Tradition of Excellence

Cowboys in Various Halls of Fame

McNeese football has a long standing tradition of not only winning, but winning with top-caliber athletes. Three members of the Cowboy football family have been inducted into the Louisiana Sports Hall of Fame, most recently, Leonard Smith in 2015. Cowboy legend Buford Jordan was inducted in 2011 while head coach and administrator Jack Doland was inducted in 2002. Smith was also inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2014, joining former player R.C. Slocum who was inducted in 2012. In 2015, Doland was inducted into the Southland Conference Hall of Honor while former coach Bobby Keasler took his place in the Hall of Honor in 2014.

There are 70 football players, coaches and administrators that have been inducted into the McNeese Hall of Fame. In 2017, football's Adam Henry and Toddrick Pendl and were enshrined into the Hall.

In all, there are 29 members of the McNeese athletic family to hold their place in 13 different Halls of Fame, not including the 157 members of the McNeese Hall of Fame.

2 Division I National Title Appearances (1997 & 2002) • 16 Division I Playoff Appearances • 14 SLC Championships

McNeese in the Postseason

With 16 appearances in the Football Championship Subdivision playoffs (FCS), McNeese State more than doubles the appearances of any other Southland Conference school. The Cowboys have posted an 11-16 record in the FCS playoffs, including two national championship appearances (1997 and 2002) and another semifinal spot (1995). McNeese has also appeared in three Independence Bowl games, including a 20-16 victory over Tulsa in the inaugural bowl game on Dec. 13, 1976. It was the first time McNeese appeared in a Division I postseason game. Other appearances were a 31-7 loss to Art Monk's Syracuse team in the 1979 bowl and a 16-14 setback to Southern Mississippi in 1980. In 1991, McNeese State made its first of five straight appearances in the FCS playoffs, falling to No. 1 ranked Nevada 22-16. The Cowboys won their first playoff game the next year in a 23-20 win over Idaho but fell 29-7 to Northern Iowa in the quarterfinals. In 1995, McNeese capped off a perfect 11-0 regular season with a trip to its first-ever semifinals, but Marshall freshman quarterback Chad Pennington led his Thundering Herd to a 25-13 win. In 1997, McNeese slugged its way in dramatic fashion into its first FCS title game appearance, only to see it fall 10-9 to Youngstown, and in 2002, returned to the championship in a 34-14 loss to Western Kentucky, a team it had beaten convincingly earlier in the season, 38-13.

Bowl Games

1980 INDEPENDENCE BOWL

Southern Miss	10	0	0	6	--	16
McNeese	0	7	7	0	--	14

December 13, 1980 at Shreveport, La. (42,600)

The Cowboys had two scoring shots at the goalline in the final quarter of play but couldn't punch over the winning td. Southern Miss stopped the Pokes at the 13 yard line on one occasion and recovered a fumble on the other. Still, it was an outstanding game between the two teams. Theron McClendon led the Cowboy rushing attack with 97 yards on 20 carries while quarterback Stephen Starring passed for 139 yards and ran for 82 more.

(Scoring)

SM - Winston Walker, 36 field goal.
SM - Clemon Terrell, 14 run. Walker kick
Mc - Buford Jordan, 1 run. Don Stump kick
Mc - Stephen Starring, 4 run. Stump kick
SM - Mike Woodard, 1 run. Kick failed

1979 INDEPENDENCE BOWL

Syracuse	0	3	7	21	--	31
McNeese	0	0	7	0	--	7

December 15, 1979 at Shreveport, La. (27,234)

McNeese made it a strong battle for three full quarters but depth wore the Pokes down in the fourth period when Syracuse scored 21 points. The Cowboys had been only three points behind heading into the final frame. Syracuse turned two pass interceptions into tds in the fourth quarter. McNeese tackle Clay Carroll was named the game's outstanding defensive player.

(Scoring)

S - Gary Anderson, 40 field goal
S - Ken Mandeville, 1 run. Anderson kick

1976 INDEPENDENCE BOWL

McNeese	3	3	8	6	--	20
Tulsa	7	0	6	3	--	16

December 13, 1976 at Shreveport, La. (15,542)

The Cowboys left numerous starters at home for this game because of various reasons but came from behind to win in one of the nation's biggest upsets of the season. Oliver Hadnot went 25 yards up the middle of the Tulsa defense to score the winning td with only 37 seconds left in the game. This was the first Independence Bowl game and the first time for McNeese to appear in a Division 1 post season game. The Cowboys had earned the berth by winning the Southland Conference title. Quarterback Terry McFarland was named the bowl's outstanding player.

(Scoring)

Mc - Jan Peebles, 42 field goal
Mc - Peebles, 34 field goal

1971 GRANTLAND RICE BOWL

Tennessee State	0	6	13	7	--	26
McNeese	0	16	7	0	--	23

December 11, 1971 at Baton Rouge, La. (15,271)

In a battle of NCAA Divison II powers, McNeese and Tennessee State hooked up in an old fashion dual. McNeese missed two attempts at a score in the final quarter of play. The Pokes had been ranked No. 1 in the nation during the season.

(Scoring)

McNeese in the Classroom

Running back Olen Clark became McNeese football's first ever Academic All-American in 1959. Since then, 23 football student athletes have earned CoSIDA Academic All-America or National Athletic Directors All-America teams.

There have been 15 CoSIDA academic awards handed out to Cowboy football players as three players - Hadley Prince, Wes Hines and Jim Downing earned the honor in back-to-back seasons.

Brant Linde was the last Cowboy to received CoSIDA honors in 2007.

Both Prince and Hines were 3-time recipients of the National Athletics Directors Academic All-America team, Prince garnering the honors in 2000, 2001 and 2002 while Hines picked up the award in 1998, 1999 and 2000. Ben Bourgeois received the honor in 2010 and 2011 and Arinze Agada was named to the ADA All-America Team in 2013.

A total of 22 McNeese football players were recently named to the 2017 Southland Conference Commissioner's Fall Academic Honor Roll.

The McNeese athletic academic center, located in the newly constructed and remodeled Jack Doland Fieldhouse, is a state of the art facility that furnishes 18 Macintosh desktop computers as well as ample space for athletes to do their classwork and studies.

Athletic Facilities

The Jack V. Doland athletic fieldhouse opened during the summer of 2011. This is a two story, $8 million facility with upgraded locker rooms, weight room, meeting rooms and offices as well as seated area for football games. The building encompasses 32,000 square feet.

One of the many attractive additions to the new Jack Doland Field House is the club room and the more than 140 seats located just outside the club in the north endzone. At the entrance is the Coach Gerald Conner Hall of Champions where all of McNeese's championship trophies are displayed.

New locker room and equipment room are just a couple of the many improvements made with the renovations of the new field house.

Athletic Facilities

Dowell Fontenot Sports Medicine Center

McNeese State's Dowell "Doc" Fontenot Sports Medicine Center is an ultra-modern facility and one of the finest in the South. It is named after longtime McNeese athletic trainer Dowell Fontenot (pictured left) who was also a national champion boxer during his undergraduate days at the university and who is a member of the McNeese Hall of Fame.

The center is located just south of the McNeese athletic fieldhouse.

Funds for the 6,200 square foot medical center were obtained from the state, from private donations and from the McNeese PetroChem Athletic Association.

Jim Murphy
Head Athletic Trainer

Jim "Doc" Murphy, who previously spent 33 years in two stints heading the McNeese Athletic Training department, is returning for his third stint as he has been named the Director of Sports Medicine effective immediately.

A 2011 McNeese Sports Hall of Fame inductee, the Springdale, PA native is also a member of the Louisiana Athletic Trainers Hall of Fame and has received the prestigious Jim Finks Award for his accomplishments in sports medicine.

Murphy began his McNeese career in 1975 when Jack Doland was the head football coach, and spent 13 seasons as the head trainer until taking a job in El Paso. He returned in 1994 for a 20-year run, and in 2014, took a job as a physical therapist out in west Texas where he's spent the last 3 ½ years.

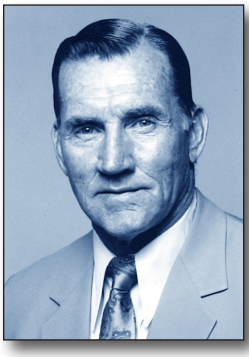
Athletic Facilities

Charles Keuhn Weight Room



The Charles Kuehn Weight Room at the Jack Doland Field House was outfitted by Life Fitness Company and Hammer Strength Company who made the 8,000 square foot room a showcase weight facility.

Weights are painted in platinum and blue and there are 16 Mondo enlayed platforms for heavy weight work, one of only eight schools in the nation to have this.

The weight room also includes: 16 multi-purpose racks, 80,000 pounds of weights (McNeese logo on the weights), nine 52-inch flat screen television sets, mirrors all the way around, two treadmills, two elliptical machines, a stationary bike and a $12,000 surround sound system donated by Scott Bailey and Bailey Audio.

A 12-foot McNeese logo sets off the room from the center floor.

"The Edge" Nutrition Center

McNeese's strength and conditioning recently added a nutrition center named "The Edge" thanks to the generosity of the PetroChem and Cowboy Clubs as well as Coca-Cola.

Located inside the Charles Kuehn Weight Room, "The Edge" is a new resource for student-athletes that will provide them access to nutritional choices before, during, and after training.

The center will be providing two different types of RTD (ready to drink) protein shakes, supplements, fruit, sandwiches, trail mix, and other snacks to the athletes in the near future.

Healthy and proper eating choices combined with state of the art strength training will provide these young people with a complete fitness regimen while competing at McNeese.

Cowboy Stadium

The 2018 season will mark the 54th year for McNees to play in Cowboy Stadium, one of the most feared places to play for opponents.

Dubbed "The Hole" for its unique design and layout, the stadium was constructed in 1965 and renovated and expanded to a 17,410 seating capacity in 1975. Added in 1998 was a $3 million, three tier press box. In 2005, a new scoreboard and sound system ($1.1 million renovation) debuted. In 2008, seating increased to 17,610 with the completion of the new athletic field house that features 200 box seats that overlook the north endzone.

In 2018, a new Matrix Turf with Helix Technology artificial turf was installed, giving Louis Bonnette Field a new look.

The Cowboys also have a practice area (A.I. Ratcliff Field) that includes three football fields on the east side of the stadium.

Throughout its 53-year history, Cowboy Stadium has hosted standout players such as Roger Staubach (Pensacola Navy, 1968), Terry Bradshaw (Louisiana Tech, 1967 and 1969), Jackie Smith (Northwestern State, 1960), Chad Pennington (Marshall, 1995), Daunte Culpepper (Central Florida, 1995), Mike Tomlin (William & Mary, 1993), just to name a few.

McNeese has racked up 206 wins at home in the history of Cowboy Stadium and has posted at .696 (206-90-5) home field winning percentage.

The Cowboys have had 15 unbeaten regular seasons at home with eight of those coming since the year 2000 (5-0 in 2017; 5-0 in 2015; 6-0 in 2009; 6-0 in 2007; 2-0 in 2005; 5-0 in 2003; 8-0 in 2002 and 5-0 in 2000).

Louis Bonnette Field

Hellas Construction built it from start to finish, including the destruction of the old turf, digging up old draining, placing new drainage, and installing the new turf.

The new field features Hellas' patented Matrix Turf with Helix Technology and an elastic layer under the turf to provide an extra layer of protection for athletes.

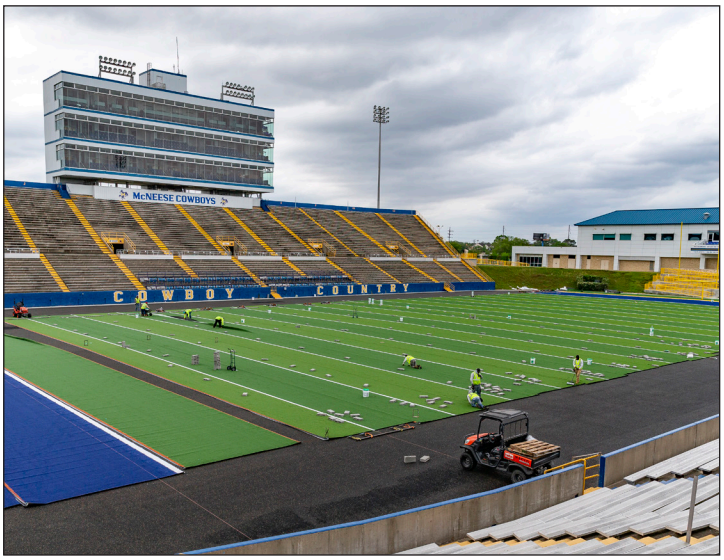
The same artificial turf that McNeese selected for its field is the same turf installed at AT&T Stadium and The Star in Frisco Texas, home of the Dallas Cowboys, along with NRG Stadium, home of the Houston Texans. It's the most resilient, stable, and durable monofilament fiber turf on the market. It consists of twisted fibers of two different blade colors, creating a more natural looking surface with enhanced playability that bounces back quickly after use, preventing "splash out" of the infill material. The product's quality, performance, and longevity are unmatchable.

