GAME #30 - ENTERPRISE CENTER - ST. LOUIS, MO.

OPENING TIP

- Loyola, which finished tied for second place in the league standings, one game behind Northern Iowa, but slipped to the No. 4 seed by virtue of tiebreakers, faces fifth-seeded Bradley Friday afternoon in the quarterfinal round of the Missouri Valley Conference Championship. The Ramblers, who have claimed seven of their last 10 games on neutral floors, have won 24 of their last 25 games versus teams from the state of Illinois.
- Since joining The Valley for the 2013-14 season, the Ramblers are 10-6 (.625) all time at Arch Madness and claimed the championship in 2018 and 2021. Loyola is aiming for back-to-back Arch Madness titles and would become the ninth team overall, and first since Bradley in 2019 and 2020, to capture consecutive MVC Championship crowns.
- This is the lowest seed Loyola has had at the MVC Championship since 2016-17 when it was seeded fifth and fell to Southern Illinois, 55-50, in the quarterfinal round.
- Drew Valentine, the youngest coach in NCAA Division I basketball at 30 years of age, is the second skipper in program history to pilot Loyola to 20 wins in his first season on the job, joining Tom Haggerty, who guided the Ramblers to 23 victories in 1945-46. A win Friday versus Bradley would tie Valentine with Haggerty for the most wins by a Loyola first-year coach, with 23.
- For the first time in program history, the Ramblers have posted five consecutive seasons of 20 or more wins and are averaging 24.2 victories per year during that stretch.

NOTEBOOK

LOYOLA - BRADLEY - THE SERIES

► Longtime rivals Loyola and Bradley are pairing up for the 70th time in a series that started in 1928. Despite the Braves holding a 37-32 edge in the all-time series, the Ramblers have claimed 15 of the last 20 matchups between the clubs.

► Loyola has won five of the previous six meetings with Bradley that were played on neutral floors. This will be the fifth time the teams have met in Arch Madness (2014, 2016, 2018, 2019), with the Ramblers earning the win on three prior occasions. When the teams last met at the MVC Championship, Bradley won a defensive struggle, 53-51, in the semifinal round in 2019.

► This season, the teams split the regular-season series with the home team winning each contest. Three weeks ago in Peoria, Zek Montgomery and Mikey Howell tallied 12 points apiece to lead the Braves to a 68-61 decision on February 9.

SCOUTING BRADLEY

► Bradley has won nine of its last 12 outings, but has split its last four contests, heading into this weekend's action in St. Louis.

► The Braves are 1-3 on neutral floors this year, but have won six of their last seven games at Arch Madness and boast tournament titles in 2019 and 2020.

► Friday's game will be a battle of two of the top defensive teams in The Valley. Both Loyola and Bradley rank in the top three in the conference in scoring defense, field goal percentage defense and three-point field goal percentage defense.

► Junior guard Terry Roberts averages 14.4 points, 5.0 rebounds, 4.2 assists and 1.5 steals per game, but the Ramblers have held him to 8.5 ppg on 7 of 22 shooting from the field this season. Sophomore forward Rienk Mast contributes 11.6 ppg and 8.3 rpg and against Loyola this year has tallied 13.0 ppg, 10.5 rpg and 2.5 bpg.

COOL HAND LUKE

► A First Team All-MVC and MVC Defensive Player of the Year selection this season, Lucas Williamson, who has appeared in a Loyola career record 146 games, ranks third in program history with 181 career steals. He averaged 16.3 points, 4.3 rebounds, 2.9 assists and 1.3 steals per game, while draining 42.2 percent (49-for-116) of his treys, in Valley play this season.

► Some of the top players in the game have been frustrated by Williamson's stifling defense. Last season, he put the clamps down on Illinois All-America guard Ayo Dosunmu, holding him to nine points and forcing six turnovers in a NCAA Second Round victory. In December, he helped limit DePaul's Javon Freeman-Liberty, who entered the game ranked third in the nation with 23.5 ppg, to seven points on 2-for-9 shooting. Last month in Springfield, Mo., he held Missouri State's Isiah Mosley to 4-for-14 shooting.

► The Chicago native has scored 20 or more points six times this season and is contributing 20.0 ppg, 5.5 rpg, and 2.0 apg in the last pair of contests. He poured in a career-best 29 points at Northern Iowa last Saturday, the highest output by a Rambler since Marques Townes netted 32 points against Drake on February 5, 2019.

