Heading into this week, R-So. QB Lenny Williams ranks in the top 20 in the nation in six different categories, including first in passing efficiency (194.2), passing yards per completion (18.11), and passing yards per attempt (12.02). WILLIAMS USES BIG PLAYS IN THE PASS GAME, AVERAGES OVER 18 YARDS PER COMPLETION

Williams' 18.11 yards per completion is by far the best in the PSAC, as he's taken advantage of the Crimson Hawks' big play potential. 16 of his 85 completions have gone for 30 yards or more, including five of 50-plus. His 89-yard touchdown pass to Wright is the second longest pass play in IUP history and one of the longest in Division II this year.

SAMIR BULLOCK LEADS ALL TRUE FRESHMEN IN RUSHING

Fr. RB Samir Bullock has come on as IUP's top back, ranking third in the PSAC and 21st in Division II with 107.7 rushing yards per game. That average is also the most among true freshmen in the country. His 6.7 yards per carry average is second in the conference and 15th in the nation, busting eight runs for more than 20 yards.

BULLOCK ALSO RANKS 19TH IN DIVISION II IN ALL-PURPOSE YARDS

Bullock also leads the Crimson Hawks in kickoff return yards and average and is one of the top all-purpose yardage threats in the nation. His 157.0 all-purpose yards per game ranks fifth in the PSAC and 19th in Division II, and he leads IUP with 1,099 all-purpose yards.

CURT CIGNETTI (6th SEASON)

Curt Cignetti enters his sixth year at the helm of the IUPUI football program in 2016. Through five seasons, Cignetti has a record of 43-15, going 26-9 in PSAC West play and 3-2 in the NCAA playoffs. He has a record of 23-6 at home and 20-8 on the road.

The Crimson Hawks finished the 2015 season ranked No. 19 in the final American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) poll after posting a 9-3 record which included a trip to the second round of the NCAA Division II playoffs. It was the third time in the last four seasons IUPUI was ranked in the top 25, coming in at No. 7 in 2012 and No. 24 in 2013.

IUPUI opened the NCAA Division II playoffs with a 47-21 victory at Charleston, putting together a comeback that included 41 second half points. Dual threat redshirt freshman quarterback Lenny Williams finished with 252 total yards and five touchdowns. The Crimson Hawks, who averaged the fifth-best ground attack in the nation at 293.6 yards per game, totaled 347 rushing yards against Charleston.

For their efforts, left guard Ethan Cooper was named a Football Gazette third-team All-American, while Williams was named the Super Region One and PSAC West Freshman of the Year. Eleven Crimson Hawks were named given all-conference honors, while six were named to the all-region second team.

IUPUI entered 2015 ranked fifth in the PSAC West preseason coaches' poll, before finishing the year with a share of the division title with a 6-1 conference record.

The Crimson Hawks finished 2012 with a 12-2 overall record, advancing to the Super Region One Championship (NCAA quarterfinals) at Winston-Salem State, ultimately falling to the Rams 21-17.

IUPUI went 6-1 in PSAC West play, with its only loss at then sixth-ranked California 26-24 on Sept. 22. The record was good for first in the division, earning the right to host East champion Shippensburg in the PSAC "State Game." The Crimson Hawks would use a 27-10 first half lead in the game en route to a dominating 41-10 victory over the Red Raiders for the program's first championship game win since 1987. (Note: The "State Game" was not played from 1988-2007)

The Crimson Hawks earned the third seed in Super Region One and defeated sixth-seeded Shepherd 27-17 at home in the first round. They'd go on to defeat second-seeded New Haven (Conn.) on the road in the second round before the loss at top seed Winston-Salem State.

The postseason appearance was the first for IUPUI since 2007 and the first NCAA quarterfinal appearance since 2002.

For his efforts, Cignetti was named the PSAC West Coach of the Year, helping 14 of his players to All-PSAC West honors after the season. That includes PSAC West Offensive Player of the Year Harvie Tuck, who finished his senior season with 1,660 rushing yards and 16 touchdowns.

Cignetti also boasts six all-region players and two student-athletes - seniors Johnny Franco and Anthony

DiPasquale - who were named Capital One Academic All-America's. In 2012, the Crimson Hawks were the top defense in the nation, leading Division II in scoring defense (12.5 points per game) and total defense (257.9 yards per game). IUPUI was also third in the nation in turnover margin with a +21.

The rushing offense was also one of the best in the nation, as Tuck teamed with De'Antwan Williams to help IUPUI rush for 259.3 yards per game, 10th in the nation (as of 12/1). The Crimson Hawks 3,630 net rushing yards broke the single-season program record of 3,211 set in 1993. IUPUI averaged 33.6 points and 417.5 yards of total offense. They were also second in the nation in time of possession, keeping the ball an average of 34:16 per contest.

2012 also marked Cignetti's 30th year of coaching.

Prior to IUPUI, Cignetti spent four seasons as the wide receivers coach and recruiting coordinator under Nick Saban at Alabama and helped the Crimson Tide win the 2009 BCS National Championship with a 14-0 record. He brought in the consensus No. 1 recruiting class in the country in 2008, the first of three straight classes which finished in the top five nationally.

In addition to the national title, Cignetti was part of Alabama teams that posted a record of 33-3 over the past three regular seasons, including 29 consecutive regular season victories, won the 2008 and 2009 SEC West championship and earned a berth in the 2008 Sugar Bowl.

Among his recruits was Mark Ingram, who won the 2008 Heisman Trophy. He coached Julio Jones, the Associated Press SEC Freshman of the Year and Columbus Touchdown Club National Freshman of the Year the same season.

On the strength of his accomplishments in the recruiting battles and the successes his players had on the field, Cignetti was honored as one of four finalists for the 2010 Football Scoop Wide Receivers Coach of the Year.

Cignetti joined the staff at Alabama after spending seven seasons (2000-06) as the recruiting coordinator at North Carolina State while also coaching tight ends from 2000-02 and 2005-06 and quarterbacks during the 2003 and 2004 campaigns. The Wolfpack qualified for five bowl games during that time, including the 2002 Gator Bowl when N.C. State set a school record with 11 wins. One of his last recruits before moving to Alabama was quarterback Russell Wilson out of Virginia, who committed to NC State before moving on to Wisconsin as a senior. He finished his collegiate career with a 60.9 completion percentage, 11,720 yards and 109 touchdowns before getting drafted by the Seattle Seahawks in the third round 2012 and leading them to a Super Bowl XLVIII victory.

Two of his recruiting classes ranked in the top 10 in the nation, and Rivals.com named him one of the top 25 recruiters in the nation in 2004. While working with the Wolfpack quarterbacks, Cignetti had the opportunity to coach 2003 ACC Player of the Year Philip Rivers and help prepare him to become the fourth pick in the NFL draft the following spring.
