Liberty COACHING

Head coach Carey Green ranks 10th among the nation's active NCAA Division I women's basketball coaches with a .751 career-winning percentage. Here is a look at the top 15:

1)	Geno Auriemma, UConn	.862
2)	Matt Bollant, Illinois	.837
3)	Tara VanDerveer, Stanford	.811
4)	Kim Mulkey, Baylor	.811

6)	Joe Foley, Arkansas-Little Rock	.772
7)	Rick Insell, Middle Tennessee State	.763
8)	Wes Moore, Chattanooga	.762
9)	Robin Selvig, Montana	.758
10)	CAREY GREEN, LIBERTY	.751

The 2012-13 season will be the sixth straight year Liberty has had the same head coach (Green) and same three assistant coaches (Heather Stephens, Alexis Sherard, and Andrea "Andy" Bloodworth). Liberty is one of only three NCAA Division I women's basketball teams (also Iowa and Montana) that can make that claim.

Green's three assistant coaches have more than 40 combined years of experience working in college basketball.

Liberty "SWEET 16"

The 13th-seeded Lady Flames advanced to the "Sweet 16" of the 2005 NCAA Division I Tournament, pulling upsets over fourth-seeded Penn State and fifth-seeded DePaul along the way. Here are a few photos, quotes, and facts that commemorate that memorable March run.

- "Cinderella now resides at 1971 University Blvd." – Rece Davis, ESPN Studio Host (3/22/05).
- "To the rest of the world they may be a Cinderella team, but for women's college basketball coaches and our particular program, the way they've run through the tournament is not a surprise to us." – Louisiana State University head coach Pokey Chatman from ESPN.com (3/25/05).
- Liberty became the fourth No. 13 seed in NCAA women's basketball tournament history to upset a No. 4 seed.
- The Lady Flames became the second team in NCAA women's basketball tournament history to advance to the "Sweet 16" as a No. 13 seed and the first to do so on a neutral floor.

LIBERTY
UNIVERSITY

SINCE 1971

Letter FROM THE CHANCELLOR

Since 1971, Liberty University has grown from a small Bible college to a major university of academic excellence, world-class facilities, NCAA Division I athletics, and a host of student activities—all provided within a distinctively Christian environment.

Throughout our courageous history, our uncompromising mission and unique character have remained the same; today Liberty is poised to carry out its mission in unparalleled ways.

We continue to expand our world-class facilities and enrich student life opportunities, while maintaining an unwavering dedication to inspiring Christian commitment, faith in action, and community service among our students, faculty, and staff.

Liberty University has been Training Champions for Christ since 1971 and we will continue fervently in that mission, identifying the most prized champion traits and seeking to instill those values within our students.

CHAMPIONS STAND FOR WHAT IS TRUE.
CHAMPIONS PURSUE EXCELLENCE IN ALL THEY DO.
AND ABOVE ALL, CHAMPIONS KEEP CHRIST FIRST.

STUDENT-ATHLETE DEVELOPMENT/LIFE SKILLS

The mission of the NCAA is to maintain intercollegiate athletics as an integral part of the campus educational program and the student-athlete as an integral part of the student body. With this in mind, the Student-Athlete Development/Life Skills Program was created to support the student development initiatives of its member institutions and to enhance the quality of the student-athlete experience within the university setting.

During the 2006-07 academic year, Liberty University's Academic Affairs for Athletics Department launched the Flames ALL Teams Competition. In this challenge, athletic teams competed against one another and earned points based on participation as well as accomplishments in Academic Excellence, Athletic Performance, Personal & Team Enhancement, and SAAC Communication.

Student-Athlete Development/Life Skills also designs workshops and seminars each year for student-athletes, which focus on academics, personal awareness, career planning, diversity training, and financial responsibility.

Additionally, Student-Athlete Development/Life Skills encourages student-athletes' involvement in numerous community service outreach events throughout the year.

THE LIFE SKILLS PROGRAM
designs workshops for student-athletes, focusing on academics, personal awareness, career planning, diversity training, and financial responsibility

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COMMITTEE (SAAC)

The Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) is a body of student-athletes (two representatives from each athletic team), cheerleaders, and student trainers who have been selected by the Liberty University Athletics Administration, coaches, and athletes. SAAC provides its members an environment to express opinions, concerns and new ideas that would enhance the student-athletes' experience at Liberty. The committee also offers the student-athletes an opportunity to have a more personal relationship with members of the athletic department administration and the community by assisting local charities and community programs.

The committee spearheads Liberty's effort as part of the Big South Conference's community service initiative as they race for the Kallander Cup, an annual award bestowed upon the conference institution that best exemplifies service within the community. Awarded each summer, Liberty won the inaugural cup in 2007 and repeated in 2008.

This past year, community service efforts were focused on Lynchburg City Schools. Student-athletes were involved in more than 16 events and raised more than $3,000 for Lynchburg City Schools.

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

THE FLAMES' STRENGTH & CONDITIONING PROGRAM IS headed by world-renowned weightlifter Bill Gillespie, who brings NFL and Pac-10 experience to "The Mountain."

STUDENT-ATHLETES TRAIN YEAR-ROUND, utilizing a wide range of equipment to prepare for game day mentally and physically

The Liberty strength and conditioning program is used to help develop stronger and more competitive athletes. It ensures each athlete gets the maximum benefit from resistance training, improved quickness, injury prevention, and sport-specific conditioning. Our athletes train year round using various strength training and conditioning methods, looking to challenge them both physically and mentally.

A six-member strength and conditioning coaching staff services Liberty's 20 athletics teams. The staff is headed by two veterans of the business, Head Strength and Conditioning Coordinator Bill Gillespie and Associate Strength and Conditioning Coordinator Dave Williams.

The duo has combined for nearly 60 years of experience in strength and conditioning. Gillespie's résumé includes stints with the Seattle Seahawks and Washington Huskies. Meanwhile, Williams has been at Liberty for 29 years, including the last seven as the women's basketball team's strength and conditioning coach. Joining Gillespie and Williams are Colin Dugan, E.L. Estes, Jesse Irizarry and Alysson Sanders.

ABOUT

The strength and conditioning program boasts coaches Bill Gillespie and Dave Williams, both holding the distinction of Master Strength and Conditioning Coach by CSCCa. There are only 102 Master Strength and Conditioning Coaches in the world and Liberty is the only institution at the NCAA Division I FCS level to have two honorees in the same strength and conditioning program.

Liberty ATHLETICS COMPLIANCE

→ FIVE RULES OF ATHLETICS COMPLIANCE

1. Only coaches and athletics department staff members are permitted to be involved in the recruiting process. Alumni, friends and "other representatives of athletics interest, i.e. boosters" who are not employed by the university are not permitted to contact a prospect (or members of the prospect's family) by letter, telephone or in-person (on or off campus) for the purpose of soliciting their participation in the athletic program. Liberty faculty members are permitted to have contact with the prospects, but only while on the campus during unofficial visits or off-campus, in the locale of the institution, when a prospect is on an official visit.

2. A prospect remains a prospect even after he or she signs a National Letter of Intent or financial aid agreement to attend the university. The prospect does not lose his/her prospect status until the start of classes at Liberty or the beginning of official team practice prior to the start of classes.

3. The prohibition of contact with a prospect is intended to relate to unavoidable incidental contacts with a prospect by representatives of a member institution's athletics interest. It is understood that such a contact is not prearranged by the athletics representative or an athletics department staff member, is not made for the purpose of recruitment of the prospect, and involves only normal civility. For example, if you meet a high school student or junior college student-athlete, you can talk with them about anything except Liberty athletics. If you are attending a public function and find yourself talking to the parents of a prospect, you can talk about anything that doesn't relate to the athletics department.

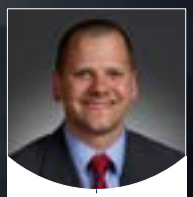

4. If a student-athlete accepts any benefits or special consideration based on his or her status as an athlete or because of athletic skill, the student-athlete will lose all eligibility for intercollegiate athletic participation. Do not do anything for prospective or enrolled student-athletes without specific authorization from the Liberty Athletics Compliance Office.

5. Representatives of athletics interests are reminded that NCAA rules regarding enrolled student-athletes remain in effect throughout the entire year, including summer breaks. When student-athletes complete their final season of eligibility, they must abide by NCAA rules until the end of that academic year and/or until they are no longer receiving athletics financial aid.

