RIGHT AWAY

• The Beach will take their longest road trip of the season, taking part in a four-team tournament in Miami, taking on three opponents in three days starting on Monday, November 23 against the hosts Florida International.

• After playing the hosts on Monday at 10 a.m. PT, the Beach will then take on Arkansas State on Tuesday, November 24 before closing the tournament on Wednesday, November 25. All three games will be broadcast live on ESPN+ with live stats through Statbroadcast.

• Long Beach State is riding some momentum after picking up a 62-59 win in the team's home opener. Jack Payne had a monster game, scoring 18 points with a career-high five steals and also leading the team in rebounding and assists as well as the Beach rallied to defeat the Tigers. The team fell on the road at No. 7 UCLA in the last game for the Beach.

• The Beach nearly stunned Utah in Salt Lake City to start the season. The Beach held a second-half lead against the Utes, but Utah was able to hold off the Beach 66-63 despite 21 points from McCaden Adams in his Division I debut and 15 points for Yohann Sissoko in his first game for LBSU.

• Long Beach State will play six of their first seven games on the road. The Beach started the season at Utah and Montana State, and after the Pacific game, took on the Bruins Monday before taking part in a three-game MTE in Miami with games against FIU, Arkansas State and Southern Utah to close out November. The Beach is one of 11 teams to play either one or no home games in the month of November.

• McCaden Adams leads Long Beach State in scoring at 16.0 points per game, one of four players to average double-figures in the early part of the season for the Beach. Long Beach State got a lift Wednesday against Pacific with the return of two bigs in JJ Chaikovsky and Noah Amenhauser. Amenhauser was in his first game for the Beach and had a strong debut with 10 points and five rebounds as both players debuted in the starting lineup for LBSU.

NEWS AND NOTES

• Long Beach State will once again face a full rebuild, returning three percent of the team's scoring from the 2025-26 season as the Beach posted a 10-22 record.

LBSU Returning...
Rebounds	5.3%
Minutes	4.9%
Points	3.2%
Assists	2.6%

• The two returning players for the Beach are junior JJ Chaikovsky, a depth option at forward for the team along with guard Christian Jones, who missed 14 games due to various injuries throughout the 2025-26 campaign.

• The Beach add two new assistant coaches to the program. Anthony Santos and Phillip Scott return, and are joined by former Arizona State and Rice assistant coach Greg Howell. Additionally, Jacob Eyman has been promoted to the program's first fourth assistant coach following two seasons as the Director of Player Development. Taking his role in that spot will be Cole Aubin, joining the program from UNLV.

• Long Beach State has also hired Ken Ammann as an Associate Athletic Director of Basketball Strategy & Revenue, who will serve as the General Manager for both the Men's and Women's Basketball programs at the Beach. Ammann recently retired after spending the last 25 years leading the Concordia University Irvine Men's Basketball program, winning 546 games in his career and two NAIA National Championship during his tenure with the Eagles.

• In his role as General Manager, Ammann will be responsible for strategic guidance of business operations for the basketball programs with a focus on fundraising, donor relations, NIL partnerships, revenue sharing, roster planning and student-athlete support. Working closely will all members of the Beach Basketball community, this leadership role will help strengthen the competitiveness, community presence, and long-term success of Long Beach State's basketball programs.

• The key departure for Long Beach State was freshman guard Gavin Sykes. The fourth player from the program to be named Big West Freshman of the Year, Sykes averaged 19.4 points per game, a total that ranked sixth in the nation last season among true freshman, and his 542 points in the season broke the freshman scoring record held by program legend Lucious Harris. Sykes transferred to TCU in the offseason.

• Bold Week returns as the Beach welcome Utah Valley as a league opponent before a rivalry game at Cal State Fullerton. Trips to San Jose State, Illinois State and a home game against Portland on December 22 wrap up the non-conference before league play proper begins with the Black and Blue Rivalry against UC Irvine on New Year's Eve.

PLAYER NOTES

• Long Beach State has reloaded with 13 newcomers. Nine are coming to the Beach from four-year colleges, including six from Division I, along with two junior college transfers and two incoming high school recruits as the Beach has aged up despite the roster churn.

