INDIANA BEATS UNC IN ACC/BIG TEN CHALLENGE

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. – With a commemoration of the 1981 NCAA Championship team, an appearance from World Series champion Kyle Schwarber, and a Big Ten/ACC Challenge matchup against No. 3 North Carolina, the atmosphere in Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall had all the makings of a wild Wednesday night.

But the No. 10 Hoosiers (5-1) decided to add another ingredient to the mix: a wire-to-wire win over the third-ranked Tar Heels (7-1).

The crowd at Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall reached its boiling point before the start of the national anthem, but the Hoosiers pushed the decibel meter on their first three possessions. OG Anunoby banked a layup in the low post before Robert Johnson splashed a 3-pointer on the next possession. James Blackmon Jr., after assisting on Johnson's three, called his own number from the arc and buried the shot, giving IU an 8-2 lead.

The Hoosiers stepped on the gas and did what they've done so well under head coach Tom Crean, by playing their best against the best. Under Crean, Indiana is unbeaten at home against teams in the top three.

For the second consecutive game, Anunoby led IU's attack with 16 points, going 6-for-8 from the field. James Blackmon nearly earned a double-double in his return to the lineup, scoring 14 points with 9 rebounds and a trio of 3-pointers. Indiana's offense showed diversity, however, as all five starters entered double-digit figures.

Anunoby gifted Hoosier fans with a shocking highlight play near the end of the first half. Josh Newkirk picked off a passing lane to reverse possession at mid-court and took his dribble to the 3-point arc. He put a pass into Anunoby's hand as he left the ground, and Anunoby stamped the alley-oop with all his might. It wasn't the only time the sophomore made the highlight reel. Anunoby also came from behind to slap a block into the backboard in the second half.

The offense pushed IU to a 12-point lead by halftime, and the Hoosiers closed the door with an uncompromising performance on the defensive end. North Carolina guard Joel Berry averaged 18 points per game at the Maui Invitational this year, but the Hoosiers held him to 8 points on a 3-for-13 performance from the field. Furthermore, the Hoosiers pumped the brakes on North Carolina's transition offense to just 2 points.

Johnson championed the defensive effort. He matched up against all types of play styles, from Berry to 6-8 forward Josh Jackson, and came away with 3 steals and 6 defensive boards. Curtis Jones came off the bench in a big way as well, with moments like his glass-cleaning put-back against UNC's frontcourt and his pressure in transition to force a turnover out of play.

Although they never conceded the lead, Indiana knew they'd be in for a fight in the final minutes against Roy Williams' Tar Heels. North Carolina closed the gap with a 9-1 run after the uner-8 minutes timeout. Blackmon shifted the pressure to UNC after running across the arc to fire a contested 3-pointer into the twine, followed by De'Ron Davis' layup on the next possession.

Indiana's win, their second over a top-3 team this season, was overflowing with emotion. Nobody put that on display better than Thomas Bryant. The big man finished the night with 12 points and 7 rebounds, going 4-for-7 from the field, and brought the fiery passion Indiana fans are used to seeing. In the first half, he brought the crowd to a roar with a put-back dunk. In the second half, Bryant drove from the wing to sink a baby hook before splashing a 3-pointer from the same spot.

- IU has now won 25 regular season games against ranked opponents, the highest total in the Big Ten since the start of the 2011-12 season.

- Indiana's defense was stout, holding UNC to under 70 points for the first time this season. UNC shot less than 40 percent, a season worst, from the floor and less than 30 percent from the 3-point line.

- IU holds a 9-6 all-time series advantage over North Carolina, including a mark of 4-2 in Bloomington.

- IU improves to 5-1 on the season, the fifth time the Hoosiers have won at least five of the season's first six games under Tom Crean.

- With the victory over UNC, Indiana has now won 10 consecutive home games over ranked opponents.

- IU started quickly in the first half, pushing the lead to as high as 17 points, the largest deficit the Tar Heels have faced this season (previous was four). The Hoosiers took a 41-29 lead into the halftime break.