→ INTERACTION WITH BOOSTERS AND LIBERTY STUDENT-ATHLETES

It's easy to form a relationship with Liberty athletes as you cheer them on and watch them compete. Building these types of relationships is not only fun for fans but also important in the lives of student-athletes. In an effort to make sure that the eligibility of every student-athlete is not harmed, please look over these few guidelines for what can and can not be provided to a student-athlete, and remember that if you have any questions, please contact the Liberty Athletics Compliance Office.

→ WHAT A BOOSTER CAN DO (for a student-athlete)

→ Provide summer employment to a student-athlete, provided he/she is paid the going rate and only for work actually performed.

→ Provide a meal to a student-athlete or the team at their home (not a restaurant). They can also provide a ride to their home for the meal. These meals should be approved by the Compliance Office.

→ WHAT A BOOSTER CANNOT DO (for a student-athlete)

→ Give a gift of clothing or equipment. → Provide free or reduced housing costs. → Give cash or co-sign on loans. → Arrange for employment of a relative. → Provide rentals or purchases of any type. → Provide use of a car. → Pay the costs for a student-athlete's friends or family to visit campus. → Free medical or professional services. → Provide free use of a phone for long-distance calls. → Provide funds for entertainment of an athlete, their friends, or relatives.

→ ABOUT

Liberty University's Athletics Compliance Office monitors and verifies compliance with all NCAA, conference, and university requirements. The office educates not only the athletics staff, administration and student-athletes, but also university faculty, staff, and administration as well as other individuals and entities with athletics interests.

Liberty University is committed and compelled to the principle of institutional control in the operation of its athletics department in a way that is constantly within the rules and regulations of the NCAA, Big South Conference, and the university. As the university strives for excellence on and off the field of competition, the highest regard for ethical conduct must also be sought. In order for the athletics department to exist, outside participation is required and must be emphasized. Any inappropriate activity outside the rules and regulations of the NCAA could jeopardize student-athletes' eligibility to compete.

Everyone involved inside or outside the university must do his or her part in order to foster an environment that is supportive of the NCAA operating principle of competitive equity. Each person has a role and responsibility, which includes accountability and integrity when it comes to compliance with NCAA rules and regulations. The communication process is a must when it comes to understanding how each person fits within the structure of the NCAA rules and regulations.

If you have any questions regarding NCAA rules and regulations, especially those dealing with prospects and student-athletes, please contact the athletics compliance office. Liberty's athletic programs need your help and support, so please cooperate to ensure the success of Flames Athletics, on and off the field.

→ MISSION

The mission of the Liberty University Athletics Compliance Office is to uphold the rules and regulations set forth by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA), the Big South Conference, and Liberty University. The Compliance Office shall serve to advance the uncompromising integrity and commitment to the highest standards of ethical behavior at Liberty University in order to strictly adhere to the letter and spirit of NCAA principles of institutional control. As a vital component to the success of Liberty Athletics, the compliance office is committed to the education of the Athletics family on the complexities of NCAA rules in order to ensure a continued tradition of athletic excellence at Liberty University.

→ VISION

Athletics Compliance aspires to become a nationwide example for excellence and integrity in compliance among all other NCAA institutions.

→ VALUES

Athletics Compliance is committed to the values of:

→ EXCELLENCE → INTEGRITY → ACCOUNTABILITY → SERVICE

→ WHAT ARE EXTRA BENEFITS?

An extra benefit is any special arrangement from the institution, its staff, or its boosters to provide a benefit to student-athletes or their friends or family unless that benefit is (1) provided to the institution's students generally or (2) specifically permitted by NCAA rules.

→ EXAMPLES OF IMPERMISSIBLE EXTRA BENEFITS

→ The use of an automobile → Giving a loan or helping to secure a loan → Discounts on services, like dry cleaning or car repair → Discounts on purchases, such as clothing or airline tickets → The use of a cell phone or phone card → Receipt of services from businesses, like movie tickets or dinner

→ EXAMPLES OF PERMISSIBLE EXTRA BENEFITS

→ Athletics scholarships → Appropriate equipment for practice and competition → Travel expenses for competition → Complimentary admissions to their contests for family and friends → Awards to recognize their participation and achievement → Medical treatment → Academic support services

→ KEY WORDS THAT ANY ALUMNI OR FRIEND SHOULD KNOW

REPRESENTATIVE OF ATHLETICS INTEREST - (BYLAW 13.02.12)

Representatives of athletics interest - Casual conversation frequently uses the term "booster" to refer to these individuals. Under NCAA rules, a "representative of the institution's athletics interest, is any individual that has ever:

A) contributed to the athletics department or its booster club.
B) joined the institution's booster club.
C) assisted in recruiting prospective student-athletes.
D) provided benefits (e.g. summer job) to enrolled student-athletes.
E) promoted the institution's athletics program."

Please note three important points regarding this definition:

1. It is very easy to meet one of these criterion, thus each institution has thousands of athletics representatives.
2. Once an individual becomes a representative of the institutions athletics interest, he or she retains that identity forever.
3. Under NCAA rules, the institution is responsible for all actions of it's athletic representatives.

PROSPECTIVE STUDENT-ATHLETE - (BYLAW 13.02.10)

A prospective student-athlete ("prospect") is a person who has started classes for the ninth grade. A student-athlete who has not started classes for the ninth grade becomes a prospective student-athlete if the individual receives any benefits from an institution or representative of an institution's athletics interest. Actions taken by athletic staff members, that cause a student-athlete to become a prospective student-athlete, include:

A) Providing a prospect an expense paid visit to a collegiate institution
B) Having an arranged in-person encounter with the student-athlete
C) Initiating or arranging telephone contact with a prospect or family member

CONTACT - (BYLAW 13.02.3)

A contact is any face-to-face encounter between a prospect or the prospect's parents, relatives or legal guardian(s) and an institutional staff member or athletics representative during which any dialogue occurs in excess of an exchange of a greeting. Any such face-to-face encounter that is prearranged or that takes place on the grounds of the prospect's educational institution or at the site of organized competition or practice involving the prospect or the prospect's high school, preparatory school, two-year college or all-star team shall be considered a contact, regardless of the conversation that occurs.

EVALUATION - (BYLAW 13.02.6)

A visit to a prospect's high school, preparatory school or two year college, or an evaluation at any site that occurs during a contact period shall constitute a contact for that particular week even if no contact is made with a prospect.

QUIET PERIOD - (BYLAW 13.02.4.3)

A period of time when it is permissible to make in-person recruiting contacts only on the member institution's campus. No in-person, off-campus recruiting contacts or evaluations may be made during the quiet period.

DEAD PERIOD - (BYLAW 13.02.4.4)

A period of time when it is not permissible to make in-person recruiting contacts or evaluations on or off the member institution's campus or to permit official or unofficial visits by prospects to the institution's campus. The provision of complimentary admissions to a prospect during a dead period is prohibited, except as provided for a prospect who visits an institution as part of a group. During such a dead period, a coaching staff member may not serve as a speaker at or attend a meeting or banquet at which prospects are in attendance, and may not visit the prospect's educational institutions. It remains permissible, however, for an institutional staff member to write or telephone prospects during such a dead period.

SPIRIT & TRADITION

THE NICKNAME →

The Liberty University athletic teams are nicknamed the Flames and have been since 1974, when the student body chose the Flames over several other choices. The decision was based upon the school's motto, "Knowledge Aflame."

Liberty began in 1971 as Lynchburg Baptist College with green and gold as the school's colors. In 1976, the name was changed to Liberty Baptist College and the colors to red, white, and blue. The school once again changed its name in 1985 to Liberty University. Throughout these changes, Flames remained as the nickname for Liberty's athletics teams.

In 1980, the eagle was designated as the new Flames mascot. An eagle was selected because of the patriotic symbolism and connection with the school name - Liberty. It was designed with the Flames' nickname in mind. Thus, the flaming torch clutched in the eagle's left talon was included with the original mascot renderings.

RAISING 71 →

Prior to the start of Liberty's home football contest against Tusculum on Sept. 1, 2007, Liberty ceremonially honored founder Dr. Jerry Falwell, who had passed away the previous May, by starting a new game day tradition. Members of the university police force raised a No. 71 flag underneath the Liberty Flames flag above the south end zone, just prior to the team taking the field, bringing the 14,925 fans in attendance to their feet.

The new tradition has become a permanent part of the Flames' pregame ceremonies at all home football games. A different person/group receives the honor of raising the flag at each game. In the short tenure of the tradition, such honorees to raise the No. 71 flag are Liberty Chancellor Jerry Falwell, Jr., Liberty co-founder Dr. Elmer Towns and former Liberty standout athlete, 14-time All-American and 2007 Cross Country NCAA National Champion, Josh McDougal.

