All Times Central and Subject to Change

Lamar University was able to return to the gridiron thanks in large part to the generosity of donors like Walter Umphrey and his partners at Provost Umphrey Law Firm. In recognition of a gift from the Beaumont-based law firm and an additional gift from Umphrey and his wife, Sheila, the name “Provost Umphrey Stadium” graces the renovated facility where fans cheer on the Cardinals.

The renovated stadium includes bench and chair-back seating, new restroom and concession facilities, a new concourse area, and increased handicap accessible seating areas. In addition to a new field turf in 2021 - FieldTurf Classic HD CoolPlay - and Lamar also installed a new videoboard at the south end of the stadium prior to the start of the 2024 season.

The new videoboard – from SNA Displays – is a new 10mm, high-definition LED videoboard that measures 76’6 by 35’2. With more than 2,700 square feet of LED lighting, the new videoboard is more than 200 percent larger than the original structure while existing in the original footprint. The back of the structure will be encased with a covering providing a more finished look. The structure also features seven-foot-tall interlocking LU logo with a 37-foot wide illuminated Lamar University logo on the backside of the board. The structure also houses a high-output Fulcrum Acoustic long-throw and short-throw loudspeakers with a compliment of dual 21” subwoofers and Powersoft amplifiers.

OPENING AND DEDICATION

Provost Umphrey Stadium was originally built for a cost of $1 million with the construction period lasting from May 1963 through July 1964. It was dedicated during ceremonies prior to LU's 21-0 season-opening victory over East Central Oklahoma on Sept. 19, 1964. LU fullback Darrell Johnson scored the first touchdown in stadium history on a 30-yard run during the second quarter of that game. The Cardinals have compiled an 101-107-3 record in the stadium, with their longest winning streak being 12 games spanning the 1965-1967 seasons.