► A starter in 97 consecutive contests, the 6-foot-4 guard has helped the Ramblers to a school-record 121 victories during his career. He has scored in double figures in nine of the last 10 games.

► Williamson, the anchor of a staunch Loyola defense, was named to the 10-person 2021-22 Julius Erving Award Watch List last month and is just the sixth player in league history and first since Tekele Cotton (Wichita State) in 2014 and 2015, to take home MVC Defensive Player of the Year honors in back-to-back seasons.

► In his last six appearances in March, Williamson is accounting for 12.7 ppg, 4.5 rpg, 1.8 apg and is converting 51.9 percent (27-for-52) of his field goal tries and 41.9 percent (13-for-31) of his triple tosses.

► With his first basket, a three-pointer, at Vanderbilt on December 10, Williamson became the 45th player in school annals to score 1,000 points and on January 27 at Southern Illinois he collected his 500th career rebound. Williamson is one of only 23 players in program history to gather 1,000 points and 500 rebounds in his career.

► Off the court, Williamson served as a writer and narrator for a documentary titled "The Loyola Project," which is being directed by Patrick Creadon and Christine O'Malley. The film, which premiered in early February, will air on CBS during Final Four weekend in 2022. Creadon and O'Malley have produced notable films such as "Hesburgh" and "Catholics vs. Convicts."

DREW VALENTINE - HEAD COACHOVERALL RECORD: 22-7*AT LOYOLA: 22-7

Drew Valentine, who has spent the last four seasons as an assistant coach at Loyola University Chicago, helping the team to three Missouri Valley Conference regular-season championships, two NCAA Tournament berths and a National Invitation Tournament appearance, was named the Ramblers' head men's basketball coach on April 5, 2021.

In eight seasons on coaching staffs in his career, Valentine has guided teams to the postseason seven times, including four NCAA Sweet 16 appearances, two of which wound up with trips to the Final Four.

At 30 years of age, Valentine, a native of Lansing, Mich., is the youngest head coach in NCAA Division I men's basketball. In 2017, he was named to the Under Armour 30-Under-30 Team, presented by the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC), as one of the top coaches under the age of 30.

A proven winner, Valentine has helped lead Loyola to four consecutive seasons with at least 20 wins, including a school-record 32 victories in 2017-18 during a magical run to the NCAA Final Four. Loyola is 6-2 in NCAA Tournament games since Valentine joined the Ramblers' staff in 2017-18 and Loyola is one of three teams outside the Power 6 conferences to have reached the Sweet 16 in two of the last three years.

Valentine also spent two seasons as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Oakland University, where he helped the Golden Grizzlies to 48 total wins and a pair of postseason appearances from 2015-17. While there, he played a crucial role in the development of Kay Felder into a second-round selection of the Atlanta Hawks in the 2016 NBA Draft. Felder earned Horizon League Player of the Year and AP Third Team All-America recognition.

Before returning to his alma mater, Valentine spent two seasons as a graduate manager at Michigan State, where he helped coach Tom Izzo's Spartans to a 53-21 record, two Sweet 16 appearances and a berth in the 2015 NCAA Final Four.

As a player, Valentine, whose father, Carlton, was a standout player at Michigan State in the 1980s, was the heart and soul of an Oakland program that notched 87 victories and a pair of NCAA Tournament berths in his career, and he graduated as the winningest player in school history.

DEFENSE DEPARTMENT

► One of the top teams in the nation in scoring defense over the last four seasons, Loyola ranked first in the country in that category, with an average of 56.1 ppg, in 2020-21, but has slipped to 28th (62.9) this season.

► In its last 10 games at Arch Madness, Loyola's defense has been its calling card, holding opponents to 55.2 ppg on 38.5 percent (213-for-553) accuracy from the field and 30.8 percent (56-for-182) from three-point distance.

► Loyola's defense has been stingy in its last nine wins, permitting just 52.0 ppg and frustrating opponents into a pedestrian 38 percent (172-for-453) shooting from the field and 29.8 percent (50-for-168) from downtown.

► On February 23, the Ramblers held Evansville to 31 points, the fewest allowed since a 50-26 victory over Beloit on February 9, 1952. The 31 points tied for the fewest scored since the advent of the shot clock (1985-86) by a Missouri Valley team since Illinois State mustered the same amount in a loss at Tulsa on January 28, 1988.

► Over the last two meetings with Bradley at Arch Madness, Loyola has yielded only 53.5 ppg and held the Braves to 36.5 percent (38-for-104) shooting from the field.