LIBERTY'S NO. 1 FAN
DR. JERRY FALWELL – 1933-2007

From the moment Lynchburg Baptist College opened its doors in 1971, founder, Dr. Jerry Falwell, was the athletics department's No. 1 fan. He often said there were two tools that he intended to use to build a world-class Christian university – music and athletics – calling them the universal languages understood by all young people. Dr. Falwell rarely missed a home football or basketball game and it was not unusual to catch a glimpse of him sitting in the dugout at home baseball games or sitting on the bench at a Liberty soccer game.

In light of his unwavering support over the years, the Athletics Department ceremonially retired a No. 71 football jersey at Liberty University's annual homecoming game on Oct. 14, 2006 – bringing the Williams Stadium record-setting crowd of 15,631 to their feet with a roar of approval. Although he no longer roams the sidelines at Flames athletic events, Dr. Falwell's presence will never be forgotten. His legacy and charge to be a "Champion for Christ" will live on as long as Liberty student-athletes take to the field of competition.

CHANCELLOR FALWELL

JERRY FALWELL, JR.

Chancellor and President

Jerry Falwell, Jr. became chancellor and president of Liberty University in May, 2007 just after the passing of his father and Liberty's founder, Dr. Jerry Falwell, Sr. Since accepting the position, Falwell has garnered support and orchestrated substantial growth in enrollment and endowment funding at Liberty.

Falwell was born on Father's Day, June 17, 1962, in Lynchburg, Va. He attended Liberty Christian Academy (formerly known as Lynchburg Christian Academy) and Liberty University, graduating in 1984 with a Bachelor of Arts in Religious Studies. He obtained his Juris Doctor degree from the University of Virginia School of Law in 1987 and was licensed to practice law the same year.

Falwell married Becki Tilley of Chapel Hill, N.C. in 1987. They have three children: Jerry Falwell, III (Trey), Charles Wesley, and Caroline Grace, and have lived on their farm in Bedford County, Va. since 1987. The chancellor and Becki have made themselves accessible to students and worked to create a family atmosphere while those students are attending Liberty. The couple host about 1,000 students in their home every year for the Senior Picnic.

Falwell began practicing law in Lynchburg in 1987, and served as general counsel of Liberty and other related organizations from 1988-2007. During those years, Falwell also played a key role in the development of real estate in the vicinity of Liberty. His companies were successful in the recruitment of many national retail and restaurant chains to the area, greatly enriching the lifestyle of the university community.

Beginning in 1988, Falwell and his father worked closely together in the management and oversight of the university and all related ministries. Over time, Falwell assumed from his father, more of the responsibilities for the day-to-day management of the university.

Since Falwell became president of the university, enrollment has increased from 9,600 to more than 12,500 residential students and from 27,000 to more than 80,000 online students. Liberty's assets have increased substantially through contributions from alumni and other donors and as a result of the almost unprecedented enrollment growth. Liberty has remained among the most affordable of all private universities in the nation and continues to award over $100 million of institutional aid to its students each year.

Falwell is instrumental in the planning and construction of improvements on campus and has added new facilities and revitalized others, including the Tower Theater, a 640-seat performing arts theater; the renovation of Williams Stadium from 12,000 to 19,200 seats, including a 110-foot-tall press tower; the Thomas Indoor Soccer Center; Snowflex, North America's first year-round (artificial snow) ski facility; more than 60 miles of hiking, biking, and running trails for students on Liberty's 6,500-acre Liberty Mountain adjacent to campus; the Sherwin Cook Tennis Center; and more than 250,000 square feet of new classrooms and labs. Nearby, off-campus additions have included the Residential Annex, the 112-acre Ivy Lake in Bedford County, and the Sports Racket indoor tennis and racquetball center. The new 32,000-square-foot Hancock Welcome Center was completed in 2012 as was the new equestrian center on Liberty Mountain.

At the heart of this quarter of a billion dollar expansion to Liberty's facilities will be the Jerry Falwell Library. Falwell announced at Homecoming 2011 that the Board of Trustees had voted unanimously to name the state-of-the-art library in honor of Dr. Falwell. This will be the first building on campus to bear the founder's name.

Since Falwell became chancellor and president, Liberty has grown to become the largest private, nonprofit, four-year college in the country, the nation's seventh largest university, and the largest college in Virginia.

Despite all the growth and prosperity that Liberty has experienced since 2007, Falwell has insisted that Liberty remain true to its uncompromising mission of Training Champions for Christ. He builds on Liberty's courageous history while maintaining Liberty's unique character through its doctrinal statement, student conduct, and continued support for the nation's founding principles of limited government, individual liberties and free enterprise. His goal is for the university to fulfill his father's vision – to attain academic excellence and athletic prominence as a world-class university whose graduates will impact the world for the Gospel of Christ, fully equipped for their careers in every profession.

Falwell is a member of the Board of Directors and the Executive Committee of the Lynchburg Regional Chamber of Commerce and was named as the 2006 Business Person of the Year for Western Virginia by the Blue Ridge Business Journal. He serves on the board of the Bedford County Public Service Authority and was recently appointed by Virginia Governor Bob McDonnell to the Governor's Commission for Higher Education Investment and Innovation. Falwell enjoys playing tennis, hiking, and riding ATVs with his family.

ATHLETICS ADMINISTRATION

JEFF BARBER
Director of Athletics

Jeff Barber was named the Director of Athletics at Liberty University on Jan. 23, 2006, becoming the 10th Director of Athletics in the history of the university.

Liberty has charged Barber with the leadership of the athletics department and the building of a strong financial basis for the department which will guide Liberty Athletics into the ranks of the nation's elite NCAA Division I programs.

In Barber's six years at Liberty, he has been instrumental in guiding Liberty on a path to the next level of collegiate athletics. His efforts were recognized in June 2012, when he was named the FCS Under Armour AD of the Year for the Southeast Region.

Along those lines, it was announced at the May 2012 Commencement ceremony that Liberty has successfully completed an FBS Feasibility study and is seeking NCAA Division I Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) conference affiliation for its 20-team athletics program.

Barber has spearheaded facility improvement projects in every athletics venue, highlighted by Williams Stadium, the Vines Center, Worthington Stadium, the Hershey-Esbenshade Tennis Courts, the Cook Tennis Center, Osborne Stadium, the Luurtsema Center, the Liberty Field Hockey and Lacrosse Fields, and the Campus East Field House.

Moreover, several more projects are expected to be completed during the 2012-13 athletic year, highlighted by a new, 2,500-seat baseball stadium. Additionally, a new basketball practice facility is being constructed behind the Vines Center, with 1.5 courts for both the men's and women's programs, and the Matthes-Hopkins Track Complex is undergoing a complete overhaul.

In 2010, Barber oversaw a major expansion of Williams Stadium, increasing the complex's seating capacity from 12,000 to 19,200 seats. The project also included construction of a brand new five-story tower, equipped with a fully-functional press box, an 11,000-square foot Flames Club pavilion and 18 luxury suites.

Barber has also guided the Flames to success on the athletics field of competition, highlighted by an unprecedented five consecutive Big South Sasser Cup championships, bringing Liberty's total to 10.

The Flames' success has garnered national attention on several levels, earning Barber a four-year appointment to the NCAA's Leadership Council, beginning with the 2012-13 academic year.

Barber serves as the Big South Conference chair for the league's television development and baseball committees. He sits on the Big South committees for football, budgets, and track/cross country, while he also took part in the Big South Conference 25th Anniversary celebration committee.

Barber is a member of NACDA and NAAD and served on the Board of Directors for the Child Evangelism Fellowship for Central Virginia (past member), and also on the Board of Directors for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Barber brought a wealth of experience in the areas of athletic fundraising and administration to Liberty University, including 25 previous years in the athletic industry.

Barber came to Liberty after spending 11 years at South Carolina, including his last three years as Senior Associate Athletic Director for Development/ Gamecock Club Executive Director.

Barber served on the senior management team at South Carolina for nine years, helping raise more than $14 million annually. Barber supervised the solicitation and receipt of over $85 million during his tenure at South Carolina, setting records each year in annual gifts to the Gamecock Club, which was at 16,500 members when he finished.

Prior to his days at South Carolina, Barber served five years at Furman in Greenville, S.C., starting as Executive Director of the Paladin Club in 1991, before being promoted to Senior Associate Athletic Director for External Affairs in 1994.

Barber graduated cum laude from East Carolina in 1981 with a Bachelor of Science in Health, Physical Education, and Recreation. In 1997, he continued his education with a degree from the Sports Management Institute, graduating as class spokesman.

