KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY

Anderson Hall

The next five years are shaping up to be a whirlwind of activity as K-State gains visibility and recognition within the state and nation. Currently, the university is working toward becoming a Top 50 public research university by 2025. To accomplish this, we are ramping up our total research and development expenditures, the total endowment and the number of undergraduate students involved in research, among other goals. K-State is well on its way; check out our progress at k-state.edu/2025.

Founded on February 16, 1863, Kansas State University is the oldest public institution of higher education in Kansas and one of the first land-grant universities. It was located on the grounds of the old Bluemont Central College, which was chartered in 1858. The university moved to its present site in 1875.

One of six state universities (For Hays State, Kansas, Kansas State, Pittsburg State, Washburn, Wichita State Universities) governed by the Kansas Board of Regents, Kansas State's mission has been rooted in the principles set forth in the Morrill Act – to provide teaching, research and service to the citizens of Kansas and beyond.

The 644-acre wooded campus with historic limestone buildings is located in northern Manhattan, Kan. (population of 54,983) and is convenient to both business and residential districts. This classic college town of more than 50,000 residents is growing steadily, attracting local and national businesses. In fact, Forbes rated Manhattan as No. 13 in the nation for best small places for businesses and careers in 2017, while Livability.com ranked it as one of the “Best Places to Live” for the third straight year.

The university also has campuses in Olathe and Salina, Kansas, along with numerous extension fields, offices and other facilities in Kansas and Nebraska. The K-State Salina campus offers bachelor's and associate degrees in aviation and engineering technologies.

The university hosts the prestigious Landon Lectures on Public Issues, honoring the late Kansas Statesman Alfred M. Landon. Since 1966 the series has featured numerous nationally prominent speakers, including Martin Luther King, Jr. and a number of Presidents Richard Nixon, Jimmy Carter, Gerald Ford, Ronald Reagan, George H.W. Bush, and George W. Bush.

Kansas State is being called the “Silicon Valley for biodefense” for its status as a national leader in animal health, biosciences and food safety research. K-State is home to premiere research facilities such as the Biosecurity Research Institute and College of Veterinary Medicine Complex. In addition, the Kansas Department of Agriculture offices are co-located at the university's research park; and the National Bio and Agro-defense Facility is being constructed adjacent to campus.

K-State's “highest research activity” classification is the highest level possible from the Carnegie Classifications of Institutions of Higher Education. It is home to more than 90 centers and institutes that produce groundbreaking research. This includes four Feed the Future Innovation Labs funded by the U.S. Agency for International Development.

Academic achievement of the institution is drawing national acclaim as well. K-State students have an outstanding record when it comes to winning national competitions. K-Staters have placed in the top five in areas like robotics, debate, forensics, aviation, construction science, architecture, engineering, leadership and more. K-State students have been the recipients of several prestigious scholarships in the past year, including the Goldwater, Udall, Fulbright, Gilman, SMART and Cargill Global Scholarships.

Kansas State students have an excellent experience, according to the 2018 edition of The Princeton Review's “The Best 382 Colleges,” ranking the university in 15 categories – nine of which are in the Top 10. The surveys rank the university No. 1 for great town-gown relations, No. 3 for best quality of life and students pack the stadiums, No. 6 for students love these colleges, happiest students and best health services and No. 7 for best-run colleges. The company surveyed 143,000 students to rank schools in 62 categories.

More than 250 majors are offered in nine colleges. The Graduate School offers 67 master's degrees, 39 doctoral degrees, five educational doctorate programs and 33 graduate certificates in multiple disciplines across campus. In addition, more than $230 million is available in financial assistance, including $29 million in scholarships. Every year, seven out of 10 K-State students receive financial assistance.

Richard B. Myers was appointed president of Kansas State University on November 15, 2016, by the Kansas Board of Regents after a short stint as the school's interim president.

A retired U.S. Air Force general, Myers graduated from K-State in 1965 with a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering and joined the Air Force through the university's Air Force ROTC program.