SCHWIEGER FEVER

► Ryan Schwieger has been a key contributor in his first season at Loyola after transferring from Princeton, where he played his first three years, although he has cooled off from his torrid start to the season. The 6-foot-7 forward, who averaged 12.5 ppg through the first 13 contests of 2021-22, has been solid in the last two outings, putting up 12.5 ppg on 8-for-14 (.571) shooting from the field, including 4-for-8 (.500) from three-point territory.

► In his last two appearances at neutral sites, the Matthews, N.C., native is going for 17.5 ppg, 4.0 rpg and 1.5 apg and connecting on an impressive 68.4 percent (13-for-19) of his field goals and 60 percent (6-for-10) of his treys.

► Already this season, Schwieger has scored 20 or more points off the bench three times, the most 20-point outings by a Rambler reserve since Aundre Jackson tossed in 20 or more points three times in 2016-17.

► Schwieger has a chance to become the first Rambler to average 10.0 ppg off the bench for a full season since Aundre Jackson accounted for 11.0 ppg in 2017-18.

► Schwieger recorded a 24-point performance in Loyola's win against San Francisco on January 6 in Salt Lake City. That effort is the best by a Rambler in a reserve role since Tate Hall totaled 24 points against Northern Iowa on January 16, 2021.

► Loyola is 9-1 this season when Schwieger scores in double figures and 9-3 when he drains two or more treys. He was perfect en route to 17 points at Northern Iowa last Saturday, going 5-for-5 from the field, 3-for-3 from three and 4-for-4 from the foul line.

AHER YE

► Like Williamson, Aher Uguak has also established himself as one of the top defensive players in the league and has garnered MVC All-Defensive Team recognition in each of the last two seasons, while also grabbing Third Team All-MVC status in 2020-21.

► The Edmonton, Alberta native, who transferred to Loyola from New Mexico, has emerged as a serious offensive threat and after struggling with his long-range accuracy for the better part of his first two years in Rogers Park, has drained 34 of his last 91 (.374) tries from behind the arc. Through his first three seasons at Loyola, Uguak went just 18-for-72 (.250) from three-point land, but has buried 23 treys and is shooting 36.5 percent (23-for-63) from long range this year.

► Loyola has won 19 of the last 21 games in which he has scored 10 or more points and the Ramblers are 26-3 in his career when he scores in double figures. Uguak is producing 12.3 ppg, 5.3 rpg, 1.0 apg and 1.3 spg over the last four contests and last season, he totaled 10 points, his most in an Arch Madness contest, versus Indiana State, in the semifinal round.

► He is 8 for his last 18 (.444) from beyond the arc.

► Uguak, who has scored in double figures in four of the last six contests and in a personal-best 13 games this season, is pitching in 8.4 ppg, 7.2 rpg and 1.6 spg in the last five games versus Bradley. In January, he tallied 16 points, five boards, two assists and three steals in an overtime win against the Braves at Gentile Arena.

KEEPING UP WITH KENNEDY

► Junior guard Marquise Kennedy has been solid in Missouri Valley Conference action and is averaging 9.0 ppg, 3.8 rpg, 1.6 apg and 1.1 spg in nine league games. He has converted 3 of his last 7 triple tries (.429) after making just 1 of his previous 13 attempts (.077) from behind the arc, but has missed the last eight games due to a hamstring injury. Loyola has gone just 5-3 in his absence.

► The Chicago native is tallying 10.0 ppg, 5.0 rpg and 2.3 apg and shooting 55 percent (11-for-20) from the field, in his last three neutral-site games.

► The lightning-quick and explosive guard is a two-time MVC All-Bench Team selection and was the 2020 MVC Sixth Man of the Year. Kennedy averaged 13.0 ppg, 5.5 rpg, 2.0 apg and 2.0 spg in two games at Bradley last season, collecting 18 points, nine boards and three steals to key a 65-58 win on January 25, 2021.

► Despite standing only 6-foot-1, Kennedy ranks fifth on the team with 4.0 rpg and he has pulled down six or more boards on five occasions this season.

► After going through a mini, three-game slump, during which he managed just 5.0 ppg and shot 2-for-12 (.167) from the field, Kennedy was solid in his return to the starting lineup, tallying 12 points, on 4-for-8 shooting from the field, at Drake on January 30. He has scored in double digits five times this season.