The project was financed by longtime university supporter Robert Noland and at his request, the field was named the Louis Bonnette Field in honor of the school's longtime sports information director. Noland also financed the first artificial turf back in 2008.

Bonnette retired from McNeese State in June of 2012 after serving 46 years as the school's first and only Sports Information Director.

A native of Pineville and graduate of Louisiana Tech, Bonnette has received numerous professional honors in his career. Twice he served as president of the Louisiana Sports Writers Association and the LSWA presented him with its highest honor, the Mac Russo Award. He was inducted into the Louisiana Sports Hall of Fame in the sports journalism division and in 2009; he was inducted into the College Sports Information Directors of America Hall of Fame; is a member of the McNeese State Athletic Hall of Fame and the Southland Conference Hall of Honor.

Bonnette worked his 500th consecutive football game on October 24, 2009 and holds the CoSIDA (College Sports Information Directors of America) record for most consecutive football games worked, a number that stands at 526 and is expected to continue.



Gameday Tradition

Saturday Nights In Cowboy Stadium

McNeese football games are traditionally one of the most attended events among Football Championship Subdivision teams.

The Cowboys have led the Southland Conference in attendance 13 times since 1998 and nine times out of the last 11 seasons.

McNeese ranked 9th in the nation in 2002 and 10th in 2003.

In 2017, McNeese ranked 3rd in the league and 29th nationally with an average of 9,939 per game in five home contests.

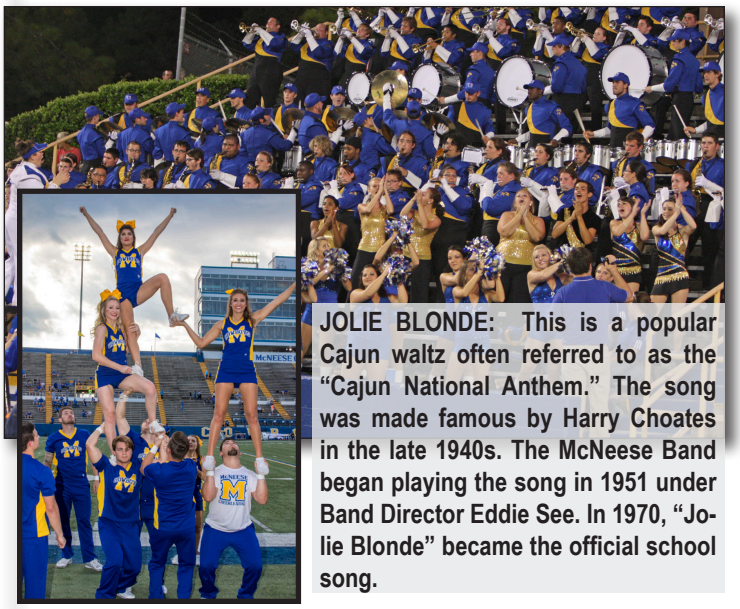
ROWDY: In 1982, "Rowdy" was born. Rowdy was named after Clint Eastwood's character on the "Rawhide" television show. According to legend, Rowdy was on a cattle drive out west when he stopped in Lake Charles and decided to stay.



JOLIE BLONDE: This is a popular Cajun waltz often referred to as the "Cajun National Anthem." The song was made famous by Harry Choates in the late 1940s. The McNeese Band began playing the song in 1951 under Band Director Eddie See. In 1970, "Jolie Blonde" became the official school song.

Saturday Nights In Cowboy Stadium

TAILGATING: McNeese is well known for its strong contingent of tailgaters. Fans start filling lots Fridays before gamedays and begin their cooking of various cajun meals. On gameday, lots around Cowboy stadium are filled with hundreds of RVs and thousands of tailgaters.

BLUE WALL: Established in the 1978 season, the "Blue Wall" was named for the McNeese defensive unit that allowed just 9.8 points per game - sixth in the nation, and 15th in total defense, giving up 259.5 yards per contest. That defensive until included players such as John Miller, Billy Joe Davenport, Bryan Hicks, Tom Murphy, Tim Tregle and Tim Harris. In 1979, the Blue Wall was anchored by the four down linemen - Rusty Guilbeau, Clay Carroll, Leroy Gedward and Mark Helms.

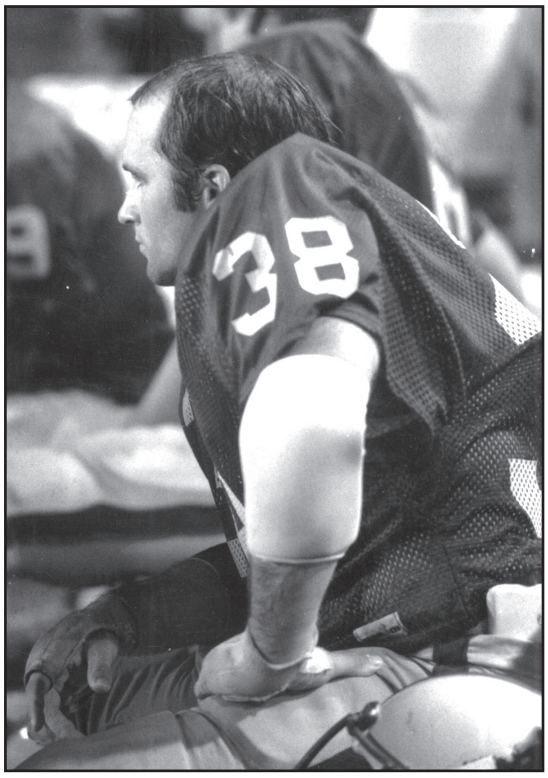
COWBELLS: Saturday night in Cowboy Stadium isn't complete without the clanging of the hundreds of cowbells being used by fans. The cowbells have been an important part of the gameday experience for decades.

COWBOY WALK: Prior to each home game, the Cowboys are dropped off by bus near the entrance of the tailgating area where they begin their walk to the field house meeting with fans who are there to cheer them on to victory as well as asking for autographs.

BRINGING THE WOOD: "Bringing the Wood" is a football saying that stands for big hits and big plays. This can be done throughout practices and most importantly during games. The Cowboys started the tradition of bringing out an actual piece of wood to honor a player that demonstrates the act on that particular week. Prior to the game, an individual is selected to lead the team out onto the field. The wood is a physical reminder that one must always be ready to play and always give 100% effort on each and every play.

McNeese President

Dr. Daryl Burckel



Dr. Daryl V. Burckel began his term as the seventh president of McNeese State University on July 1, 2017.

He is a professor of accounting and holds the Arthur Hollins III Endowed Professorship in Accounting.

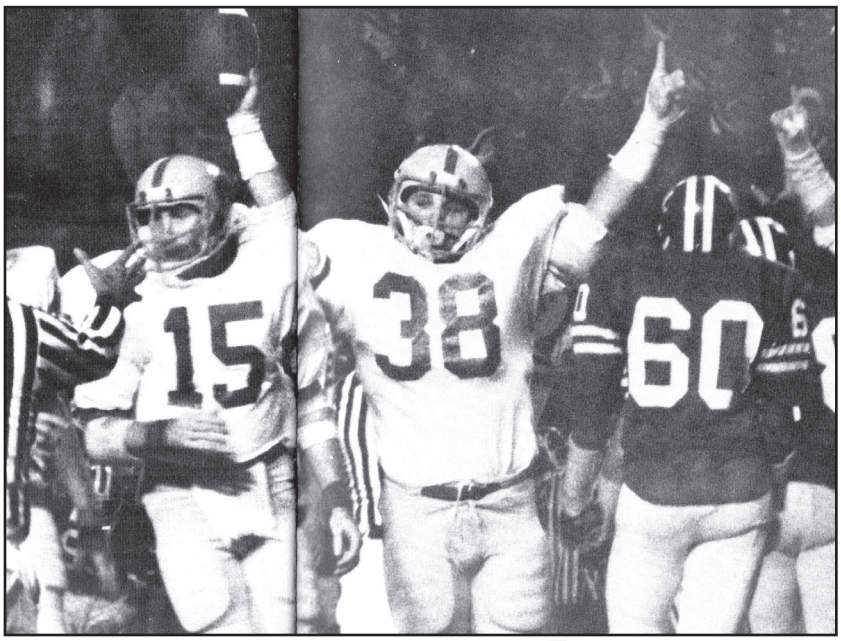
Dr. Burckel earned both his bachelor's degree in accounting in 1980 and his Master of Business Administration in 1982 from McNeese and then earned his Doctor of Business Administration in accounting from Mississippi State University. He attended McNeese on a football scholarship where he was starting middle linebacker for the Cowboys on two Southland Conference championship teams that played in the Independence Bowl. He was awarded one of four national NCAA-Postgraduate Scholarships that he used to earn his MBA and he is a member of the McNeese Hall of Fame.

He held faculty positions at the University of New Orleans and Mississippi State University before joining the McNeese faculty in 1992 and he served as head of the McNeese Department of Accounting, Finance and Economics.

Dr. Burckel is also a certified public accountant and a certified valuation analyst and his areas of expertise include financial analysis, business valuation of closely held business interests and taxation. He has performed extensive consulting work for local and state governmental agencies, small businesses and companies and served as a member of numerous boards and professional organizations. He currently serves on the board of directors for JD Bank, the Louisiana Land Trust and the Council for a Better Louisiana.

As a standout linebacker for the Cowboys from 1977-80, Dr. Burckel played a pivotal role in guiding the Cowboys to the 1979 and 1980 Southland Conference championships as well as invitations to the Independence Bowls both seasons.

The New Orleans native led the Cowboys with 104 tackles in 1980 as the team posted a 10-2 overall record, including a 16-14 loss to Southern Mississippi in the Indy Bowl. He garnered 81 stops in 1979, second-most on the team, as the Pokes ended the regular season with a perfect 11-0 mark before falling to an Art Monk-led Syracuse team, 31-7, in the bowl game.



In his career, Dr. Burckel recorded 214 total tackles, 14 sacks, and intercepted four passes. His sack total currently ranks him tied for 12th on the school's career record list.

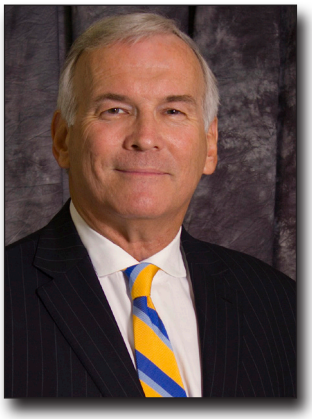
Because of his stellar career, Dr. Burckel earned All-Southland Conference honors in 1979 (second team) and 1980 (first team). He was named the Southland Conference's Defensive Player of the Year in 1980 as well as the McNeese Defensive Player of the Year in addition to being named team captain.

In 2013, Dr. Burckel was named to the Southland Conference 1980s All-Decade Team to help commemorate the league's 50th Anniversary, and in August of 2018, was named to the McNeese Football 75th Anniversary All-Time Linebacker team.

He was inducted into the McNeese Sports Hall of Fame in 2002.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Bruce Hemphill



Sulphur native Bruce Hemphill became the ninth Director of Athletics in McNeese State University's history when he was named to the post in August of 2013.

The former Associate AD at the University of Wyoming and Assistant to the AD at the University of North Carolina is beginning his sixth season leading the McNeese athletic department.

In his five years heading up the department, McNeese Athletics has flourished on the field, in the classroom and in fundraising efforts.

In the field of competition during his time, the Cowboys and Cowgirls have won nine Southland Conference championships and have been ranked as the No. 1 Louisiana Southland Conference school in the final Commissioner's Cup standings all five years, including a third place mark for the 2017-18 academic year to post the highest finish in school history.

