest winning streak against a single opponent is the eight-game stretch against the Sycamores.

Last year, SIU jumped out to a 21-0 lead, only to have Indiana State answer with 21 straight points of its own. The defense pitched a shutout in the second half and SIU went on to the rout, 49-21, on Senior Day in Carbondale. Chris Dieker led the way with 279 passing yards on just 19 throws, throwing four touchdowns to four different receivers. Steve Strother led the rushing attack with 73 yards, but it was Dieker who pounded in two additional rushing touchdowns.

Hampton earns MVFC Newcomer of the Week honors

Junior running back Jewel Hampton was named Missouri Valley Football Conference Newcomer of the Week after SIU's 45-28 win over Eastern Illinois. Hampton rushed for 110 yards and two touchdowns, and he added career highs with four receptions and 59 receiving yards.

Touchdowns, Season

1.) Arkee Whitlock, 2006	25
2.) Muhammad Abdulqadir, 2002	22
3.) Brandon Jacobs, 2004	19
4.) Deji Karim, 2009	18
5.) Karlton Carpenter, 1998	16
5.) Andre Herrera, 1976	16
7.) Jewel Hampton, 2011	15
8.) Arkee Whitlock, 2005	14
8.) Tom Koustos, 2003	14

Hampton has been one of the best newcomers in the conference. He leads the MVFC in touchdowns with 15, which also ranks seventh on SIU's single-season rushing touchdown list. He has six multiple-touchdown games this season, including each of the last three, and five 100-yard rushing performances. He set career highs with 167 yards on 28 carries against South Dakota State, and he had another career high with a 56-yard touchdown run. Only six other players in school history have recorded six 100-yard games in a season.

Hampton had 943 rushing yards this season, putting him just 57 yards shy of becoming the 19th player in school history to rush for 1,000 yards in a season. SIU had a player rush for 1,000 yards in every season from 1998-2009 but didn't have a player reach the milestone last year.

The Salukis have had a player honored by the conference after each win. After the season-opening win against SEMO, Jessy McMullin was named Offensive Lineman of the Week. After kicking the game-winning field goal against Missouri State, Jackson MacLachlan earned Special Teams Player of the Week honors.

Cole steps up

SIU senior Scott Cole is finishing his senior season strong. After recording 19 tackles in the season's first eight games, Cole has led the team in tackles in each of the last two games, picking up 17 tackles in the last two weeks. On Senior Day against Eastern Illinois, Cole tied a season high by any player with 3.0 tackles for loss, leading the way for 11.0 team tackles for loss. The 11.0 TFLs the team compiled are the most by SIU in two years.

Strother nearing kick return records

Steve Strother's 2011 kick return campaign might be one for the record books. Strother has six kick returns of 35 yards or more, and he's compiled 695 kickoff return yards, the second best single-season total in school history, just 61 yards from Craig Turner's record, set in 2007. His big 2011 campaign has pushed his career kickoff return yard total to 1,116. Strother is 32 yards away from moving into fourth in school history in career kick return yards.

KO Return Yards, Season

1.) Craig Turner, 2007	756
2.) Steve Strother, 2011	695
3.) Larry Warner, 2008	592
4.) Antonio Moore, 1987	562
5.) Billy Swaine, 1992	545

BLACK OUT CANCER FUNDS RAISED FROM JERSEYS:

$89,890

*Officials expect total to exceed $100,000

Six picks in last two weeks

SIU's defense struggled to get interceptions until the last two weeks. The Salukis only recorded four interceptions in the first eight games of the season, and three of those picks came in the Missouri State game. In each of the last two weeks, SIU has had three interceptions. Of the Salukis' 10 interceptions, nine have come in the three three-pick games. Since Lennon and defensive coordinator Bubba Schweigert came to Carbondale four years ago, SIU has recorded 10 three-interception games. The Salukis also had three three-interception games in 2009. The seven turnovers forced in the last two weeks have bumped SIU's turnover margin to +3 after spending most of the season with more turnovers than turnovers forced.

Black Out Cancer Game raises over $100,000 for cancer research

Senior safety Mike McElroy petitioned the NCAA to allow Southern Illinois to auction off the names on the backs of the jerseys for the Eastern Illinois game. After initially being rejected, McElroy personally hand wrote a letter to the NCAA and was granted a one-time waiver for the event. SIU raised private funds to buy the jerseys, and 80 bidders won the right to pick a name of a cancer victim or survivor for the back of their jersey. After the game, bidders will get their jersey to keep. Nearly 200 people bid on the 80 jerseys, with the top 80 bidders winning a jersey.

The winning bidders from the 80 jerseys totaled $89,890, and school officials expect donations to push the total over $100,000. All the proceeds go to the American Cancer Society and Coaches vs. Cancer. Some examples of bidders and the significance of the names on the jerseys are listed on page 7.

McElroy moves into fourth in school career interceptions

Mike McElroy picked off his first two passes of the season against South Dakota State. McElroy now has three two-interception games in his career. McElroy hadn't had an interception since the Illinois game in 2010, and the two picks moved him into fourth in school history in career interceptions. He is one interception shy of tying Corey Lindsey for third, with 14. Terry Taylor (20) and Greg Shipp (18) hold the top two spots.

SIU's All-Time Leaders in Career INTs

1.	Terry Taylor, 1980-83	20
2.	Greg Shipp, 1980-83	18
3.	Korey Lindsey, 2007-10	14
4.	Mike McElroy, 2007-Present	13
5.	Chuck Goro, 1967-69	12

7.	Donnell Daniel, 1982-83	11
7.	Oyd Craddock, 1976-79	11

Stats don't equal wins for Salukis

SIU has won most of the statistical battles in 2011. The Salukis are averaging more yards, first downs and time of possession than their opponents. SIU is +3 in turnover margin and converts third downs at a higher percentage than opponents. The Salukis have more sacks and fewer penalties, and they average nearly a yard better per rush. They have recorded more than 400 yards offense in seven games and time of possession in seven and held opponents under 320 yards of total offense five times.

Coming into the year, head coach Dale Lennon was 14-1 when SIU rushed for 200 yards; this year, SIU is 3-3 when it gets 200 yards rushing. Lennon started the year 16-1 when a player rushed for 100 yards in a game, but the Salukis are just 2-4 this year. The Salukis were a perfect 11-0 when holding an opponent to 10 points or fewer but lost to North Dakota State, 9-3, earlier in the year.

