NOTES

Series	Muhlenberg has won the last 13 meetings to take a 37-33-2 all-time series lead. Moravian's last win came in 2010 (14-13), and its last win in Allentown came in 2005 (24-19). These two teams played their rivalry game in the last week of the regular season every year from 1958 to 2022, except for 1963 and 2020. This is the third straight year they've met in the opening week of the season.
Last Year	Two big plays in the second half helped seal Muhlenberg's 33-7 win at Moravian in Bethlehem. After the Mules took a 12-7 lead into halftime, Christopher Short returned the opening kickoff of the second half 100 yards for a touchdown. Trailing 26-7 in the third quarter, the Greyhounds drove 74 yards to the 1-yard line, but Muhlenberg held on the next three plays and threw a 99-yard TD pass after taking over on downs. The Mules outgained the Greyhounds, 519-252, and held possession for more than 38 minutes even with the two big plays. Peyton Elliott led the Muhlenberg defense with 10 tackles, while Diego Del Castillo caught a TD pass that gave Moravian a 7-0 lead.
Crosstown Clash	This is one of five matchups between Muhlenberg and Moravian this week, with the winner of each contest winning a trophy donated by Sodexo, the food service provider for both institutions. The Mules won the first two "Crosstown Clash" games, 5-0 in field hockey and 3-1 in volleyball. Upcoming matchups are at Muhlenberg in men's soccer (Saturday) and women's soccer (Tuesday).
Polls	Muhlenberg has three teams receiving preseason attention in the D3football.com preseason poll on its schedule in 2025: Endicott (receiving votes), new Centennial Conference member Carnegie Mellon (No. 18) and Johns Hopkins (No. 3). Moravian finishes with preseason No. 4 Susquehanna.
Returns	Muhlenberg's Christopher Short ranked second in Division III with 930 yards on kickoff returns last year and became the fourth player in program history to bring back multiple kickoffs for TDs in the same season. The Mules led Division III in punt return defense, allowing minus-6 yards on six punt returns.
Leaders	Moravian quarterback Jared Jenkins had a historic season in 2024, setting a school record with 33 passing touchdowns and ranking in the top 20 in Division III in completion percentage, completions per game, passing yards, and passing TDs. Jack Corrigan ranked seventh in Division III in punting.
QBs	The most experienced Muhlenberg quarterbacks, senior Dante Mahaffey and sophomore Luke Spang, each attempted three passes last season, with Mahaffey finishing as a defensive player. By that measure, the Mules have the least experience under center to start a season since 2009.