The Cowboys and Cowgirls placed 55 student-athletes on their respective all-conference teams with nine receiving top awards. Another 42 student-athletes received All-Louisiana accolades, four five earning top awards, and five athletes picking up All-Region honors.

Academically in 2017-18, McNeese had a total of 205 student-athletes named to the Southland Conference Commissioner's Academic Honor Roll and 21 of those athletes being voted onto their sports SLC All-Academic teams.

In addition, baseball's Joe Provenzano and cross country's Nathan Jones were named the league's Student-Athletes of the Year for their sports.

Provenzano was also named a Google Cloud Academic All-American for the second consecutive season, making him the first baseball player in school history to repeat the honor, while Cowgirl javelin thrower Morgan Woods earned third team Academic All-America honors. Those two and three others – Erika Piancastelli (softball), Reid Giardina (men's golf), and John Lemke (men's track and field) all received Google Cloud Academic All-District honors.

Under Hemphill's guidance, McNeese Athletics has surpassed the APR benchmark score in every sport, every year.

McNeese received the Southland Conference Academic Progress Award for the 2014-15 for posting the highest APR score in the league while the Cowboy Football program was the only team recognized from the Southland Conference as the recipient of the Football Championship Subdivision Athletics Directors Association (FCS ADA) APR Award.

Hemphill has worked with the McNeese administration to gain the support of legislation, boosters and private donors for the new $40 million Health and Human Performance Complex that will also become the home for McNeese men's and women's basketball and volleyball teams.

He also led efforts to improve Cowboy Stadium and to complete the final phase of the Jack V. Doland Field House renovation project – most recently acquiring funds to have a new state-of-the-art turf installed in Cowboy Stadium, the same type that is used by the Dallas Cowboys, Houston Texans and Miami Dolphins. He also acquired funding to have new wrought iron fencing placed around Cowboy Stadium as well as power-washing of the stadium, Jack Doland Field House, and the Noland Skyranch.

In addition, to those improvements, other facilities have seen drastic improvements, including new full-field turf and new scoreboard at Joe Miller Field at Cowgirl Diamond; infield field turf, new video scoreboard, behind the plate box seating, and new foul walls at Joe Miller Ballpark; new entrance to Bill and Lena Henning Track Complex as well as a new track surface, jump runways and wrought iron fencing.

Hemphill has over 30 years of administrative experience at the collegiate and high school levels. He supervised 10 of 17 programs offered at a major Division 1 university and was responsible for budget oversight, game operations, facilities, personnel, compliance, team travel and recruiting.

He earned his bachelor's and master's degrees from Louisiana State University where he was a three-year letterman in football and won All-Academic Southeast Conference honors at wide receiver. His professional experience began at LSU where he was a graduate assistant and assistant football coach. In 1984, after serving as the supervisor for health and physical education for the Louisiana Department of Education, he returned to collegiate athletics and served for two years as an assistant football coach at Louisiana Tech University.

In 1987 he became the recruiting coordinator at North Carolina State University. From 1989-1990 he served as the assistant recruiting coordinator at the University of South Carolina. He joined the athletics department staff at the University of North Carolina in 1990 and served eight years as assistant to the athletics director and director of recruiting. From 1999-2003 he was associate athletics director at the University of Wyoming. In 2003 he returned to North Carolina and accepted a position as athletics director at a 4A high school, the largest classification in the state.

Bruce and his wife, Dr. Susan Drez, are the parents of six children: James, 23, a recent graduate and former basketball player at Navy; Hayden, 21, a senior at the University of North Carolina; Jack, 19, a freshman basketball player at Boston University; Jeffrey Joseph, 23, a law student at Tulane; Lizzie Joseph, 21, a senior at LSU; and Katie Joseph, 17, a senior at St. Louis Catholic High School.

McNeese State University

"Excellence with a personal touch"

McNeese State University was established by the Louisiana Legislature in 1939. The institution was first named the Lake Charles Junior College, and was a division of Louisiana State University with the opening session beginning on September 11, 1939. The following fall, the school changed its name to John McNeese Junior College to honor John McNeese, a renowned Southwest Louisiana educator and the first superintendent of schools in Imperial Calcasieu Parish. In 1950, McNeese became a four-year college in its own right and came under the authority of the Louisiana Board of Education. Finally, in 1970, McNeese State University became the official name of the school.

McNeese achieved Commission on Colleges/Southern Association of Colleges and Schools accreditation in 1954 and maintains its regional accreditation status as a Level IV institution authorized to award associate, bachelor, master, and specialist degrees. The University also provides opportunities for continuing education in support of its mission to value lifelong learning.

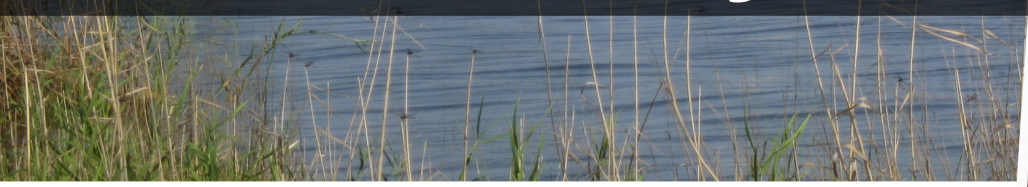
As a member of the University of Louisiana System and a selective admissions institution, McNeese offers programs through the department of general and basic studies and six academic colleges: Business, Education, Engineering and Engineering Technology, Liberal Arts, Nursing, and Science. McNeese's student body is comprised of students from throughout Louisiana, the United States, and approximately 50 countries.

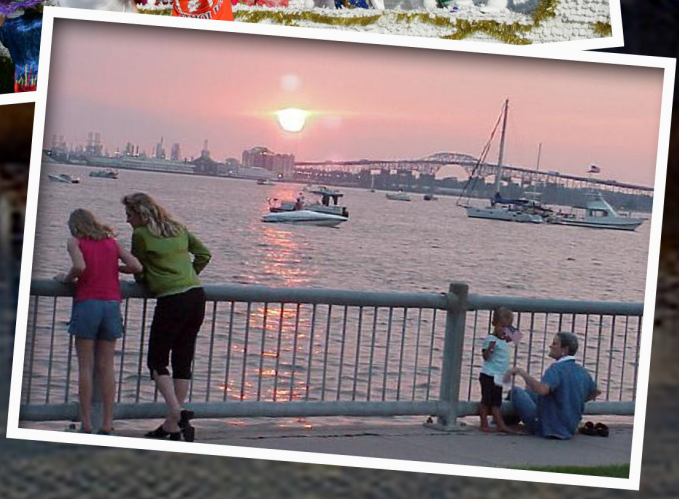
McNeese's athletic programs are NCAA-certified for competition at the Division I level. The McNeese State University campus in Lake Charles, Louisiana, features 68 buildings on 500 acres dotted with live oak trees and azalea bushes. The McNeese community continues to use three original structures - Kaufman Hall, Ralph O. Ward Memorial Gym (the Arena), and Francis G. Bulber Auditorium. Bulber Auditorium, a striking example of Art Deco architecture, is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

McNeese State University upholds a long tradition of service to the Southwest Louisiana community and the nation. The University motto of "Excellence with a Personal Touch" extends beyond the classroom. During World War II, the campus was the headquarters of the Louisiana Maneuvers, an extensive military exercise to prepare American soldiers for battle. In 1957, the McNeese community gave aid and comfort to the victims of Hurricane Audrey and served as the National Guard's base of rescue operations. In 2005, McNeese provided shelter for New Orleans residents and university students fleeing from Hurricane Katrina. McNeese faced one of its greatest challenges when Hurricane Rita struck in the fall of 2005. The storm caused devastating damage to campus facilities and infrastructure. The recovery effort after Hurricane Rita demonstrated the resilience and commitment of the McNeese faculty, staff, and students to higher education and to moving forward in support of the core values of academic excellence, student success, fiscal responsibility, and university/community alliances.

Lake Charles

"Gateway to the Gulf"





Lake Charles, situated in Southwest Louisiana and only 30 miles from the Gulf of Mexico, the area's scenic beauty and abundant natural resources - with waterways playing a predominate role - first lured settlers. Lake Charles was once a haven for pirates like Jean Lafitte who hid contraband along the labyrinth of backwater and bayous. The city's beginning can be traced to the 1790s when the first French settlers came to carve homesteads out of the dense pine forests. Barthlemy LeBleu established the first home six miles east of Lake Charles (now known as LeBleu settlement). Charles Sallier married LeBleu's daughter and in 1803 built the first log cabin on the shell beach of Lake Charles. The surrounding area was named after the Indian Chief "Crying Eagle" which in French became Calcasieu, that name today designating the river that runs on the edge of the city and up the middle of the parish. After the Civil War, Lake Charles became a lumber town with a healthy schooner trade, swamped with orders for lumber to help rebuild the war torn South. When lumber began to wane, the city opened a deep water port in 1923, paving the way for industrial development. Today this link to the Gulf accomodates up to 13 ships at a time. Lake Charles is a city of 80,000 diverse people but the influence of the French Acadians is seen in local cusine, language and customs. In many of the small towns and bayous near Lake Charles, Cajun French is still spoken. The city is a center for international commerce with its port, abundant oil and gas resources, a sprawling petro-chemical complex and an aviation facility. It has also become a favorite vacation port with riverboat casinos bordering its waters. The city is set in the midst of a sportsman paradise - fishing (saltwater and fresh), hunting (duck, geese, deer, squirrel, rabbit, turkey), shrimping and crabbing are staples. Lake Charles/Southwest Louisiana is the Festival Capital of the state. With over 75 annual fairs and festivals, there is something happening every weekend. From the second largest Mardi Gras celebration in Louisiana to the swashbuckling Contraband Days Pirate Festival or Cajun festivals, there is always something simmering in the gumbo pot or a toe tapping tune in store for visitors.

OFFENSE

Quarterback

There is no controversy, just competition. Cody Orgeron didn't have a bad day in the spring while James Tabary had some good days and some average days. Orgeron started in front of Tabary a couple days but Tabary won his job back late in the spring.

Tabary will enter the 2018 season with a chance to become the program's all-time career leader in several passing categories including passing yards, touchdowns, completions and attempts. He's already set a career mark for most 300-yard games with five.

In June, Tabary was invited to participate in the Manning Passing Academy where he got to work and learn from the Family of QBs, working side-by-side with Peyton and Eli as well as sitting in on meetings to learn how they approach the game.

Lance Guidry on the QBs: "Some people say we have a QB controversy, no, we have a competition. Just like every other position, there's competition at quarterback. It's not any different when it comes to trying to get better and I think it'll only make you better when you have someone threatening you."

Running Back

Just a few backs went through spring drills at full speed but that doesn't take away from the abundance of depth and talent in that position heading into the season.

The Cowboys return first team all-conference back David Hamm as well as Justin Pratt. The two each ranked in the top 10 in the conference in rushing last season.

In addition, former starter Ryan Ross returns at 100 percent after sitting out last season to rehab a broken ankle he suffered in the 2017 spring game.

Also returning is speedster Benjamin Jones while redshirt freshman Mac Briscoe is expected to be a rising star.

Overall, the Cowboys will return 100 percent of their RB rushing yards from last season.

Wide Receiver

This is the one skill spot where the Cowboys took a hit to graduation, losing Kent Shelby and Darious Crawley who combined to haul in 72 passes for 964 yards and eigth touchdowns.

Returning will be junior Parker Orgeron (23-250-4) who started in nine games last year while missing two due to a concussion. Kylon Highshaw (7-75) returns for his senior season as does Tre Roberts (6-40), both who could be a deep threat for the Cowboys.

Sophomore Trevor Begue and redshirt freshman Nate Briscoe had a solid spring while sophomore Cyron Sutton (6-129-2) figures to be in the mix.

Tight End

First team all-SLC and all-Louisiana TE Lawayne Ross returns and is expected to continue his dominance when putting his hands on the ball. The junior caught 42 passes for 570 yards last season, the most receiving yards in a season by a TE in school history.

Junior Austin Nelson returns after missing last season with an injured shoulder and is expected to add some power to the spot. Sophomores Jacob Logan and Dontay Hargrove add depth to the position.

Offensive Line

McNeese added a couple of junior college transfers during the signing period that will help provide depth to a group that returns four players with starting experience from last season.