• The Beach has some of the lowest returning rates in the nation among teams that have any returning players. However, the experience shows in total incoming as the Beach features 373 returning Division I games played and a total of 2,086 career Division I points scored.

• Kaleb Smith is a familiar face for fans of the Big West. A 6-10 forward, Smith played for two seasons at UC Riverside, seeing time in all 34 games as a true freshman before putting up his best season as a sophomore, averaging 11.0 points and 4.6 rebounds while shooting 33.0 percent from three, helping the Highlanders to one of their better seasons in recent years with a 21-13 overall record and a 14-6 conference mark. Smith spent last season with Grand Canyon, but returns to the Big West for his final season with 659 points and 331 rebounds in his career entering 2026-27.

• Noah Amenhauser also joins Long Beach State with three years of Division I experience, having played one season each at Grand Canyon, Coastal Carolina and Oregon State. Amenhauser's breakthrough season came as a sophomore, where he averaged 10.8 points and 6.0 rebounds per game at Coastal Carolina, starting 30 games for the Chanticleers. That earned the center a move to Oregon State, where he contributed in 29 games, averaging 5.1 points per game for the Beavers last season.

TREES AT THE BEACH
Noah Amenhauser (7-2)	2026
Andrew Betts (7-1)	1998
Christian Richardson (7-1)	2025
Trever Irish (7-0)	2021-22
Mike Vantrimpont (7-0)	2009-12
Andrew Fleming (7-0)	2007-10
Alex Graham (7-0)	2002-04

• At 7-2, Amenhauser is the tallest player ever to play for Long Beach State Men's Basketball, and is the seventh 7-footer to suit up for the Beach. The bar for impact at the Beach would be Andrew Betts, who averaged a double-double in his lone season at Long Beach State in 1997-98, putting up 18.7 points and 10.1 rebounds per game on the way to earning First Team All-Big West honors and being selected in the second round of the NBA draft by the Charlotte Hornets.

• Senior Jack Payne is yet another player joining the Beach with three prior years of Division I experience. Payne played a key role helping Idaho reach the NCAA Tournament last season, one year after an All-Big Sky season where he averaged 10.8 points and 5.1 rebounds and shooting over 30% from three from both seasons. Payne began his career at Colorado State.

• Another fourth-year Division I player is Grgur Brcic. The big man from Croatia spent two seasons at Toledo before transferring to Bucknell, where he played in 18 games, averaging 4.3 points and 4.8 rebounds per game prior to an end of year injury that limited his minutes. His potential has shown, though, including a 14 point, 16 rebound performance against UMBC.

• French international Yohann Sissoko is also coming from a Division I program at Florida Atlantic. Sissoko played in 27 games for FAU as a true freshman, but is a highly touted international player who routinely represented France in international youth competitions and averaged 20.7 points, 7.1 rebounds and 7.2 assists per game with ASVEL U21.

• Henry Lau redshirted last season as a top prospect at Pitt. The Sydney High School Player of the Year in the Class of 2025, Lau also played as a developmental player with the Sydney Kings in the Australian Basketball league before heading stateside to start his Division I journey.

• From the junior college ranks, Long Beach State turned to one of the top programs in the country last season to grab a pair of players. Snow College finished the season last year with a 29-5 overall record and reached the second round of the NJCAA National Tournament with guard McCaden Adams starring. Adams averaged 18.4 points, 4.7 rebounds and 3.1 assists per game as a sophomore and was named a First Team All-NJCAA All-American. Adams shot over 40% from three, making 80 3-pointers and averaged 11.5 points and shot 39.4% from three as a freshman. Adams had a strong Division I debut, scoring 21 points with three steals to help Long Beach State nearly topple Utah in Salt Lake City.

• Helping facilitate that was point guard Blake Bahr. As a freshman, Bahr played in all 34 games for Snow College and Averaged 5.6 points per game, but also put up a nearly 4:1 assist to turnover ratio, finishing the year with 119 assists with just 31 turnovers.

• The Beach also looked for standouts from lower divisions as well, bringing in two players from Division II and one from Division III prior to the season.

