WEEKEND PREVIEW

Indiana will open their CWPA schedule with the highest-ranked team in the conference, and their biggest rival, when they take the pool against No. 8 Michigan Wolverines on Saturday morning. The Hoosiers, led on the attack by Kelly Matthews (93 points) and Candyce Schroeder (56 points), could take a valuable lead in the CWPA standings with what would be their first win over a top-ten opponent this season.

HOOSIER POLO NOTES

ON THE WAY OUT

This game will be the last chance for Hoosier fans to catch the IU water polo team in Bloomington this year, as they close the regular season with six games on the road. Their final game doubles as their CWPA conference opener, with the Hoosiers aiming for a winning start to their seven-game conference slate.

HOMETOWN DOMINANCE

The Hoosiers' last weekend of competition yielded four decisive wins, each by seven or more goals, in front of a hometown crowd at the Fluid Five. Indiana's balanced attack led to all 12 field players tallying more than one goal over the weekend.

Kelly Matthews stuffed the stat sheet with 12 goals (.632 shot percentage), seven assists, 11 steals, and three field blocks. Five other Hoosiers--Candyce Schroeder, Karrie Kozokar, Jennifer Beadle, Kate Pipkin, and Sarah Myers--all recorded 10-plus points through the weekend.

Mary Campbell and MacKenzie Bonk excelled in their split time in the cage. They combined for 44 saves, two assists, and three steals while allowing just 19 goals.

A SCORE TO SETTLE

Indiana and Michigan have formed one of the toughest rivalries in the country since their first meeting in 1998. Since then, Michigan has taken a 44-21-2 series lead, but the Hoosiers have won six of the last seven meetings. In their three encounters last season, each game was decided by one goal.

WOLVERINE WATCH

Michigan comes into Bloomington with a 19-6 record, with 23 of their 25 games against ranked competition. In that time, they've scored key wins over top-ten teams such as San Jose State, California, and UC Irvine. Like Indiana, Michigan opens their CWPA schedule on Saturday, and both teams will be eager to take a lead in the standings.

A CLASS ABOVE

Saturday's game will also serve as a recognition for the senior class of 2016: goalkeeper MacKenzie Bonk, goalkeeper Mary Campbell, and center Candyce Schroeder. The trio have combined for 203 career appearances and 146 starts,

HEAD COACH BARRY KING

19th YEAR AT INDIANA

Barry King will enter his 19th season at the helm of the Indiana women's water polo program in 2016.

King has brought the Hoosiers from a club squad to a national power in his tenure at the helm of the Hoosiers. In the first 18 years of the program, King has helped IU to six appearances in the national championships, including a Final Four appearance in 2003, a seventh place finish in 2014 and appearances at nationals in each of the Hoosiers' first three seasons as a varsity squad. Heading into the 2016 campaign, King has an impressive career record of 403-218-2 (.649). The Hoosiers have won 20 games or more in 16 of King's 18 seasons.

The 2015 season came one goal shy of a back-to-back CWPA Championship and a second consecutive NCAA berth for the Hoosiers. Still, it will go down as one of the most successful seasons on record. The Hoosiers amassed a 23-12 record, which included out-of-conference wins over #9 Princeton, #12 San Diego State, and #20 UC San Diego. They tore through their CWPA schedule with a 9-1 record, on their way to a three-way tie for first place. Their season came to a close in the CWPA Title Game, a 7-6 loss to top-seeded Princeton. The Hoosiers finished the season 11th in the national rankings.

Several players earned recognition after the 2015 season. Freshman Kelly Matthews was named the CWPA Rookie of the Year thanks to her 73-goal debut (IU freshman record). Four Hoosiers picked up All-CWPA honors, and three received All-CWPA Tournament accolades. Hoosier senior Rebecca Gerrity received the Big Ten Medal of Honor, the conference's award honoring academic and athletic excellence.

The 2014 season was one of the most successful in school history. The team finished seventh place at the NCAA Championships and was crowned the CWPA Champion for the third time (2003, 2011). The Hoosiers won a school record 12 consecutive games leading into the first round of the NCAA tournament. Senior Shae Fournier was named to the ACWPC All-America Second Team, while her and three other Hoosiers (Allison Campbell, Rebecca Gerry, Jessica Gaudreault) garnered CWPA All-Division First Team accolades.

In 2013 Coach King's won his first ever Coach of the Year award from the CWPA since Indiana joined the conference in 2001. Jakie Kohli, Shae Fournier, and Jessica Gaudreault were all named First-Team all CWPA during the season, marking the first time the Hoosiers have had three First Team All-Conference players in the same year since 2005. 2013 was also the season King led Indiana to their first Western Conference Championship in program history.

The 2011 season was a milestone year for King, as he eclipsed the 300 career win plateau and helped lead the Hoosiers to their second NCAA Championship appearance. Indiana finished sixth in the event, while registering the program's first win at an NCAA Championship with an 11-8 victory over UC San Diego. The squad earned the trip after a thrilling 5-3 victory over rival Michigan in the CWPA Eastern Championship. The Hoosiers finished the season with a No. 9 national ranking and a 26-13 overall mark, tying the program record. Jakie Köhli and Cassie Wyckoff each earned Honorable Mention All-American accolades following the season.

During the 2010 campaign, King led the Hoosiers to a No. 12 national ranking at season's end, after the squad advanced to the final game of the CWPA Eastern Championship in College Park, Md. Following the tournament, King was named the "Doc Hunkler" Coach of the Tournament. Köhli also became the sixth Hoosier to earn All-American status under King, as she was named to the Honorable Mention by the ACWPC.

In 2008, Indiana earned their sixth 20-win season in their last seven years, going 20-16 on their way to a seventh-place finish at the CWPA Eastern Championships. Four Hoosiers landed on the season's CWPA All-Western Division team, including first team honoree Brooke Zimmerman. Zimmerman also became Indiana's seventh All-American for her outstanding senior year, in which she set a school record with 77 goals (now fourth – IU history), and eclipsed her 2007 record-setting mark of 56 assists (now second – IU history). King's offense shattered the team record for single-season goals with 381 (second all-time) and set a still-standing record for team assists (339).

In 2003, King led the Hoosiers to their first NCAA Final Four appearance by winning the Collegiate Water Polo Association Eastern Championship. The Hoosiers turned some heads at the Final Four, becoming the first Eastern squad to lead a match by taking an early, 1-0 lead over Loyola Marymount. Krista Peterson became the first Eastern player to be named first-team All-Championships, after netting three of the Hoosiers' four goals at the Final Four.

In 2002, 2004 and 2005, King and his Hoosiers were just shy of advancing to the NCAA Championship. In the middle of those two narrow misses, the Hoosiers advanced to their first NCAA-sponsored Final Four in 2003. The NCAA started sponsoring a national championship in water polo in 2001.

Barry, his wife, Mindy, and their two sons, Creighton and Aidan, reside in Bloomington.
