MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN OF ATHLETICS

While it has been an exciting start to the 2021-2022 academic and athletic year, complete with full competitive schedules, far less complicated operating logistics, and (knock wood), very good health of our teams, it has also been humbling to realize the implications of the pandemic year of 2020-2021.

I shared in June how challenging it was for our Athletics staff to provide the opportunity for our 25 teams to train and compete last spring. The willingness of our athletes and staff to do whatever was necessary to have the chance to compete was amazing to watch and inspiring. Moreover, we enjoyed some considerable competitive success, especially in programs that had veteran team members who viewed their opportunity to compete as a privilege not to be squandered. The leadership of those individuals was contagious for a talented group of newcomers, whose first year of college was anything but “normal.”

You’ll see in this annual report evidence of the competitive successes of our athletes and teams, the devoted efforts of our staff, including four Patriot League Coach of Year honorees, and the extraordinary academic successes of individuals and teams despite the prevalence of an atypical instruction medium. You will also read about the commitment our Athletics community made (and continues to make) to building a stronger and deeper appreciation for one another in the work we do around equity, diversity, and a team-first mentality that values and affirms the importance of each team member.

Yet, the reflection from the 20-21 year that was the most inspiring and will be the most enduring of all was the support demonstrated by our families, devoted alumni, and friends.

All our Athletics partners—our former athletes who are alums along with a number of parents, other alumni or friends of Lehigh who value what we provide in the way of educational development through Athletics—made all the difference in our ability to have any kind of season. The financial impact of COVID-19 on our department financial model was significant. We did not have more than $2 million in revenues that we count on to help fund about 40% of our operating expenses. On top of that revenue loss, we also incurred $600,000 in testing costs to help ensure the health and safety of our athletes, staff, and opponents. It was truly an extraordinary year, with unprecedented financial implications.

In the face of these challenging circumstances, it was also one of the most rewarding years of my career. In the face of the many uncertainties of your own lives, our alumni, families, and friends stepped forward to produce more than $2.6 million in annual gifts, including an incredibly successful two-day “March Mania” giving program that resulted in more than $840,000. It is gratifying to represent a community that cares so deeply about the value of athletics to the development of young people.

As we begin to look forward and plan again beyond the immediate, we do so with as much optimism and excitement as I can remember. Our athletes, who endured a very difficult last year, are exhibiting a real appreciation for the opportunities and privileges of college athletics participation. Our coaches and staff have grown closer and even more determined to deliver the best possible student-athlete experience. Around us, Lehigh has welcomed a new president, an alumnus who participated in sports and sees the value of the experience. A celebration of 50 years of Women Undergraduates at Lehigh has begun. As part of this, Athletics has launched a specific funding campaign to support Women’s Athletics and our 50th year of women’s sports in 2023-2024. Thanks to a $1 million gift from basketball alumna and current WNBA Commissioner, Cathy Engelbert ’86, that campaign is off to an exciting start! Finally, we have some transformative facility enhancements that are on the horizon, which will impact positively the experience of every one of our sports and athletes. All of this is energizing, affirming, and motivating, as well as humbling. Mostly, I feel grateful and proud. As we slowly emerge from this pandemic, with full appreciation for how difficult this period has been for many of you, I do hope you also find reason to feel proud of the students, staff, alumni, and families and friends of our Lehigh Athletics community.

With all best wishes,

Joe Sterrett ’76
Murray H. Goodman Dean of Athletics

Celebrating Champions

In a year unlike any other, Lehigh student-athletes achieved at the elite level to which Mountain Hawks fans have become accustomed.