DiManche among top 20 in tackles for loss

With 1.5 tackles for loss against Illinois State, junior linebacker Jayson DiManche jumped into the top 20 in school history for career tackles for loss. DiManche leads the team with 10.5 tackles for loss in 2011--2.0 more than anyone else. He has 23.0 career tackles for loss, which puts him 19th on the career list. DiManche needs just five more TFLs to break the top 10 on the list. If he wants to break the school record, he'll have his work cut out for him. Bryan Archibald collected 48.0 TFLs between 1998 and 2001, which is 6.5 more than anyone else in school history. DiManche is 5.0 TFLs away from breaking into the single-season school TFL top 10 list. DiManche has recorded a TFL in six of the nine games this season, including three multiple-TFL games early in the season.

Pruitt becoming go-to receiver

After catching just four passes for 64 yards in the first three weeks combined, redshirt freshman tight end MyCole Pruitt has become the go-to receiver for the Salukis. He has caught at least three passes in every game since, including a breakout eight-catch, 124 yard performance against Youngstown State. He caught his first touchdown pass against Northern Iowa, and he has 80 or more receiving yards in three of the last five games. Pruitt leads the corps with 39 receptions on the year--13 more than anyone else. He averages 49.6 yards per game receiving and leads the team with three touchdown receptions

Faulkner records historic passing game against Illinois State

Kory Faulkner put his name in the record books with his performance against Illinois State. Faulkner was 29-37 with 334 yards passing and one touchdown against the Redbirds. He added 44 yards and another touchdown on the ground. The Salukis had never had a player pass for more than 300 yards under head coach Dale Lennon. Nick Hill's 436-yard game against Northern Iowa in 2007 was the only other 300-yard performance since 1999, and Faulkner's 334 yards tied Brian Downey for the ninth-most passing yards in a game in school history. Faulkner's completion percentage (29-37, 78.4%) was fifth-best all-time among Saluki quarterbacks with a minimum of 20 attempts.

Faulkner's total offense total (378 yards) is the fifth-best single-game total of all time, and he is only the third player in school history to record more than 375 yards total offense in a single game. Nick Hill's 2007 game against Northern Iowa leads the way, followed by three 1999 games by Sherard Poteete. Faulkner accounted for 93% of SIU's total offensive output.

After throwing his fifth interception in three games during the first quarter of the Youngstown State game, Faulkner went more than two games and 93 throws before he threw another pick. The two games mark only the second time in the last four years that SIU has gone back-to-back games without an interception, the other being the second and third games of the 2009 season against Southwest Baptist and North Dakota State, respectively.

Defense plays best against two of nation's top 10 teams

The SIU defense was dominating opponents before the Oct. 15 game against Youngstown State. The Salukis gave up 464 yards and 35 points to the Penguins. But the unit bounced back against Northern Iowa. The Saluki D held the Panthers to their lowest point total of the season. UNI came into the game averaging 31.2 points per game and putting up 384 yards per game, but SIU held UNI to 17 points and 288 yards.

The game marked the second time SIU's defense had held down the potent offense of a top-five team. North Dakota State entered the Oct. 8 game averaging better than 38 points per game, but the Saluki defense dominated the Bison for most of the game. The Bison didn't record a first down until late in the third quarter and only ended up with nine total first downs--only the second time since 2006 that SIU has held an opponent to single-digit first downs. The Bison only rushed for 60 yards and were limited to 1.8 yards per rush.

Defense Turns Over Panthers

Northern Iowa entered the Oct. 22 game with only five turnovers all year. The Saluki D forced and recovered three Panther fumbles in the game, marking UNI's first multiple-turnover game of the season. The Salukis have eight fumble recoveries on the season, which already surpasses last year's total. The Salukis went a three-game stretch in 2010 without getting any turnovers, but the Salukis now have forced multiple turnovers in four of the last five games. The other game, against North Dakota State, SIU intercepted NDSU quarterback Brock Jensen, who hadn't thrown any other interceptions on the year coming into the game.

Swanson earns two National Player of the Week honors

Junior nose tackle Kayon Swanson earned national recognition for his effort in SIU's loss to Ole Miss. Swanson recorded career highs in sacks (2.0), tackles (8) and tackles for loss (3.0) against Ole Miss. He helped SIU hold the Rebels to 315 yards of total offense.

The College Football Performance Awards, which are formulated based on scientific ratings to determine to what extent an individual helped his team, acknowledged Swanson as both a defensive lineman performer of the week and national defensive performer of the week, sharing both honors with Illinois State's Eric Brunner. Swanson was also one of six National Defensive Players of the Week by the Beyond Sports Network. He was one of two defensive linemen chosen, along with Maine's Michael Cole.

MacLachlan wins MVFC Special Teams Player of the Week

Redshirt freshman kicker Jackson MacLachlan won Special Teams Player of the Week honors from the Missouri Valley Football Conference on Sept. 25 after kicking the game-deciding field goal against Missouri State. With 50 seconds remaining in the game, MacLachlan hit a 27-yard field goal to put the Salukis ahead for good, 20-18. MacLachlan finished the game 2-2 on extra points and 2-3 on field goals.

This-N-That

- The entire coaching staff from the 2010 season remained intact over the summer.
- SIU played three of its first four games on the road this season. The last time that happened was 1999 under head coach Jan Quarless. SIU won its first three games but ended up winning just two more the rest of the season and finished 5-6. That 1999 team opened the season with a 43-25 win against SEMO.
- SIU played a non-conference game in the month of November (Nov. 12 vs. Eastern Illinois) for the first time since 2009. SIU is 9-6 in November non-conference games over the last 20 seasons.
- The Salukis have had 12 first team All-Americans over the past 10 seasons, and five of those have been running backs.
- SIU's three Academic All-Americans in 2010 tied with Penn State for the most in the nation. Joe Allaria and Chance Coda were named to the first team while David Pickard was a second team selection. Throw in Mike McElroy's second team selection in 2009, and SIU has had four Academic All-Americans in the last two seasons.
- Southern Illinois' average attendance of 10,890 last year, its first in Saluki Stadium, was the school's highest average attendance since averaging 12,225 fans in 1991.
- In five home games in 2011, SIU averaged 10,140 fans.
- Southern Illinois is fourth in the conference in total offense, total defense, pass offense, pass defense, rush offense, rush defense, opponent third down conversion percentage and sacks allowed. But it's seventh in scoring offense.
- SIU has lost five consecutive coin tosses.

