OPENING TIP

- Loyola has won four of its last five outings as it heads into another big Missouri Valley Conference road game at Bradley Wednesday night. Seventy points has been the magic number for the Ramblers this season, as they are a perfect 13-0 when scoring 70 or more points and 5-4 when scoring fewer than 70 points.
- The Ramblers bring a 23-game win streak versus teams from the state of Illinois into Wednesday's game at Bradley. Included in that stretch are 12 straight victories versus Valley teams from the Land of Lincoln. Loyola has not stumbled versus an in-state rival since a 68-63 setback at Southern Illinois on January 29, 2020.
- Loyola has prevailed in 13 of its last 15 true road games, with both losses in that stretch coming at Drake.
- Carver Arena holds a special place in graduate student Lucas Williamson's heart. The 6-foot-4 guard won a pair of IHSA Class 4A state titles on the floor at Carver Arena as a prep star at Whitney Young High School. In two games there during the 2017 IHSA Tournament, Williamson averaged 18.0 points, 8.0 rebounds, 1.0 blocks and 2.0 steals per game, while shooting 71.4 percent (5-for-7) from three-point range. He racked up 19 points, nine boards, two thefts and a rejection in a 60-50 victory over Simeon in the championship game on March 18, 2017.
- Dating back to last season, Loyola has won 37 of its last 43 contests (.860).

LAST TIME OUT

- Loyola shook off a slow start and used a 7-0 run early in the second half to take the lead for good on the way to a 71-62 victory at Missouri State on February 6. The Ramblers limited Isaiah Mosley to 12 points on 4 of 14 shooting.
- Lucas Williamson netted a team-high 19 points for Loyola, which got some key contributions off the bench from Tate Hall (13 points) and Tom Welch (8 points).

NOTEBOOK

LOYOLA - BRADLEY - THE SERIES

► Old rivals Loyola and Bradley are matching up for the 69th time in a series that started in 1928. Although the Ramblers trail the all-time series, 36-32, they have captured 15 of the last 19 meetings between the teams, including each of the last five.

► In Peoria, Loyola is just has gone just 11-23, but has had a good deal of success in recent history, winning six of the last eight contests at Carver Arena. Five of the last eight encounters at Carver Arena have been decided by seven points or less. The Ramblers have claimed three in a row in Peoria.

► When the teams paired up at Gentile Arena in Chicago last month, Loyola stormed back from a 16-point, second-half deficit to force overtime and eventually pull out a 78-71 victory. Lucas Williamson scored 20 points and Aher Uguak added 16 points for the Ramblers, whose bench out-scored Bradley's, 33-13.

SCOUTING BRADLEY

► The Braves, who lead The Valley in both rebounding margin (+7.0) and field goal percentage defense (.394), have won five of their last six contests and over their last four wins, have surrendered only 52.8 points per game.

► Bradley has picked up wins in eight of its 10 outings at Carver Arena this season and has prevailed in three straight and eight of its last nine on its own floor.

► Four players are scoring in double figures for coach Brian Wardle's club, led by junior guard Terry Roberts, who is putting up 15.4 ppg, along with 5.2 rpg, 4.5 apg and 1.6 spg, in his first season at Bradley. Sophomore forward Rienk Mast has continued his development into one of the top post players in the conference and is contributing 11.3 ppg and 8.2 rpg.

COOL HAND LUKE

► A Second Team All-MVC and MVC Defensive Player of the Year honoree last season, and a contender for MVC Player of the Year in 2021-22, Lucas Williamson, who has appeared in a Loyola career record 139 games, has hit a three-pointer in 22 of Loyola's last 23 outings. He is averaging 16.0 points, 3.7 rebounds, 2.3 assists and 1.3 steals per game, while draining a league-best 48.5 percent (33-for-68) of his treys, in Valley play this season.

► Some of the top players in the game have been frustrated by Williamson's stifling defense. Last season, he put the clamps down on Illinois All-America guard Ayo Dosunmu, holding him to nine points and forcing six turnovers in a NCAA Second Round victory. In December, he helped limit DePaul's Javon Freeman-Liberty, who entered the game ranked third in the nation with 23.5 ppg, to seven points on 2-for-9 shooting. Last weekend, he held Missouri State's Isiah Mosley to 4-for-14 shooting.