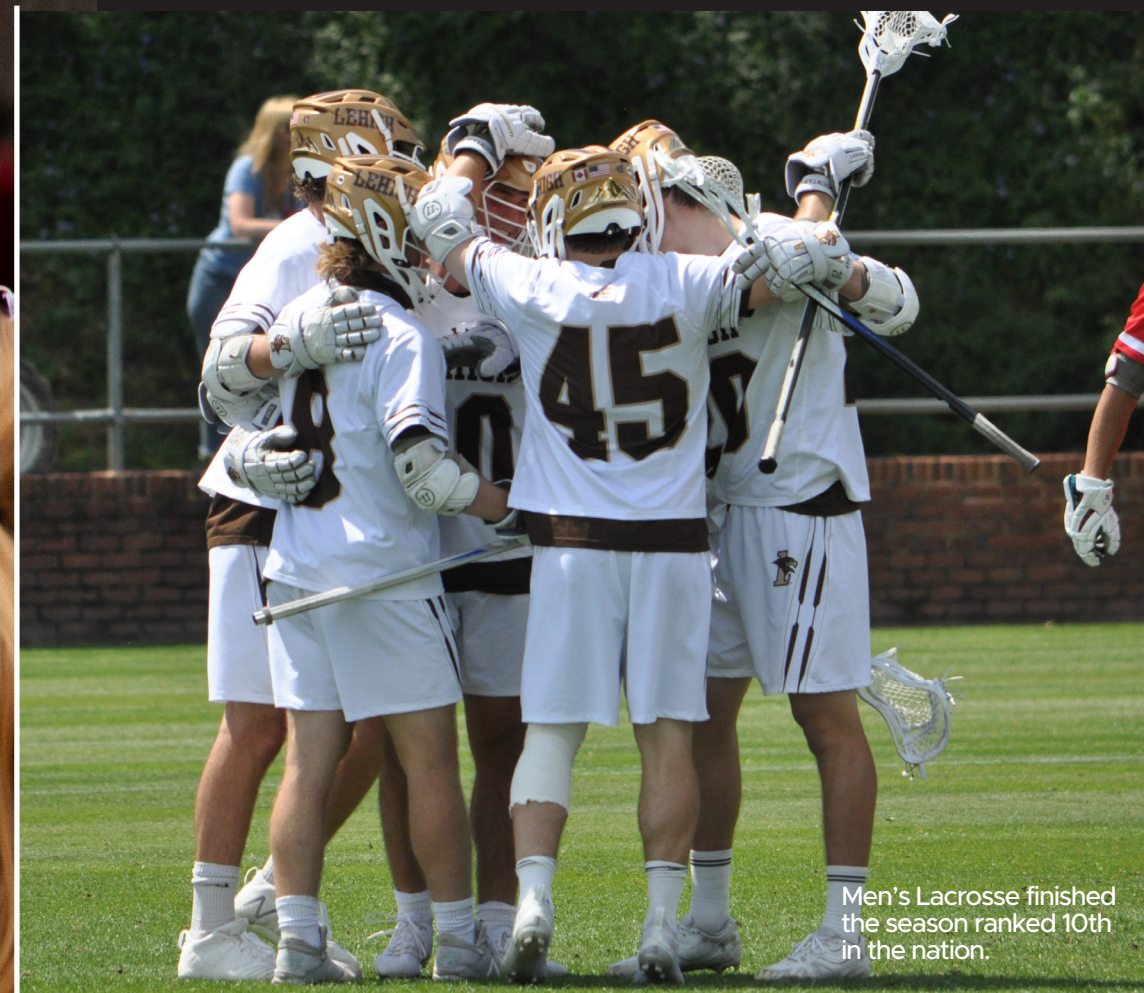

Women's Basketball

Winning was a way of life for Lehigh in spring 2021. For the fourth time in program history and the first time since 2010, the women's basketball team captured the Patriot League championship, defeating second-seeded Boston University, 64-54. At No. 4, the Mountain Hawks were the lowest seed to win the league title since 2008.

On the mats, Lehigh crowned four individual wrestling champions, but it was a total team effort that carried the Mountain Hawks to their fourth consecutive EIWA team title. All 10 Lehigh entrants placed in the top five of their respective weight classes and all 10 qualified for the NCAA Championships. The four individual champions for Lehigh were Jaret Lane '22 (125 pounds), Malyke Hines '24 (133), Jake Jakobsen '21 (197), and Jordan Wood '21 (285).

It was a special year for men's lacrosse as well. The team finished undefeated in league play during the regular season, earning the top seed and hosting honors for the Patriot League Tournament. And while the championship game was unable to be played due to a positive test among the Tier 1 personnel at Loyola, Lehigh was declared to have earned the Patriot League automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament, and the right to be called champions of the COVID year 2021.

Men's Lacrosse finished the season ranked 10th in the nation.

Following an All-Patriot League season, Wilson received NABC second team All-District recognition. He averaged 15.3 points per game, leading the Mountain Hawks. He became the sixth different NABC All-District honoree in Lehigh men's basketball history.

LENKE HAVAS '21

A three-time first team All-Patriot League honoree, Havas was named to the NFHCA All-Mideast Region's first team as well. She posted three goals and six points, both tied for the team lead. Havas helped anchor a defense that allowed its fewest goals (and had its best scoring margin) in Patriot League play since 1996.