- All five Hoosier starters scored in double figures, the second time this season IU has had five double figure scorers in one contest, the first being the season-opening win over Kansas.

- OG Anunoby poured in a team-high 16 points for the game. The sophomore added five rebounds and two blocks to his line.

- James Blackmon Jr. returned, following a one game absence, to score 14 points and dish out three assists. Blackmon, Jr. now has 820 points in 51 career games. He also hauled in a team-high nine rebounds, tying a career high.

- Thomas Bryant logged big minutes, and recorded 12 points, seven rebounds and two steals.

- Robert Johnson tallied 11 points for the Hoosiers, including 10 points in the first half, and grabbed six boards. Johnson came away with three steals, tying a career high. Johnson has drained at least one 3-point jumper in his last 15 games played.

- Josh Newkirk chipped in 10 points, three assists, a block and a steal. Newkirk has scored double figures in two games this season.

- Juwan Morgan contributed six points and three rebounds in 21 minutes of game time.

- De'Ron Davis drilled a handful of clutch free throws, and finished the night with five points, three boards and swatted two shots, tying a career high. He has blocked two shots in each of his last two games.

INDIANA TOPS NO. 2/3 KANSAS

- IU won its 19th straight season opener, while snapping the Jayhawks 14-game season opening winning streak. It was the Hoosiers first season opening win away from Assembly Hall since beating Lafayette in the 2006 Preseason NIT at Bankers

- This was just the second time in nine seasons that IU did not start a freshman in the season opener. The last time came in 2009-10 when Will Sheehy and Victor Oladipo were frosh.

- Sophomore OG Annunoby and junior Josh Newkirk made his first career starts for the Hoosiers. Junior Robert Johnson made his 56th career start, junior James Blackmon Jr., started his 46th game and sophomore Thomas Bryant was in the starting lineup for the 36th occasion.

- Blackmon, Jr. has been in the opening night starting lineup each of the last three years and Bryant for the second straight season. Johnson started on opening night as a freshman and this year.

- Newkirk, freshman Curtis Jones, freshman Devonte Green, freshman De'Ron Davis and junior Freddie McSwain, Jr., all played in their first game with the Hoosiers.

- Indiana has now won 24 regular season games against ranked opponents, the highest total in the Big Ten since 2011-12 and second most only behind Kansas. Indiana increases its lead in the all-time series against Kansas to 8-6.

- The 103 points scored makes it three out of the last four years that Indiana has scored 100 or more points in the season opener (100 vs. Chicago State in 2013; 116 vs. Mississippi Valley State in 2014).

- Indiana connected on 15 3-point field goals in the game, the eighth time under Tom Crean that the Hoosiers have made at least 15 in a game.

- The 15 3-pointers made by the Hoosiers are the most that Kansas has allowed in a non-conference game since at least 1996-97 (courtesy STATS, INC.).

- IU held Kansas to just 2-for-9 shooting in the overtime period.

- Indiana shot 50.0 percent (14-for-28) from the field in the second half, including 7-for-12 from long distance. When you add in the 2-for-3 effort in overtime, the Hoosiers were 9-for-15 over the final 25 minutes.

- The game featured 16 ties and 17 lead changes. Kansas' largest lead was nine points early in the second half while the Hoosiers largest lead was five points with 3:45 left in regulation. The 31 fouls against the Hoosiers was tied for the most called against Indiana in the Tom Crean Era and was just the third time since 2008-09 that three Hoosiers had fouled out in a game.

Player Plaudits

- Blackmon, Jr., returned from knee surgery which cost him the final 22 games of the season last year and scored 22 of his 26 points in the second half and overtime to lead the No. 11/12 Hoosiers to a win over the No. 2/3 Kansas Jayhawks in the Armed Forces Classic. His three pointer with 2:30 gave the Hoosiers the lead for good in the overtime period. In the second half and overtime, he was 6-for-12 from the field, 4-for-7 from 3-point range and 6-for-6 from the line. He also had six rebounds. It's the 14th game of his career scoring at least 20 points. He went 4-of-8 from the 3-point line and 6-for-7 at the free throw line while also grabbing six rebounds. He now has 750 points in 47 career games played.