► The Chicago native has scored 20 or more points four times this season and is contributing 23.0 ppg, 2.5 rpg, 4.0 apg, 1.5 spg and is 17-for-27 (.630) from the field and 9-for-14 (.643) from long range in the last pair of outings.

► A starter in 90 consecutive contests, the 6-foot-4 guard has helped the Ramblers to 117 victories during his career. He is 24-for-46 (.522) from three and 42-for-81 (.519) overall from the field in the last eight games.

► Williamson, the anchor of a staunch Loyola defense, is the second Rambler in the last four years to earn the MVC's top defensive player award, joining former teammate, Ben Richardson, who took home the honors in 2018. Along with teammate Aher Uguak, Williamson, who was named to the 10-person 2021-22 Julius Erving Award Watch List earlier this month, is a strong contender for National Defensive Player of the Year honors.

► With his first basket, a three-pointer, at Vanderbilt on December 10, Williamson became the 45th player in school annals to score 1,000 points and on January 27 at Southern Illinois he collected his 500th career rebound. Williamson is one of only 23 players in program history to gather 1,000 points and 500 rebounds in his career.

► Williamson is one of only three players to sink 200 three-point field goals in his Rambler career and he is posting 15.0 ppg and 4.0 apg in the last two road games.

► Off the court, Williamson served as a writer and narrator for a documentary titled "The Loyola Project," which is being directed by Patrick Creadon and Christine O'Malley. The film, which premiered this week, will air on CBS during Final Four weekend in 2022. Creadon and O'Malley have produced notable films such as "Hesburgh" and "Catholics vs. Convicts."

DREW VALENTINE - HEAD COACHOVERALL RECORD: 18-4*AT LOYOLA: 18-4

Drew Valentine, who has spent the last four seasons as an assistant coach at Loyola University Chicago, helping the team to three Missouri Valley Conference regular-season championships, two NCAA Tournament berths and a National Invitation Tournament appearance, was named the Ramblers' head men's basketball coach on April 5, 2021.

In eight seasons on coaching staffs in his career, Valentine has guided teams to the postseason seven times, including four NCAA Sweet 16 appearances, two of which wound up with trips to the Final Four.

At 30 years of age, Valentine, a native of Lansing, Mich., is the youngest head coach in NCAA Division I men's basketball. In 2017, he was named to the Under Armour 30-Under-30 Team, presented by the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC), as one of the top coaches under the age of 30.

A proven winner, Valentine has helped lead Loyola to four consecutive seasons with at least 20 wins, including a school-record 32 victories in 2017-18 during a magical run to the NCAA Final Four. Loyola is 6-2 in NCAA Tournament games since Valentine joined the Ramblers' staff in 2017-18 and Loyola is one of three teams outside the Power 6 conferences to have reached the Sweet 16 in two of the last three years.

Valentine also spent two seasons as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Oakland University, where he helped the Golden Grizzlies to 48 total wins and a pair of postseason appearances from 2015-17. While there, he played a crucial role in the development of Kay Felder into a second-round selection of the Atlanta Hawks in the 2016 NBA Draft. Felder earned Horizon League Player of the Year and AP Third Team All-America recognition.

Before returning to his alma mater, Valentine spent two seasons as a graduate manager at Michigan State, where he helped coach Tom Izzo's Spartans to a 53-21 record, two Sweet 16 appearances and a berth in the 2015 NCAA Final Four.

As a player, Valentine, whose father, Carlton, was a standout player at Michigan State in the 1980s, was the heart and soul of an Oakland program that notched 87 victories and a pair of NCAA Tournament berths in his career, and he graduated as the winningest player in school history.

DEFENSE DEPARTMENT

► One of the top teams in the nation in scoring defense over the last four seasons, Loyola ranked first in the country in that category, with an average of 56.1 ppg, in 2020-21. The Ramblers rank 22nd (62.0) in the nation in scoring defense this year.

► Loyola ranked sixth among NCAA Division I teams in scoring defense in 2017-18 (62.6), fifth in 2018-19 (60.8) and 21st in 2019-20 (62.7).

► The Ramblers are yielding 53.0 ppg and holding the opposition to 237-for-641 (.370) accuracy from the field and 22.4 percent (49-for-219) shooting from three-point land in their last 12 MVC road games dating back to last season.