MADDIE KAHN '23

The Patriot League Goalkeeper of the Year, Kahn was dominant in four games played this spring—stopping 29 of the 33 shots for an 87.9 save percentage, second best nationally. She was also second in the country in saves per game with 7.25. She was named to the NFHCA All-Mideast Region's second team.

ERIN KEEFE '22

On the heels of being named All-Patriot League for the first time in her career, Keefe also received All-Region honors. She played in five games, starting them all, and Lehigh picked up shutouts in three of those contests.

DIVINE BUCKRHAM

The defensive back won the John A. Cable Award, presented to Lehigh Athletics' outstanding graduating male leader. Buckram served as a team captain in the spring 2021 season and was active on campus, where he was a member of Lehigh's student senate and held a leadership position in the Student-Athletes of Color organization.

BRITTANY CURTIN

The arts and sciences major from New York won multiple Patriot League titles in her career, including the discus during the 2018 and 2019 outdoor seasons, and the weight throw during the 2019 indoor season.

SEAN BROWN

A distance runner from Philadelphia, Brown was one of six student-athletes to receive the Distinguished Achievement Award. These recipients are senior student-athletes who have displayed a high level of scholarship, significant athletic achievement at the league level (and beyond) and demonstrated service to the institution. During the 2021 outdoor season, Brown finished first in the 800m at the Lafayette Dual with a time of 1:55.94.

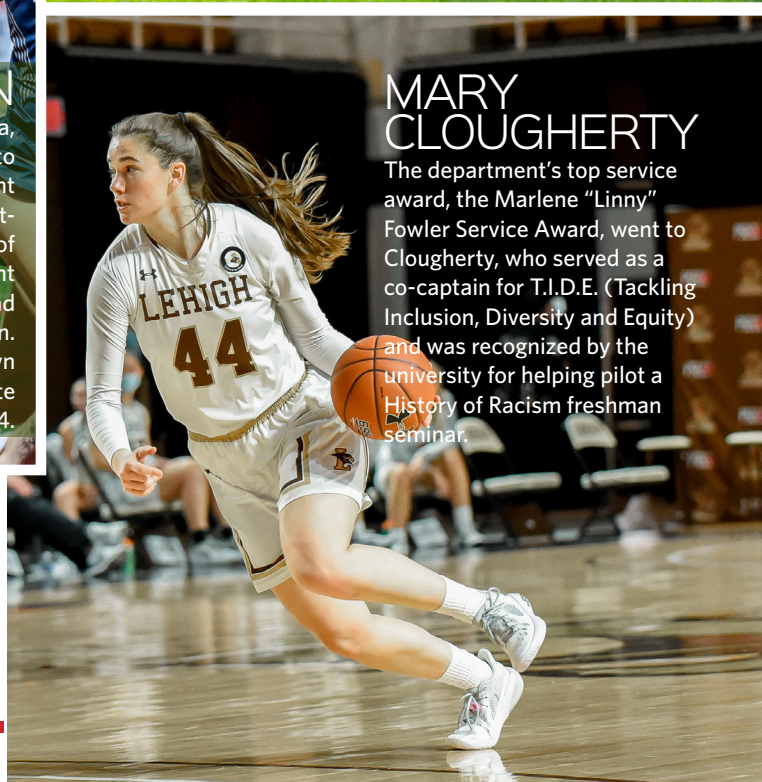

MARIAH SEXE

A team captain, Sexe received the Mary O'Hurley Leadership Award, given to the department's top graduating female leader. Sexe was instrumental in helping guide the Mountain Hawks through the pandemic-affected 2021 season, which culminated in Lehigh's fourth Patriot League Tournament championship.

MARY CLOUGHERTY

The department's top service award, the Marlene "Linny" Fowler Service Award, went to Clougherty, who served as a co-captain for T.I.D.E. (Tackling Inclusion, Diversity and Equity) and was recognized by the university for helping pilot a History of Racism freshman seminar.

Fabulous FIRST YEARS

JULIA GATELEIN

The budding field hockey star won the John Steckbeck Award, presented to the top first-year female student-athlete. Gatelein was a second team All-Patriot League selection and tied for the team lead with three goals, including the only tally in Lehigh's season-opening 1-0 victory over rival Lafayette.

MALYKE HINES

Competing at 133 pounds, the Florida native went 8-3 in his deferred freshman season. He won a 4-2 decision in the finals of the EIWA Championships to claim the second of Lehigh's four individual championships. Hines was the No. 17 seed at the NCAA Championships, going 2-2. His four major decision victories led the way for the Mountain Hawks.