The native Kansan from Merriam has served his country well and retired as a four-star general. From 2001-2005, he was the 15th chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. As chairman, Myers was the highest-ranking uniformed officer of U.S. military forces and served as the principal military adviser to President George W. Bush, Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld and the National Security Council.

As a command pilot, he has logged more than 4,100 flying hours, including 600 combat hours. His largest commands included U.S. Forces Japan and 5th Air Force at Yokota Air Base, Japan; Pacific Air Forces at Hickam Air Force Base, Hawaii; and the North American Aerospace Defense Command, U.S. Space Command and Air Force Space Command at Peterson Air Force Base in Colorado. He has received numerous awards and decorations for his service, which include Legion of Merit, French Legion of Honor and Presidential Medal of Freedom.

Myers also is a Kansas State University Foundation professor of military history and leadership. He received a master's degree in business administration from Auburn University in 1977. He also graduated from Air Command and Staff College at Maxwell Air Force Base in 1977; U.S. Army War College at Carlisle Barracks in 1981; and the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University, where he completed a program for Senior Executives in National and International Security, in 1991.

Throughout Myers' active duty and world travels, he continued relationships with his friends back home. He has provided instruction, insight and inspiration to current students and the K-State community. In 2000, he presented the 118th Landon Lecture at Kansas State University, where he spoke about the military's role in international relations. Kansas State University named Gen. Richard B. Myers Hall — the military science building and home of the Army ROTC and Air Force ROTC programs — in honor of his service and dedication.

Before becoming interim university president, Myers was chairman of the Kansas State University Foundation Board of Trustees. He and his wife, Mary Jo, serve as co-chairs of the Kansas State University Innovation and Inspiration Campaign to raise $1 billion.

GENE TAYLOR

Gene Taylor, who spent more than a decade leading North Dakota State to championship levels of success as its Director of Athletics before serving as the Deputy Athletics Director at Iowa, was named the Director of Athletics at K-State in April 2017.

Taylor took the reins at North Dakota State in the summer of 2001 and immediately spearheaded a comprehensive evaluation of the Bison athletic department, all while successfully guiding the athletics program through the unpredictable waters of reclassification to NCAA Division I from Division II and securing conference affiliations for all 16 sports. The Bison are currently members of The Summit League, Missouri Valley Football Conference and Western Wrestling Conference.

The success of the football program is well documented, highlighted by three-straight FCS National Championships in 2011, 2012 and 2013 under head coach Craig Bohl as the Bison quickly became one of the most revered football programs in all levels of college sports.

In addition to football, the NDSU men's basketball, women's volleyball, softball and women's golf programs all regularly qualified for NCAA tournaments, highlighted by softball advancing to the 2009 Super Regional, while the Bison totaled 53 Summit League team championships since 2009 under Taylor's guidance in addition to 62 Academic All-Americans, three NCAA Woman of the Year national qualifiers, four NCAA Elite 89 selections and 20 NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship winners.

In 2014, Taylor accepted the role of deputy athletics director at Iowa where he has been responsible for the administrative oversight of the department's day-to-day operations while also serving as the leading advisor to the Director of Athletics and the primary decision maker in his absence.

Twice Taylor has been recognized for his success by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics. He was selected as the FCS Central Region AD of the Year in June 2008 and June 2012. Taylor received the Blue Key Honor Society Doctor of Service Award, one of the most prestigious honors an NDSU faculty member can be bestowed, in April 2012.

A student assistant to the associate athletics director in his undergraduate days at Arizona State University, Taylor arrived at NDSU after a 15-year stint at Navy (1986-2001) as an administrative assistant, assistant ticket manager, ticket manager, assistant athletic director for tickets and operations, and associate athletic director.

Taylor is a 1980 business management graduate of Arizona State, and he received his master's degree in sports administration in 1985 from St. Thomas University in Florida. He worked in the ticket office at Southern Methodist University in 1985-86 before joining the Naval Academy.