DEFENSE

McNeese led the FCS in three different categories in 2017 - rushing defense (54.5 ypg), first downs defense (150), and 3rd down conversion defense (23.8 percent). The 54.5 rushing yards allowed per game set a new McNeese and Southland Conference record. In addition to the No. 1 rankings in the nation, the Cowboys led the Southland Conference in 10 categories - rushing, 3rd down conversion defense, first downs defense, 4th down conversion defense (35.3 percent), defensive TDs (5), red zone defense (63.0 percent), scoring defense (17.1 ppg), pass efficiency defense (109.69), total defense (262.5), and turnover margin (1.18).

The Cowboys lost a good part of that production due to graduation, however, an abundance of talent, young players with experience could make the 2018 DWA (Defense With Attitude) even better.

Defensive Line

Redshirt freshman Cameron Peterson is expected to do a lot of good things for the Cowboys this season and beyond. He's a taller and longer tackle, standing 6-foot-5 and weighing in the 270 range. He's expected to start this season and could end up being a four-year starter for the Cowboys. Also at that position are returners Jonta Jones and Harris Tafah.

At defensive end, the Cowboys get the return of starter Chris Livings who was lost to injury in week four last season. Cody Roscoe and Christian Robinson competed well in spring. The big blow was the loss of starter Micah Udeh. Udeh, who graduated in May, was accepted into law school so has decided to pass on his last year of eligibility.

Linebacker

This position had some good competition in the spring among returning senior Christian Jacobs, who received a medical redshirt after getting injured early last season, as well as returning starter BJ Blunt, a preseason all-SLC selection. Tre Porter, Khoury Kraus and Andrew Hyacinth are expected to contribute and add depth.

Defensive Backs

The first thing glaring on defense is the free safety position with sophomore Gabe Foster who provides a ton of speed and talent. Sophomore Cory McCoy had a solid spring at the Buck safety as his speed will make the defensive backfield better. Junior Trent Jackson returns at weak safety and had a nice spring. Kyree McLean, Darion Dunn, Gabe Foster and Colby Burton add experience and speed to the corner spots.

SPECIAL TEAMS

Place Kicker

The Cowboys return All-American kicker Gunnar Raborn who connected on 12 of his 13 field goals and 27 of 28 extra point attempts.

Raborn, an all-SLC and all-Louisiana selection, earned Associated Press and AFCA 2nd Team All-America honors while picking up 4th team honors by Phile Steele.

Punter

The Lake Charles native placed 22 punts inside the 20-yard line and booted seven balls that sailed for 50 yards or more.

He tied Don Stump's 38-year old longest punt record when he popped an 81-yarder at Lamar in the season finale.

HEAD COACH

Lance Guidry McNeese, 1995

3rd Year as Head Coach; 12th Year at McNeese; 16-8 overall (15-7 at McNeese; 1-1 as an Interim Head Coach)

He's a mastermind of the defense.

One year after relinquishing his defensive coordinator duties while taking over as the McNeese head coach, Lance Guidry reassumed those duties in year two of his head coaching stint and brought the Cowboys' Defense With Attitude to the FCS mountaintop.

The 2017 season for McNeese was a bittersweet one. The Cowboys finished 9-2 on the year but were left on the outside when it came to the FCS postseason playoffs. That despite being ranked in the nation's top 25 polls for most of the season.

Guidry spearheaded a defense that ended the season ranked No. 1 in the FCS in rushing with a school and Southland Conference record 54.5 yards per game allowed. That average is also ranked as the seventh-lowest amount allowed in the history of the FCS.

In addition to the rushing defense ranking, the Cowboys ranked No. 1 in the nation in 3rd-down conversion defense (23.8 percent) as well as in first downs defense (150); third in defensive touchdowns (5); fifth in total defense (262.5 ypg); sixth in red zone defense (63.0 percent) and turnovers gained (26); seventh in passes intercepted (16); and ninth in tackles for a loss per game (8.2). The Cowboys also ranked 13th in scoring defense (17.1 ppg) and were 17th in pass efficiency defense (109.69).

In the Southland Conference rankings, Guidry's defense ranked No. 1 in eight statistical categories and second in three others.

The unit tied a NCAA all-division record against Incarnate Word on Oct. 21 when the Cowboys intercepted four passes returned for touchdowns.

And in five games on the year, the defense did not allow a touchdown by its opponent.

Guidry was one of the founding members of the D.W.A. (Defense With Attitude) and earned all-conference honors as a safety for McNeese during his playing career from 1990-93.

During that time, he helped resurrect the Cowboys' program with two conference championships and first-ever playoff appearances and wins in 1991 and 1993.

In his first season as head coach in 2016, Guidry gave up his duties as the defensive coordinator to focus on over-seeing all the action, and a year after his defense dominated in 2015, the 2016 defense struggled without having his undivided attention. McNeese fell to a 6-5 final record despite ranking second in the league in total, rushing and scoring defense. But the 285 points allowed were the most given up in three years while the unit ranked near the bottom of the league in red-zone defense by allowing 28 scores in 30 tries.

Offensively, the Cowboys posted one of their greatest seasons in school history, led by transfer quarterback James Tabary who threw for 3,036 yards, the second-most in a season in school history, and 23 touchdowns. The New Orleans native who came to McNeese via Arkansas State, set records for most completions (249) and attempts (415) in a season; most games with 25 or more completions (6); and tied records for most games throwing for 300 yards or more (4) and touchdown passes in a game (5).

In 2015, Guidry, as the team's defensive coordinator, helped McNeese win its 14th Southland Conference championship, a league record, while the team posted a perfect regular season.

His defense ranked 12th nationally in total defense (allowing a tad over 300 yards per game), third in both scoring defense and red zone defense, and fourth in rushing defense. In addition, the Cowboys' defense ranked second in 4th-down conversion defense sixth in first downs defense, and seventh in 3rd-down conversion defense.

"There are seven keys to our program that we will install that will pertain to players, coaches and support staff," said Guidry. "Number one is enthusiasm. That is the No. 1 thing to me. When you come to work, you must come with a positive attitude. Happy people are usually successful.

"Compete. We will compete on and off the field. Toughness. We will never quit and will have great pride. Number four is preparation. You have to know what to expect, and when adversity hits, you will know how to respond. Accountability. We will always be prompt and dependable. We will set goals for every task, and every task will be met.

"The last thing to me is team unity. We are a family here at McNeese. It will always be family here."

McNeese represents Guidry's first full-time head coaching job at the collegiate level. He acted as interim head coach at Miami University (Ohio) in 2010 and Western Kentucky University in 2012, leading both teams into postseason bowl games.

He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at McNeese in 1994 then returned as the school's defensive coordinator from 2000-04, and in 2008, coached the defensive backs.

In his now 11 combined years on the McNeese staff, the Cowboys have compiled a 92-40 record, including a 55-20 mark in Southland Conference games. During that time, McNeese has won four conference championships (2001-03, 2015), made six FCS playoff appearances (1994, 2000-03, 2013, 2015) and played in the 2002 FCS National Championship game.

Before returning to McNeese prior to the 2013 season, Guidry served as defensive coordinator at Western Kentucky in 2011 and 2012 and was named interim head coach on Dec. 8 of 2012 to lead WKU against Central Michigan in the Little Caesars Pizza Bowl in Detroit, Mich., on Dec. 26, a game the Hilltoppers dropped 24-21.

He coached three players while at WKU - DE Quanterous Smith, LB Andrew Jackson and S Jonathan Dowling - that went on to be selected in the NFL Draft.

Guidry joined the Miami staff after serving as the defensive secondary coach at McNeese in 2008 and led the Redhawks to a 35-21 victory over Middle Tennessee as the interim head coach in the 2011 GoDaddy.com Bowl, helping Miami finish off a 10-4 season after going 1-11 the previous year. Miami became the first FBS school to go from double-digit losses to double-digit wins in consecutive seasons.

Guidry helped orchestrate a similar turnaround in 2011, helping WKU to back-to-back winning seasons in 2011 and 2012, including the program's first-ever bowl bid since joining the FBS.

His 2012 Hilltopper defense was a force nationally, ranking in the top 40 in seven different national defensive categories. The Guidry-led defense ranked 23rd nationally in total defense (344.42) and 12th in the nation in tackles for loss per game (7.42). His squad also ranked at the top of four defensive categories in the Sun Belt Conference, including total defense, pass defense efficiency (128.4), sacks (31) and first down defense (19.3), while ranking second in rushing defense (136.6), scoring defense (25.6), passing defense (206.2) and interceptions (13).

A veteran coach in Louisiana football's high school ranks, Guidry served as secondary coach at Leesville High School in 1995 and 1996, helping lead the Wampus Cats to the state championship game in 1995. He also coached defensive backs at Carencro (La.) High School for three seasons (1997-99), then returned years later to serve as the Golden Bears' head coach (2005-07).

In between his stints at Carencro, Guidry served as defensive coordinator and coached the secondary at McNeese (2000-04). The Cowboys reached the Football Championship Subdivision playoffs in four consecutive seasons (2000-03), won three straight Southland Conference championships (2001, 2002, 2003) during that stretch and lost to WKU in the 2002 FCS National Championship Game.

During those years, he helped produce such all-Americans as Joe Judge, Keith Smith and Hadley Prince.

Guidry was also a team captain, four-year letterman (1990-93) and all-conference defensive back at McNeese and was a part of two conference championship teams (1991, 1993).

He and his wife, Starlet, have four children: Janzen, Madison, Alexis and Kaitlyn, and two grandchildren, Ethan and Kash.

Offenseive Coordinator • Wide Receivers

Landon Hoefer

Texas Tech, 2008

5th Year at McNeese, 3rd as Offensive Coordinator

"Landon is an up-and-coming star in the profession. He's been a part of some great programs and has learned under some tremendous coaches. He's helped develop some great athletes who have been very successful. He's a winner." -
Head Coach Lance Guidry

Landon Hoefer, a 2008 graduate of Texas Tech, is in his fifth season with McNeese and his third as the offensive coordinator, and for the first time, will coach the wide receivers.

Hoefer joined the Cowboys in the summer of 2014 after spending a year at Stephen F. Austin in the same capacity where he also coordinated the passing game.

In four seasons with the Cowboys as the quarterbacks coach, QBs have completed over 50 percent of their passes and thrown for 74 total touchdowns. In addition, the quarterbacks he's coached, James Tabary and Daniel Sams, have set numerous single game and season records.

As the wide receiver's coach in 2018, Hoefer will inherit a group of skill, but inexperienced wideouts with the loss of seniors Kent Shelby and Darious Crawley. However, he'll work hand's on with talented returners in Parker Orgeron (23 catches for 250 yards in 2017), Cyron Sutton (6-129), Kylon Highshaw (7-75), and Tre Roberts (6-40).

He's played a big role in guiding Tabary to some record-setting performances. In 2016, Tabary set season records for most pass completions (249) and attempts (415) while also setting a single-season record for most 300-yard passing games (4). He became just the second QB in school history to throw for 3,000 yards in a season with 3,036 (2nd most in school history) and threw for the 2nd (384), 3rd (376), 7th (357) and 8th (348) most yards in a game.

In the offensive passing game, the Cowboys destroyed the single-season record for average passing yards with 304.2 while wide receivers Darious Crawley (41 rec.) and Kent Shelby (40) became the first WR duo to catch at least 40 passes in the same season in school history.

In 2015, Sams became the first McNeese QB to rush for 100 yards or more in a season four times (2015) while setting a career record with seven 100-yard rushing games.

In 2015 the Cowboys ranked third in the Southland Conference in scoring offense with 30.2 points per game scored while Sams ranked second individually in total offense with 236.4 yards gained per game.

At SFA, he coached the Lumberjacks to a No. 1 national ranking in passing offense (389 ypg), No. 2 national ranking in total offense (571.6 ypg), and a No. 2 ranking in offensive first downs (321). The Lumberjacks also ranked 11th in the nation in scoring offense with 38.5 points per game, and was 43rd in rushing with 182.6 ypg.

He guided quarterback Brady Attaway to becoming the Southland Conference's record holder for passing yards in a game when he threw for 662 against Prairie View. For the season, Attaway threw for 4,268 yards on 349 of 584 passing, and tossed 32 touchdowns.

During the 2012 season, Hoefer worked with West Virginia head coach Dana Holgorsen to produce one of the most lethal passing games at the NCAA FBS level.

The Mountaineers finished the 2012 campaign ranked 10th nationally in total and passing offense. Hoefer worked with both the quarterbacks and receivers in Morgantown, helping produce two 1,000-yard wide outs last season.