LATREIL WIMBERLY

The defensive back won the J. Daniel Nolan Award, given to Lehigh's top first-year male student-athlete. Wimberly was the lone first-year football student-athlete to earn a spot on an All-Patriot League football team with his second team selection. He started all three games at cornerback in the spring 2021 season, finishing with 13 tackles and two tackles for loss.

Coaching Excellence

Pat Santoro

Wrestling

It was another banner year for Pat Santoro, who led the Mountain Hawk wrestling team to their fourth consecutive EIWA title. All 10 Lehigh entrants placed in the top five of their respective weight classes and all 10 qualified for the NCAA Championships. Santoro was named EIWA Coach of the Year for the second straight year and sixth time overall. He has mentored two NCAA Champions at Lehigh, and has led 20 individuals to 31 EIWA titles, while guiding 17 men to 31 total All-American honors. Santoro finished the 2020-21 season with a dual meet record of 159-60-1 at Lehigh. A Bethlehem native, Santoro was hired in 2008 as the eighth head coach in program history. He holds the title of Lawrence E. White '64 Head Wrestling Coach.

Kevin Cassese

Men's Lacrosse

After a 9-1 regular season that included a perfect 8-0 Patriot League mark, men's lacrosse coach Kevin Cassese was named Patriot League Coach of the Year. It was the second such honor for Cassese, who also won the award in 2013. Cassese led the Mountain Hawks to their most Patriot League wins in program history and first undefeated regular-season league record since 2013. Among Lehigh's victories were wins over then No. 10 Loyola, No. 7 Army West Point and No. 19 Navy. With the Mountain Hawks' win over Lafayette on April 18, Cassese became the program's all-time leader in career victories. Lehigh went on to beat Bucknell on April 24th, good for Cassese's 117th career win.

Jill Redfern

Women's Lacrosse

Following an impressive regular season in which Lehigh advanced to the Patriot League Championship game for the first time since 2010, finishing the season 9-4 (6-1 in the league), head coach Jill Redfern was named Patriot League Coach of the Year. A National Lacrosse Hall of Famer, Redfern has led the Mountain Hawks to 10 Patriot League Tournaments in 12 seasons. The Mountain Hawks have qualified for the league tourney in each of the last seven seasons. During her tenure, the Mountain Hawks own a 123-87 record, including seasons of 11, 14, 10, 13, 12, and 13 victories.

Sean Leary '93

Baseball

At the conclusion of a season in which his team won the Patriot League regular season crown for the first time since 2006, Sean Leary was named the league's coach of the year. It was the third such honor for Leary, who last won it in 2010. The Mountain Hawks posted their first winning record since 2014. Leary earned his 500th career win with a season-opening 9-0 shutout victory over Coppin State. All have come at Lehigh. He continues his climb as the winningest head coach in program history. Under Leary's tutelage, the Mountain Hawks took home two major awards and eight All-Patriot League selections last season. Lehigh concluded the 2021 campaign with a 24-19 overall record after securing a 17-10 mark in Patriot League play and the regular season title for the first time in 15 years.

Leaders At Work

CJ McCollum '13

As he prepares to help take his Portland Trail Blazers to new heights in this 2021-22 NBA season, another challenge awaits CJ McCollum. In August, the former Mountain Hawk superstar was elected president of the National Basketball Players Association (NBPA). An eight year NBA veteran, McCollum has served as a vice president on the NBPA executive committee since 2018.

"I am grateful for this opportunity to take over as the new president of the NBPA," McCollum said in a statement. "Chris [Paul] has done an incredible job over the last eight years, strengthening the voice of the players as a whole and using his platform to make sure our membership is taken care of on and off the court. I look forward to stepping into this role and to further growing the game so that future players can continue to learn and benefit from the union's work."

McCollum graduated from Lehigh with a Bachelor of Arts in journalism. A four year starter for the Mountain Hawks, he was the Patriot League Rookie of the Year and a two-time Patriot League Player of the Year. He is best known for his performance in the 2012 NCAA Tournament, when he posted 30 points, six assists, and six rebounds in Lehigh's upset of the No. 2 seeded Duke Blue Devils. McCollum is the Patriot League's all-time leading scorer with 2,361 career points.