Taylor and his wife, Cathy, have one daughter, Casey, and a son, Jared. Casey graduated from North Dakota State this past December with a degree in sports management and works in the Minnesota athletics department, while Jared is a freshman at Northern State University in South Dakota where he plays football.

R.V. CHRISTIAN TRACK

In 2018, the Wildcats welcomed a renovation to R.V. Christian Track, that brought a resurfacing of the track, lighting fixtures, as well as a number of improvements to the facility.

R.V. Christian Track features an eight-lane grey track, with exchange zones highlighted in Wildcat purple. The track also includes an inside purple lane and purple field event runways. The track features K-State branding with a Powercat Logo and K-State Track and Field lettering at the Southwest end of the track.

Inside the eight-lane grey and purple track, R.V. Christian hosts a number of field events on the infield of the track, including two horizontal jump pits, a high jump pit, pole vault pit, shot put pit and javelin throw area.

In addition to the renovation of the track, the 2018 renovations included the installation of four lighting fixtures and a press box located on the west side of the stadium.

The R.V. Christian Complex also features a Ring of Honor, men's and women's locker room, team room and offices located at the Northeast corner of the stadium.

Permanent seating for approximately 2,500 is located on the west side of the facility, which was originally constructed in 1973 prior to a $1.4 million renovation in 2004. Additional seating for nearly 500 is installed on the east side of the track.

A substantial contribution from the estate of Dr. R.V. Christian, a 1911 graduate of the College of Veterinary Medicine, made the first facility possible.

The R.V. Christian Track Complex was put to the test in 2005, as it was the site of the Big 12 Outdoor Track and Field Championships, the first Big 12 Conference meet held in Manhattan and the first outdoor conference championship since the Big Eight Championships in 1985. K-State would go on to host the Big 12 Championship meet again in 2012, and will host Big 12 Outdoor Track and Field Championship again in 2020.

With easy access to the track and other field venues, this sparkling facility offers the K-State outdoor track and field teams a place to prepare for competition, hold team meetings, gather for team events or to relax before and after practice or events.

At the north end of the stadium is the K-State Track and Field Ring of Honor. The half-circle shaped monument at the entrance of the track and field locker room and team room features names and dates of past K-State Track and Field Champions.

The K-State track and field teams utilize historic Ahearn Field House during the indoor track and field season.

The track, named after legendary coach Ward Haylett, has hosted three conference championships, including the 1997 Big 12 Indoor Track and Field Championships.

In a typical year, K-State hosts multiple indoor events, including the Carol Robinson Winter Pentathlon, K-State Winter Invitational, the Wildcat Invitational and the Steve Miller Open. In 2018, K-State won the KSU-KU-WSU Triangular at Ahearn Field House for the first time since hosting the inaugural meet in 2015.

Ahearn Field House was the product of a 10-year drive by several people, most notably Athletics Director Mike Ahearn and head men's basketball coach Jack Gardner. The $2 million structure opened on Dec. 9, 1950.

The venue is also one of America's show-place indoor facilities. It houses the K-State natatorium, basketball and tennis courts, while also playing host to K-State Volleyball and K-State indoor Track and Field.

Ahearn Field House also was home to the National Junior College Athletic Association Championships in 2004.

In the summer of 2008, Ahearn Field House completed over $800,000 in improvements to the building, including lighting, track resurfacing and sports medicine upgrades.

Ahearn Filed House first opened its doors in 1950 and played host to its first basketball game in the same season. Ahearn was opened due to the expiring of Nichols Hall, which led to a seating capacity of 14,000 in Ahearn Field House. Upon opening, Ahearn Field House was one of the first and largest purpose-built basketball arenas in the country. In 1988, Kansas State unveiled basketball's new home, Bramlage Coliseum.

Ryun Godfrey, a seasoned veteran of track and field and cross country with a resume that boasts 30 conference titles and numerous Coach of the Year awards, enters his fifth year with the Wildcats as the head cross country and assistant track and field coach.

