MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN OF ATHLETICS

As we watch our seasons change yet again, the time of year provides and challenges us to reflect upon the inevitability of changes in our lives. Our University and our Athletics Department are in the midst of some significant changes, which I believe are ultimately going to be constructive. Changes in the basic foundations of college athletics may not be as positive. At the University level, the new leadership team and the collaboratively developed strategic plan, challenge all of us at Lehigh to inspire those who will make the future for Lehigh and for our world. We have been encouraged to “make our future” through innovation/risk taking (“Make it New”), a focus on the application of our learning to the most challenging problems or needs (“Make a Difference”), and through actively and intentionally engaging with others in fulfilling our educational and student development mission (“Make it Together”). These aspirations and inspiring directives are consistent with Lehigh’s historical strengths and they are affirming of the vision we have long held for the Athletics program.

Change, no matter how different perceptions may be about the nature of that change, is inevitable. In Athletics, personnel changes are inevitable, and new staff bring fresh perspectives about program and resource priorities. Personnel changes always present an opportunity to “Make it New!” Over the past couple of years, we have managed transitions in 9 of our 21 head coaching positions. Most of these resulted from former staff members choosing new directions for their careers – with some remaining in coaching at other institutions and others choosing to pursue alternate paths for their working lives.

The influences on our department of these new program leaders have included their hiring of many new assistants and collectively, a new kind of energy, a set of different perspectives, and the need to plan for and manage the challenges inherent in every transition. In addition to learning about the athletes they have inherited, our new staff need to learn about Lehigh, about recruiting to our school and our league, and about the challenges of leading the athlete development process, which is so central to our mission and the competitive aspirations of our athletes, teams, coaches and alumni.

We are fortunate to have a dedicated leadership team engaged in this change process, most of whom have experience in working through transitions. The addition a year ago to that leadership team of Sue Troyan, and her 32 years of successful head coaching experience at Lehigh, has significantly enhanced our collective understanding of the challenges that coaches face, and focused our efforts to provide the support and resources coaches need. Sue has also provided Lehigh with valuable experience in working with the student-athletes of today, and how we can be most effective in supporting them.

Mention of two other types of changes merits space in this annual report.

The first is the year-long celebration of “50 Years of Women’s Athletics” at Lehigh, which represents a collective set of changes that have occurred over a long period of time, as well as the promise of future progress, hopefully at a more accelerated rate! Our women’s athletics program has evolved from what was originally an afterthought, to a comprehensive set of competitive and developmental opportunities at the highest levels, which include numerous distinctive achievements by individuals and teams. Respect for Lehigh’s women’s athletics program is broad and deep, and the current generation of athletes and coaches aims to push that bar higher! I encourage all of you to peruse and interact with the section of our sports website that shares the history of achievement and distinction by our Lehigh women athletes and coaches, today and over the past 50 years.

The second change I need to share is less celebratory, though it does fall into the category of “Making it New” through creativity, innovation and finding a new way of looking at and solving a challenge. Several years ago, we communicated our aspirations for completing an expansive addition and renovation to our Cundey Varsity House, and the construction of an indoor field facility. An obligation within this complex project included determining a plan for management of water runoff. A highly creative solution involved the addition of a synthetic practice field, with water tanks beneath the field to capture runoff and pumps to irrigate grass fields. With financial support from an anonymous donor we were able to complete this first phase of the overall project, which enables us to move forward on the other phases, if the necessary funding can be identified. Unfortunately, the inflation of costs associated with the Varsity House and Indoor Field Facility projects (essentially double the original projections), and my failure to generate additional principal gifts have challenged us to rethink our options. We will find a way to move forward however, our plan may differ from our original intentions. I pledge to keep you updated about these likely changes.

Change is inevitable. Change can be (and often is) very positive. Implemented change can be truly transformative. Change, in some form, is going to be one of the constants we all need to accept and embrace. My commitment to our athletics partners, and to our university, is that the leadership will manage the present and future changes that will be confronted in Athletics, with optimism, confidence, and most importantly, without compromise of the ideals, values and community that have made Lehigh such a special place. The best evidence of this commitment can be found in the pages of this report that describe the people – the athletes, the coaches, the staff and the alumni of our programs -- who embody those qualities.

