THE KICKOFF

After a 12-day layoff, Long Beach State returns to the pitch this week with a pair of home matches.

LBSU hosts Cornell Friday night at 7 p.m. before opening Big West action Sunday at 5 p.m. when Long Beach State welcomes UC Riverside to George Allen Field.

Before the Cornell match, LBSU will honor its 2024 senior class, Cassandra Ceja, Makayla Demelo, Summer Laskey, Zora Standifer, and Bella Ternero.

SCOUTING THE BIG RED

Cornell travels to Long Beach with a 1-2-4 record after playing Villanova to a 1-1 tie Sunday afternoon.

Laken Gallman has scored three of the Big Red's eight total goals this season. She also leads the team in points with seven. Tanum Nelson has scored a goal and has an assist to go along with a team-high 20 shots.

Natalie Medugno has played every minute in goal for Cornell this season. She has made 23 saves and recorded a 1.57 goals against average.

AGAINST THE OPPONENT

Long Beach State and Cornell are playing for the first time in women's soccer this week.

The Big Red are the fourth (Cornell, Dartmouth, Harvard, Princeton) Ivy League school that LBSU has played in program history.

SCOUTING THE HIGHLANDERS

UC Riverside opens the week with a 2-6 mark before the Highlanders close non-conference play Friday night against Saint Mary's at home.

UCR has scored two goals this season, one by Mimi Dominguez and one by Nikki Velasco. No Highlanders' player has recorded an assist.

Alle Grashoff has played every minute in between the pipes for UC Riverside. She is 31st in Division I and third in the Big West in saves with 42. She is 49th in D-1 in saves per game (5.25).

AGAINST THE OPPONENT

Long Beach State leads the all-time series against UC Riverside 11-6-7.

INGRASSIA WINS #200

Long Beach State head coach Mauricio Ingrassia won his 200th career match at the helm of the Beach on Aug. 31 when the Beach defeated Utah Valley 2-1.

Ingrassia is 200-138-53 as the head coach at LBSU. Ingrassia is the 82nd active NCAA Division I women's soccer coach to win at least 200 in his career and the 175th Division I women's soccer coach to win at least 200 in their career.

WILLIS MINUTES

Zoe Willis has been a strong force on defense for Long Beach State this season. With Willis at the forefront, LBSU is allowing 1.71 goals per game.

Dating back to the Oct. 8, 2023, match against CSUN, Willis has played 1,190 consecutive minutes over the 13 contests. She is the lone Long Beach State field player to play every minute of the 2024 season.

SCHUCK SAVES

Aurora Schuck has made her presence know in goal for Long Beach State.

In her first season for the Beach, Schuck has played every minute for LBSU in four matches in 2024.

She has made 32 saves, the fifth most in the Big West and the 97th most in Division I beginning this week. Schuck's season-high in saves is nine, which she made against UCLA in the season opener. She ranks 101st in saves per game (4.57).

OPENING NIGHT CROWD

On the opening night of the 2024 season, 1,604 people came through the turnstiles to see Long Beach State face UCLA.

The attendance was the fifth largest in school history and the most for an LBSU match since Long Beach State and the Bruins faced one another in front of the LBSU school-record crowd of 2,303 on Aug. 25, 2019, the opening match of the 2019 campaign.

The Beach followed up with a crowd of 932 against Santa Clara on Aug. 22 and a crowd of 906 against BYU Aug. 24.

Against Washington on Sept. 5, the Beach drew 759 through the turnstiles. LBSU currently leads the Big West in and ranks 29th in Division I in average attendance at 1,050. Long Beach State leads the Big West in total attendance and is 40th in Division I in the category (4,199).

LBSU PICKED FIRST; 2 ON PRESEASON ALL-CONFERENCE TEAM

Long Beach State has been named the favorite to win the Big West women's soccer championship as the Preseason Coaches' Poll was released Aug. 12 by the Big West.

The Beach received six first-place votes for a total of 91 points. Cal State Fullerton and Cal Poly tied for second with 86 points. The Titans received three first-place votes, while the Mustangs received the final two first-place votes.

UC Irvine (76), UC Davis (63), and UC Santa Barbara (50) are next. Hawai'i and UC San Diego are tied for seventh (47). The poll is rounded out by Cal State Bakersfield (26), UC Riverside (18), and CSUN (15).

Brooklyn Antonucci and Liz Worden were named to the Big West Women's Soccer Preseason Coaches' Team.

Antonucci, a sophomore, was named second-team All-Conference to the Big West All-Freshman team in 2023. She was one of two freshmen on the first or second All-Conference teams. She tied with teammate Elysia Laramie for second in the league in assists with six and tied for sixth on the team in points with Makayla Demelo.

Worden, a junior transfer from the University of Texas, is 1-of-2 transfers (UC San Diego's Skylar Enge, Pepperdine being the other) to be named to the pre-season team. Worden, a Riverside native, started eight of her 33 appearances with the Longhorns. She scored five goals, posted six assists, charted 16 points, and took 49 shots (19 on goal).