Godfrey's resume features 15 years at North Dakota State University as the head women's track and field and cross country coach, where he swept the USTFCCCA's Indoor and Outdoor Coach of the Year awards for the Midwest Region in in 2014. Godfrey led the Bison to a total of 30 conference titles, including four cross country titles, 13 indoor track and field titles and 13 outdoor track and field titles.

Specializing in the sprints/mid-distance/distance events, Godfrey coached two individuals, Christine Schmaltz (2:01.18) and Laura Hermanson (2:01.24) to the Olympic standard in the women's 800 meters. In addition, Godfrey has coached eight All-Americans in indoor track, 11 All-Americans in outdoor track, and two Academic All-Americans in cross country.

During his first four seasons at the helm of the K-State cross country program, Godfrey has seen much success. In 2017, Godfrey led the Wildcat men to their best finish in Big 12 Conference history, finishing fourth with 142 points. The Wildcat men went on to earn their best finish at the NCAA Midwest Regional since 2004, finishing 10th overall, earning the team's top USTFCCCA ranking in program history.

On the women's side, Godfrey has led two athletes - Morgan Wedekind (2015) and Laura Galvan (2014) to earn All-Big 12 Cross Country honors. The pair also earned All-Midwest Region honors during his time with the program, while Galvin qualified for the NCAA Cross Country Championships during the 2014 season.

As an assistant track coach for the Wildcats, Godfrey coached Wedekind to the 2018 NCAA Outdoor Championships in the women's 3,000-meter steeplechase, where she finished 21st overall. Wedekind's season was highlighted by the second-fastest time in the steeplechase in K-State outdoor history, running 9:56.26 at the NCAA West Preliminary; she is only the third Wildcat woman to break 10 minutes in the 3,000-meter steeplechase.

Godfrey's coaching also had a great impact on the K-State women's Big 12 Outdoor Championships in 2017 and 2018. In 2018, the women's distance crew accounted for 15 points in three events, including a sixth-place finish by Sydney Collins in the 1,500 meters and a trio of scorers in the women's 3,000-meter steeplechase, including Wedekind, Kayla Doll and Cara Melgares.

In 2017, Godfrey coached Wedekind to the second Big 12 women's 3,000-meter steeplechase title in K-State history and the first since 2013. Godfrey also guided Sonia Gaskin to her first conference title of her career in the 600 yard run at the 2016 Indoor Big 12 Championship.

Nationally, Godfrey helped coach eight athletes who qualified for the NCAA First Round Championships at K-State. In addition, Godfrey has coached 12 athletes who have gone on to compete at the USA Championships, four of which competed at the Olympic Trials.

In 2018, Wedekind qualified for the US-ATF Outdoor Championships, where she competed in the 3,000-meter steeplechase, while he also coached Melgares to the USATF Junior Championships in the 3,000-meter steeplechase.

While at North Dakota State, Godfrey was named the Summit League Women's Coach of the Year in cross country and indoor track and field, an honor he has won a combined 17 times including sweeping the award from 2011-2014.

Under Godfrey's guidance, the Bison won 18 league titles since joining the Division I Summit League in 2007 and became the first school in league history in 2012 to win five straight conference titles in both indoor and outdoor track. In addition, the program claimed the league's "Triple Crown" from 2011-2014 - a cross country, indoor and outdoor track and field conference title sweep.

On the national level, Godfrey brought the women's track and field program at NDSU to prominence during the 2014 season with his athletes accumulating five total entries in the NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Championships - including the 4x400 relay team that earned second team honors both indoors and outdoors.

Of Godfrey's successes at North Dakota State, he helped guide Laura Hermanson to compete at the NCAA Indoor Championships in the 800 meter in NDSU's first year of eligibility for the Division I Championships. She would go on to finish seventh and earn the Bison's first ever All-America honors. In that same year, Hermanson was the runner-up in the 800 meter at the NCAA Outdoor Championships. The Bison captured their second straight indoor and outdoor Summit league title in the 2008-09 season, and Godfrey earned his third and fourth career Summit League Coach of the Year honors.