CJ understood that his growth as a basketball player was tied to his growth in leadership and his maturity. He was engaged with our leadership programming and improved every year. It's not surprising for me to see him seeking leadership roles even within the NBA because it's something that he valued during his time at Lehigh and Lehigh helped cultivate within him.

—Brett Reed, Murray H. Goodman '48 Men's Basketball Head Coach

Cathy Engelbert '86

Two years after being appointed the first commissioner in the history of the WNBA, Cathy Engelbert is still a driving force behind the league's success.

Nothing could have prepared anyone for the impact of a global pandemic, but Engelbert has been credited with helping the WNBA save its 2020 season by playing in a bubble at IMG Academy in Bradenton, Florida.

"She was very determined," Terri Jackson, WNBA players' union executive director, told ESPN. "Without Cathy's resolve, I really don't know if we would have had a season."

It was the latest in a long list of accomplishments for Engelbert, who graduated from Lehigh with a Bachelor of Science in accounting. She was a member of the women's basketball and lacrosse teams and served as a senior captain for both squads. On the court, she played for former Lehigh coach and Naismith Basketball Hall of Famer Muffet McGraw, helping lead Lehigh to an East Coast Conference title in 1986. She finished her career with 861 career points, averaging 8.8 points per game, 2.9 rebounds per game and held a career field goal percentage of .498.

After graduating from Lehigh, she went to work for Deloitte in New York City, rising through the ranks before being named the company's CEO in 2015. Deloitte is one of the "Big Four" accounting agencies, providing audit, tax, and consulting services to more than 80% of Fortune 500 companies. She has been recognized in many publications for her work, including being named one of Fortune's Most Powerful Women three years in a row. She was the first woman to be appointed CEO of a Big Four firm.

We are incredibly proud of Cathy for her impact on the WNBA during her first two years as commissioner. Her creativity, resiliency, and adaptability were all on display as she navigated the WNBA season through a pandemic and the social justice issues that surrounded the timing of it. She continues to serve as a wonderful example of how the Lehigh experience prepares our student-athletes for a lifetime of leadership

—Sue Troyan, Women's Basketball Head Coach

Diversity. Inclusion. Equity. Anti-Racism.

A Call to Action

In response to the horrific acts of violence and systemic racial injustice against Black people, particularly the murders of George Floyd, Breonna Taylor, and Ahmaud Arbery, members of the Lehigh Athletics community dedicated time in the summer and fall of 2020 to actively engage in honest reflection, education, and activism.

As Our Journey Began Formation of SAOC

Our BIPOC student-athletes and coaches formed a Student-Athletes of Color engagement group, which played an important role educating, informing, and providing a space to listen to our BIPOC student-athletes. Our coaches and staff received institutional recognition for their leadership in this area.

“SAOC has been a place where our Black athletes have a space to talk about issues facing Black athletes, a place where we can converse and plan how to make the Lehigh experience better for us, as well as a place where we can learn how to prepare for our future as Black males and females.”

—Evan Taylor '23, men's basketball, co-captain of Student-Athletes of Color

Student-Athlete TIDE (Tackling Inclusion, Diversity, and Equity)

This engagement group continued to meet regularly for educational discussions around social justice issues, including voting, anti-racism, and allyship as a means to create a more diverse, inclusive, and equitable athletics community.

The department's staff TIDE group revitalized a group of staff members with a new purpose: educating our staff around inclusion, diversity, equity and anti-racism.

Educational Series through ZOOM:

- Head Coach Educational Series from Dr. Richard Cooper and Dr. Karla Cooper
- Senior leadership team anti-racism educational series provided by the university
- All staff members attended TIDE educational sessions

D.I.E.A.R.

Our Game Plan

Dean Sterrett commissioned an Athletics working group to develop a written plan to accelerate and advance our department's efforts to become a more diverse, inclusive, equitable, and anti-racist space. This plan was adopted in the summer of 2021.

VISION

The Lehigh Athletics Department is committed to developing a just, equitable, inclusive, and anti-racist community of learners in which our student-athletes, coaches, staff, and broader constituencies strive to learn, grow, and lead together.

“I am most excited by the level of engagement by our Athletics community in the development of our plan. The quality of our community is directly affected by the extent to which the members of that community take ownership for creating, strengthening and sustaining an environment that makes us all better. As is true with productive and successful sports teams, Lehigh intends to ensure and preserve an environment that values respect and trust while embracing the importance and power of diversity, equity and inclusiveness in all that we do.”