Prior to his stop at WVU, Hoefer spent two seasons in Greenville, N.C., working with the East Carolina offense. Hoefer experienced similar success in Greenville, producing two 1,000-yard receivers, and working with a quarterback who finished the season completing 393 passes for 3,967 yards and 37 touchdowns (Dominique Davis). The Pirates finished 2010 ranked eight nationally in passing and 10th in total offense.

Before making the switch to the offensive side of the ball, Hoefer spent one season assisting the secondary at Memphis.

A three-year letterwinner at Texas Tech, Hoefer played in four-straight bowl games, including two Cotton Bowls, the 2006 Insight.com Bowl, and the 2007 Gator Bowl.

He received his bachelor's degree from Texas Tech in 2008, and has completed work toward a master's degree.

OFFENSIVE LINE • RUNNING GAME COORDINATOR • RECRUITING COORDINATOR

Ben Norton

Stephen F. Austin, 1993

4th Year at McNeese; 2nd since returning in 2017

"We're thrilled to have Ben in the McNeese Football family. He has been successful as an offensive coordinator and offensive line coach and has FBS and FCS offensive coordinator experience for over 10 years. We needed a running game coordinator to go with an explosive passing game and it's great to be able to land a more than capable coach like Ben." - Head Coach Lance Guidry

Ben Norton is in his second season with the Cowboys since making his return last year, fourth overall, and will once again coach the offensive line as well as coordinate the running game. He also serves as the team's recruiting coordinator.

Norton will coordinate the running game while coaching the offensive line. He'll also serve as the program's co-recruiting coordinator.

His 2017 offensive line unit consisted of all-conference lineman Andy Dodd, who was a graduate transfer from LSU, and a host of young and inexperienced linemen. Despite that youth, the Cowboys averaged 173.3 yards rushing per game and ranked fourth in total offense in the league with a 408.3 average.

Before returning to McNeese, Norton developed eight All-America offensive linemen and 30 all-conference players, while winning six championships with seven teams that finished in the FCS Top 25 and reached postseason play.

He spent four years at Northwestern State prior to returning to Cowboy Country, the last two years there as the offensive coordinator, and led a unit that set six single-season team records, six individual single-game records, five individual career records and eight individual single-season team records.

In 2014, his offensive unit established new school records for total offensive (4,948), first downs (274), first downs via pass (140), completions (262), completion percentage (67.2), and passing yards (2,864).

In 2016, his offense led the Southland Conference in rushing at 190.5 yards per game while running back De'Mard Llorens topped the league individually with 85.3 yards per contest, on his way to first team all-SLC hon-

The Vidor, Texas native and 1993 graduate of Stephen F. Austin, Norton spent the 2005 and 2006 seasons at McNeese where he coached the defensive line in '05 before moving to the offensive line in 2006.

In 2006, McNeese led the Southland Conference in scoring offense (25.2) and ranked second in rushing (169.4) in helping lead the Cowboys to Southland Conference championship.

Norton, who spent 1994-97 at Vanderbilt and LSU in the Southeastern Conference as a graduate assistant coach, got his first fulltime post at Eastern Illinois under venerable coach Bob Spoo in 1997-98, helping the Panthers crack the FCS Top 25 and assisting in the signing of future Dallas Cowboys quarterback Tony Romo, a three-time Pro Bowl pick.

Norton worked under legendary Ron Randleman from 1999-2004 at Sam Houston, helping the Bearkats reach the 2001 playoff quarterfinals and the 2004 semifinals as assistant head coach and offensive line coach.

He was co-offensive coordinator and o-line coach in 2005-06 at McNeese as the Cowboys won the 2006 Southland title and reached the playoffs. Regaining the assistant head coach title to go with co-offensive coordinator and line coach from 2007-10 at Texas State, he helped the Bobcats to the 2008 FCS playoffs with a Southland crown, FCS Top 25 rankings in 2008 and 2009, and top 20 finishes in total offense from 2007-09, when Texas State averaged 420-yards plus each season. In his four seasons there, the Bobcats averaged 30 points, 408 yards, 165 yards rushing (4.5 per rush) and allowed only 1.5 sacks per game.

While at Texas State, Norton was responsible for signing linebacker Joplo Bartu, now a starter with the Jacksonville Jaguars.

In his career, he's coached 19 all-conference selections and six all-Americans.

In his two UFL seasons, he had four linemen sign NFL contracts, including Tony Ugoh, who won a Super Bowl ring with the New York Giants.

Norton joined the United Football League's Las Vegas Locos for the 2011 season and helped them to the championship game. He was an American Guest Coach with the Canadian Football League's Saskatchewan Roughriders training camp in 2012, working with the offensive line, running backs and special teams, before coaching with the UFL's Sacramento Mountain Lions in 2012.

Norton was a four-year letterwinner at SFA, where he earned Academic All-Southland Conference honors as an offensive lineman as a senior in 1992. He was a standout lineman and part-time placekicker at Vidor High School.

He earned his Bachelor of Science degree in kinesiology/physical science in 1993. He was a Dean's List and President's List student at SFA. He received his Master of Education degree in health promotion and education from Vanderbilt University in 1997.

He recruits the East Texas and Dallas area.

CO-OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR • QUARTERBACKS

Kerry Joseph McNeese, 1995

3rd Year at McNeese

One of the greatest, if not the best, quarterbacks to don the blue and gold, Kerry Joseph, is in his third season at McNeese as the co-offensive coordinator, and for the first time, will coach the quarterbacks.

Joseph, McNeese's all-time career leader in touchdown passes and second in career passing yards and total offense, has helped the Cowboys produce a balanced and potent offense the last two seasons.

In 2016, two wide receivers - Darious Crawley and Kent Shelby became the first duo in school history to pull in 40 passes each in the same season, Crawley with a team-high 41 catches and Shelby with 40. Crawley earned All-Southland Conference second team honors for his efforts. McNeese set a single-season school record by averaging 304.2 yards passing per game.

Prior to joining McNeese, Joseph spent the 2015 season as a training camp intern with the New Orleans Saints, working on the offensive side of the ball under head coach Sean Payton after he officially retired from a 12-year career in the Canadian Football League.

Over the past few years, the New Iberia native spent many of his off-seasons as a player working in strength and conditioning and helping youth football.

He broke into the CFL in 2003 with Ottawa and then moved to Saskatchewan in the 2006 dispersal draft after the Renegades folded.

He helped the Roughriders win the third Grey Cup in franchise history in 2007, the same year he was named the league's Most Outstanding Player.

He also played for Toronto, Edmonton and Saskatchewan before retiring for football in December 2014.

Joseph won 41 games and three Southland Conference championships as a starter for the Cowboys from 1992-95 including leading the program to its first-ever playoff victory (1992) and first national semifinal appearance (1995).

He was named the SLC and Louisiana Player of the Year in 1995 after leading the Cowboys to a 13-1 record and No. 1 ranking for most of the season. In 1992, he was selected as the Southland and Louisiana Rookie of the Year. He earned first team all-SLC and all-Louisiana honors in 1995 and earned second team all-conference honors as a junior in 1994.

Joseph originally signed with the Cincinnati Bengals as an undrafted free agent in 1996 where he spent most of the season as the third string quarterback.

He played quarterback for the NFL Europe's London Monarchs in 1997 and later signed with the Washington Redskins later that year as a tailback. In the spring of 1998, he played for the Rhien Fire of the NFL Europe as a safety and helped lead his team to the World Bowl Championship.

He followed that season up signing with the Seattle Seahawks where he played safety the next four seasons. After being released in April 2002, Joseph signed with Ottawa of the Canadian Football League and made his CFL debut on July 1, 2003 and threw his first CFL touchdown pass in the fourth quarter against Calgary

He continued as career that led him to being one of just three players in league history to exceed 4,000 yards passing (4,466) and 1,000 rushing (1,006) in a season when he achieved the feat in 2005.

In 2007 he rushed for 13 touchdowns, the second most by a QB in a single season in CFL history. That same year he led the Saskatchewan Roughriders to a Grey Cup Championship and became the first Roughrider to win the CFL's Most Outstanding Player Award since the 1976 season.

Joseph was inducted into the McNeese Sports Hall of Fame in 2006 and the Southland Hall of Honor in 2012.

He recruits the Lafayette area.

DEFENSIVE LINE

Lark Hebert

McNeese, 1987

17th Year at McNeese

"Lark is a very loyal coach, going on his 15th year here at McNeese. He has coached all areas and now, I'm his third head coach. We are glad to have Lark remain as a Cowboy." - Head Coach Lance Guidry

Veteran McNeese coach Lark Hebert is in his 17th year on the McNeese staff and the second straight as the defensive line coach after serving the previous 14 years as the linebacker's lead man.

Hebert was a four-year letterman for the Cowboys during his playing career, participating as both an offensive and defensive lineman.

After his freshman season, he was moved to the offensive side of the ball where he started the next three years on the offensive line, blocking for Hall of Fame running back Buford Jordan.

He earned second team all-Southland Conference and all-Louisiana honors during his time as well as being named a preseason all-American prior to his senior season.

Last season, the defensive line took a hit with the loss of starter Chris Livings, but the Cowboys were still dominant up front, leading the nation in rushing yards per game allowed with a school and Southland Conference record 54.5 average. In addition, the Cowboys ranked No. 1 in the FCS in first downs allowed and third down conversion defense.

In 2016, defensive linemen Jammerio Gross-Whitaker and Chris Livings combined for 15.5 of the team's 23 total sacks and 27 of the64 tackles for loss. Gross-Whitaker went on to earn second team all-conference honors.

In 2015, his linebacker corps of Bo Brown and Ashari Goins were two of the most physical in the league. The two tied for the team lead with four sacks each while Goins ranked second on the team with 62 total tackles as Brown added 51. Brown garnered first team all-conference honors - the third straight year he was recognized on the postseason team - while Goins was named to the all-SLC second team.

Combined, McNeese's linebackers combined for 8.5 of the team's 27 total sacks and 20.5 of the 73 tackles for loss.

In 2014, Hebert coached a linebacker group that posted 7 sacks and 19 1/2 tackles for a loss. Bo Brown led the group with 43 total tackles on the season to go along with five tackles for a loss and a half sack on his way to all-conference honors. Wallace Scott led the unit with 3 1/2 sacks while freshman Goins posted two sacks.

During his tenure he helped coach Roderick Royal to all-America honors in both the 2002 and 2003 seasons while also coaching 19 all-Southland Conference selections, including nine on the first team.

As a prep coach, Hebert served as head coach at Sulphur High, Beau Chene High and Elton High. Three times his teams won a district title and he compiled an overall 53-35 won-lost record. Twice his teams posted 10-2 marks, once at Elton and again at Sulphur, and he was named a district coach of the year (twice) and parish coach of the year.

As a player, was a three-year starter for the Cowboys from 1983-85 after being moved over from the defensive side the ball following his 1982 freshman season. Earned all-conference and all-Louisiana honors while blocking for Hall of Fame running back and Cowboy legend Buford Jordan.

Running Backs • Special Teams Coordinator

Dennis Smith

University of Miami, 2005

3rd Year at McNeese

"Dennis has a variety of qualities that makes him a special coach. His experience as an FBS director of football operations and recruiting coordinator will help define our daily, weekly, and seasonal football activities. Spending most of his coaching career in Florida, he's helped our program reach out to new recruiting grounds." -

Head Coach Lance Guidry

Dennis Smith, an energetic young coach who brings strong ties to talent-rich South Florida, is in his third season with the Cowboys and serves as the team's running backs coach as well as special teams coordinator.

This coming season, he'll get to coach perhaps the deepest group of running backs in school history as the Cowboys return starters David Hamm (73.2 ypg) and Justin Pratt (60.3 ypg) as well as getting back the services of three-year starter Ryan Ross who missed last season due to an ankle injury.

In all, McNeese will return 100 percent of its running back yards from 2017.

Hamm went on to earn first team all-Southland Conference honors after ranking third in the league in average (73.2). Pratt picked up honorable mention honors.

Also, he coached kicker Gunnar Raborn who picked up All-American honors from the Associated Press, AFCA and Phile Steele. He's just the second kicker in school history to be named all-American by three different organizations in the same year (Blake Bercegeay in 2006).

In 2016, the Cowboys scored 18 of the team's 41 offensive touchdowns in the running game with three players - Ryan Ross, Justin Pratt and Dylan Long - each rushing for five.

The running back corps also hauled in 62 passes on the season and scored four touchdowns off of catches.

