THIS IS PHILADELPHIA UNIVERSITY

Philadelphia University is a private institution of higher learning committed to providing an experiential education and is recognized as a leader in the architecture, design, engineering, business, textiles, and health and sciences fields. The University is fully accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools.

Philadelphia University's curriculum encompasses a solid liberal studies foundation with professional education through its three colleges: the College of Architecture and the Built Environment; the College of Design, Engineering and Commerce; and the College of Science, Health and the Liberal Arts. The University offers more than 60 areas of study leading to the bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees.

Philadelphia University graduates' career placement rate in major-related jobs has consistently been above approximately 90 percent within the last few months of graduation, over the last twenty years.

Philadelphia University recruits internationally resulting in a student body that is academically, geographically, culturally and economically diverse. Undergraduate and graduate students who attend the University are from 38 states and 30 countries. As a small, private university, Philadelphia University maintains an average class of size of 18 and a 12:1 student/faculty ratio that enables close relationships between faculty and students. The University has 3,200 undergraduate and graduate students.

DIRECTIONS TO CAMPUS

From Center City, South Jersey, Central & Western Pa.:

Take the Schuylkill Expressway (I- 76) to the Lincoln Drive Exit. Follow Lincoln Drive to Gypsy Lane (first right - Police Station on corner). Follow Gypsy Lane up hill to stop sign. Turn left onto School House Lane. First light is Henry Ave., make a left and follow Henry a short distance while staying in the right lane. At the next light - Philadelphia Univ. Drive - make a right into the driveway for The Gallagher Athletic, Recreation and Convocation Center. Follow drive along to the side of the building to access parking garage--spaces for visiting team vans/buses also available at the same location.

From Northeast Extension - Pennsylvania Turnpike:

Exit Turnpike at Norristown, Plymouth Meeting (Exit #25/333). Make a right after the exit and head east on Germantown Pike to first traffic light. Make a right onto Chemical Road. Go through three traffic lights and at the fourth light make a 90 degree left at the five point intersection onto Ridge Pike. Take the Ridge Pike (Approx. 3.5 miles) to the Henry Ave. cutoff (bear left). Take Henry Ave. about 6 miles to School House Lane.

From New York/Northern New Jersey/Points North:

Take New Jersey Turnpike to Pennsylvania Turnpike: Exit at NJ Exit #6 and follow to PA Turnpike. Exit at Norristown/Plymouth Meeting (Exit #25/old #333). Follow above directions from Northeast Extension.

The University's 100-acre campus in the East Falls section of Philadelphia includes more than 50 buildings, ranging from historic Victorian mansions to contemporary classroom, library and residential facilities. The latest additions – The Kanbar Campus Center, a 72,000 square-foot social hub for students, faculty and staff; the Center for Sustainability, Energy Efficiency and Design; and The Gallagher Athletic, Recreation and Convocation Center – have transformed our main campus and will have a dramatic impact on the academic and social environment for all members of the University Community. Philadelphia University houses more than 20 laboratories and studios for hands-on experience in architecture and interior design, engineering, textile design, fashion design, graphic design, industrial design, physician assistant studies, biology, chemistry, physics and computer technologies.

The Philadelphia University Research Center, located in the Manayunk section of Philadelphia in a restored 1864 textile mill, opened in May of 2005 and houses The Engineering and Design Institute (a partnership with Ben Franklin Technology Partners) and The Laboratory for Engineered Human Protection (LEHP).

The campus is wired with a sophisticated network directly to the desktop providing campus-wide file-transfer capability, personal directories, email and high-speed Internet access. The campus' advanced technology also provides voicemail and cable television to anyone living in the residence halls, townhouses or apartments.

Philadelphia University was founded in 1884 as Philadelphia Textile School, by a group of textile manufacturers who noticed a difference in the quality and variety of American textile products and those from Europe. In 1941, it changed its name to Philadelphia Textile Institute and in 1961 it became known as Philadelphia College of Textiles and Science.

Having been awarded university status by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on July 13, 1999, it officially changed its name to Philadelphia University and is the first and only private university in the U.S. named exclusively after the city of Philadelphia.

Philadelphia University is located fifteen minutes northwest of Center City Philadelphia and has a satellite campus in Bucks County.