—Joe Sterrett '76, Dean of Athletics

Operating Through Uncharted Territory

Over the course of five months during spring 2021, Lehigh's events, communications and multimedia, and sports medicine teams led the way in organizing and executing the competition staging and required COVID-19 testing for 25 sport programs. It was a Herculean task that required the effort of each and every member of the athletics department to pull off. In total, Lehigh competed in 165 competitions between January and May, with a league-high event completion rate.

“I was very proud of my team—I gained so much more respect for everybody in our department. I want to give the best experience to our student-athletes and our visitors and patrons regardless of whether it's a pandemic or not. In the pandemic, the goal was to keep everybody healthy and we have done just that. I think our kids need to get a lot of credit as well. They stepped up and kept themselves healthy and behaved the right way.”

Allen Biddinger, Assistant Athletic Director for Facilities and Events

Athletic Trainer Marco Giuliani counsels a football player.

Assistant Track and Field coach Brooke Astor '14 volunteers to film a field hockey game.

“At the time, there was excitement that we were going to get back to competing and staging events, but as we approached December it became real. We had some budget limitations, so we had to be creative about finding people that could fill certain roles. To see the amount of people that were willing to step up even on a short notice to fill in, I think spoke to the team first mentality of so many of our staff.”

Rich Haas '00, Assistant Athletic Director for Sales and Marketing

Associate Head Field Hockey coach Taylor Dyer checks the temperature of a student-athlete.

“We had to manage all the contact tracing and the surveillance testing along with all of the student-athlete care, so it required a very coordinated, integrated effort on the part of many people. The way that everyone came together to support each other was inspiring. People put their personal agendas aside because the most important thing was for our teams to be able to compete. Throughout the spring, we completed 85% of the scheduled competitions, and out of the 15% that weren't, only 5% were a direct correlation to a COVID case. That was a huge accomplishment.”

Tim Doane, Director of Sports Medicine

Assistant Director for Facilities and Events Dale Townsend masks up while preparing the Ulrich Sports Complex for competition.

“So much of what we do is predicated on access. We weren't really able to interface with the coaches for post-game videos throughout the year. Everything had to be virtual. We weren't even allowed to go to the field to get lineups. But we still had to do our job of telling our stories of athletes and teams. We wouldn't have gotten through the year without our volunteers. Without the pandemic, there is so much that goes into hosting, streaming, and creating events, and we did all that with a host of safety measures and procedures to follow.”

Reflections from the Pandemic

Keagan Casey '24
SWIMMING & DIVING

“ I stepped foot on the campus in the midst of a pandemic and had no idea what to expect. Each day that we faced was full of uncertainty. The best part about last year was the ability to train and live out the team first mentality. It was easy to get down in the dumps, but getting support from your teammates and spreading positivity and knowing a group of people are always behind you is why I am so proud to represent this school. ”

David Hurly '23
MEN'S GOLF

“ Having teammates who are there for you can make a world of difference. We leaned on each other heavily during the spring season, more than we ever have before, and now we are an even closer group. Being able to keep each other accountable and offer as much support as possible is the reason we were able to get through the season in the spring, and is an element that I hope we maintain for the rest of our careers on the team. ”

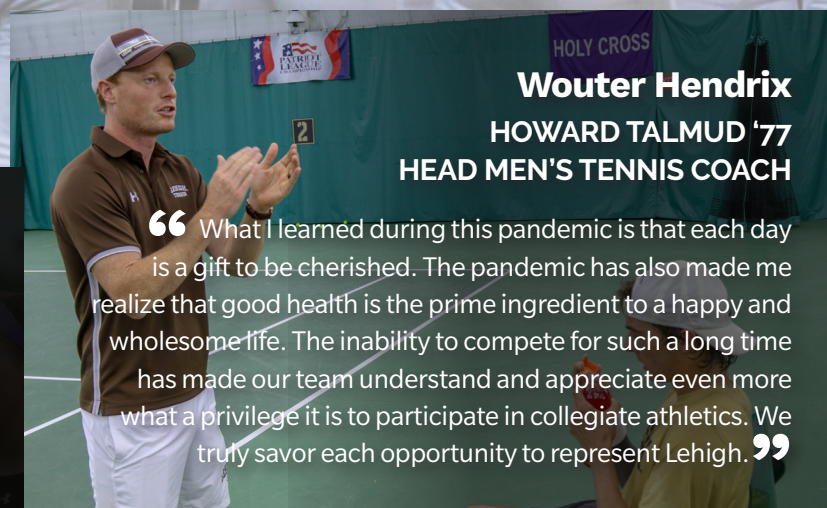

Alexa Keckler
HEAD VOLLEYBALL COACH

“ COVID made me realize how much I appreciate the smiles and excitement on the players' faces. Not being able to see that during COVID was very difficult. The pandemic forced us to lose months of time together as a team and we were stripped of so many memories. However, it has helped to keep things in perspective and embrace every opportunity we get. ”

