MIZZOU TO FACE NORTH CAROLINA IN ADVOCARE 100 INDEPENDENCE BOWL

The Missouri Tigers (7-5 overall, 5-4 in Big 12 Conference play [5th]) will square off against the North Carolina Tar Heels (7-5 overall, 3-5 in Atlantic Coast Conference play [4th in the ACC Coastal Division]) in the 2011 AdvoCare V100 Independence Bowl. The game will kickoff at 4:00 p.m. (central time) on Dec. 26th from Independence Stadium in Shreveport, La., and the game will be televised live on ESPN2.

The game will mark the 36th edition of the Independence Bowl (making it the nation's 11th-oldest bowl game) and it will be Mizzou's third appearance in the game since 2003. The Tigers previously split a pair of games there against Southeastern Conference foes, beating South Carolina in 2005 (38-31) and dropping a 2003 contest to Arkansas (27-14).

Mizzou comes into the season having won its last three games, and four of its last five, after standing just 3-4 after a loss to #6 Oklahoma State on Oct. 22nd. They'll hope to continue that momentum into the bowl game, and also to break a two-game bowl losing streak in the process. After winning the 2008 Cotton Bowl and 2008 Alamo Bowl in consecutive years, the Tigers have dropped their last two bowl outings, to Navy in the 2009 Texas Bowl, and last year to Iowa in the 2010 Insight Bowl.

North Carolina will be making its fourth-straight bowl appearance (they won the 2010 Music City Bowl over Tennessee, 30-27 in double overtime), and their first in the Independence Bowl (29th overall bowl game [13-15 in previous 28 bowls).

The Tar Heels won five of their first six games to begin the season, but dropped four of their last six on the way to a 4th-place showing in the ACC Coastal Division. Much like Mizzou, all of their losses were to bowl-eligible teams, however, with three of them coming by one score or less. The Tar Heels have wins over three bowl teams in 2011, including Rutgers (W, 24-22), Virginia (W, 28-17), and Louisville (W, 14-7).

Offensively, the Tar Heels are led by a trio of outstanding offensive playmakers, including wide receiver Dwight Jones, tailback Giovani Bernard and quarterback Bryn Renner. Bernard rushed for a UNC freshman record 1,222 yards and became the first Tar Heel since 1997 to run for more than 1,000 yards. He had 13 rushing touchdowns on the season and needs just one more to tie the UNC freshman record. Jones established a school record with 79 receptions and has 11 touchdown catches, which is just one shy of the single-season record. Renner, a sophomore in his first year as the starter, enters the bowl game tied for the school record with 23 touchdown passes.

Defensively, Carolina is 16th in the nation against the run and features a pair of first-team All-ACC performers in defensive Quinton Coples and linebacker Zach Brown. Coples ranks fourth among active college players with 24 career sacks. Brown led the Tar Heels with 91tackles, including 11.5 for losses and 5.5 sacks.

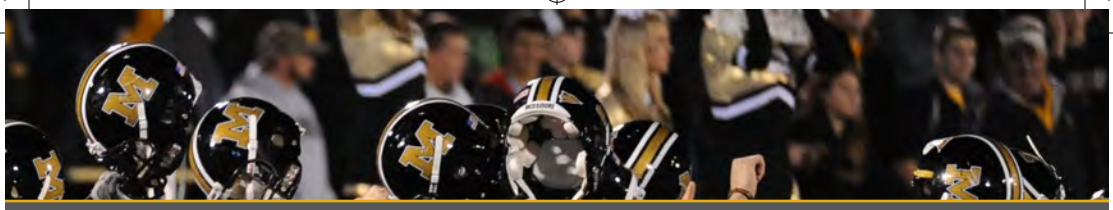

MIZZOU MAKING RECORD SEVENTH-STRAIGHT BOWL APPEARANCE

Mizzou's appearance in the 2011 Independence Bowl represents MU's 7th-consecutive bowl game outing, and that has shattered the old school standard of four straight, which was achieved back in a stretch from 1978-81, under former Coach Warren Powers.

This game will also mark the eighth bowl in the last nine years for MU Head Coach Gary Pinkel. He is now the alltime leader in MU coaching history with his eight bowl game appearances, breaking a tie he formerly held with Hall of Famer Dan Devine. Devine led MU to six bowls in 13 years (1958-70), while Powers made five bowls in seven years (1978-84).

In all, the 2011 bowl game will mark Mizzou's 29th such appearance in school history – a figure which ranks as 27th-most in FBS history (Alabama leads with 59). The Tigers sport an alltime bowl game record of 12-16, and have split their last six bowls, claiming the 2008 Alamo Bowl with an exciting 30-23 overtime triumph over Northwestern, which followed a 38-7 thrashing of #25 Arkansas in the 2008 Cotton Bowl to wrap up the 2007 season. In the last two bowl outings, the Tigers jumped out to a 7-0 lead on the 2nd play of the game over Navy in the 2009 Texas Bowl, but the Midshipmen rebounded to post a 35-13 win over the Tigers, and in the 2010 Insight Bowl, Mizzou rallied against Iowa and appeared in position for a win, until a 72-yard interception return for a TD with just 6 minutes left in the game for Iowa sent MU to a bitter 27-24 defeat.

Gary Pinkel is 4-4 overall as a head coach in bowls, including a 3-4 mark at Missouri. His other appearance came in a 40-37 overtime win over Nevada in the 1995 Las Vegas Bowl, while at Toledo. That game was the very first game ever played in Division I-A (FBS) history with the then-brand new overtime tiebreaker system in place.

MIZZOU HAS 10TH-MOST WINS IN THE NATION SINCE 2007

There's no question that Head Coach Gary Pinkel and his Mizzou Football program has elevated itself to among the nation's elite. With its 10-win season in 2010, MU won its 40th game since 2007, good for an average of 10 per year during the four-year stretch.

As it stands entering the 2011 bowl season, MU's 47 wins since 2007 ranks as 10th-most in the nation (among BCS automatic qualifying conferences). Above is a look at the win totals among the nation's best during that time frame (through games of Dec. 3rd):

OFFENSIVE SCOUTING REPORT

Mizzou entered the season having lost just two starters on offense from the 2010 team which went 10-3, but they were significant losses, in QB Blaine Gabbert (a 1st-round NFL Draft pick who is now starting at Jacksonville) and three-year starting center Tim Barnes. On the flip side, the Tigers expected to benefit from nine other returning starters, including every pass receiver and rusher from the previous year. Here's a quick rundown of the position groups and how they performed in 2011:

Offensive Line – The line was expected to be led by pre-season honors candidate Elvis Fisher, a senior left tackle who had started every game for the previous three seasons. However, the injury bug struck Fisher in fall camp when he ruptured his patellar tendon in his left knee in practice, putting him out for the season. Suddenly a veteran line became much more untested as sophomore Justin Britt took over at left tackle, and things became more jumbled when expected starter at center Travis Ruth missed the first two games, and two others later in the year due to various injuries. Senior LG Jayson Palmgren, despite no previous experience at center, slid over to snap for Ruth, and junior Jack Meiners took over for Palmgren – meaning that MU had new starters at left tackle, left guard and center all of a sudden. Despite this jumbling of the lineup, the offensive line came together quickly and became a very steady group as the Tigers won the Big 12 rushing title, and rank 11th in the nation entering the Independence Bowl, with an average of 235.67 yards per game. Palmgren has played at an all-conference level in his dual role, and the right side of the line, led by seniors Dan Hoch (RT) and Austin Wuebbels (RG) have been instrumental in MU's success on the ground.

Tailback – Once again, the big storyline here has been injuries, and how they've impacted this position group all season. Junior Kendial Lawrence won a tight three-man race for the starting job in the fall, but he was derailed by a cracked fibula prior to game #2 that sidelined him for three games. Senior De'Vion Moore started game #2 but suffered a severely sprained ankle on the first play of the game which sidelined him for four games. In stepped sophomore Henry Josey, who blossomed in the feature back role. Josey burst onto the scene with a 263-yard, 3-touchdown otuing against Western Illinois and he proceeded to become the top rusher in the Big 12 Conference. Unfortunately, Josey's season was cut short by injury as well, as he sustained a torn patellar tendon, and torn ACL and MCL ligaments in his left knee against Texas on Nov. 12th. He ended his season averaging 116.80 yards per game, which still is tops in the Big 12, and 12th-best nationally entering bowl season. Lawrence and Moore are both back and healthy, and Lawrence has amassed 263 yards and 2 TDs in Josey's absence the last three games...

Quarterback – True sophomore James Franklin won the starting job with a strong fall camp, and took over the proud lineage of Mizzou quarterbacks under Gary Pinkel, which includes Brad Smith (2002-05), Chase Daniel (2006-08) and Blaine Gabbert (2009-10) – all three who are playing in the NFL currently. Franklin had some up and down moments throughout the year, as expected by a first-time starter, but overall he acquitted himself very nicely and enters the bowl game ranked 15th in the NCAA in total offense, averaging 298.25 yards per game. He's thrown for 200 yards or more six times on the year, and he's also a big threat on the ground, as he has 839 yards and a team-best 13 rushing TDs...

Receivers – The Tigers benefit from a deep pool of talented and experienced pass catchers, and are led by senior TE Michael Egnew and junior WR T.J. Moe. Egnew was a consensus 1st-Team All-American tight end in 2010, and even though his numbers have dropped a bit in 2011 due to a more even distribution in the passing game, he's still one of the top tight ends in the country (47 receptions, 484 yards, 3 TDs). Moe leads all Tigers with 54 catches for 649 yards and he's added 4 TDs of his own, while sophomore Marcus Lucas leads the team with 5 receiving scores. Senior Wes Kemp (27-321, 4 TDs), sophomore L'Damian Washington (17-317, 3 TDs) and senior Jerrell Jackson (15-207) are also effective weapons in the passing game for Mizzou...

DEFENSIVE SCOUTING REPORT

Mizzou's defense was among the most improved in the nation in 2010, as it ended the year tops in the Big 12 Conference in scoring defense (16.08 ppg allowed). The Tigers lost five starters from that crew, including 1st-round NFL Draft pick DE Aldon Smith, as well as 3-of-4 starters in the secondary. Despite those losses, Mizzou's defense played solidly in 2011, and found itself squarely in the middle of Mizzou's success, as it held four opponents (including bowl-bound Texas and Iowa State) to 17 points or less, as well as coming up with a couple of game-winning stops in triumphs over Texas A&M (in overtime) and Texas Tech (on a goal-line stand in the closing seconds). Here's a look at the breakdown defensively in 2011:

Defensive Line – Expected to be the strength of the defensive unit coming into 2011, injuries have kept this unit from realizing its full potential, as only senior DT Dominique Hamilton has been healthy enough to start all 12 games. Hamilton, who missed the final six games of 2010 with a broken foot, has starred in his final season, as he leads all Big 12 interior linemen with his 55 tackles. He also has batted down two game-clinching passes, as he swatted away a 4th-down pass attempt in overtime at Texas A&M to preserve a 38-31 win, and he followed by deflecting a pass that led to an interception in the closing seconds at the MU 4-yardline to save a 31-27 win over Texas Tech. Fellow senior DE Jacquies Smith suffered a dislocated elbow in the opener against Miami, Ohio, and missed two games but has come on strong late in the year to lead MU in sacks (5.0) and QB hurries (5) while ranking second in TFLs (9.0). Junior DE Brad Madison hasn't been 100% healthy since injuring a shoulder in fall camp, but he's played through the pain and is among team leaders with 4.5 sacks and 8.5 TFLs. Senior DT Terrell Resonno has missed two games due to injury, but has 19 tackles and 3.5 TFLs in 10 games. Sophomore DE Michael Sam (26 tackles, 4 QB hurries, 1 INT), junior DT Sheldon Richardson (35 tackles, 7.5 TFLs) and sophomore DE Brayden Burnett (2.5 sacks, 4.0 TFLs) are the top reserves...

Linebacker – The trio of senior Luke Lambert, junior Zaviar Gooden and sophomore Andrew Wilson has been the steadiest of producers for Mizzou in 2011. Wilson has emerged in his first season as a starter to lead Mizzou in tackles, with 89, and he is considered the hardest hitter on the team by all counts. Gooden, MU's leading tackler in 2010, has had his numbers fall off a bit from a year ago, but he's coming off perhaps his best game of 2011, when he made 7 tackles and grabbed an interception in MU's 24-10 win over rival Kansas to close the regular season. Lambert has been a great story, as he was awarded a 5th year of eligibility after missing most of the previous two seasons due to a variety of injuries. He's responded with career-best numbers in most every area, includuing tackles (74) and a team-best 11.5 tackles for loss. Lambert also leads the Tigers with 3 fumble recoveries. Senior Will Ebner had planned to be a big part of the rotation, but sustained a concussion in the season opener and has been held out since, with the intent of returning for a 5th year in 2012.

Cornerback – After losing both starters in 2010, the Tigers turned to first-year starters E.J. Gaines and Kip Edwards, and they've responded nicely in a pass-happy Big 12 Conference. Gaines, a sophomore, has emerged as one of the top cover men in the nation, as he ranks 3rd in the nation with his 18 passes defended (16 PBUs, 2 INTs) heading into bowl season, while his 69 tackles ranks as 5th-best on the squad. Edwards, a junior, has battled hamstring and foot injuries throughout the year which forced him to miss a pair of games, but he still ranks 7th on the team with 48 tackles, to go with a pair of forced fumbles and an interception...

Safety – Senior co-captain Kenji Jackson has been a steadying presence at strong safety, and he leads the team with 3 interceptions on the year, while he ranks 4th in tackles, with 71. The free safety spot has seen three different Tigers share time, with sophomore Matt White making 5 starts early in the year (he's got 44 tackles and 4 PBUs), while redshirt freshman Braylon Webb took over midway through the year before a knee injury took him out for the last month of the season. Webb made 35 tackles and made 4 starts before going down, but he's expected to be recovered and available for the Independence Bowl. Junior Kenronte Walker has started the last 3 games of the regular season, and showed an ability to contribute, as he tallied a career-high 10 stops in a comeback win over Texas Tech...

SPECIAL TEAMS SCOUTING REPORT

Mizzou's fortunes at special teams heading into the 2011 season were largely tied to proven veteran PK Grant Ressel, a senior who had previously emerged from walk-on status to 1st-Team All-American in 2009. After making 43-of-46 FGs the last two years, Ressel was uncharacteristically off, making just 9-of-16 kicks through the first 7 games in 2011. He strained a hip flexor in practice prior to the Texas A&M game, however, and has not been available since. Thrust into the kicking role suddenly was junior Trey Barrow, who had already been doing a bang-up job as Mizzou's punter. Since taking over the placekicking duties, Barrow has made 5-of-7 FGs and all 18 of his extra point tries to be a steady scoring threat for the Tigers. And oh, by the way, he's leading the Big 12, and ranks 10th nationally, in punting, with a 45.02 average.

Junior WR T.J. Moe has handled primary kickoff and punt return duties for a majority of the year, and he's averaging 22.2 yards and 5.2 yards, respectively.

TIGERS LOOKING TO CLOSE WITH FOUR WINS FOR FIRST TIME SINCE 1965

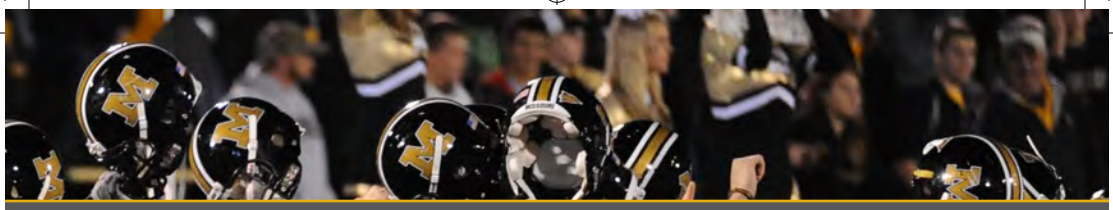

There are countless motivations for winning a bowl game, especially one against a high-profile ACC program such as North Carolina, but there is one other factoid that would make a win in the Independence Bowl particularly pleasing for Mizzou: A win would give the Tigers four straight wins to close a season for the first time since 1965.

That's right, it's been 46 years since Mizzou ended a year with a four-game winning streak. In 1965, under College Football Hall of Fame Coach Dan Devine, the Tigers stood 4-2-1 seven games into the year, but they closed strong, taking games over Colorado, Oklahoma and Kansas to close the regular season. They finished the year in style by downing Florida and Heisman Trophy winner Steve Spurrier in the 1966 Sugar Bowl to end 8-2-1 and ranked 6th in the final polls.

2010 INSIGHT BOWL – Iowa 27, Missouri 24

Despite a slow start which saw Mizzou fall into a 17-3 hole, the Tigers clawed back to take a 24-20 lead in the 4th quarter, and after gaining a turnover, they were driving for what looking to be a game-clinching touchdown. However, with six minutes left in the game, Mizzou QB Blaine Gabbert was intercepted by Iowa's Micah Hyde, who returned it 72 yards for a touchdown that stood up as the winning points in Iowa's 27-24 triumph. Mizzou rolled up 512 yards of offense, including an MU bowl-record 434 passing yards by Gabbert (who would eventually declare for the NFL Draft, bypassing his senior year), but it wasn't enough as the Hawkeyes benefitted from a big night from RB Marcus Coker, who ran for 219 yards and 2 touchdowns. After trailing 17-3, Mizzou's offense came alive, outscoring Iowa 21-3 to take a 24-20 lead into the final quarter. Henry Josey scored on a 10-yard run late in the second quarter, and the Tigers took the lead eventually thanks to a pair of 3rd-quarter scores by Gabbert – one on a 7-yard run, the other on a 3-yard pass to TE Michael Egnew. The Tiger defense kept Iowa's offense off the scoreboard for the final 37:28 of the game, but the Hawkeyes' pick six proved to be too much to overcome in the end. WR T.J. Moe had a stellar night, catching an MU bowl-record 15 passes for 152 yards, while fellow wideout Jerrell Jackson made 9 catches for 129 yards of his own in the loss...

2009 TEXAS BOWL – Navy 35, Missouri 13

Mizzou came in as favorites over Navy, and just two plays into the game, the Tigers had a 7-0 lead, thanks to a 58-yard TD pass from Blaine Gabbert to the NCAA's receiving leader, Danario Alexander. Unfortunately for Mizzou, that was a high-water mark on the day, as Navy used its hard-charging triple option running attack to control the ball for a massive 40:54-to-19:06 advantage in time of possession, and the Midshipmen pulled away in the fourth quarter for a 35-13 win. After MU's big play, the Tiger offense was held to 298 yards the rest of the day, and Navy QB Ricky Dobbs ran for 166 yards and three TDs as the Midshipmen ran for 385 yards overall against an MU defense which ranked 12th nationally against the run coming in. Navy took a 14-10 lead at half, and extended that to 21-10 in the third quarter, before the Tigers mounted a promising drive late in the quarter. The drive stalled out, however, and MU was forced to settle for a Grant Ressel 31-yard field goal on the first play of the 4th quarter, making it 21-13. But that's as close as the Tigers would get, as Navy tacked on a pair of rushing touchdowns to close out the game. A pair of Mizzou drives ended inside the Navy 30-yardline in the final quarter to seal the deal...

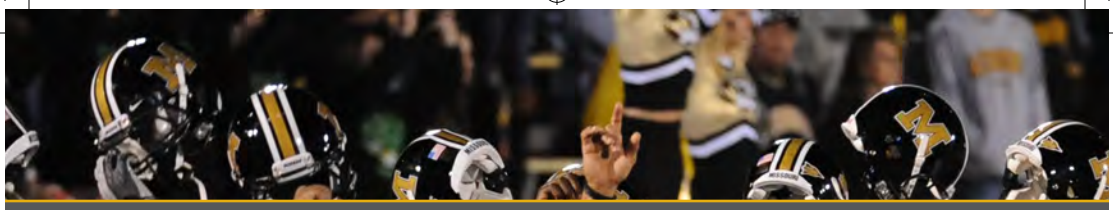

2008 ALAMO BOWL – #25 Missouri 30, #22 Northwestern 23 (OT)

The winningest senior class in school history went out with a bang, as Missouri rallied from a slow start to force overtime, and won it on a Chase Daniel-to-Jeremy Maclin TD pass of 7 yards to begin overtime. The Tiger defense then ended the game by holding Northwestern out of the endzone on downs, thanks in large part to a QB sack by LB Sean Weatherspoon and FS William Moore which caused a fumble and a loss all the way back to the 32-yard line. The Wildcats faced a 4th-and-goal from there, and QB C.J. Bacher's desperation heave into the endzone was batted down by Moore to seal the win. Maclin was named the game's Offensive MVP thanks to his game-winning TD catch in overtime, but it was his 75-yard punt return for a score with just one minute left in the first half (which tied the game at 10-10) which awoke Mizzou from its slumber. The lead would go back-and-forth, as Danario Alexander scored on an 11-yard TD pass from Daniel midway through the third quarter to give MU a 17-16 lead, and PK Jeff Wolfert made it 20-16 later in the third with a 43-yard field goal. Northwestern came back to take a 23-20 lead to end the third quarter, but Wolfert nailed a clutch 37-yard field goal with 2:49 to play to tie it up. The NCAA's most accurate kicker in history also had a chance to win the game at the end of regulation, but his 44-yarder at the final gun was pushed just right, forcing the extra period...

had his troops dialed in, and they responded with a 38-7 thrashing of 25th-ranked Arkansas to put the finishing touches on a magical season that ended in a 12-2 record and a final A.P. ranking of #4 (the highest in school history). Tony Temple finished his Tiger career in big fashion, by setting a Cotton Bowl record with 281 yards and 4 touchdowns, and Mizzou's underrated defense held star running backs Darren McFadden and Felix Jones in check. Safety William Moore intercepted his school-record eighth pass of the season and returned it 26 yards for a touchdown midway through the third quarter to give Mizzou a 28-0 lead. After McFadden scored on a short run to cut into the deficit, Mizzou's Jeff Wolfert hit a 32-yard field goal early in the fourth, and Temple finished it off with a 40-yard TD run which gave him the Cotton Bowl rushing record that had stood since 1954 (by Dicky Maegle of Rice)...

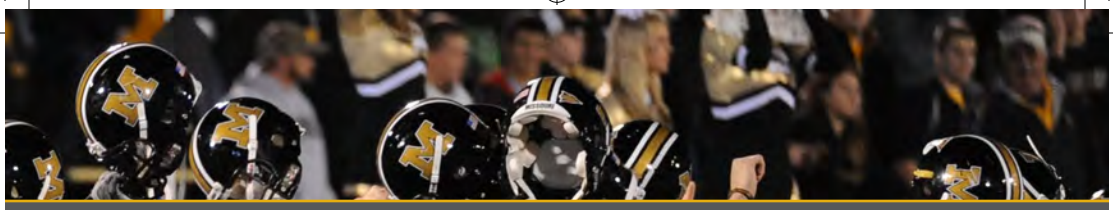

2006 SUN BOWL – #24 Oregon State 39, Missouri 38

After scoring a touchdown with 22.1 seconds left in the game, Oregon State Coach Mike Riley eschewed the game-tying extra point and rolled the dice with a two-point conversion for the win. Oregon State's Yvenson Bernard pushed near the goalline, and was ruled to have crossed the plane by officials, although it was disputed by Tiger players that he made it across. The conversion was good, though, and it completed a Beaver comeback that wiped out a big day by the Mizzou offense and QB Chase Daniel. Mizzou held a 38-24 lead with 12:08 to play after Daniel hit TE Chase Coffman on an 18-yard TD pass, but OSU drove for a score to cut the deficit in half, and after the Tigers drove into Beaver territory looking to ice the game, a costly sack of Daniel moved MU out of field goal range and forced a punt. Oregon State drove the length of the field for the winning score. The loss spoiled a big day from Daniel, who threw for 330 yards, while TB Tony Temple ran for 194 yards (just three shy of the Sun Bowl record) and two touchdowns, including a 65-yarder in the 3rd quarter that made it 31-21 in favor of the Tigers...