With gratitude and appreciation,

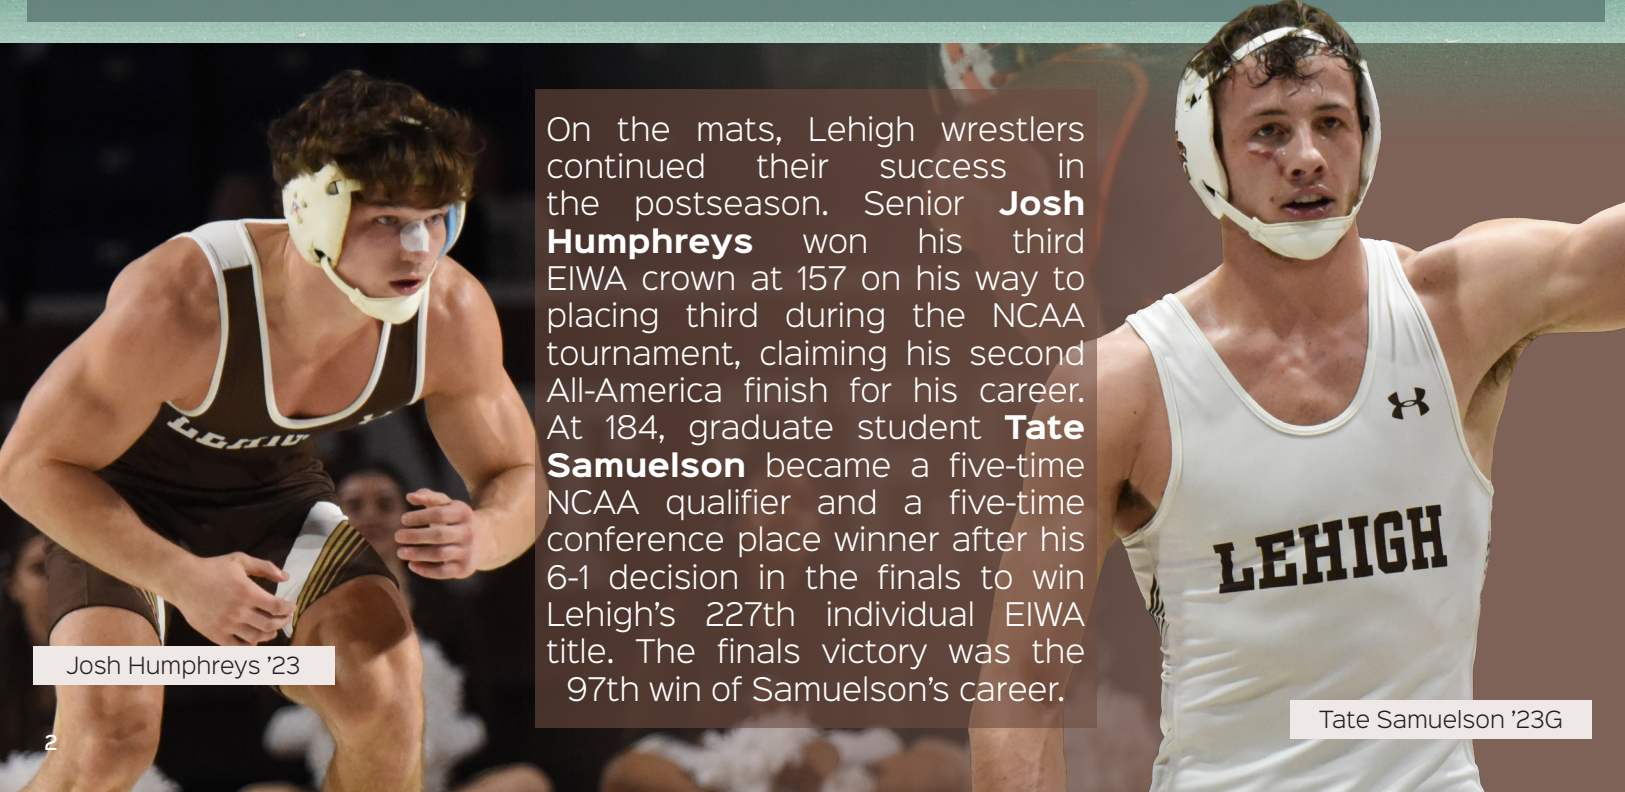

Joe Sterrett '76

CELEBRATING CHAMPIONS

Lehigh's long and storied history of athletic achievement grew larger in 2022-23. Two teams won league titles, as did twelve individual champions – showcasing that Lehigh's competitive aspirations are as alive as they've ever been.