Ella Imhof '23
WOMEN'S TENNIS

“ I have learned to acknowledge that unexpected things are going to happen in life. The pandemic has taught me to focus on the things that I can control and focus on improving myself in those areas on and off the court. ”

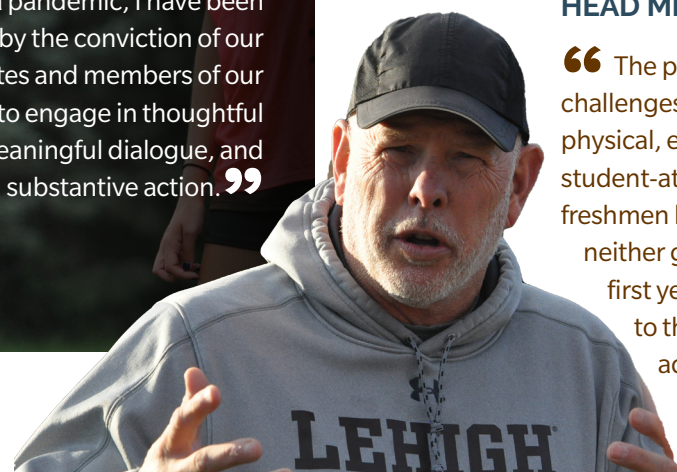

Wouter Hendrix
HOWARD TALMUD '77
HEAD MEN'S TENNIS COACH

“ What I learned during this pandemic is that each day is a gift to be cherished. The pandemic has also made me realize that good health is the prime ingredient to a happy and wholesome life. The inability to compete for such a long time has made our team understand and appreciate even more what a privilege it is to participate in collegiate athletics. We truly savor each opportunity to represent Lehigh. ”

Dean Koski
INGRASSIA FAMILY
HEAD MEN'S SOCCER COACH

“ The pandemic presented myriad challenges for all of us as it related to the physical, emotional and mental health of our student-athletes. Certainly, our seniors and freshmen bore the brunt of the pandemic, as neither group was able to enjoy a 'normal' first year or senior year. We preached to the players the importance of adapting to your environment, be it sport, work or life. ”

Lauren Calabrese '07
ASSOCIATE HEAD WOMEN'S SOCCER COACH

“ In the wake of a year replete with deep uncertainty and devastating tragedy, I have gained clarity about the importance of community, the resiliency of the human spirit, and the indispensable value of empathy and compassion. As we continue to adapt to the complexities of living through a pandemic, I have been encouraged by the conviction of our student-athletes and members of our department staff to engage in thoughtful reflection, meaningful dialogue, and substantive action. ”

Marina Mendez '23
WOMEN'S GOLF

“ The pandemic is proof of the great influence that we have in other people's lives, even if it is unintentional, and serves as a daily reminder to make sure I have a positive effect on others. I am more conscious of appreciating the relationships I have built, not only with my team and coaches but also with the staff at the athletics office, the volunteers at our practice facility, athletic trainers and strength coaches. I bring this same mentality with me everywhere I go now. ”

Tori Dorn '22
WOMEN'S ROWING

“ It took me a while to understand what was happening around me and even longer to realize how much was actually gained in the losses of COVID-19. This pandemic gave me a renewed appreciation for my sport and family. Being at home, I was able to row with my mother in a double, a priceless experience I had not desired nor had time for before the pandemic. I learned how to not take little things for granted. ”

Moving On

But Not Forgotten

Saying goodbye isn't easy. Especially when those to whom you're bidding farewell have combined for nearly 120 years of loyal service to Lehigh Athletics! Lehigh will never be the same without these department stalwarts, and we are indebted to them for the impact they have made on the lives of our student-athletes, staff, coaches, and surrounding community members. We wish them the best in their retirement.