RAMBLINGS

- ▶ Loyola is looking to earn back-to-back NCAA Tournament berths for just the second time in the history of the program and the first time since the 1962-63 and 1963-64 campaigns.
- ▶ Drew Valentine will be aiming to become the first men's basketball head coach to guide the Ramblers to the postseason in his first season on the Loyola bench. The school record for most wins by a first-year head coach is 23, set by Tom Haggerty in 1945-46. Valentine is one of two first-year Division I head coaches (Tommy Lloyd - Arizona) to have won 20 or more games this season.
- ▶ This is the first time in program history that Loyola has won 20 or more contests in five consecutive seasons. In addition, it also marks the first time the Ramblers have recorded 12 or more conference victories in five straight campaigns.
- ▶ Through games of February 27, Loyola's 48.9 percent (773-for-1,580) field goal percentage ranked eighth in the nation, while the Ramblers also sat eighth in three-point field goal percentage (.388).
- ▶ Prior to this current stretch of four postseason berths in the last seven years, the Ramblers had been to the postseason just once (NCAA Sweet 16 in 1984-85) in the previous 34 seasons.
- ▶ Loyola has clinched a sixth straight winning season, a feat it hasn't achieved since doing so for 10 consecutive campaigns in the 1940s and 1950s.
- ▶ A total of 430 seniors opted to use their additional COVID year in 2021-22 and only 30 of those individuals returned to the same institution to finish their collegiate careers. Four of those 30 returnees are Ramblers - Keith Clemons, Tate Hall, Aher Uguak and Lucas Williamson.
- ▶ Over the last two outings, the Ramblers are scoring 89.0 ppg and shooting a red-hot 55.4 percent (62-for-112) from the field, 48 percent (24-for-50) from beyond the arc and 88.2 percent (30-for-34) from the foul line.
- ▶ On November 16, Loyola announced that it will be joining the Atlantic 10 Conference, effective July 1, 2022. The A-10 has produced 34 NCAA Tournament teams in men's basketball over the last 10 seasons. Over the last five seasons, the Ramblers have gone 69-21 (.767) against Missouri Valley Conference competition.
- ▶ Loyola is the only program in the nation to have a transfer into the program develop into an all-conference player in each of the last six seasons. Both Clayton Custer (2018) and Marques Townes (2019) earned MVC Player of the Year accolades, Milton Doyle (2017) was a First Team All-MVC selection and Tate Hall (2020), Aher Uguak (2021) and Braden Norris (2022) were Third Team All-MVC picks. In addition, Chris Knight was voted to the MVC All-Newcomer Team this year.
- ▶ Loyola's 29 victories during the 2021 calendar year ranked sixth among NCAA Division I teams, behind only Gonzaga (33), Baylor (32), Houston (32), USC (32) and Alabama (30).
- ▶ Graduate student Tate Hall has scored in double digits in two of the last five contests and is tallying 8.6 ppg, 4.4 rpg and 1.3 spg, while converting 69 percent (29-for-42) of his field goal tries and 65 percent (13-for-20) of his triples, in the last nine games. The 6-foot-6 guard/forward was a Third Team All-MVC pick in 2019-20 in his first season at Loyola after transferring from NCAA Division II University of Indianapolis.
- ▶ Keith Clemons, who put up a career-best 28 points in a MVC Championship quarterfinal game versus Valparaiso in 2020, has been at his best in Arch Madness play. In four career games at Enterprise Center, the guard is contributing 14.8 ppg and sinking 55.9 percent (19-for-34) of his field goal attempts, including an eye-popping 70.6 percent (12-for-17) of his three-point tosses.
- ▶ Drew Valentine is the youngest head coach (30 years old) to lead a team to an Associated Press Top 25 ranking since Todd Bozeman (29) guided a California team led by guard Jason Kidd to a national ranking in 1993. Loyola was ranked No. 22 in the Associated Press Poll the week of January 17.
- ▶ Loyola's 82-31 victory over Evansville on February 23 was its largest margin of victory (51 points) since a 133-69 thrashing of Loras on November 25, 1978.
- ▶ Lucas Williamson is the first Rambler since Milton Doyle in 2013-14 (4) to tally three or more games of 27 or more points in a single season. Williamson exploded for a career-high 29 points at Northern Iowa on February 26 and also put together 27-point performances versus both Illinois State (Feb. 2) and Drake (Feb. 19).
- ▶ Bradley was Loyola's opponent in its first-ever MVC Championship game in 2014, a game won by the Ramblers, 74-72, on Milton Doyle's three-pointer at the buzzer.

