2012 OLYMPIC BRONZE MEDALIST - DEREK DROUIN

Just a year removed from a foot injury that kept him from jumping for eight months, Derek Drouin advanced to the Olympics and tied for the Bronze medal in the high jump.

Drouin cleared 2.29m (7-6) on his first attempt, and tied with Robert Grabarz of Great Britain and Mutaz Essa Barshim of Quatar for third place. The trio held the lead when the bar moved to 2.33m (7-7.75) and saw only gold medalist Ivan Ukhov of Russia and silver medalist Erik Kynard of the U.S. clear that height. A pass from Jamie Nieto of the U.S. on his third attempt at 2.33, added a little drama, as he got one attempt at 2.36m to try and pass the three tied for third. His miss clinched Drouin's share of the bronze.

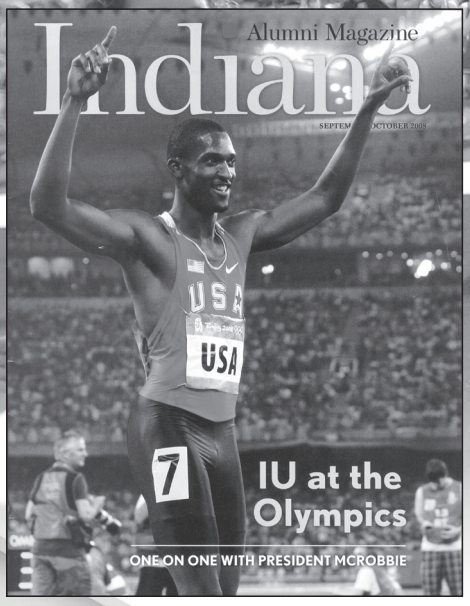

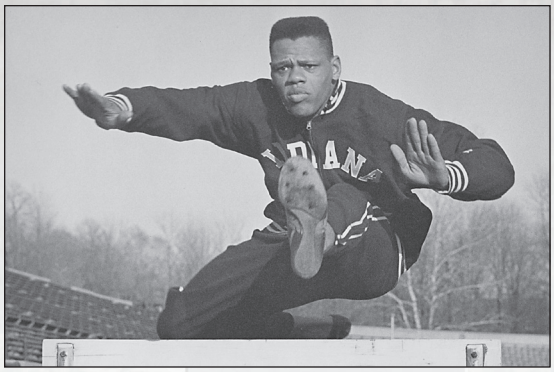

2008 OLYMPIC GOLD AND BRONZE MEDALIST - DAVID NEVILLE

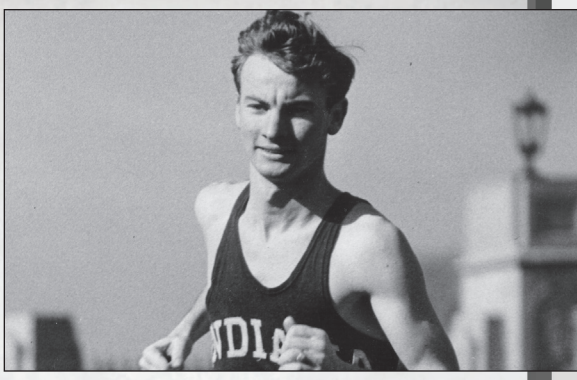

David Neville dove head-first across the finish line to win the bronze in the 400 meters in Beijing, edging out Christopher Brown of the Bahamas for a 1-2-3 U.S. sweep of the medals in the 400. Two days later, he ran the third leg of the USA's gold medal effort in the 4x400m relay. The foursome set a new Olympic Record in the process.

Neville was invited back to Indiana's Homecoming celebrations as the Grand Marshal. In the third quarter of IU's win over Northwestern, Neville was introduced to a 30-second standing ovation.

IU CHAMPIONSHIP CROSS COUNTRY COURSE

The Indiana Championship Cross Country Course has been the site of eight Big Ten championships (1969, 1978, 1987-M/W, 2006-M/W,), three NCAA Great Lakes Region Championships (2005, 2007, 2009) and five NCAA Championships (1976, 1982, 1992, 1999).

IU CHAMPIONSHIP CROSS COUNTRY COURSE

The course played host to the 2009 NCAA Great Lakes Regional. The meet was also hosted at the facility in 2007 and in 2005. Indiana University places a bid to host the meet every year.

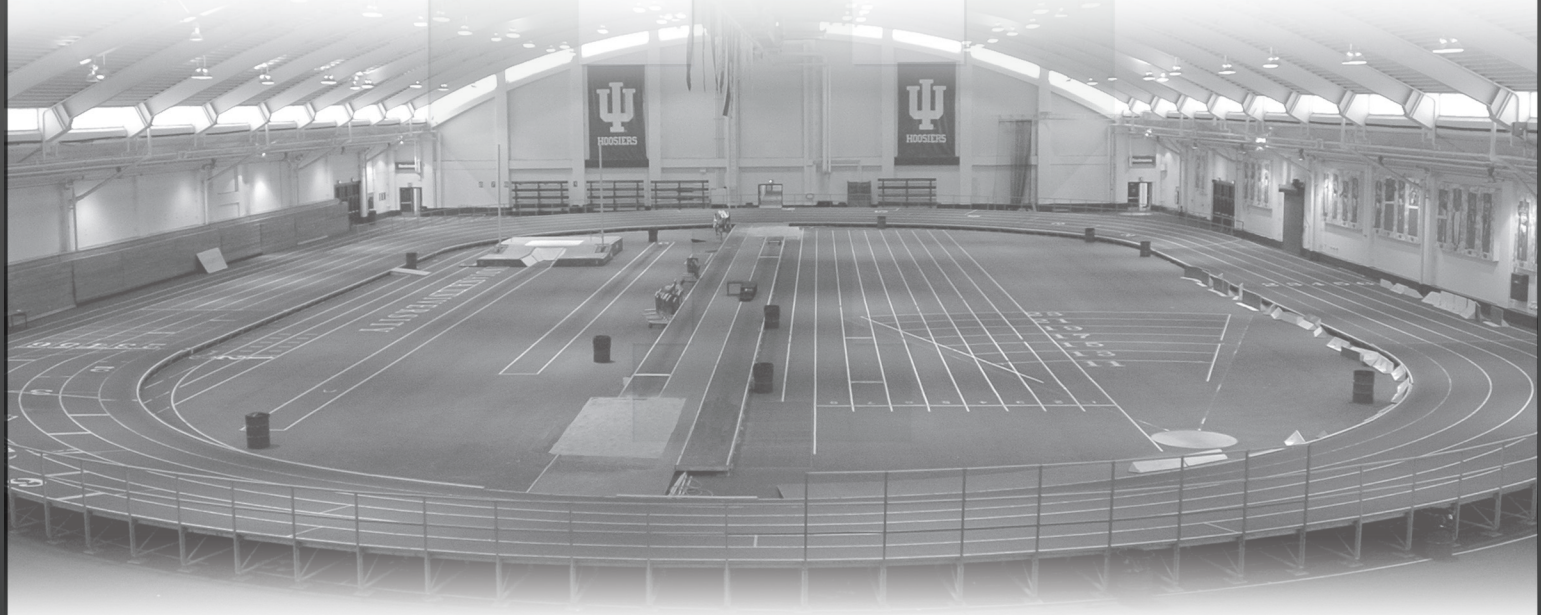

The track in Gladstein Fieldhouse is one of the fastest indoor tracks in the U.S., and annually, it produces some of the nation's top indoor times.