Barber, a native of Greenville, N.C., is married to the former Donna Dacus and the couple has three children – Katie (17), Lindsay (15), and Jay (14).

2012-13 OUTLOOK

40 Devon Brown
Three-Time First Team All-Big South

2012-13 OUTLOOK

When the opening tip goes up in the air for Liberty's 2012-13 women's basketball season opener at Duquesne on Nov. 9, Lady Flames Head Coach Carey Green will not only be thinking about his team's formidable opponent in that night's game, but also looking four months ahead and four states to the south.

The 2013 Big South Women's Basketball Championship title game will be played almost exactly four months after the Duquesne tilt, on March 10 in Conway, S.C., and Green hopes his team will be playing for its 15th championship in the last 17 years that day.

"We're going to begin the season with the end in mind, understanding that there will be some huge challenges as we develop individual skills, team concepts, and chemistry," explained Green, who is entering his 14th season as Liberty's head coach.

Green knows that his team will be challenged to remain atop the Big South Conference and fashioned a daunting early-season schedule accordingly. The Lady Flames will only play one home game during an imposing opening five weeks, which feature contests at the last two NCAA Division I national champions (Texas A&M and Baylor), an appearance in the Preseason WNIT, a game at 2012 Postseason WNIT runner-up James Madison and the start of Big South Conference play at Radford.

"With some early on-the-road competition such as the Preseason WNIT, Texas A&M and Baylor, we will have the opportunity to develop and grow," Green noted.

Although Liberty boasts some experience on its 2012-13 team, with three returning starters and five total seniors, half of the players on its 16-person roster did not see the court for the Lady Flames a year ago. Four players received redshirts, while four new freshmen have been added to the mix.

Devon Brown, a 5-10 redshirt senior wing player, highlights Liberty's returners. She is a three-time first team All-Big South honoree and already ranks sixth in program history with 1,441 career points.

The Lady Flames' other two returning starters include the Big South Conference's 10th-leading rebounder in 2011-12 (6-3 redshirt senior post Tolu Omotola) and the 2012 VaSID State Rookie of the Year (5-7 sophomore point guard Reagan Miller).

Omotola is one of five Lady Flames who stand 6-2 or taller, while Brown has corralled 596 career rebounds. As a result, rebounding is expected to be a team strength once again in 2012-13, despite the graduation of the program's all-time leading rebounder, Avery Warley. A year ago, Liberty topped the nation in rebound margin at +15.6.

The Lady Flames should also benefit from significantly more depth in the backcourt this season than the squad enjoyed in 2011-12. Veteran sharpshooter Brittany Campbell and 2010-11 starting point guard Emily Frazier both return from redshirt seasons, while all four incoming freshmen are perimeter players.

As always, one of the team's greatest challenges will be meshing the veteran players with the newcomers and developing strong team chemistry along the way.

"We want to see solid character developed as we go through this process," stated Green. "Unfortunately, this does not happen overnight. It takes experience and a process to achieve success."

A position-by-position preview of the 2012-13 Lady Flames follows.

POINT GUARDS

Incumbent point guard Emily Frazier suffered a season-ending injury less than two weeks before the 2011-12 season opener, leaving then-freshman Reagan Miller as Liberty's only true point guard on the roster. Thus, Miller was forced to carry a heavy work load, playing a school-record 1,086 minutes (average of 32.9/game) on the season. Miller responded to the unexpected challenge admirably, as Green observed, "Reagan experienced testing by fire last season and showed the heart of a champion."

This time around, Miller should have considerably more company at the floor general spot, in the form of fellow Texans Frazier and Sadalia Ellis, a freshman. All three players bring different skill sets to the position and are expected to battle for playing time.

Now a redshirt sophomore, Frazier was projected as Liberty's starting point guard last season, after making 30 starts as a freshman. She earned a spot on the 2011 Big South All-Freshman team, after dishing out a team-high 85 assists and shooting a team-best 41.7 percent from three-point range.

"It's great to have Emily back and healthy," Green said. "She displays a great basketball IQ and the ability to score from three-point range while seeing the floor well and distributing the ball. She will be an invaluable part of our team because of her experienced presence on the floor."

Miller earned Big South All-Freshman team accolades of her own last season, thanks to a team-high 131 assists and 56 three-pointers. She stepped up in some of the Lady Flames' biggest games, including a 15-point, eight-assist effort in the Big South Championship title contest against High Point.

"Reagan returns after an exceptional freshman year," observed Green. "She has the ability to score from deep range while having the vision to distribute the ball to both the post and perimeter. Last year's experience, along with her leadership, will be important to the team's success this year."

Ellis comes to Liberty after helping Cypress Falls High School go 103-10 during her final three seasons with the team. The 5-6 point guard was named District 17-5A Defensive Player of the Year as a senior, while notching 10.0 ppg, 6.8 apg, 5.0 spg, 3.1 rpg and 0.9 bpg. She also displayed her athletic ability in track and field, high jumping 5-7 and long jumping 18-8.

Reagan Miller

"Sadalia brings high energy and understanding of team concepts while quarterbacking at the point guard position," explained Green. "The daughter of a coach, she understands the game very well. Sadalia is capable of getting to the rim in an exceptional way and finishing, as well as scoring from three-point range. We expect her to continue to develop into an impact player who will provide a very bright future for our team."

The most recent addition to the team, Julia Winn will also add depth at the point guard spot. Winn, who is the shortest player on the roster at 5-4, helped Littleton High School win the New Hampshire state title as a senior. She averaged 13.4 ppg a year ago and became just the fourth female in school history to tally 1,000 career points.

"Julia comes from a tremendously strong high school program and is best characterized as being a champion," offered Green. "She is a cerebral player who understands team concepts and strategies very well. Julia is also exceptional at making difficult mid-range jumpers."

WINGS

The wings are the most experienced group of players on Liberty's 2012-13 roster, including four of the team's five seniors (Devon Brown, LaKendra Washington, Brittany Campbell and Terika Lunsford). Brown has made 85 starts during her career, while competition should be fierce to replace Danika Dale at the other wing spot.

Brown has already enjoyed a sensational career with the Lady Flames, playing a key role on two Big South Championship-winning teams. She will now look to finish her final season in style, coming off of a junior campaign which saw the Waynesboro, Va., native rank second in the Big South in free throw percentage (.790), fourth in scoring (16.9 ppg), sixth in rebounding (7.0 rpg), and ninth in steals (2.0 spg).

"Devon is coming back into her senior year healthier than ever," Green observed. "She is our primary offensive threat, who can explode as a scorer at any time. She displays an instinctive ability to rebound, making her one of the best on our team. Devon leads the team with passion and intensity that cannot be surpassed."

Washington, a 5-8 guard from Milwaukee, looks for a healthier senior campaign after missing five games due to injury in 2011-12. When healthy, she led Liberty's reserves with a career-high 6.7 ppg while topping the team in three-point field goal percentage (.406) and ranking third in steals (45). Washington stepped up her play for a short-handed squad at the 2011 Vanderbilt Thanksgiving Tournament, earning all-tournament team recognition.

"LaKendra is coming back healthier than last year," said Green. "She provides excellent perimeter shooting from three-point range. She is also an active thief on defense, which generates easy offensive opportunities. Her senior exploits will have a definite impact on the success of our program."

A local product from the Lynchburg area, Campbell also hopes to be able to play a complete season in 2012-13. She has been limited to 30 appearances during her first four years with the team, but provides vocal leadership and a deft shooting touch when healthy.

"Brittany's presence this year will bring a definite outside shooting presence to our team," asserted Green. "She has a high basketball IQ and has worked extremely hard to become a major contributor to our success. Brittany is a natural leader who displays the heart of a champion."

Devon Brown

LaKendra Washington

A 5-9 senior from Suffolk, Va., Lunsford has taken an unusual journey thus far in her collegiate career. She started out on Albany's women's basketball team, but transferred to Liberty before playing a game for the Great Danes. After making the 2010-11 Lady Flames roster as a walk-on, Lunsford earned the first four starts of her career a season later. Now, she is aiming to take an expanded role on this year's squad.

"Terika boasts exceptional athletic ability, which combined with her skills, could make her a major surprise contributor this season," Green observed. "She has the ability to turn the game and decide the final outcome. Terika also has the ability to score from three-point range, while her length makes her one of the best defenders on the team."

Another player who originally joined the team as a walk-on, 5-7 Ellee Rollins is back for her sophomore season. Green expects her top on-court contributions to come in the form of perimeter shooting and defense.