MEET SOME OF THE BIDDERS

Carrie Belleville // #22 // Honoring her father, Mark

Carrie Belleville is a freshman at SIU. During spring of her senior year of high school, her dad, Mark, was feeling pains and had some tests. The doctor said it could be many things, and there was a very slight chance that it could be prostate cancer. After more tests, he found out it was prostate cancer. He broke the news to Carrie and her younger sister, who was a sophomore in high school, the day before spring break 2011. Mark had surgery this fall during Carrie's first semester at SIU, and he is now cancer-free. Carrie took it upon herself to start a group effort with friends and family to raise the money and bid on a jersey to honor her father and celebrate his health.

Primary Care Group // #26 // Honoring their friend, Jack

Jack T. Nolen had beat cancer twice, but passed away from melanoma this summer. He was a policeman, an employee at Primary Care and a well-known figure in Saline County. Jack's wife Paulina is an SIU season ticket holder, and her good friend, Theresa Richey works at Primary Care Group in Harrisburg, Ill. Theresa started the campaign, but it was a group effort from the whole community. The group raised enough funds to win the first overall choice of jersey, and it picked senior safety Mike McElroy, who made the Black Out Cancer Game a reality.

Susan Justice // #38 // Honoring her husband, Carl

Carl Justice is in the Eldorado High School Hall of Fame and Carmi High School Hall of Fame. He quarterbacked Eldorado to an undefeated 1957 season and in 1975 coached Carmi to an undefeated regular season and the school's first ever playoff berth. He remained popular in the area for his football success long after his days as a head coach. After a long battle with cancer, he died last December at the age of 70. His wife of 27 years, Susan, led the fund-raising efforts to bid on #38, which was his jersey number from high school.

Mike Reis // #88 // Honoring his father, Bob

Hall of Fame broadcaster Mike Reis has been the voice of the Salukis for 33 years. He teamed with his two brothers and mother to win a jersey for his father, Bob Reis. Bob passed away of colon cancer in 1988, and the Reises picked David Lewis's No. 88 jersey to honor him. "I'm trying to tell the coaches that (Lewis) needs to be heavily involved in the game plan," Reis said.

The Salukis

Several Saluki players and their families successfully bid on a jersey.

Family	Jersey #	Name On Back	Significance
Faulkner	13	R. Blair	For Uncle Ronnie "Buddy" Blair, who died of lung cancer in Summer 2011.
Okon	41	Hodeck	For Marion Hodeck, Joe's great-grandmother, who passed away of bone marrow cancer in 1985. "I'm extremely proud to wear the jersey for her," Joe said.
Cole	42	M. Newton
Hicks	44	L. Hicks	For Lisa Hicks, Rik's mother, a seven-year breast cancer survivor.
James	53	R. James
McMullin	61	Gammie
Crum	65	C. Kincaid	For Carlene Kincaid, Tanner's grandmother, a breast cancer survivor.

Lennon Quick Hits

- 130-51 career record in 15 seasons.
⇒ 28-18 in four years at Southern Illinois.
- Has a 20-11 record in the Missouri Valley Football Conference.
- 2008 and 2009 MVFC Bruce Craddock Coach of the Year, joining six other league coaches to win the award in back-to-back seasons.
- 2008 and 2009 AFCA Region IV Coach of the Year.
- His 25 wins in his first three years at SIU are five more than any other Saluki coach in his first three seasons.
- Won the 2001 NCAA Championships (Division II) at North Dakota.
⇒ Reached 2003 Division II National Championship Game
- Won or tied for league championship eight times in 14 years as a head coach (one at Mary, five at North Dakota and two at Southern Illinois). Has won outright or shared the league crown in five of his last eight seasons.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. - No. 17-ranked Southern Illinois was unstoppable by land and by air during a 38-10 win over Southeast Missouri State on Saturday in the season opener for both schools.

The Salukis (1-0) compiled 240 yards rushing and 254 yards passing, nearly doubling up the Redhawks (0-1) in total yardage.

A year after SEMO rallied from a 17-point second-half deficit to stun SIU, 24-21, there was never any hint of an upset brewing in the hot, humid air of Houck Stadium.

On the second play from scrimmage, Saluki tailback Steve Strother broke a 62-yard touchdown run down the right sideline.

"Everybody knew that we were going to come out and make a statement on the first drive," Strother said. "That early score really set the tone."

While Strother totaled 100 yards combined rushing and receiving, Iowa transfer Jewel Hampton was equally as effective out of the Saluki backfield. Playing in his first game in more than a year because of a knee injury, Hampton pounded the ball between the tackles for 64 yards and three touchdowns.

Southern's veteran offensive line produced a consistent surge for a Saluki running game that averaged 5.2 yards per carry.

"The line did whatever they wanted to tonight," Strother said. "Any run play that we wanted to call, inside zone-outside zone, they did it all night."

Orchestrating the Saluki attack was quarterback Paul McIntosh. After the ground game bruised the Redhawks defense, McIntosh burned it deep. He completed 14-of-18 passes for a career-high 246 yards. He had pass completions of 70 yards (Cam Fuller), 31 yards (MyCole Pruitt), 30 yards (LaSteven McKinney) and 28 yards.

"Paul had something to prove," Lennon said. "A lot of people were wondering if he's the guy who can do it. Paul has improved his game over the course of the off-season. He's throwing the ball more confidently. He has arm strength. His accuracy is pretty good and he still has the feet to hurt you with the run."

In an odd coincidence, the Salukis led 14-3 halftime, just like last year. But this time, they slammed the door shut on SEMO, outscoring it, 24-7, in the second half. The scoring included TD runs of 23 and 7 yards by Hampton and a 70-yard touchdown strike from McIntosh to Fuller.

Southern's defense smothered the SEMO option attack throughout the game, holding a trio of running backs to 19 yards on 14 carries. Nose tackle Kayon Swanson was a force inside, tying a career-high six tackles.