The facility boasts two jumping pits, two pole vault pits, separate throwing areas for the shot put and the weight throw as well as an eight-lane straight-away for sprint and hurdle races. The facility played host to the 2010 & 2011 USA Track and Field Indoor Combined Events Championships, as it will in 2012.

HARRY GLADSTEIN FIELDHOUSE

Indiana's indoor track and field complex ranks as one of the nation's elite and received equal generosity from its donor, the family of Harry Gladstein. Prior to the 2006 indoor season, IU made a conversion to a Mondo-surfaced banked track. The 200-meter track was transported to IU via the RCA Dome in Indianapolis. The track, built by Mondo in Italy, saw its first use for the inaugural IAAF World Indoor Championships in March 1987 and then hosted the NCAA Div. I and Div. II Indoor Track and Field Championships annually through 1999.

The track in Gladstein Fieldhouse came to Bloomington with a lot of history. During it's time in Indianapolis, collegiate, American and world records were set using the surface. The records included two collegiate records that still stand as well as the American and world record in the 500 meters, set by Ken Lowery.

Indiana University home meets are timed and scored using a four camera timing system and Hytek's Meet Manager software. Times and placings are immediately available following races via the scoreboard and live online results.

HARRY GLADSTEIN FIELDHOUSE

Harry Gladstein Fieldhouse hosted seven home meets during the 2011 indoor season, and it will host seven home meets in 2012. The fieldhouse was also the home of the women's 2009 Big Ten Indoor Championships.

During the 2008 indoor season, Gladstein Fieldhouse hosted Beijing Olympians such as gold medalist Mary Wineberg (400m and 4x400m relay), silver medalist Hyleas Fountain (Heptathlon), Kia Davis (200m and 400m), and Boaz Lalang (800m), who recorded a facility record at the Indiana Relays on Feb. 2, 2008.

Dan Galos lets go of a career best heave at the Indiana Invitational. Most Hoosiers produce their best marks at one of the many home contests during the indoor season.

An impressive field in the women's pole vault showed up for the Billy Hayes Invitational during the outdoor season, including would-be NCAA champion Kylie Hutson of Indiana State and NCAA runner-up Vera Neuenswander. Inclimate weather forced the pole vault indoors, allowing the two vaulters to break the Gladstein Fieldhouse record in the month of May.

Robert C. Haugh Track & Field Complex received a major face lift for the 2010 season, in addition to resurfacing the entire track, the facility was upgraded with new equipment throughout. The facility received Level 2 certification from the IAAF, becoming the ninth track in the U.S. and the sixth on a U.S. college campus to merit IAAF certification.

Indiana hosted the 2010 Big Ten Outdoor Championships and the 2011 NCAA East Preliminary Round. The track will also play host the 2012 USA Track and Field Junior Championships.

E.C. "BILLY" HAYES TRACK AT ROBERT C. HAUGH TRACK & FIELD COMPLEX

The E.C. "Billy" Hayes Track at Robert C. Haugh Track & Field Complex is regarded as one of the country's finest outdoor facilities. In 2004, the complex received the addition of new lights suitable for televised night events. The new lights permit IU to host larger home meets, such as the 2011 NCAA East Preliminary Round, the 2010 Big Ten Outdoor Championships as well as the annual IHSAA Boys and Girls State Track and Field Championships. The facility also played host to the 1997 NCAA Outdoor Championships.

Robert C. Haugh Track and Field Complex is a 3,500 seat venue, that is expanded to more than 7,000 for championship meets. Billy Hayes Track has been called "one of the most spectacular venues in collegiate track and field."

The facility played host to two meets during the 2010 outdoor season. In the first meet on the new Polytan surface, three facility records were broken. At the 2010 Billy Hayes Invitational, senior Molly Beckwith bettered her own track record with a time of 2:02.18 in the 800m.

The facility is also utilized annually for the IHSAA Boys and Girls State Track and Field Championships. The IHSAA and Indiana University recently renewed a contract to keep the meet at the facility through 2014.

RON HELMER

DIRECTOR AND HEAD COACH

Ron Helmer is in his sixth season as the Indiana Director and Head Coach of Men's and Women's Track and Field and Cross Country after being named to the position on May 25, 2007.

The 2011-12 season was the fifth under Helmer's guidance, and it proved to be one of the greatest ever for the men's program. After a cross country campaign that ended with a runner-up finish at Big Tens and a seventh-place finish at NCAAs, the team won the Big Ten Indoor title behind 26 points from Andy Bayer and 22 from Kind Butler, taking the first conference title in 20 years. Bayer won the Big Ten mile and 3,000m crowns, while Butler won the 200 and Darius King won the high jump. The Hoosiers went on to send 11 to the NCAA Indoor meet, with all 11 coming back All-Americans. The team finished sixth at the national meet, scoring 25 points, including second place finishes in the distance medley relay and from King in the high jump.

The 2012 outdoor season saw the Hoosiers take third in the Big Ten, getting individual titles from Bayer in the 1,500m, Zach Mayhew in the 10,000m and Derek Drouin in the high jump. Bayer would go on to lead 14 NCAA qualifiers by winning the 1,500m NCAA title en route to 11 Hoosiers earning All-America honors. Bayer's title is the eighth by a Helmer pupil, and the fourth since Helmer arrived at IU. Bayer and Chelsea Blanchard earned Academic All-America honors for the second consecutive season. Drouin was the NCAA runner-up in a season that was just getting started for him. Drouin went on to qualify for the London Olympics, where he tied for third place to win a bronze medal for Canada. Drouin was awarded for Athletics Canada's performance of the year and as the field athlete of the year.

The fourth year of the Helmer era, the 2010-11 season was a historic one for the Hoosiers program. The season included two top-10 NCAA finishes, two Big Ten runner-up finishes, 26 All-Americans, one NCAA Individual Championship and four Big Ten records. Helmer was awarded USTFCCCA Great Lakes Region Coach of the Year honors for the Indoor season. At the season's conclusion, five Hoosiers were honored with the distinquished Academic All-America award. Bayer became the first male track athlete in school history to be honored and was joined by Blanchard, Vera Neuenswander, Sarah Pease and Faith Sherrill.

The men's cross country team got things started, taking seventh at NCAAs and second at Big Tens, with Andrew Poore finishing as an All-American and Bayer placing second at the Big Ten meet.

Indoors, the IU men were again runners-up behind Big Ten Champions Butler (60m), Drouin (High Jump) and Poore (5,000m). Faith Sherrill won the Big Ten shot put crown for the women. At NCAAs, the Hoosiers finished sixth with Drouin winning his third NCAA high jump crown with a Big Ten and Canadian national record clearance of 2.33m (7-7.75) en route to USTFCCCA Field Athlete of the Year honors and Bayer highlighting nine other All-Americans for IU at the meet. Bayer took third in the 3,000m and led the Hoosiers to second in the DMR, clocking the fastest anchor leg ever recorded, splitting 3:53. Sherrill broke the all-time Big Ten record by 2 feet and 6.5 inches in the shot put with her first throw of the season. Travelling 18.00m (59-0.75), Sherrill has the 10th-best collegiate throw all-time and the eighth-best collegiate throw ever by an American. Bayer, Drouin and Sherrill each garnered Big Ten Athlete of the Year honors and Great Lakes Region Athlete of the year honors for the indoor season.