His student-athletes experienced considerable individual success in conference competition as well, combining for 191 All-Summit League selections and 116 All-Summit League individual titles spanning across three different sports - cross country, indoor and outdoor track and field.

In the classroom, the Bison women totaled 37 Academic All-American accolades under Godfrey's watch since 1999. Most notably, Whitney Carlson, coached by Godfrey's long-time assistant Stevie Keller, was a 16-time Summit League Champion and three-time Summit League Women's Track and Field Athlete of the Year, was awarded the NCAA Elite 88 Award in 2011 - given to student-athletes with the highest cumulative grade-point average in his or her respective sport's championship.

Prior to the Bison joining DI competition in 2007, Godfrey led the Bison, most notably, in 2002 to the NCAA DII Indoor Track and Field title and a runner-up at the national outdoor meet. Godfrey was named to six different coaching awards that season: USTFCCCA Division II and North Central Region Indoor and Outdoor Coach of the Year, NCC Indoor and Outdoor Coach of the Year, and North Dakota Associated Press Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association's Female Team Coach of the Year.

As a part of the North Central Conference, Godfrey led the Bison women to 13 overall conference titles and helped coach student-athletes to 20 school records in 20 different events.

As a student, Godfrey spent five years as part of the men's program - one year as a graduate assistant and four as a student-athlete. In his time as a student-athlete, Godfrey, who graduated with a B.A. in physical education, was an All-North Central Conference performer and a member of seven NDSU league champion track and field squads.

He is the son of Vic and Ruth Godfrey of Watertown, South Dakota. Born in Racine, Wisconsin, Godfrey grew up in Bahrain, an island off the coast of Saudi Arabia, where his father, a South Dakota track and field coaching legend with over 50 years of experience, was the country's Olympic coach for 12 years.

2004-06: Nacogdoches High School (Texas)

2002-04: Alcorn State Assistant Coach

2001-02: Alcorn State Graduate Assistant

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Has coached three individuals to K-State school records in seven events and also the women's 4x100 meter relay school record in 2017.

Coached Shardia Lawrence to a women's Big 12 outdoor triple jump title in 2016 and Ifeanyi Otuonye to Big 12 titles in the long jump in 2016 (indoor) and 2015 (outdoor).

Has recruited some of the top talent across the globe, earning the No. 6 ranked recruiting class by Track and Field News in his first season with the Wildcats.

Vincent Johnson is in his eighth year with Kansas State as the sprints and jumps coach and brings extensive experience coaching elite high school and club track and field athletes in Texas.

In his time at K-State, Johnson has not only helped on the track, but he is heavily involved in recruiting.

During the 2017-18 season, Johnson saw great success from several student-athletes, including Shardia Lawrence and Konstina Romaïou, who each made a trip to the NCAA Outdoor Championships, as the Wildcats were only one of two schools to qualify two or more individuals in the event.

In 2017, Johnson also helped coach the 4x100m relay team of Akia Guerrier, A'keyla Mitchell, Ranae McKenzie and Claudette Allen that placed eighth overall at the NCAA Championships, earning first team All-American honors.

During the 2015-16 season, Johnson saw success from both Alyssa Kelly and Nija Collier. Kelly qualified for the 2015 NCAA Outdoor Championships and finished 22nd with a leap of 12.29m/40-04w (2.7), while Collier was the Big 12 indoor triple jump runner-up.

In 2014, Johnson saw junior Devin Field excel under the tutelage of Johnson. Leaping to heights not seen at K-State since Olympian Kenny Harrison, Field earned All-American first team honors in both the long jump and triple jump. The Port Arthur, Texas, native in the process became only the eighth Wildcat men's athlete to earn first team honors in multiple events outdoors and joined Harrison as the only other K-State jumper to earn first team honors in both events at the same national outdoor meet.

Also winning the Big 12 triple jump title outdoors, Field was one of several Johnson-coached athletes to perform well as he, along with Alyssa Kelly, both recorded personal bests in the long jump and triple jump this past season. Coupled with Jharyl Bowry's second-straight Big 12 indoor title in the long jump and Johnson's athletes combined for eight scoring performances at conference meets and two conference titles during the 2013-14 season.