"Ellee continues to develop as a Division I basketball player," Green stated. "She has a great work ethic and has become an unseen leader on our team. Ellee exhibits the heart of a lion."

Jessi Edmonds and Jaymee Fisher-Davis, freshmen who both hail from North Carolina, will provide the Lady Flames with two new options on the wing. A part of back-to-back state championship teams at Carolina Day School, the 5-11 Edmonds scored over 1,000 points including a school-record 43 tallies in a single game.

"Jessi brings a pedigree of winning tradition," said Green. "She is a balanced offensive threat, with the ability to score both inside and from beyond the three-point arc. Jessi possesses an exceptionally high basketball IQ and is one of the best passers on our team."

Fisher-Davis also exhibited impressive scoring ability at Butler High School in the Charlotte area. As a senior, she averaged 19.6 ppg and knocked down 80 three-pointers, while shooting 86 percent from the free throw line.

"Jaymee is a combo guard with deep three-point shooting range," Green explained. "She comes to Liberty to provide scoring punch from the perimeter. Jaymee will surprise many people with her determination and tenacity."

POSTS

Tolu Omotola will anchor the Lady Flames' sizable quintet of post players, after making 64 starts during her two previous seasons on the team. Meanwhile, multiple players will attempt to fill the large shoes left by the departed Avery Warley. Junior Jasmine Gardner and sophomore Catherine Kearney both showed that they could be up to the task, combining for nine points, nine rebounds and two blocked shots while Warley was mired in foul trouble during the 2012 Big South Championship title game.

2012-13 OUTLOOK

One of four Texas natives on the Liberty roster, Omotola averaged 8.0 ppg and 6.6 rpg last season. She boosted her stats against conference opponents, posting 9.9 ppg in Big South play and pulling down 8.3 rpg at the Big South Championship.

"Tolu displays scoring punch inside through power play, yet also has exceptional shooting touch out to three-point range and can stretch defenses," Green noted. "We look to her to be one of our leading rebounders this year. Tolu is a powerful force inside and must be reckoned with."

Gardner, who stands 6-2, more than doubled her scoring average from her freshman season in 2011-12 and improved her field goal percentage to .510. As previously mentioned, the Volunteer State native contributed four points and four rebounds in nine key second-half minutes during the Big South Championship title contest.

"Jasmine is coming off of a greatly improved sophomore year," Green offered. "She continues to develop and improve, providing exceptional power and speed in the post. She finished the season playing her best basketball, especially in tournament play. With Jasmine's effort and hustle, she can change the outcome of a game."

The Lady Flames' tallest player at 6-6, Kearney was Liberty's leading bench player in both rebounds (3.8 rpg) and blocked shots (0.8 bpg) as a freshman. She played well in the Lady Flames' three matchups with Big South runner-up High Point, averaging 9.3 ppg against the Panthers.

"Catherine is returning from a freshman season which included flashes of exceptional play," noted Green. "We look for continued development and improvement as she becomes a consistent, solid inside presence. Catherine is athletic and is the best shot blocker on our team."

Rounding out the Lady Flames' roster, Katelyn Adams and Ashley Rininger both stand 6-4 or taller and were each redshirted during their first year on Liberty Mountain. During that year, the redshirt freshman duo was able to benefit from battling against strong post players like Warley and Omotola every day in practice.

"Katelyn has a high basketball IQ and is perhaps one of our best passing post players," Green offered. "We have high expectations for her as she continues to develop. She has great shooting touch out to three-point range. Katelyn's work ethic, improvement and development have been the best on the team."

"Ashley continues to develop and provide an explosive scoring punch," added Green about the Ohio native. "She can score inside and out and will provide needed rebounding and defense. As Ashley matures and develops, our future post play looks bright."

SCHEDULE

The Lady Flames will tip off the 2012-13 season at Duquesne on Nov. 9, in the opening round of the Preseason WNIT. Liberty will play either three or four contests, all away from home, as part of its first appearance in the 16-team tournament since 2008.

After the Preseason WNIT concludes, the Lady Flames will head to the Lone Star State for the week of Thanksgiving, in a homecoming of sorts for Liberty's four Texas natives on the roster. Liberty will play at 2011 NCAA national champion Texas A&M on Nov. 20, before traveling to reigning national champion Baylor three days later.

With some difficult matchups in their rear-view mirror, the Lady Flames will be glad to return to Lynchburg for their home opener, Nov. 27 against UNC Greensboro.

For the second year in a row, Liberty will open its 18-game Big South Conference schedule at the Dedmon Center against Radford. The Dec. 1 matchup will mark the earliest the Lady Flames have ever played a conference game in their 22 seasons as a conference member.

On Dec. 4, Liberty will play at James Madison in its second of six scheduled regular-season matchups against a 2012 Postseason WNIT participant. The Dukes advanced all the way to the WNIT title game a year ago, before losing at Oklahoma State.

Liberty will then begin its longest homestand of the season, a stretch of four games in 10 days, against another 2012 WNIT qualifier in UNC Wilmington on Dec. 8. The Lady Flames' first-ever matchup against the Seahawks will precede home tilts against Bluefield State (Dec. 13), North Carolina A&T (Dec. 15), and Virginia Union (Dec. 17).

The Lady Flames' final non-conference game will take the team to Virginia Commonwealth University on Dec. 20. The new Atlantic-10 member advanced to the WNIT's round of 16 in 2011-12.

After a break for Christmas, Liberty resumes its Big South slate Dec. 29 at Winthrop, where the Lady Flames will attempt to avenge one of their two conference losses from the 2011-12 campaign.

With an 18-game unbalanced conference schedule in place this season, Liberty will play Presbyterian College and Gardner-Webb once each and face every other conference squad twice during the regular season. Big South women's basketball games will be played on Thursdays and Saturdays, beginning Jan. 3.

The Lady Flames' lone matchup with the Blue Hose will be Liberty's Big South home opener on Jan. 3. Meanwhile, Liberty's only tilt against Gardner-Webb will come Feb. 23 in Boiling Springs, N.C.

Liberty will get its first look at Coastal Carolina's new HTC Center when the Lady Flames face the Chanticleers there on Jan. 12. The facility will host the Big South Men's and Women's Basketball Championships for the next three years.

Speaking of the Big South Championship, Liberty and High Point will rematch the 2012 title game twice, including Jan. 17 at the Vines Center and Feb. 2 on the Panthers' home court at the Millis Center.

Liberty's 29th all-time meeting with Longwood, set for Jan. 26 at the Vines Center, will be the teams' first matchup as Big South Conference foes. The Lancers are joining the Big South in all sports during the 2012-13 athletic year.

The Lady Flames will close out the regular-season slate by playing four of their last six games at home against Big South foes, including the March 2 regular-season finale against Charleston Southern. Liberty is 36-3 in home Big South games during the last five seasons.

The 2013 Big South Men's and Women's Basketball Championships will be contested March 5-10 at The HTC Center in Conway, S.C. The women's tournament, which will include all 11 conference teams, begins with three first-round games on March 6.

The trio of first-round winners and the tournament's top five seeded teams will advance to the quarterfinal round on March 8. The semifinals will follow on March 9, and the 2013 Big South women's basketball champion will be crowned on March 10.

The Big South champion will then have two weeks off before the NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Championship begins on March 23-24, with first-round contests.

COACHING STAFF

Head Coach 14TH SEASON
CAREY GREEN

Liberty Head Women's Basketball Coach Carey Green has instilled quite a winning tradition during his tenure with the Lady Flames. His teams have averaged nearly 24 victories per year, while becoming a regular fixture in the NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Championship.

Green has accumulated a 310-103 record in 13 seasons on the Liberty bench, good for a winning percentage of .751. He currently ranks 10th among active NCAA Division I women's basketball coaches in winning percentage, ahead of renowned coaches like Rutgers' C. Vivian Stringer, North Carolina's Sylvia Hatchell, and Georgia's Andy Landers.

More importantly, Liberty has won the Big South Tournament title and advanced to the NCAA Tournament 11 times with Green as head coach. Liberty has totaled 23 or more victories during 10 of those years, including the 2004-05 season, which saw the Lady Flames reach the "Sweet 16" for the first time in program history.

Green has actually been to the postseason on 24 occasions as a women's basketball coach, a span which includes a dozen years as an assistant coach at Clemson. In all but two of the 24 appearances, he has experienced the NCAA Tournament.

Green extended his string of postseason appearances in 2011-12 by guiding the Lady Flames back to the NCAA Tournament. Liberty also notched its 11th 20-win season in his 13 years at the helm, finishing at 24-9.