Outdoors, the women took third at Big Tens and 23rd at NCAAs and the men took fourth at Big Tens and 20th at NCAAs. Ben Hubers (1,500m), Neuenswander (pole vault), Pease (steeplechase), Sherrill (shot put) and De'Sean Turner (steeplechase) claimed Big Ten titles and 12 Hoosiers earned All-America honors. Neuenswander tied the Big Ten record in the pole vault to win at Big Tens, clearing 4.36m (14-3.5) to put the exclamation point on a 1-2 finish with teammate Kelsie Ahbe. Neuenswander and Ahbe went on to All-American finishes at NCAAs. Sherrill broke the Big Ten outdoor record in the shot put, launching a 17.64m (57-10.5) bomb to win at Penn Relays. Pease won her first Big Ten crown in the steeple, joining Turner in leading what was dubbed the "sweeplechase", as IU had three of the top four finishers in both the men's and women's races at Big Tens. At NCAAs, Poore led the way, taking third in the steeplechase. It was a historic season in the 4x100m relay for the Hoosiers, as Tyler Sult, Butler, Chris Vaughn and Devin Pipkin became the first All-American relay for IU in 30 years. At Penn Relays, IU was the only school from the North to qualify for the 4x100 and 4x200 Championship of America finals.

Helmer's third year at Indiana proved to be record-setting. The Indiana women advanced to the NCAA Championships in cross country for the first time since 2004. With 13 indoor All-Americans, Helmer's squads produced more All-America certificates than any other indoor season in IU history. The IU men finished sixth overall at NCAA Indoors, marking the best performance by an IU team since the 2005 meet.

Not to be outdone, the Hoosier women posted a 16th-place finish at the NCAA outdoor meet, while the men took 20th. Indiana finished the year with 18 All-Americans, nine Big Ten champions and three Big Ten Athlete of the Year Awards.

The biggest highlight of the year for Indiana in 2010 was Drouin. The sophomore won NCAA titles during the indoor and outdoor seasons in the high jump. He was named Big Ten Field Athlete of the Year for both seasons as well. Drouin also added the Canadian National Championship to his credit on the season.

On the women's side, Molly Beckwith highlighted the season with a second-place finish at the NCAA Outdoor Championships in the 800m. Beckwith followed her NCAA performance with a tour of Europe, where she finished an 800m race in 1:59.83. That performance merited a professional contract with Saucony.

Bayer had a remarkable indoor campaign, breaking four minutes in the mile and eight minutes in the 3,000m, and then taking third at NCAAs in the 3,000m a day after posting an astonishing comeback for seventh place in the distance medley relay after dropping the baton. He was joined by Poore as an All-American in the 3,000m. De'Sean Turner, Butler and Stockberger were also on the DMR. Turner added All-America honors to his resume in the steeplechase outdoors.

Juniors Sherrill and Pease had breakout seasons in 2010. Sherrill was the Big Ten Field Athlete of the Year after smashing three IU records in the throws and earning three All-America certificates. She also took two Big Ten titles, indoors in the weight throw and outdoors in the shot put. Pease made a name for herself in the 3,000m steeplechase, taking fourth at both the NCAA Championships and the USA Championships. Ashley Rhoades earned All-America honors at the NCAA indoor meet in the high jump.

Indiana track and field showed itself as a program on the rise in 2009, registering eight All-Americans across all three seasons. During the cross country season, Helmer had two of his pupils earn All-Big Ten honors, in Tim McLeod and Wendi Robinson. Robinson later qualified for the NCAA Championships, where she earned All-America honors in 28th-place.

During the indoor season, Helmer saw Big Ten title wins from Tiffany Howard (shot put) and Jeff Coover (pole vault). He also saw Beckwith and Drouin earn All-Big Ten honors. Coover was named Great Lakes Region Field Athlete of the Year and went on to earn All-America honors for a fourth-place finish in the pole vault. Drouin went on to finish as the NCAA runner-up in the high jump, and Neuenswander and the team's distance medley relay foursome each claimed All-America honors. In total, nine Hoosiers made the trip to the NCAA Indoor Championships in College Station, Texas.

The outdoor slate saw the Hoosiers claim three more All-America certificates and three more Big Ten titles. Drouin (high jump), Kiwan Lawson (long jump) and Rhoades (high jump) all won Big Ten crowns, and three more IU athletes earned All-Big Ten honors. Drouin was named Big Ten Freshman of the Year and went on to claim Great Lakes Region Athlete of the Year. Twenty-three Hoosiers made the trip to the Mideast Regional and seven advanced to the NCAA Championships. Neuenswander and Drouin each won the regional. At the NCAA Championships in Fayetteville Ark., Howard, Pease and Neuenswander claimed All-America honors. Neuenswander finished second in the pole vault. Neuenswander went on to garner ESPN the Magazine Academic All-America honors.

In his first season at the helm of the Hoosiers, Helmer guided the men's and women's track and field teams to improvements during the indoor and outdoor seasons. The indoor portion of the year was highlighted by a Big Ten individual championship for Audrey Smoot in the 600-meter run. The indoor season culminated in a trio of Hoosiers representing the women's team at the NCAA Indoor Championships.

Helmer's first outdoor season at IU also proved successful as Indiana had two Big Ten individual champions with Jenkins in the triple jump and Lawson in the long jump. The success from the Big Ten Championships led to seven student-athletes from Indiana competing in the NCAA Outdoor Championships. The Hoosiers produced two All-Americans in Lawson and Coover.

Helmer also helped two young cross country squads to new heights with fresh faces on the staff and on the roster. On the men's side, Helmer led Indiana to its first team appearance in the NCAA Championships since 2005 with a group that included three true freshmen. IU, led by junior McLeod, placed 28th overall as a team after a fourth place finish at the NCAA Great Lakes Regional.

Prior to coming to IU, Helmer served as the director and head coach at Georgetown University for eight years. He was promoted to director in July 1999 after serving as associate head coach with the Hoyas for seven seasons and assistant coach the five years prior. During his tenure, 120 of his student-athletes earned a total of 342 All-America recognitions, including 41 student-athletes receiving 96 certificates since becoming director in 1999. In addition, 219 student-athletes captured BIG EAST individual titles, including 67 after he became director.

At the NCAA Championships, he guided 27 athletes or relay teams to a top-three finish, highlighted by four national champions - Joline Staeheli (mile, 1996), Miesha Marzell (1500m, 1996) and two distance medley relay champions (1997, 1999). He also saw his teams earn 22 top-10 finishes in NCAA Championship action, including a streak of 15 straight at the cross country championships that ended in 2003. Among the top-10 finishes were seven top-four trophy finishes, including a third at the 1998 NCAA Indoor Championships and a fourth-place finish at the 2002 NCAA Cross Country Championships.

Helmer led Hoya teams to the Championship of America relay titles at the Penn Relays, the latest being the 2004 men's 4x800m squad with a time of 7:13.75, the seventh-fastest time in collegiate history. He was part of 37 BIG EAST Championship teams and his student-athletes were honored 11 times as the Robert A. Duffey Scholar-Athlete award winner, given to the student-athlete who best embodies academic and athletic excellence.