After a shoot-out win in the semifinals, the Lehigh Field Hockey team won its second Patriot League Championship in program history by taking down No. 1 Boston University 2-1 in overtime. The win secured the program's first-ever NCAA Tournament berth. Lehigh scored off a penalty corner during the first overtime period to set off the Lehigh celebration as the Mountain Hawks won their first league title since 1994. Lehigh finished their season at 13-8, tying the record for the third-most wins in school history.

On the mats, Lehigh wrestlers continued their success in the postseason. Senior Josh Humphreys won his third EIWA crown at 157 on his way to placing third during the NCAA tournament, claiming his second All-America finish for his career. At 184, graduate student Tate Samuelson became a five-time NCAA qualifier and a five-time conference place winner after his 6-1 decision in the finals to win Lehigh's 227th individual EIWA title. The finals victory was the 97th win of Samuelson's career.

Senior Daniel Song led the way for the Mountain Hawks, winning the individual title to become Lehigh's third-ever medalist at the Patriot League Championship. Reigle also took gold at the ECAC Outdoor Championships. Senior Ian Scott took home a Patriot League outdoor gold medal in the triple jump by reaching a distance of 15.38m to break the school record, besting his previous 14.86m mark, which was good for gold at the indoor championships.

Around the track, Kevin Harvey closed the distance to overcome his 20th seed position and captured a gold medal in the outdoor 5,000m with a time of 14:22.27. Harvey was joined on the top of the podium by first-year Abby Klebe, who took home Patriot League gold in the outdoor 800m when she broke the school record with a time of 2:08.28. Klebe was the anchor leg of the women's outdoor 4x800m relay team, which also featured Simone Davey, Svea Wickelgren, and Lauryn Heskin, and secured yet another gold for Lehigh Track and Field.

CAPITAL PROJECTS

A Transformative Campaign for Lehigh Athletics

Due to an incredibly generous $8M leadership commitment made by the parents of a Lehigh student-athlete, Lehigh Athletics was able to move forward with the first phase of an ambitious $28M capital effort to expand and renovate the Cundey Varsity House. These enhancements have been broken down into 4 distinct phases that will completely transform the Lehigh Athletics experience on Goodman Campus.

PHASE 1

Phase 1, which is now completed, was an enabling phase that included engineering field and site work required to properly accommodate the construction of all projects associated with this effort, now and in the future. This included various infrastructure elements including providing energy supply and a massive underground basin that has the ability to service water runoff needs of the Cundey Varsity House expansion, a synthetic turf outfield at J. David Walker Field (baseball) and a future indoor field facility. On top of the water basin, a synthetic turf practice field with lights was constructed to maximize the land development on Goodman Campus. This outdoor field will impact all of Lehigh's teams in varying capacities.

REMAINING PHASES

In order to move forward with subsequent phases of the envisioned project (described more fully below), we must secure additional funding, including seven figure commitments, from our Athletics Community and philanthropic supporters. Until we secure such funding, subsequent phases of the project will not move forward as originally envisioned.

PHASE 2

Phase 2 consists of adding a sizeable addition to the Cundey Varsity House. This addition provides an enhanced strength and physical training facility that nearly doubles the current capacity, an expanded sports medicine facility, a physician's private diagnostic room, walk-in therapy pools and an indoor pitching and hitting facility.

Phase 3 is the renovation of Cundey Varsity House, which includes new or improved locker rooms (including long needed air conditioning!) for 13 Lehigh sport teams and a student-athlete lounge and nutrition bar to provide social and study space for our scholar-athletes.

PHASE 3

PHASE 4

In 2015, Lehigh's baseball field was updated to include a synthetic infield surface. With a water runoff solution now in place, Phase 4 plans to complete the synthetic surfacing to the baseball field by adding turf in the outfield.

After the completion of the prior four phases, our aspiration is to identify funding to construct a 94,000 square foot indoor field facility. The building would dramatically increase Lehigh teams' ability to play and practice year-round. All teams would be able to conduct full team practices in this facility, year-round, regardless of weather.