2005 INDEPENDENCE BOWL – Missouri 38, South Carolina 31

Making a return trip to Shreveport, La., things looked dour for the Tigers early on, as they fell behind 21-0 in the first quarter to Steve Spurrier's Gamecocks. But Mizzou CB Marcus King got things jump-started with a 99-yard interception return for a touchdown, and then the Mizzou offense kicked in gear, behind record-setting QB Brad Smith, who was playing the last game of his illustrious career. Smith engineered what turned out to be the biggest comeback win in school history, as he ran for three second-half TDs, and ended the night with 150 rushing yards and 282 passing yards to wrap up his career holding 69 different MU, Big 12 and NCAA records. His 1-yard score with 2:13 left completed the comeback, and DB Darnell Terrell sealed the win on South Carolina's ensuing possession when he intercepted a ball near midfield...

2003 INDEPENDENCE BOWL – Arkansas 27, Missouri 14

Mizzou's first bowl outing under Pinkel didn't go as planned, as Houston Nutt's Razorbacks used a punishing ground attack to roll up 300 yards, including a game-high 141 yards by Cedric Cobbs. Mizzou's Zack Abron had 137 yards on the ground himself, and Mizzou outgained Arkansas by a 407-to-385 margin in total offense on the night, but two key 4th-and-1 stops by Arkansas' defense, coupled with two punt game errors by Mizzou proved too much to overcome. The Tigers had one punt blocked, and had another punt snap sail over punter Brock Harvey's head to the Tiger 3-yardline, both miscues which the Razorbacks converted into points.

GARY PINKEL IS NINTH-WINNINGEST ACTIVE FBS COACH

Mizzou Head Coach Gary Pinkel enters the 2011 bowl season ranked as the ninth-winningest active coach in the NCAA FBS ranks, with his 157 career wins (157-91-3 overall). Pinkel, in his 11th season at Mizzou, stands 84-54 overall at MU, while he went 73-37-3 in 10 seasons at Toledo (1991-2000). He stands behind just Frank Beamer (251), Mack Brown (226), Chris Ault (225), Steve Spurrier (196), Brian Kelly (187), Mike Price (174, Larry Blakeney (164) and Bill Snyder (158).

MIZZOU-NORTH CAROLINA SERIES HISTORY

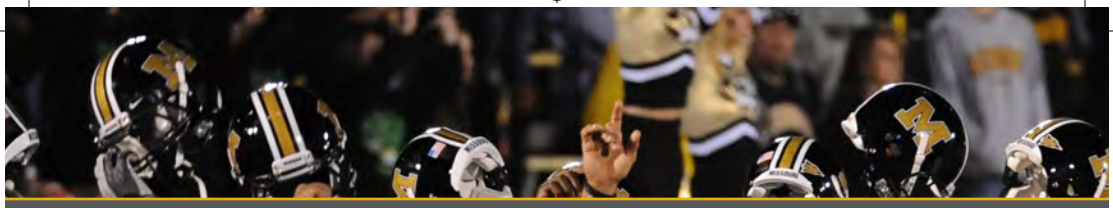

Mizzou and North Carolina will meet for only the 3rd time when they square off in the 2011 Independence Bowl. Mizzou has won both of the previous meetings, including a 27-14 win in Chapel Hill in 1973, followed by a 24-3 win in Columbia in 1976.

While that is the entire history between the two football programs, there is something of historical significance that came from the 1976 game, albeit coincidental in nature. A week before that 1976 game, Mizzou played at Ohio State, where the Tigers staged a stunning 22-21 upset of the 2nd-ranked Buckeyes. Mizzou's cheerleaders who attended the game in Columbus discussed the OSU fans' cheers of "O-HI-O" during the game, and wanted to get something similar started at MU's Faurot Field.

After debating several options, the group came up with the now-famous cheer, where one side of the stadium starts with "MIZ", followed in return from the other side with "ZOU." They debuted this new cheer on Oct. 2, 1976, when the Tigers defeated the Tar Heels, 24-3.

So, as you hear Tiger fans take part in this cherished tradition during the 2011 Independence Bowl, know that North Carolina was there to see its birth some 35 years ago!

Section 2_Notes.indd 27 12/9/2011 1:38:24 PM

MIZZOU VERSUS THE ATLANTIC COAST CONFERENCE

Mizzou has played 19 games in its history against teams that currently comprise the Atlantic Coast Conference, with the Tigers standing 6-13 alltime (31.6%). It's been quite awhile since the Tigers have gone up against an ACC foe, however, as the last meeting was in 2000 against Clemson.

The Independence Bowl against North Carolina will mark the 5th time MU has played a current ACC team in the post-season. The previous four bowl-game meetings (MU is 1-3 in those games) included a 1940 Orange Bowl loss to Georgia Tech (21-17), a 1949 Gator Bowl loss to Clemson (24-23), a 1950 Gator Bowl loss to Maryland (20-7), and most recently a 1962 Bluebonnet Bowl win over Georgia Tech (14-10).

TIGERS OVERCOME EARLY DEFICIT TO BEAT DOWN RIVAL KANSAS, 24-10

The old adage about throwing out the records when rivals play each other was holding steadfast in Mizzou's regular-season finale on Nov. 26th. The Tigers entered the game against arch-rival Kansas as heavy favorites, but a mistake-ridden first half saw MU fall behind by a 10-0 score, with the Jayhawks getting all 10 points off of three MU turnovers (3 interceptions, including a pick-six for a TD).

Undaunted, the Tiger defense dug in to keep KU out of the endzone all day long, and the Mizzou offense got itself in gear eventually, as MU cruised to a 24-10 win to extend its overall lead in the nation's 2nd most played rivalry to 57-54-9.

Tiger QB James Franklin rebounded from his rough opening half (he hadn't thrown an interception since Oct. 22nd vs. Oklahoma State – a stretch of 123 consecutive passes) and led the offense to touchdowns on each of MU's first three 2nd-half possessions to break the game open. He threw TD passes of 25 yards to WR Wes Kemp in the 3rd quarter, and 53 yards to WR Marcus Lucas in the 4th quarter, and ended the day 14-of-22 passing for 187 yards, and added 45 yards on the ground to account for 232 yards of total offense on the day.

Franklin had quite the turnaround vs. the Jayhawks, as he completed only 4 of his first 11 passes for 41 yards and 3 INTs. He settled in nicely and completed 10 of his last 11 passes on the day for 146 yards and 2 TDs.

The overall story of the day was Mizzou's defense, however, as the Tigers allowed only 137 yards of offense to Kansas, including 72 yards passing and 65 yards rushing. The Jayhawk offense accounted for only 3 points in the game, and that came on a drive where it netted negative one yard and settled for a short field goal after the first MU turnover.

TIGERS QUALIFY FOR BOWL WITH ANOTHER 4TH-QUARTER RALLY

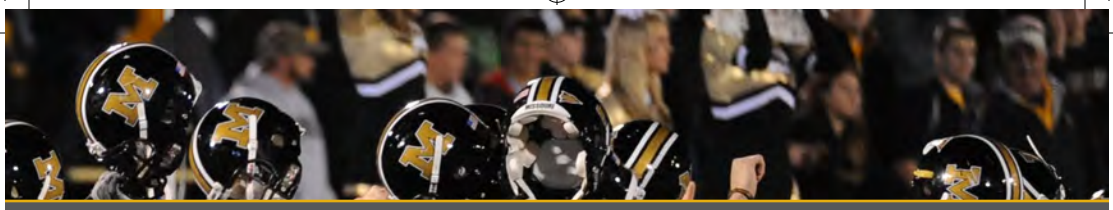

When Texas Tech sped out to a 14-0 first quarter lead in Columbia on Nov. 19th, things looked dire for the Missouri Tigers, who entered the game with a 5-5 record and needed one more win to reach bowl eligibility. When the 4th quarter started, Tech's lead was still 10 points, at 27-17. Little did the Red Raiders know that Mizzou had them right where they wanted.

Okay, it wasn't actually in the Tiger gameplan to spot two touchdowns to a team that already had a road win at #1 Oklahoma on its ledger, but that's how things unfolded in Columbia on Senior Day. Thankfully, the Tigers have displayed a strong finishing kick all season long, and this game was no different as Mizzou rallied for a pair of touchdowns to take a 31-27 lead with 2:22 left, and the defense preserved the win with a goalline stand capped by an interception on the MU 4-yardline with :32 seconds remaining.

The comeback marked the 2nd double-digit 4th-quarter deficit overcome to win in less than a month. On Oct. 29th, Mizzou trailed at Texas A&M by 11 points in the 4th quarter before coming back to force overtime, eventually claiming a 38-31 OT win. The A&M comeback stands as the 2nd-largest 4th-quarter deficit ever overcome to win for Mizzou (13 points is the biggest 4th-quarter deficit overcome, against Nebraska in 1949), while Saturday's 10-point deficit is the 3rd-largest overcome.

The 4th quarter has been a huge swing to the Tigers in 2011. Mizzou has outscored opponents by a whopping 140-to-52 margin in the 4th quarter.

The 140 4th-quarter points is the 3rd-most in the FBS, trailing only Houston (165 in 13 games) and Toledo (149 in 12 games). Conversely, the Tigers have scored only 54 points in the 3rd quarter, a figure which ranks 89th out of 120 teams comprising the FBS ranks.

FRANKLIN KEYS DECISIVE 4TH-QUARTER WIN VERSUS RED RAIDERS

Sophomore QB James Franklin stood tall with the heat on in crunch time against Texas Tech, as he led the Tigers on a pair of touchdown drives in the final quarter to erase a 27-17 deficit., including an 89-yard drive to win the game in the final minutes.

• – Franklin led the charge for the Tiger offense, as he accounted for all four touchdowns on the day (2 passing, 2 rushing) that made the difference in Mizzou's thrilling comeback win. He ended the day with 324 yards of total offense (including a career-high 152 yards rushing), and scored the game-winning touchdown on a 9-yard keeper with 2:22 to play…

• – Mizzou trailed by a 27-17 score entering the fourth quarter of play, but Franklin led a 63-yard drive that ended with his 7-yard TD pass to WR Marcus Lucas on 3rd-and-goal with 12:03 left to pull the Tigers to within 27-24. After a defensive stop, Franklin and the offense got the ball back on their own 11-yardline with just 6:06 left in the game. On the game-winning drive, Franklin ran 5 times for 39 yards and completed 2-of-3 passes for 35 yards…

• – In the 4th quarter alone, Franklin complete 5-of-8 passes for 85 yards and a TD, while he ran 9 times in all for 76 yards and a score…

• – Franklin has accounted for 33 touchdowns on the year (20 passing / 13 rushing), and that total ranks as 3rd-most on the MU single season charts. In the last five games (where MU is 4-1 including wins over two ranked teams), Franklin has a passer rating of 150.24 and has completed 67.9% of his throws for 1,061 yards, 9 TDs and 3 interceptions. He's also rushed for a team-high 394 yards and 5 TDs in that stretch, and is averaging 291.0 yards of total offense in those games…

QUITE A DISCREPANCY BETWEEN THIRD AND FOURTH QUARTER PRODUCTION FOR MU

There's a big emphasis put on finishing games strong in the Mizzou program, and the numbers show that the Tigers have done that well in 2011, as they have outscored opponents by a significant 140-52 margin in the 4th quarter. That's an average of 11.7 points scored in the 4th quarter for Mizzou. As noted previously the Tigers have posted a pair of 4th-quarter wins after rallying from double-digit deficits in the final 15 minutes, including a recent 31-27 win over Texas Tech after trailing 27-17 entering the 4th quarter.

On the flip side, 3rd quarter scoring has been troublesome for the Tigers, as they've managed only 54 points all season in the 3rd period (4.5 pts./game), including just 38 total in 9 Big 12 Conference games (4.2 pts./game). Third-quarter dry spells in league play turned a manageable 24-14 halftime deficit at Oklahoma into a 31-14 deficit at the end of 3 quarters; a 10-3 halftime deficit at Kansas State into a 17-3 deficit; a 24-17 halftime deficit vs. Oklahoma State into a 38-17 deficit; and a 14-13 halftime lead at Baylor into a 28-14 deficit.

Putting it another way, in MU's 4 Big 12 losses, it was outscored in the 3rd quarter by a 43-0 margin. In its 5 Big 12 wins, MU has outscored opponents by a 38-12 margin.

Research (provided by www.cfbstats.com – a site that all football stat afficionados should bookmark, by the way) shows that the 86-point differential between MU's scoring in the 3rd and 4th quarter is far and away the biggest in the nation. Next-most is Middle Tennesse (57 point differential), followed by Indiana (54) and North Carolina (53).

Last time out, against rival Kansas, the Tigers used the 3rd quarter to turn around its fortunes. Trailing 10-3 at halftime, the defense stuffed KU for a 3-and-out to begin the 3rd, and benefitted from an errant punt snap which gave the offense possession on the Jayhawk 14-yardline. Three plays later, TB Kendial Lawrence plunged in from 2 yards out for a touchdown to tie the game at 10 apiece. The Tiger defense continued to lay the smackdown on KU, and the offense got the lead back thanks to a 93-yard 3rd-quarter drive which culminated in a 25-yard TD pass from QB James Franklin to WR Wes Kemp.

Previously versus Texas Tech, Mizzou scored its first touchdown in the 3rd quarter since Oct. 15th. Trailing 20-10 after Tech opened the half with a field goal, the Tigers marched 70 yards for a TD, on a James Franklin-to-Michael Egnew 5-yard TD pass with 4:43 left in the quarter to pull to within 20-17. That would be the only time Mizzou would touch the ball in the quarter, as the Red Raiders played keep away.

The week prior against Texas, the Tigers scored their first points in the 3rd quarter since Oct. 15th, with a field goal by Trey Barrow to extend the lead to 17-3. They didn't take full advantage of the opportunity presented, however, as Mizzou blocked a Longhorn punt and took over with a 1st-and-goal from the 1-yardline. Three runs netted minus-one yard, however, and the Tigers had to take the three points. Mizzou's defense did its part to maintain the lead, as the only points scored in the 2nd half by UT came on a 3rd-quarter blocked punt that went out of the endzone for a safety.

SAGARIN RATINGS INDEX HAS TIGERS RANKED 15TH, WITH #7 TOUGHEST SCHEDULE

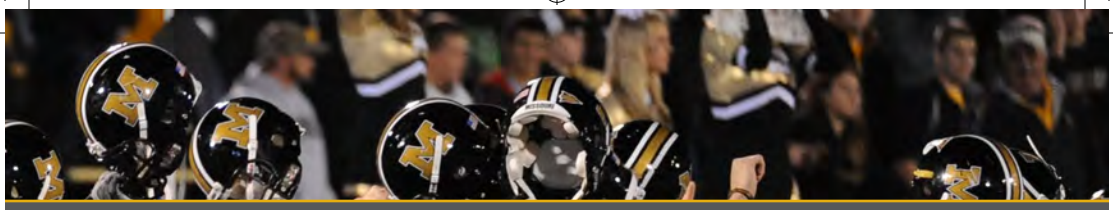

From the "Did You Know" files, for your reading pleasure:

• – The latest Sagarin Ratings Index (a portion of which is used in the BCS standings) has Mizzou ranked 15th in the country (through games of Dec. 3rd), and Sagarin ranks Mizzou's schedule as the nation's #7 toughest. To view the full Sagarin rankings, visit: www.usatoday.com/sports/sagarin/fbt11.htm...

• – The combined record of the 5 teams Mizzou has lost to is 45-15...

Four of Mizzou's 5 losses on the season have come at the hands of ranked opponents, with three of them coming on the road (at then-#23 Arizona State [37-30 in OT]; at then-#1 Oklahoma

Section 2_Notes.indd 30 12/9/2011 1:38:25 PM

[38-28]; and at then-#20 Kansas State [24-17]), in addition to a 45-24 home loss to then-#6 Oklahoma State. The Tigers were able to get over the hump and defeat the next two ranked teams they went up against – then-#16 Texas A&M in College Station (38-31 in OT), and followed up with a win over then-#21 Texas (17-5 in Columbia).

2011 SENIOR CLASS STANDS FOURTH CURRENTLY ON SCHOOL TOP-FIVE WINS LIST

Mizzou's sizeable 2011 senior class has been around for some outstanding moments in the program's history, as detailed above. Even though MU's 7-5 record isn't what the group had in mind back in August, this class has still made its mark on the Tiger history books.

This senior class has already been part of one of the winningest four-year periods of time in Mizzou football history, as their 35 wins from 2008-present stand as the 4th-best mark ever. The 2010 class was part of a record 40 wins in its four years (2007-10), a record in which this year's senior class certainly had a large role in contributing to.

SENIOR CLASS WINS (FOUR-YEAR PERIOD)

Rank	Class	Wins	Bowls
1.	2010	40	4
2.	2009	38	4
3.	2008	37	4
4.	2011	35	4
5.	1963	33	2
6.	2007	32	3
	1962	32	3

What's more, this class has become only the 5th in MU history to play in four bowl games in a 4-year span. The only previous classes to achieve that feat were the 1981 senior class, followed by the last three classes to matriculate (2008, 2009, 2010).

PINKEL HAS THIRD-MOST WINS IN MIZZOU HISTORY

Mizzou Head Coach Gary Pinkel is in his 11th season at MU (21st overall as a head coach) and touts a career record of 157-91-3 (63.2%).

Pinkel, who has led MU to a combined record of 62-29 (68.1%) over the past 7 seasons, and to bowl games in 2003, 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010 and 2011, has an 11-year record in Columbia of 84-54 (60.9%). Dating back to the 2005 Independence Bowl win over Steve Spurrier and South Carolina, Pinkel has gone 56-24 in his last 80 games overall (70.0%). MU's win in the 2008 opener against Illinois gave Pinkel his 50th MU win, and he now ranks 3rd on the coaching wins list at MU, with 84. The win over Kansas in 2010 was the 150th of his career.

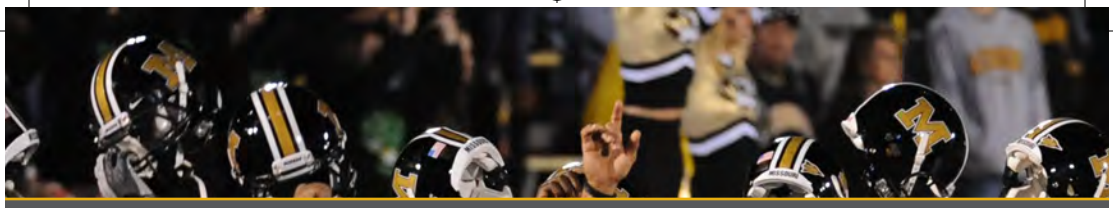

Pinkel is in a select group of Mizzou coaches that includes College Football Hall of Famers Don Faurot and Dan Devine, as well as Warren Powers, to be the only coaches to have an MU record of above .500 (with at least one full season coached) dating all the way back to 1935.

Here's a quick look at the top winning coaches in MU history...

Coach	Wins	# Seasons (Years)	Record	Pct.	# Bowls
Don Faurot	101	19 (1935-42, 46-56)	101-79-10	.558	4
Dan Devine	93	13 (1958-70)	93-37-7	.704	6
Gary Pinkel	84	11 (2001-Present)	84-54	.609	8
Warren Powers	46	7 (1978-84)	46-33-3	.580	5

In 2007, Pinkel guided the Tigers from unranked in the pre-season to a team which won a school-record 12 games and a final ranking of #4 in the Associated Press Top-25. Mizzou ascended to #1 in the BCS rankings following the regular season, and stood just one half away from playing in the BCS National Championship Game (before Oklahoma pulled away from a halftime tie to win the Big 12 title game). For his efforts in 2007, Pinkel was a finalist for several national coach of the year awards, including the Robinson, Bryant and Munger awards. He was also named the National Coach of the Year by FieldTurf in 2007, and his 7 bowl games is an MU record.

Pinkel has directed Mizzou to 8 winning seasons (8-5 in 2003, 7-5 in 2005, 8-5 in 2006, 12-2 in 2007, 10-4 in 2008, 8-5 in 2009, 10-3 in 2010 and 7-5 in 2011), with those representing 8 of MU's 10 winning campaigns dating back to the 1983 season.

The Big 12 North Division titles won by Mizzou in 2007, 2008 and 2010 represent the only football conference titles of any kind Mizzou has won since 1969 – the last time it claimed a share of the old Big Eight Conference crown. In April of 2011, Pinkel agreed to a two-year contract extension, meaning he'll patrol the Tiger sidelines through the 2017 season.

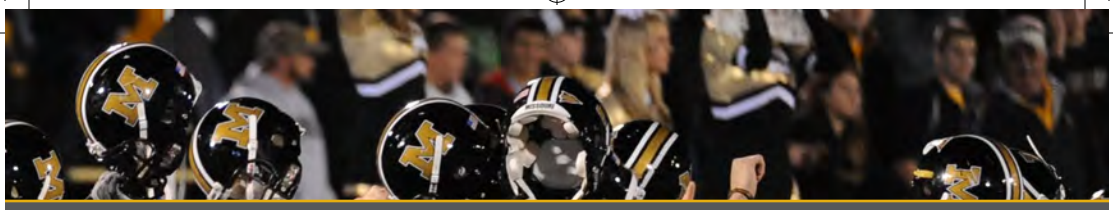

HAMILTON LEADS WAY FOR TIGER DEFENSIVE LINE, HAS TWO "SAVES" ON THE YEAR

Defensive tackles often toil in virtual anonymity in the trenches, but Mizzou's senior DT Dominique Hamilton was been anything but anonymous in 2011, as he put together an all-star caliber type of season.

Hamilton leads all Big 12 interior linemen with 55 tackles on the season, and while a "save" isn't a football statistic, we're going to borrow from the game of baseball to give Big Dom credit for a pair of saves in 2011, as he has single-handedly (literally) made a pair of plays to preserve dramatic Tiger wins. He deflected passes that ended games against both Texas Tech and Texas A&M, with one creating a game-winning interception, and the other ending an overtime drive on 4th down for the win.

The last "save" came Nov. 19th at home against Texas Tech. With MU having rallied from a 10-point 4th-quarter deficit to take a 31-27 lead with 2:22 left in the game, the Red Raiders drove downfield and stood in prime position with a 1st-and-10 at the Tiger 11-yardline with under a minute to play and three timeouts left. After Tech QB Seth Doege completed a pass for 4 yards to reach the Tiger 7-yardline with :37 seconds left, he next tried a pass over the middle. Hamilton got a push at the line, and got his mitt up in the passing lane to deflect the ball. It hung in the air for around 4 1/2 minutes (approximately) and finally nestled into the loving arms of Tiger DE Michael Sam, who made the interception at the MU 4-yardline with :32 seconds left. Mizzou ran out the clock and claimed the dramatic 31-27 win to reach bowl eligibility.

Hamilton's first "save" came on Oct. 29th at 16th-ranked Texas A&M, when the Tigers similarly rallied from an 11-point 4th-quarter deficit to force overtime. After Mizzou scored a TD on the initial possession of overtime for a 38-31 lead, the Aggies tried to answer, but eventually faced a 4th-and-5 at the Mizzou 20-yardline. Hamilton foiled A&M's plans when he batted down Ryan Tannehill's pass attempt over the middle to end the game.

