

Ralph Young Field

Ralph Young Field, site of the 2006 Big Ten Outdoor Track and Field Championships, has had a long source of history and tradition for the Michigan State track and field program. Located in the heart of campus adjacent to Spartan Stadium, the facility features seating for over 1,500 spectators. A press box features media seating, a state-of-the-art sound system and a camera platform on the roof.

Before Ralph Young Field, the Spartans competed at three different sites on campus, including Old College Field and Macklin Field (now Spartan Stadium). The track at Ralph Young Field was dedicated on April 17, 1937, as MSU defeated the University of Chicago in a dual meet, 88-43. MSU hosted its first Big Ten outdoor track and field championships in 1960.

The site was renovated at the beginning of this decade and constructed for the dual purpose of housing the MSU field hockey program as well as the men's and women's track and field programs. On Sept. 6, 2002, the MSU field hockey team opened a new chapter in the history books with the unveiling of the MSU Field Hockey Complex. The first track meet at the new complex arrived in the spring of 2004, as the Spartan men and women hosted the Spartan Invitational.

Compliance Services

The Michigan State Office of Compliance Services functions within the scope of the University's compliance program to coordinate, monitor and verify compliance with all NCAA and Big Ten requirements, and to educate the various constituencies of the University and the athletics community regarding NCAA and Big Ten regulations.

The Office of Compliance Services directs the University's compliance efforts and acts as a resource center concerning NCAA regulations and compliance issues. The primary functions of the Office of Compliance Services are to oversee and verify the accurate and timely completion of NCAA-required procedures. In addition, the Office of Compliance Services provides educational programming and interpretive support to ensure that all individuals involved with the athletics program fully understand the University's compliance expectations.

Michigan State University is committed and obligated to the principle of institutional control in operating its athletics program in a manner that is consistent with the letter and the spirit of NCAA, Big Ten Conference and University rules and regulations. As MSU strives for academic and athletic excellence, we must always seek the highest standard of ethical conduct. Your support and involvement with our athletics program is critical to its success; however, we must emphasize that any inappropriate, even inadvertent, activity could jeopardize the eligibility of our current or prospective student-athletes and the compliance of the University with NCAA regulations.

If you have questions regarding NCAA rules and regulations, especially relating to interactions between representatives of MSU's athletics interests and prospective and currently enrolled student-athletes, please contact the Office of Compliance Services. Don't be afraid to ask! MSU's athletics programs want and need your full cooperation to ensure that MSU wins the right way, both on and off the field.

If you ever have questions regarding NCAA or Big Ten rules, please do not hesitate to contact:

Advancing Knowledge. Transforming Lives.

For nearly 150 years, Michigan State University has been transforming lives through high-impact innovative teaching, research, and outreach initiatives.

The university always has sought people to join the MSU community who have the potential to lead the transformation of their fields and others' lives while also leading MSU's mission of anticipating society's needs and working collaboratively with colleagues and others to address them.

Today, as it continues to help students become responsible, knowledgeable and productive citizens, MSU is a major public university with global reach and extraordinary impact.

Academic Distinctions

MSU is known foremost for the quality of its faculty, staff, students, graduates, and friends – the people of the MSU community. These people discover and apply knowledge, work productively, assume the responsibility of leadership, contribute to culture and tradition, serve others, and live by examined values. They are who they are in part because of their experiences at Michigan State University.

•The College of Education's elementary and secondary education graduate programs have been ranked No. 1 for 11 consecutive years by U.S. News & World Report. The publication also ranks MSU as the top Big

Ten public university on the "Great Schools, Great Prices" list, and MSU's Study Abroad program and academic residential communities such as James Madison College and Lyman Briggs School of Science as "outstanding examples of academic programs that are believed to lead to student success."

•MSU faculty members have received Dreyfus, Fulbright, Guggenheim, MacArthur, Sloan, and other major awards recognizing their accomplishments.

•MSU continues its outstanding record of students earning prestigious scholarships with the naming of Truman and Goldwater recipients in 2004. The scholarship count now stands at: Rhodes, 16; Churchill, 14; Truman, 13; Goldwater, 17; Marshall, 10; Udall, 2; and Mitchell and Gates, one each.

•MSU is one of only 17 universities in both the prestigious Association of American Universities and the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges.

Research With Impact

MSU emphasizes the development of practical ways that new knowledge can be applied to address complex societal problems. As an institution, it works always to boldly envision what is needed to apply the research of today to improving life tomorrow. And it acts on that vision.