"I thought our nose guard play was pretty special," Saluki head coach Dale Lennon said. "Kayon made life tough in the middle and there were a lot of times you saw him in the backfield."

For a team that had question marks at numerous positions, Lennon was happy with the answers he got on opening day.

"I think we gave a little glimpse of the type of season we can have," he said.

OXFORD, Miss. - Mississippi held off a resilient Southern Illinois team, winning 42-24 and avoiding an upset at the hands of a Football Subdivision Championship opponent.

At first it looked like things would be easy for the Rebels (1-1), who were beaten a year ago by Jacksonville State in double overtime. Ole Miss staggered Southern with three touchdowns in the first six minutes of the game. Jeff Scott scored on runs of 37 and four yards, and then added a 67-yard punt return.

"To give up 21 points in five minutes is a team's worst nightmare," Saluki head coach Dale Lennon said. "It took a while for us to settle in to the type of game we needed to play. Unfortunately we spotted them 21 before we did it."

Trailing 28-3 late in the first half, SIU finally hit its stride, marching 80 yards on 16 plays as Jewel Hampton scored from two yards out to make it 28-10 at halftime.

The Salukis (1-1) made things interesting in the second half. Paul McIntosh threw touchdown passes to Rik Hicks and Cam Fuller. The 31-yard strike to Fuller was a spectacular throw and catch and drew SIU to within 35-24 with 6:30 remaining in the game.

"We thought we could take some shots and make some big pass plays down the field," Lennon said. "Offensively, I know we have the tools to be successful."

There were many positives in the loss, not the least of which was out-gaining the Rebels in total offense, 420-315. Four interceptions and bad field position were Southern's worst enemies.

"This loss stings," Lennon said. "It's one where our locker room, we know we let an opportunity slip away here. We were capable of doing more than what we did."

The run game was potent, totaling 197 yards. Steve Strother had 116 yards rushing for Southern and McIntosh added 80.

"We ran the ball well and the line blocked well," Strother said. "They were opening up holes all night. The linebackers were coming hard, and our guys were moving them out of the way."

Turnovers put Southern's defense on a short field too many times, but Lennon liked the way it responded.

"They were put in many, many bad situations," he said. "They came away enough times successful that you can feel good about things you're doing defensively."

Nose tackle Kayon Swanson had another huge game for the Salukis, leading the team with eight tackles and two sacks, before leaving the game in the fourth quarter with an ankle injury.

"Football is a game of runs and Ole Miss had the momentum early," said Saluki safety Mike McElroy. "I think we kind of settled down and realized we could hang with these guys."

CARBONDALE, ILL. - Freshman kicker Jackson MacLachlan booted a 27-yard, game-winning field goal to lift Southern Illinois past Missouri State, 20-18, on Saturday night.

After a timeout by the Bears (0-4, 0-1), MacLachlan, a walk-on from Springfield, Mo., calmly split the uprights, sending the Saluki sideline into a celebration of both excitement and relief.

"I just remember thinking with two minutes left that it was going to come down to a kick, and so I was preparing mentally," said MacLachlan, whose kick with 50 seconds remaining capped a 62-yard, 11-play drive. "Still, I was extremely nervous."

The work wasn't quite done yet for the Salukis (2-1, 1-0), however. After a nice kickoff return by Julian Burton, the Bears took possession at their own 39 with 45 seconds to play. On first down, Saluki linebacker Jayson DiManche dumped quarterback Trevor Wooden for an eight-yard sack. Then Wooden's desperation bomb was picked off by James McFadden.

It was officially time to celebrate a win that gets Southern off on the right foot in conference play. Last year, SIU lost to Youngstown State, 31-28, in the conference opener and never recovered, finishing the conference slate at 4-4.

For Missouri State, a team that was playing its fourth-straight road game, it was a hard-luck loss.

"This is a tough one, and it's going to be a long ride home," said Bears head coach Terry Allen. "One play can change the outcome of a game, and sometimes one play can change the outcome of a season."

The game was a coming out party for Saluki tailback Jewel Hampton. The Iowa transfer was relentless between the tackles and piled up 119 yards and nearly six yards per carry. He didn't break any long runs, but he delivered plenty of blows along the way.

Quarterback Paul McIntosh also had a big night for SIU with 206 yards passing and 60 rushing. He scored the team's only two touchdowns on runs of 12 and 16 yards, helping the Salukis to a 14-12 halftime lead.

Southern piled up a 418-292 advantage in total yards, but a gallant effort by Wooden and tailback Chris Douglas, who rushed for 85 yards on 14 carries, kept the Bears within striking distance. They finally took the lead, 18-17, on a Douglas one-yard on the last play of the third quarter. The two-point conversion failed.

"You have to give Missouri State credit," said Saluki head coach Dale Lennon. "They are a gutsy team. They did what they had to do to give themselves a chance to win the ballgame."

The Saluki defense only sacked the elusive Wooden twice, but it was a constant presence in the backfield and delivered plenty of licks. Wooden was 9-of-13 passing, but three of his four incompletions were interceptions.

"Defensively I thought we did good with our pass defense," Lennon said. "A lot of it goes to the guys up front. We brought pressure on them and forced a quicker throw."

There were plenty of big performances on both sides of the ball for the Salukis. Wide receiver Cam Fuller caught a career-high six passes for 120 yards. He made a one-handed grab of a 45-yard bomb from McIntosh in the second quarter and made several diving snags near the sidelines to keep drives alive in the second half.

"Everything goes back to what we do in practice," said Fuller, a senior who entered the season with just four career catches, but now leads the club with 11. "As receivers, we take great pride in doing all the reps right in practice, and it pays off in the game."

On defense, nose tackle Kayon Swanson remains virtually unblockable. He had a couple of tackles and a pair of quarterback hurries. He also drew two flags on the offense for holding and chop-blocking. DiManche was a force, as well, administering five tackles, a sack and his first career interception.

While admitting his team's execution could have been better, Lennon was pleased to see his team rise to the challenge with the fourth quarter comeback.

"The thing I was proud of is when you can find a way to win the game at the very end," he said. "It reminded me a lot of the 2008 team where we had a lot of close wins that went down to the last second. Maybe this is something we can build on and do well down the stretch."