Hamilton was on his way to a standout junior season in 2010, but he suffered a broken foot early in game #7 against Oklahoma, ending his season early.

FRANKLIN TURNING IN AN IMPRESSIVE SEASON IN 1ST YEAR AS STARTER

Sophomore QB James Franklin might not have come with the hype of his predecessors Chase Daniel or Blaine Gabbert, but he quietly put together an outstanding season in his first year as a starter. With a plethora of star QBs in the Big 12 Conference, Franklin didn't make 1st-Team All-Conference, but he's certainly positioned himself for big things in the future.

Franklin turned in the 6th-most prolific season in MU history, with his 3,572 yards of total offense, and if he hits his per-game average of 298.25 coming into the bowl game, he'd jump to #4 on the list. His 2,733 passing yards is also 6th-best on the MU single-season passing list, while his 33 TDs accounted for (20 passing/13 rushing) is 3rd-best in MU annals.

The soft-spoke and affable signal caller rebounded from a rough 1st-half in the regular-season finale to lead Mizzou to a 24-10 win over rival Kansas. Making his first start against MU's arch enemy, Franklin was rudely introduced to the rivalry by throwing 3 first-half interceptions, which led to 10 Jayhawk points and a 10-0 MU deficit. Franklin recovered, however, and completed 10 of his last 11 passes on the day for 146 yards and 2 TDs.

Prior to that, Franklin turned in a clutch performance against Texas Tech that saw him lead the Tigers to a 31-27 win, thanks to a 14-point 4th-quarter rally that erased a 27-17 deficit starting the final period of play. Franklin threw and ran for two TDs each on the day (including one each in the 4th quarter rally) to account for all 4 MU TDs in the game, and he ended with a career-high 152 yards rushing and added 171 yards passing on 13-of-20 passing.

In crunch time, Franklin was at his best against Tech, as he completed 5-of-8 passes in the 4th quarter for 85 yards and 1 TD, while he ran 9 times for 76 yards and the game-winning score with 2:22 left.

Franklin, who has helped guide the Tigers to wins over two ranked teams this season (at #16 Texas A&M and over #21 Texas) ranks 15th in the NCAA in total offense, averaging 298.25 yards per game. He's got the Tiger offense ranked 13th nationally in total offense heading into the bowl game (472.42 avg.).

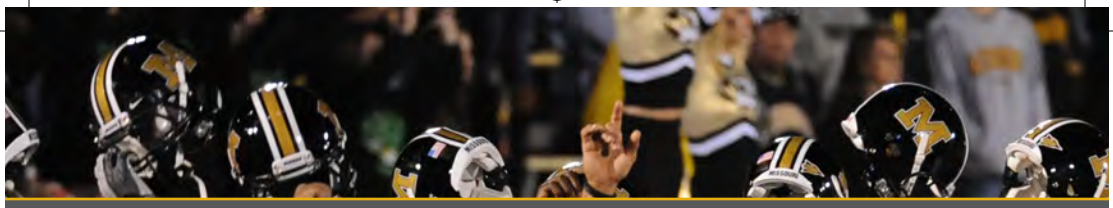

Recently Franklin, playing in his homestate of Texas, was our choice for Mizzou offensive player of the week in MU's thrilling 38-31 overtime win at Texas A&M. Here's a recap of his exploits…

• – Franklin led a dramatic comeback win in a hostile environment, as the Tigers overcame a 28-17 4th-quarter deficit to pull out a 38-31 overtime win at 16th-ranked Texas A&M (the 2nd-largest 4th-quarter deficit overcome to win in Tiger history). Franklin, who accounted for 4 TDs on the day, tossed a clutch 11-yard TD pass in overtime on 3rd down that proved to be the winning points. That capped an outstanding day for the sophomore, as he finished with 295 yards of total offense, including 16-of-24 passing for 198 yards and 2 TDs (42 yards, 11 yards) and 97 yards rushing and 2 more TDs (20 yards, 8 yards). His 20-yard TD run to open scoring in the 1st quarter was featured as the #2 play on SportsCenter that Saturday night and Sunday morning, as he scrambled to the sideline with no open receivers, and broke the tackles of at least three Aggies to get to paydirt…

MAKING SOME QB COMPARISONS

After winning 10 games 3 times in the last 4 seasons, expectations coming into the 2011 season were understandably very high for the Missouri Tigers. While Mizzou stands at 7-5 overall, it's important to keep in perspective that it features a 1st-year starting quarterback in true sophomore James Franklin.

Section 2_Notes.indd 33 12/9/2011 1:38:25 PM

While each of MU's previous 3 quarterbacks are now playing in the NFL, it is interesting to take a look at comparisons of Franklin to the likes of Brad Smith, Chase Daniel and Blaine Gabbert, in terms of how they fared in their first 12 starts.

1st-YEAR STARTERS UNDER GARY PINKEL THROUGH 1st 12 GAMES

Tiger	Record	C-A-Int.	Pct.	Yds.	TD	Effic.	Rush-Yds. (TDs)
Brad Smith (2002)	5-7	196-366-6	53.6	2,333	15	117.34	193-1,029 (7)
Chase Daniel (2006)	8-4	271-423-10	64.1	3,197	26	143.11	138-407 (4)
Blaine Gabbert (2009)	8-4	247-414-7	59.7	3,302	23	141.61	94-228 (3)
James Franklin (2011)	7-5	223-353-10	63.2	2,733	20	141.24	199-839 (13)

The stats really are pretty similar, even when comparing the wins, as Daniel and Gabbert both stood one game better in the win column to this point in the year. Smith finished the 2002 season with a 5-7 record, Daniel finished the 2006 season with an 8-5 record, and Gabbert finished the 2009 season with an 8-5 record.

Franklin has been responsible for 33 TDs through 12 games, which is the most of the group. He's also the only one of the group to guide the Tigers to a win over a ranked team (winning each of his last 2 against ranked foes) in his first year as a starter. Were it not for a missed field goal at the end of regulation, Franklin would stand 3-3 against ranked opponents.

One more interesting thing to note when looking at the numbers above for the 1st 12 career starts, is the strength of schedule. While we don't have access to the opponents' schedule strength rankings from each year to date, one way to assess that is the number of ranked teams each QB went against.

Here's that look:

of ranked teams played in 1st 12 career starts:

• – Smith (4 - Oklahoma [L], at Iowa State [L], Colorado [L], Kansas State [L])
• – Daniel (1 - Oklahoma [L])
• – Franklin (6 - at Arizona St. [L], at Oklahoma [L], at Kansas St. [L], Oklahoma St. [L], at Texas A&M [W], Texas [W])

LAWRENCE STARS WITH FIRST CAREER 100-YARD DAY TO KEY WIN OVER TEXAS

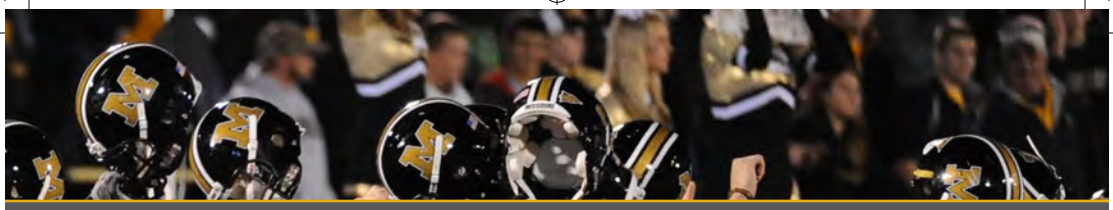

Junior TB Kendial Lawrence began the year as MU's #1 tailback coming out of fall camp, as he was clearly the Tigers' most productive back in two-a-days. After a tough opener against Miami (Ohio) when he was held to just 10 yards on 9 carries, Lawrence suffered a broken bone in his leg in practice prior to the 2nd game of the year at Arizona State. He missed the next three games recovering and had his first action back at Kansas State (6 carries, 5 yards).

The emergence of Henry Josey as the Big 12's most productive running back could have deterred Lawrence, but he was determined to get back to help his team, and he did just that and then some against #21 Texas when he subbed for an injured Josey and ran for a career-high 106 yards and 1 touchdown to key Mizzou's 17-5 win on Nov. 12th.

Lawrence went for his first career 100-yard game against a Longhorn defense which entered the game with the nation's 9th-ranked rushing defense, allowing just 94.88 yards per game. He carried a career-high 18 times on the day, and his 35-yard touchdown in the 2nd quarter staked MU to a 14-3 lead. He also caught a pass for a 20-yard gain on the day. His previous career best rushing game was a 96-yard outing in 2010 at Texas Tech.

In the next outing against Texas Tech, Lawrence just missed a 2nd-straight 100-yard day, as he went for 94 yards on 15 carries (6.3 average), and he added a team-best 63 yards (1 TD) on the ground in the regular-season finale against Kansas.

Section 2_Notes.indd 34 12/9/2011 1:38:25 PM

He enters the bowl game with 458 rushing yards and 4 TDs on the season., with 263 yards and 2 TDs coming in the final 3 games of the season.

JACQUIES SMITH LEADS THE CHARGE OFF THE EDGE FOR MIZZOU'S DEFENSE

Senior DE Jacquies Smith overcame an injury early in the year to play some really good ball down the stretch, and his play was a big reason for Mizzou's successful close to the season. Just a few of his top exploits include:

• – Smith leads the Big 12 in forced fumbles, with an average of 0.40 per game, and his 4 total forced fumbles is tied for most in the league this season…

• – Entering the bowl game, Smith stands 8th in QB sacks (0.50 per game average), and he ranks 10th in the league in TFLs with his 0.90 average per game. Keep in mind that Smith suffered a dislocated elbow in the season opener against Miami (Ohio), and he was forced to miss the next two games. The injury definitely hampered him for awhile upon his return, and his numbers didn't jump off the page, but he played at the level he expected to when he was a pre-season 1st-Team All-Big 12 pick by many outlets…

• – Smith had only 3 tackles versus Texas, but he was his disruptive self as he contributed to Mizzou's huge defensive effort with 2.0 TFLs and 1 QB sack, plus a forced fumble and a pass break up…

• Smith got a sack and forced fumble to end one Texas drive, and later nearly got another in the 4th quarter, but the Longhorn QB was ruled to have started his arm coming forward before the ball came out…

GAINES 3RD IN NCAA WITH 16 PASSES DEFENDED - HAVING ALL-BIG 12 TYPE OF YEAR

Sophomore CB E.J. Gaines is in his first year as a starter, and he quickly developed into an outstanding cover man who ranks 3rd in the NCAA with 18 passes defended (16 PBUs, and 2 INTs). His 16 pass break ups this season has broken the Mizzou single-season record (see accompanying chart), and he surpassed the previous mark of 15 with a pair of break ups against Texas Tech.

The youngster really stepped up to the challenge in the last month of the regular season, as he came up with 12 pass break ups in games against Texas Tech (2 PBUs), Texas (2 PBUs), Baylor (1 PBU), Texas A&M (4 PBUs), Oklahoma State (3 PBUs, plus an INT). He has also moved up to 5th on the squad with 69 tackles.

Gaines was front and center in Mizzou's 17-5 upset over #21 Texas, as he contributed with 2 pass break ups, to go with 6 tackles as the Tigers held UT to a season-lows of 247 yards and 5 points.

Gaines had a 7-tackle, 1-PBU night at Baylor, and prior to that won Big 12 Defensive Player of the Week honors for his 10-tackle outing at Texas A&M, and his play in the 2nd half was indicative of the improved results of his unit, as the Tiger defense held the high-powered Aggie offense to just a field goal after halftime. Gaines had 3 of his pass break ups in the 2nd half. He became the first Mizzou cornerback to win the weekly conference award since R.J. Jones in 2002.

He's at his most exciting with the ball in his hands, however. Against OSU he showed just how exciting, as he broke two long returns, nearly taking them both for touchdowns that could have changed the complexion of the game.

His first came late in the 3rd quarter, with MU trailing by 14 points and with the defense's back against the wall. Oklahoma State faced a 3rd-and-4 at the Mizzou 5-yardline. A TD by the Cowboys would have been a back-breaker, but Gaines saw to it that that wouldn't happen. He made a great read and jumped the route thrown by OSU's Brandon Weeden, intercepting the ball five yards deep near the right sideline of the endzone. Most of the time, people take a knee, but Gaines saw a chance to make something happen, and he did that as he made several moves to elude would-be tacklers inside the 20. He eventually took it back 54 yards the other way to set the Tigers up in plus territory, needing perhaps just one more downfield block that would have sprung him.

Later, in the 4th quarter, Gaines also came up big in the return game. Inserted as MU's new primary punt returner prior to the Iowa State game, Gaines raced the other way 33 yards with 6:09 left to put the Tigers, who trailed by just 14 points at the time, on the Oklahoma State 35-yardline. A score there would have cut the deficit to a touchdown, but it wasn't to be as MU was intercepted on a batted ball on the next snap.

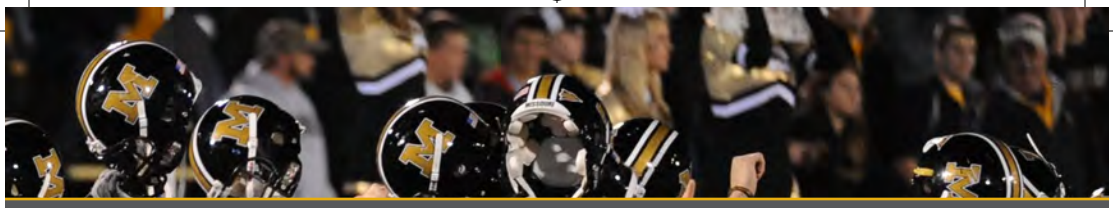

Those plays weren't the first big ones Gaines has made this season. He took a punt return back 44 yards for a score against Western Illinois (when he was the backup return man), and in the season opener, he made another interception in the Tiger endzone to thwart a scoring opportunity by Miami (Ohio).

In 9 punt returns, Gaines is averaging a solid 10.9 yards per attempt.

BIG 12'S LEADING RUSHER HENRY JOSEY LOST TO KNEE INJURY

Mizzou's big win on Nov. 12th over #21 Texas was exciting on many levels for Tiger fans, but it also came in the midst of a big injury setback for sophomore TB Henry Josey, who just the day before the game had been named a semifinalist for the 2011 Doak Walker Award. Josey, who led the Big 12 Conference, and ranked 5th nationally in rushing (127.67 avg. coming into the UT game), was tackled in the 3rd quarter, and went down in pain as his left leg got caught awkwardly underneath him.

Section 2_Notes.indd 36 12/9/2011 1:38:25 PM

Unfortunately for the Angleton, Texas native, he sustained a torn patellar tendon, along with tears in his anterior cruciate ligament (ACL) and medial collateral ligament (MCL), injuries which obviously will sideline him for the remainder of the 2011 season. Josey had surgery the next morning to begin the repair process, and Mizzou team physicians and trainers are confident that he will be able to return to full strength down the road. The exact timetable for his return is unknown currently, but he ended his season with the 5th-best rushing total in MU history (1,168 yards, 9 TDs, 8.1 avg. per carry). Heading into bowl season, he still is the Big 12's leading rusher (116.80 avg.), and ranks 12th nationally in the category.

HEY MOE! TIGER T.J. MOVES INTO MU CAREER RECEPTIONS TOP-10

Junior WR T.J. Moe emerged in 2010 as one of the most consistent and dependable playmakers in the Big 12 Conference, as he led the Tigers in receiving (92 receptions, 1,045 yards, 6 TDs). His numbers are down from last season as the Tigers have been more balanced with a Big 12-best run game, but Moe still stands as MU's most productive receiver on the year, as he enters the bowl game with 54 receptions for 649 yards – all team-high totals – while his 4 receiving TDs is 2nd-best on the squad.

He was held against Texas Tech to a season-low 2 catches for 8 yards, but he also got involved in the run game by carrying twice for 11 yards. He also averaged 25.75 yards on 4 kickoff returns to help the cause.

The Tigers were held to just 186 passing yards against #21 Texas, but Moe still played a big role, as he led the way with game-high totals of 5 catches for 74 yards. His 40-yard catch-and-run down the seam in the 2nd quarter was a crucial play on 3rd down which set up the Tigers' first score of the day.

Moe was limited to 3 catches for 31 yards in the previous outing at Baylor, but he did contribute with a 17-yard TD in the 4th quarter as the Tigers tried to rally late. He was held in check the week prior at #16 Texas A&M, but he still conributed with 4 catches for 38 yards. His 17-yarder with :20 seconds left in regulation was a key play

ACADEMIC HONORS

Sixteen members of the Mizzou football team were named last week to the 2011 Academic All-Big 12 football team. Mizzou was one of four schools with 10 or more student-athletes to make the listings.

Mizzou had two of the league's six student-athletes tomake the team with perfect 4.00 grade point averages – senior TB De'Vion Moore and redshirt freshman Matt Hoch.

First team members consist of those who have maintained a 3.20 or better GPA while the second team selections hold a 3.00 to 3.19 GPA.

To qualify, student-athletes must maintain a 3.00 GPA or higher either cumulative or the two previous semesters and must have participated in 60 percent of their team's scheduled contests. Freshmen and transfers are not eligible in their first year of academic residence. Senior student-athletes who have participated for a minimum of two years and meet all the criteria except percent of participation are also eligible.

Mizzou's honorees include:

•Andrew Wilson (So.) – Business Administration

that helped set up a potential game-winning FG.

Prior to that, Moe had a 6-catch, 103-yard, 1 TD outing against #6 Oklahoma State. His TD catch came from 34 yards out with 2:03 left before halftime, and it was a key play that closed the Tigers to within 24-17 at the time. The former record-setting high school quarterback also dusted his arm off the shelf and got his first collegiate completion, as he threw a 31-yard pass on a throw-back pass to QB James Franklin.

With 148 career receptions (1,702 yards, 10 TDs), Moe has now cracked into the Mizzou career top-10 list for receptions. He stands 8th on the list entering the bowl game, and he's only 6 yards out of the school's career top-10 list for receiving yardage.

The big day vs. OSU was Moe's 2nd 100-yard outing of the season. His first was a breakout performance, and he got just that at top-ranked Oklahoma a few weeks ago.

Moe had a big game at OU, as he hauled in 7 James Franklin passes for a season-best 119 yards. It marked the first 100-yard receiving game of the year for any Tiger, and it was the 4th 100-yard receiving game of Moe's career. Moe had 3 receptions at Oklahoma of 20 yards or more, going for gains of 32, 29 and 21 on the night. He leads Mizzou with 10 catches on the year of 20 yards or more so far.

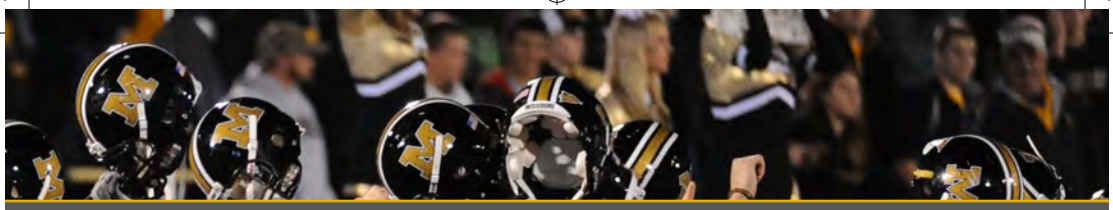

That was a nice sign for the Tiger offense, as Moe entered the OU game as MU's leading receiver, but with numbers that were smaller than what Mizzou fans had grown accustomed to seeing. He began the year with a 6-catch, 56-yard outing against Miami (Ohio) and followed with 6 catches for 48 yards at Arizona State, and added 4 catches for 68 yards and 1 TD against Western Illinois in a little over one half of play.

MIZZOU IS NCAA'S ALLTIME OVERTIME KING

If it seems like Mizzou has been involved in a lot of overtime games, well, you're not crazy, because the Tigers have played in as many OT games as any school since the rule was put in place for the 1995 bowl season.

The Tigers have now played 2 overtime affairs in 2011, and after its thrilling comeback 38-31 OT win at #16 Texas A&M on Oct. 29th, Mizzou stands 1-1 on the year in overtime games.

Section 2_Notes.indd 38 12/9/2011 1:38:26 PM

Coupled with Mizzou's Sept. 9 OT game at Arizona State (won by the Sun Devils, 37-30), Mizzou has now played 14 overtime games, which is most in NCAA history, through games of Nov. 19th. Schools next on the list with 13 overtime games include Fresno State (5-8), North Carolina State (8-5), Texas A&M (7-6), Pittsburgh (6-7), SMU (3-10) and Syracuse (7-6).

More importantly, when Mizzou goes to overtime, more often than not it comes out on the winning side. Mizzou owns 10 OT wins alltime, which is the most in FBS history entering this weekend (tied with Tennessee, who is 10-2 alltime). The Tigers had won five straight OT games until the recent defeat at Arizona State.

Year	Opponent (Rank)	Result	#OTs
1996	Oklahoma State	W, 35-28	OT
1996	at Baylor	W, 49-42	3-OT
1997	at Oklahoma State (12)	W, 51-50	2-OT
1997	Nebraska (1)	L, 45-38	OT
1999	at Colorado	L, 46-39	OT
2001	at Oklahoma State	W, 41-38	3-OT
2002	Colorado (18)	L, 42-35	OT
2002	at Texas A&M	W, 33-27	2-OT
2003	Middle Tennessee State	W, 41-40	OT
2004	at Iowa State	W, 17-14	OT
2005	Iowa State	W, 27-24	OT
2008	Northwestern (22)	W, 30-23	OT
2011	Arizona State (23)	L, 37-30	OT
2011	at Texas A&M (16)	W, 38-31	OT

Interestingly, MU Head Coach Gary Pinkel is credited with winning the very first overtime game ever played in Division I history, when his Toledo Rockets beat Nevada, 40-37, in the 1995 Las Vegas Bowl. The overtime rule was put into effect for that bowl season, and has been in use ever since.

Pinkel is now 9-2 alltime in his career in overtime games, including 7-2 at Mizzou.

CLEANING UP THE PENALTIES OF LATE

Gary Pinkel has always prided himself on his teams playing with focus and pride, characteristics which have historically led to his squads being among the least penalized in the Big 12 Conference – MU ranked among the top-30 in fewest penalties for 4 straight seasons from 2006-09 (see chart below).

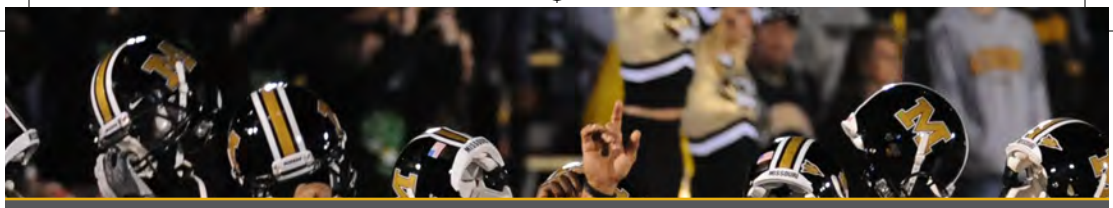

The 2010 squad went down to 68th nationally in the category, and that troubling trend continued early on in 2011, as through the first 5 games, Mizzou was averaging a whopping 8.60 flags and 71.20 penalty yards per game, which ranked the Tigers in the bottom 20 in the country.

If the next 2 weeks were any indication, Pinkel's Tigers cleaned up those mistakes, because they were whistled a combined 1 time for 11 yards in consecutive games against Iowa State and Oklahoma State. In Mizzou's big win at #16 Texas A&M, the Tigers were clean through 3 quarters, with only 2 penalties for 15 yards, before getting called on 3 penalties in the 4th quarter, but they still ended with 5 penalties for 45 yards on the day.