• Jaden Tengan was a First Team All-CCAA selection for Cal State Monterey Bay last season, where the point guard has starred for the last three seasons. Tengan was the leading scorer for the Otters last season, averaging 17.3 points per game while shooting 36.6% from three and showing a skill to get to the line, where he shot 88% and making 110 free throws on the year. Tengan also averaged double figures in each of his first two seasons at CSUMB.

• Brett Wright was one of the elite shooters in Division II last season, finishing the year second in the nation in 3-point percentage, making 85 of 179 3-point attempts to shoot 47.5% last season. Wright averaged 12.3 points per game for Trevecca Nazarene, helping lead his team to an 18-11 overall record.

• JJ Gray comes from the Division III level to challenge himself. Gray has one year of eligibility remaining, but established himself as an Oberlin legend. Leading the Yeomen in scoring in each of his three seasons, Gray finished his career as a 1,000 point scorer and shot 38.0% from three last year while averaging 14.9 points per game.

• Christian Jones started the opening game of the season last year for the Beach, and averaged 3.4 points per game, which his high output coming at Portland where he scored 12 points. Jones only played in five games for limited minutes after Jan. 1, missing 13 games with an injury. JJ Chaikovsky also returns for the Beach, playing in 19 games for the Beach as a depth option at forward. Chaikovsky made his first appearance for the Beach at Pacific, with a solid stretch in the front court against the Tigers, and had six points and three blocks against Lincoln.

THIS AND THAT

• November 19, 2025 was a significant day as Long Beach State entered into a naming rights agreement with LBS Financial Credit Union, changing the name of the home facility for LBSU to the LBS Financial Credit Union Pyramid. The agreement is set for $8.5 million over a 12-year period.

• Mike and Arline Walter, who originally named the Pyramid in 2004, when they made both a cash gift and a planned giving commitment to the University, have agreed to step away from the naming in the interest of clearing the way for a significant new investment in the Beach Athletics programs and its Division I student-athletes. The Walters plan to continue their support and partnership with the university.

• Long Beach State's win over San Diego on November 30, 2025 set a program milestone, win number 1,100 in year 76 of Division I Men's Basketball in Long Beach.

• Tracking the portal, Long Beach State added nine collegiate transfers and had seven transfer out to Division I schools. Those players heading out were Gavin Sykes (TCU), Rob Diaz III (North Dakota State), Dallas Washington (UC Riverside), Leopold Levillain (New Mexico State), Petar Majstorovic (Pepperdine), Cole Farrell (Niagara), and Isaiah Lewis (Texas A&M Corpus Christi). Others still remaining in Division I from prior years include Kam Martin (Samford), Cory Curtis Jr. (Omaha), Christian Richardson (Alcorn State), Andrew Nagy (North Dakota State), and Maddox Monson and Shaumba Ngoyi (Eastern Washington).

Last Time Out

#7 UCLA 105, Long Beach State 66

LOS ANGELES – Facing No. 7 UCLA on the road in Pauley Pavilion, Long Beach State fell behind in the first half and never threatened the Bruins despite a better second half performance in a 105-66 defeat on Monday.

Long Beach State (1-3) held tough with UCLA (4-0) through the early minutes, trailing by five after a fast-break steal from Christian Jones with just over 12 minutes to play in the half. An 11-3 run opened up the lead to 13 for UCLA with just over ten minutes to play in the half. That played into the advantage of the Bruins, who finished off the final eight minutes of the first half by allowing just six points for the Beach as the edge exploded to 53-20 before halftime.

Responding out of the locker room, the Beach had a much stronger second half, outscored by just six by the Top 10 Bruins. Long Beach State had a strong half from three, shooting 9-for-17 led by 19 second-half points from McCaden Adams and 12 from Jaden Tengan, but the Beach continued to have a hard time stopping the Bruins, who finished the game shooting 63.3% from the field.

UCLA was led by Eric Dailey Junior, who had 25 points, leading five in double-figures for the Bruins. Long Beach State was led by Adams who had all 19 of hist points in the second ahlf, while Noah Amenhauser added 14 with 6 rebounds and a pair of assists.