MACOMB, ILL. - Saluki safety Boo Rodgers took a gamble, and Leatherneck receiver Terriun Crump made him pay.

With the game between Southern Illinois and Western Illinois tied, 21-21, and seemingly headed for overtime with 26 seconds left, Rodgers tried to pick off a Josh Hudson sideline pass for Crump. The ball went off his hands, into the arms of Crump, who raced untouched 77 yards down the sideline for the game-winning touchdown.

The 27-21 victory for the Leathernecks (2-3, 1-1) snapped a nine-game losing streak against the Salukis (2-2, 1-1).

Western Illinois clearly felt its best chance to beat Southern was through the air. Hudson came out firing to start the game, throwing the ball 11 times on the team's first two drives, both of which ended in touchdown strikes. On the day, he completed 20-of-30 passes for 307 yards and four TDs.

The Leathernecks used a no-huddle offense almost exclusively throughout the game, and it had Southern's defense on its heels, at least initially.

"It's not something we expected, and I think it kind of threw us off early," said Saluki safety Mike McElroy.

Trailing 14-0 early in the second quarter, Southern missed a couple of scoring opportunities deep in Western territory. First, Jackson MacLachlan could not convert a 28-yard field goal. On the next drive, the offense was stopped short on 4th-and-1 at the WIU 25. During the series, the Salukis also lost starting quarterback Paul McIntosh, who hurt his left shoulder on a four-yard carry.

Second-team quarterback Kory Faulkner finally put the team on the board late in the first half, guiding a 17-play, 76-yard drive that ended in a seven-yard touchdown pass to Luke Standiford and cut the deficit to 14-7.

Faulkner made the most of his first chance for extended playing time. The sophomore completed 12-of-23 passes of 143 yards and added 70 yards on the ground.

"Kory played a good game," said SIU head coach Dale Lennon. "What he did today shows me he's been doing his homework and preparing for his opportunity."

After a 24-yard touchdown pass from Hudson to Crump put Western ahead, 21-7, early in the third quarter, the Salukis finally established their power running game.

Iowa transfer Jewel Hampton busted free for a 20-yard touchdown scamper to make it 21-14, and midway through the fourth quarter he added a four-yard plunge to tie the game with 8:47 remaining.

Hampton seemed to break tackles on nearly every carry, punishing defenders to the tune of 146 yards rushing and a 6.6 average.

"Jewel makes the running game go for us right now," Lennon said. "He's great with yards after contact and has the ability to potentially break the long run. He'll become more and more a part of the offense and we'll be smart in how we use him."

His rugged style appeared to energize the Saluki sideline and spark the team's comeback.

"We have no quitters in our locker room," Hampton said. "I just see defenders as objects in my way. We knew we'd comeback even with the setbacks we had."

Both teams appeared content to play overtime. SIU punted on 4th-and-1 from its own 31 with 1:05 to play. Austin Pucylowski's 54-yard punt pinned Western at its 15. After an eight-yard run by Cautlon Ray, Hudson fired the stunning, game-winning strike to Crump.

Lennon said his team has to, "learn how not to be our own worst enemy. Some of it is knowing when to take a chance, playing smart defense. The other part is making tackles when you have a chance."

SIU's defense gave up five pass plays of at least 20 yards.

"Those big plays were lack of execution on our part," admitted McElroy. "We were being put in the right spot all day, and we knew what they were going to come with. It just comes down to one guy missing a call and one guy not playing the right technique. Those are the things that beat you."

CARBONDALE, ILL. - North Dakota State didn't get a first down until five minutes were left in the third quarter, but it managed just enough offense to squeak out a 9-3 win over Southern Illinois on Saturday.

For most of the game, the No. 4-ranked Bison (5-0, 2-0) offense was throttled by SIU. The unit, which entered the game averaging 38 points per game, went three-and-out on its first eight drives. The first 25 plays netted a total of just 25 yards.

Trailing, 3-0, late in the third quarter, NDSU finally moved the first down sticks when Sam Ojuri carried for three yards on 2nd-and-3 from the Bison 17. The dam broke on the next play, as quarterback Brock Jensen completed a 58-yard flea flicker pass to Ryan Smith. Although the drive quickly stalled, it eventually set up a North Dakota State field goal to tie the score, 3-3, and shifted the momentum to the visitors.

The Bison scored their winning touchdown with 6:51 remaining in the game on a 10-yard throw from Jensen to Matt Veldman. The extra point was no good, leaving the score 9-3.

"(The game) was a beauty," NDSU head coach Craig Bohl said wryly. "I don't think I've been a part of a game with so much adversity. We made plays when we had to make plays to win."

For the No. 17-ranked Salukis (2-3, 1-2), it was an afternoon of missed chances and frustration. The offense spent most of the first half deep in NDSU territory but came away with only three points.

SIU's opening drive typified the day. The offense marched 79 yards to the NDSU 1. It had three point-blank cracks at the end zone, but a pair of quarterback sneaks by Kory Faulkner and an off-tackle run by Jewel Hampton failed to break the plane.

Southern's next five drives all penetrated Bison territory, but a fumble, an interception, a failed fourth down conversion and a missed 23-yard field goal all sent the Saluki offense back to the sideline empty-handed. The only successful conversion was a 31-yard field goal by Jackson MacLachlan.

Perhaps those outcomes should have been expected against a defense that has allowed only three redzone TDs this year.

"North Dakota State's redzone defense is pretty impressive and their short yard defense is extremely impressive," said Saluki head coach Dale Lennon.

He explained the decision to try back-to-back QB sneaks when the offense was inches away from the goal line, saying that the Bison defense excels at getting penetration in goal line situations.

"We felt that we shouldn't worry about the penetration and let's get a surge with our center and guards," Lennon said. "We felt that was probably our best chance to get the six inches at that point in time."

At halftime, the Salukis led 218-21 in total yardage, but only 3-0 on the scoreboard. Running back Jewel Hampton was the team's most consistent offensive threat. He carried 23 times for 120 yards, but only 43 came in the second half.

Making his first career start in place of injured starter Paul McIntosh, Faulkner completed 16-of-28 passes for 169 yards. His receivers dropped several catchable passes. On the downside, Faulkner threw three interceptions, including a pick to Marcus Williams that set NDSU up at midfield on its game-winning drive.

