@CYCLONEWOLF HEADLINES

1. Iowa State ended the season ranked 50th nationally by Golfweek and No. 51 in the nation by Golfstat.
2. Iowa State had a strong start to the 2019-20 by tying for third at the Dick McGuire Invitational and winning the East & West Match Play.
3. The Cyclones were the champions at the East & West Match Play, defeating Wisconsin, 4-1. ISU was the No. 2 seed after stroke play and knocked off top-seeded Wisconsin in the championship match.
4. True freshman Liyana Durisic paced ISU in the stroke play portion of the East & West Match Play (T7th, 144).
5. Durisic was phenomenal, leading the Cyclones in scoring (72.95), rounds below par (6) and birdies (63). She ended the year ranked No. 104 nationally by Golfweek.
6. Durisic's stroke average is the lowest for a Cyclone rookie in school history.
7. Taglao Jeeravivatporn was ranked No. 143 nationally and was second on the team in stroke average at 73.00. Her three rounds in the 60s led the team. She carded a career-low 68 in the Arizona Wildcat Invitational.
8. The Cyclones have earned berths to 10-straight NCAA Regionals (2010-19). The 2020 NCAA Championship was canceled due to the COVID-19 virus. ISU will aim to keep its streak alive next year.
9. Iowa State was the 2019 recipient of the Kim Moore Spirit Award, given annually to a student-athlete or team that went through significant challenges in a season.

CHRISTIE MARTENS

Head Coach • 16th Season

Through relentless hard work, determination and tireless recruiting, Christie Martens has firmly established the Iowa State women's golf program as one of the nation's best.

Postseason appearances, including a school-record 10-straight NCAA Regional berths (2010-19), and top-25 teams have become the norm in the Martens era.

In 2014, Martens led her ISU team to the pinnacle of collegiate golf when the squad advanced to its first-ever NCAA Championship. It marked the first time a team from the state of Iowa made the NCAA finals since the regional format was introduced in 1993.

ISU placed 23rd at the NCAA Championship and were ranked in Golfweek's national top-25 at season's end.

Martens, who is in her 16th season as the head coach with the Cyclones, saw the first signs of her rebuilding project come to fruition in 2009-10. ISU finished fourth at the Big 12 Championships and qualified for the NCAA West Regional, the school's first postseason appearance since 1996. She was named the 2011 Big 12 Coach of the Year and NGCA Central Region Coach of the Year.

A key ingredient to Martens' success at Iowa State has been her ability to surround herself with outstanding players. A total of 13 Cyclones have earned All-Big 12 recognition 25 times in her Iowa State tenure: (Louise Kenney-2005; Jessica Shin-2006; Pennapa Pulsawath-2010; Laurence Herman-2010, 2011; Phuntumabamrung-2010, 2012, 2013; Prima Thammaraks-2011; Victoria Stefansen-2011, On-iam-2011, 2014; Cajsja Persson-2013, 2015, 2016, Chayanun-2014, 2015; Nattapan Siritai- 2015; Barquin- 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018 and Wangmahaporn- 2016, 2017, 2018).

The Cyclones have broken virtually every team scoring record under Martens' watch. Her teams have won six tournament titles and produced five individual medalists in her ISU career while annually playing one of the nation's toughest schedules.

Many of Martens' former players have gone onto successful professional careers, including Thammaraks, who became just the second Cyclone in school history to earn LPGA playing privileges in 2016.

SARAH BUTLER

Assistant Coach • 5th Season

Sarah Butler, who is in her fifth season as an assistant coach at Iowa State, has been influential in maintaining Iowa State women's golf as one of the top programs nationally.

In her first year with the Cyclones (2015-16), Butler helped ISU achieve a No. 25 national ranking by Golfweek, as ISU earned its seventh-straight NCAA Regional berth.

Two Cyclones – Chayanit Wangmahaporn and Celia Barquin Arozamena – were named First Team All-Big 12 and ranked in the nation's top-115 at season's end. ISU also established a school record by posting an 849 at the Hurricane Invitational.

Iowa State placed second at the 2017 Big 12 Championship to record its highest finish in Big 12 history. A pair of Cyclones earned all-tournament honors – Wangmahaporn and Barquin Arozamena – and Wangmahaporn was voted First-Team All-Big 12 for the second-straight season.

In Butler's third season with the Cyclones in 2018, ISU finished the season ranked in the nation's top-30 and earned its ninth-straight NCAA regional berth. Barquin Arozamena became the second Cyclone in school history to win a conference championship, claiming the 2018 Big 12 title.

Cyclone Golf Performance Center

The Cyclone Golf Performance Center has been home to Iowa State men's and women's golf since 2013. The facility is one of the finest of its kind nationally, sitting on 16 acres just three miles from campus. It was designed by world-renowned architect Keith Foster, who has also provided renovations to Augusta National, Southern Hills Country Club and Colonial Country Club.

Indoor Features: 400-square foot short game area, four hitting bays heated for year round use, simulator with video analysis and other learning technology, locker room and club repair area, lounge, kitchen and study area.

Outdoor Features: Practice range (780 yards long and 200 yards wide), 360-degree tee stations for all wind directions, two fairways and multiple bunkers with different types of sand, 11 different green complexes inspired by five different architects, wedge area with three target greens.