In the special team's area, Smith had to break in a new starting place kicker and starting punter. Kickers Gunnar Raborn and Trent Manuel combined to make 12 of 16 field goals and 40 of 44 PATs while true freshman punter Michael Mack averaged 38 yards per punt and had 19 downed inside the 20-yard line.

Senior returner Khalil Thomas earned first team All-Southland Conference honors after he averaged 27.8 yards per return and had one returned 97 yards for a touchdown.

Prior to joining the McNeese staff in 2016, he spent the 2015 season at Florida A&M working with the tight ends and directed the FAMU special teams unit.

Before FAMU, he worked two seasons as wide receivers and special teams coach at Itawamba Community College in Fulton, Mississippi where his receiving group ranked second among Mississippi junior colleges in total receptions with 227.

A 2005 graduate of the University of Miami, he worked as assistant director of football operations at The U in 2006 before spending six seasons at Florida International, serving in various roles including assistant director of football operations (2007); graduate assistant coach for offense (2008-10); director of player personnel and quality control (2011); and recruiting coordinator and tight ends coach (2012), helping FIU bring in the top recruiting class in the Sun Belt Conference in 2011 and 2012.

LINEBACKERS

Charlie Ayro

McNeese, 2003

5th Year at McNeese; 3rd since returning in 2016

"You don't become an all-time leading tackler in McNeese history without mastering your craft and truly understanding what the opposition is trying to do. Charlie is a great teacher of the game keeps the 'DWA' brand alive and well." -

Head Coach Lance Guidry

McNeese Hall of Fame linebacker Charlie Ayro is in his third season on the Cowboys' staff, serving as the teacher of the position he once dominated.

In the prior two years, he's instilled his knowledge of a position he once dominated as a player.

In 2017, the Cowboys ranked No. 1in the FCS in rushing defense, first downs defense, and third down conversion defense.

He also coached two-time team captain and all-conference performer Ashari Goins as well as newcomer BJ Blunt who came on strong when moved from safety to the linebacker position. Blunt earned all-conference honorable metion honors for the season.

In his first season of his second stint on staff, he mentored an agressive and somewhat young linebacker group that was led by team captain Ashari Goins and Christian Jacobs. Goins finished third on the team with 57 total tackles to go along with five tackles for a loss.

Five times in that season, the Cowboys held opponents to less than 100 yards rushing with a low of 5 yards by Tarleton State.

Ayro spent 12 years at the high school ranks prior to returning to McNeese, most recently as the defensive coordinator at Seven Lakes High School in Katy, Texas.

He was last on the Cowboys' staff in the 2002 and 2003 seasons where her helped coach the Cowboys to the 2002 FCS national championship game and back-to-back Southland Conference championships. During that time he assisted with the defensive backs, coaching 2002 SLC Player of the Year Hadley Prince and NFL draftee Keith Smith.

As a player for McNeese, he was a consensus all-American for the Cowboys from 1995-98. He led the team in tackles three seasons and in addition to his career record in the category, his 171 tackles in 1998 still stands as a single-season record. Also that year he was named the conference's defensive player of the year and was named to five all-America teams.

He had a stint in the professional ranks, playing arena football.

After he earned his master's degree at McNeese in 2003, he went on to coach six seasons at Lamar Consolidated as linebacker coach from 2004-09 and helping the Mustangs to the Division I 4A Texas State Championship in 2007. He served as defensive coordinator at LaGrange High School here in Lake Charles from 2010-12 before moving back to Texas in Katy.

Ayro, a 2010 inductee into the McNeese Sports Hall of Fame, recruits the Houston area.

CORNERBACKS

Zach Bronson

McNeese, 2008

5th Year at McNeese; 3rd since returning in 2016

"Zach's biggest asset has always been his ability to relate to all people and players. He was one of the all-time greats to play at McNeese, however it's his humble disposition that makes him a mentor and the ideal role model. He will always be the standard of what a NFL safety looks like, walks like, plays like, but more importantly, acts like."

- Head Coach Lance Guidry

Another one of McNeese's all-time greats and Hall of Famer, Zach Bronson, is in his third season on staff in his second stint, and coaches the safeties.

His expertise and experience at the position allows him to give top-notch teaching to the Cowboys' secondary.

Last season, he coached a defensive backfield that picked off 14 of the team's 16 pass interceptions, including four of those that were returned for touchdowns - all for of those coming agianst UIW to tie an NCAA all-division single-game record.

Buck safety Dominique Hill earned first team all-conference honors in the process.

In 2016, that teaching came to fruition as McNeese picked off eight passes with three being returned for touchdowns. CB Jermained Antoine stepped in for three of those pics and returned two for scores.

A native of Jasper, Texas, Bronson is the only 4-time first team all-Southland Conference player from McNeese - one of just six in the history of the league.

A 1996 consensus all-American and 2007 McNeese Sports Hall of Fame inductee, Bronson spent the 2007-2009 seasons as a graduate assistant on the Cowboys' coaching staff, helping the team to back-to-back conference championships.

Following his GA stint at McNeese, Bronson coached football and track at Westside High School in Houston from 2009-12 and spent the last two seasons on the staff at Beaumont-Kelly.

As a player for the Cowboys from 1993-96, he won two conference championships and was a member of that memorable 1995 team that finished the season 13-1 with an appearance in the 1-AA (now FCS) semifinals.

Following his collegiate career, Bronson signed as an undrafted free agent by the San Francisco 49ers in 1997, and during his rookie season, recorded 24 tackles with an interception. He went on to play eight seasons in the NFL, seven with the 49ers (1997-2003) and one at St. Louis (2004). He ended his career with 247 tackles, 19 interceptions and two touchdowns.

His 346 interception return yards with the 49ers is ranked as the 10th-most in franchise history and currently holds the franchise record with the longest interception return of 97 yards.

Bronson recruits the Beaumont and Golden Triangle areas.

SAFETIES

Wayne Cordova

McNeese, 2005

2nd Year at McNeese

"Wayne is another former Cowboy who played in the 1997 national championship game. He has a great knowledge of defensive football and is passionate about McNeese and the job he does."

- Head Coach Lance Guidry

Wayne Cordova, a standout linebacker for McNeese from 1996-99, is in his second year on staff and will coach the defensive backfield.

In 2017, he coached the Buck Safeties that included first team all-conference selection Dominique Hill, as well as handling the Director of Football Operations duties.

Cordova was a member of the 1997 National Championship Runner-Up team and helped the Cowboys win the 1997 SLC championship while making two playoff appearances.

He spent the 2016 season at Newman High School where he was the defensive coordinator, and prior to that, was on the Tulane Green Wave staff for two years as the Director of Player Personnel-External Relations.

A native of the seventh ward, Cordova previously served as the head coach at St. Augustine (2006-2008) and served as an assistant coach at Destrehan (2012-2013) and Brother Martin (2009-2011). Cordova was serving as the Director of Player Personnel at Grambling (2013) when Curtis Johnson hired him at Tulane.

As a player, Cordova earned first team all-conference honors as a senior in 1999 and was named a team captain that same year. In addition, he was named the team's Johnnnie Caldarera Defensive Player of the Year after posting 113 tackles. He ended his career with 306 total tackles, ranking 11th on the school's career record list.

Cordova knows river parishes very well and also the Catholic League. He's also extremely familiar with New Orleans, his hometown.

He has a strong connection to athletes he's recruited in the past with backgrounds similar to his. Cordova was raised by a father who worked for the sheriff's office and a mother who worked an office job at Children's Hospital.

TIGHT ENDS

Tyler Bolfing

McNeese, 2015

1st Year at McNeese

"What a great get Tyler is for the Cowboys! He is a very smart young coach who is wise way beyond his years, and he's another McNeese alum. He's a class act and I expect him to be a climber in this profession."

- Head Coach Lance Guidry

Tyler Bolfing returns to his alma mater in 2018 and will coach the tight ends.

The former McNeese quarterback and native of Montgomery, Texas, spent the previous two seasons at Louisiana-Monroe with former Cowboys' head coach Matt Viator.

At ULM, Bolfing assisted with an offensive unit that was one of the most productive in all of FBS last season.

The Warhawks ranked No. 21 in the country in total offense (458.0 yards per game), 24th in passing offense (287.7 ypg), and was 25th in scoring offense (33.9).

He assisted in coaching wide receiver and kick returner Marcus Green, who earned first team All-Sun Belt honors as well as being named an All-American by the Sporting News, Football Writers Association of America, CollegeFootballNews.com, and Pro Football Focus.

Bolfing's offense also produced all-conference players in lineman Frank Sutton and wide receiver RJ Turner. Quarterback Caleb Evans and wide receiver Brian Williams picked up honorable mention honors.

As a QB at McNeese, Bolfing played in 27 games from 2012-14, making five starts, and completed 98 of 177 passes for 1,252 yards and eight touchdowns. He hung up the cleats his senior season in 2015 due to an injury but stayed on staff as a student assistant and helped the Cowboys to a perfect 10-0 regular season and a Southland Conference championship.

He was part of several memorable games, including wins at FBS opponents Middle Tennessee (27-21 in 2012) and South Florida (53-21, 2013), as well as a near college football stunner at Nebraska (lost 31-24 in 2014).

In the win at South Florida, the largest margin of victory by an FCS team over a then-BCS opponent in NCAA history, Bolfing completed all four of his passes for 37 yards.

He got the start against Nebraska and completed 9 of 17 passes for 101 yards.

At Montgomery HS, he earned first team all-district honors as a senior and was named to the Texas Sports Writers Association honorable mention team. During his high school career, Bolfing accumulated 4,561 passing yards, 57 touchdowns, and completed 57 percent of his passes.

He earned his bachelor's degree at in health and human performance at McNeese in 2015.

Bolfing is married to the former Lakeyn Fontenot, who is Assistant AD for Event Management and Facilities at McNeese, and a former Cowgirl softball player.

Alec Osbourne

ULM, 2015

1st Year at McNeese

"It's exciting to have someone come on board with the passion and knowledge of the game like Alec. He's going to be a great addition to our staff and will do a nice job working with the defensive ends."

- Head Coach Lance Guidry

Alec Osborne will be making his debut on the McNeese sidelines this fall as the new defensive ends coach.

Osborne comes to Lake Charles after spending the 2017 season up the road at Northwestern State where he helped the Demons' defensive linemen as well as assisting recruiting in Houston.

In his first season, Osborne helped Obi Iheoma and Lyn Clark earn honorable mention All-Southland Conference honors.

Osborne was a three-year letterman at ULM, earning second-team All-Louisiana honors as a tight end in 2014 when he caught 17 passes for 116 yards and a touchdown.

A two-year starter for the Warhawks, Osborne earned his bachelor's of business administration degree with a concentration in finance and management in 2015. He completed his master's degree in sport administration from ULM in May.

Osborne was a member of the ULM Student-Athlete Advisory Committee in 2014 and completed his undergraduate degree in three-and-a-half years with a 3.2 GPA.

He was an honorable mention all-state tight end at Dutchtown High School in Geismar before playing for the Warhawks.

2017 Season Review

In Lance Guidry's second season at the helm, the Cowboys posted a 9-2 record but were shockingly left out of the FCS playoffs and becoming the first team from one of the top six FCS leagues to not make the playoffs when posting at least nine wins on the season. But despite the snub by the selection committee, the Cowboys still posted a memorable year that saw several records met or broken, a defensive unit that dominated in nearly every rushing category, and an offense that put up big numbers even with a young and inexperienced line.

2017 Game Recaps

Game 1 • Nicholls 37, McNeese 35
Aug. 31 at Guidry Stadium • Thibodaux, La. (9,024)

THIBODAUX – Nicholls' kicker Lorran Fonseca's 32-yard field goal as time expired gave his Colonels a stunning 37-35 Southland Conference win over McNeese here Thursday in the season opener for both teams.

McNeese took a 35-34 lead with 3:02 to play when wide receiver Nick Edwards took an end-around hand off from quarterback James Tabary and sprinted 10 yards for the score. The 2-point conversion failed and McNeese held a 1-point lead.

On the ensuing kickoff, Colonels' return man Tuskani Figaro returned the kick 25 yards to set up Nicholls at its own 32-yard line. A pass interference called against McNeese on a first down play at the 33-yard line set the Colonels up at the McNeese 21. Two plays later, Fonseca split the uprights with the game winner.