► In their last five appearances, the Ramblers have allowed just 57.8 ppg, while opponents have shot just 38.7 percent (103-for-266) from the field and 25.3 percent (22-for-87) from three-point territory.

► Loyola's defense has been stingy in its last five wins, permitting just 52.5 ppg and frustrating opponents into a meager 36.9 percent (96-for-260) shooting from the field and 25.3 percent (24-for-95) from downtown. In seven true road games in 2021-22, foes have shot just 24.6 percent (34-for-138) from three-point territory.

SCHWIEGER FEVER

► Ryan Schwieger has been a key contributor in his first season at Loyola after transferring from Princeton, where he played his first three years, although he has cooled off from his torrid start to the season. The 6-foot-7 forward is pitching in 9.4 ppg and is shooting 45.5 percent (76-for-167) from the field and 37.7 percent (29-for-77) from three-point range in 2021-22.

► He broke out of a month-long slump by registering 18 points, his most since January 6, in Loyola's victory over Illinois State on February 2. Prior to that, Schwieger had totaled just 26 points overall, on 11-for-42 (.262) shooting, in the previous seven contests.

► Already this season, Schwieger has scored 20 or more points off the bench three times, the most 20-point outings by a Rambler reserve since Aundre Jackson tossed in 20 or more points three times in 2016-17.

► Schwieger has a chance to become the first Rambler to average 10.0 ppg off the bench for a full season since Aundre Jackson accounted for 11.0 ppg in 2017-18.

► Schwieger recorded a 24-point performance in Loyola's win against San Francisco on January 6 in Salt Lake City. That effort is the best by a Rambler in a reserve role since Tate Hall totaled 24 points against Northern Iowa on January 16, 2021.

► Loyola is 9-0 this season when Schwieger scores in double figures and 8-0 when he drains two or more treys.

AHER YE

► Like Williamson, Aher Uguak has also established himself as one of the top defensive players in the league and his offensive production has also skyrocketed. A Third Team All-MVC pick in 2020-21, Uguak was also an All-Defensive Team selection, earning each of those honors for the first time in his career.

► The Edmonton, Alberta native, who transferred to Loyola from New Mexico, has emerged as a serious offensive threat and after struggling with his long-range accuracy for the better part of his first two years in Rogers Park, has drained 26 of his last 71 (.366) tries from behind the arc. Through his first three seasons at Loyola, Uguak went just 18-for-72 (.250) from three-point land.

► Loyola has won 16 of the last 17 games in which he has scored 10 or more points and the Ramblers are 23-2 in his career when he scores in double figures. Uguak is snagging 6.5 rpg in the last two outings and on February 29, 2020, he collected 11 points and 11 rebounds in a win at Bradley for his first career double-double.

► He is putting up 10.0 ppg, 4.4 rpg and 1.3 apg, sinking 56.6 percent (30-for-53) of his shots, in his last eight Valley road games. Over his last 16 MVC road games, Uguak is converting 61 percent (50-for-82) of his field goal attempts.

► Uguak, who totaled 16 points against Bradley on January 8, has scored in double figures on a personal-best, nine occasions this season and in his first five games of February in 2021, produced 13.0 ppg, 5.2 rpg, 1.0 apg and 1.0 spg and connected on 70.6 percent (24-for-34) of his field goal attempts.

KEEPING UP WITH KENNEDY

► Junior guard Marquise Kennedy has gotten off to a strong start in Missouri Valley Conference action and is averaging 9.0 ppg, 3.8 rpg, 1.6 apg and 1.1 spg in his first nine league games. He has converted 3 of his last 7 triple tries (.429) after making just 1 of his previous 13 attempts (.077) from behind the arc. He missed Sunday's game at Missouri State due to an injury.

► The Chicago native is tallying 9.4 ppg and 4.3, sinking 51.9 percent (28-for-54) of his shots, in his last nine conference road contests.

► The lightning-quick and explosive guard is a two-time MVC All-Bench Team selection and was the 2020 MVC Sixth Man of the Year. Kennedy lifted Loyola to a win at Bradley on January 25 last season, erupting for 18 points, nine rebounds, two assists and three steals off the bench.

► Despite standing only 6-foot-1, Kennedy ranks third on the team with 4.0 rpg and he has pulled down six or more boards on five occasions this season.