In the last 7 games, Mizzou has jumped all the way up to 40th in the national team rankings for fewest penalties, with their current average of 5.33 penalties and 45.33 penalty yards per game. In the last 7 games, Mizzou has committed only 21 penalties total for 188 yards, averages of just 3.00 penalties and 26.86 yards per game.

The Tigers were whistled just 3 times for 20 yards in their win over #21 Texas and followed with a 4-penalty for 30-yard day in its comeback win over Texas Tech. In the regular-season finale against Kansas, Mizzou was whistled for 2 penalties worth 25 yards on the same 1st-quarter offensive

THE GRADUATE(S)

• After the senior classes from 2008-2010 have seen 53-of-57 earn their degrees, the current Mizzou senior class is doing outstandingly well in regards to its graduation timetable, as well. Consider the following facts:

Eight current Tigers have already earned their degrees:
• Luke Lambert (December, 2010)
• De'Vion Moore (December, 2010)
• Jimmy Costello (May, 2011)
• Grant Ressel (May, 2011)
• Austin Wuebbels (May, 2011)
• Terry Dennis (August, 2011)
• Elvis Fisher (August, 2011)
• Trey Hobson (August, 2011)

Ten Tigers are scheduled to graduate in December:
• Brendan Donaldson
• Michael Egnew
• Brandon Gerau
• Dominique Hamilton
• Dan Hoch
• Kenji Jackson
• Andrew Jones
• Wes Kemp
• Terrell Resonno
• Jacquies Smith

The final nine seniors will graduate in May:
• John Birdwell
• Beau Brinkley
• Quinn Brown
• Will Ebner
• Jerrell Jackson
• Marvin Norman
• Tony Randolph
• Jayson Palmgren
• Corey Sudhoff

possession, and didn't have a penalty called against them the rest of the game.

Mizzou opened the year with a 9-penalty, 81-yard effort in its opener against Miami (Ohio), and then saw 11 flags come its way for 114 crucial yards that played a big role in a 37-30 overtime loss at #23 Arizona State in week two.

Here's a look at MU's penalty history in the recent past:

MIZZOU PENALTIES AGAINST NCAA RANKING

JOSEY TURNED IN AN ALL-STAR SEASON, 1ST IN BIG 12, 12TH IN NCAA RUSHING

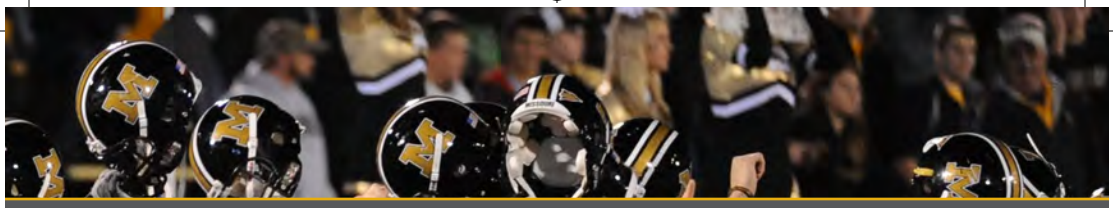

Prior to the bad break endured two weeks ago with his season-ending knee injury, sophomore TB Henry Josey had squarely put himself into the mix as one of the top story lines in the Big 12 Conference in 2011, and he was also making a serious push for national honors, beyond the league.

The unassuming and baby-faced youngster began the season as Mizzou's 3rd-string tailback, but because of injuries to others, he jumped into the lead back role in game number two, and kept a stranglehold on the spot with his stellar play.

Josey's season ended late in the third quarter against Texas when his left leg got caught underneath him awkwardly while being spun around on a tackle. He sustained tears in his patellar tendon, his ACL and his MCL and had surgery the next day to begin the repair process. There's no timetable for his return, but Mizzou physicians and trainers are confident he'll make a full recovery.

When Josey went down, he had been held to just 19 yards on 11 carries against a stingy Texas run defense. Even with those numbers, he ended his season with the 5th-most prolific rushing season in Mizzou history, with 1,168 yards, to go with 9 touchdowns.

Section 2_Notes.indd 40 12/9/2011 1:38:26 PM

Josey is still the Big 12's leading rusher, and the 12th-ranked runner in the NCAA, averaging 116.80 yards per game. Prior to Texas, he had 4-straight 100-yard rushing games, and 6 100-yard outings in his previous 7 outings. He had a 132-yard, 2-TD night at Baylor, and previously had a 162-yard, 1-TD effort in MU's 38-31 overtime win at #16 Texas A&M. The Aggies entered the game with the 5th-ranked rushing defense in the nation (allowing just 79.86 yards per game, but Josey gashed them for 8.1 yards per carry on 20 tries. His 43-yard burst in the 4th quarter set up his own 11-yard TD run with 7:38 left in regulation that gave Mizzou a 31-28 lead after trailing 28-14.

Prior to that, Josey had a 138-yard outing in defeat to #6 Oklahoma State. He carried a career-high 25 times against the Cowboys and averaged 5.5 yards an attempt.

What makes Josey's story so interesting is that he entered the season third on the depth chart in what was considered by most to be MU's deepest position. However, injuries to senior TB De'Vion Moore and junior TB Kendial Lawrence, combined with losing sophomore TB Marcus Murphy for the season with a shoulder injury that occurred prior to the start of fall camp, and all of a sudden, he became a one-man show of sorts.

Josey had a 129-yard performance the week prior in MU's 52-17 Homecoming win over Iowa State. He carried 19 times against the Cyclones (a career-high at the time), and had 1 rushing TD while averaging 6.8 yards per attempt.

A few more tidbits on Josey's exploits...

• – Josey rushed for a game-high 133 yards and 1 TD (on a 48-yard scamper in the 4th quarter) to help the Tigers to a 241-yard output on the ground at top-ranked Oklahoma on Sept. 24th. Josey did his damage against an OU defense that came into the game ranked 20th in the NCAA against the run, allowing just 78.00 yards per game to opponents…

• – Josey became MU's primary back early in the season, as Lawrence (who began the year with the starting role) went down with a cracked fibula in practice the week of the Arizona State game, while Moore started at ASU but suffered a high ankle sprain on the first play of the night. Josey came off the bench and was impressive against the Sun Devils, as he had 145 yards from scrimmage (94 rushing on 9 carries / 51 receiving on 2 receptions)...

• – The week after that, Josey was thrust into the starting role for the first time this season against Western Illinois (he started one time in relief in 2010), Josey looked to make the most of his new-found opportunity. And did he ever do just that.

In a performance for the record books, Josey played only one half before retiring for the night, but not before he blistered Western Illinois for 263 rushing yards and 3 TDs (6, 21, 68) on just 14 carries – good for a rather salty per-carry average of 18.8 yards. It was the 4th-highest single-game rushing total in MU history.

Moreover, Josey's yardage is the 5th-highest single-game output in the NCAA through games of Dec. 3rd.

1. Lance Dunbar, North Texas vs. Middle Tennessee State (40-314, 4 TDs, 7.83 avg.)
2. Dustin Garrison, West Virginia vs. Bowling Green (32-291, 2 TDs, 9.09 avg.)
3. LaMichael James, Oregon vs. Arizona (23-288, 2 TDs, 12.52 avg.)
4. Chris Nwoke, Colorado State vs. Air Force (29-269, 2 TDs, 9.28 avg.)
5. Henry Josey, Missouri vs. Western Illinois (14-263, 3 TDs, 18.79 avg.)

OFFENSE AS BALANCED AS THEY COME - 2,835 RUSH YARDS,2,834 PASS YARDS

Since going to the spread offensive attack prior to the 2005 season, the Tigers have built a reputation for having one of the more potent passing games in the country. Through 12 games in 2011 however, it would be difficult to find a more balanced offense through than Mizzou's, as the Tigers have totaled 2,835 yards rushing and 2,834 yards passing.

The emergence of sophomore TB Henry Josey (1st in Big 12, 12th in NCAA in rushing, averaging 116.80 ypg) had served as a nice complement to sophomore QB James Franklin, who ranks 15th in the NCAA in total offense, averaging 298.25 yards per game (227.8 passing yards). They had been arguably among the best 1-2 rush/pass combinations in the country, prior to Josey being lost for the remainder of the 2011 season with a knee injury suffered in MU's win over Texas.

Mizzou's scores have been pretty balanced, with 27 rushing TDs to go with 21 passing TDs thus far.

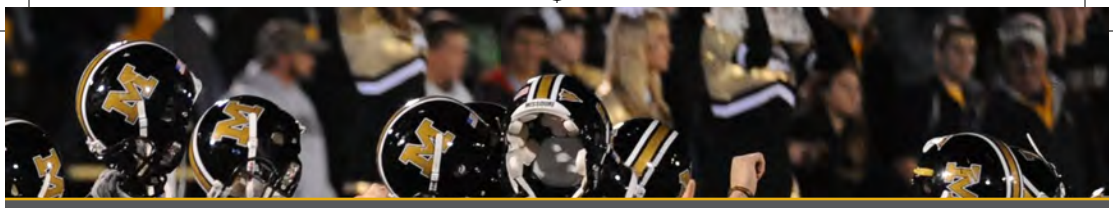

Here's a look at the yardage total for Mizzou each season since going to the spread (w/per game average and NCAA ranking in parentheses):

Year	Rushing	Passing	Total Off.
2005	2,463 (205.3 - 17th)	2,694 (224.5 - 53rd)	5,157 (429.8 - 24th)
2006	1,943 (149.5 - 46th)	3,590 (276.2 - 10th)	5,533 (425.7 - 8th)
2007	2,467 (176.2 - 38th)	4,397 (314.1 - 9th)	6,864 (490.3 - 5th)
2008	2,153 (153.8 - 52nd)	4,625 (330.4 - 4th)	6,778 (484.2 - 8th)
2009	1,651 (127.0 - 85th)	3,711 (285.5 - 14th)	5,362 (412.5 - 32nd)
2010	2,033 (162.9 - 48th)	3,292 (238.2 - 43rd)	5,325 (401.1 - 45th)

MORE ON BALANCE OF THINGS - MU 1 OF 2 TO AVG. 235 RUSH/235 PASS

Most observers thought that the Tiger offense, despite returning 9 starters from last year, might take awhile to find itself, given the fact that it was being led in 2011 by a first-time starter in sophomore QB James Franklin. Add to the mix the fact that three-year starting LT Elvis Fisher was lost for the entire season due to a ruptured patellar tendon in his left leg in training camp, and outside expectations for Mizzou's offense were very tempered heading into the season.

Section 2_Notes.indd 42 12/9/2011 1:38:27 PM

After a slow start offensively in the season-opening 17-9 win over Miami (Ohio), where the Tigers had just 291 yards of total offense, MU has been improved. Since that game, Mizzou has averaged an impressive 488.91 yards of total offense, including 501 at #23 Arizona State, a school-record 744 against Western Illinois, and 532 more at #1 Oklahoma (the most-ever by Mizzou at Oklahoma) for a big 3-game stretch. The Tigers were held to 338 total yards vs. #21 Texas, but much of that had to do with the fact that the offensive game plan changed to ball control and clock burn due to MU holding a two-score lead, combined with a stifling defensive effort by the Mizzou defenders.

After being held to a 326-yard day in a loss at #20 Kansas State, the offense bounced back with a 583-yard outing in a blowout win over Iowa State, and followed with yardage totals of 463 vs. #6 Oklahoma State, 482 at #16 Texas A&M and 578 yards in a losing effort at Baylor.

Again, we will humbly submit that through 12 games, Mizzou's offense has been arguably one of the most balanced in the nation. Here's a look at the top rushing schools so far, and how they also throw the ball. Of note is the fact that Mizzou is one of only 2 teams so far to average both 235 yards passing and 235 yards rushing (Nevada is the other, see chart below). Here's the numbers: (w/per game average and NCAA ranking in parentheses):

School	Rushing	Passing Off.
Army	350.91 (1st)	48.00 (120th)
Air Force	320.33 (2nd)	138.50 (113th)
Georgia Tech	316.83 (3rd)	142.75 (112th)
Navy	313.73 (4th)	92.36 (119th)
Oregon	295.69 (5th)	219.54 (68th)
Utah State	277. 50 (6th)	181.17 (95th)
Temple	256.67 (7th)	123.25 (117th)
Nevada	251.83 (8th)	271.00 (30th)

TIGERS HANG TOUGH, 2 OF 3 LARGEST 4TH-QUARTER COMEBACK WINS IN MU HISTORY

After getting out to leads of 7-0 and 14-7 at 16th-ranked Texas A&M on Oct. 29th, the Missouri Tigers went cold during the second quarter, as the offense stalled with 3-and-outs on its first two possessions, while Texas A&M rolled to four straight touchdowns and a 28-14 lead. A late drive ended in a Trey Barrow 26-yard field right before halftime (his first collegiate kick ever, as he was subbing for the injured Grant Ressel) to cut the deficit to 28-17.

After a scoreless 3rd quarter, the Tigers were in serious need of a big play to jump start a comeback attempt. Sophomore CB Randy Ponder, a former preferred walk-on who is now on scholarship, gave them just that when he intercepted A&M's Ryan Tannehill at the Mizzou 25-yardline and returned it 45 yards the other way to the Aggie 30-yardline. Three plays later, QB James Franklin scored from 8 yards out and suddenly the Tigers were back in the game, trailing just 28-24 with 10:50 to play.

Mizzou's defense seized the momentum and held for a 3-and-out, and on the first play when MU took over on its 21-yardline, Josey burst off right tackle for 43 yards to the Aggie 36-yardline. That set up Josey's own 11-yard TD run with 7:38 left that brought Mizzou all the way back to a 31-28 lead. Even though the Aggies would go on to tie the game on a field goal and send it to overtime, the Tigers came out on top, thanks to a beautifully-executed 3rd-down fade pass in overtime from Franklin to WR Marcus Lucas for an 11-yard TD that accounted for the final score. Senior DT Dominique Hamilton secured the win when he batted down a Tannehill pass attempt on 4th down in overtime, to preserve the 38-31 win.

The comeback from an 11-point 4th-quarter deficit was the 2nd-largest in MU history, trailing only a 13-point deficit overcome in 1949 against Nebraska. As chronicled earlier in these notes, the Tigers also posted a win on Nov. 19th against Texas Tech that ranks as tied for the 3rd-largest 4th-quarter comeback win in school history.

A look at the top 4th-quarter comeback wins in MU history is on the following page:

LARGEST 4TH-QUARTER DEFICITS OVERCOME TO WIN

TIGERS FENCE IN LONGHORNS, TAKE 17-5 WIN TO REACH .500

One week after being touched for 697 yards of offense by Baylor in a disappointing 42-39 road loss, very few outside of the Tiger program would have expected the Mizzou defense to lead the charge the next week against #21 Texas – a team that Mizzou hadn't beaten since 1997.

But that's exactly what took place, as the Tiger defense dedicated itself during the week to clean up its mistakes, and the end result was a defensive masterpiece. Texas managed only 247 yards of offense on the day (with 78 of them coming on their game-opening drive), including just 76 yards rushing for a ground game which came into the contest ranked as the Big 12's top rushing attack (11th nationally, averaging 246.38 yards per game).

Mizzou's offense was held in check most of the day by a stout Longhorn defense, but it contributed enough to help the Tigers grab a 14-3 halftime lead, then it used a ball-control style of play in the 2nd half – MU held the ball for 17:42 in possession time after half – to coast to the win (Mizzou's 2nd of the year over a ranked opponent).

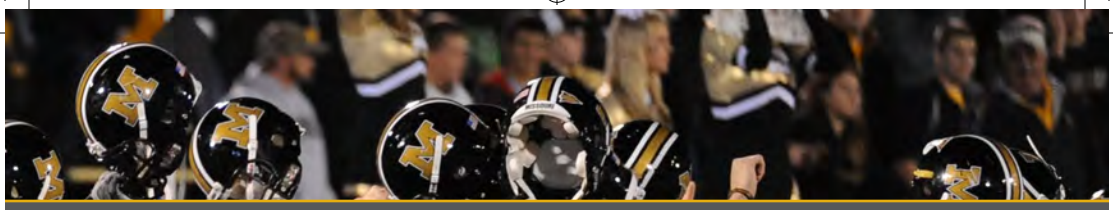

The Tigers took the opening kick and took just six plays to move into the redzone. On 2nd-and-2 from the Texas 8-yardline, however, WR L'Damian Washington was stipped after a reception, and the Longhorns recovered. Texas put together an impressive drive the other direction – giving the game early appearances of being an offensive showdown – but the Tiger defense stiffened and forced a short field goal for a 3-0 Texas lead.

After the teams traded punts back and forth, Mizzou mustered an impressive drive, going from its 17-yardline to the Longhorn 2-yardline, where QB James Franklin scored on 3rd-and-goal on a QB keeper with 8:46 left in the first half to give MU the lead, 7-3. After the Tiger defense forced a 3-and-out, the offense responded again. TB Kendial Lawrence took a nifty-looking option play 35 yards for a TD with 4:43 left to make it 14-3, and that's how it stood at half.

Just to hold a halftime lead against Texas was a big deal for the Tigers. Mizzou hadn't held a halftime lead over Texas since 1997, and the aggregate score at halftime of the last two games was 70-10 in favor of Texas (Longhorns led 35-3 at half in Austin in 2008 and led 35-7 at half in Columbia in 2009).

In the 3rd quarter, both teams blocked punts which led to points for both sides. Mizzou struck first when TE Eric Waters got loose to block a Texas punt near the Texas 15-yardline. The ball rolled backward toward the endzone, where MU's Matt Hoch fell on the ball inside the 1-yardline. Three rushes netted a loss of one yard for Mizzou, however, and the Tigers settled for a 19-yard Trey Barrow field goal and a 17-3 lead. The Longhorns later bottled Mizzou's offense up inside its own end, and blocked a Barrow punt attempt near the goalline. A heads up play by Barrow, who pushed a Texas player out of the endzone before he could corral the ball, kept the damage to a safety, which made it 17-5 with 3:31 left in the 3rd quarter.

On Texas' ensuing drive, the Longhorns reached the Tiger 35-yardline, but Mizzou's defense held and forced a 53-yard field goal attempt, which was missed to preserve the 17-5 margin just before the start of the 4th quarter. Mizzou went to a ball control offense in the final period and ate up 9:58 in possession time to keep the Longhorns at bay and preserve the win which got them back to an even .500 on the season.

It was MU's first win over Texas under Head Coach Gary Pinkel, and it marked Mizzou's first win over UT overall since 1997.

DEFENSE DISPLAYS AMAZING TURNAROUND IN LEADING THE CHARGE

As noted above, Mizzou's defense was the story in the Tigers' 17-5 win over #21 Texas. Here's a few bits of tid from the effort:

• – Mizzou allowed just 247 yards on the day – a season low for the Longhorn offense, which came into the game averaging 437.13 yards per game (ranked 32nd coming in). What's more is that effort came just seven days after the Tigers got touched for 697 yards of offense at Baylor in a 42-39 loss. That's exactly 430 yards less of offense Mizzou gave up from one week to the next!...

• – Texas came into the game leading the Big 12 Conference, and ranking 11th nationally in rushing, averaging 246.38 yards per game. In the two weeks prior to the game, Texas ran for a combined 880 yards and 11 touchdowns against Texas Tech and Kansas. The Tiger defense held the Longhorns to a mere 76 yards rushing – UT's 2nd-lowest rushing total of the season, and a whopping 364 yards below what they had averaged over the previous two games...

• – Texas got 78 yards on its first series of the game, when it drove for a field goal and a 3-0 lead. That drive took 12 plays, for an average of 6.5 yards per snap. The rest of the game saw Texas muster just 169 more yards of offense on 53 snaps, meaning Mizzou allowed only an average of 3.2 yards per play after the opening drive...

• – Texas came into the game ranked 28th in the nation in scoring offense, with a per-game average of 34.38 points. Mizzou held them out of the endzone for the first time in series history since a 3-0 Tiger win in 1916, and it was the first time overall for Texas to go without a touchdown since the 2004 season...

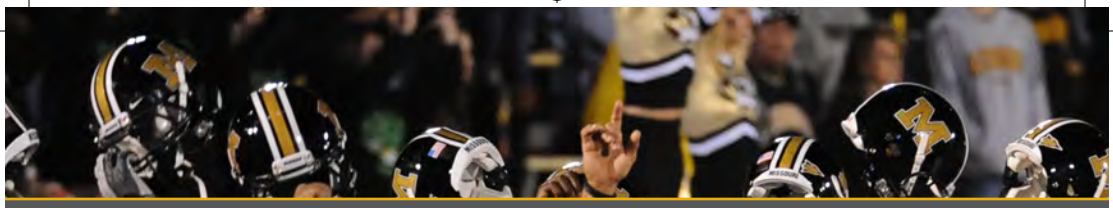

LATE RALLY FALLS SHORT AT BAYLOR

After notching a dramatic comeback win at 16th-ranked Texas A&M on Oct. 29th – thanks to the 2nd-largest 4th-quarter comeback in school history (trailed by 11 pts. entering the 4th quarter) – Mizzou looked to continue the momentum the next week at Baylor. Things got off to a good start, as the Tigers took a 14-7 lead late in the 2nd quarter, thanks to two short TD runs by TB Henry Josey (6 yards, 2 yards). Up to that point, the Tiger defense had held the high-powered Bear offense in relative check, but that would change in a hurry, as Baylor would score 28 of the game's next 31 points, to jump out to a 35-17 lead midway through the 4th quarter.

Mizzou would mount a big rally, as it notched 3 TDs in the final 7:05 of the game to pull to within 42-39 with 1:59 remaining, but the comeback hopes were ended when the Bears recovered MU's final onside kick attempt, and ran out the clock.

A turning point in the game came right before halftime, when Baylor drove in the closing seconds to the Tiger 1-yardline. A stop on 3rd-and-goal just short of the goalline set up a 4th-down gamble with :06 seconds left, and Baylor QB Robert Griffin III was ruled to have scored on a QB sneak with four-tenths of a second left, even though MU defenders were adamant that he never crossed the line. The play was reviewed by replay officials, but with the scrum of bodies, it was impossible to overrule the call on the field, and the TD stood to make it 14-13. The Tigers' Dominique Hamilton blocked the ensuing extra point to preserve a 14-13 halftime lead, but the TD definitely seemed to turn the tide.

Baylor opened the 2nd half by taking the opening possession for a TD and a 21-14 lead, and Mizzou's offense went dormant in the 3rd quarter, losing the ball on downs, a punt, and a fumble, while the Bears capitalized to take a 28-14 lead. A Trey Barrow field goal early in the 4th cut the deficit to 28-17 (the exact margin overcome the previous week at College Station), but then the Bears broke out their big-play offense, striking for a 68-yard TD pass and an 80-yard TD run on consecutive drives to hold the Tigers at bay.

Mizzou got a 24-yard TD pass from QB James Franklin to WR Marcus Lucas with 7:05 left to cut the deficit to 35-25, only to see the Bears respond with the long TD run on the first play to make it 42-25. The Tigers wouldn't go down quietly though, and answered with a Franklin-to-T.J. Moe TD pass of 17 yards, followed by by a Franklin-to-L'Damian Washington TD strike of 15 yards with 1:59 left to account for the final margin.

Mizzou eventually put up 578 yards of offense on the night (including 253 rushing and 325 passing), but it wasn't enough to overcome a 697-yard output by Baylor (291 rushing, 406 passing).