- Jones came off the bench and scored 15 points in 16 minutes, including seven points in overtime to lead the Hoosiers to the win over the Jayhawks in Honolulu. He scored five points in a one minute span in the first half to give IU its first lead in the game with a 3-pointer and a driving layup. In the overtime, he hit a 3-pointer with 1:45 to go to extend the lead to 97-93 for the Hoosiers. With IU up by two with 16 seconds to play, Jones knocked in two free throws and with Kansas pressing down two with five seconds to play, Jones took the inbounds after breaking away from the press and sealed the victory with a slam dunk.

- Bryant recorded his third career double-double with 19 points and 10 rebounds. He kept the Hoosiers in the game in the first half with 16 points, including a career-best two 3-point field goals. Other Hoosiers who have had double-doubles on opening night in the Crean Era include Tom Pritchard vs. Northwestern State in 2008-09, Christian Watford vs. Howard, 2009-10, Cody Zeller vs. Stony Brook, 2011-12, Watford and Zeller vs. Bryant, 2012-13 and Noah Vonleh vs. Chicago State, 2013-14.

- Anunoby did a little bit of everything, totaling 13 points, seven rebounds and three blocked shots (ties career high). He also matched a career best with three made 3-point field goals. His 36 minutes played also were a career-high.

- Johnson was the fifth Hoosier in double figures, scoring 10 points to go with two assists and two steals. He scored seven points in a 1:15 stretch in the second half.

- Sophomore forward Juwan Morgan hauled down a career-best 10 rebounds while scoring six points and dishing out four assists in a career-high 26 minutes off the bench.

- Davis began his IU career with four points, but the most crucial were a pair of free throws in the overtime period to make it a two-possession game with 42 seconds left.

- Green connected on a 3-point field goal for his only points of the game.

- McSwain, Jr. made his Indiana debut by playing four minutes and grabbing two rebounds.

The players on the list are considered strong candidates for the 2017 John R. Wooden Award All-America Team presented by Wendy's. Players not chosen to the preseason list are eligible for the Wooden Award midseason list, late season list and the National Ballot. The National Ballot consists of 15 top players who have proven to their universities that they are also making progress toward graduation and maintaining at least a cumulative 2.0 GPA. Nearly 1,000 voters will rank in order 10 of those 15 players, who have been qualified as meeting the standards set forth by Coach Wooden and the Wooden Award Steering Committee. Voting will open prior to the start of the NCAA Tournament and will allow voters to take into consideration performance during early round games. The Wooden Award All-American Team will be announced the week of the "Elite Eight" round of the NCAA Tournament. The winner of the 2017 John R. ABOUT SIMON SKJODT ASSEMBLY HALL

Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall, the home for Indiana basketball, was officially dedicated on Friday, October 14. The historic and venerable arena is renamed in honor of IU alumna Cindy Simon Skjodt, whose $40 million gift represents the largest gift in IU Athletics history. The renovation preserves the greatest home court advantage in college basketball while adding fan amenities and modern technology to the iconic venue. The dedication also served as the official opening of the Mark Cuban Center for Sports Media and Technology. Made possible by a $5 million gift from IU alumnus Mark Cuban, the Center is home to a first-of-its-kind, cutting-edge, student-focused, video, broadcasting and technology center located on the west side of Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall.

The renovations in and around Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall greatly enhance the fan experience by creatively displaying elements of IU basketball and IU Athletics history, while seamlessly integrating new portions of the building to existing areas. The renovation maintains the unique and special character of the building that made the original Assembly Hall the greatest home court advantage in college basketball while adding new fan amenities and modern technology to the iconic venue.

Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall originally opened its doors as Assembly Hall in 1971. It has been home to three national championship teams, 14 Big Ten championship teams. Boasting the nation's largest student section (7,800), Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall is widely considered one of the nation's loudest and toughest home arenas to play in for opposing teams. The venue now holds a seating capacity of 17,222.

Mark Cuban Center for Sports Media and Technology

Today's dedication also marks the official opening of the Cuban Center. Located adjacent to the west hallway of Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall, the Cuban Center is a first-of-its-kind, cutting-edge, student-focused, video, broadcasting and technology center. A $5 million gift from Cuban has made IU Athletics a national leader in 3D broadcast and replay, virtual reality and 3D virtual studio technologies.

The Mark Cuban Center for Sports Media and Technology partners with academic units on campus to provide opportunities for students in various media and technology disciplines by allowing them to use cutting edge technology and equipment to hone their skills and produce high-quality professional content. Utilizing the center's resources, IU students will produce a wide variety of media content for IU Athletics including virtual reality videos for fan experience, athlete instruction, recruiting videos, social media, video board displays, team specific shows and live event broadcasts for all 24 IU sports.

Consistent with IU Athletics' priority to be integrated with the rest of the University, the Cuban Center collaboratively engages the broader campus community in providing student personnel and/or curriculum to support the efforts of the Center. This is done in areas as wide ranging as virtual reality, gaming, studio production, gameday video production, motion and broadcast graphics, promotional location production, reporting, play-by-play and game live casting. IU Athletics has already enlisted support for the Center from the Media School, IU Radio TV Services, the School of Informatics and the Advanced Visualization Lab.

The Cuban Center is available to students around the clock to allow them to work on projects outside of class time. The Center features the only Intel freeD replay system in college athletics, six student dedicated editing stations, an ORAD virtual studio, a new photography lab, a recording studio and an additional broadcast control room for live events and streams.

New South Lobby

The most highly visible component to the renovation of Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall is the new grand entrance and south lobby providing a bold new "front door" for the building facing the campus. Complimenting nearby Cook Hall, the new south entrance of Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall features a prominent glass atrium allowing fans to see the court from the lobby and new inside signage (modeled after the original Assembly Hall signage) and branding viewable from the outside.

The new entrance to Assembly Hall includes new ticket windows, concourse flooring, branding, signage, four new escalators and grand staircases, and lobby restrooms. Two new escalators were also added to the north lobby.

Ken Nunn Champions Plaza

Named in honor of major donor Ken Nunn, the Ken Nunn Champions Plaza is a beautifully landscaped area that welcomes fans into the new south entrance of Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall with inviting greenspace and lighting. The plaza also creates a unified IU basketball outdoor area by connecting Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall and Cook Hall.

New Scoreboard with HD Quality Video Screens

A central feature of the renovation of Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall is the newly installed state-of-the-art scoreboard. The $1.04 million HD quality scoreboard greatly enhances the fan experience and utilizes cutting edge technology. The design of the new scoreboard incorporates architectural elements of Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall. The upward arch in the truss mirrors the arch of each sideline inside the facility. The bottom of the scoreboard facing the floor is the same architectural shape as the ceiling of the building. It is hung by utilizing the existing hoist system in the arena.

The scoreboard, designed by Anthony James Partners, features two screens that cover 552 square feet toward the main stands along with a pair of 206 square foot screens facing each end line of the court. The dimensions of the two larger video boards are 31.2 feet wide by 17.7 feet tall as the north and south screens measure 19.8 feet wide by 10.4 feet tall and has a total weight of approximately 34,000 pounds. The total flat screen surface of the four-paneled board is just over 1,500 square feet. By comparison, the total flat screen surface on the previous eight-paneled scoreboard was just over 1,000 square feet.