► After going through a mini, three-game slump in which he managed just 5.0 ppg and shot 2-for-12 (.167) from the field, Kennedy was solid in his return to the starting lineup, tallying 12 points, on 4-for-8 shooting from the field, at Drake on January 30. He has scored in double digits five times this season.

RAMBLINGS

- ▶ Loyola is looking to earn back-to-back NCAA Tournament berths for just the second time in the history of the program and the first time since the 1962-63 and 1963-64 campaigns.
- ▶ Drew Valentine will be aiming to become the first men's basketball head coach to guide the Ramblers to the postseason in his first season on the Loyola bench. The school record for most wins by a first-year head coach is 23, set by Tom Haggerty in 1945-46. Valentine's 18-4 start is the best by a Loyola first-year coach since Haggerty won 19 of his first 22 contests in 1945-46. Valentine is one of two first-year Division I head coaches (Tommy Lloyd - Arizona) to have won 18 or more games this season.
- ▶ Over the last pair of contests, Loyola is connecting on 47.7 percent (21-for-44) of its shots from three-point range after going just 62-for-200 (.310) from triple territory in the previous nine outings.
- ▶ Through games of February 6, Loyola's 48.6 percent (584-for-1,203) field goal percentage ranked 16th in the nation, while the Ramblers also sat 15th in three-point field goal percentage (.384).
- ▶ Prior to this current stretch of four postseason berths in the last seven years, the Ramblers had been to the postseason just once (NCAA Sweet 16 in 1984-85) in the previous 34 seasons.
- ▶ For the first time since doing so for 10 straight campaigns in the 1940s and 1950s, Loyola has produced five consecutive winning seasons and last year, established a school record with 16 Missouri Valley Conference victories.
- ▶ A total of 430 seniors opted to use their additional COVID year in 2021-22 and only 30 of those individuals returned to the same institution to finish their collegiate careers. Four of those 30 returnees are Ramblers - Keith Clemons, Tate Hall, Aher Uguak and Lucas Williamson.
- ▶ Loyola has won 20 or more games in four consecutive seasons for the first time since the 1945-46 through 1948-49 campaigns. In the storied history of the program, the Ramblers have never posted five straight seasons of 20 or more victories.
- ▶ On November 16, Loyola announced that it will be joining the Atlantic 10 Conference, effective July 1, 2022. The A-10 has produced 34 NCAA Tournament teams in men's basketball over the last 10 seasons. Over the last four-plus seasons, the Ramblers have gone 65-18 (.783) against Missouri Valley Conference competition.
- ▶ Chris Knight and Ryan Schwieger are living up to the success of recent transfers into the Loyola program from four-year institutions. Both Clayton Custer (2018) and Marques Townes (2019) earned MVC Player of the Year accolades, Milton Doyle (2017) was a First Team All-MVC selection and Tate Hall (2020) and Aher Uguak (2021) were Third Team All-MVC picks. In addition, last season, Braden Norris was voted to the MVC All-Newcomer Team.
- ▶ Loyola's 29 victories during the 2021 calendar year ranked sixth among NCAA Division I teams, behind only Gonzaga (33), Baylor (32), Houston (32), USC (32) and Alabama (30).
- ▶ With 78 points in a victory over Illinois State on February 2, the Ramblers notched their highest point total in a regulation game since hanging 79 points on San Francisco in a 79-74 decision on January 6 in Salt Lake City.
- ▶ After struggling at the foul line early in the season, Loyola has found its stroke from the line of late. Through the first six games of 2021-22, the Ramblers connected on only 66.3 percent (65-for-98) of their free tosses, but have improved that figure to 74.5 percent (205-for-275) over the last 16 contests.
- ▶ Drew Valentine is the youngest head coach (30 years old) to lead a team to an Associated Press Top 25 ranking since Todd Bozeman (29) guided a California team led by guard Jason Kidd to a national ranking in 1993. Loyola was ranked No. 22 in the Associated Press Poll the week of January 17.
- ▶ Since returning to action 11 games ago after a nearly month hiatus due to COVID-19 concerns that forced the cancellation or postponement of five contests, Loyola is averaging 69.8 ppg, but shooting 46.3 percent (272-for-588) from the field and 34 percent (82-for-244) from downtown. Through the first 11 outings of 2021-22, the Ramblers were tallying 78.9 ppg and sinking shots at a 50.7 percent (312-for-615) clip from the field, including a 42.3 percent (115-for-272) rate from behind the three-point arc.