In 2013, two athletes coached by Johnson excelled in equally impressive fashion. On the men's side, Bowry was the Big 12 Indoor Champion in the long jump, finishing 1-2 with fellow teammate Ifeanyi Otuonye. Bowry also earned USTFCCA All-America First Team outdoor honors. For the women, sprinter Jasmine Gibbs broke the school record in the 60 meter dash in the Wildcat's first indoor event of the season, K-State All-Comers. Her mark of 7.41 seconds bested the previous high of 7.46 seconds set in 1997 by Karissa Stewart.

Johnson's first year with K-State was highlighted by his part in helping the Wildcats land the No. 6 women's recruiting class in the nation as ranked by Track & Field News.

Before joining K-State for the 2011-12 season, Johnson spent four years at Lancaster High School in Lancaster, Texas. He served as an assistant coach and jumps coordinator and helped lead the team to four straight Texas Class 4A State Championships. While coaching in Lancaster, Johnson also founded and organized a jump specific club called the Texas 'FACES' Track Club.

Prior to his time in Lancaster, Johnson spent one year at North Panola High School in Mississippi as the head coach to lay the foundation for a new track and field program at the school. Johnson also spent two seasons as an assistant coach at Nacogdoches High School in Texas where he worked specifically with the sprinters and jumpers.

Johnson's athletes have seen tremendous individual success in addition to the state titles his teams have won. In particular, 2011 was an especially notable year as Johnson's athletes' accolades included international gold medals, a USA

Junior Champion and athlete of the year awards. On the international level, Johnson coached sprinter Jennifer Madu to a gold medal in the 100 meters at the 2011 IAAF World Youth Championships in France and Field to a gold medal in the long jump at the 2011 Pan American Junior Championships. Field's most recent effort internationally saw him finish second in the long jump at the North America, Central America, and Caribbean Under-23 Championships.

In national competition, Field won the long jump title at the USA Junior Championships. Field and Madu were also named as both The Dallas Morning News Dallas-Fort Worth area and Texas Gatorade Track and Field Athletes of the Year.

Along with extensive high school coaching experience, Johnson has collegiate coaching experience working as a graduate assistant and then a full-time assistant coach for his alma mater Alcorn State. After earning his degree from Alcorn State in recreation studies, Johnson then served as a graduate assistant while earning his masters in health and physical education. During his time at Alcorn State as a coach, Johnson was charged with overseeing the jumpers and supervising the freshman athletes. He helped coach athletes to eight Southwestern Athletic Conference titles.

As an athlete for Alcorn State, Johnson had much success as well. He won three SWAC titles, two in the triple jump and one in the long jump and was named SWAC Most Outstanding Performer. He also was a three-time qualifier for NCAA Regionals in the long jump.

Johnson has a Level II certification from USATF in jumps and a Sprints, Hurdles and Relays Specialist through the U.S. Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches Association Academy. He and his wife, Tonoher, have two children, a daughter, Gili Mi'Joi, and a son, Nisbyc Nehemiah.

Lamar Garrett enters his first season with the K-State track and field program and his eighth in collegiate coaching. He will serve as an assistant coach where he will assist Director of Track and Field and Cross Country Cliff Rovelto with the sprints, hurdles, pole vault, high jump and combined events, while also helping in recruiting efforts.

Garrett spent the previous five seasons as an assistant coach with the Illinois State track and field program, where he specialized in coaching the high jump and multi-events. He played a vital role in the building of the multi-events program for the Redbirds, where he recently guided James Brandenburg to the Missouri Valley Conference (MVC) heptathlon and decathlon championships, and Tessa Holland to the Missouri Valley Conference Pentathlon championship and school record and high jump championship in 2018, as well as a second-place finish by Ashlee Stieler in the heptathlon. Both multi-event conference championships were the first in Redbird program history.