McNeese led 9-7 at the half but could've put the game away in the first 30 minutes. Five times the Cowboys had a first-down-and-10 at the Nicholls 16 yard line or closer and came away with just nine points.

The Cowboys took a 16-7 lead early in the third quarter when Tabary found Tavarious Battiste for a 30-yard touchdown strike, the team's first TD of the night.

McNeese forced a 3-and-out on Nicholls' ensuing possession and was driving for more points when Tabary was picked off by Colonel linebacker Jonavon Lewis who returned it 67 yards for the score and cut into the lead to make it 16-13 with 6:18 to play.

After the two teams swapped unsuccessful possessions, Tabary hit Darious Crawley for a 9-yard score to make it 22-14 with 2:29 to play. Then on the Colonels' first play of their next possession, quarterback Chase Fourcade found Dami Jeanpiere who twisted his way to a 77-yard score and once again cutting the margin to 22-21 with 2:07 to play in the third.

Tabary and Battiste connected again for a 28-yard score to make it 29-21 with 13:02 to play in the game but Nicholls scored two straight touchdowns to go up 34-29 at the 5:43 mark with the second TD coming off a Tabary interception at the Cowboys' 18-yard line.

But before Nicholls took the lead, Cowboys' running back David Hamm powered through the line and sprinted 77 yards for a score that would've put the Cowboys up by nine again, only to have it called back on a holding penalty.

Game 2 • McNeese 42, Florida Tech 21
Sept. 9 at Cowboy Stadium • Lake Charles, La. (11,101)

LAKE CHARLES – Justin Pratt ran for 83 yards and scored three touchdowns (two rushing and one receiving) while Benjamin Jones put up 82 yards and a score and put the game away with a 69-yard touchdown run as McNeese posted a 42-21 win over a gritty Florida Tech team in the home opener.

The win evened the Cowboys record at 1-1 on the season as Florida Tech fell to 1-1.

Quarterback James Tabary completed 21 of 29 passes for 249 yards and two scores but was sacked a total of five times by the athletic Division II team.

FIT quarterback Mark Cato gave the Cowboys fits on the night, throwing for 333 yards and two touchdowns while completing a good portion of those passes while scrambling from McNeese's defense.

The Panthers rolled up 366 total yards but posted just 33 on the ground. That was in large part to the McNeese defense that was able to sack Cato six times in the game to go along with nine tackles for a loss. But FIT's offense threw a curveball at the Cowboys that allowed it to hang in there until late in the third quarter.

Things looked flawless for the Cowboys early on as they opened up a 21-0 lead through the first 27 minutes of the game. Tabary was near perfect in the first quarter as well, hitting 9 of 10 passes for 127 yards and a touchdown, and finished the first half 13 of 17 for 193 yards and two scores.

Pratt scored the first of two TDs with 11:50 to play in the first quarter on a 1-yard dive. Five minutes later, wide receiver Cyron Sutton hauled in a one-handed overhead pass from Tabary for a 28-yard score to put the Cowboys up 14-0. Then with 3:31 to play in the second quarter, Pratt found pay dirt for the second time on a 7-yard pass from Tabary to make it 21-0.

The Panther found the endzone for the first time with 1:04 to play in the half when Cato found Antwuan Haynes for an 11-yard score as McNeese held a 21-7 lead at the half.

FIT came out in the second half and drove down the field, ending with a 20-yard touchdown connection from Cato to Romell Guerrier after hit appeared McNeese defensive back Kyree McLean had intercepted the pass only to have Guerrier come up with the ball and cut the Cowboys lead to 21-14 with 9:42 to play in the third quarter.

The Cowboys got a big break on the next series when punter Alex Kjellsten had to go high on a bad snap, then scrambled to get away from the rushing defense and was able to boot the ball away. Standing on the 7-yard line was FIT returner Demetrius Frazier who had the line drive punt go through his hands, touching both, while Sutton covered the ball at the 2 and giving it back to the Cowboys.

Game 3 • McNeese 34, Alcorn 27
Sept. 16 at Spinks-Casey Stadium • Lorman, Miss. (12,608)

LORMAN, Mississippi – Kent Shelby reached over the back of an Alcorn State defender to haul in the game-winning touchdown pass from James Tabary with 26 seconds to play and McNeese outlasted the Braves 34-27 in a back-and-forth FCS regional football game.

The touchdown followed a wacky string of situations that appeared to have each team in prime position for the win.

After Alcorn (1-2) tied the game at 27-27 with 12:28 to play, McNeese (2-1) had a nice drive going that got the ball to the Alcorn 20 following a 27-yard Tabary pass to Lawayne Ross. On the next play, Tabary's pass would be intercepted at the 3-yard line by ASU's Javis Morrison who returned it 30 yards to the 33.

Facing a 3rd-and-10, Braves quarterback, Lenorris Footman, kept the drive alive with a 16-yard completion as the clock ticked under nine minutes.

On 2nd-and-10 at the McNeese 40, Footman's deep pass down the sideline was intercepted by Calum Foster at the 3-yard line as the Cowboys squashed the momentum ASU had built.

After McNeese was unable to move the ball when being pinned deep, the Cowboys punted it away while the ASU returner took the kick off a hop at the 50 and weaved his way to the endzone for the score. But an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty called on the Braves on the punt for leaping, gave the Cowboys the ball back at the 17-yard line.

On the next play, Tabary connected with Darious Crawley on a slant route and Crawley sprinted his way for the score. But that would be called back as well on a personal foul on McNeese.

The Cowboys would punt it away with 2:11 to play and Alcorn began its drive at its own 27-yard line.

McNeese's defense would hold the Braves to a three-and-out and the Cowboys would take possession one final time with 1:27 to play and the ball at their own 38.

Benjamin Jones picked up 14 yards on the first play on a pass from Tabary. Tabary then rushed for 6 yards and hit Shelby for 9 more yards to set the ball up at the 33 and leading to the game-winner.

Both teams combined for 865 yards in the game with the Cowboys racking up 446 yards and Alcorn 416, all of those coming through the air as the Cowboys' defense held the Braves to zero rushing yards on 19 carries.

Tabary completed 24 of 34 passes for 310 yards and four touchdowns. Ross caught five passes for 72 yards while Crawley made five grabs for 52 yards and a touchdown. Cyron Sutton and Shelby each had touchdown catches, Sutton's being a 24-yard score with 10:59 to play in the second quarter to give the Cowboys a 14-7 lead.

Game 4 • McNeese 27, Houston Baptist 12
Sept. 23 at Cowboy Stadium • Lake Charles, La. (11,398)

LAKE CHARLES - David Hamm rushed for 61 of his 74 yards in the second half including the delivery of the knockout punch with a 1-yard touchdown dive with 38 seconds to play while McNeese's defense provided the blows that kept the Cowboys alive in a 27-12 Southland Conference win over Houston Baptist in the first-ever matchup between the two schools.

The win was the third straight for the Cowboys (3-1, 1-1) as they'll play the next two games on the road beginning with Stephen F. Austin next week.

HBU dropped to 1-3 overall and 0-2 in league play but was able to put quite a scare into the Cowboys before finally bowing out late.

Neither team had much of an offensive attack – McNeese with 306 total yards while the Huskies tallied just 132. But the Cowboys' defense stepped up in critical times to keep the Huskies from taking advantage of some key situations.

Three straight series in the first half after McNeese took a 3-0 lead on a Gunnar Raborn 40-yard field goal with 7:03 to play in the first quarter, the Cowboys turned the ball over, the first being an interception that was returned 21 yards for a touchdown by HBU's Raphael Lewis to put HBU up 10-3 right after the Huskies tied the game at 3-3 on an Alec Chadwick 29-yard field goal.

McNeese drove down to the HBU 9-yard line on the next drive, and facing a 1st-and-goal, Benjamin Jones ran to the 5-yard line where he bumped into the back of his offensive lineman and fumbled the ball and HBU recovered at the 3.

After the Cowboys forced HBU in to a punt, McNeese got the ball down to the HBU 2 after a pass interference call on the play before where James Tabary's pass was intercepted because of the foul. The next play, Tabary mishandled the snap and fumbled it away at the 3.

The defense got it back on the next possession when Colby Burton intercepted a Bailey Zappe pass at the HBU 31 with 2:58 to play in the half.

McNeese moved the ball inside the 10-yard line for the third straight series but had to settle for a 25-yard field goal to cut the HBU lead to 10-6 with 54 seconds to play in the half.

Hamm led all rushers with 74 yards on 16 carries and posted a 4.6 yards per carry average.

Game 5 • #25 McNeese 35, Stephen F. Austin 0
Sept. 30 at Homer Bryce Stadium • Nacogdoches, Texas (12,812)

NACOGDOCHES, Texas – McNeese was running on all cylinders against Stephen F. Austin as the 25th-ranked Cowboys shutout the previously league unbeaten Lumberjacks by a score of 35-0 behind 342 rushing yards and 505 total.

The win was the fourth straight for McNeese (4-1, 2-1 SLC) while the margin of victory was the largest in a Cowboys' win in the history of the series. It was also the second shutout for McNeese in the series with the only other one coming back in the 1960 season.

David Hamm led McNeese with 164 yards rushing on 14 carries and a touchdown while Justin Pratt added 125 yards on 15 carries. The two became the first duo since 2014 to rush for 100 yards in the same game.

It's also the first time since 2015 McNeese has rushed for over 300 yards in a game.

In addition to the running game, the Cowboys threw for 163 yards as James Tabary connected on 12 of 24 passes for 158 yards and three touchdowns while Joe Lissard hit 1 of 2 passes for five yards.

Defensively, the nation's No. 2 rushing defense held SFA to 61 yards on the ground and 224 total yards.

Freshman Cody Roscoe picked off his first career pass along with recording his first career sack and forced fumble while getting more action at defensive end due to the injury of Chris Livings.

Buck safety Dominique Hill had a stellar game as he returned from an injury that forced him to miss last week's contest against HBU. Hill led the team with nine tackles, broke up three passes, had 1.5 tackles for a loss and recovered a fumble.

McNeese sacked the SFA quarterback four times and posted eight tackles for a loss.

The Cowboys came up with one of the plays of the game early on when Roscoe intercepted Jake Blumrick's pass in the endzone after SFA used a hurry up offense to move into the red-zone in a matter of minutes.

That set up an 11-play, 80-yard drive that ended when wide receiver Cyron Sutton took a handoff on an end-around and sprinted 15 yards for the score to make it 7-0 at the 7:44 mark of the first quarter.

After the break, Kent Shelby reeled in an 8-yard pass from Tabary to make it 28-0. The catch extended Shelby's streak to 29 consecutive games with a reception while Tabary extended his multiple-TD game streak to five.

He wasn't done, however, as he found a diving Parker Orgeron on a 29-yard strike to put the Cowboys up 35-0 with 2:19 to play in the third quarter.

Orgeron, Pratt, Ross and Tavarious Battiste each pulled in two passes to lead the team while Orgeron led the way with 38 receiving yards.

Game 6 • # 22 McNeese 13, Abilene Christian 7
Oct. 7 at Wildcat Stadium • Abilene, Texas (10,564)

ABILENE, Texas – Justin Pratt clipped the 100-yard rushing mark for the second straight game with 109 as the DWA (Defense With Attitude) came up big time and time again by allowing 138 total yards as the 22nd-ranked McNeese Cowboys held on to beat Abilene Christian 13-7.

McNeese (5-1, 3-1 SLC) won for the fifth straight time and third consecutive game away from home. McNeese was able to run out the clock when on a third-and-long with 1:11 to play, two penalties were called on the incomplete pass play, one on the Cowboys for an illegal man downfield, and the second on ACU for unsportsmanlike conduct. That second penalty gave McNeese the first down as Tabary twice took a knee to run out the clock.

McNeese tallied 338 total yards with 163 rushing and 175 passing. Quarterback James Tabary completed 16 of 26 passes for the 175 with a touchdown, and for the second straight game, did not throw an interception.

When the Cowboys seemed to get a drive going, it would stall, especially in the second half when both teams failed to put points on the scoreboard.

Hamm, who rushed for 165 yards in last week's win at Stephen F. Austin, picked up 41 yards on 11 carries.

McNeese could've made it a two-score game with under 12 minutes to play when facing a 4th-and-1 at the ACU 10, but instead of kicking a field goal to make it a 16-7 game, the Cowboys elected to go for it and Pratt was hit for no gain as the Wildcats took over on downs.