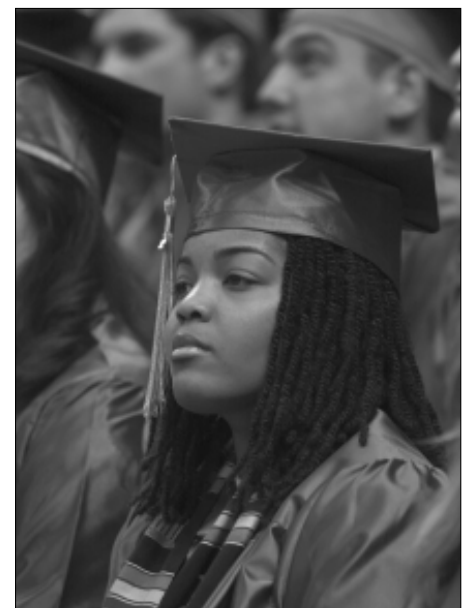

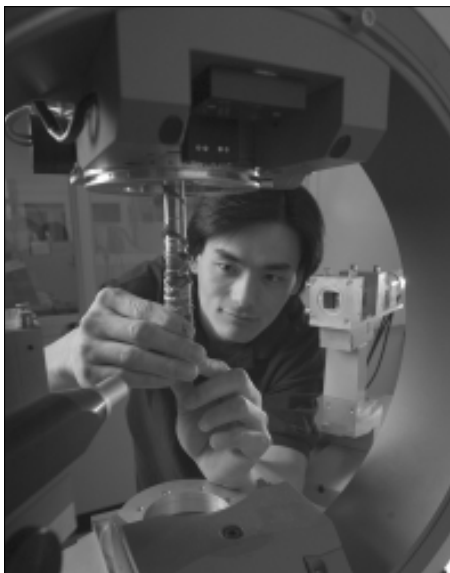

The university's world-renowned research spans from plant biotechnology to nuclear physics to K-12 education. One reason MSU excels at identifying practical, innovative approaches to emerging needs is its long tradition of multidisciplinary, cross-disciplinary thinking and collaboration. This approach applies not only to the sciences, but also to the arts, humanities, and other disciplines. Breakthrough discoveries include:

- Developing the process used to homogenize milk.
- Developing the process for the cross-fertilization of corn.
- Discovering Cisplatin and Carboplatin, two of the world's leading anti-cancer drugs.
- Developing materials for bridging gaps in broken bones.
- Identifying a gene found in plants that helps them resist extremely cold temperatures.
- Discovering a set of gene mutations that causes progressive hearing loss which could help solve the puzzle of acquired hearing loss.

MSU is also home to national research facilities including:

- The premier rare isotope research facility in the nation, the National Superconducting Cyclotron Laboratory.
- MSU-Department of Energy Plant Research Laboratory.
- National Science Foundation's Center for Microbial Ecology.
- National Food Safety and Toxicology Center.

Reaching Out To People

Michigan State University recognizes the responsibility of the university to reach out and provide service and knowledge to the community. MSU has a long tradition of service to the public including:

- MSU Extension, which reaches in to all 83 counties in Michigan to provide practical, university-based knowledge.
- MSU Global Online Connection, which extends academic and professional degree and certification programs to off-campus learners.
- University Outreach and Engagement, which connects faculty with external audiences to address community issues.

Global Perspective

Thinking globally always has been a priority at MSU. The university is recognized in the international community for its work in many areas, including basic human needs, education, international trade, sustainable agriculture, human and animal health and welfare, and the environment.

- In 1956, MSU became the first major university in the United States to appoint a dean of international programs.
- More than 1,000 faculty members are currently involved in international research, teaching, and service projects and programs.
- In 2001-02, MSU sent more undergraduate students on study-abroad programs than any other U.S. university and offered more than 190 programs in more than 60 countries.

A Great Place To Be

MSU is among the most beautiful academic settings in the United States. It is adjacent to downtown East Lansing, which bills itself as the "unbeatable combination of small-town atmosphere and cosmopolitan sophistication."

- 5,200-acre campus, including 2,000 acres of existing or planned development
- Culturally rich and diverse.
- On-campus performing arts center, art museum, and natural history museum.
- Highly competitive intercollegiate athletics program.
- Extensive intramural sports program.

Deep Roots, World-Class Status

At its founding in 1855, MSU was an experiment in higher learning, offering an education that was both liberal and practical. That land-grant philosophy remains central to MSU's mission but has evolved beyond agriculture and engineering to encompass such fields as health, human relations, business, science, fine arts, communication, education, and government.

More than 389,500 alumni worldwide recall the MSU experience with gratitude and pride. The citizens of Michigan look to MSU to educate themselves and their families and to provide problem solving. Leaders throughout the world look to MSU for the values it brings to bear on every situation it addresses in daily life.