Worden was named Big 12 Conference Freshman of the Week on Aug. 23, 2022,

HEAD COACH MAURICIO INGRASSIA

Long Beach State soccer has developed into a national contender under the direction of head coach Mauricio Ingrassia. Fall 2024 will mark Ingrassia's 21st year.

Under Ingrassia, Long Beach State has reached the elite eight of the NCAA Tournament, made seven NCAA Tournament appearances, and has won the Big West regular season or tournament championship nine times. The program's Elite Eight run in 2011 was the deepest any Big West women's soccer program has advanced into the postseason, and the program's seven NCAA appearances under Ingrassia are the most of any coach in Big West history. This came from a program that did not have a winning record following the team's reinstatement in 1998 until Ingrassia arrived.

Ingrassia, who has led the Beach to 15 winning campaigns, won his 200th match at the helm on Aug. 31, 2024 when Long Beach State defeated Utah Valley 2-1. At that time, Ingrassia became the 82nd active Division I head women's soccer coach to win at least 200 matches and the 175th to accomplish the feat. He has compiled an impressive 200-138-52 overall record in his 20 seasons on the pitch.

The program has beaten or tied a ranked program in 11 of the last 13 seasons as part of a schedule that annually is one of the toughest in the country. That schedule has also paid dividends regarding campus interest, as the program continues to set new attendance records, seeing 2,303 fans at George Allen Field in 2019 against UCLA.

2023 saw The Beach went 10-6-4 overall, with the non-conference slate being highlighted by a 3-2 defeat of No. 22. LBSU went 5-3-2 in the Big West play, advancing to the conference tournament where Long Beach State tied the eventual league champ, UC Irvine, before falling 4-1 in penalty kicks to UCI. Cherrie Cox was named Big West Offensive Player of the Year, leading seven Beach All-Big West honorees.

Looking to bounce back after just narrowly missing out on the Big West Championships the year before, Ingrassia's squad posted an 8-7-6 overall record and 5-2-3 mark in Big West play on a run that got them into the Big West Championship match. Awards season saw striker Lena Silano earn Big West Offensive Player of the Year while Cox earned Freshman of the Year, headlining a group of five All-Big West honorees.

The Washington Spirit selected Silano as the 34th overall pick in the 2023 NWSL Draft. She was the second draftee in as many years after Kaitlin Fregulia went 12th overall pick in the 2022 NWSL Draft.

After COVID-19 canceled the 2020 season, Long Beach State overcame adversity during the 2021 campaign. Dealing with injuries to more than half of his starting lineup, including his 2019 leading scorer, Ingrassia led the Beach to a 9-7-2 overall record but unfortunately missed out on the Big West Tournament in the season's final game.

Despite that, LBSU still had the Co-Defensive Player of the Year award winner in Kaitlin Fregulia and the Freshman of the Year in Maddy Perez. Six players named All-Big West included Silano, who put together a historic, record book-changing season, becoming just the ninth player in program history with ten-plus goals in a season.

The 2019 season was tough for Ingrassia's squad, posting a 4-12-1 overall record and 2-5-1 in conference. The highlight of the year was sophomore center back Elysia Laramie, who led the team with six goals scored, eventually being named to the All-Big West First Team.

The Beach was the class of the Big West in 2018, winning a regular-season championship and a Big West Tournament crown to earn the program's eighth NCAA Tournament appearance. Ingrassia was awarded his second Big West Coach of the Year honor following the season. LBSU's Sarah Maher and Dana Fujikuni won the conference's Defensive Player of the Year and Midfielder of the Year awards, respectively.

Despite season-ending injuries to preseason All-Big West selections Ashley Gonzales and Kaitlin Fregulia during the 2017 campaign, the Beach still posted an overall record of 9-6-3 and saw Fregulia honored as Big West Defensive Player of the Year for her efforts over just 14 games and six 49ers in total received All-Big West consideration.

Ingrassia's charges went unbeaten through their first four games of 2016, including a 1-0 win over #11 USC, and then lost only one game on the way to the Big West Tournament. The Beach then dropped CSUN 1-0 in the semifinals before rolling to a 3-0 win over UC Irvine in the championship match, securing the program's second straight NCAA Tournament appearance. The Big West recognized six players from the 2016 team, and the Beach claimed three major honors as Ashley Gonzales was named the Offensive Player of the Year, Mimi Rangel was the Midfielder of the Year, and Chloe Froment was as the Freshman of the Year.

Ingrassia guided Long Beach State to its fourth Big West regular season title and fifth NCAA Tournament appearance in eight years in 2015. The Beach also advanced to the conference tournament final for the second straight season. LBSU opened the campaign on a high note, defeating No. 4 UCLA in front of a record crowd of 2,232 at George Allen Field. Six 49ers earned All-Big West honors, and three garnered NSCAA All-West Region accolades.