ASPIRATIONAL FUTURE PROJECT

If you have interest in making a transformative gift towards these capital projects, please contact Director of Development, Mike Garzillo '16, at mag316@lehigh.edu or 610-758-1497.

THE HONOR ROLL

Lehigh University gratefully acknowledges the generosity of those who made financial contributions to our athletics programs and facilities throughout this past year. Your donations are having a significant impact on our competitiveness and on the development of our student-athletes in myriad and important ways.

A Q&A with Lehigh Alumnus, Donor, and Volunteer

Cliff Chapman '91

Co-Founder & CEO, Syncarpha Capital

Q: Can you describe your Lehigh athletics experience?

CC: My freshman year, I wrestled under Lehigh coaching legend Thad Turner. I have many memories of our winter break trips wrestling perennial powerhouses like Oklahoma and Iowa as well as countless hours in the room training with National Champion Matt Ruppel and All-American Solomon Fleckman, among others. I learned what it meant to work very hard, compete at a high level, and I suffered my share of lumps in the wrestling room! My experience as a student-athlete at Lehigh has had a profound impact on my life and my career.

Q: What excites you about Lehigh wrestling and Lehigh athletics?

CC: For Lehigh Wrestling, it's the combination of the tradition of excellence that Lehigh has been able to carry through all these years and the quality of people we're able to attract and retain. I love our coaching staff and their commitment to putting together a team of great people but also great wrestlers.

Lehigh has the ability to attract student-athletes who are able to balance competitive division one athletics while also maintaining strong academic credentials and who will go on to be meaningful contributors in their life after Lehigh - whether it be in business or in society - which helps to create the right fabric for this university.

Q: How did your time at Lehigh shape your career and personal development?

CC: First, I chose to study engineering while also competing in wrestling for a nationally ranked institution, which proved quite challenging. It taught me not to be afraid of hard work, how to deal with setbacks, and how to persevere when the going gets tough - in the classroom or on the mat. Second, I learned that you're not always going to win. You learn that failure is a part of the process, and once you accept that, you can maintain a broader perspective that allows you to focus on long-term goals instead of getting caught up in the moment. Those who face adversity, and are able to prevail despite it, are the people who have achieved the most success in their chosen pursuits.

Q: In what ways have you been involved as a volunteer with Lehigh Wrestling?

CC: As a member of the volunteer board of the Lehigh Wrestling Partnership, I've gotten the chance to get to know the coaching staff and student-athletes in a way that I didn't before. In our career mentoring program, we're helping the student-athletes navigate their college experience. My mentees and I will chat on a monthly basis about jobs and careers, which gives them another set of ears to bounce ideas off beyond their parents, coaches, and teammates. As mentors, we review resumes, make business introductions, and serve as a resource when it comes to going through life as a Lehigh student-athlete. The time spent has been meaningful and rewarding.

Q: What would be your message to Lehigh Athletics alumni who haven't been involved with their sport and might want to be?

CC: Whatever sport you participated in at Lehigh likely taught you many lessons that have helped you achieve success throughout your life post-college. I would encourage alumni to recall the importance of their time competing and the relationships they nurtured with both their teammates and coaches. Becoming involved can enrich the experience for current students and can be very rewarding as an alumni, as it has been for me. Your time, donations, and access to relationships are a real asset to our teams and can make a real impact on the program and in the lives of student-athletes.

Q: Beyond volunteering, you've chosen to support wrestling financially. What motivates that support?

CC: Getting involved and providing financial support can go a long way for our Lehigh Athletics programs. It's been helpful to hear from Coach Santoro about the competitive needs and priorities of the program, where the dollars go, and how they help the team chase their goals. When you're competing to be one of the top teams in your league, or in the case of wrestling, the country, financial support from sources beyond the university budgets is something that is necessary. Our Lehigh Athletics alumni can play a meaningful role in supporting the success of their team with financial support.

Q: Is there anything else you would like to share with the Lehigh Athletics community about the impact being an involved alumnus can have?

CC: It is very rewarding to be involved, to be able to provide something back to Lehigh, and to pay it forward to a group of hardworking student-athletes. My Lehigh experience was transformative for me and being able to make an impact on the next generation of young adults is a unique opportunity. There are many competing priorities for your time and money. I strongly advocate for carving out an allocation for your favorite Lehigh sport. There is a great opportunity to make an impact, and that's what I'm focused on doing.