ROSEANN CORSI

Most people wouldn't guess that Roseann Corsi was the longest serving member of the Athletics Department staff—her energy and enthusiasm are reflective of someone decades younger. A Bethlehem native, she began her tenure at Lehigh with the Office of Intramural and Recreational Sports. For many students, she was the "face" of Lehigh Athletics. In the mid-1990s, she supported the ticket services operation, and she later became the first "public and community relations" coordinator, managed the department awards program, operated the first store for Athletics Department gear, and helped to raise annual funding for several women's sports programs, as well as for Bethlehem community members through the Adopt-a-Family initiative that provides at-need families with gifts for the holidays. She ran a summer sports camp for children, and even served a few years as an assistant volleyball coach. Roseann played just about every position in the Athletics Department, and she always performed at the top level.

JACK FOLEY

Associate Athletic Director for Sports Medicine Jack Foley often described his profession as "some science, some art, and a whole lot of psychology in between." He was a master at all of those. Jack has been at the forefront of some innovative treatment protocols, rehabilitation protocols, and modalities. His work in the areas of skin disorders have become the adopted approach for the EIWA and the NCAA. He was also willing to change with the times. He began without technology and he retired fully immersed in the extensive array of capabilities that modern technologies provide. Yet, as any of his staff would attest, he always preached relying on "your hands," "your instincts," and "your heart" in all health care services. That defines "old school" and it defines the uniqueness of Jack Foley.

LISA BAKER

For more than 37 years, the smiling face and kindly voice of Lisa Baker have greeted students, staff, alumni, and all other visitors (and callers) to the Athletics Department. In her role, Lisa assisted countless individuals in resolving their inquiries or concerns while also managing a wide array of department and sport-specific support services. Lisa's enthusiasm for all things Lehigh extended to her support of Mountain Hawks teams, service events, and department staff. She started her Lehigh career in the Center for the Application of Mathematics and amassed more than 41 years of total service to the university. Her connection to Lehigh Athletics will always be an important part of the department's history and culture.

CAMPUS ATHLETICS

CAMPUS
ATHLETICS
LEHIGH UNIVERSITY

While the pandemic halted live fitness and recreation on Lehigh's campus in March 2020, Campus Athletics creatively adapted ways to keep the Lehigh community engaged in physical activity. Campus Athletics launched a social media campaign to offer weekly, at-home workouts using no equipment or household items. Walking programs became an attractive recreation activity for many Lehigh community members, with 13 virtual programs being offered through Campus Athletics over the course of a year. Our first ever virtual fitness class program was created and launched for the entire Lehigh community to partake in cardio, strength, and stretching options, all with little to no equipment necessary.

CLUB SPORTS

Although club sport intercollegiate competition was postponed for the 20-21 school year, our club teams participated in virtual programming and friendly intra-squad competition amongst other Lehigh teams. Club team presidents rose to the challenge of keeping their teams engaged and discovered creative ways to keep active and stay prepared to resume competition.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Intramurals offered individual competition, such as foul shooting and hot shots, held in Lower Grace Hall. Esports were also introduced for individual bracket play.

Many hours of research, resetting, and construction were spent to design and implement a safe and distanced fitness center for students to work out in once they returned to campus. Lehigh Recreation adopted a "social fitnessing" mindset in order to continue to support the overall physical and mental wellbeing of the Lehigh community.

Winter Wellness Series

FAMILY FITNESS FUN!

FITNESS CLASSES AND PROGRAMMING

Campus Athletics' goal was to provide programming to keep people moving and motivated throughout the pandemic in an effort to support physical and mental wellbeing. Our first ever fully virtual fitness class program was created, as our team of instructors adapted class formats and learned new technology to offer high quality fitness experiences to the Lehigh community. We also built our own secure, recorded library of fitness classes, supporting further accessibility and flexibility. Weekly support groups for faculty and staff offered accountability, support, and encouragement in a wide variety of health and fitness topics. A weekly wellness workshop series offered the community further learning opportunities into wellness topics such as back health, meal planning, and how to make working out at home fun for the whole family.

VIRTUAL TURKEY TROT

The 156th annual Turkey Trot / Too Hot to Trot lived on virtually during the pandemic. Campus Athletics collaborated with Lafayette's recreation team to offer a combined event in which both school communities could participate. When The Rivalry game was moved to the spring, the "Spring Chicken Strut" was created for the Lehigh community to partake in the spirit of The Rivalry with a 1.56 mile walk or run.

The Honor Roll

Lehigh University gratefully acknowledges the generosity of those who made financial contributions to our athletics programs and facilities throughout this past year. Your donations are having a significant impact on our competitiveness and on the development of our student-athletes in myriad and important ways. (July 1, 2020 – June 30, 2021)