Rebounding has always been a trademark of Green-coached teams, and the 2011-12 Lady Flames were arguably the best rebounding team he has ever directed. Liberty outrebounded opponents by an average of 15.6 caroms per game, leading the nation in the category for the fourth time and setting a new program and Big South Conference record.

The Lady Flames have now been listed among the nation's top five teams in rebounding margin for 10 straight years. Liberty previously led the nation in the category in 2003-04, 2004-05, and 2009-10.

Avery Warley spearheaded the Lady Flames' efforts on the glass in 2011-12, wrapping up her career as the leading rebounder in Liberty and Big South Conference history with 1,282 rebounds. She then became Liberty's third WNBA player, making the Phoenix Mercury's roster as an undrafted free agent.

In 2008-09, Green earned his unprecedented fifth Big South Coach of the Year award, after guiding a team decimated by ACL injuries to a 24-9 record and another Big South title.

CAREY GREEN

Carey & Denise Green with (L-R) grandsons Joshua David and Nathan Jason, daughter Angie, son-in-law Jason, and son Brian.

At season's end, Green saw his second player selected in the WNBA Draft, as Megan Frazee was taken in the second round by the San Antonio Silver Stars. She then played part of her rookie season alongside 2005 Liberty alum Katie (Feenstra) Mattera in San Antonio.

In 2007-08, Green led the Lady Flames to one of the best seasons in program history. Liberty tied a school record for victories, finishing the year 28-4. Along the way, the Lady Flames captured three tournament titles—the National City Xavier Invitational, the UNLV Lady Rebel Christmas Classic and the Big South Championship.

The 2005-06 season represented one of the best coaching jobs of Green's career. The Lady Flames had lost the top four scorers from the previous year's "Sweet 16" squad to graduation. Moreover, freshman Megan Frazee averaged 18.5 points and 9.8 rebounds per game through the first 14 games of her collegiate career, only to be lost for the remainder of the season due to injury. Yet, Liberty was still able to win 25 games, capture its 10th straight Big South title and earn its 10th consecutive NCAA Tournament berth.

Green's efforts were recognized by both the Big South Conference and the Virginia Sports Information Directors Association (VaSID). Both groups named Green as their women's basketball coach of the year at season's end. It marked Green's second straight selection as VaSID Coach of the Year.

A key late-season conference victory over High Point in 2006 made Green the winningest coach in Big South Conference history. He is also Liberty's career wins leader.

The 2004-05 year was a special one on Liberty Mountain, for many reasons. A senior-laden Lady Flames team recorded upset wins over No. 4 seed Penn State (78-70) and No. 5 seed DePaul (88-79) in the first two rounds of the NCAA Tournament, becoming just the second team ever to advance to the "Sweet 16" as a No. 13 seed. The Lady Flames ended the season with their highest national ranking to date, 21st (USA Today/ESPN).

Even with all his accolades, Green is not yet satisfied. The native of Louisville, Tenn., located just outside of Knoxville, knows there's work yet to be done with the Lady Flames.

"We have some tremendous challenges ahead of us and I believe the team will be up to those challenges," Green said. "I am pleased with the direction and progress of our program but of course, I, as well as the team, have higher aspirations, goals and expectations."

Green's track record shows he has the ability to meet those challenges. The Lady Flames have recorded two wins over UNLV, Virginia, and West Virginia and solo victories over No. 19 DePaul, No. 17 Kansas State, No. 25 Penn State, Virginia Tech, and Wake Forest during Green's tenure. The upset victory over No. 25 Virginia in 2003 marked Liberty's first win over a Top 25 team.

His record against conference foes is equally impressive. He led the Lady Flames on a Big South record 57-game winning streak (Jan. 24, 2002 through Feb. 21, 2005) and currently owns a .907 (206-21) winning percentage against conference teams. Green has marched through conference play with one or fewer setbacks seven times, while guiding the Lady Flames to two undefeated conference seasons.

The Lady Flames have not only gotten the job done on the hardwood under Green's tutelage, but have also excelled in the classroom. Liberty has ranked in the top 15 nationally for team GPA four times during Green's 13 seasons at the helm. Liberty was 13th during his first season (1999-2000), tied for 14th in 2005-06, a program-best seventh in 2006-07 and 14th in 2007-08.

When Green came to Liberty, he was faced with a daunting task in his first year as a Division I head coach. Taking over the reins of a program with three-consecutive conference crowns in its trophy case, Green's role became the hunted rather than the hunter. Beginning with his arrival on June 8, 1999, Green took on the role as the favorite and accomplished what no Big South Conference school had ever done, taking Liberty to its fourth consecutive NCAA Tournament.

Green arrived at Liberty after spending 12 years as an assistant at Clemson. While with the Tigers, Green participated in 11 NCAA Tournaments, making four "Sweet 16" appearances and one trip to the Elite Eight, in 1991.

The Tigers were ranked in the Top 25 during 10 of his 12 years and averaged 22 wins per season. Green had an immediate impact in his first season, as he helped guide Clemson to the ACC's best turnaround in league history. The Tigers posted a 21-7 record in 1988 after a 7-21 record the previous season.

Clemson made five appearances in the ACC Tournament championship game with Green's assistance, winning the title during the 1995-96 and 1998-99 seasons. He helped coach 15 all-conference players, four Kodak All-District performers and one Kodak All-American. Clemson also recorded 45 wins over Top 25 programs during the 12 seasons Green was stationed at "Death Valley."

Prior to his days at Clemson, Green was the head men's and women's basketball coach at Jackson State Community College in Jackson, Tenn., for three seasons. In 1986, he was named the Tennessee Junior College Athletic Association Coach of the Year.

From 1982 to 1984, Green was the head women's basketball coach at Rockwood High School after serving as the head men's basketball coach at Coalfield High School the previous season. Green got his coaching start as assistant men's and women's basketball coach at Roane State Community College in Harriman, Tenn., from 1979 to 1981.

Green had the opportunity to coach with his father looking directly over his shoulder during the Lady Flames' win over Lafayette on Nov. 20, 2010.

"The reason we are here at Liberty is to develop not only a winning tradition at the national level, but champions in all areas of life," Green remarked. "I am so excited to observe our players' development and achievements. I am thrilled our team's GPA regularly ranks among the nation's leaders. This is evidence of our goal to have a 'whole program,' neglecting no area of our players' development.

"My personal goal is a '50-year program,' one that develops women of excellence who impact the world for the next 50 years," continued Green. "It's exciting because our entire Liberty family assists me with that same goal. The university is growing, as is our basketball program, and I am excited to be here during this growth period.

"I hope to fulfill the dream and the vision that both Dr. Falwell and our current administration have shared with me," Green summarized. "They want our university to be THE Division I NCAA Christian university everyone looks toward in the United States. In my opinion, that means we need to be a Top 20 team. In order to do that, I believe we need to continue to find the many quality student-athletes who are out there playing and bring them to our campus. Once they visit our campus, they will experience the excitement and enthusiasm here at Liberty University."

Green leaves little doubt that he, his staff and the players will be striving for excellence on and off the basketball court.

He and his wife, Denise, reside in the Lynchburg area and have two children, Angie and Brian. Angie is married to Jason Grunkemeyer, the athletic director at Talawanda High School, and the couple has two children, Joshua David, who will turn five during the season, and Nathan Jason, who will celebrate his third birthday this season. Brian is currently working as an engineer at Fluor Corporation, in Greenville, S.C.

Liberty ASSISTANT COACHES

ALEXIS SHERARD
Assistant Coach

Alexis Sherard is in his sixth season as an assistant coach on the Lady Flames' coaching staff. He serves as the team's recruiting coordinator and assists with game strategies and player development.

Sherard has earned Big South Championship rings during four of his first five years with the Lady Flames. Liberty has averaged 25 wins per season over the past five years, making four NCAA Tournament appearances and one trip to the Postseason WNIT Tournament.

Sherard, who coaches the Lady Flames' post players, oversaw the development of 2012 graduate Avery Warley. She graduated as the leading rebounder in Liberty and Big South Conference history and then began a WNBA career with the Phoenix Mercury in 2012.

Alexis and Evangeline Sherard and (L-R) Elijah, Jamea, Jai, and Iyana

Sherard joined the Lady Flames' staff after spending the 2005-06 and 2006-07 seasons working as an assistant for the Liberty men's basketball team. He also served as the Flames' director of recruiting and aided in post player development.

"Being part of Coach Green's program has been a great experience," stated Sherard. "The Lady Flames and Liberty University truly train Champions for Christ. I'm blessed to be part of this winning tradition."