In January 2006, Helmer was the recipient of the Coaches Achievement Program award presented by Oppenheimer Funds, Inc. The Coaches Achievement Program honors coaches at select BIG EAST member institutions for excellence in coaching, mentoring and community service.

Helmer came to Georgetown from Woodbridge High School in Virginia, where he served as head coach for four years. Prior to that, he was the head coach at Virginia High School in Bristol, Va., for eight years.

He was named Virginia Cross Country Coach of the Year in 1980 and 1983, along with being selected as the Virginia Girls' Track Coach of the Year in 1981. Topping off the honors, Helmer was selected as the Boys' Cross Country Coach of the Decade in Virginia. During his career, Helmer's teams won 45 district, 35 regional and 10 state championships. Individually, he produced nine high school All-Americans and 13 Foot Locker National Cross Country qualifiers.

Helmer is a graduate of Southwestern College located in Winfield, Kan., where he received a bachelor of arts degree in math. In October 2004, he was inducted into the Southwestern College Athletic Hall of Fame. He continued his education at East Tennessee State University, where he earned his master's degree in physical education, with a focus in biomechanics and human kinetics.

Helmer's wife, Mary, is a seventh-grade teacher. They have three children, Tori, a teacher, Justin, a teacher and basketball and track coach, and Kari, a recent graduate of IU, and a granddaughter - Rylee and a grandson - Brody.

JEFF HUNTOON

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH

Former West Virginia head women's track and field coach Jeff Huntoon enters his sixth year as the associate head coach for the Indiana track and field program. Huntoon works with IU's men's and women's sprints, hurdles and jumps. Huntoon, the 2012 NCAA Great Lakes Region Coach of the Year, came to Bloomington after 18 years with the Mountaineers, which included a top-20 national finish during the 2005 season. He served as the assistant head men's and women's coach for 10 years prior to being promoted to the head men's and women's coach in 1999.

Some of Huntoon's credentials include coaching two Olympic medalists, five Olympians and 16 Olympic trials qualifiers. He has mentored 61 All-Americans (38 women and 23 men) and 101 national qualifiers. His athletes have won five NCAA individual championships, 85 individual conference championships and they've broken more than 96 school records.

At Indiana, Huntoon's impact can be seen dramatically in Olympic Bronze Medalist Derek Drouin. The junior won NCAA titles during the 2010 and 2011 indoor seasons and outdoors in 2010 in the high jump and has added runner-up finishes as a freshman and as a junior in 2012. He is a National Field Athlete of the Year honoree and a three-time Big Ten Athlete of the Year. Drouin's titles are the third, fourth and fifth by Huntoon pupils. The Ontario-native also brought home the title from the Canadian National Championships. As a freshman Drouin was named Big Ten Freshman of the Year, and in three indoor and two outdoor seasons, Drouin has claimed five Great Lakes Region Athlete of the Year awards. Drouin has added five Big Ten titles and just continues to get better. In 2012, he not only won an Olympic bronze, but he also scored a point in the Diamond League.

The 2012 season saw IU sweep the high jump and 200m titles indoors and out in the Big Ten, as Darius King won the indoor high jump crown and Drouin won the outdoor title. Kind Butler swept the 200m crowns as well. Indoors the Hoosiers won the Big Ten team title, with sprinters and jumpers playing a large role. Butler outscored last place Purdue on his own, and Olu Olamigoke and Rex Parker provided crucial points of their own in the triple jump. Olamigoke would advance to NCAAs in the triple jump, where he would join Butler and a 4x400m relay as All-Americans. King took second at NCAAs, which was a major factor in IU's sixth-place finish at the meet.

Outdoors, Drouin was back and finished second at NCAAs, helping IU to 11th place overall. He would go on the win the Canadian Trials and then take bronze in London in the high jump. Butler won the Big Ten 200m crown and qualified for the Olympic Trials in the 400 meters. Chris Vaughn would also go to the the Olympic Trials after taking second in the Big Ten 400. IU again advanced to NCAAs in the 4x400m relay, and Olamigoke and Parker each qualified in the triple jump.

The 2011 season was a coming of age for Indiana in the sprints and jumps. During the indoor season, Derek Drouin was again Derek Drouin, winning his third NCAA high jump crown with a Big Ten and Canadian national record clearance of 2.33m (7-7.75) en route to Big Ten and USTFCCCA National Field Athlete of the Year honors. Drouin (high jump) and Kind Butler (60 meters) each took Big Ten titles, with Butler also taking second in the 200. Butler would go on to take All-America honors at NCAAs in the 200, in eighth place.

Outdoors, the IU 4x100m relay had a historic season, as the men's relay of Tyler Sult, Kind Butler, Chris Vaughn and Devin Pipkin became the first All-American relay for IU in 30 years. The group took a runner-up finish at Big Tens. At Penn Relays, Indiana was the only school from the North to qualify for the 4x100 and 4x200 Championship of America finals at Penn Relays. Butler and Pipkin both qualified for USAs in the 100 meters with times of 10.23 and 10.24 respectively.

The 2010 indoor and outdoor seasons were a demonstration of Indiana's continued improvement in the sprints and jumps under Huntoon. The Hoosiers saw Big Ten medal-winning performances in the sprints from Devin Pipkin and Kind Butler. Butler then added All-America honors as a leg of the distance medley relay. The pair helped lead Indiana's 4x100m relay to the NCAA East Preliminary Round, where they recorded the fifth-best time in IU history.

In the jumps, the Hoosiers continued to be among the nation's best. Drouin's season speaks for itself, but Ashley Rhoades closed out her career with a Big Ten title and an All-America certificate. Sophomores Olu Olamigoke and Rex Parker each finished just inches away from the NCAA Championships in the triple jump, with Olamigoke taking a medal at the Big Ten indoor meet. Newcomer Emma Kimoto showed definite promise, advancing to the NCAA East Prelims.

In combined events, freshman Courtney Woodard and Laura Morris each showed they have the ability to make an impact in the Big Ten Conference, as the pair finished sixth and seventh respectively at the Big Ten Outdoor Meet. Huntoon's long-time pupil, and current IU assistant coach, Abbie Norton took her level of competition to a new level, competing for Team USA at the Thorpe Cup in Russia. Norton was a scorer for the team, helping the U.S. sweep the competition for the nation's second win ever in the annual competition.

Huntoon's effect on the IU program was very apparent in his second season in Bloomington. Huntoon's jumpers, sprinters and multi athletes won three Big Ten titles, recorded three indoor provisional qualifications and nine regional qualifications.

Kiwan Lawson added a Big Ten long jump crown, and Ashley Rhoades won the Big Ten high jump title. Lawson wasn't the only Hoosier to claim All-Big Ten honors in the long jump, as Cedric Hudson took second, showing IU's dominance in the event. Rhoades and Drouin advanced to the NCAA Outdoor Championships.

In his first season with the Hoosiers, Huntoon guided a talented group of seniors, including Courtney Johnson, Kyle Jenkins and Lawson to outstanding performances during the outdoor season. The trio qualified for the NCAA Championships, along with transfer Abbie Stechschulte, with Lawson earning his first NCAA All-America certificate. Stechschulte, an All-American at West Virginia, continued her career and was a national qualifier, as well as an Olympics Trials qualifier with Jenkins under Huntoon's tutelage. His first season at Indiana also resulted in 11 Hoosiers earning a trip to the NCAA Mideast Region Championships, two Big Ten championships and seven medalists.