OHIO PLAYER

► Redshirt junior guard Braden Norris ranks 38th in the country with a 2.41 assist-to-turnover ratio through games of February 6.

► The Hilliard, Ohio native has increased his production lately, averaging 11.9 ppg, 3.0 rpg, 4.0 apg, and 1.3 spg in the last nine contests and over his last 15 appearances, he is shooting a solid 44.6 percent (29-for-65) from three-point range. In his collegiate career, the marksman is a 44.3 percent (164-for-379) shooter from beyond the arc. That career accuracy rate from long range ranks fourth in the nation among active NCAA Division I players, just behind teammate Keith Clemons (.444). Norris has scored in double digits in six of the last nine games.

► Norris comes from a basketball family. His brother, Keaton, is a freshman guard at Wright State, and he has two other younger brothers who are standout basketball players. Their father, Brett, is the head coach at Hilliard-Bradley High School in Ohio.

► Norris has dialed up a three-pointer in 27 of his last 30 appearances, including in 18 of 21 contests this season. He has buried a trey in 17 straight home games and 22 of 23 career games at Gentile Arena.

► He has converted 27 of his last 31 attempts (.871) from the foul line.

► Norris is going for 10.8 ppg, 3.5 rpg, 5.0 apg, 1.0 spg and is burying shots at a .512 (22-for-43) clip from the field and .455 (10-for-22) rate in Loyola's last six road games. He had 10 points at Missouri State on February 6.

KNIGHT MOVES

► Transfer Chris Knight has become a force at both ends of the floor in his first season with the Ramblers after a successful three-year career at Dartmouth, where he scored 1,144 points and was a two-time Second Team All-Ivy League selection.

► In two road games versus in-state rivals, the 6-foot-7 forward is contributing 14.5 ppg, 3.0 rpg and 1.5 bpg, while shooting 81.3 percent (13-for-16) from the field. He is swatting 1.8 bpg in the last eight games.

► The Madison, Wis., native, who accounted for 15 points and 10 rebounds at Drake on January 30 for his second double-double of the season, has been nearly automatic from the field this season and is converting 70.1 percent (75-for-107) of his field goal attempts. If Knight were to maintain that field goal pace, he would easily eclipse the Loyola single-season record for field goal percentage (.669) set by Aundre Jackson in 2016-17.

► Dating back to his time at Dartmouth, Knight is posting 13.6 ppg, 8.6 rpg and 2.8 apg in his last five appearances in the month of February and in Loyola's last three road games is notching 11.0 ppg, 6.0 rpg and 1.3 bpg.

► Prior to making a decision to transfer from Dartmouth, Knight suffered an Achilles injury that he was forced to rehab all of last season while the Ivy League made the decision not to play games due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

THIS AND THAT

► Loyola has won 23 of its last 26 (.885) MVC regular-season contests, and counting MVC Championship games, has prevailed in 28 of its last 32 (.875) outings versus current members of the league.

► A pair of Ramblers share a family tie to the NBA. Head coach Drew Valentine is the older brother of current Utah Jazz guard Denzel Valentine, who was the 2016 NCAA Player of the Year and graduate student Aher Uguak is the cousin of former NBA standout Luol Deng.

► After going 27-45 (.375) in Valley play in its first four seasons in the conference, Loyola has flipped the script and gone an impressive 65-18 (.783) in league action since the start of the 2017-18 campaign.

► Loyola's 44-39 victory at Southern Illinois on January 27 marked the program's first win when scoring 44 or fewer points since a 41-31 decision over Oklahoma A&M (now Oklahoma State) on January 30, 1950.

► Loyola earned a No. 22 ranking in the Associated Press Top 25 Poll on January 17, marking the first time since the 1962-63 and 1963-64 campaigns that they have been ranked in the AP Poll in back-to-back seasons.

► So far this season, the Ramblers have overcome a handful of double-digit deficits to earn wins. Loyola trailed by 16 in the second half before rallying to knock off Bradley, dug itself out of a 12-point hole in the second period to slip past Valparaiso, and rebounded from a 15-point dilemma in the first half to beat Indiana State.
