KENT STATE YEAR-BY-YEAR (1988-89 TO PRESENT)

The NCAA began a regional playoff format in 1989 with a set number of teams advancing from three regions until 2008. In 2009 the field split into six regions with the top five teams at each site advancing to the NCAA Championship. Kent State has now earned a regional berth in 23 of the 26 years the regional system has been in place and in 14 of those trips, the Golden Flashes have moved on to the NCAA Championship. (Bold denotes NCAA Championship berths)