OHIO PLAYER

► Redshirt junior guard Braden Norris, who earned Third Team All-MVC accolades this season, picked up his first double-double as a Rambler when he went for 13 points, 10 rebounds and eight assists at Northern Iowa on February 26.

► The Hilliard, Ohio native has increased his production lately, averaging 11.3 ppg, 3.3 rpg, 4.1 apg, and 1.2 spg in the last 16 contests and in nine career games in March, he is producing 11.8 ppg, 2.7 rpg, 6.6 apg and 1.4 spg, going 23-for-46 (.500) from long range. In his collegiate career, the marksman is a 44.1 percent (179-for-406) shooter from beyond the arc. That career accuracy rate from long range ranks sixth in the nation among active NCAA Division I players, one spot ahead of teammate Keith Clemons (.440). Norris has scored in double digits in 10 of the last 16 games.

► Norris comes from a basketball family. His brother, Keaton, is a freshman guard at Wright State, and he has two other younger brothers who are standout basketball players. Their father, Brett, is the head coach at Hilliard-Bradley High School in Ohio.

► Norris is going for 13.3 ppg, 2.7 rpg and 4.3 apg in three career Arch Madness contests and totaled 20 points in last season's MVC championship game versus Drake.

► He has converted 38 of his last 46 attempts (.826) from the foul line.

► Norris is averaging 11.0 ppg, 6.0 rpg, 6.5 apg and 2.0 spg in the last pair of contests, and has started 59 of Loyola's last 60 outings, missing only the Roosevelt game on December 7 this season due to a non-COVID illness.

KNIGHT MOVES

► Transfer Chris Knight has been a force at both ends of the floor in his first season with the Ramblers after a successful three-year career at Dartmouth, where he scored 1,144 points and was a two-time Second Team All-Ivy League selection.

► He is putting up 10.1 ppg, 4.7 rpg and 1.4 bpg, and connecting on 57.4 percent (31-for-54) of his field goal attempts, in Loyola's last seven games. In 10 starts this season, Knight is tallying 9.1 ppg, 5.0 rpg, and 1.3 bpg and he has scored in double digits in four of the last seven contests. On January 8, he produced 14 points and 11 boards in Loyola's overtime victory versus Bradley.

► The Madison, Wis., native, who is posting 11.8 ppg, 4.0 rpg and 2.0 bpg in his last four games away from Chicago, has been nearly automatic from the field this season and is converting 65.8 percent (106-for-161) of his field goal attempts. Knight has a chance to eclipse the Loyola single-season record for field goal percentage (.669) set by Aundre Jackson in 2016-17.

► Dating back to his time at Dartmouth, Knight, who was named to the MVC All-Newcomer Team, is posting 16.5 ppg, 6.0 rpg and 1.8 apg in his last four appearances in the month of March.

► Prior to making a decision to transfer from Dartmouth, Knight suffered an Achilles injury that he was forced to rehab all of last season while the Ivy League made the decision not to play games due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

THIS AND THAT

► In its last three games at Arch Madness, Loyola is shooting 51.3 percent (78-for-152) from the field and 49.1 percent (28-for-57) from three-point land.

► A pair of Ramblers share a family tie to the NBA. Head coach Drew Valentine is the older brother of current NBA G-League guard Denzel Valentine, who was the 2016 NCAA Player of the Year and graduate student Aher Uguak is the cousin of former NBA standout Luol Deng.

► After going 27-45 (.375) in Valley play in its first four seasons in the conference, Loyola has flipped the script and gone an impressive 69-21 (.767) in league action since the start of the 2017-18 campaign.

► Since 2015, the No. 4 seed at Arch Madness has reached the championship game three times, with Northern Iowa (2016) and Bradley (2020) winning the title. The fourth-seeded team has advanced to the championship game five times since 2000.

► Loyola earned a No. 22 ranking in the Associated Press Top 25 Poll on January 17, marking the first time since the 1962-63 and 1963-64 campaigns that they have been ranked in the AP Poll in back-to-back seasons.

► The No. 4 seed has won the MVC Championship hardware three times - Creighton (2000), Northern Iowa (2016) and Bradley (2020).

► Loyola is 10-6 in Arch Madness contests and has won at least one tourney game in six of its eight seasons in The Valley. All told, the Ramblers are 35-40 (.467) in conference tournament games, regardless of league affiliation.