"I thought Kory did a very good job managing the offense," Lennon said. "A couple of the choices that he made down the stretch, particularly the one that led to the touchdown, that's just an experience factor. He thinks he's making a pretty safe throw on an out-route on the sideline to our receiver and he just kind of got baited into that one."

With McIntosh expected to be out for at least several more weeks, Faulkner will remain at the controls of the Saluki offense.

"I think Kory has a very good upside," Lennon said. "I think he has some very good football in front of him. I think overall, Kory gave us a chance but we just came up short."

The Saluki defense turned in easily its most dominating performance of the season. Minus the gadget play, the D allowed just 152 yards. Cornerback Terrell Wilson led the team with seven tackles and an interception. The defense sacked Jensen three times and held NDSU's ground game to 60 yards on 33 carries.

"Southern Illinois had a great gameplan," Bohl said. "Their guys are well coached and they played extremely hard. I knew it was going to be a difficult win."

After losing a heartbreaker at Western Illinois last week, the Salukis were again on the cusp of victory but unable to close the deal.

"No doubt this loss hurts," Lennon said. "There is nothing brilliant you can say to your team after a loss like this. I'm not going to make it feel any better or take the edge off of it. It just hurts. That's the nature of the game. You put this much time and effort into it and we have a good team. I think we can still do things and make our presence known here, but we need to get back in that winning way and you just have to win that next one."

CARBONDALE, ILL. - Youngstown State exploded for 28 second-half points to rally for a 35-23 win over Southern Illinois on Saturday.

The Penguins (3-3, 2-2) trailed, 17-7, at halftime before YSU running back Jamaine Cook took control of the game. The first time he touched the ball in the second half, Cook chugged 69 yards down the left sideline, breaking tackles along the way. It was a sign of things to come as he finished the game with 184 rushing yards -- the most allowed by SIU's defense this season -- including 134 in the second half.

The Penguins out-gained Southern on the ground, 200-64, and held a 464-248 advantage in total yards.

The Salukis (2-4, 1-3) took advantage of a pair of Youngstown fumbles in the first half to mount touchdowns drives of 43 and 58 yards. Jewel Hampton capped the drives with TD runs of two and six yards. K Jackson MacLachlan added a 34-yard field goal just before halftime.

Even with a 10-point lead, it was hard for SIU to feel comfortable, since the Penguins had out-gained Southern, 190-142, in the half.

"In the first half, we didn't control the tempo but at the same time there was a level of efficiency that was allowing us to play to a point where we give ourselves a chance to win," Saluki head coach Dale Lennon said. "In the second half, we didn't have that same level of performance."

Youngstown scored touchdowns on its first two possessions of the second half -- an 18-yard Kurt Hess to Christian Bryan touchdown pass, and a two-yard TD plunge by Cook that gave the Penguins a 21-17 lead.

Southern found it difficult to establish much of anything on offense in the second half. The team's most productive player was kick returner Steve Strother, who ran back five kickoffs for a 39-yard average. His 56-yard return set up the team's only second-half touchdown, a 20-yard scamper by Hampton that gave SIU a brief 23-21 lead.

"Our special teams are giving us the chance with the field position," Lennon said. "Offensively, we're just not efficient enough with what we're doing. We have to find the right formula to give our offense a chance to be more successful."

Youngstown took just six plays to respond with a touchdown of its own as Hess hit Jelani Berassa for a 15-yard strike. The key play in the drive was a 38-yard pass to Bryan.

In the four quarter, the Salukis let a golden opportunity to score slip away. Trailing, 28-23, SIU had the ball 1st-and-goal at the YSU 8. The field position was set up by a 42-yard pass completion from Kory Faulkner to tight end MyCole Pruitt, who caught eight passes for 124 yards on the day. A rush for no gain by Hampton, a penalty and pass play that lost six yards pushed the Salukis back to the 19, where MacLachlan missed a 36-yard field goal.

Lennon said he would have liked to use the power running game to put points on the board in that situation.

"Their defensive line gave us a lot of issues," he admitted. "They kind of won the battle up front and we just weren't able to establish that four or five-yard run on a consistent basis that we have in the past."

Down by five, the Salukis had one last shot with three minutes remaining, but LaSteven McKinney fumbled a punt and Youngstown's Josh Lee recovered in the end zone for an easy touchdown to make it 35-23.

Making his second-career start at quarterback for Southern, Faulkner completed 20-of-35 passes for 184 yards and an interception. He was sacked four times.

"I'm sure Kory (Faulkner) will look back and he'll see some throws that he missed that could have been a difference maker here and there," Lennon said. "We thought we had a good plan going in with some things we could do with our passing game to get some guys open."

The Salukis lost their third-straight game and will play at league-leading Northern Iowa next weekend.

"My message to the team after the game was, 'I'm not giving up,'" Lennon said. "You get up the next day and go back to work while working a little harder. There's no magic involved here, there's no solution that can make it all right all of the sudden. It's a process. You keep working hard and eventually you'll get that break."

CEDAR FALLS, Iowa - For the fourth week in a row, Southern Illinois faltered in the fourth quarter of a close game, this time falling to No. 2 Northern Iowa, 17-10, inside the noisy UNI Dome on Saturday.

The Panthers (6-1, 5-0) took over on downs with 1:24 remaining in the game after stopping the Salukis (2-5, 1-4) on four-straight plays at the UNI 28 to preserve the victory.

Southern had its crack at a game-tying touchdown after cornerback Courtney Richmond recovered a fumble by UNI's Brett LeMaster at the 28. Two-straight carries by Jewel Hampton netted no yardage, and quarterback Kory Faulkner threw two incomplete passes, giving the ball back to the Panthers.

"You can't ask for a better scenario to be in," Saluki head coach Dale Lennon said. "There was plenty of time on the clock to do what we wanted to do. We went to our go-to guy and wanted to get a manageable second or third down, and didn't have the success we wanted. When you get to 3rd-and-long and 4th-and-long against UNI's defense, that's a tough predicament to be in."

On 3rd-and-10, Faulkner's pass intended for Cam Fuller was deflected. On fourth down, Faulkner lofted a pass near the end zone for LaSteven McKinney, but he was well-covered and the ball landed out of bounds.