Improved and Added Restrooms

All existing restrooms were updated and new ones were added as part of the renovations for Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall. Women's restroom fixture counts increased by 112 percent from prior to the renovation, while men's restroom fixture counts were increased by 33 percent. The total fixture increase for all restrooms grew by 68 percent (from 186 to 314). Updates to the existing restrooms include new ceilings, lights, paint, toilet partitions, toilet seats, lave deck sink systems, flooring tile and select fixtures adjusted to accessible dimensions.

There are 16 new all gender restrooms that are for use for all individuals and families with small children. These restrooms include baby changing stations. All new restrooms (men's, women's, all gender) are 100 percent ADA compliant and include comfortable amenities designed for the gameday environment.

Other Fan Amenities

A number of other exciting new fan amenities and branding elements are featured throughout Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall. These new amenities creatively display elements of IU basketball and IU Athletics history.

Interactive touch screens, developed in-house by IU Athletics IT staff in concert with graphic designers, videographers and photographers working in the Mark Cuban Center for Sports Media and Technology, are housed in the south lobby. These displays provide patrons with photos and videos chronicling both IU Athletics and IU basketball history. The screens include a database listing IU basketball All-Americans and Indiana high school basketball All-Stars. The interactive touch screens also provide access to team photographs of varsity teams at IU and to the Indiana University Archives Photograph Collection.

The south lobby also has two large 9x15 feet video screens mounted high on the walls on each side of the entrance. These displays will display photos, highlight videos, broadcast of games, and promote upcoming events.

The interactive screens also include the IU Athletics Hall of Fame and feature the classic water color portraits that previously graced the walls of the north and south lobbies. Additionally, physical versions of those portraits can now be viewed in a permanent display in the Henke Hall of Champions within Memorial Stadium.

Another fan-friendly feature of the south lobby are two three-dimensional eight-foot tall IU logos. Resembling Indiana limestone, the structures are on the second level of the south entrance, are visible from the exterior of the building and provide a perfect location for fans to take pictures to share on social media and otherwise.

A donor recognition display is also a part of the south lobby. This display recognizes major contributions to IU Athletics' portion of the For All: The Indiana University Bicentennial Campaign. Named and endowed scholarship donors are recognized in modern displays honoring their extraordinary commitment to providing critical scholarship support for deserving students in all 24 varsity sports. Donors to previous campaigns are also recognized in modern displays honoring their extraordinary commitment to Indiana University Athletics.

All 25 IU national championship teams are prominently displayed throughout Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall. Featured in both the north and south lobbies, there is a display with 25 stars and a listing of the championship teams, with room to add future championship teams.

The five national championships for men's basketball are on display in their own space as part of the renovated west entrance into the building. Resulting from a major gift from the Menke family, the entrance is now known as the Menke Family Champions Lobby. Brothers Bob and Bill Menke were part of Indiana's first national championship team in 1940 under legendary head coach Branch McCracken. Both brothers served in World War II after college. Bill lost his life defending his country in a plane crash during the war. Bob returned to Huntingburg and founded a family business which is now known as OFS Brands, a family-owned, community-driven manufacturing and logistics company providing furniture solutions in office, healthcare, education and government markets. Bob passed away in 2008 at the age 88, but the Menke family's legacy lives on through Bob's wife Phyllis, and their children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. Bob's son, Hank Menke, now serves as CEO and President of OFS Brands.

Other entry level displays include memorable composite photos of every IU Big Ten championship team (east hallway), an IU Olympians wall (west hallway) and a Traditions of IU display (south lobby). Throughout Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall, fans will see framed images and stories from IU basketball lore. These photos and stories range from the first varsity team in 1900-01, to the five national championships, to the early days of IU women's basketball, to the many great moments from recent IU basketball history.

One of many updates within the arena bowl itself is that every non-bleacher seat is crimson and branded with an embossed IU logo on the chair back. Every ticketed, non-bleacher seat has also been refurbished with red, cleanable upholstery, new inner foam padding and cream colored seat pans that will provide more comfort for fans.

To improve visibility and fan safety, most guardrails have been replaced by transparent acrylic material.

Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall also features new flooring, lighting, and an updated paint scheme. New, colorful, patterned flooring that features IU marks are part of the renovated walk spaces. The entry level features a terrazzo floor, while a resinous epoxy floor is on the main concourse level.

Restoring Center Court, Basketball Goal Stanchions, and Historic Scoreboard

Several beloved artifacts that had been part of the building have been restored and uniquely displayed. The main attraction in the north lobby is the classic hardwood center court state of Indiana logo with the large "I" inside the center circle. The court was installed as part of Branch McCracken Court in the summer of 1976 and was retired in 1995.

The original unique basketball goal stanchions that were installed in the fall of 1971 for the opening season of the building through 2001 are making their return to Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall. The restored stanchions and goals will be featured in the north lobby.

Also making its return to the building is the scoreboard that hung over the center of the court from 1983-2005. The scoreboard has been divided in half and is mounted above the grand stair cases on both sides of the south lobby. The scoreboard has been updated with new working digital numbers to show the live score and time of every IU home game.

Fan Friendly Technology

Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall features enhanced fan-friendly technology throughout the arena. Over 125 flat screen television monitors are featured throughout the concourses and walkways and all broadcast in HD. Concession stands now have digital menu screens to allow each stand to change the menu in real time based upon food and beverage availability.

Expanded Concession Stands Locations and Improvements

Concession stands have been substantially improved through the renovation. There is a 135% increase in customer service locations (from 28 to 66), and 66 new flat screen video monitors now hang above the permanent concession stands displaying digital menus and live game action video so patrons won't miss a moment while making a purchase. Counters were lowered for improved accessibility and were moved out by three feet out in order to allow each stand to switch from four to six lines.

Updated and new concessions equipment are installed throughout the building including ventless fryers, popcorn machines, fountain Coke machines, refrigerators, candy racks and condiment equipment. There are now 20 condiment locations (previously nine) throughout Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall, while credit card payment locations were increased by 84 percent.

Henke Spirit of '76 Club

The new Henke Spirit of '76 Club, located above the south bleachers, is the special hospitality seating experience inside Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall. All proceeds generated from this new seating opportunity will be dedicated to scholarships for our students participating in intercollegiate athletics. The space pays homage to the 1976 national champion Indiana Hoosiers that remains the last college basketball team to finish an entire season and NCAA tournament undefeated. Large photos and displays of that memorable team are part of the Henke Spirit of '76 Club décor. The space provides seating for 83. Hoosier Champion donors are eligible to purchase season tickets to the Henke Spirit of '76 Club.

Renovated Press Room, Permanent Media Seating, and Additional Premium Student Section Seating

The Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall Press Room has also been improved, including new modern furniture, updated lighting and permanent tables and seating for media members.

Within the arena bowl, permanent media seating has been installed in the east stands presiding directly over midcourt. The media area includes extended space for more comfortable seating, improved connectivity, HD flat screen televisions and a hospitality area. The new permanent media seating will facilitate the addition of 98 student seats to the south bleachers student section.

Improved Infrastructure and Accessibility

The renovation of Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall included a number of important infrastructure updates and improvements. These include new emergency generators, new domestic hot water heaters, a new fire pump, new chill water pump system and chilled water piping into the building, a new air handling unit for the south end of the building, newly installed HVAC in the south lobby including heat recovery and domestic water booster pumps.

The renovation also includes great improvements to accessibility. Accessibility improvements include: Ken Nunn Champions Plaza features universal accessibility allowing all individuals to access the south entrance from any point on the sidewalk; the doubling of wheelchair seating; the installation of 66 moveable armrest seats to allow those with mobility issues who do not use a wheelchair to use a more traditional seat; a closed captioning system will transcribe the PA announcer for all men's games to personal devices running the IU mobile app; concessions counters have been lowered to a more accessible height; and all new restrooms are 100 percent accessible, while accessibility to existing restrooms has been improved.