Prior to coming to IU, Huntoon's 2007 season at West Virginia was highlighted by Stechschulte becoming Huntoon's 44th All-American with her sixth-place finish at the NCAA Indoor Championships in Fayetteville, Ark., in March 2007.

In 2006, Huntoon coached Stechschulte to a BIG EAST title in the pentathlon during the indoor season and sent seven athletes to the NCAA East Regional in the outdoor season.

The Mountaineers' top-20 finish in 2005 was accompanied by a pair of top-three finishes at the BIG EAST and ECAC outdoor championships. The team also had numerous individual champions at events such as the BIG EAST, ECAC, NCAA, Penn and Mt. SAC Relays.

Equally as exciting as the results on the track were the results in the classroom. With the largest roster in the program's history, the Mountaineers achieved their highest overall team grade point average and placed their greatest number of athletes on the Athletic Director's Academic Honor Roll. The team performed so admirably in the classroom, that WVU recorded the nation's highest team GPA.

Early in his coaching career, Huntoon was one of a handful of coaches invited to attend the USA T&F Elite Sprint and Hurdle Seminar in Orlando, Fla., a seminar giving coaches the chance to observe and break down the technique of elite caliber athletes and to learn about the biomechanics of each event. This opportunity had a profound effect on the young coach and is a major part of the day-to-day training philosophy he currently employs.

Huntoon's non-overbearing, yet technically demanding, style has allowed many of his athletes to attain numerous record-setting performances. His past coaching achievements include coaching student-athletes to conference championships in 14 different events.

Huntoon guided James Jett, a 2001 WVU Hall of Fame inductee and 10-year professional football veteran, to his Gold medal performance as a member of the 4x100m relay in the 1992 Barcelona Olympics. Jett also garnered a pair of runner-up finishes in the 1992 NCAA championships, leading the men's program to its highest NCAA team finish in school history. Connie Ellerbe, a 2005 inductee, was the NCAA runner-up in 55.87 (current school record) and fifth-place finisher in 400m hurdles at the 1992 Olympic Trials in New Orleans. Pat Itanyi also had a stellar career in which she captured the NCAA long jump title in 1995. Itanyi's 22'1" effort was the 10th-best collegiate jump in NCAA history. Jett and Itanyi had shared WVU's record for most All-America honors in a career with seven before Metcalfe earned her ninth and final honor in 2005.

In 2004, Huntoon helped the Mountaineers achieve their highest ECAC team finish in school history. West Virginia placed second at the 2004 ECAC Indoor Championships, its highest finish since 2000. In the final season as men's coach (WVU dropped men's track and field in 2003), Huntoon was named the 2003 NCAA Division I Mid-Atlantic Coach of the Year after the Mountaineers outscored over 80 schools at the 127th IC4A championship to claim their first and only title.

The Kenosha, Wis., native attended high school in Littleton, Colo., and earned his bachelor's degree and K-12 teaching certificate in physical education from Northern Colorado in 1988. An accomplished athlete at UNC, Huntoon began his career as a walk-on before earning a scholarship and serving as team captain as a junior and senior. He was a two-time conference champion and was named outstanding performer by conference coaches. He was a three-time NCAA qualifier in the high hurdles and the decathlon and still holds UNC's record in the 110-meter high hurdles.

Huntoon earned his master's degree in teacher education from WVU in 1992. He and his wife Ann have two children, son Jordan and daughter Jennifer.

JERMAINE JONES

ASSISTANT COACH - THROWS

Jermaine Jones enters his fourth year at Indiana as an assistant coach for men's and women's throws. He has been coaching track and field since 1997 and spent four years as a head coach.

In 2011, Sherrill went from one of the best throwers in IU history to become statistically, the best in Big Ten history. Sherrill won the Big Ten shot put crowns, both indoors and outdoors. Sherrill crushed the all-time Big Ten record by 2 feet and 6.5 inches in the shot put with her first throw of the indoor season. Travelling 18.00m (59-0.75), Sherrill has the 10th-best collegiate throw all-time and the eighth-best collegiate throw ever by an American. Sherrill garnered Big Ten Athlete of the Year honors and Great Lakes Region Athlete of the year honors for the indoor season. She took fourth place at the NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Championships. Sherrill wasn't the only Hoosier making noise in the throws however, as Monique Riddick took second at the Big Ten indoor meet in the shot put and third at outdoor Big Tens and claimed second-team All-America honors at the NCAA Indoor Meet. Riddick's marks on the year in the shot put place her behind only Sherrill in IU lore.

The 2010 season proved to be the breakout campaign for junior Faith Sherrill. Having redshirted all of 2009, Sherrill won two Big Ten titles and earned three All-America certificates en route to Big Ten Athlete of the Year honors. Sherrill set three IU records over the course of the indoor and outdoor seasons and posted the second-best throw in the nation in the shot put. She was also named Athlete of the Big Ten Championships for indoor and outdoor. Sherrill was joined at the NCAA East Preliminary Round by Kristen Crawford.

Jones' throwers began to blossom in their second year in his training program posting five regional qualifications. Tiffany Howard claimed a Big Ten Indoor crown in the shot put, and during the outdoor season she claimed All-America honors with a ninth-place finish in the shot put. Howard moved into second all-time in the IU record books in the shot put. Paul Fearnow, Ben Stephen and Crawford also posted regional qualifications, and Fearnow became just the third Hoosier to throw the hammer over 200 feet.

In his first season at Indiana, he guided five throwers to their first NCAA Regional appearances. Sherrill improved her marks by nearly a full meter in both the shot put and weight throw on the year.

Jones is a former head men's track and field and cross country coach at Ball State and arrived at Indiana after completing his third year at the University of Richmond as the throws and pole vault coach for the Spiders' track and field team.

While at Richmond, Jones guided his student-athletes to Atlantic 10 titles in the javelin, hammer, shot put and weight throws, as well as program records in all four events and the discus. During the 2007 season, Jones mentored two-time A-10 javelin and three-time hammer throw champion Beth Crocus.

He also tutored A-10 Rookie of the Year Heather Roush, who placed second in the discus with a school record throw and second in the javelin at the outdoor league championship. Additionally, Jones led Lindsey Smith to the school record in the javelin at 154-2 during the 2005 season and to the NCAA National Championships in 2005.

Before coaching at Richmond, Jones served as the head men's coach and was in charge of all aspects of the women's throwing program at Ball State, where he had five athletes qualify for the 2004 NCAA Regional Championships, including one All-American.

Paul Panning placed third (17-11) at the NCAA Regionals and qualified for the NCAA Championships where he placed 10th, earning consecutive NCAA All-American honors. Jones also coached Zach Riley, one of the nation's top hammer throwers and a two-time NCAA All-American. Riley placed 10th at the 2004 USA Olympic Team Trials. He earned NCAA All-American honors in the hammer throw in 2001 and 2002 and placed 11th in the weight throw at the 2002 USATF Indoor National Championships and is also a three-time Mid-American Conference hammer champion (2000-2002).

