THE GAME

Kent State aims to secure the first victory of the Fran Recchia era and returns to action on Saturday at Northern Kentucky.

The Golden Flashes lost the opener Troy, 89-78, on Monday in a contest at the M.A.C. Center that was part of the MAC-Sun Belt Challenge. Riley Rismiller had a strong performance with 18 points on 6-of-9 shooting and nine rebounds. Six players contributed at least eight points and five scored in double-figures for the first time since the first round of the 2025 Mid-American Conference Tournament.

Newcomers Sini Luukkonen and Whitney Stafford scored 12 points and 10 points, respectively, as Kent State had two freshmen score at least 10 points in the opener for the first time since the 2019-20 season.

Corynne Hauser provides a veteran presence in the backcourt and boasts career averages of 9.1 ppg and 3.0 apg. Anna Campanelli (4.7 ppg) averaged 6.2 ppg and shot better than 40 percent from three-point range after moving into the starting lineup for the final 11 last season. Journey Hildebrand (5.2 ppg) and Caitlyn Holmes (3.6 ppg) were also part of the perimeter rotation a year ago.

Northern Kentucky has been busy during the opening week of the season, beating Defiance, 84-49, on Monday and losing to No. 14 Kentucky, 79-28, on Thursday. The Norse have struggled to connect from behind the arc and enters with a 20.4 three-point field goal percentage. Maya Layton averages a team-high 9.5 ppg and Caroline Eaglin adds 8.0 ppg.

THE GOLDEN FLASHES NICKNAME

The origin of the nickname "Golden Flashes" has been a topic of debate. According to documentation in Phillip Shiver's book, The Years of Youth, widely regarded as historically correct, the reason for Kent State's nickname is noted in a letter to Linda Baughman, dated Aug. 6, 1959. Merle Wagoner recalled that the change in the name of Kent State athletics teams from "Silver Foxes" to "Golden Flashes" occurred in 1926 after the dismissal of President John E. McGilvrey (Kent State's first nickname originated from McGilvrey, who had a silver fox farm east of campus).

With Acting President T. Howard Winters providing the impetus, a contest was held (with a $25 first prize) to select the new name. No special significance was attached to the winning suggestion, which was used first in 1927 by the basketball team after it had been approved by the student body and the faculty athletic committee. Also laying claim to the origin was Oliver Wolcott, one-time Kent State grid great who played center on the 1921 and 1922 teams. As former sports editor of the Kent Courier Tribune, the local newspaper, the name "Silver Foxes" seemed pretty frail to him. So, during the 1927 football season, he began referring to the team as "Golden Flashes."

HEAD COACH FRAN RECCHIA

The Fran Recchia era began on April 1, 2026, as the long-time assistant coach officially took over as the seventh head coach in Kent State women's basketball history.

Recchia transitions to the head coaching seat after being the Golden Flashes' lead assistant for the previous 10 seasons, including eight in the associate head coach position. Kent State totaled five postseason appearances and 179 victories, the second most among Mid-American Conference schools in the state of Ohio, during her decade in Kent. A MAC Tournament championship and return to the NCAA Tournament in 2024 highlight the program's successes, which also includes four WNIT appearances, two MAC East Division titles and four 20-win seasons.

The Flashes have beaten four Power 4 team during Recchia's time on staff, including a historic victory over No. 19 UCLA as part of the Gulf Coast Showcase on Nov. 26, 2021. This marked the highest-ranked opponent beaten in program history. Kent State has also defeated Penn State and Missouri on neutral courts and went into Stillwater and handed Oklahoma State its first loss of the Jacie Hoyt era.

Recchia has worked with both the point guard and wing groups during her time on staff, resulting directly in Flashes players earning three all-conference, two all-freshman team and one all-defensive team honors. Eight players who she coached or recruited have gone on to play professionally overseas.

Charged with spearheading recruiting efforts upon arriving at Kent State, Recchia helped land two of the highest-touted signing classes in school history in 2018 and 2019. Both classes had two student-athletes earn spots on the MAC All-Freshman Team, while only one other school had multiple honorees over the two seasons. Her five years as recruiting coordinator yielded six MAC All-Freshman Team selections.

In her first season on staff in 2016-17, Recchia helped guide Kent State to one of biggest turnarounds in NCAA Division I women's basketball, which concluded with a MAC East Division title and a WNIT postseason berth. The Golden Flashes compiled a 19-13 overall record, had the nation's largest RPI improvement, jumping 222 spots from the previous season, and were the fifth most-improved record in the country. MAC Player of the Year Larissa Lurken enjoyed a breakout senior season under Recchia's tutelage, setting program records for points (752) and scoring average (23.5 ppg) while making a NCAA Division I record 280 free throws. She was the only Division I player in the nation that averaged 20 points, six rebounds, two assists, two three-pointers, one steal and one blocked shot per game.

Before arriving in Kent, Recchia had spent five of the previous six seasons as an assistant coach at Radford. Upon returning in 2013, she served as the program's recruiting coordinator and was responsible for wing player development, scouting, academics and compliance. Overall, she helped guide the Highlanders to one WNIT appearance and two Big South runner-up finishes while mentoring five All-Big South selections.

Recchia served as an assistant coach at Tusculum College in Greeneville, Tennessee during the 2012-13 season and was head coach at William Byrd High School in Vinton, Virginia from 2007-10.

Prior to that, she spent five years at Virginia Tech, playing guard from 2001-05 and then serving as a graduate assistant during the 2005-06 season. She helped the Hokies to four 20-win seasons and five postseason appearances, including four consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament.

A 2004 graduate with a bachelor's degree in physical education from Virginia Tech, Recchia earned a master's degree in education in 2006.