In 2014, LBSU went 8-7-6 overall and 4-2-2 in the Big West to finish third in the regular-season standings. The Beach then upset second-seeded Cal Poly on their home field in the Big West Tournament semifinals by playing to a 0-0 draw before advancing to the championship match on penalty kicks. It was Long Beach State's fourth appearance in the conference finals since 2008. Long Beach State went 8-7-3 in 2013 despite a roster that featured 12 true freshmen, seven of whom earned multiple starts. The Beach picked up big wins at No. 23 Texas Tech and against 11th-ranked BYU. Mimi Rangel was tabbed the Big West Freshman of the Year and a first-team all-conference selection.

In 2012, Ingrassia reached a milestone as he notched his 100th career victory with a 2-1 win over Michigan. The Beach also picked up key non-conference wins over Baylor and San Diego to help them earn an at-large berth to the NCAA Tournament. It was LBSU's third straight postseason appearance. Long Beach State closed out the campaign with a 12-8-0 record. Nadia Link garnered All-America and Big West Offensive Player of the Year honors for the second consecutive season. Link and Alex Balcer were also All-West Region selections, while Ingrassia saw seven players named to the all-conference team.

The Beach finished with an 18-6-1 overall record in 2011, the most remarkable season in program history. LBSU claimed their second-straight Big West Tournament title and advanced deep into the NCAA Tournament, reaching the Elite Eight with victories over No. 7 Pepperdine, Miami, and San Diego. LBSU also shattered the single-season school record for wins (18), goals (49), assists (52) and points (150). Nadia Link tied the individual single-season school record with 16 goals and became the first player in program history to earn NSCAA All-America honors. Shawna Gordon and Alex Balcer joined the link on the NSCAA All-West Region Team. In addition, Link and Gordon highlighted six 49ers on the all-conference team as they were tabbed the Big West Offensive Player of the Year and Big West Midfielder of the Year, respectively.

After being picked to finish sixth in the 2010 Big West Preseason Poll, Long Beach State exceeded expectations, claiming the program's first Big West Tournament title to earn the league's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament. The Beach tied the school's previous win record, finishing with a 14-6-2 mark, and was second in the Big West regular-season standings at 5-2-1. Lindsay Bullock was named the Big West Midfielder of the Year for the second time in her career, while Bullock, Shawna Gordon, and Nadia Link were first-team all-conference selections. Bullock, Gordon, and Bo Rael were named to the NSCAA All-West Region Team.

Ingrassia spent little time building the LBSU program as his first recruiting class, ranked 15th in the nation, quickly paid dividends, going 12-5-3 in 2005. Hayley Bolt was named the Big West Conference co-Freshman of the year and joined Kim Silos as a Soccer Buzz Freshman All-American, firsts for the program, as were the national and regional rankings during the season. Even more impressive was the fact that upwards of eight freshmen were starters.

In 2008, LBSU went 14-5-4 and established then-school records in goals (44), assists (37), points (125), and shots (326). The record-breaking campaign, which saw the Beach go undefeated in league play at 7-0-1, culminated in the program's third-straight Big West regular season title, its first appearance in the conference tournament finals, and its first at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament.

Long Beach State racked up the postseason awards as Ingrassia was named the Big West Coach of the Year, Lindsay Bullock was named the conference's Midfielder of the Year, and Liz Ramos earned top goalkeeper honors. In addition, the Beach placed 10 student-athletes on the All-Big West team, with Bullock and Hayley Bolt being All-West Region selections.

Ingrassia has mentored a handful of former players who have earned international honors. US Soccer invited Nadia Link to the U-23 National Team Camp in the fall 2011 and spring of 2012. Shawna Gordon also attended the U-20 National Team Camp in the spring of 2009, while Hayley Bolt trained with the U-20 National Team during the spring of 2005. Jenn Brooks and Mariko Strickland were invited to the 2007 Australian National Team camp.

In addition, Ingrassia's players have been highly successful in the classroom as they have boasted one CoSIDA Academic All-American, eight CoSIDA Academic All-District selections, and 79 Big West All-Academic picks.

Before Long Beach State, Ingrassia won five state titles at Long Beach City College, the most by any coach in California history (1997, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003). The Vikings finished the season ranked in the nation's top five in five of his final seven years, including a No. 1 ranking in 2002 and 2003. Overall, Ingrassia went 184-24-8 (.870) and ended on a 55-game unbeaten streak which began in October 2001. From 2000-03, the Vikings went an astounding 95-3-1 (.965), starting with a 25-2-0 record in 2000, followed by 24-1-0 and 24-0-1 marks. In 2003, they went 22-0-0.

LBCC won five South Coast Conference titles and made the playoffs eight times. The Vikings earned their first playoff berth in school history in 1996. During Ingrassia's tenure at LBCC, the Vikings had three