Jones held the position of head cross country and track and field coach at the University of Saint Francis in Fort Wayne, Ind., from 1997-2000. As the program's first coach, Jones guided one NAIA All-American, five NAIA national competitors and numerous all-conference selections in his three-year tenure.

The Fort Wayne, Ind., native competed for Anderson University and earned All-America status in 1996. He also was selected the conference most valuable performer in 1995 and 1997 and earned three all-conference honors in the discus. Jones was all-league in the shot put in 1997 and qualified for the NCAA National Championships three straight years.

Jones and his wife, YeVonne, have a daughter Cierra (16). Jones is USA Track & Field Level II certified in the throwing events, and earned his bachelor's degree from Anderson in 1997.

ABBIE STECHSCHULTE

ASSISTANT COACH - SPRINTS, JUMPS AND MULTI

Abbie Stechschulte, a former All-American at West Virginia and Texas Relays champion at Indiana, is in her fifth year as assistant coach for jumps and sprints.

The 2012 season saw IU sweep the high jump and 200m titles indoors and out in the Big Ten, as Darius King won the indoor high jump crown and Drouin won the outdoor title. Kind Butler swept the 200m crowns as well. Indoors the Hoosiers won the Big Ten team title, with sprinters and jumpers playing a large role. Butler outscored last place Purdue on his own, and Olu Olamigoke and Rex Parker provided crucial points of their own in the triple jump. Olamigoke would advance to NCAAs in the triple jump, where he would join Butler and a 4x400m relay as All-Americans. King took second at NCAAs, which was a major factor in IU's sixth-place finish at the meet.

Outdoors, Drouin was back and finished second at NCAAs, helping IU to 11th place overall. He would go on the win the Canadian Trials and then take bronze in London in the high jump. Butler won the Big Ten 200m crown and qualified for the Olympic Trials in the 400 meters. Chris Vaughn would also go to the the Olympic Trials after taking second in the Big Ten 400. IU again advanced to NCAAs in the 4x400m relay, and Olamigoke and Parker each qualified in the triple jump.

The 2011 season was a coming of age for Indiana in the sprints and jumps. During the indoor season Derek Drouin was again Derek Drouin, winning his third NCAA high jump crown with a Big Ten and Canadian national record clearance of 2.33m (7-7.75) en route to Big Ten and USTFCCCA National Field Athlete of the Year honors. Drouin (high jump) and Kind Butler (60 meters) each took Big Ten titles, with Butler also taking second in the 200. Butler would go on to take All-America honors at NCAAs in the 200, in eighth place.

Outdoors, the IU 4x100m relay had a historic season, as the men's relay of Tyler Sult, Kind Butler, Chris Vaughn and Devin Pipkin became the first All-American relay for IU in 30 years. The group took a runner-up finish at Big Tens. At Penn Relays, Indiana was the only school from the North to qualify for the 4x100 and 4x200 Championship of America finals at Penn Relays. Butler and Pipkin both qualified for USAs in the 100 meters with times of 10.23 and 10.24 respectively.

The Hoosiers continued to flex their muscles in the sprints, jumps and multis in 2010. Derek Drouin has staked his claim as one of the top young athletes, regardless of event, in the nation. The sophomore won NCAA titles during the 2010 indoor and outdoor seasons in the high jump after finishing as the indoor runner-up as a freshman. He was named Big Ten Field Athlete of the Year for both seasons in 2010 as well. The Ontario-native also brought home the title from the Canadian National Championships. As a freshman Drouin was named Big Ten Freshman of the Year, and in two indoor and outdoor seasons, Drouin has claimed three Great Lakes Region Athlete of the Year awards. Drouin has added three Big Ten titles and just continues to get better.

The Hoosiers saw Big Ten medal-winning performances in the sprints from Devin Pipkin and Kind Butler. Butler then added All-America honors as a leg of the distance medley relay. The pair helped lead Indiana's 4x100m relay to the NCAA East Preliminary Round, where they recorded the fifth-best time in IU history.

In the jumps, the Hoosiers continued to be among the nation's best. Drouin's season speaks for itself, but Ashley Rhoades closed out her career with a Big Ten title and an All-America certificate. Sophomores Olu Olamigoke and Rex Parker each finished just inches away from the NCAA Championships in the triple jump, with Olamigoke taking a medal at the Big Ten indoor meet. Newcomer Emma Kimoto showed definite promise, advancing to the NCAA East Prelims.

Indiana's jumpers, sprinters and multi athletes won three Big Ten titles, recorded three indoor provisional qualifications and nine regional qualifications in 2009. One athlete who has shown outstanding improvement working with Stechschulte is Laura Morris, who recorded a provisional qualifying score in the pentathlon to score at the Big Ten Indoor Championships for the first time in her career.

Kiwan Lawson added a Big Ten long jump crown, and Ashley Rhoades won the Big Ten high jump title. Lawson wasn't the only Hoosier to claim All-Big Ten honors in the long jump, as Cedric Hudson took second, showing IU's dominance in the event. Rhoades and Drouin advanced to the NCAA Outdoor Championships.

A standout in the multi-events, Stechschulte earned All-America honors and was an All-BIG EAST selection four times while at West Virginia. The native of Columbus Grove, Ohio, competed in the 2008 USA Indoor Combined Events Championships, finishing fourth in the pentathlon.

She also was the collegiate champion of the 81st Clyde Littlefield Texas Relays in 2008, when she recorded the second-best heptathlon score in IU history. The score automatically qualified her for the NCAA Outdoor Championships and the U.S. Olympic Trials. She also appears in the IU all-time top-10 lists for the shot put, long jump and 100m hurdles. Her jump of 6.03m (19-9.25) is eighth all-time at Indiana and her time of 13.76 seconds is the seventh best ever by a Hoosier.

Stechschulte earned a bachelor's degree in speech pathology and audiology from West Virginia and a master's degree in kinesiology at Indiana.

Rebecca Walter, a former Big Ten cross country champion and six-time All-Big Ten honoree at Michigan, enters her sixth season as an assistant coach for distance, middle distance and cross country for the Hoosiers.

The 2011-12 season was a great one for IU distance runners. After a cross country campaign that ended with a runner-up finish at Big Tens and a seventh-place finish at NCAAs, the team won the Big Ten Indoor title behind 26 points from Andy Bayer, taking the first conference title in 20 years. Bayer won the Big Ten mile and 3,000m crowns indoors. Bayer took fifth in the mile indoors and anchored IU to second in the distance medley relay. The team finished sixth at the national meet, scoring 25 points.

The 2012 outdoor season saw the Hoosiers take third in the Big Ten, getting individual titles from Bayer in the 1,500m and Zach Mayhew in the 10,000m. Bayer would go on to lead IU at NCAAs by winning the 1,500m NCAA title. Bayer and Chelsea Blanchard earned Academic All-America honors for the second consecutive season.

In 2011, Indiana's distance runners began to gain notoriety around the nation as one of the top programs in the nation. The men's cross country team got things started, taking seventh at NCAAs and second at Big Tens, with Andrew Poore finishing as an All-American and Andy Bayer placing second at the Big Ten meet.

