1990 Millsaps Majors

Welcome !

George Harmon

Welcome to Alumni Field, where the Millsaps Majors play NCAA Division III football. We are proud of our scholar-athletes, who compete because they love the game. The Majors have recorded a winning football season 20 of the past 24 years; and we anticipate success again this year, our second season as a member of the College Athletic Conference.

Tommy Ranager begins his second year as head coach at Millsaps after 25 years as assistant coach to Harper Davis. This year's nine-game schedule includes two new opponents, Central Methodist of Missouri and Kentucky Wesleyan College. We will compete in four official College Athletic Conference games this year, playing Trinity, Centre and Rhodes in Jackson and the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn.

Varsity athletics, under the direction of Bob King, is an important part of our academic program. On the intercollegiate level, Millsaps athletes play football, soccer, cross country, basketball, baseball, tennis and golf. Intramural sports include basketball, volleyball, flag football, soccer, team handball and softball.

On behalf of the entire Millsaps community, let me express our appreciation for your support of our athletic programs. You will find schedules for our fall intercollegiate sports in this program book. We invite you to join us on the sidelines to cheer for the Millsaps Majors!

Millsaps College

Bob King

As Director of Athletics, I would like to welcome you to today's contest. The Millsaps College Athletics Department is proud of the many accomplishments of our student-athletes. The men and women of Millsaps compete daily in the classroom and on the playing fields. The coaching staff applauds their accomplishments.

The varsity athletics program reflects a commitment to the NCAA Division III philosophy of participation and enjoyment by the student-athletes. During the athletic seasons of 1989-90, more than 180 men and women participated on varsity squads. As for the year ahead, the rosters project more than 200 participants. The coaching staff is honored to work with such outstanding young adults.

I hope you enjoy today's event and will continue to support the student-athletes of Millsaps by attending other varsity contests. Please let me know if I can make your stay on campus more enjoyable.

The College Athletic Conference

Millsaps joined the College Athletic Conference (CAC) in July of 1988. The CAC, which competes in the NCAA on the Division III level, was organized as a conference in which high quality academic institutions would compete against each other in athletics.

Other colleges participating in the CAC are Centre College in Danville, Ky., Fisk University in Nashville, Tenn., Rhodes College in Memphis, Tenn., Trinity University in San Antonio, Texas, and the University of the South in Sewanee, Tenn.

The Conference was formed in 1962 by five southern institutions with similar backgrounds and athletic interest. Original members were Rhodes, Centre, University of the South, Washington University and Washington and Lee.

The conference was formed to foster participation in sports "solely because of interest in and enjoyment of the game." The participating colleges were confident that the conference would spur healthy competition among member teams, as well as underscore the essential worth of athletics within the framework of liberal education.

Members participate in nine sports: football, basketball, golf, track and field, tennis, baseball, cross country, swimming, and wrestling.

All members of the CAC are NCAA Division III colleges and abide by the Division III requirement of not awarding athletic scholarships.

Each year the CAC determines total sports supremacy by awarding points to each school based on its final standing in each sport and totaling the points for all sports. The member college with the highest point total receives The President's Trophy, a 300-pound bell donated by the Norfolk and Western Railway, and keeps it for the following year. Any team winning a conference championship in a sport receives a miniature trophy modeled after the bell.

The CAC is governed by a board of directors composed of the presidents of the member institutions. The chairmanship of the board rotates among the directors at their discretion.

1989 - 90 College Athletic Conference Standings

Centre College won the 1989-90 CAC President's Trophy with first-place finishes in football, cross country, basketball and golf. Millsaps placed fourth in its first year of CAC competition.

NCAA Division III Philosophy Statement

Colleges and universities in Division III place highest priority on the overall quality of the educational experience. In so doing, they seek to strengthen the integration of objectives and programs in athletics with academic and developmental objectives and to assure the integration of athletes with other students.

The following statement is not binding on member institutions but shall serve as a guide for the preparation of legislation by the division and for planning and implementation of programs by institutions and conferences.

Division III member institutions place special importance on the impact of athletics on the participants rather than on spectators and place greater emphasis on the internal constituency (students, alumni and special friends) than on the general public and its entertainment needs.

To achieve this end, the athletics program in Division III:

- (a) Encourages participation by maximizing the number and variety of athletics opportunities in varsity, club and intramural sports;
- (b) Ensures that participants receive the same treatment as other students. They have no unique privileges in admissions, academic advising, course selection, grading, living accommodations or financial aid. Similarly, athletes are not denied rights and opportunities that would be available to them as non-athletes;
- (c) Is controlled, financed and staffed through the same general procedures as other departments of the college;
- (d) Gives equal emphasis to men's and women's sports, and the desired quality of competition is similar in all sports. Participant interests will be one factor considered in the determination of the level of support provided by the college to each sport;

- (e) Supports students in their efforts to reach high levels of performance by providing them with adequate facilities, competent coaching and appropriate competitive opportunities with students from similar institutions, and
- (f) Gives primary emphasis to in-season competition, but exceptional teams and individuals may be encouraged through postseason championships.

The purpose of the NCAA is to assist its members to develop this approach as the basis for consistent equitable competition and to do so in ways that minimize infringement on the freedom of individual institutions to determine their own special objectives and programs.

NCAA Representatives

Steve Wells, associate professor of accounting, serves as the NCAA faculty representative at Millsaps, and President George M. Harmon is a Division III representative on the NCAA Council, where he serves on the academic requirements committee. Athletic Director Bob King represents the College at additional NCAA meetings. Head football coach Tommy Ranager is on the Division III All-American selection committee.

Wells is responsible for certifying that student athletes at Millsaps are academically eligible to play intercollegiate sports. He also serves as a liaison with the NCAA and the College in assisting coaches who have questions about the eligibility of student athletes.

In addition to his NCAA responsibilities, Wells is chairman of Millsaps' athletic committee, which reviews the College's athletic policies. Other members of the athletic committee are faculty representatives Dr. Jim Purser, Dr. Suzanne Marrs and Dr. Mark Lynch; students Trey Bower and Jennifer Davis, alumni representative Andy Mullins, and Director of Athletics, Bob King.