FIVE 1ST-ROUND NFL PICKS RANKS 2ND-BEST IN NATION FOR MIZZOU

Mizzou's success on the field has definitely translated to the next level, as Tiger coaches have done an outstanding job of developing talent for the NFL. In the past three NFL Drafts (2009-11), five Tigers have been selected in the first round, a figure which is second-most in the nation and trails only Alabama (seven).

This past April, a pair of Tiger standouts were selected in the first round of the 2011 NFL Draft, as sophomore DE Aldon Smith (Raytown, Mo.) and junior QB Blaine Gabbert (Ballwin, Mo.) were taken seventh and 10th overall, by the San Francisco 49ers and the Jacksonville Jaguars, respectively. That marked the first time in Mizzou history that two Tigers have gone in the top 10 in the same draft. Prior to 2011, Mizzou had a total of five top-10 draft picks in school history.

Previously, WR Jeremy Maclin (No. 19 to Philadelphia in 2009) became the first Tiger to play under Gary Pinkel to become a first-round pick. He was joined in that same draft by DL Ziggy Hood (No. 32 to Pittsburgh) to mark the first time since 1977 that two Tigers went in the first round in the same draft. That feat was followed in 2010 when LB Sean Weatherspoon became the third first-rounder in two years (No. 19 to Atlanta).

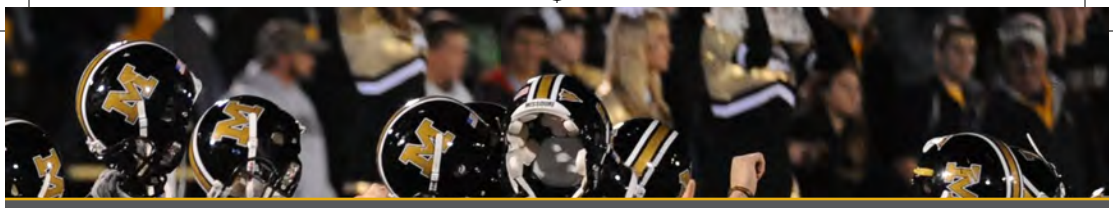

Twenty-two Tigers who played under Pinkel have now been drafted thus far, including the three taken in 2011 (LB Andrew Gachkar was a 7th-round pick by San Diego).

The recent stretch of five first-rounders in three years is unprecedented in Mizzou history. The most comparable stretch came from 1977-81, when four Tigers were taken in the first round during that five-year period. Mizzou also had four first-round picks during an earlier six-year stretch, from 1966-71.

MIZZOU TO JOIN THE SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. - The Southeastern Conference Presidents and Chancellors, acting unanimously, announced Nov. 6th that the University of Missouri will join the Southeastern Conference effective July 1, 2012, with competition to begin in all sports for the 2012-13 academic year.

The addition of Missouri will increase SEC membership to 14 institutions. The additions of Texas A&M, announced on September 25, 2011, and Missouri, are the first expansions for the SEC since September of 1991 when the University of South Carolina joined the league. The University of Arkansas joined the SEC in August of 1991. With the addition of Arkansas and South Carolina, the SEC was the first conference to split into divisions and add a conference championship game in 1992.

"The Presidents and Chancellors of the Southeastern Conference are pleased to welcome the University of Missouri to the SEC," said Dr. Bernie Machen, President of the SEC Presidents and Chancellors and president of the University of Florida. "The University of Missouri is a prestigious academic institution with a strong athletic tradition and a culture similar to our current institutions."

"The Southeastern Conference is a highly successful, stable, premier athletic conference that offers exciting opportunities for the University of Missouri," said Chancellor Brady J. Deaton. "In joining the SEC, MU partners with universities distinguished for their academic programs and their emphasis on student success. The SEC will provide our student-athletes with top flight competition and unparalleled visibility. We came to this decision after careful consideration of the long term best interests of our university. We believe the Southeastern Conference is an outstanding home for the Mizzou Tigers, and we take great pride in our association with this distinguished league."

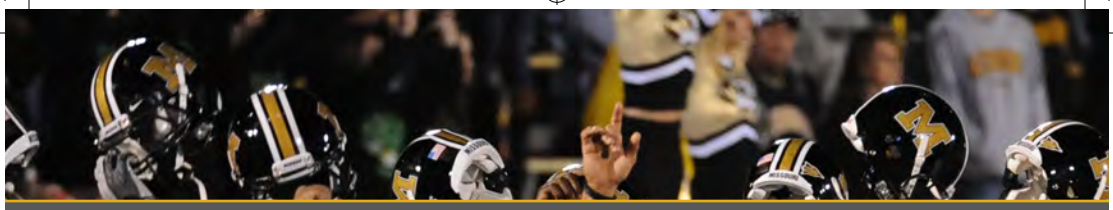

Missouri, will also be the fourth institution in the Southeastern Conference to hold membership in the prestigious Association of American Universities, joining University of Florida, Texas A&M University and Vanderbilt University. Missouri has an enrollment of 33,800 students, which would be the fourth largest institution in the SEC, with Florida, Georgia and Texas A&M having a larger student body. There are more than 260,000 "Mizzou" alumni around the world. The State of Missouri borders three SEC states: Tennessee, Kentucky and Arkansas, and they bring an existing rivalry with former conference foe Texas A&M.

Missouri athletic teams have excelled recently. Its men's basketball team has made it to the NCAA Tournament three straight seasons and 24 times overall. The Tiger football team has been to post-season bowl games for six straight years and 28 times overall. The softball team has participated in the College World Series each of the last three seasons. The Tigers have won Big 12 Championships in men's basketball, soccer and softball.

"I am pleased to officially welcome the University of Missouri to the SEC family on behalf of our presidents, chancellors, athletics directors, students and fans," said SEC Commissioner Mike Slive. "Missouri is an outstanding academic institution with a strong athletic program. We look forward to having the Tigers compete in our league starting in 2012."

The Tigers sponsor 20 varsity sports. Men's sports include baseball, basketball, football, golf, swimming and diving, wrestling, indoor and outdoor track and field and cross country. Women's sports include basketball, golf, gymnastics, soccer, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, indoor and outdoor track and field and cross country and volleyball. Missouri participates in every sport sponsored by the SEC except men's tennis and the SEC sponsors every sport the Tigers participate in except wrestling.

2011 SEASON
Punted seven times for 313 yards in the team's season opener against Miami (Ohio), ... shined against Arizona State, punting the ball four times for 232 yards, an average of 58.0 ... had a 73-yard boot in the second quarter, backing up the Sun Devils to their own six ... averaged 47.1 yards per punt on eight attempts against Oklahoma ... had a long of 63 yards in Norman ... punted the ball five times against Kansas State for 238 yards, good for an average of 47.6 yards per punt ... his longest punt against the Wildcats went for 67 yards ... stepped in at kicker for injured Grant Ressel against Texas A&M and made a 26 yard field goal ...At Baylor made all four of his PAT attempts and nailed a 30-yard field goal ... had two PATs and a 19 yard field goal against Texas ... punted eight times in the game, averaging 49.0 yards per kick with a long of 74, a new season best ... connected on a 39 yard field goal to end the first half against Texas Tech and added four PATs... got Mizzou on the board vs. Kansas with a 23-yard field goal in the second quarter ... Barrow is first in the Big 12 and 10th nationally with a 45.02 punting average.

2010 SEASON
Handled kickoff duties for Mizzou and averaged 63.5 yards on his 71 kickoffs ... Also punted twice for an average of 45.0 yards ... Had one rush on a fake punt against Colorado, gaining 26 yards and an MU first down ... Also made nine tackles on the year as part of the kickoff team, and was credited with a forced fumble at Nebraska.

2009 SEASON
Was a valuable member of the special teams practice squads in his second year with the program ... Closed spring camp by making a 41-yard field goal in the annual Black & Gold Spring Game.

2008 SEASON
Joined the Tigers as a walk-on and worked on the special teams throughout the year.

HIGH SCHOOL
Outstanding all-around athlete, who earned four letters each in football, basketball and baseball for Moberly High School ... Was an all-state wide receiver as a senior ... For his career, had 1,700 receiving yards, and scored 299 points, which included 14 field goals (including a school-record 47-yarder), while also grabbing 13 interceptions as a defensive back ... Four of his field goals were from 40 yards or more, including a 41-yarder as a sophomore that came with just one second left that gave Moberly a 10-9 win in the district championship ... Ranked third in Missouri state history in PATs (137) and kicking points (179) ... Started at receiver, defensive back, kicker, punter and punt returner during his football days, and helped lead Moberly to its first perfect regular season (10-0) in school history as they won three consecutive Class 3 district titles ... High school coach - Jason Ambrosen.

PERSONAL
Parents - Chuck & Jackie Barrow ... Lists his hobbies as basketball and baseball.

2010 SEASON

Played in all 12 games this year mostly on special teams as a redshirt sophomore ... Had eight tackles on the season ... Recorded two tackles and forced two fumbles against Kansas ... Notched two tackles against Iowa State ... Also posted tackles against Western Illinois, Texas A&M and Texas ... Credited with a quarterback hurry against the Cyclones on Homecoming.

2010 SEASON

Was in line to see a lot of playing time in his second year in the program, but was forced to take a redshirt when he suffered a season-ending knee injury during fall camp ... Changed his jersey to #15 after wearing #21 as a freshman.

2009 SEASON

Played in 12 games in his true freshman season, seeing most of his time on Tiger special teams units to get his feet wet in at the collegiate level ... Had nine tackles in all on the year, including six coming on special teams units, where he made his mark primarily on the kickoff coverage squad ... Had five stops on kickoffs, which ranked as fourth-most on the team ... Made three tackles in the season-opener against Illinois ... Had a season-best four stops against Furman on Sept. 19 ... Added one tackle in each of the games against Nevada and Oklahoma State.

HIGH SCHOOL

Ball-hawking defender who made his mark at Dallas' Lincoln High at safety ... ESPN.com said he displayed great break on the football and reacted well to the pass as an active free safety, and that he possessed soft hands, snatches the ball out of the air and was a real running threat once he makes the pick ... Won all-state and all-district first team honors as a senior, as he accounted for 91 tackles in 2008, to go with 23 pass break-ups and seven interceptions (two of which he returned for touchdowns), playing on a defense which led the state with 24 interceptions ... As a junior in 2007, tallied 32 tackles and grabbed five interceptions and was named an all-district first team selection ... Was also a multi-year letterwinner in basketball for his school ... high school coach - Jerry Sands

PERSONAL

Son of Timothy Cunningham & Lashanda Bonner ... Is majoring in general studies at Mizzou ... Lists hobbies as sports, socializing and talking on the phone ... Chose Mizzou over Nebraska, Wisconsin, Kansas State, Kansas, Miami, Minnesota, and Colorado State, among others.

2011 SEASON
Returned to the field for his fourth season as Mizzou's long snapper on placekicks and punts ... Helped Mizzou's seamless transition to Trey Barrow handling placekicks after Grant Ressel went down with an injury ... Also recorded five tackles on the year, two against Oklahoma State and against Western Illinois, Iowa State and Texas.

2010 SEASON
Was once again solid as Mizzou's long snapper, helping the field goal/PAT and punt teams excel ... The Tigers ranked 14th in the NCAA in net punting (39.06 avg.), and PK Grant Ressel made 17-of-19 field goal attempts and 45-of-47 extra-point tries ... Also made one tackle as part of the punt coverage team in the win over San Diego State ... Also showed his athleticism to work his way into the depth chart at tight end, and was in line to see some snaps there most likely, before his shoulder injury limited him to long snapping duties.

2009 SEASON
Was virtually flawless in his long snapping duties throughout the course of the season, as his accuracy in the clutch helped first-year kicker Grant Ressel set an NCAA single-season kicking accuracy record for combined kicks (Ressel made 26-of-27 field goals and 39-of-39 extra points for a combined accuracy mark of 65-of-66) ... Made a perfect pass from center to holder Forrest Shock to help Ressel boot the game-winner (27 yards out) with no time on the clock to down rival Kansas in a 41-39 thriller in Arrowhead Stadium ... Also used his athleticism to get downfield on punt coverage units and recorded three tackles, with one each coming in games against Illinois, Colorado and Iowa State ... His stellar snaps on the punt team also helped MU rank fourth in the NCAA in team net punting (40.48 avg.) ... For all of his efforts on the special teams units, he was named the team's Special Teams Player of the Year ... Also began seeing the field late in the year on occasion in some offensive sets, and while he didn't record any receptions, he earned the trust of Tiger coaches that he could be effective enough to be counted on should the opportunities present themselves.

2008 SEASON
True freshman who joined the team as a walk-on and improbably won the long-snapping job for both placekicks and punts in fall camp, despite his collegiate inexperience ... Was virtually perfect in his first year, and was named the team's walk-on player of the year at the annual team awards banquet ... Helped Jeff Wolfert to a perfect 73-for-73 mark on extra point attempts and a 20-for-27 mark on field goal attempts, as Wolfert ended his career as the most accurate kicker in NCAA history for combined field goals and point after attempts ... Also showed great hustle, desire and athleticism as he got downfield to make three tackles as part of the punt coverage team.

HIGH SCHOOL
Attended Kearney High School in Kearney, Missouri, where 2008 Tiger seniors Tommy Saunders and Brock Christopher hailed from ... It was actually Saunders who gets credit for turning Tiger coach Andy Hill onto Brinkley, and after he went to see Brinkley, Hill offered him an invitation to join the team as a preferred walk-on.

• 2010 Academic All-Big 12 second team

2011 SEASON

Started all 12 games at left tackle following the season-ending knee injury to incumbent Elvis Fisher ... Played a major role in Mizzou's potent offense, as the team ranked 11th nationally in rushing offense and 13th nationally in total offense ... Helped the Tiger offense allow just 18 sacks all year, the lowest total since the 2008 season ... Also rushed for seven yards against Kansas.

2010 SEASON

Played in all 13 games in his first collegiate action as a reserve lineman for Mizzou in 2010 ... Spent most of the season second on the depth chart behind veteran guard Austin Wuebbels ... Did a bang-up job in the classroom and was rewarded by being named an Academic All-Big 12 second team performer.

2009 SEASON

Redshirted in his first season at Mizzou, but made favorable enough of an impression in his first fall camp that Tiger coaches were prepared to put him out on the field at any moment during the year ... Spent the season getting valuable practice reps with the offensive reserves, but was never called upon during the season, thus preserving his redshirt.

HIGH SCHOOL

Played on both sides of the line of scrimmage for Lebanon High School, and starred on offense at left tackle ... Ranked as the No. 19 overall prospect (any position) in Missouri, according to Rivals.com, and is ranked by ESPN.com as the No. 86 offensive tackle prospect in the nation ... ESPN.com touted him as having good mobility and foot agility and a large wing span which helps in pass protection ... Was an all-state first team pick in 2008 as an offensive lineman, as well as taking home first team all-district and all-conference honors ... Starred at left tackle for a high-powered offense that racked up nearly 5,200 yards of total offense and threw for nearly 3,300 yards ... Allowed only one sack in 2008 in 434 pass attempts ... His team was regional champs in 2008, and won a state playoff game for only the second time in school history ... A good overall athlete who was a three-year letterwinner in the sports of football, wrestling and track ... Won the Class 4 Missouri state heavyweight championship as a senior in 2009, going a perfect 45-0 on the season ... Placed sixth at the state wrestling championships in the heavyweight division in 2008.. Was district heavyweight champion in 2008 and 2009, adding to a trio of conference titles he won in 2007, 2008 and 2009 ... High school coach - Will Christian.

PERSONAL

Parents - Chris & Kelly Britt ... Lists hobbies as weightlifting, sports in general, and beating everyone at football on XBox 360 ... Chose Mizzou over Kansas State, among others ... Has been a big boy from day one, as he was weighed in at 11 pounds, 8 ounces at birth.

2011 SEASON

Seen action in 11 games during his redshirt freshman season ... Has only one reception this year but made it count as it was a 54 yard TD, the first of his career ... Caught the TD pass from QB Jimmy Costello ... Has returned four kickoffs for 58 yards, including a long of 21 ... Also has three tackles on the year playing on special teams ... Tackles came against Oklahoma, Oklahoma State and Kansas.

2010 SEASON

Ended up taking a redshirt in his first season as a Tiger, but he was impressive enough during August two-a-days to where it looked like he might play as a true freshman ... An ankle injury sustained early on in fall camp held him back though, and coaches decided to give him a year to fully develop and preserve a redshirt ... Won the team's offensive back-up player of the week award for his outstanding efforts during the week of the Kansas State game.

HIGH SCHOOL

An outstanding athletic talent who excelled on both sides of the ball for his school ... Made his mark mostly as a safety on defense and a wide receiver on offense, but he also played some cornerback, linebacker and running back, in addition to holding for place kicks and returning kicks and punts, and he even punted on occasion ... Ranked by Tom Lemming as the nation's No. 23 safety prospect ... Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 7 prospect at any position in the state of Illinois, and projected him as the nation's No. 43 wide receiver prospect as well ... A three-time team captain who was his squad's most outstanding player each of the last two seasons, in addition to being named to various all-state squads as both a junior and senior ... Led his team in 2009 with 94 tackles, to go along with three interceptions and a pair of fumble recoveries, while catching 36 passes for 640 yards and 13 TDs on offense ... Team won nine games in 2009 and reached the state playoffs ... Caught eight passes for 126 yards and one touchdown in the playoff opener, while also running in a pair of two-point conversions in his team's 30-0 win ... Had 93 tackles and 10 quarterback sacks as a junior in 2008, while catching 35 passes for 905 yards and 11 TDs on offense for a team which reached the state semi-finals ... Also competed in basketball and track and field at the prep level ... High school coach - Antwyne Golliday.

2010 SEASON
Returned from injury to appear in his first game of 2011, catching one pass for three yards against WIU ... recorded two receptions at Oklahoma, finishing the game with a 36 yards and a long of 25 ... caught five passes for 72 yards against Kansas State, the second most receiving yards on the team, while recording a long of 23 ... his first catch against the Wildcats gave him 100 career receptions ... hauled in one catch for 22 yards at Baylor ... caught three passes for 28 yards against Texas ... had three receptions for 46 yards against Kansas.

2010 SEASON
Was a game-breaker in his most extensive action of his career, turning in career-high numbers of 50 receptions for 656 yards and three touchdowns, plus a rushing touchdown as well on a jet sweep against Kansas State ... Made nine starts in all in 12 games, despite suffering a broken bone in his wrist early in preseason camp ... While it was thought he'd miss a few games, he came back very quickly and was in the starting lineup for the season opener against Illinois ... Caught four passes for 50 yards, including a 14-yard reception in the first quarter and a 16-yard grab in the fourth quarter ... Will always be remembered for his star performance in Mizzou's 36-27 win over #1-ranked Oklahoma, as he made a career-high nine receptions for 139 yards, including a thrilling 38-yard reception in the fourth quarter that gave Mizzou the lead for good ... Also closed the year in strong fashion, as he caught 9 passes in the Insight Bowl against Iowa for 129 yards ... Had three grabs for 43 yards against McNeese State ... Scored his first TD of the year and the third of his career on a 24-yard reception against MSU ... Had four catches for 47 yards against San Diego State ... Had a 20-yard grab to start the Tigers' game-winning drive ... Also had a big block on T.J. Moe's catch and run for the game-winning touchdown ... Did not play against Miami (Ohio) due to an injury ... Caught three passes for 51 yards against Colorado, including a 30-yard touchdown reception in the second quarter, his second TD of the year ... Had four receptions for 55 yards against Texas A&M ... Made two receptions for 19 yards against Nebraska ... Had one catch, for 15 yards, against Texas Tech ... Caught four passes for 45 yards in the win over Kansas State ... Scored on a nine-yard run on an end-around in the second quarter against the Wildcats ... Made four catches for 34 yards against Iowa State ... Made three receptions for 33 yards in the win over Kansas ... Continued his strong work in the classroom, as he was named

Emerged late in the season as an explosive play maker who burned opposing defenses in the air and on the ground ... Was a starter five times on the season, and stepped up big-time when senior wideout Jared Perry missed the final two games of the regular season with a knee injury ... In Perry's absence, he caught a career-best 142 yards of passes (on eight receptions) in a key win against Iowa State, including a career-long 70-yard TD catch-and-run that got Mizzou going in the second half ... He followed by catching five passes for 54 yards in the epic win against rival Kansas, but made his biggest contribution when he took a third-quarter jet sweep around right end and turned on the burners to go untouched for a 37-yard TD run ... His receptions (37) and yardage (458) were both good for the third-highest totals on the team for the season ... Also did a great job in the classroom, and he was recognized as an Academic All-Big 12 second team performer for his efforts there ... Opened the 2009 season by making two receptions against Illinois ... Caught his first career TD, a four-yard grab in the third quarter against the Illini ... Made one reception against Bowling Green for 12 yards ... Had four catches for 64 yards against Furman ... Made one catch for 15 yard against Nevada and caught two passes for 11 yards against Nebraska ... Had two grabs for 25 yards, including a 21-yard reception against Oklahoma State ... Caught two passes against Texas ... Made just one reception for five yards against Colorado on Oct. 31, but the grab was a one-handed, highlight-reel catch ... Tallied three catches for 36 yards against Baylor ... Had a season-high six catches and a then-career-best 78 yards against Kansas State ... Also carried the ball three times for 24 yards for 102 yards of total offense against KSU ... Spent the vast majority of spring camp running with the top-string offense, as Danario Alexander sat out from contact, which gave him valuable experience ... Was one of the offense's top performers in the spring game, as he caught two passes for 26 yards, and was the leading rusher on the day as well, going for 39 yards on two attempts.

Not necessarily expected to come in and contribute as a true freshman, he kept grading out highly every day in fall camp, and eventually played his way into field time in 2008 … Saw action in all 14 games on the season, finishing with nine receptions for 98 yards, plus two rushes for a net of 10 yards out of the backfield … Made his first collegiate reception against Southeast Missouri State ... Finished the SEMO game with six catches for 70 yards, which were team-leading totals on the night ... Also had one carry for 11 yards against SEMO ...

Section 3_Team bios.indd 86 12/9/2011 8:42:18 AM

Caught a seven-yard pass against Texas ... Made one grab (for six yards) against Kansas State ... Finished the year by making a 15-yard reception against Northwestern in the Tigers' overtime win against Northwestern in the Alamo Bowl.

HIGH SCHOOL

Skilled two-way player out of the Houston area who ESPN.com ranked as the No. 81 wide receiver prospect in the country, calling him a gifted, fluid athlete with long arms, a long stride, and very deceptive speed … Caught 42 passes as a senior wideout in 2007, for 978 yards and 18 TDs, while adding five INTs as a defensive back … Was an All-District first team honoree as a senior, as well as earning All-Greater Houston first team, and District 20-4A MVP honors … Also was an all-district first team winner on both sides of the ball as a junior, when he caught 35 passes for 760 yards and 14 TDs, while contributing six INTs defensively … Had 21 receptions for 402 yards and seven TDs as a sophomore, as he earned all-district acclaim on both sides of the ball … Three-sport standout at Davis High school who was a three-time all-district performer in basketball, and a regional qualifier in track three years, in addition to his football achievements … High school coach – Chuck Arnold.

yards was the best on the team ... Started for the first time in his career in the season-opener against Illinois and caught four passes for 77 yards, including his first career touchdown in his hometown of St. Louis, Mo. ... The TD came on a 49-yard pass play and was the Tigers' first touchdown of the season ... Caught two passes for 38 yards in the win over Bowling Green ... Scored his second TD of the year on a 33-yard reception in the fourth quarter against BGSU which proved to be the game-winner as the Tigers came back from a double-digit deficit to post the win ... Closed the season by making three catches for 83 yards in the Texas Bowl against Navy, including a 56-yard catch-and-run that he nearly took the distance ... Also helped with the kickoff return game late in the year, when he returned six kickoffs in the final five games, and averaged 22.7 yards per return, which was best on the team for the season ... Made one catch against Furman ... Had three receptions for a career-best 99 yards against Nevada ... Had one grab in the Big 12 opener against Nebraska ... Recorded two receptions for 44 yards against Oklahoma State on Oct. 17 ... Had a 40-yard catch in the game at OSU ... Made one catch for 12 yards in the win at Colorado ... Had three receptions for 43 yards against Baylor ... Caught his third TD pass of the year with a nice grab on the sideline just before the end of the first half against BU ... Had one reception for 11 yards against Kansas State ... Caught one pass against Iowa State ... Was impressive enough during the spring to earn the team's Most Improved Wide Receiver award.