"Coming to work as hard as we do every week and leaving every play out on the field, and then to come up short, it's hard to go in the locker room and look at all the upperclassmen," said Faulkner, a sophomore QB making his third start in place of injured Paul McIntosh.

Against the nation's No. 2-ranked scoring defense, Faulkner put up respectable numbers, completing 14-of-19 passes for 91 yards, no interceptions and a touchdown pass to MyCole Pruitt. It just wasn't enough to beat a UNI team that has won six-straight games by an average of 17 points.

"I thought (Kory) did a good job managing the game," Lennon said. "It was a hostile environment, very noisy and we had to use the silent count. We still need more production. He can still get better. He's a work in progress, but you can see the improvement."

As has been the case in each of its four-straight losses, the Salukis can point to a handful of plays they'd like to do over.

Southern led, 7-0, late in the first half, and was in position to go into halftime with at least a four-point lead. UNI had a 3rd-and-goal situation at the SIU 18, and Panthers' quarterback Tirrell Rennie was hit as he threw the ball. Somehow, wide receiver Tirrell Sinkfield managed to sneak open in the far corner of Southern's end zone to make a diving TD catch.

In the third quarter, the Salukis forced UNI to punt from the SIU 40. Instead of booting the ball, however, punter Kyle Bernard saw nothing but daylight down the right sideline and ran 10 yards for a first down. The Panthers later settled for a 48-yard field goal by Tyler Sievertsen.

"If there was a call that was the call of the game, that was it right there," Lennon acknowledged.

The Salukis went to their own bag of tricks with mixed success. Running back Jewel Hampton, who bulldozed his way for 75 yards on 23 carries, completed a 16-yard pass to Faulkner that helped set up Southern's only touchdown. SIU also ran an unsuccessful reverse to LaSteven McKinney deep in UNI territory that lost yardage and forced the Salukis to settle for a 30-yard Jackson MacLachlan field goal.

"We took a couple gambles here and there," Lennon said. "We did one where we had a goofy formation down inside the red zone, but they were able to pick it up. We were pulling out all the stops, and it might not have been as visible as what it looked, but we were trying to do everything we could to crack the rock."

In the last three games, SIU's offense has scored just a dozen second-half points.

"That's a great defense and you have to give them credit," Faulkner said. "Offensively, we gave it everything we had. We were definitely moving the ball, but once we got down in the red zone, we had a couple of bad breaks."

Southern's defense turned in another outstanding effort, forcing three fumbles, holding UNI to 288 total yards and saddling the Panthers with their lowest point total of the season.

"We were making them earn every yard they got," Lennon said.

The Salukis have lost four-straight games for the first time since 2002, a season in which the team finished 4-8.

"Everyone looks at us and we're a 2-5 football team, but we just took the No. 2 team in the country in one of the toughest places to play down to the wire," Faulkner said. "We're a resilient team and we know we can play with anybody."

CARBONDALE, Ill. - In a battle of dueling quarterbacks, Matt Brown came out on top, guiding Illinois State to a 38-30 victory over Southern Illinois on Saturday.

The junior passer led the Redbirds (6-3, 4-2) to their fourth-straight victory, throwing for 254 yards and two touchdowns. He was especially deadly on third down, directing the offense to 11-of-17 third-down conversions.

Brown's passing out-shined a brilliant performance by Saluki quarterback Kory Faulkner, who completed 29-of-37 passes, scorching the ISU defense for 334 yards. Last week at UNI, Faulkner passed for just 91 yards, but today he hit his stride in his fifth game as the team's starting QB.

"Our plan on defense was to force them to throw the ball, and I guess you have to be careful what you wish for," said Illinois State head coach Brock Spack.

Since 1999, the only Saluki quarterback to pass for more yards in a game was Nick Hill, who threw for 436 against Northern Iowa in 2007.

Still, it wasn't enough to prevent the Salukis (2-6, 1-5) from dropping their fifth-straight game.

"We know they are the best 2-5 team we have ever seen," Spack said. "We have all been there in coaching. Things just haven't went their way and it's one of those years."

An early turning point in the game came on Southern's opening possession. After moving swiftly to the Redbirds' 38, Faulkner tossed a backward pass to LaSteven McKinney that was deflected and scooped up by defensive end Colton Underwood, who returned the fumble 53 yards for an ISU touchdown.

"We just can't give points away," said Saluki head coach Dale Lennon. "In the opening drive, we got things going, then we threw a lateral pass, we don't recognize it as a lateral and watch the defensive lineman scoop and score."

The Saluki offense, which has labored to put points on the board in recent weeks, had little trouble moving the ball against Illinois State. Southern had a season-high 27 first downs.

SIU's defense, on the other hand, struggled to contain the big play, as Brown completed six passes of 20 or more yards. Often, those completions came on third down, as the Redbirds converted at least one third-down on every scoring drive.

"We need to know when to be a little more aggressive with our coverage and not give easy throws that convert for first downs," said Lennon, whose team has lost four games by a touchdown or less. "It seems like each week it's a different scenario that we're trying to correct or learn how to play a little bit of a smarter game."

Southern again showed resiliency, rallying from a 31-14 deficit to make it 31-24 with nine minutes remaining in the game, as Faulkner threw a 28-yard touchdown to David Lewis, and Jackson MacLachlan booted a 33-yard field goal. On the ensuing drive, however, Illinois State marched 58 yards in eight plays for a Clifford Gordon touchdown run that sealed the victory.

Faulkner wasn't finished, though, driving SIU 78 yards in 36 seconds for a touchdown run by Jewel Hampton that took place on the game's final snap. It was the kind of stellar quarterback play Lennon has been looking for.

"We put a lot on Kory this week, a lot of checks," Lennon said. "We knew our running game was going to be challenged and that we couldn't just do the traditional running game. Kory did a very good job adjusting and getting us some good plays."

The frustration of losing so many close ones has not curtailed the effort put forth by Lennon's team.

"We don't quit -- that's the one thing I can hang my hat on and that's the one thing that I told the team in the locker room," he said. "I'm not going down without a fight. That's the mentality I want this football team to have and that's how you pick yourself up the next day."