Michigan State University is known and appreciated as a place and a community that make a difference in the world every day by advancing knowledge and transforming lives.

Clara Bell Smith Academic Center

Academic, personal, and professional support is essential to college success. At MSU, Student-Athlete Support Services helps student-athletes reach their full potential.

Our philosophy is to offer an academic support program that will assist all student-athletes with the transition to college and integrate with the total university. This all-encompassing support continues throughout the student-athlete's collegiate career, until the day he or she receives a diploma, lands a job, or enters graduate school.

Academic counseling, career exploration, planning and placement, and academic assistance through tutorial programs are just some of the ways we encourage student success.

Being proactive rather than reactive, our staff does not wait for an academic crisis to occur. We gather important background information and build an academic profile on each student-athlete, assessing his or her needs in advance. We also stay informed on the daily progress of each student-athlete.

Freshmen and transfer student-athletes encounter a major transition when making the switch from high school or community college to a university. These students, while adjusting to their new routines, receive extra attention and support.

College is not easy. But with hard work and dedication from both the student-athlete and the support staff, the student-athlete can have a successful college experience.

The Clara Bell Smith Academic Center is named after the mother of Steve Smith, a former MSU basketball All-American and member of the 2003 World Champion San Antonio Spurs. Smith, who retired in the fall of 2005 after 14 years in the NBA, donated $2.5 million to the $7.5 million facility, the largest gift ever by a professional athlete to any college or university.

There are a total of 15 staff members to assist in and work with the following:

- Priority registration
- Academic progress meetings
- Monitor grades
- Weekly meetings with freshmen
- Conduct eligibility meetings
- College advisors
- In registration and degree completion requirements
- Learning Specialists Services
- Satellite office for Resource Center for Persons with Disabilities

The Clara Bell Smith Academic Center is a 31,000 square foot academic facility that was funded by private donations.

Amenities include:

- Structured study area
- Quiet study areas
- Computerized check-in system
- Ten individual meeting rooms
- TV/VCR with access to university's cable station
- Two staffed computer labs
- 60 computers
- Four classrooms
- All rooms and desks are equipped with Internet access
- 210-seat multimedia auditorium

Tutorial Program

The goal of the Tutorial Program is to maximize student-athletes' potential for academic success by providing these services:

- Tutoring for all courses
- Individual and group tutoring
- Tutorial help rooms
- Testing for learning disabilities
- Arrangement of learning disabilities accommodations
- Math help room
- Satellite for MSU writing center
- Review sessions
- Academic success workshops including, time management, exam preparation, and test-taking skills
- Academic Mentor Program

Life Skills

S

The goal of the Learning & Academic Program (LEAP) is to provide comprehensive services for Michigan State University student-athletes. LEAP houses the entire tutoring program while providing a wide range of learning services, including learning strategy, interventions, mentor programming, contest-based tutorials, assistive technology and structured study experiences.

The mission of the Multicultural Programs is to provide student-athletes with cultural and diversity experiences and opportunities to enhance their professional growth, development and leadership skills. The program will collaborate with campus resources to elevate the academic success and campus involvement of student-athletes.

The mission of the Life Skills Program is to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual as a whole person — academically, athletically and emotionally — and on the changing needs of that individual during college and in the years after graduation.

MSU implements and expands on the vision of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Program by using university and community resources to provide student-athletes with the best possible resources in the following areas:

Community Service and Outreach

- Putting Athletes and Communities Together (P.A.C.T.)
  - Young Spartan Program
  - Pen Pals
  - Posters for Patients
  - March is Reading Month
- Speaking Engagements/Special Requests
- D.A.R.E. Graduations
- National Student-Athlete Day
- Toys & Teams

Career Development

- Partner with MSU Career Center
  - Resumes
  - Cover Letters
  - Internships
  - Interviewing
  - Career Fairs
  - Career Development
- Spartan Career Network – network of contacts for student-athletes looking for job shadowing, internship, or job placement
- KIN 171 – Orientation class for freshmen
- Online resume book

Personal Development

- Partner with Athletics Department Training Staff
- Programs on:
  - Drug and Alcohol Awareness
  - Nutrition
  - Authority
  - Leadership
- Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) – representatives from each team work together to provide a voice to the Athletics Department and university administration as well as the NCAA

Academic Awards and Recognition

- Annual Academic Excellence Gala
- Student-Athlete of the Month
- PACT Minute
- 4.0 Club
- Academic All-Big Ten
- Academic All-American
- NCAA Woman of the Year
- Great 8 Award
- NCAA Post-graduate scholarships

The PACT program is a new initiative designed to give student-athletes more opportunities to interact with the Greater Lansing community.