Saw action in nine games in all, and played more frequently during the last half of the season, including seeing increased action on various special teams units … Made his first career reception (a 15-yard grab) against Southeast Missouri State in the second game of the season.

2011 SEASON

Opened the season by registering six tackles against Miami (Ohio) ... had seven tackles against Arizona State - all solo - which was second most amongst Tigers ... recorded four tackles against Western Illinois - one solo and three assisted ... also picked up an assisted tackle for loss against the Leathernecks ... had a season-best seven tackles against Oklahoma, including a team-high 1.5 tackles for loss ... recorded his first interception of the year against the Sooners, picking off a Landry Jones pass early in the second half ... recovered a pair of fumbles, broke up a pass and recorded seven tackles in Mizzou's big win over Iowa State ... finished the OSU game with seven tackles, which included a tackle for loss ... posted five tackles against Texas A&M and also recovered a fumble on the first Aggie possession of the third quarter ... was also credited with a quarterback hurry ... had two tackles and two quarterback hurries at Baylor ... finished the Texas game with six tackles, one for loss, and a pass breakup ... led the Tigers against Texas Tech with 13 total tackles, most on the team ... also added a quarterback hurry and 2.5 tackles for loss that totaled six yards ... recorded five tackles against Kansas, one of which was a tackle for loss.

2010 SEASON

Was voted a team captain by his teammates in fall camp, and was ready for a standout senior campaign, only to get derailed by a hamstring and knee injury that kept him to just three games ... Prior to the injuries, got his year off to a great start by making eight tackles in the season opener against Illinois ... Also had one TFL for a loss of two yards ... Suffered a hamstring injury in fourth quarter vs. Illinois that sidelined him for the McNeese State, San Diego State and Miami (Ohio) games ... Returned to the field against Colorado, recording six tackles ... Had 1.5

TFLs including one sack against the Buffaloes ... Made three tackles against Texas A&M before leaving the game with the knee injury which cost him the rest of the season.

2009 SEASON

Began his junior season as the Tigers' starting middle linebacker looking for a big year, but injuries limited him to only six games played for the season ... Had a nice start to the season as he notched six tackles in MU's season-opening win over rival Illinois ... Got banged up in game No. 3 against Furman and had to leave early, and that forced him to miss the following game at Nevada ... Returned against Nebraska to register five tackles and followed with six more at Oklahoma State ... Saw his season come to an end, however, in the next game against No. 3 Texas, when he suffered a labrum tear in his shoulder which required surgery to repair.

2008 SEASON

Had a very good season in his first year of extensive defensive action … Made nine starts at strongside linebacker and registered 58 tackles in 14 games … Also was a key performer on special teams, where he ranked among team leaders with his 12 tackles on kickoff coverage duties … Was named the team's special teams co-player of the year for his efforts (shared it with PK Jeff Wolfert) … Had two tackles against Illinois ... Made eight tackles against Southeast Missouri State and added six more against Nevada ... Also had one tackle-for-loss against Nevada ... Made seven tackles against Buffalo ... Had five stops and recovered a fumble against Nebraska ... Had a season-best eight tackles against Colorado, including 1.5 TFLs and one sack ... Made six tackles against Baylor and forced a fumble ... Made one tackle against Kansas and had two stops against Oklahoma in the Big 12 Championship Game.

Section 3_Team bios.indd 96 12/9/2011 8:42:26 AM

2007 SEASON

Was tabbed to play from early on, and he contributed nicely on special teams primarily, but got more reps in defensive sets late in the year ... Closed the season with a huge performance in the Tigers' Cotton Bowl win over Arkansas, as he got the surprise start at strongside linebacker … Responded with a career-best 10 tackles against the Razorbacks, and also forced a fumble in MU's 38-7 win … Was honored with the team's Special Teams Player of the Year at the team banquet for his standout efforts ... Made his first career tackle at Ole Miss ... Set a career-high with eight tackles the next week against Western Michigan .. Had three stops against Kansas State, one tackle against Kansas and two against Oklahoma in the Big 12 Championship game.

HIGH SCHOOL

Rated as the No. 9 player in the state of Missouri (all positions) by Rivals, and as the nation's No. 40 outside linebacker ... Ranked by Super Prep as the No. 11 overall prospect (any position) in the state of Missouri, and as the nation's No. 22-ranked prospect at the position of weakside linebacker ... Starred at linebacker for Brookfield, and was also a standout as a running back and tight end throughout his career ... High school coach - Shane Cavanah.

2010 SEASON

After leading Missouri with 7.5 sacks in 2010, Madison picked up where he left off, recording two sacks in the season opener against Miami (Ohio) ... both sacks came in the third quarter, as he dropped Redhawk QB Zac Dysert for a loss of three yards on the team's first possession of the second half ... later in the third, Madison chased down Dysert again, sacking the Redhawk QB for eight yards to force fourth down ... had a solo and assisted tackle against Arizona State ... was credited with four tackles, a forced fumble and a QB hurry against Western Illinois ... three of his tackles went for loss, which included a sack ... leads the team in TFLs (5.0-21) and QB sacks (3.0-14) through three games ... ranks second in the Big 12 and 11th in the NCAA with a per-game sacks average of 1.00 and is third in the league with a per-game TFL average of 1.67 ... finished the OU game with two tackles, including one for loss ... recorded three solo tackles at Kansas State ... had five tackles against Iowa State, while also adding an assisted sack, a quarterback hurry and an interception, which he returned for 15 yards down to the ISU 6 ... had two solo tackles against Oklahoma State, one of which went for a two yard loss ... had one tackle and a QB hurry against Texas A&M ... finished the Kansas game with two tackles, one of which was a sack for a loss of six yards.

2010 SEASON

Had a breakout season, emerging as one of the top playmakers on Mizzou's stout defensive line ... Led the team with 7.5 QB sacks, a total which also ranked him 4th overall in the Big 12 and 36th in the NCAA ... His 11 tackles for loss also led the team ... Made two tackles, including one TFL against Illinois that was a bone-crunching highlight-reel stop of QB Nathan Scheelhaase ... Recovered a fumble in the second quarter that led a MU field goal and its first points of the game ... Recorded three tackles, two of which were for a loss, against McNeese State ... Picked up his third sack of the year and forced a fumble against McNeese State ... Made one tackle against San Diego State ... Had three tackles against Miami (Ohio), including one TFL for a loss of six yards ... Started for the first time in his career vs. Miami ... Made one tackle in the shutout of Colorado ... Recorded three tackles against Texas A&M ... All three tackles against the Aggies were sacks ... The three sacks combined to go for a loss of 28 yards ... Had two tackles against Oklahoma and added a pass break-up ... Recorded five tackles against Nebraska ... Had one TFL against NU ... Had two tackles at Texas A&M, including a sack (for a loss of 10 yards) ... Recorded three tackles against Kansas State ... 1.5 of those tackles were sacks (for a loss of 14 yards) ... Also forced a fumble against KSU ... Recorded five tackles

Section 3_Team bios.indd 101 12/9/2011 8:42:29 AM against Iowa State ... Had one sack against ISU, to bring his season total to 7.5 sacks for the year, which ranks fifth in the Big 12 ... Also forced a key fumble in the 4th quarter at Iowa State which helped preserve the shutout in MU's 14-0 win.

2009 SEASON

Big man who moved over to the defensive side of the ball, after spending his first year in the program working on the offensive line ... Saw action in 12-of-13 games on the season, and contributed on special teams units, as well as defense more and more as the year went on ... Had his first collegiate tackle against Furman, and later in the year as he started seeing more snaps on defense, he broke up a pair of passes, one each in Tiger wins over Kansas State and Kansas ... His break up in Manhattan came deep in Wildcat territory, and the ball bounced high in the air near the goalline, and he nearly had a shot at an easy interception and six points ... Was a regular on the Tiger kickoff return unit as well throughout the season ... Made the move to defense because Tiger coaches felt his size was more suited to becoming a defensive lineman, and after the spring camp he turned in, they made the right call, as he was very impressive ... Began the spring at the bottom of the depth chart, but quickly moved his way up the ladder, and he began fall drills listed at No. 2 behind veteran Brian Coulter.

2008 SEASON

Was able to redshirt in his first year in the program, working as part of the offensive scout team.

HIGH SCHOOL

Talented line prospect with a big upside who grew up a Missouri fan ... Despite missing about half of his senior season due to an injured foot, still ranked as the No. 12 player overall (any position) in the state of Missouri, as well as the nation's No. 54 offensive guard, according to Rivals ... ESPN.com pegged him as the nation's No. 45 offensive guard prospect ... Named an all-midwest region offensive lineman by PrepStar ... Was one of the first players to commit to Mizzou, accepting a scholarship offer back in February of 2007 ... An all-state performer on the offensive line for South Harrison in 2007 who also earned all-conference honors on the defensive line, as a senior ... Won all-state honors on the defensive line in 2006, while taking home all-conference honors on both offense and defense that year, as well as in 2005 ... A two-year team captain ... Outstanding all-around athlete who was a multi-year letterwinner in football, basketball and track ... Won a state championship in the shot put, and also finished second in the state championships in the discus ... Also won all-state honors in the sport of basketball ... High school coach - Larry Linthacum, a former MU tight end.

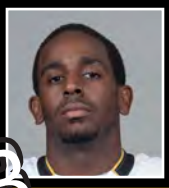

PERSONAL

Parents - Leo & Sharol Madison ... Is the younger brother of Ryan Madison, who graduated in 2008 after a stellar career as an offensive lineman for the Tigers ... Lists primary hobbies outside of football as hunting and golfing ... Involved in Future Farmers of America and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, as well as other organizations ... Among the reasons cited for choosing Mizzou include the chance to play with his brother, the Tiger coaches, and the great facilities ... Received interest from Wisconsin, Nebraska and Kansas State, among others, before ending the recruiting process early and committing to Mizzou.

2010 SEASON

Became an instant Tiger legend when he returned the opening kickoff against #1-ranked Oklahoma 86 yards for a TD to jump-start the Tigers on their way to the historic 36-27 win which improved them to 7-0 ... Returned 3 kickoffs in all for the year, for a combined 125 yards (41.7 avg.) ... Made six receptions on the year, for 40 yards, including a catch for 9 yards in MU's bowl game against Iowa ... Had two catches against McNeese State and made one grab vs. San Diego State ... Had a pair of catches for 27 yards in the win over Miami (Ohio) ... Named Big 12 Special Teams Player of the Week following his TD return against OU.

2009 SEASON

Wasn't able to crack the lineup as he'd hoped, but was still a valuable member of the team in practice each day, when he showed that he's got the talent and skills to be a contributor when his time comes ... Saw action in one game as he took the field at Kansas State in reserve duty.

2008 SEASON

Ended up taking a redshirt in his initial season in the Tiger program ... A minor injury suffered late in two-a-days set him back, however, and with MU's deep receiving corps, the decision was made to save the redshirt ... Was a three-time winner of the offensive Back-Up Player of the Week for his efforts in practice against Texas, Baylor and Iowa State - he was the only Tiger to win the award three times.

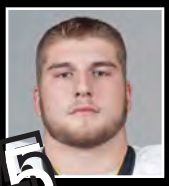

HIGH SCHOOL

Came to Mizzou ranked as the No. 25 all-purpose back in the country, as well as the state of Texas' No. 79 overall prospect (any position) by Rivals ... ESPN.com rated him as the nation's No. 26 athlete prospect ... Named an All-Midlands region running back selection by PrepStar ... Won District MVP and all-region honors as a senior in 2007, while being named to the Houston Chronicle Top-100 list ... Despite missing a few games to an injured ankle, turned in an amazing senior season that included 1,208 yards and 13 TDs rushing, while also throwing for nearly 600 yards and three more TDs ... Won Academic Top-25 honors from his school in 2007, as well ... Won District MVP honors as a junior in 2006 ... Honored as an all-district first team performer during his sophomore season of 2005, while winning his team's newcomer of the year, impact player of the year and special teams player of the year awards as a freshman in 2004 ... Started his varsity career as a wide receiver during 2004, then showed his versatility by moving to QB as a junior, and led his team to a winning record .... High school coach - Ray Zepada.

St. Louis, Mo.
Chaminade Prep

2011 SEASON

Played in all 12 games and earned seven starts at left guard as a junior ... Played a major role in Mizzou's potent offense, as the team ranked 11th nationally in rushing offense and 13th nationally in total offense ... Helped the Tiger offense allow just 18 sacks all year, the lowest total since the 2008 season.

2010 SEASON

Saw action in all 13 games, as his role on the line increased from his freshman year, while continuing his solid contributions on special teams ... Showed versatility to play a number of spots, but spent most of his time lined up at right tackle.

2009 SEASON

Earned a letter as a true freshman, becoming only the second true freshman offensive lineman to do so for Coach Gary Pinkel ... Played in all 13 games, seeing most of his action as part of the field goal and extra point protection units ... These units helped kicker Grant Ressel make a combined 65-of-66 kicks on the year, which set an NCAA single-season accuracy record for combined kicks ... Was the first rookie to be declared ready to play by Tiger coaches, with the verdict coming down early in his first fall two-a-day camp at Mizzou.

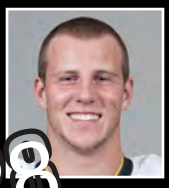

HIGH SCHOOL

One of the most highly-coveted offensive line prospects in the region who starred at tackle for Chaminade Prep in the St. Louis area ... Was one of the first in-state prospects to commit to Mizzou during the spring of 2009 ... Rated by Rivals.com as the No. 11 overall prospect (any position) out of the state of Missouri, and ESPN.com lists him as the nation's No. 28 offensive tackle prospect, as well ... ESPN.com says he is a big and powerful lineman who could play either tackle or guard in college, and is someone who is a very effective blocker in all phases of offensive line play who demonstrates solid techniques and really works to sustain blocks ... Was a team captain as a senior in 2008 and was named to various all-state, all-metro and all-conference teams based on his play as he helped clear the way for an offense which rushed for nearly 3,000 yards on the year ... Earned all-conference second team honors after a solid junior season in 2007 and was an honorable-mention all-conference performer as a sophomore in 2006 ... Is an avid weight lifter who holds all of his school's records, and has a combined squat, bench and power clean total of 1,275 pounds ... High school coach - Doug Taylor.

PERSONAL

Saw action in all 13 games, as his role on the line increased from his freshman year, while continuing his solid contributions on special teams ... Showed versatility to play a number of spots, but spent most of his time lined up at right tackle.

Led the team with six catches and 56 yards against Miami (Ohio), which included his 100th career reception ... caught the longest pass of the game, a 28-yard reception, late in the third quarter to put Missouri in the red zone ... rushed twice for 14 yards on the afternoon ... saw his first action at punt returner, as he returned two kicks for a total of 30 yards, including a high of 18 ... recorded six receptions for 94 yards against ASU with a long of 20 ... led the Tigers with four receptions and 68 yards against Western Illinois ... hauled in his first touchdown of the year, scoring on a 30-yard completion in the second quarter ... against Oklahoma, hauled in seven passes for a season-best 119 yards, the fourth 100-yard receiving game of his career and first for a Tiger this season ... ranks seventh in the conference in receptions (5.75) and receiving yardage (72.75) per game ... caught three passes for 26 yards with a long of 12 against Kansas State ... Moe finished second on the team with five receptions against Iowa State while racking up 58 yards and adding a score ... his touchdown came on a seven yard pass from Franklin in the third quarter ... led Mizzou against Oklahoma State with six catches for 103 yards ... caught a 34-yard touchdown pass for his third score of the year while also marking his longest reception of the season ... also completed a 31-yard pass to QB James Franklin for Missouri's first completion by a non-QB on the year ... caught four passes for 38 yards at Texas A&M ... caught three balls for 31 yards against Baylor, which included a 17-yard score with 3:55 left in the game ... led the Tigers with five receptions for 74 yards, including a 40 yard reception, in Missouri's win over Texas ... had four catches for 24 yards against Kansas.

2010 SEASON

Emerged as Mr. Dependable for the Tiger offense, as he caught 92 passes for 1,045 yards and six TDs, after catching just two passes for eight yards as a freshman ... His 92 catches rank as third-most in MU single-season history, while his yardage ranks sixth all-time on the MU season charts ... Ranked 19th in the NCAA with his 6.4 receptions per game, and he had only two games where he had less than five catches on the season ... Closed the year with an heroic performance in the Insight Bowl against Iowa, when he caught 15 passes (just one shy of the MU game record) for 152 yards ... Made an unreal catch on 4th-and-10 to seemingly keep alive MU's last-chance drive to win the game late in the fourth quarter, only to have replay officials overrule the diving catch ... Had three double-digit reception games in all, including a 13-catch, 101-yard, one-TD effort in his first career start in his hometown of St. Louis against Illinois to begin the year ... Followed with a 10-catch, 79-yard night the next week against McNeese State, playing barely more than one half ... Scored his first career TD on a seven-yard pass from Blaine Gabbert in the third quarter vs. the Illini ... Had had receptions for 119 yards against San Diego State ... Scored the game-winning TD against SDSU on a 68-yard catch and run with under a minute to play and the Tigers down by four ... Had a team-best seven receptions against Miami (Ohio) for 95 yards ... Had six catches for a team-high 110 yards in the win over Texas A&M ... Scored his third TD of the year on a 20-yard reception in the third quarter ... Had three catches for 36 yards against Oklahoma ... Caught five passes for 71 yards against Nebraska ... Scored on a 23-yard reception against the Huskers ... Had a team-high seven receptions for 62 yards against Texas Tech ... Scored two touchdowns in the win over Kansas State on receptions of 25 and four yards ... It was the first multi-TD game of his career ... Had five grabs for 36 yards against KSU ... Also had two carries for 32 yards vs. the Wildcats ... Caught two passes for 16 yards against Iowa State ... Carried the ball three times for a total of 19 yards against ISU .... Made five receptions for 83 yards against Kansas ... Also had a two-yard touchdown run in the first quarter against the Jahyawks ... It was his first rushing TD of his career.

Section 3_Team bios.indd 105 12/9/2011 8:42:33 AM

2009 SEASON

Came to Mizzou with the potential to fit well on either side of the ball, but chose to play receiver, where he appeared in 10 games as a true freshman ... Caught two passes for eight yards on the year, with both grabs coming in game No. 2 against Furman ... Also saw some action on various special teams units ... Spent the year less than 100 percent physically, as he worked to rehab a broken foot, an injury he sustained unknowingly during his senior season, but which he continued to play on until it was diagnosed by MU's medical team ... Had off-season surgery to repair the injury, and while he was cleared to play for the 2009 season, he wasn't quite 100 percent ... Played through the pain though and gained a lot of admiration for being a tough-minded teammate willing to do whatever it takes to get the job done.

2011 SEASON

Played in nine games in his senior campaign ... Was forced to miss the Arizona State, Western Illinois and Oklahoma games due to injury ... Has 151 yards rushing on the year ... Ran for a season high 79 yards on seven carries against Texas Tech ... Also had 33 yards on seven carries against Kansas ... Earned a spot on the Academic All-Big 12 first team with a perfect 4.0 GPA.

2010 SEASON

Took over the starting duties at tailback the week prior to the season opener versus Illinois, and responded nicely, as he led the team on the year with a career-high 517 yards and eight rushing TDs ... Was Missouri's leading rusher with 78 yards on 16 carries against Illinois ... Carried the ball six times for 32 yards for a 5.3 yard per rush average against McNeese State ... Scored his first touchdown of the year on a nine-yard run against MSU as he got his first start of the season ... Had six carries for 34 yards in the win over San Diego State ... Scored his second TD of the year on a 17 yard run in the first quarter to put Mizzou on the board ... Ran for 73 yards on 10 carries in the victory over OU ... Scored his fourth touchdown of the year on a one-yard run early in the second quarter ... Also had a pair of receptions ... Carried the ball six times for 56 yards against Nebraska ... Put Mizzou on the board against the Huskers on a 33-yard TD run in the second quarter ... Had eight rushes for 40 yards against Texas Tech ... Gained 47 yards on nine rushes against Kansas State ... Carried the ball 10 times against Iowa State, gaining 32 yards ... Scored his sixth touchdown of the season on a one-yard run in the fourth quarter ... Scored twice in the win over Kansas, running for 38 yards on 10 carries ... Touchdown runs against Kansas came on runs of three and five yards.

Turned in a solid sophomore campaign as he ran for a career-high 258 yards on 63 carries ... Battled a nagging knee injury which he played with that kept him less than 100 percent all season, but he fought through the discomfort to see action in 11 games, including getting his first collegiate start against Baylor ... Carried the ball eight times for 21 yards against Illinois in the season opener ... Injury forced him to miss the Bowling Green and Furman games ... Had one carry for three yards against Nevada, still dealing with an injured ankle ... Had six carries against Nebraska on Oct. 8 ... Ran for 42 yards on seven carries against Oklahoma State ... Had six carries for 27 yards against Texas on Oct. 24 ... Ran for 58 yards on eight carries (7.2 ypc) at Colorado ... Gained 16 yards on four carries against Baylor ... Ran the ball three times for five yards in the win over Kansas State on Nov. 14 ... Had a season-high 15 carries for 51 yards and a touchdown against Iowa State ... The TD was his first of the year and second of his career, and it came with just 4:43 left in the game, to clinch MU's important 34-24 victory over the pesky Cyclones ... Closed the season by carrying five times in the 2009 Texas Bowl against Navy for 24 yards ... Had a very impressive spring camp as he showed a great burst, as well as an ability to be a dependable option in the passing game out of the backfield.

Made the most of his opportunities, as he ran for 231 yards and one touchdown in 41 attempts that came spread out over 13 appearances ... Averaged a solid 5.6 yards per carry … Showed an explosive burst to break off some big chunks of yardage, as evidence by his 55-yard touchdown gallop against Colorado that put the cap on Mizzou's 58-0 whitewashing … Finished that game with 64 yards on four carries, with his score representing his first collegiate touchdown … Led Mizzou in rushing in his first-ever collegiate appearance, when he rushed nine times for 75 yards against Southeast Missouri State … Had a season-high 10 carries for 26 yards the following week against Nevada ... Gained 34 yards on seven carries against Nebraska.

2007 SEASON

Redshirted in his first year in the program.

HIGH SCHOOL

Ranked by Rivals as the No. 18 overall prospect (any position) in the state of Missouri … Was a major weapon out of the backfield for Hazelwood Central in 2006, as he totaled nearly 2,000 yards from scrimmage, including 1,640 on the ground on 216 carries (a healthy 7.6 yards per carry average), and had 341 receiving yards and tallied 20 total TDs on the year … Earned all-state first team acclaim as a senior, as well as all-conference and other honors … High school coach – John Pukalua.