Long Beach State will get a short break before playing their part in Feast Week festivities by participating in a three-day tournament beginning on Monday, November 23 at Florida International. The Beach will open up against the host Panthers before taking on Arkansas State and Southern Utah.

Chris Acker was hired in 2024 as the 17th head coach of the Long Beach State Men's Basketball program. A dynamic recruiter with experience developing both offensive and defensive strategies, Acker was announced as the new leader of the program on April 2, 2024.

Faced with a full roster rebuild for a second straight season, Acker delivered with an impact recruiting class, as freshman Gavin Sykes developed into a true star. The Big West Freshman of the Year, Sykes ranked sixth in the nation among freshman scorers, averaging 19.4 points per game. Sykes broke both the single-game freshman scoring record at Long Beach State with 39 points against Cal State Bakersfield as well as 542 total points, each previously held by Long Beach State legend Lucious Harris.

A second-team All-Big West selection, he was joined by another incoming recruit in Petar Majstorovic in receiving All-Big West recognition, as the Beach improved on their finish and record in the second season under Acker.

Acker was able to bring in a number of key recruits during his first season, including leading rebounder and shot blocker Derrick Michael Xzavierro as well as All-Big West selection Devin Askew, who ranked ninth in single-season program history with 603 points scored during the 2024-25 season that included a five-game winning streak featuring road wins over Cal State Fullerton, San Diego and Pepperdine.

Acker spent the five prior seasons as an assistant coach at San Diego State, playing a crucial role in the team's recent success. The Aztecs reached the NCAA tournament in each of Acker's last four seasons and were 30-2 in 2019-20 prior to the COVID shutdown. In 2022-23, SDSU reached the National Championship game and advanced to the Sweet 16 in 2023-24. In his five seasons as an assistant coach at SDSU, the Aztecs went 134-34 overall.

In all five of Acker's seasons at San Diego State, the Aztecs played in the Mountain West Championship game and continue to compete at a very high level. In 2023-24, the Aztecs averaged 74.7 points per game led by Wooden Award Finalist Jaedon LeDee who has been one of the dominant players in the country. LeDee ranked in the nation's Top 10 in scoring at 21.5 points per game, highlighting seven players averaging over five points per game for San Diego State. The Aztecs ranked in the nation's Top 50 teams in offensive efficiency in 2023- 24 under his guidance.

Acker has proven that he can create prolific offenses even without a dominant scorer. In San Diego State's run to the title game in 2022-23, the Aztecs had eight players averaging 5.8 points per game and none higher than First Team All-Mountain West performer Matt Bradley's 12.8 points per game.

During that season, the Aztecs scored a program record 2,775 points and saw their bench score over 1,000 points during the season, posting a 28-5 record when the team's bench outscored their opponents.

Prior to his arrival, Acker spent two seasons at Mountain West rival Boise State, where his emphasis was with the defense under head coach Leon Rice. In his first season with the Broncos, Boise State ranked in the nation's Top 50 in defensive efficiency. In each of his two seasons in Boise, the Broncos ranked third in the Mountain West in points allowed.

Boasting Big West experience as well, Acker started his Division I coaching career at Hawai'i, where he helped guide the Rainbow Warriors to one of their best seasons in 2015-16. Hawai'i finished the year with 28 victories and reached the NCAA Tournament before upsetting fourth-seeded California in the school's first postseason victory.

Acker's move to Division I came on the heels of two successful stints in the junior college ranks. As the head coach of West Los Angeles College, he rebuilt the program in two years, taking 11 freshmen in his first season and leading that group to an 18-9 record and a CCCAA Regional playoff berth within two years.

In his first coaching position with Citrus College, Acker spent six seasons at Citrus, winning the 2008 California State Championship and posting a dominant 92-9 record during his tenure, first as an assistant and then as the associate head coach of the program.

A Los Angeles native, Acker closed his collegiate playing career at Chaminade University in Hawaii, before playing professionally for four seasons in Europe and the United States.

Acker earned his bachelor's degree in Human Services Management from the University of Phoenix in 2010 and was later awarded a master's degree in Coaching and Athletic Administration from Concordia University Irvine in 2012.

He and his wife Stephanie have four children, Malakai, Elijah, Colt and Elliot.