The Spartans

The Nickname

In 1926, Michigan State's first southern baseball training tour provided the setting for the birth of the "Spartan" nickname.

It all came about when a Lansing sportswriter imposed the silent treatment on a contest-winning nickname and substituted his own choice, the name that has lasted through the years.

In 1925, Michigan State College replaced the name Michigan Agricultural College. The college sponsored a contest to select a nickname to replace "Aggies" and picked "The Michigan Staters."

George S. Alderton, then sports editor of the Lansing State Journal, decided the name was too cumbersome for newspaper writing and vowed to find a better one. Alderton contacted Jim Hasselman of Information Services to see if entries still remained from the contest. When informed that they still existed, Alderton ran across the entry name of "Spartans" and then decided that was the choice. Unfortunately, Alderton forgot to write down who submitted that particular entry, so that part of the story remains a mystery.

Rewriting game accounts supplied by Perry Fremont, a catcher on the squad, Alderton first used the name sparingly and then ventured into the headlines with it. (Incidentally, after two days of spelling the name incorrectly with an "o", Mr. Alderton changed it to Spartan on a tip from a close friend.) Dale Stafford, a sports writer for the Lansing Capitol News, a rival of the State Journal, picked up the name for his paper after a couple of days. Alderton called Stafford and suggested that he might want to join the Spartan parade and he did.

As Mr. Alderton explains: "No student, alum- nus or college official had called up the editor to complain about our audacity in giving the old school a new name, so we ventured into headlines with it. Happily for the experiment, the name took. It began appearing in other newspapers and when the student publication used it, that clinched it."

Sparty

Standing at the entrance way to Michigan State's athletic establishment is "The Spartan," a huge statue which symbolizes the university's athletic teams.

"The Spartan" was designed and produced by Leonard D. Jungwirth of the art department, and dedicated in June of 1945. It stands ten feet-six inches, and is mounted on a brick-and-concrete base five feet-four inches high. The statue weighs three tons and is one of the largest free standing ceramic figures in the world.

Figures representing the 12 sports then included in the varsity program are incised on the base of the statue.

Green & White

Details are sketchy as to when Michigan State athletic teams officially began using the school colors green and white. But records of the Athletic Association of the then Michigan Agricultural College show that on April 11, 1899, the organization took steps toward adoption of a green monogram, "to be worn only by athletes who subsequently take part in intercollegiate events."

It is generally thought the colors came into wide use with the arrival in 1903 of Chester L. Brewer as the school's first full-time director of athletics. Brewer also coached the Spartan football, basketball, baseball and track teams, the only varsity units in existence at the time.

Sparty Mascot

A few years ago, Sparty won the "Buffest Mascot" award. Now, MSU's beloved mascot has won the national mascot championship, becoming the first Big Ten mascot to claim the title. Sparty beat 19 finalists in January at the Universal Cheer Association's National Competition at Disney World, Orlando, Fla.

Made of hi-tech materials, including a vinyl chest plate and fiberglass molds like the ones used for making Muppets, the seven-foot costume weighs in at 40 pounds, allowing enough flexibility for playful gestures and animation. Sparty is a far cry from the many papier-mache heads that have popped up since the 1950's, mostly from fraternity efforts. The first official one apparently debuted in 1955 courtesy of Theta Xi.

Other versions were introduced from time to time. In 1984, Sigma Phi Epsilon introduced the first "gruff" head—sporting the unshaven look that still adorns many sweatshirts and jackets.

By contrast, the current Sparty costume is a state-of-the-art, full-bodied uniform that costs $12,000.

Today six students—their identities kept private—take turns being Sparty with one of three costumes. Because of the costume size, Sparty aspirants must be between 5-10 and 6-2 in height. Candidates who fit the physical needs are chosen after a hands-on process that includes try-outs and interviews.

The Sparty Mascot Program is run and funded by the Student Alumni Foundation.

Those interested in hiring Sparty can submit a request online at www.msusaf.com and click on the mascot program or contact the SAF office at 517.355.4458. Those who wish to donate to the Sparty mascot fund can contact University Development at 517.355.8257.

MSU Fight Song

On the banks of the Red Cedar,
There's a school that's known to all;

Its specialty is winning,
And those Spartans play good ball;
Spartan teams are never beaten,
All through the game they'll fight;

Fight for the only colors,
Green and White.

Go right through for MSU,
Watch the points keep growing.
Spartan teams are bound to win,
They're fighting with a vim.

Rah! Rah! Rah!
See their team is weakening,
We're going to win this game.
Fight! Fight! Rah! Team, Fight!
Victory for MSU.
