SERIES NOTES

SERIES HISTORY WITH MINES

The Mavericks and Orediggers will meet up this weekend at the Diamond at Hamilton Ballpark in a four-game, RMAC series beginning on Friday.

Colorado Mesa swept the four-game series last season in Golden with the closest game coming in game one with a 9-7 Maverick win. The average margin of victory in the series was nine runs per game.

The Mavericks are 122-20 since 2000 against Colorado School of Mines. They are winners of the past 15 matchups and 33 of the past 35 matchups in the series dating back to 2018.

SCOUTING THE OREDIGGERS

Despite the Orediggers record of 9-17, they found some success once RMAC play started. They split a series with Adams State then swept New Mexico Highlands on the road and are in the hunt for the playoffs.

Brody Duvall (.458) and Evan Bilter (.438) provide a lot of the Orediger offense. Both are North of 1.000 OPS with Bilter leading the team in home runs with six on the season.

The Orediggers have struggled on the mound as they have a team ERA over 11.50. However, they do have an ace in Will Niles who has given teams trouble. He has struck out 23 batters while only walking six.

MAVERICK WEEKLY NOTES

RMAC PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Colorado Mesa senior Cameron Cartwright was named the RMAC Player of the Week for the first time this season. The 2025 consensus All-American batted .500 with eight runs scored and 11 runs driven in.

Cartwright had one of those games in the series opener where he went 5-for-5 with three home runs and nine runs driven in. He was about 10 feet away from his fourth home run late in the game but settled for a double.

For the season, he is batting .341 with six doubles, two triples and three home runs with 22 runs driven in.

A SURPLUS OF ARMS

The pitching staff has been one of the major strengthes for the Mavericks this season. During the series with Colorado Christian, they had 20 different players make an appearance on the mound with Liam Hohenstein the only one to make more than one appearance in the series.

Only seven of the 20 surrendered an earned run in the series with the group combining for 33 strikeouts in 30 innings pitched. The Cougars batted .277 but did have 11 extra base-hits on the weekend.

PRO MAVS UPDATE

Colorado Mesa is blessed to have seven players in the MLB and MiLB Pipeline and some have already received their assignments to begin the 2026 season.

Kyle Leahy (2016-18) will begin the season in the rotation for the St. Louis Cardinals. Leahy is slotted to be the No. 4 starter and set to start on Monday March 30 against the New York Mets.

Bligh Madris (2015-18) is currently in the St. Louis Cardinals organization and is projected to begin the season with AA Springfield. Madris had an excellent Caribbean Series with Mexico Red and had a two-run home run in the final to help his team win the top winter league series.

Andrew Morris (2019-21) will begin the season at AAA Saint Paul Saints for the Minnesota Twins and will retain his spot on the 40-man roster.

Spencer Bramwell (2018-22) is with the Miami Marlins organization and will begin with AA Pensacola Blue Wahoos.

Stay tuned for where the other former Mavs will begin the season.

THE BLANK SPACE

Junior infielder Joey Blank was seeing the ball well last weekend in Lakewood. Blank batted .615 (8-for-13) with four doubles, a home run, and nine runs driven in. He added four runs scored and had an OPS over 1.800 on the weekend.

Blank has split time between the hot corner at third base and at second base where he saw most of his time in 2025.

DRIVE EM IN

Senior outfielder Kolby Felix has found a way on base in many ways and when he does reach, he usually scores. Felix is third nationally in runs scored at 46.

MAVERICK SEASON NOTES

MAVERICKS IN MILB

The Colorado Mesa baseball team currently has seven players competing at some level of professional baseball. All seven finished in the minors with one of them seeing action in Major League Baseball during the 2025 season. Check out the full list of Colorado Mesa Baseball Alums and ways to follow along on their professional journey:

Bligh Madris (2015-18) // St. Louis Cardinals
Kyle Leahy (2016-18) // St. Louis Cardinals
Haydn McGeary (2019-22) // Chicago Cubs
Spencer Bramwell (2018-22) // Miami Marlins
Caleb Farmer (2018-22) // Washington Nationals
Andrew Morris (2019-21) // Minnesota Twins
Andrew Pogue (2025) // Detroit Tigers

RMAC DOMINATION

Colorado Mesa won its 13th straight Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference title in 2025 and is looking for more. The Mavericks have won 28 overall regular season titles and 23 tournament titles after winning their third straight last season.

Since 2009, Colorado Mesa has won 82 percent of their games against RMAC competition as they have a 520-110 record in that span prior to the season.

THE BEST AROUND

Two seasons ago, head coach Chris Hanks eclipsed the 1,000 win mark in his career. He is one of just 19 head coaches across NCAA Baseball that is over the 1,000 win mark and is fourth in wins in NCAA Division II of active head coaches.

In his 28 seasons at the helm of the Colorado Mesa program, Hanks boasts an impressive 1,125-428 (.724) overall record heading into the 2025 season. Under his leadership, the Mavericks have captured 16 RMAC Championships, been selected to the NCAA Division II National Tournament 19 times, and have reached the NCAA Division II College World Series four times (2009, 2014, 2017, 2019). He is an 11-time RMAC Coach of the Year, and has been named Regional Coach of the Year four times by the American Baseball Coaches Association (2009, 2014, 2017, 2019). In 2019 and 2021, he was also named the National Coach of the Year by the National College Baseball News Writers Association.

In 2019 Hanks led the Mavericks to a 53-12 record and their eighth straight RMAC Championship. They secured their fourth Regional Championship, and fourth trip to the Division II World Series by winning the Super Regional in San Angelo, TX, defeating Angelo State two games to one. They entered the World Series as the #1 National seed for the tournament. Their success continued at the Word Series advancing to the National Championship game for the second time in program history (2014), where they lost to the University of Tampa 3-1.

In 2014, Hanks led the Colorado Mesa to their first National championship game where the Mavericks fell to Southern Indiana University 3-2 in 12 innings. Along the way they defeated St. Thomas Aquinas, Seton Hill, and top-ranked Tampa to reach the title game.

Coach Hanks' teams have dominated the national scene offensively, posting 18 National Statistical Championships in Team Hitting statistics since 1999. One of those statistical championships came in 2004 when the Mavericks set an NCAA Division II national record for doubles with 190, a record which still stands to this day. His teams also have one statistical championship for fielding average, and 4 top 10 finishes in fielding average during the same time span. In 2019, The Mavericks led the nation in winning percentage (.815) with a 53-12 overall record (school record for wins). The Skipper has had 21 players drafted by MLB affiliated organizations and he has coached 14 first team all-Americans.

He was a two-time All-American catcher at CSI where he hit 48 home runs in his two-year career and led the nation with 26 as a freshman. He was also a two-time Region 18 Player of the Year selection.

Hanks was named MVP of the 1988 National Junior College Baseball World Series played in Grand Junction. He was again drafted by Boston and signed with the Red Sox. He played four years in their organization, and a year with the Detroit Tigers before an arm injury ended his career.

In 2007, Hanks was named to the NJCAA World Series JUCO "Golden Anniversary Team." The team was comprised of the top 20 players and two coaches spanning the 50-year history of the World Series.

Chris and wife Nikki have three children, son Jared, daughters Kylie and Natalie. Nikki is a native of Montrose and a graduate of Colorado Mesa.