2011 SEASON
Played in all 12 games with 11 starts at both center and left guard ... Earned six starts at center and five at left guard ... Played a major role in Mizzou's potent offense, as the team ranked 11th nationally in rushing offense and 13th nationally in total offense ... Helped the Tiger offense allow just 18 sacks all year, the lowest total since the 2008 season.

2010 SEASON
Made his first career start in the season opener against Illinois and was in the starting lineup for all 12 games during the regular season ... Part of an offensive line that gave up only 22 sacks all season.

2009 SEASON
Became a mainstay on the offensive line, as he logged significant minutes all season long, playing in all 13 games on the year, primarily at left guard, where he shared snaps with Austin Wuebbels ... Also played a key role on special teams, as part of the very successful point after and field goal protection units ... Helped the Tiger offense to an outstanding season, as it averaged nearly 30 points per game and over 400 yards of offense per outing, despite featuring a first-year starting quarterback.

2008 SEASON
Continued to develop nicely as part of a talented group of young linemen coming up in the program, and saw action in 10 games on the season as a redshirt freshman … Had a strong spring camp and spent most of the season second on the depth chart at the left guard spot, behind returning starter Ryan Madison.

2007 SEASON

2011 SEASON

Missed the final five games of the regular season due to an injury ... Made his only field goal attempt of the game in the season opener with Miami (Ohio), hitting a 38-yarder to put Mizzou up 10-0 in the second quarter ... kicked off four times and recorded two touchbacks during the game ... hit field goals of 24, 47 and 19 in Mizzou's loss to Arizona State ... buried both field goal attempts against Western Illinois, hitting from 28 and 25 yards out in the second half ... connected on nine extra points in the Tigers' 69-0 win over the Leathernecks ... made all four extra point attempts against No. 1 Oklahoma ... nailed a 32-yard field goal at Kansas State for the 50th field goal of his career ... hit a 23-yard field goal against Iowa State to end the first half and put Mizzou up 31-10 ... got the Tigers on the board against Oklahoma State with a 26-yard field goal, cutting the Cowboy lead to 7-3.

2010 SEASON

Had another stellar year to follow up his amazing 2009 debut season ... Again proved to be one of the most accurate kickers in the nation as he made 17-of-19 field goals and 45-of-47 extra points ... After a miss on his first attempt (which may have been aided by a high snap), Ressel made his next three (from 33, 27 and 34 yards) in the season opener against Illinois ... Was good on both attempts (27 and 32 yards) against McNeese State ... Was 2-for-2 on FG attempts (34, 38 yards) against San Diego State ... Set a new career best by making a 50-yard field goal on his only FG attempt against Miami (Ohio) ... Missed his first career extra-point against Miami after Making the first 54 attempts of his career ... Made his only FG attempt against Colorado, connecting from 47 yards out ... Made his only FG attempt (21 yards) against Texas A&M ... Was good on all three attempts (36, 30, 23 yards) against Oklahoma ... Was 1-of-2 on FG attempts against Nebraska, connecting from 23 yards after missing a 54-yarder ... Made his only attempt (27 yards) against Texas Tech ... Made a 33-yard attempt against Kansas State.

2009 SEASON

Was one of the truly amazing stories in all of college football during the 2009 season, as he rose from an unheralded second-string kicker before the season and went on to win First Team All-American honors for a year that was record-breaking ... Ended the year making a combined 65-of-66 total kicks (98.5 percent), including 26-of-27 field goals and 39-of-39 extra points, and that percentage broke an NCAA single-season record for best combined kick accuracy ... Also led the NCAA in FG percentage among those with 13 or more attempts (96.3 percent) and finished third nationally with 2.00 field goals made per game ... Was the hero of MU's 41-39 win over rival Kansas, as he connected on all four field goal attempts (43, 28, 37, 27) including the game-winning 27-yarder as time expired ... Began fall camp as the second-string kicker, but was steady and accurate enough to prompt coaches to keep him in mind for the starting duties, and sure enough, he was named the starter the week of MU's season-opener against rival Illinois ... He rewarded the coaches for their faith in him by connecting on all three of his field goal attempts in the game (32, 44 and 41 yards) ... Was 2-for-2 on FG attempts in the home opener against Bowling Green, hitting from 38 yards and a career-high 46 yarder ... Made his only FG attempt against Furman, from 44 yards out ... Made four field goals against Nevada (22, 31, 27, 26 yards) ... Was 1-for-2 in field goal attempts against Nebraska, connecting from 22 yards ... His only miss of the entire 2009 season came against Nebraska, when he slightly pulled a 43-yarder in terrible downpour conditions, as the timing of the kick was thrown off with a snap that came in high and a bit wide ... Made his only attempt (21 yards) against Oklahoma State ... Was 2-for-2 at Colorado (29 and 33 yards) ... Made all three of his kicks against Baylor, including two 46-yard kicks, which matched his career best ... Put the Tigers on the board against Kansas State with a 23-yard field goal, his only attempt of the day ... Made field goals of 20 and 38 yards against Iowa State on Nov. 21 ... Also tried his hand at kickoffs toward the latter part of the year, as he booted 14 kickoffs in the final six games, getting one touchback in the process.

Section 3_Team bios.indd 114 12/9/2011 8:42:43 AM

Saw action in one game, and he made the most of it, getting off a solid 43-yard punt in reserve duty against Southeast Missouri State … The punt had outstanding hang time, and forced the SEMO returner to signal for a fair catch … Had a productive spring camp, working as both a punter and kicker.

2007 SEASON
Joined the team as a walk-on student-athlete and contributed throughout the year in various roles on special teams in practice.

HIGH SCHOOL
Was a three-year letterwinner for Jackson High School in the sports of football and track and field … Won all-conference, all-district and all-region first team honors as a kicker during his senior season, when he connected on 30-of-30 PATs and 5-of-6 FGs … Left school holding the single-season and career PAT percentage record for Class 5 in the state of Missouri … Three-year PAT success rate was 95.4 (82-of-86) percent … Was also all-conference and all-district first team as a junior (24-of-26 PATs, 2-of-2 FGs), and earned Second-Team all-conference honors as a sophomore (28-of-30 PATs, 1-of-1 FGs) … Served as his track team's captain as a senior … High school coach – Carl Gross.

PERSONAL
Parents – Randy & Connie Ressel … Chose Mizzou over Purdue, Arkansas and Minnesota, among others … Was born in Columbia, and regularly came to Tiger football and basketball games growing up, and that trend continued even when his family moved away to Jackson.

MIZZOU

THE COACHES

Gary Pinkel

Head Coach
11th Year at Mizzou
Kent State, 1973

In 11 years at the University of Missouri, Gary Pinkel has meticulously built a previously downtrodden program into one of the most successful in the nation. With 47 wins in the last five seasons (ranking as 10th-most in the nation from 2007-11), three division titles since 2007, and a school-record seven-consecutive bowl game appearances, Pinkel's vision for success has come to fruition, and is pointed toward an even brighter future.

Mizzou is heading to its seventh-straight bowl game, thanks to a 7-5 season in 2011 in which the Tigers were challenged with key injuries while facing a schedule that was ranked as the seventh-toughest in the nation (Sagarin). Pinkel led his team to wins over three bowl teams (Texas, Texas A&M, Iowa State), while all five of MU's losses came at the hands of bowl-bound opponents.

In 2010, Mizzou posted its third 10-win season in four years under Pinkel, as MU went 10-3 overall, including a 6-2 mark in Big 12 Conference play that earned them a spot atop the North Division rankings for the third time since 2007. Included among those 10 wins was a watershed moment for the program, and for Tiger Nation overall – a 36-27 win over top-ranked Oklahoma on Homecoming, which marked the first-ever win by Mizzou over a #1-ranked team.

A sign of growing respect for the work that Pinkel and his staff has done to build the program came along with that win over Oklahoma. That week, Mizzou was the focal point of the entire college football universe, as ESPN sent its wildly popular traveling show, "ESPN GameDay," to the MU campus. A record crowd of an estimated 18,000 Tiger fans packed the picturesque Francis Quadrangle for the Saturday morning show, and made everyone associated with the school glow with pride. A national audience watched the GameDay program, and then the nation promptly watched the Tigers pull away in the fourth quarter against the Sooners to move to 7-0 on a season for only the third time in school history.

Pinkel ranks third on Mizzou's all-time coaching wins list with a 84-54 record. He is in a select group of MU coaches that includes College Football Hall of Famers Don Faurot and Dan Devine, as well as Warren Poweres, as the only coaches to have an MU record above .500 dating back to 1935.

Pinkel has guided Mizzou to eight bowl games, surpassing the previous MU record of six he previously held along with Dan Devine. With wins in the 2008 AT&T Cotton Bowl (38-7 over Arkansas) and in the 2008 Valero Alamo Bowl (30-23 over Northwestern), Pinkel became the first coach to lead the Tigers to bowl victories in consecutive seasons since Powers did the trick in 1981 and 1982.

Over the past nine seasons, Pinkel has led Missouri to a 75-40 record (65.2%) and to bowl games in 2003, 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010 and 2011. Dating back to the 2005 Independence Bowl, Pinkel has won 56 of his last 80 games overall (70.0%). He is the first coach in school history to earn seven straight bowl berths.

His success has led to an increased commitment to the Tiger Football program from the University, as Pinkel was awarded with a two-year contract extension in April of 2011 that will keep him on the Tiger sidelines through the 2017 season. With eight winning seasons, Pinkel has directed MU to eight of the 10 winning campaigns the school has had overall since the 1983 season.

Pinkel's 10-year record at Mizzou stands at 84-54 entering the 2011 Independence Bowl, and in his 21 years overall as a head coach, his teams have a 157-91-3 overall mark.

With a school-record 12 wins in 2007 and 10 more in 2008, MU's two-year win total of 22 was third-most in the nation during that time, trailing only USC (23) and

Section 4_Coaches bios.indd 134 12/9/2011 8:39:21 AM

Oklahoma (23). The back-to-back 10-win seasons marked the first such occurrence in Mizzou history, and Pinkel has now directed three of the four double-digit win seasons in school annals.

In 2007, Pinkel guided Mizzou to arguably the greatest season in school history. Among the myriad achievements that year included a school-record 12 wins, claiming MU's first New Year's Day bowl victory since 1966, getting the program's first-ever Big 12 North Division crown, and earning a No. 1 Associated Press national ranking for the first time since 1960 and coming up one win shy of playing for the national championship.

To simply list the highlights surrounding Pinkel's renaissance in Columbia would not do his body of work justice. After all, Mizzou's current run of seven-straight bowl games have been the culmination of hard work and determination that began after his hiring on Nov. 30, 2000.

While Pinkel himself would say that it is still a work in progress, his program's numerous accomplishments can be highlighted, which helps to tell this story of football success in Mid-Missouri.

In achieving the program's first No. 1 national ranking since 1960, Missouri raced to a 5-0 start in 2007, including wins over a Rose Bowl bound Illinois team and perennial nemesis Nebraska. The Tigers averaged nearly 42 points per game in those five wins and only a late flurry of points by the Fighting Illini kept any of those games in doubt.

While eventual Big 12 Champion Oklahoma was the lone stumbling block for Pinkel's squad in 2007, the Tigers set numerous school records, including school marks for wins (12), points per game (39.9), total points (558) and total offense (6,864 yards). Most of the offensive records were broken again one year later, as the Tigers' potent spread attack upped those marks to 42.2 points per game, 591 total points in 2008.

For his outstanding achievements both on and off the field in 2007, Pinkel was a finalist for several national coach of the year awards, including the Robinson, Bryant and Munger awards. He also was named the National Coach of the Year by FieldTurf in 2007.

In winning a school-record 12 games in 2007, Mizzou clearly caught the attention of the national football community, as the Tigers began the season unranked but quickly darted up the charts with wins over bowl teams such as Illinois, Texas Tech and Colorado. And after the Tigers defeated arch rival and 2nd-ranked Kansas on Nov. 24th, Mizzou stood atop the college football world, ranked number one for the first and only time since 1960. Mizzou was featured on every college football television show after, and also graced the covers of virtually every prominent national sporting publication, including Sports Illustrated, The Sporting News and USA Today.

While the 2007 Tigers cashed in on the steady growth of the program over the previous six seasons, the Tigers also enjoyed an exciting 2006 campaign that saw them win eight regular-season games for just the 10th time in school history, and Missouri's appearance in the Brut Sun Bowl marked MU's third bowl game in four seasons - the first time in 25 years that Mizzou had reached three bowls in four years.

Pinkel and his program successfully built on the momentum created from a scintillating 38-31 win over South Carolina in the 2005 Independence Bowl that saw his Tigers overcome a 21-point deficit. The thrilling win marked the largest come-from-behind win in school history, and it gave Mizzou only its second bowl win in the previous 24 years.

After taking over a program that had fallen on hard times in 2001, Pinkel had increased success in each of his first three seasons, improving from four wins in 2001 to five wins in 2002, to the 2003 squad which went 8-5 and made the school's third bowl appearance since 1983.

Long considered a "sleeping giant" of a program, Mizzou had a breakthrough 2003 season under Pinkel's guidance.

The list of accomplishments turned in by the 2003 team was impressive:

The eight regular-season wins marked the first time since 1980 - and only the 4th time since 1960 - that MU had amassed that many wins in the regular season. The team became only the 9th in MU's history to accomplish the feat...

MU went a perfect 6-0 at Faurot Field that season, with the win total marking a school record for one season at home. Mizzou had never won more than five games at Faurot, which opened as Memorial Stadium in 1926. It also marked MU's first unblemished home season since the 1974 team went 5-0...

Mizzou's 41-24 win over #10 Nebraska on Oct. 11th was one for the history books, as it broke a 24-game losing streak to the Huskers for MU, making Pinkel the first Tiger coach to beat Nebraska since Warren

Section 4_Coaches bios.indd 136 12/9/2011 8:39:22 AM

Powers in 1978...

The Nebraska win also marked MU's first win over a top-10 opponent since 1981, breaking a string of 45 straight losses to top-10 foes for the school...

The 31st head coach in the program's history, Pinkel was hired on Nov. 30, 2000, and began immediately to prove to his colleagues, alumni, fans and student-athletes that Tiger Football could be a national player.

After a rebuilding year in 2001, Pinkel had Mizzou much improved in his 2nd campaign -- and playing for bowl eligibility entering the Tigers' final game of the season. Tough losses to 3rd-ranked Oklahoma (on a late fourth quarter fake field goal), to 18th-ranked Colorado (in overtime) and a last-second loss at 22nd-ranked Iowa State were all that kept Mizzou out of a bowl game.

Pinkel opened the 2002 campaign by leading MU to one of the program's most impressive season-opening wins in recent history when Mizzou dismantled Illinois -- the defending Big Ten Conference champions and a 2001 BCS Bowl team -- 33-20 in St. Louis, Mo. He later defeated Mizzou's heated rival, the Kansas Jayhawks, as MU downed Kansas 36-12 to give him a 2-0 record vs. KU -- making him only the third coach in school history to win his first two encounters against Kansas.

Pinkel came to Missouri after spending 10 very successful years as head coach at Toledo, where he amassed an impressive 73-37-3 record (65.9%).

The school's alltime winningest coach, Pinkel's last six teams there went a combined 50-18-1 overall. Three of those teams advanced to play in the post-season, capturing one Mid-American Conference championship and three MAC West Division titles. Three of his last five teams at Toledo were ranked in the nation's top 25. His 1995 squad went 11-0-1, and was one of just two schools (national champ Nebraska was the other) to finish the season without a loss.

For his accomplishments at Toledo, Pinkel was inducted into the school's athletic hall of fame in February of 2009.

Prior to becoming a head coach, Pinkel learned the trade from one of the alltime great coaches, the legendary Don James. For 12 years as an assistant under James at Washington (1979-90), Pinkel helped guide the Huskies to a combined record of 104-37-2 (73.4%) and three Pac-10 Conference titles. He served as UW's offensive coordinator for seven seasons (1984-90), and helped mold one of the nation's most potent offensive attacks.

Pinkel played under James at Kent State University, where he was an all-conference and honorable mention All-American tight end. He graduated in 1973.

Pinkel graduated from Kenmore High School in Akron, Ohio, and received his bachelor of science degree in education from Kent in 1973. He did post-graduate studies at Kent and Bowling Green, and in 1997 was inducted into the Kent Athletic Hall of Fame. He was born April 27, 1952. Pinkel and his wife, Vicki, have a daughter, Erin, and sons Geoff and Blake.

Dave Steckel

Assistant Head Coach/Defensive Coord./Linebackers
11th Year at Mizzou
Fullerton, Pa.
Kutztown, 1982

Dave Steckel is in his 11th season at Missouri as the Tigers' linebacker coach, and the 2011 campaign will be his second with the added duties of defensive coordinator – a position he was awarded with by Head Coach Gary Pinkel in February of 2009 following the departure of former coordinator Matt Eberflus to the NFL's Cleveland Browns. In 2011 he also was awarded with the title of assistant head coach in the fall.

The Tiger defense played a big role in Mizzou's overall success in 2011, as it ranked 3rd in the offense-happy Big 12 Conference in total defense, allowing 382.25 yards per game. The Tiger defense came up big in wins over Texas (247 yards allowed) and Kansas (137), while also playing well at Kansas State (286) in defeat.

In 2010, Steckel's defense emerged into one of the most improved in the nation last season. Mizzou led the Big 12 Conference, and ranked 6th in the nation, in scoring defense, allowing only 16.08 points per game in the high-scoring Big 12.

Steckel's linebacking corps was decimated by injuries throughout the year, but that didn't stop his troops from turning in big performances each week. Senior Andrew Gachkar developed into one of the top linebackers in the league, and he was named a 1st-Team All-Big 12 performer, giving Steckel a 1st-Team All-Big 12 linebacker for the fifth-straight year (Sean Weatherspoon – 2007, 2008, 2009). Gachkar ranked second on the team with 84 tackles, just one shy of fellow linebacker Zaviar Gooden, a sophomore who was named honorable-mention All-Big 12 for leading MU with 85 stops in his first year as a starter.

Steckel has consistently produced results with his linebacking corps at Mizzou. He is also a highly-successful recruiter, primarily in the state of Texas. A passionate and enthusiastic teacher of the game of football, Steckel has mentored his linebackers over the years with positive results.

Under Steckel, the Missouri defense followed the fire of its new coordinator in 2009 with an attacking style of play. The Tiger rush defense excelled, thanks to his linebackers and a stout defensive line, and ended the season ranked 26th in the NCAA against the run (118.62 avg.) – that figure is the lowest rushing average allowed in a season by a Tiger defense since the 1983 squad ranked 5th nationally with an average of 97.70 per game.

Sean Weatherspoon concluded his stellar Tiger career by winning 2nd-Team All-American honors, as well as being named a 1st-Team All-Big 12 performer for the third straight year – making him the first Tiger in the Big 12 era to achieve 1st-Team all-league status three times. Weatherspoon ended third on MU's career tackles chart, and was eventually a first-round selection by the Atlanta Falcons in the 2010 NFL Draft (number 19 overall selection). Sophomore Will Ebner also emerged as a steady force in the middle of the field, as he earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors for his play, which featured 78 tackles to rank him 3rd on the squad in 2009.

Steckel's group helped lead the Tiger defense in 2008, with junior Sean Weatherspoon commanding the lion's share of attention. "Spoon" turned in a very impressive season that saw him earn 1st-Team All-Big 12 acclaim, as well as 3rd-Team All-American honors, based on his 155 tackles. He was also named a finalist for the prestigious Butkus Award, and he repeated in 2009 as a finalist for the award again.

Weatherspoon was joined in the 100-tackle club in 2008 by senior Brock Christopher, who totaled a career-high 105 stops in his final season in a Tiger uniform. Christopher won honorable-mention All-Big 12 honors for his play for a second straight year in 2008.

Steckel returned to Gary Pinkel's coaching staff in 2001 after spending five seasons as the linebacker and defensive line coach at Rutgers University.

Section 4_Coaches bios.indd 141 12/9/2011 8:39:23 AM

Steckel helped mold James Kinney into a prolific tackler, as he ended his Tiger career by breaking the MU career tackles record (434) during his senior season of 2004. Kinney led MU in stops in 2004, with 112, making him the first player in school history to record three consecutive seasons of 100 or more tackles. He earned 1st-Team All-Big 12 honors for his efforts, and signed a free-agent deal with the Jacksonville Jaguars after the 2005 NFL Draft.

In his 10 seasons at Mizzou, Steckel has had at least one of his linebackers earn all-league recognition each year, including two each in the 2001, 2002, 2003, 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010 seasons.

The 2006 season featured stellar play from senior standouts Marcus Bacon and Dedrick Harrington. Bacon earned 1st-Team All-Big 12 acclaim for his play that featured a team-best 112 tackles. He became MU's first linebacker to win the Big 12 defensive player of the week award since 1997, when he won the award for his play in week two against Ole Miss. Harrington had his best season as a Tiger, as he totaled a career-high 100 stops.

One of MU's top recruiters, Steckel has helped land numerous all-stars for Mizzou, primarily out of the state of Texas. He was responsible for the successful recruitment of Southlake Carroll High School quarterback Chase Daniel, who was named the EA Sports National High School Player of the Year. Daniel lettered as a true freshman at MU in 2005 and just two years later was a Heisman Trophy finalist, finishing fourth in the 2007 Heisman voting. Steckel was able to attend the prestigious ceremony in New York City that December.

Two of Steckel's stars were honored for their play in 2003, as Kinney was named 2nd-Team All-Big 12 by the Associated Press, while Barnes earned Honorable Mention acclaim by both league coaches and media. Barnes impressed enough people that he eventually signed a free agent contract following the 2004 NFL Draft with the Baltimore Ravens, and later played for the Washington Redskins.

At Rutgers, Steckel coached two all-conference defensive linemen from 1996-99, both of whom went on to play in the NFL. In 2000, Steckel moved to coach the linebackers. He served as one of Rutgers' chief recruiters, signing 14 players in his first three seasons.

Before Rutgers, Steckel coached the defensive line for Pinkel at Toledo from 1992-95. He was the defensive line coach during the 1995 undefeated season that went on to win the Las Vegas Bowl. Steckel helped coach a defensive unit that ranked No. 1 in the Mid-American Conference and 12th nationally. One of those players, Dan Williams, was the 11th overall selection in the 1993 NFL Draft.

Steckel served in the United States Marine Corps from 1975-78. He then went on to graduate from Kutztown State College and earned a master's from Miami (Ohio) in 1982.

He is married to the former Mary Beth Thomas of Floyd's Knob, Ind. They have one beautiful daughter named Amanda.

David Yost

Asst. Head Coach/Off. Coord./QB/ Recruiting Coord.
11th Year at Mizzou
Carrollton, Ohio
Kent State, 1992

Assistant Coach David Yost has been with Head Coach Gary Pinkel for the past 15 seasons in a variety of capacities, and the 2011 campaign marked his 11th season at Mizzou playing a vital role in the success and development of the Tiger program. Pinkel's recruiting coordinator since 1997, Yost also serves as the Tigers' quarterbacks coach and placekickers coach at Mizzou. In the fall of 2011, Yost was awarded with the title of assistant head coach.

He's done an outstanding job of molding the Tiger offense to its strengths in 2011, as Mizzou won the Big 12 rushing title, and ranked 11th nationally, averaging 235.67 yards per game. Mizzou proved to be one of the most balanced offensive attacks in the nation in 2011, thanks to the talents of first-year starting QB James Franklin, as well as outstanding play from the Big 12's leading rusher, Henry Josey, and a veteran offensive line. Mizzou is one of only two schools in the country to average at least 235 yards rushing and passing on the year.