BROOKINGS, S.D. – Southern Illinois' comeback fell short, as it could not overcome an explosive first half, losing 45-34 to South Dakota State Saturday.

"The attitude of the team is encouraging," Coach Dale Lennon said. "It's just that we need to have some success to make it payoff."

Kory Faulkner scored on a 15-yard naked bootleg on fourth-and-one with just over 4:00 left in the game, launching SIU (2-7, 1-6) to within a touchdown of SDSU (3-4, 4-6). The extra point missed wide left, leaving the score at 42-34. The Salukis converted on fourth down twice on the drive including a fourth down pass to MyCole Pruitt for 16 yards that took SIU down to SDSU 24.

The Jackrabbits bobbled the ensuing squib kick but recovered at the 35 with 3:53 left. Freshman kicker Justin Syrovatka put the game away with a career-long 47-yard field goal to extend the lead to 11 with 2:54 left in the game.

"It's frustrating," Lennon said. "It's kind of been the trend of our season. The guys never quit. The guys always fight back, but we just don't have enough to get the win so that's what you saw today. It has just kind of been the story of our season."

Jewel Hampton had a career day, setting career highs with 167 yards and 28 carries to go with his two touchdowns. It was the most rushing yards by an SIU running back since Deji Karim ran for 273 against Illinois State on Oct. 10, 2009. Hampton's 56-yard score more than doubled his previous career long run of 23 yards.

With 12:51 left in the game, the Jackrabbits took the momentum from SIU with Dom Clare's 4-yard touchdown run to extend their lead to 42-28. The 80-yard drive was highlighted by Austin Sumner's 37-yard strike to Dale Moss, with a 15-yard roughing the passer tacked on the play. SIU got more pressure on Sumner in the second half, forcing interceptions on consecutive drives. The Salukis took advantage of the good field position, scoring on Hampton's 56-yard run and then Kory Faulkner's quarter-back sneak to cut the deficit to 35-28.

"We started to drop our linebackers a little bit more (in the second half) and get at them more with four up front and just went to work," defensive end Kenneth Boatright said.

Boatright recorded a sack and added another tackle for a loss.

Sumner didn't see as much pressure in the first half when he threw for 250 of his 328 yards, hitting Dale Moss and Aaron Rollin for two touchdowns apiece.

The Salukis defense started the third quarter with a blocked punt and a pair of interceptions. Mike McElroy had two interceptions in the game. He now has 13 in his career, moving him to fourth on the school's all-time list.

"At halftime, there wasn't a lot of yelling going on," Lennon said. "We challenged the pride factor, and we talked about how to get back in the game. Especially with the wind conditions the way they were, we knew we'd have a chance to get a couple scores potentially in the third quarter if we could play some defense and get the field position."

CARBONDALE, Ill. - On an afternoon when the Southern Illinois football team honored those who have fought cancer, the Salukis showed some fight of their own, battling back for a 45-28 victory over Eastern Illinois Saturday. The win snapped a six-game losing streak.

"We had to remind each other how to celebrate," Head Coach Dale Lennon said. "Losing is difficult and going through a stretch like we did you have to remember what it's like to win. It was a good locker room today."

SIU (3-7) scored a season-high 45 points, overcoming a 28-21 halftime deficit to score 24 unanswered second half points against EIU (2-9).

"Sooner or later it's got to break, and today I think we broke through that wall," senior safety Mike McElroy said. "Coach Lennon always talks about chipping away and we did it. We felt good the whole game, we never really felt out of it. There was a confidence that we were going to be alright and that we'd come out on top."

The Salukis wore black uniforms for the Black Out Cancer Game. Each jersey featured the name of a winning bidder on the back. The bids from the 80 jerseys totaled $89,890. School officials anticipate that total bids will push the grand total of money raised over $100,000. The event was the brainchild of McElroy.

"This has been a surreal moment," McElroy said. "Walking out there and seeing all of these jerseys with the names on the back. It's something that we dreamt about back when we started, but we didn't know where it was going to go, and to have the community support we had, it was something that I'll take forever. It's a memory that I'll always have."

Kory Faulkner and the Saluki offense took control of the game in the third quarter with an aggressive passing approach and a pair of timely interceptions. Faulkner threw for 212 of his 234 yards in the second half. He had five completions of 20 yards or more in the second half after attempting just two passes before halftime.

MyCole Pruitt's two-yard reception in the end zone gave the Salukis the lead for good, 31-28, with 10:22 left in the third quarter.

"They adjusted very well, and we didn't," EIU Head Coach Bob Spoo said. "They shut us out, they did a heck of a job defensively. We couldn't stop them on defense, and we couldn't get anything going offensively. That's the whole story, we played one half, and we couldn't complete the job."

With Southern leading, 45-28, and 7:08 left in the game, Boo Rodgers ended any thoughts of an Eastern comeback with his interception at the SIU three yard line.

"We pride ourselves as a defense on creating turnovers," McElroy said. "Obviously when we do that we create a lot of momentum for us."

The running game paced the Saluki offense early. Southern ran nine times for 141 yards and three touchdowns on its first three possessions of the game. Jewel Hampton finished the game with 110 yards on 20 carries, recording his fifth 100-yard performance of the season. Hampton and Faulkner each had a pair of rushing touchdowns.

With a 21-7 lead after the first quarter, SIU appeared to literally be running away with the game. However, with the wind at their backs, the Panthers started the second quarter with a 40-yard completion to Chris Wright. That set up the first of Jake Walker's three rushing touchdowns in the quarter.

"It was frustrating for us to just give up the number of yards that we did in the second quarter," Lennon said. "Just not playing very aggressive and not making plays that we needed to make and giving up big plays. That's what we challenged the defense with at halftime."

Although it was Senior Day, the win also marked the first victory for sophomore quarterback Kory Faulkner, who stepped into the starting role after an injury to Paul McIntosh earlier this season.

"We have a great group of seniors, especially on the offense," Faulkner said. "With me coming in being inexperienced, I wanted to make sure to send them out as winners."

Lennon said he would be like to see the Black Out Cancer Game return next year.

"We'll go through the same channels to see if this can be an annual event," Lennon said. "I don't think it will automatically be approved but when they see how much money has been raised for such a worthy cause hopefully we could get another exemption next year and do it again."