Sherard came to Liberty after six years of service on Pete Gillen's men's basketball staff at Virginia. Sherard joined the Cavaliers' program in 1999 as the director of basketball operations, serving in this capacity from 1999 to 2002, as well as the 2003-04 season.

During the 2002-03 and 2004-05 seasons, Sherard served as an assistant coach, where he aided in Virginia's recruiting efforts, while assisting in practice planning, game preparation, bench coaching and opponent scouting. Sherard helped guide the Cavaliers to the NCAA Tournament in 2001, as Virginia finished the season with a 20-9 record and was ranked as high as No. 6 in the country. He was also a part of two Cavalier squads which qualified for the NIT Tournament (2000 and 2002). The 2002 squad finished fourth in the event.

Sherard got his coaching career started at Saint Michael's College in Colchester, Vt., where he served as an assistant coach from 1993 to 1995. He assisted the head coach in practice preparation, skill instruction and recruiting. During the 1995-96 campaign, Sherard served as the head boys varsity basketball coach and dean of admissions at Lakewood Prep School in Howell, N.J., where he led his team to a 15-7 record and the semifinals of the playoffs.

From 1996-98, Sherard was the administrative assistant at Providence, where he helped guide the Friars to the NIT in 1998 with an 18-12 record and to the "Elite Eight" round of the 1997 NCAA Tournament, as Providence finished the season with a 24-12 overall record.

Prior to joining the staff at Virginia, Sherard served as the assistant coach at Binghamton during the 1998-99 season and was responsible for the Bearcats' recruiting efforts throughout the East Coast.

"Alexis quickly surpassed our expectations and established himself as an outstanding addition to our staff," Green exclaimed. "He is a great recruiter because he really cares about the players. He also possesses a thorough knowledge of the game of basketball and is a tremendous asset in the development of game strategies. Furthermore, we are most excited about Alexis' character and values."

Sherard graduated with a bachelor's degree in mathematics and education from Saint Michael's in 1993. A member of the Purple Knights basketball team, he was selected to the Northeast 10 Conference All-Defensive team during his junior and senior seasons.

Sherard, who received his master's degree in guidance from Providence in 1998, is a native of Lakewood, N.J., and is married to the former Evangeline Maupin. The couple has four children – Jamea (21), Jai (17), Iyana (7) and Elijah (6).

HEATHER STEPHENS
Assistant Coach

The 2012-13 campaign will be Heather Stephens' 10th season as an assistant coach on the Lady Flames' basketball coaching staff. The longest-tenured assistant coach in program history, her responsibilities include on-the-court player development, academics, equipment coordination and recruiting. Stephens also assists with scouting and game preparation for perimeter play.

In her role as academic coordinator, Stephens has helped Liberty rank among the country's top 14 women's basketball teams in grade-point average on three occasions. In 2006-07, the Lady Flames recorded a 3.508 team GPA, ranking No. 7 nationally. Stephens has also seen a pair of student-athletes, Megan Frazee and Kristal Tharp, become CoSIDA Academic All-Americans during her time with the Lady Flames. During the 2008-09 season, Frazee became the Lady Flames' first-ever first team Academic All-American.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Jesse & Heather Stephens with Matthew David

Liberty has flourished on the court as well, during Stephens' first nine seasons on staff. The Lady Flames have gone 220-71 during the span, with seven Big South Championships to their credit and a NCAA "Sweet 16" appearance in 2005.

Stephens was recognized by CollegeInsider.com in November 2011, when she was ranked No. 7 on the website's list of the Top 25 Mid-Major Women's College Basketball Assistants.

Prior to arriving at Liberty, Stephens was a member of the Wyoming Cowgirl women's basketball program. As a senior at Wyoming, Stephens played for the Cowgirl squad which defeated Montana in the first round of the Women's National Invitation Tournament (WNIT). The team achieved the second-highest win total in program history and had the highest grade-point average among all Division I schools.

Stephens received her bachelor's degree in secondary education with an emphasis in chemistry from Wyoming in 2003 and is pursuing a master's degree in human services from Liberty.

"As each new season begins, the challenge becomes to allow God to write the story without focusing on the past or hypothetical futures," Stephens stated. "We have a goal in mind, a place we want to be at the end; but I have learned through watching my son grow that although the end is important, it should never blind you to the daily miracles God chooses to work. This team has a special story to share and it is my prayer that the players, coaches and all who are involved with our program will enjoy watching God's story for this team unfold!"

"Heather brings an enthusiasm and excitement from a player's perspective to the coaching ranks," Head Coach Carey Green said. "She's been a student of the game, which provides valuable insight for our players. Heather has been a tremendous asset in so many areas, which has established a standard of excellence in our program. I firmly believe Heather's development and contributions as a coach have been major keys to the success of our program."

Stephens, who hails from Monument, Colo., is married to Jesse Stephens. The couple currently lives in the Lynchburg area with their two dogs, Thunder and Nala. They gave birth to their first child, Matthew David, in January 2011.

ANDREA "ANDY" BLOODWORTH
Assistant Coach

Andrea "Andy" Bloodworth begins her sixth year as an assistant on the Liberty women's basketball coaching staff. Her responsibilities with the Lady Flames include recruiting, development of the team's perimeter players, scouting and assisting with the organization of summer basketball camps.

Liberty has claimed Big South titles during four of Bloodworth's first five seasons on Liberty Mountain, tallying a 125-39 record in the process.

"It has been a privilege to be a member of the Lady Flames coaching staff the last five years," stated Bloodworth. "We have a tremendous group of young women who are committed to carrying on the tradition of excellence that has been established. Coach Green is a proven winner and it's a blessing to work with such strong role models who live out their faith daily. I'm eager to face the challenges and celebrate the triumphs God has planned for us this year."

Bloodworth previously served as recruiting coordinator for the Valparaiso women's basketball team for two seasons (2005-06 and 2006-07), working with the Crusaders' perimeter players and assisting with scouting. The team went 36-24 during her two seasons as part of the coaching staff, including a 20-win season in 2006-07. Six Crusaders earned All-Mid-Continent Conference recognition during those two seasons.

Prior to her time at Valparaiso, Bloodworth worked for three years on the Gannon women's basketball coaching staff. As an assistant coach, she served as the Golden Knights' recruiting coordinator. Bloodworth also helped develop guard play, coordinated team travel arrangements and assisted with scouting. She was the staff's academic monitor and the team camp coordinator for a squad which won 37 games during her final two seasons and reached the 2005 Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference title game.

Bloodworth spent the 2000-01 and 2001-02 campaigns as an assistant coach and physical education instructor at Armstrong Atlantic State, under Head Coach Roger Hodge, himself a Liberty assistant coach from 1997-2000. She helped recruit a class of players which posted a 27-4 record in 2002-03, marking the best single-season turnaround in the NCAA that season (15 games) and qualifying for the postseason for the first time in school history.

Bloodworth's résumé also contains a stint as an assistant coach for an Athletes in Action Fall Tour team which played exhibition games around the Midwest in 1999. She was additionally an assistant for the Lake Michigan Community College women's basketball team which placed sixth at the 2000 NJCAA Division II national championships.

Bloodworth got her start in college coaching as an assistant for the 1998-99 Ferris State women's basketball team. The team's head coach was her sister, Tracey Dorow, who is now the head women's basketball coach at Valparaiso.

Her father, Rick Bloodworth, retired in 2006 from a long coaching career, which included 31 years as the head girls' basketball coach at St. Joseph High School in Michigan and 19 years as the head women's basketball coach at Lake Michigan College.

Bloodworth's playing career at Calvin College included a pair of trips to the NCAA Division III regional tournament. She earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in physical education from Calvin in 1998.

"Andy came to Liberty from a deep-rooted basketball family background, which includes a father and older sister who are both coaches and have had a tremendous amount of influence in shaping her love for the game," remarked Head Coach Carey Green. "Her energy and enthusiasm made an immediate positive impact on our program. She has established herself as an excellent role model by the caring love she has exhibited to the players."

Bloodworth became an aunt for the first time when Lainie Joy Dorow was born in February 2009 and now has a nephew, Baxter, as well. She resides in Lynchburg with her dog, Honey.

SARAH BORUTA
Director of Operations

Sarah Boruta is in her second season on the Liberty women's basketball staff as director of operations. In that role, she is responsible for the daily operations of the program, including the logistics of game-day management, coordination of managers' duties, team travel arrangements, and scheduling of games.

Boruta spearheads the Lady Flames' social media efforts on Facebook and Twitter. She also oversees some of the team's outreach activities, including community service events, pregame clinics, and summer camps.