And hold up they did. The Wildcats only crossed midfield three times in the game, twice in the second half, and were held to 24 yards rushing and 114 passing. ACU quarterback Dallas Sealey completed 18 of 35 passes for 114 yards and was sacked twice by McNeese – BJ Blunt and Andre Fuller.

The Cowboys also had nine tackles for a loss and four pass break ups.

Kent Shelby led all receivers with six catches for 99 yards and extended his streak to 30 consecutive games when catching a pass.

McNeese got on the board first after Gunnar Raborn made a 32-yard field goal to make it 3-0 with 3:23 to play in the first quarter.

On its second drive of the game, McNeese put together a 13-play drive that included a couple of running plays that went for 10 yards or more by Pratt but a 3rd-and-9 lob by Tabary to Kent Shelby end the endzone fell incomplete and the Cowboys had to settle for Raborn's field goal.

2017 Game Recaps

Game 7 • #19 McNeese 55, Incarnate Word 7
Oct. 21 at Cowboy Stadium • Lake Charles, La. (9,732)

LAKE CHARLES – McNeese's D.W.A. (Defense With Attitude) made NCAA history on Saturday night when it returned four pass interceptions for touchdowns which helped sparked the 19th-ranked Cowboys to a 55-7 Homecoming win over Incarnate Word.

The four pick-sixes tied an all-division NCAA record which had first been set by Houston in 1987. Millikin of the Division III ranks tied the mark in 1999 while Northwestern State (2003) and Nicholls (2007) matched it while setting a new Southland Conference record. Now the Cowboys join the group as one of five schools in NCAA history to ever achieve the feat.

In all, McNeese intercepted five UIW passes on the night marking the most picks in a game since intercepting five against Incarnate Word in the 2014 season.

The win was the sixth straight for the Cowboys (6-1, 4-1 SLC) as they remain in title contention. UIW fell to 1-6 overall and 1-4 in league play.

The only bright spot for the Cardinals came on the game's opening kickoff when Desmond Hite took the kick from his own 4-yard line and returned it 96 yards for the score to give UIW a quick 7-0 lead.

McNeese got on the board by way of a 35-yard field goal from Gunnar Raborn to make it 7-3 with 4:50 to play in the first quarter then the first of two consecutive pick-sixes was made when Calum Foster stepped in front of a Sean Brophy pass and returned it 42 yards for the score to make it 10-7.

On UIW's next possession and facing a second-and-10 at its own 47, Brophy was again picked off, this time by Colby Burton who sprinted his way 51 yards for the score and to give his Cowboys a 17-7 lead just 1:48 after Foster's score.

Dominique Hill added a 38-yard interception return for a touchdown with 8:45 to play in the third quarter to make it 45-7, then with 7:01 to play in the fourth quarter, backup linebacker Marcus Foster picked off a pass and scampered 29 yards for a score to cap the game's scoring.

McNeese led 24-7 at the half and quickly went up 38-7 with two scores within four minutes of each other.

David Hamm scored the first touchdown of the second half on a 54-yard run up the middle to score with 13:44 to play. Then Tabary found Justin Pratt for a 7-yard score with 9:49 to play. That was followed by Hill's interception score as the Cowboys put 21 points up in the third quarter.

As a team, McNeese put up 478 total offensive yards, 321 of those passing as Lissard added 45 yards on 4 of 8 completions.

Game 8 • # 4 Central Arkansas 47, #18 McNeese 17
Oct. 28 at Estes Stadium • Conway, Ark. (9,887)

CONWAY, Arkansas – Big plays were the difference maker in the highly anticipated Southland Conference showdown between McNeese and Central Arkansas.

Unfortunately for the Cowboys, all of those plays were created by the Bears as No. 4 UCA whipped No. 18 McNeese, 47-17, and snapping McNeese's six-game winning streak.

The Bears scored on touchdown passes of 54, 55 and 48 yards as well as scoring on a 28-yard blocked punt return for a touchdown and a 25-yard sack then fumble recovery return for a score. UCA led 30-10 at the half.

The loss dropped the Cowboys to 6-2 overall and 4-2 in conference play while UCA, winners of seven consecutive games, improved to 7-1 on the season while remaining perfect in league play at 6-0.

McNeese has been riding the stellar play of its defense the last four weeks and coming off an NCAA record-tying performance with four pass interceptions returned for touchdowns against Incarnate Word, but on Saturday, it was UCA's defense that took advantage of McNeese's offensive miscues and scored two non-offensive touchdowns – one on special teams and another on defense.

The Cowboys outgained the Bears in total offense 417-323 and nearly doubled up the home team in first downs by a 20-11 margin. But all fingers pointed towards the big plays created by the Bears.

Things didn't start out bleak for McNeese as the Cowboys held a 10-9 lead after one quarter.

The Bears took the first lead on a 34-yard field goal by Matt Cummins to make it 3-0 just 2:26 into the game.

On the ensuing possession, a 42-yard connection from James Tabary to Kent Shelby via an acrobatic grab by Shelby when reaching over the defender, helped set up a 1-yard Justin Pratt run to put the Cowboys up 7-3 with 9:27 to play in the quarter.

After both teams' offenses went three-and-out, the Bears grabbed a 9-7 lead after a Hayden Hildebrand 54-yard touchdown pass to Brandon Cox. The point after was no good.

McNeese went back up 10-9 following a Gunnar Raborn 29-yard field goal with six seconds to play in the first but was held out of the endzone despite having a first-and-goal at the 4-yard line.

The flood gates opened up in the second quarter as the Bears scored on a 5-yard pass by Hildebrand, a 28-yard blocked punt and scoop by Jackie Harvell, and a 55-yard yard pass by Hildebrand to Cox to give UCA a 30-10 halftime lead.

David Hamm led all rushers with 110 yards one 16 carries while Pratt added 95 yards on 17 carries with a score.

2017 Game Recaps

Game 9 • #22 McNeese 13, Southeastern Louisiana 3
Nov. 4 at Cowboy Stadium • Lake Charles, La. (7,332)

LAKE CHARLES – McNeese's Defense With Attitude knew it would be challenged against Southeastern Louisiana and the nation's third-best running offense.

Challenge met.

The Cowboys' No. 1 rushing defense in the FCS held the Lions to their lowest rushing output of the season of 77 yards, 230 yards below their game average, and 176 total offensive yards while posting a 13-3 win in a game that took the appearance of an old-school, defensive battle.

The win improved the 22nd-ranked Cowboys' record to 7-2 overall and 5-2 in Southland Conference play as they keep their postseason hopes alive. SLU fell to 5-5 on the season and 5-3 in the league.

Offensively, McNeese outgained SLU 284-176 in total yards – 89 rushing and 195 through the air. The Lions averaged just 1.8 yards per carry while the Cowboys planted seven tackles for a loss and recorded one sack.

Senior Buck Safety Dominique Hill had the game of the night with 13 tackles, an interception, fumble return and three-and-a-half tackles for a loss.

Offenses by both teams were held in check throughout the game.

The teams combined to punt 17 times in the game and was 7 of 34 combined in third-down conversions (McNeese was 2 of 16, SLU 5 of 18).

After trailing 3-0 at the half, McNeese came out in the third quarter with a hurry up offense and marched 66 yards on 12 plays and capped the drive with a 37-yard field goal by Gunnar Raborn to tie the game 3-3 with 11:06 to play in the third.

SLU was held to a three-and-out series as the Cowboys got the ball back, this time going 61 yards on 12 plays but ending with another field goal by Raborn, this time from 30 yards outs, to put the Cowboys up 6-3 with 4:42 to play in the quarter.

The Cowboys dominated the third quarter, holding the ball for nearly 12 minutes while stifling SLU's offense to minus-four yards and just seven plays.

Running back David Hamm spread the margin to 13-3 late in the fourth quarter with a 43-yard touchdown run for the only TD of the game and giving the Cowboys a 13-3 lead with 4:26 to play in the fourth quarter.

Hamm finished the game with 80 yards on 17 carries and a touchdown while quarterback James Tabary completed 17 of 33 passes for 195 yards.

Game 10 • #18 McNeese 44, Northwestern State 24
Nov. 11 at Cowboy Stadium • Lake Charles, La. (10,132)

CLAKE CHARLES – McNeese built a 37-3 third quarter lead on Northwestern State before the Demons barreled back to make it a game at 37-24 late in the fourth, but a 6-yard David Hamm touchdown run with 2:06 left closed the lid on a 44-24 Southland Conference win for the Cowboys and capping a perfect 5-0 regular season home slate as 20 seniors bid farewell to The Hole.

The improved McNeese to 8-2 on the season and 6-2 in league play. Northwestern State saw its two-game winning streak come to an end as it falls to 3-7 overall and 3-5 in the conference.

McNeese's No. 1 ranked rushing defense in the FCS kept its grip on the Demons' running game throughout the night, holding them to 50 yards on 24 carries for a 2.1 per carry average.

However, the Demons got a school-record performance by quarterback Clay Holgorsen who ignited an NSU offense with a record-breaking 381 passing yards, 237 of those in a 21-point second half. That yardage broke legendary quarterback Bobby Hebert's mark. The Demons scored 21 unanswered points before Hamm's touchdown run late ended the momentum.

McNeese quarterback James Tabary put up some good numbers as well behind center, completing 17 of 28 passes for 285 yards and three touchdowns, and for the third straight game and fifth out of the last six, did not throw an interception.

The running game was just as stout, picking up 179 yards with 80 of those coming from Hamm while wide receiver Tavarious Battiste added 68 rushing yards and a score on three end-around plays.

NSU took an early 3-0 lead following a 38-yard field goal by Eric Piccione with 7:08 to play in the first quarter.

The first of Tabary's touchdown passes followed when he connected with Darious Crawley for a 14-yard touchdown score to put McNeese up 7-3 with 4:27 to play.

The play of the game occurred a little over a minute later when after the McNeese squibbed kickoff was corralled by a front man at the 50 for the Demons and NSU drove to the McNeese 15, Trent Jackson recovered a fumble and returned it 85 yards for a touchdown to put the Cowboys up 17-3. It was the fourth-longest fumble return for a touchdown in school history.

McNeese finished the night with 478 yards of offense while NSU rolled to 431.

The win was the 13th straight for the Cowboys over the Demons in the series and the 14th consecutive win over NSU at home.

Game 11 • #19 McNeese 13, Lamar 3

Nov. 18 at Provost Umphrey Stadium • Beaumont, Texas (5,378)

BEAUMONT – The 19th-ranked McNeese Cowboys got another outstanding defensive effort on a windy night as the Cowboys kept Lamar out of the endzone for a 13-3 Southland Conference win.

The win improved McNeese's record to 9-2 on the season and 7-2 in league play. Lamar finished its season at 2-9 and 1-8.

McNeese worked the night off a tough defensive effort that kept its opponent out of the endzone for the fifth time this season despite Lamar starting two drives at or inside the McNeese 30 and coming away with no points.

The Cardinals crossed midfield just twice in the second half and in seven of their second half possessions, punted five times while surrendering the ball on downs a sixth time.

After a scoreless first quarter, McNeese got on the board first when James Tabary connected with Tavarious Battiste on a 46-yard strike to make it 7-0 with 13:22 to play in the second quarter.

It looked like Lamar would possibly tie the game four minutes later after a Tabary pass was picked off by Nate Jones at the Lamar 41 and returned 54 yards to the McNeese 5.

What followed were three straight rushes by Lamar for a total of two yards then a 20-yard field goal attempt by Elvin Martinez was blocked by McNeese's Dominique Hill and recovered by Damion Morgan to end the Lamar scoring threat.

The lead increased to 10-0 right before the half when Gunnar Raborn knocked through a 52-yard field goal with 42 seconds to play in the second quarter. The kick came after each coach worked their timeouts, two by each.

Raborn actually got a feel for the kick when he got off an attempt right after Lamar called its second timeout. The kick fell right of its target.

Raborn, who leads the FCS in field goal percentage, booted through a 24-yarder with 5:30 to play in the third quarter to put McNeese up 13-0. But the McNeese series before that, punter Alex Kjellsten tied a school record with an 81-yard punt that went through the hands of the return guy and into the endzone.

McNeese finished with 351 yards of total offense – 145 rushing and 206 passing. Lamar had 207 yards and was held to 12 yards rushing against the nation's No. 1 rushing defense.

David Hamm led the running attack with 77 yards on 25 carries. Pratt started the game but was knocked out of action after the game's first play when he aggravated a sprained knee.