Indoors, the IU men were again runners-up at Big Tens with a big boost from the distance corps, including Big Ten Champions Bayer (3,000m) and Poore (5,000m). At NCAAs, the Hoosiers finished sixth with Bayer highlighting nine distance-event All-Americans for IU at the meet. Bayer took third in the 3,000m and led the Hoosiers to second in the DMR, clocking the fastest anchor leg ever recorded, splitting 3:53. Bayer garnered Big Ten Athlete of the Year honors and Great Lakes Region Athlete of the year honors for the indoor season.

Outdoors, an injury to Bayer slowed down the Hoosiers, but not much, as the distance crew kept right on rolling, with Ben Hubers (1,500m), Sarah Pease (steeplechase) and De'Sean Turner (steeplechase) claiming Big Ten titles and five Hoosiers earning All-America honors in distance races. Pease won her first Big Ten crown in the steeple, joining Turner in leading what was dubbed the "sweeplechase", as IU had three of the top four finishers in both the men's and women's races at Big Tens. At NCAAs, Andrew Poore led the way, taking third in the steeplechase.

Indiana's distance runners took a collective step forward in 2010, earning nine All-America certificates and winning four Big Ten titles. The Indiana women advanced to the NCAA Championships in cross country for the first time since 2004. In addition to the women's cross country team, 13 Hoosiers individually qualified for an NCAA meet in one of the three seasons.

On the women's side, Molly Beckwith highlighted the season with a second-place finish at the NCAA Outdoor Championships in the 800m. Beckwith followed her NCAA performance with a tour of Europe, where she finished an 800m race in 1:59.83. That performance merited a professional contract with Saucony. Beckwith added indoor All-America honors and two Big Ten titles to her impressive senior campaign.

Andy Bayer had a remarkable indoor campaign, breaking four minutes in the mile and eight minutes in the 3,000m, and then taking third at NCAAs in the 3,000m a day after posting an astonishing comeback for seventh place in the distance medley relay after dropping the baton. He was joined by Andrew Poore as an All-American in the 3,000m. Also earning All-America honors in the distance medley relay were De'Sean Turner, and Danny Stockberger. Turner added All-America honors to his resume in the steeplechase.

Sarah Pease had a breakout season in 2010. Pease made a name for herself in the 3,000m steeplechase, taking fourth at both the NCAA Championships and the USA Championships. Poore advanced to NCAAs as an individual in cross country, indoor and outdoor. Turner took the Big Ten title in the steeplechase in a one-two finish with Poore. Poore claimed the Big Ten 5K crown as well. Ben Hubers took 12th at the NCAA outdoor meet in the 5,000m.

Walter's work with IU's distance runners showed its worth in her second season at Indiana. Wendi Robinson earned All-America honors in cross country, finishing 28th at NCAAs. Robinson and Timothy McLeod earned All-Big Ten honors as well.

During the indoor season, Robinson earned a return trip to the NCAA Indoor Championships, and Beckwith returned to the meet in the 800m. Indiana's young distance runners on the men's side took a big step forward on the year as well. Hubers, Turner and Evan Bardach earned All-America honors as a part of the distance medley relay, finishing seventh at NCAAs.

During the outdoor season, Robinson and Beckwith were joined by Pease at NCAAs. Pease had a huge meet, setting an IU record in the 3,000m steeplechase and finishing seventh for her own All-America honors. Beckwith, Pease and Robinson qualified for and competed at the USA Track and Field Championships, as did Chelsea Blanchard, Kaylan Comer and Bayer.

In 2008, Walter was instrumental in the breakout of Robinson. Robinson recorded NCAA provisional qualifications in the 3,000m and 5,000m as well as helping set a new school record in the distance medley relay. Robinson lapped the entire field on consecutive weekends to open the 2008 indoor season, winning the 3,000m at the Big Ten/SEC Challenge on Jan. 19 and the 5,000m at the Gladstein Invitational. Her time of 16:16.23 in the 5k earned her a spot at the NCAA Indoor Championships. Robinson teamed with Audrey Smoot, Caity Lauer and Beckwith for a first place finish, school record and provisional qualification in the D.M.R. at the Meyo Invitational.

Walter spent the 2006 cross country season as a

JAKE WISEMAN

ASSISTANT COACH - POLE VAULT AND JAVELIN

Jake Wiseman, who has mentored some of the top freshman pole vaulters in the nation in Vera Neuenswander in 2007, Stephanie Chin in 2008 and Kelsie Ahbe in 2010, enters his ninth season as the Hoosiers' assistant coach for pole vault and javelin.

Wiseman, a former Indiana decathlete who was second-team All-Big Ten in 2005, has helped guide Neuenswander, Chin, Ahbe, Blayne Burkholder and Jeff Coover to NCAA Championship appearances in the past four seasons. His vaulters have won four Big Ten titles and earned All-America honors eight times.

In 2011, Neuenswander and Ahbe did things that Hoosiers have never done before in the pole vault. They capped the season by finishing in a 1-2 sweep at Big Tens and then both earning All-America honors at NCAAs. Neuenswander took the Big Ten crown with a conference-record tying clearance of 4.36m (14-3.75), and Ahbe was right behind, clearing 4.26m (13-11.75). The pair then went on to finish fourth and sixth respectively at the NCAA Outdoor Championships. Indoors, IU got 16 points in the women's pole vault as Ahbe took second, Neuenswander was fourth and Chin finished sixth. All three competed at the NCAA Regional.

The 2010 campaign was more of the same for Indiana's tradition-rich pole vault program. Coover highlighted the year with third place at the NCAA Indoor Championships and All-America honors outdoors as well. Ahbe continued a trend of successful freshmen female vaulters at Indiana with All-Big Ten honors outdoors and a trip to the NCAA Championships. The freshman also advanced to the World Jr. Championships with a second-place finish at USA's. Derek Messmer advanced to the NCAA East Preliminary Round, as did Laura Williams.

The 2009 season was a great one for the IU pole vault program, as Wiseman's pupils claimed All-America honors three times and brought home a Big Ten title. Coover won the Big Ten indoor crown and took fourth at NCAA's for his second career All-America honors. His remarkably consistent indoor season garnered him Great Lakes Region Athlete of the Year honors. Neuenswander claimed All-America honors in both the indoor and outdoor seasons, finishing sixth indoors and second at the outdoor meet. She also won the NCAA Mideast Regional, clearing a then school record height of 4.31m .

Wiseman helped Coover to a clearance of 5.35 meters at the Sea Ray Relays, the nation's eighth-best mark on the year. Coover finished fourth at the regional, good for a spot at the national meet. At the NCAA Championships, Coover took seventh place and All-America honors.

Chin blossomed under Wiseman's tutelage in 2008, breaking IU's indoor and outdoor records and making it to the NCAA Championships in both seasons. Chin cleared 4.14m at the Alex Wilson Invitational to earn her spot at the NCAA Championships. When she got the chance to move outdoors, she kept the ball rolling with a clearance of 4.25m.

In 2007, Neuenswander set a new Big Ten Outdoor Championship and Nittany Lion Field record en route to the individual league title and a spot at the NCAA Mideast Regional meet. Her regional trip led her to the NCAA Championships where she finished 12th. Neuenswander also posted a successful indoor season in her rookie year. She broke the Big Ten Indoor Championship record with a vault of 4.11 meters to win silver and earn Big Ten Freshman of the Year honors.