Before arriving at Liberty, Boruta spent three years (2008-09 through 2009-11) at Stanford, where she was promoted from video intern to director of basketball communication and video. She also previously spent three years (2005-06 through 2007-08) as the director of women's basketball operations at Ferris State.

"I came to Liberty seeking for a new opportunity and challenge," stated Boruta. "I enjoy working for a program and campus that shares my Christian beliefs."

"We are excited to have someone with such character as Sarah who is driven to honor God with the skills and talents she has been given," added Green. "She has established herself as an excellent worker, serving those around her in an exceptional way."

Boruta served in many different roles at Stanford, including coordinating team travel and video exchange. She also spearheaded the team's social media efforts, as well as the Cardinal's game-day promotions and group events. While Boruta was at Stanford, the Cardinal saw an 18 percent increase in overall attendance and a 340 percent increase in student attendance.

At Ferris State, Boruta organized the Bulldogs' summer camps and clinics, while coordinating video exchange. She also designed marketing and promotional materials for the team.

In 2008, Williams was named a Master Strength and Conditioning Coach by the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches association (CSCCa). He is now one of 102 Master Strength and Conditioning Coaches in the world.

During the 1992-93 school year, Williams was one of five finalists nominated for strength coach of the year. This included strength coaches from the professional sports ranks, along with colleagues at the collegiate level.

"I'm thankful to have such a concerned and qualified strength and conditioning coach," noted Head Women's Basketball Coach Carey Green. "He is simply the best, and his credentials of being a Master Strength and Conditioning Coach prove it. He really cares about our players and puts his heart into working with them."

Prior to accepting his current position at Liberty, Williams served three years as the head strength coach at Texas A&M. He also spent a year as an assistant strength coach at Alabama.

Before entering the strength and conditioning profession, Williams spent six years as a teacher and coach. He coached two years at Liberty High School in Bedford, Va., and spent four seasons at Timberlake Christian School in Lynchburg, Va.

Williams earned Associated Press Little All-America honors while playing collegiately at Fairmont State College in Fairmont, W.Va. He played both offensive and defensive line and was a two-year co-captain at Fairmont State, who was NAIA National Champions in 1967. In 2003, the school honored Williams by inducting him into the Fairmont State College Athletic Department Hall of Fame.

Williams also was an All-West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference selection. He played high school football at South Charleston High School in South Charleston, W.Va., where he lettered all four years.

Williams graduated from Fairmont State in 1968 with a degree in biology and physical education. He also holds a master's degree from Alabama in physical education.

BIG SOUTH CONFERENCE

2012 Big South All-Freshman Team

BIG SOUTH CONFERENCE

Since its founding in 1983, the Big South Conference has matured into a competitive leader in college athletics, actively pursuing excellence on the field of play and in the classroom. The league's growing presence as an NCAA Division I athletic conference is evident by athletic accomplishments on the national stage, innovative marketing and media partnerships, increased television packages, and quality athletic competition while intentionally fostering the academic, personal, social, athletic, and leadership development of each student-athlete. This has evolved into the Conference's mission of "Developing Leaders Through Athletics." The 2012-13 academic year features the Big South's largest membership (12) and sponsored sports (19) in its 29 years of existence.

The Big South Conference was formed on August 21, 1983, when Charleston Southern (then Baptist College) Athletic Director Howard Bagwell and Augusta President George Christenberry began recruiting members into the Big South, receiving initial commitments from Augusta, Charleston Southern, Campbell, Coastal Carolina, and Winthrop.

One month later, Dr. Edward M. Singleton was selected as the league's first commissioner and continued to solicit new members. His efforts led to the additions of Armstrong State, Radford, and UNC Asheville, giving the Big South more than the required six members to constitute an official conference. The Big South's first year of competition was in the fall of 1984, and in September 1986, the Big South Conference was granted full-fledged NCAA Division I status.

During its infancy and prior to securing automatic bids to NCAA Championships, the Big South made early strides in earning at-large berths in several national postseason events, including volleyball, women's basketball, and women's golf.

In 1989, George F. "Buddy" Sasser replaced the retiring Dr. Singleton as commissioner, and in 1990, the league received its first automatic bid – receiving an automatic qualifier to the NCAA Baseball Championship. Under Sasser's seven years of leadership, the conference implemented its public relations and compliance programs, and introduced its first-ever men's basketball television package, featuring the Big South competing among some of the finest teams in the nation.

In August 1996, Kyle B. Kallander replaced Sasser as the league's third commissioner and, in his 16 years at the helm of the Big South, Kallander has been instrumental in aggressively promoting the conference to new heights. The conference has enjoyed record levels in marketing revenue during his tenure, he has brought television coverage to Big South women's basketball, baseball, softball, and men's soccer for the first time in conference history, as well as increased national television exposure to the League as a whole through aggressive and unique television packages.

Under Kallander's leadership, the Big South developed and initiated its first long-range strategic plan, reaffirming the league's vision as a distinctive athletic conference committed to the quality of institutional life through athletic competition. He also spearheaded the efforts to add football as a championship sport, which came to fruition in 2002, and oversaw the additions of men's and women's indoor track & field in 1997.

The conference's 19th championship sport - women's lacrosse, begins play this season with eight members. At the same time, Kallander has solidified conference membership, as an all-time high 12 member institutions comprise the 29-year old League. Recent additions include High Point, Gardner-Webb, Presbyterian College, and Longwood, plus the return of charter member Campbell University.

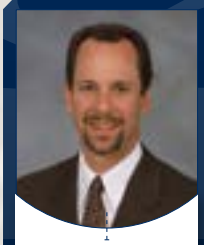

Kallander's long range vision has also included technological advancements, as the conference introduced its first live video streaming event in 2005 and has since expanded its video offerings to more than 700 events annually through a partnership with the member institutions, as well as the creation of several online and social media platforms.

In the last 15 years alone, the Big South Conference has experienced monumental growth and success in nearly every sport. During this time, the conference has had an individual national champion six times, has had more than 280 All-Americans, has reached the "Sweet 16" in men's soccer, women's basketball, and baseball, has received national Top 25 rankings in football, men's soccer, men's basketball, women's basketball, baseball, men's outdoor track & field, and men's golf, had an individual selected to play in the NCAA Singles Championship seven times in addition to the first men's tennis doubles at-large selection, had the first women's golf program advance to the national finals, had the No. 1 ranked men's golfer in the country, had the nation's top scoring men's basketball team five consecutive years as well as the national men's basketball scoring leader twice, received an at-large playoff berth in the Football Championship Subdivision in 2006, has had six NFL Draft picks, and has had two institutions finish in the top 10 in the NCAA Men's Golf Championships -- including the conference's highest-ever team finish in an NCAA event (fifth in 2007).

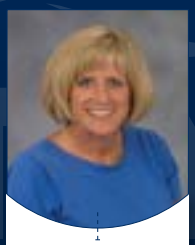

This past season, the Big South had a record 41 student-athletes earn All-America distinction, while another 10 were named Academic All-Americans. The conference also won its first football playoff game (Stony Brook), had the national women's basketball Rookie Coach of the Year, had two men's soccer teams reach the NCAA Tournament for the first time in a decade (Coastal Carolina, Liberty), and had a record five individuals selected for the NCAA Men's Golf Regionals -- the most of any Division I conference in 2011-12. In addition, Liberty was the first men's golf team in conference history to win an NCAA Regional, and the Flames went on to finish 10th at the national event.

2013 BIG SOUTH CHAMPIONSHIP

For the first time since 2002, the Big South men's and women's basketball championships will be contested at a single location in 2013. Coastal Carolina's new HTC Center will host the VisitMyrtleBeach.com Big South Basketball Championships, March 5-10.

All 11 Big South women's basketball teams will compete in the tournament, beginning with a trio of first-round contests on March 6. The three victors will complete the field of eight quarterfinalists and play on March 8. Both the men's and women's semifinals will be played on March 9, with both championship games slated for March 10. The women's tournament champion will receive the Big South's automatic bid to the 2013 NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Championship.

This is only the seventh time the men's and women's championships have been played at a single location. The Roanoke Civic Center hosted the 2001 and 2002 championships, the 1999 and 2000 tournaments were held at the Asheville Civic Center, and the 1997 and 1998 tournaments were hosted at the Vines Center on Liberty's campus.

The 1997 and 1998 tournaments at the Vines Center produced some of the highest-attended contests in Big South Conference history. Over 7,000 fans attended the 1997 men's tournament each day, including 8,343 spectators for the semifinal round. Meanwhile, 4,921 fans saw the semifinals of the 1998 women's championship and 5,041 came the next day for the championship game.
