2008-09 OUTLOOK WITH HEAD COACH BECKY GEYER

Quoting JSU Head Coach Becky Geyer on the 2008-09 Season Prospectus

JSU has 11 returning letter winners, including five starters for 2008-09. Talk about your returning players.

We are very excited about our returning letter winners and the experience they bring to the court this year. Although we still consist mostly of sophomores and juniors, we have made valuable strides with our team.

Charlease Williams

Cassi Stuart provides us with experience at the point guard position and is our only senior. Jolie Efezokhae returns as our leading scorer and is a Preseason All-OVC selection. We are looking forward to Jolie having a great year for us. Eren McMichael comes back this year after a knee injury where she missed the majority of the season. Eren started the first 12 games last season and gives us some scoring depth. Kelsey Johnkin is a versatile player, who brings a wealth of experience to the team and can play the one, two, or three positions.

Our juniors and sophomores bring depth to our program. Paris Hollingsworth has the ability to drive to the basket. Danielle Beneby is an all around player who makes the team better when she is on the floor.

Zenobia Pitts gives the team a jump start defensively and also has the ability to score. Cierra Duhart was our leading shot blocker last season and gives us an inside scoring presence. Candice Carmine is making strides with her post skills everyday and we look for her to play an important role for us in the post this year. Charlease Williams has matured as a player and her ability to drive and create adds a new dimension to our team.

Eren McMichael suffered a knee injury in the Alabama game after starting the first 12 games. How is her recovery gone in the off-season?

Eren is doing just fine! Anytime you have knee surgery there is a lot of work that has to be done in rehabilitation of the knee. The process is a challenge but Eren is embracing that challenge and is excited about our upcoming season.

JSU welcomes four newcomers to the team this year. Who are the new faces? What do they bring to the team? What kind of role do you expect them to have this season.

We are very excited to add Destiny Lane, Chase Ogden, Brittany Wiley and Velicia Bell to our team. Velicia Bell will be a red shirt freshman for us this year. The biggest thing that our newcomers bring to our team is depth. They are a very athletic group of young ladies who will enhance our team.

Two new assistant coaches join the JSU staff this season. Talk about your new staff members and what they bring to table.

I am so excited about the wealth of experience that Tonya Mackey and Janine Noel bring to our coaching staff. Tonya comes to JSU from South Carolina State, where she was an assistant coach for seven seasons before spending the last four as the head coach. Coach Noel started the Birmingham-Southern women's basketball program in 1999 and was the head coach at Millsaps College before taking over at BSC. There are not many coaching staffs in the country with three Division I head coaches on the staff. I feel honored to have the opportunity to work with each of them.

Talk about this year's schedule and how the OVC is shaping up in 2008-09.

We are eager to embark on our challenging upcoming schedule.

We have 13 home games this season beginning on Saturday, November 14 against former OVC member Samford and on Sunday, November 16 against Big East member Georgetown.

Other non-conference games include West Georgia, Alabama A&M, Troy, Stephen F. Austin, Texas A&M-Corpus Christi, Longwood, North Carolina State and Kennesaw State. The game versus Stephen F. Austin is the first game of the Piggly Wiggly Classic hosted by the University of Memphis. Texas A&M – Corpus Christi and Longwood are part of a round-robin format tournament at the University of North Florida.

The OVC schedule will be tough from top to bottom. Eastern Illinois, Murray State, Southeast Missouri State, Tennessee State and JSU make up the top five teams according to the OVC poll. Morehead State, Tennessee Tech, Eastern Kentucky, Austin Peay and Tennessee Martin were picked six through 10th but will not be schools to overlook.

Becky Geyer enters her third season as Jacksonville State University's head women's basketball coach in 2008-09.

After 13 dominating seasons at San Antonio's Trinity University, where she won 229 games and one national championship, and one year as an assistant coach at the University of Central Florida, Geyer was hired in May of 2006 to lead the Gamecocks. Although JSU missed the postseason in 2006-07, Geyer's team began to make huge strides forward in building for the future and her players found success both on and off the court.

While individual honors have always come second behind team success to Geyer, these honors embody her philosophy of preparing each student-athlete for success in all aspects of their lives.

During the 2006-07 season, three different JSU players earned recognition from the Ohio Valley Conference for their play on the court. Efezokhae twice earned OVC Freshman of the Week honors and was named to the OVC All-Newcomer team. Off the court, senior Cobie Carlisle, who graduated in May, was selected by the Women's Basketball Coaches Association to participate in the Fifth Annual Nike's So You Want to Be a Coach program at the Final Four in Cleveland, Ohio. Four other players were named to the OVC Commissioner's Honor Roll for their outstanding performance in the classroom.

The Gamecocks continued to make strides in 2007-08, improving their win total from seven to 11 wins while making a return to OVC post-season play. Cierra Duhart was named the OVC Newcomer of the Week twice and was selected to the OVC All-Newcomer team while Jolie Efezokhae, who is a 2008-09 Preseason All-OVC selection, earned OVC Player of the Week laurels. In addition, Efezokhae, Kelsey Johnikin and Zenobia Pitts were listed on the OVC Commissioners Honor Roll for their hard work in the classroom.

Throughout Geyer's career as a coach, players have earned national recognition for their team and individual successes. A number of Geyer's players have walked away from their playing experience highly decorated. Thirty-seven athletes have developed into all-conference performers under Geyer, two of which were named SCAC Defensive Players of the Year while at Trinity. In 2005, Tara Rohde was named the Jostens Division III National Player of the Year. Four players have earned Academic All-District honors while Megan Selmon and Jennifer Warren earned Academic All-American laurels and two more were awarded prestigious NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarships.

"Our goal is to create an environment to facilitate academic and athletic success," Geyer said. "To prepare our student athletes for life after basketball."

On the court, Geyer's teams have been nothing short of remarkable. In 13 seasons at Trinity University, she compiled a 229-107 overall record that included four trips to the NCAA Tournament and the 2003 Division III National Championship, despite taking over a program that had won just six games in the previous three seasons prior to her arrival. In her last three seasons at Trinity, her teams dominated their opponents, cruising to a 77-13 overall mark. In 2007, Geyer was featured in "NCAA's Finest", celebrating 25 years of women's collegiate athletics and was named by the organization as one of its true legends.

Geyer enters the 2008-09 season with 247 wins to her credit, just three wins shy of the 250-win plateau.

Prior to her national success at Trinity University, Geyer served as assistant men's basketball coach and head volleyball coach at Augustana College in Illinois.

ABOUT JSU

Community Service

Jacksonville State Athletics makes a concerted effort to reach out to the communities in Calhoun County. The JSU Women's Basketball team participated in "blue day" for Megan Brittain at Kitty Stone Elementary School this summer. All of the Kitty Stone students wore blue that day in honor of Brittain, who is battling cancer.

"Megan is dear to our hearts and we wanted to honor her special day," JSU Head Women's Basketball Coach Becky Geyer said. "As a team we dressed in blue and arrived at the school to present Megan with an autographed basketball."