Burkholder came away with the pole vault title and a regional qualification at the Billy Hayes Invitational in 2007. His success at Billy Hayes sent him into the Big Ten Outdoor Championships, where he won the individual title for the Hoosiers. Burkholder then cleared 5.06 meters at the NCAA Mideast Regional meet to take third and earn his first-ever trip to the NCAA Outdoor Championships.

Prior to his coaching career, Wiseman finished runner-up at the 2005 Big Ten Championships and represented Indiana at the NCAA Championships in the decathlon. In 2004, the Corydon, Ind., native also competed in the decathlon at Big Ten's, where he finished third, and at NCAA's, where he came in 21st overall.

Wiseman can be found in the Indiana record books with his career-best mark in the javelin (63.89-meters) ranking third, and his 7,365 points in the decathlon ranking second all-time.

Wiseman graduated in the spring of 2005 with a bachelor's degree in continuing studies and resides in Bloomington with his wife, Stacey.

TOM CHORNY

Volunteer Assistant Coach
Distance and Steeplechase

Tom Chorny is in his sixth year as a volunteer assistant for Indiana. Chorny works and trains with IU's distance runners and serves as the team's steeplechase coach. IU's steeplers have made great strides in two years under the tutelage of the former U.S. Champion.

A group of three qualified for the Mideast Regional in the steeplechase in 2009 and Sarah Pease took seventh at NCAAs for All-America honors. In 2010, the Hoosiers had a breakout year in the event with Pease, De'Sean Turner and Andrew Poore earning All-Big Ten honors. Pease took fourth place at NCAAs and fourth at the USA Championships after second-place at Big Tens and Turner won the Big Ten title with Poore finishing second. Turner was also an All-American in the event.

A two-time Michigan high school state champion at two miles, Chorny improved during his years at Indiana and post-collegiately, culminating in his winning the 2001 U.S. Outdoor steeplechase title to earn a berth on his first World Championships team. At Indiana, he was a three-time All-American, twice in the steeple and once in cross country. As a senior, Chorny won the 1999 Penn Relays Steeplechase title and then was the highest collegiate finisher in the steeple at the USA Outdoor Championships. Chorny holds the IU record in the steeplechase as well.

ANDREW POORE

Volunteer Assistant Coach
Distance

Andrew Poore is in year one working with the Hoosiers as a volunteer assistant. He remains with the program after an illustrious career on the track and cross country course for the Hoosiers.

Poore was a Big Ten 5,000m champion twice for the Hoosiers and placed as high as third at NCAAs in the 3,000m steeplechase. Poore now runs professionally for adidas, and trains in Bloomington under Coach Ron Helmer.

MOLLY BECKWITH

Volunteer Assistant Coach
Middle Distance

Molly Beckwith is in her third year working with Indiana's middle distance runners. One of the top runners in the world at 800 meters, Beckwith graduated from Indiana University in 2010 after taking second place at the NCAA Outdoor Championships.

Beckwith owns four Indiana University records including her Big Ten Championship effort in the 600 meters in 2010, which at 1:27.22 is the second fastest ever by an American, and Indiana's first ever sub-two minute time in the 800, a 1:59.83 effort in Lignano, Italy.

Beckwith is a native of Worthington, Ohio and earned a B.S. in Exercise Science in 2010 from Indiana, and is currently completing her graduate work in Physical Therapy at IU. She is currently training in Bloomington for the 2012 U.S. Olympic Trials.

KELLEY RIEGNER

Athletic Trainer
MA, LAT, ATC

Kelley Riegner is in her second year at Indiana. She is the head athletic trainer for cross country and track and field. Riegner plays a vital role in the success of the IU track and field program, providing everyday treatment and serving as the coordinator of sports medicine at all of IU's home meets.

Prior to arriving in Bloomington, Riegner completed a graduate assistantship at the University of Nevada, working with the cross country and track and field programs from 2008 to 2010. Riegner also worked with the Wolfpack football program while in Reno.

Riegner earned a B.S. in Athletic Training at Slipper Rock University in Pennsylvania in 2008. She completed a M.A. in Educational Leadership at Nevada in 2010. Certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association and the State of Indiana, Riegner has worked for the UCS Spirit National Pole Vault Summit three years and works with the Varsity Spirit Corporation's summer camps in teh Midwest and Northeast Regions.

Riegner is a native of Cambridge Springs, Pa.

RICK DANISON II

Strength and Conditioning Coach
M.S., CSCS, USA-W

Rick Danison is in his fourth year as a strength and conditioning coach at Indiana University. Danison is a former all-conference football player and team captain at Ohio Northern University, where he earned a B.A. in Exercise Physiology, Health and Physical Educaiton. He also has an M.S. in Exercise Science and Coaching Education from Ohio University.

Prior to coming to IU, Danison served as a strength and conditioning assistant with the Cincinnati Bengals of the NFL in 2008-09. Prior to joining the Bengals, Danison was the track and field strength coach at Ohio University in 2007-08. He also worked as an assistant strength and conditioning and assistant linebackers coach at Ohio Northern, where he learned and implemented speed development programs.

In 2009, Danison worked as an NFL combine performance specialist with Ignition Athletic Performance Group. His program was ranked among the top-ten combine training programs in the country and he coached the Golden Corral Best Overall Value Player at the 2009 NFL combine.

Danison is a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (NSCA) and has USA-W Sports Performance/Club Coach Certification. He is also a licensed K-12 health and physical education teacher. Rick and his wife, Michelle, reside in Spencer.

JAY ARTHER

Director of Operations

Jay Arther started at Indiana University in 2008. Arther handles all operations for track and field events and facilities. He is responsible for meet setup and scoring as well as facility maintenance at Gladstein Fieldhouse, Robert C. Haugh Track and Field Complex as well as the IU Championships Cross Country course.

A native of Youngsville, Pa., Arther earned a bachelor's of fine arts from Indiana University of Pennsylvania in 1988. He also earned a master's of education from Virginia Tech in 2003.

He served as head coach of track and field and cross country at Roanoke College in 1989, and then served six years as an assistant coach and director of operations at Virginia Tech. In 1996 he served as assistant coach at Lake Braddock Secondary School in Virginia. From 1997 to 2006, he was head coach and assistant athletic director at Woodbridge Senior High School in Virginia, and from 2007-2008, he was the head coach at Colonial Forge High School in Virginia.

Arther was an accomplished athlete as well. He was a six-time all-state selection in Pennsylvania, and a three-time All-American while at Indiana University of Pennsylvania. He and his wife, Tori, have two daughters, Sydney and Rylee and one son, Brodee. They reside in Bloomington.

TRUDY WRIGHT

Administrative Assistant

Trudy Wright is in her 18th year with IU Athletics. She serves as the administrative assistant for IU track and field. Her duties include managing and organizing team travel, helping administratively with compliance documentation, operating the check-in table at home events and assisting the coaching staff with various tasks throughout the year.

Wright and her husband, Bob, have three children and five grandchildren. She has two daughters, Carrie and Christy, and one son, Eric. Her grandchildren are Grant (12), Peyton (11), Claire (8), Katie (7) and Matthew (7).

Points include NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Championships and do not include NCAA Cross Country scoring. Point totals are calculated using the current championship scoring system of 10, 8, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1.

Below are adjusted scores with cross country finishes added to track and field scoring totals and updated rankings. Cross country scores added are using the Track and field scoring system (where only the top-eight finishers score points).