Tom Shirley

Head Coach

27th season at Philadelphia University

35th season overall

Record at Philadelphia University: 534-247

Career Record: 683-320

DeSales '76

As he enters his 27th season as the head coach of the Philadelphia University women's basketball, and his 35th season overall, Tom Shirley is one of the most successful coaches in the history of the women's game.

Shirley has the third-highest win total in Division II—28th in all levels—with 683 career victories, 534 coming at Philadelphia University. He is just one of 56 women's basketball coaches in NCAA history to surpass the 600-win plateau.

Since coming to Philadelphia University in 1989 to serve as the University's associate director of athletics and women's basketball coach, Shirley—who became the director of athletics in 1992—has created a strong tradition of winning which has led the team to a record of 534-247. The Rams have been to six NCAA Tournaments, won 20 or more games 19 times—including a streak of 10 20-win seasons from 1991 to 2001—, claimed two Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference titles, had 10 ECAC runner-up finishes, produced five All-Americans and one National Player of the Year.

In addition to his administrative and coaching duties, Shirley is starting his second four-year term on the NCAA Division II Championships Committee. He was previously on the committee from 2005 to 2009. He has served as the president of the Central Atlantic Collegiate Conference (CACC) Athletic Directors Council and was a member of the NCAA Women's Basketball Rules Committee.

Shirley was recognized by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics in 2007, earning the AstroTurf NCAA Division II Athletic Director of the Year award. A year ago, he was tabbed the CACC Athletic Director of the Year by his peers.

Last season, Philadelphia posted its 19th 20-win season under Shirley with a 22-9 overall record and qualified for the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2009. The Rams reached the final of the CACC Tournament, marking their first appearance in the conference tournament final in six seasons. Philadelphia placed three players on the All-CACC team. Najah Jacobs was a first-team selection for the season straight year, while Monica Schacker and Bria Young named to the third team. Off the court, Philadelphia earned a place on the Women's Basketball Coaches Association honor roll with the 17th best grade-point average in Division II.

In 2014, Shirley was voted as the CACC Coach of the Year after leading the Rams to 20-8 overall record, claimed its first CACC southern division championship, and reached the CACC Tournament semifinals. On Jan. 8, 2014, Shirley earned his 500th win at Philadelphia University with a 94-63 win at Wilmington. Three Rams were named to the All-CACC team, including first-team selection Najah Jacobs.

HEAD COACH TOM SHIRLEY

The Rams went 14-13 overall during the 2012-13 campaign and reached the CACC Championship Tournament for the seventh straight year. Tori Arnao was tabbed as the conference's rookie of the year and to the second team. Senior Kristen Blye was named to the Capital One Academic All-America Division II women's basketball second team.

In 2010-11, Shirley became the 30th women's basketball coach in NCAA history to reach 600 career wins on Jan. 19, 2011 as the Rams defeated Chestnut Hill, 76-60, in the Gallagher Center.

The 2008-09 season saw Philadelphia go 21-10 overall, claim its first CACC title since joining the league in 2005, and qualify for the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2001.

During the 1990s Philadelphia was a dominant force as it won 20 or more games each year, made three NCAA Tournaments, produced a pair All-Americans, and one National Player of the Year. In the 1992-93 season, Shirley led the Rams to a school record 27 wins and to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since becoming the team's head coach. The team's effort helped Shirley earn the American Women's Sports Federation Division II Coach of the Year and Converse District Coach of the Year awards. One year later, Tammy Greene—a four-time all-American—was named the Division II National Player of the Year after averaging a school record 26.1 points per game.

Shirley began his head coaching career at DeSales University, his alma mater. He transformed an eight-win program into one of the top teams in the NAIA District 19, taking the Centaurs to the playoffs in four straight seasons from 1985 until 1988.

DeSales joined NCAA Division III in the 1988-89 season. Shirley quickly put the school on the D-III map as DeSales went 24-6 overall and reached the Sweet Sixteen rounds of the 1989 NCAA Tournament. Shirley, who also served as the director of athletics for eight years, has the distinction of coaching DeSales' first three women's basketball All-Americans: Lynn Butler, Tina Costello, and Karin Povish. He left DeSales with 148 wins, which is the second highest total in school history.

Shirley lives in Harleysville, Pa., with his wife, Monica, and has two daughters—Kristen, who has a bachelor's in psychology and a MBA from Philadelphia University, and Caitlin, a graduate of St. Joseph's University.