Prior to the 2009 season, Yost assumed the added role of offensive coordinator, and in the 2009-10 seasons, he helped guide an attack which featured the arm of quarterback Blaine Gabbert, who was a first-round NFL Draft pick last April.

Under Gabbert, the Tigers won 10 games in 2010 for only the fourth time in school history, thanks in large part to Yost's offense, which ranked 35th nationally in yards per game (409.62 avg.). Gabbert ended the year with his second-straight 3,000-yard campaign, throwing for 3,186 yards and 16 touchdowns, while running for 232 yards and five more scores in all, and he closed his three-year Tiger career by throwing for 434 yards – an MU bowl game record – in the 2010 Insight Bowl against Iowa.

In Yost's first season as coordinator, the Tiger offense ranked 14th in the nation in passing, averaging 285.46 yards per game, despite the inexperience of first-year starting quarterback Blaine Gabbert. In all, the Tiger offense ranked 32nd in the nation in total offense, averaging 412.46 yards per game.

Gabbert continued MU's recent success at the quarterback position, following in the footsteps of Tiger legends Chase Daniel and Brad Smith. Gabbert completed his sophomore season by throwing for 3,593 yards (the 3rd-most in MU single-season history) and 24 touchdowns.

As if that weren't enough for his ledger, Yost helped mold first-year starting kicker Grant Ressel into an automatic machine who won 1st-Team All-American honors for his near flawless 2009 season. Ressel stepped into the kicking job vacated by former record-setting Jeff Wolfert, and one-upped Wolfert, who left holding the NCAA career accuracy record for combined kicks. All Ressel did in his first year as a starter was break the NCAA single-season accuracy mark for combined kicks, as he connected on an amazing 65-of-66 total kicks, including 26-of-27 field goals and 39-of-39 extra points. Ressel led the nation in field goal accuracy, in addition to his NCAA season record. Those feats were good enough to earn him 1st-Team All-Big 12 acclaim as well. He followed with another stellar year in 2010, as Ressel made 17-of-19 field goals and 45-of-47 extra points.

Yost has been instrumental in the development of MU's renowned spread attack. The Tigers broke numerous offensive school records in 2008, thanks to the play of Yost's star pupil, quarterback Chase Daniel. In putting together only the third 10-win season in school history, the Tigers established records for points (591), points per game (42.2) and passing yards (4,625), just to name a few.

Yost has to be considered one of the top quarterback coaches in the nation, based on his work in helping develop Daniel, and his predecessor, Brad Smith. Daniel had an amazing three-year run as a starter come to a close in 2008, and he left holding virtually every major passing and total offense record on the books. The 22 wins amassed over the 2007 and 2008 seasons ranked third nationally during that stretch, trailing only Oklahoma and USC.

Daniel caught the nation's attention during the 2007 season, as he amassed 4,559 yards of total offense (ranking 7th in the NCAA) and 4,306 passing yards with 33 touchdowns while leading MU to a record 12 wins and a final No. 4 Associated Press top-25 ranking. That December, a proud Yost got to join Daniel for an experience of a lifetime, as Daniel was one of four invitees to the Heisman Trophy ceremony in New York City, where he finished fourth in final voting.

Section 4_Coaches bios.indd 143 12/9/2011 8:39:24 AM

He is also known for his work with former record-setting quarterback Brad Smith. Yost helped guide Smith through four magical seasons that saw him break an eye-popping 69 different Mizzou, Big 12 and NCAA game, season and career records. Under Yost's tutelage, Smith became the greatest run-pass dual threat QB in NCAA Division I-A history, as he is the only athlete to throw for 8,000 yards and rush for 4,000 yards in a career. In 2005 alone, Smith amassed 2,304 yards in the air and 1,301 more on the ground – making him the first player in NCAA D-IA history to reach the 2,000/1,000 mark twice in a career.

Yost oversaw the transformation of previously unheralded walk-on Jeff Wolfert into one of the best Cinderella stories in all of college football. Wolfert, who won the kicking job in fall camp just prior to the 2006 season, had kicked in just one high school game before coming to MU as a scholarship diver on the men's swim team. Wolfert was an all-conference diver in 2004-05, but spurned his diving scholarship to pursue his dream of kicking. After seeing no action as a walk-on in 2005, Wolfert was simply amazing as he connected on an MU record 18 field goals (in 20 attempts) and was a perfect 45-of-45 on extra points to earn himself on the prestigious Lou Groza Award list of semifinalists.

Wolfert followed his surprising 2006 season with an even better year in 2007, as he made an amazing 88-of-92 combined kicks (21-of-25 field goals, 67-of-67 extra points) and won honorable mention All-America honors by Sports Illustrated, while winning 1st-Team All-Big 12 acclaim as he scored an MU single-season record 130 points. He closed his career in 2008 by repeating as a 1st-Team All-Big 12 pick, and ended as the most accurate kicker in NCAA history for combined field goals and extra points (185-of-185 extra points, 59-of-72 field goals).

The 2002 season saw Yost guide Smith, a redshirt freshman, during an historical season as he became only the second player in NCAA Division I-A history to throw for 2,000 yards and rush for 1,000 yards in a season.

Smith was at it again in 2003, as he broke his own single-season total offense record, with 3,383 yards. He ended the season with 1,977 passing yards and rushed for 1,406 yards, the latter of which is the No. 2 single-season rushing mark in MU history.

From 1997 to 2000, Yost held the same responsibilities for Pinkel at Toledo. He spent four seasons coaching two of the most productive quarterbacks in Toledo history in Tavares Bolden and Chris Wallace. Bolden developed into one of the most versatile signal-callers in the MAC.

Yost came to Toledo from Tiffin University, where he coordinated the offense along with coaching quarterbacks and receivers in 1995. During the 1994 season, he coached wide receivers.

A native of Carrollton, Ohio, Yost spent time coaching his former high school team after graduating from Kent State University. A graduate of Kent State, Yost earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in early childhood education in 1992. He has done graduate work in educational psychology. He was married to the former Carrie Crossett, a former soccer student-athlete at Mizzou (and sister of former MU kicker Adam Crossett) in June of 2005, and the couple had their first child, daughter Kennedy Caroline, in December of 2006. Son, Keaton, was born in December of 2008 and son Kamden was born in April of 2011.

Cornell Ford

Cornerbacks
11th Year at Mizzou
Gary, Ind.
Toledo, 1991

Cornell Ford is in his 18th season as a valuable member of Coach Gary Pinkel's staff, including his 11th at Mizzou working with the Tiger secondary. Beginning with the 2004 season, Ford has coached the Tiger cornerbacks, after he focused on MU's outside safeties his first three years. Ford is also the Tigers' chief recruiter in St. Louis, where he has signed some of the very best players in the state.

Ford oversaw the development of true sophomore E.J. Gaines into one of the nation's top young cover men. Gaines set a Mizzou record with 16 pass break ups in 2011 in his first year as a starter, and tied for 3rd nationally with 18 passes defended overall (including 2 interceptions).

Both of Ford's starting cornerbacks earned All-Big 12 status for three straight seasons (2008-10), including Carl Gettis and Kevin Rutland both in 2009 and 2010. The Tiger pass defense was a large reason for Mizzou's much-improved play in 2010, as MU led the Big 12 and ranked 6th nationally in scoring defense, allowing just 16.08 points per game. The Tigers also ranked 11th nationally in pass efficiency defense, with an opponent passer rating of 108.45.

Rutland's development earned him an invitation to the 2011 NFL Combine, and while he went undrafted in April, he was signed immediately by Jacksonville, and recently made his first career NFL start for the Jaguars.

In 2009, Gettis and Rutland were named honorable mention all-league by league coaches for their play. Gettis ranked 6th on the team in 2009 with 61 tackles, and led the team with 5 pass break ups, to go with having a hand in 4 turnovers in his third year as a starter. Rutland, in his first year as a starter, developed into MU's top corner, as he won honorable-mention all-league status and was named the team's cornerback of the year for his season, which included 47 tackles and a team-high 2 interceptions.

Both of Ford's starting cornerbacks earned All-Big 12 mention in 2008, with senior Castine Bridges and sophomore Carl Gettis winning honorable mention all-league acclaim for their play on the Tigers' 10-4 squad. Gettis further established himself as one of the top young defensive backs in the Big 12 Conference as he ranked 5th on the Tiger squad with 78 tackles, 4 pass break ups and 1 interception. Bridges closed out his Tiger career with 69 tackles and 1 interception, plus a team-high 7 pass break ups.

Mizzou's cornerbacks turned in a solid 2007 season overall, and were a definite reason that the Tiger defense was one of the best in the Big 12 Conference. True freshman Carl Gettis blossomed under Ford's coaching, as he became a starter early in the year and eventually won 2nd-Team Freshman All-American honors for his play. Senior Darnell Terrell was invited to the NFL Combine in the off-season, and later signed a free-agent contract with the Cleveland Browns.

The Tiger secondary was instrumental in MU's defensive improvement in 2006, and Ford's cornerbacks were a big reason why. Led by junior Darnell Terrell, who earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors from league coaches, the Tigers ranked 2nd in the Big 12 Conference, and 37th nationally, in pass defense, permitting 185.69 yards per game on average. That fact was even more impressive, considering that sophomore starting CB Domonique Johnson missed five games due to a knee injury midway through the season.

After losing his top performer from 2004 in Shirdonya Mitchell, Ford helped develop his cornerback unit into one that was dependable and steady in 2005. Mizzou ended the 2005 regular season ranking 4th in the Big 12 in pass defense, allowing an average of 212.55 yards per game.

Senior Marcus King blossomed into a big-play performer for the Tiger secondary in 2005, as he led the team with a career-high

Section 4_Coaches bios.indd 145 12/9/2011 8:39:25 AM

13 passes broken up – including a record-breaking 99-yard interception return for a TD in the Independence Bowl win. King earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors by both league coaches and media for his efforts, and he teamed with fellow senior A.J. Kincade to give the Tigers a dependable tandem. King later went on to earn a free agent contract with the NFL's Dallas Cowboys following the 2006 NFL Draft, and another Ford protégé, Calvin Washington, was invited to the rookie minicamp of the Washington Redskins following the draft as well.

Just about every one of Ford's cornerbacks had career years under his coaching in 2004, and that performance was instrumental in Mizzou's substantial improvement in defense. Thanks in large part to his cornerbacks, Mizzou led the Big 12 Conference, and ranked 3rd nationally in pass defense in 2004, allowing an average of just 149.27 yards per game. His corners grabbed 8 of MU's 15 interceptions in 2004, which was a nice team improvement from a total of 9 in 2003 (including 3 from cornerbacks that year).

Senior Shirdonya Mitchell blossomed into a high-level cornerback in 2004 under Ford's direction, as he ranked 5th in the Big 12 Conference, and 33rd nationally, with his 4 interceptions. Mitchell earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors for his play, in only his second year playing defense, and signed a two-year free agent deal with the Miami Dolphins following the 2005 NFL Draft. Juniors Marcus King and A.J. Kincade also had big years, as King tied for the team lead with four turnovers gained (2 interceptions and 2 fumbles) and led the team with 7 pass break ups, while Kincade had a career-high 2 interceptions, including a game-winning pickoff in overtime of the season finale at Iowa State.

In addition to his coaching duties, Ford has worked hard to earn a reputation as one of the most well-trusted recruiting presences in his area of St. Louis. His hard work and straightforward approach has paid off recently, as he has successfully attracted stars such as Will Franklin, Jeremy Maclin and 2008 signees Blaine Gabbert and Wes Kemp to Mizzou. In 2009, he landed Gateway Tech superstar Sheldon Richardson, who was one of the nation's top overall prospects, and this past February, MU signed a class which ranked 21st-best in the nation according to Rivals.com, and that was the highest ranking ever for a Tiger recruiting class. Ford was also successful in getting Missouri's foot in the door in other St. Louis schools where there hadn't been much Tiger success in recent years.

Ford spent five seasons at Toledo coaching the wide receivers. Toledo graduate Mel Long pulled in 175 receptions in his four-year career, 21 of those for touchdowns. He also held the longest active streak in NCAA Division I for consecutive games with a reception. Under Ford, Long became Toledo's all-time leading receiver.

Before Toledo, Ford coached at Marietta College where he coached the quarterbacks, running backs and receivers, while also serving as the team's strength and conditioning coach. Marietta led the conference in rushing offense in 1994 and 1995 and owned the league's top running back both seasons.

Prior to joining the Marietta staff, Ford served two seasons as a graduate assistant at Toledo. He helped with the offensive line in 1992 and the secondary in 1991.

Ford holds a bachelor's degree (1991) in physical education and a master's degree (1993) in sports administration from Toledo.

He and his wife, Dawn, are the parents of a son, Devin, and a daughter, Taylor.

Co-Offensive Line
Third Year at Mizzou
Tuttle, Okla.
Oklahoma State, 1998

Josh Henson joined the University of Missouri football coaching staff in February of 2009 as its newest assistant coach. The first new hire to join Gary Pinkel's staff since he came to Mizzou in 2001, Henson came aboard to serve as co-offensive line coach. A former standout offensive lineman at Oklahoma State, Henson spent his prior four years as tight ends coach and recruiting coordinator at Louisiana State University, where he developed the reputation as being a tremendous on-field teacher of the game, while also leading the charge for LSU's recruiting classes which ranked among the top 10 in the nation four times - including a 2009 class recently ranked as No. 2 in the nation according to Rivals.com.

Henson has provided an immediate impact for the Tiger football program, both on and off the field. The Tiger offensive line – despite the pre-season loss of All-Big 12 left tackle Elvis Fisher to a season-ending injury – developed into a stout unit that paved the way for a Big 12 team rushing title in 2011. The Tigers ranked 11th nationally, and led the Big 12 in rushing (235.67 avg.) and also ranked 13th nationally in total offense (472.42 avg.), despite featuring a first-year starter at quarterback.

In 2009, he helped coach a trio of Tiger offensive linemen – senior Kurtis Gregory (2nd-Team), and sophomores Elvis Fisher (Hon. Men.) and Dan Hoch (Hon. Men.) to All-Big 12 honors. The offensive line helped protect first-year starting quarterback Blaine Gabbert well enough so that MU ranked 14th in the nation in passing, while allowing only 20 sacks in 13 games and 467 passing attempts.

It was more of the same in 2010, as the offensive line was a key element to Mizzou's 10-win season (only the fourth double-digit win season in school history), as four of Henson's five starters won some level of all-conference honors. Senior center Tim Barnes established himself as one of the top centers in the nation, and he took home 1st-Team All-Big 12 honors for his outstanding play. Also earning all-conference acclaim were juniors Dan Hoch (2nd-Team), Elvis Fisher (Hon. Men.) and Austin Wuebbels (Hon. Men.), .

In the recruiting battles, Henson quickly helped MU establish ties to areas in which it had little success in recent years, and his efforts helped the Tiger 2010 class to a No. 21 national ranking by Rivals.com – marking the highest ranking ever for an MU recruiting class.

Henson is no stranger to the Big 12 Conference, as he spent 10 years as a player and coach at Oklahoma State, prior to his most recent successful stint as tight ends coach and recruiting coordinator at LSU. He replaced former Tiger coach Dave Christensen, who was the first assistant to leave Pinkel's staff since coming to MU in 2001. Christensen was named the head coach at Wyoming in December of 2008.

In 2007, Henson's coaching efforts helped LSU sophomore tight end Richard Dickson put together one of the most productive seasons at the position in school history. Dickson turned in the third-highest single-season reception total by a Tiger tight end in school history, and he capped the 2007 season by catching a pair of touchdown passes in LSU's 38-24 win over Ohio State in the 2008 BCS National Championship Game.

The Tiger tight ends played a key role as LSU's offense set a total of 10 school records in 2007, including points in a season and total yards in a season. Following the 2007 season, LSU tight end Keith Zinger was selected in the seventh round of the NFL Draft by the Atlanta Falcons.

As LSU's recruiting coordinator, Henson's abilities made an immediate impact on the Tiger roster as LSU had the nation's No. 2-ranked signing class in 2007 after a consensus top 6 national rating in

Section 4_Coaches bios.indd 147 12/9/2011 8:39:26 AM

2006. For his efforts, Henson was ranked as one of college football's top 25 recruiters in 2006 and 2007 by Rivals.com.

At Oklahoma State, Henson was instrumental in the development of Billy Bajema, who was a three-year starter for the Cowboys. As a senior in 2004, Bajema was one of the top tight ends in the country, earning first-team All-Big 12 honors. Bajema was picked in the seventh round of the 2004 NFL Draft by the San Francisco 49ers.

Henson also played a vital role in OSU's offensive development as the Cowboys ranked among the top 15 scoring teams in the nation for three consecutive years. The Cowboys averaged over 34 points per game from 2002-04, which included 35.9 points per game in 2003 and 34.5 points a game in 2004.

As Oklahoma State's recruiting coordinator, Henson played a key role in OSU's 2003 signing class being ranked No. 15 in the nation by Rivals.com. A year earlier, Rivals.com rated the Cowboy class as the 26th-best in the country.

As a player, Henson was a four-year letterwinner with 40 career starts for Oklahoma State from 1993-97. He was a starter on the offensive line as well as team captain for Oklahoma State's 8-4 team in 1997, a squad that played in the Alamo Bowl against Purdue. He was a second-team All-Big 12 selection as a senior, in addition to being an honorable mention All-Big 12 pick as a junior. Off the field, Henson was named the recipient of the L.L. Boger Award as a senior, an honor that recognizes a student-athlete's achievement both on the field and in the classroom.

Henson graduated from Oklahoma State with a bachelor's degree in secondary education in 1998. Upon graduation, he went straight into coaching, serving as a high school football coach in Kingfisher, Okla. In one season at Kingfisher, he helped guide the Yellowjackets to the state semifinals.

Henson returned to Oklahoma State as a graduate assistant in July of 1999, spending one year with the Cowboy offensive line before taking a full-time position with OSU as tight ends coach in 2001.

Henson is a native of Tuttle, Okla. He and his wife Shauna have an 8-year old son, Will, and a 4-year old daughter, Kate. Henson lists golf, fishing and hunting as his hobbies in his spare time.

Andy Hill

Receivers
16th Year at Mizzou
Trenton, Mo.
Missouri, 1985

Andy Hill has coached 11 seasons under Gary Pinkel and 16 seasons overall at the University of Missouri, making him the longest tenured coach on the Tiger football staff. Hill has coached the Mizzou wide receivers ever since joining the Missouri staff in 1996, and in 2009, he assumed responsibilities for the Tiger tight ends for the first time, with his new title being that of receivers coach.

Over the past few seasons, Hill has coached several of the most prolific pass catchers in the nation, as well as in Mizzou history. In 2010, junior TE Michael Egnew emerged as the nation's most productive receiving tight end, as he won consensus 1st-Team All-American honors, and was a Mackey Award finalist, for a year that saw him catch 90 passes for 762 yards and five touchdowns. That was an astounding progression for Egnew, who caught a combined seven passes in his first two years as a Tiger. Another great story in 2010 was the development of sophomore WR T.J. Moe into one of the nation's most prolific receivers as well. Moe burst onto the scene by catching 92 passes for 1,045 yards and six touchdowns, a year after he caught two passes as a true freshman in 2009. Moe's play won him 2nd-Team All-Big 12 honors. Hill, who also works with Tiger punters, helped develop first-year player and senior punter Matt Grabner into an honorable mention All-Big 12 performer after averaging 42.6 yards per punt.

Junior Punter Trey Barrow took over duties for the first time in 2011, and promptly led the Big 12, and ranked 10th nationally with his punting average of 45.02 yards per kick.

Danario Alexander's 2009 season saw him lead the NCAA in receiving (137.0 yards per game), as he shattered school records for receptions (113), receiving yards (1,781) and receiving touchdowns (14). Alexander twice won Big 12 Offensive Player of the Week honors during his incredible 2009 season – making him the first receiver in the talent-rich tradition of the Big 12 Conference to win the honor twice in the same season. Alexander won 1st-Team All-American honors for his efforts in 2009, and he ended his career holding the MU career record for receiving yards (2,778).

The 2009 season saw senior punter Jake Harry IV turn in an outstanding season which included honorable mention All-Big 12 honors. Harry ranked 29th nationally in punting average (42.77), and he helped Mizzou rank 4th in the country in team net punting (40.48) – the highest MU has ever finished in the national standings in the category.

The 2008 season saw Hill work to develop sophomore Jeremy Maclin into arguably the most dynamic player in the nation. Maclin set an MU single-season record with 102 catches, 1,260 yards and 13 touchdowns receiving, and he also led the NCAA in all-purpose yardage, with his per-game average of 202.4 yards. The game-changer won consensus 1st-Team All-American honors for his play, as well as being named a finalist for the Biletnikoff Award, given annually to the nation's top receiver. Maclin chose to bypass his final two years of eligibility at Mizzou, and was taken with the 19th overall selection in the 2009 NFL Draft by the Philadelphia Eagles.

Hill's group produced in record numbers during the Tigers' 10-4 season in 2008. As a team, Mizzou's passing attack shattered school records for receptions (404), receiving yards (4,625) and receiving touchdowns (41). Mizzou's passing attack ranked 4th in the NCAA in 2008, with a per-game average of 330.36 yards. In addition to Maclin's many exploits, another pupil of Hill's had a strong close to his Tiger career. Former walk-on Tommy Saunders developed into one of the Big 12's most underrated receiving threats, as he caught 72 passes for 833 yards and seven scores in 2008, and he ended his career ranked among MU's top-10 in both receptions and yardage.

Thanks in no small part to Hill's work with the receivers, Mizzou's offense set myriad records in 2007, as the passing attack ranked 9th in the NCAA, averaging 314.07 yards per game. Two of his pupils, senior Will Franklin and freshman Jeremy Maclin, earned all-league honors for their outstanding play in 2007, including Maclin, who was a consensus 1st-Team All-American for his exploits as both a receiver and return man, in addition to being named 1st-Team All-Big 12 and Big 12 Offensive Freshman of the Year. Franklin, who was selected in the fourth round of the 2008 NFL Draft by the Kansas City Chiefs, won honorable mention All-Big 12 honors, and ended his stellar Tiger career ranked in the school's top 10 for receptions and yards.

Section 4_Coaches bios.indd 149 12/9/2011 8:39:27 AM

Under Hill's tutelage in 2006, the Tiger receiving corps was instrumental in helping Mizzou develop into a passing attack that ranked 10th in the country, averaging 276.15 yards per game. Four Tiger wideouts had 25 or more catches, including Franklin (48), Perry (37), Brad Ekwerekwu (32) and Tommy Saunders (25). Franklin earned honorable mention All-Big 12 status for his breakout year, which included 829 yards and six touchdowns in 11 games, with the yardage total ranking as the seventh-most in MU single-season history. Perry, a true freshman, developed quicker than anticipated, as Hill coached him to honorable mention freshman All-American honors.

Hill also doubles as a highly-successful recruiter, primarily in the Kansas City and mid-Missouri areas, as he's been responsible for landing such big names over the years as Martin Rucker, 2008 Mackey Award Winner Chase Coffman, and Tony Temple, among numerous others. He was named by Rivals.com as one of the top-10 recruiters in the Big 12 Conference for 2007.

Hill helped develop Gage into one of the top receivers in the Big 12 Conference and one of the premier wide outs in the country. After converting from quarterback in the spring of 2000, Gage caught 200 passes for 2,704 yards and 18 touchdowns in three seasons – all MU career receiving records. Gage left after 2002 holding virtually every game, season and career receiving mark on the Mizzou books, and is now making an impact professionally, where he has been the Tennessee Titans' leading receiver in 2007 and 2008.

Five of Hill's receivers are among 12 Tigers all-time to accumulate over 160 receiving yards in a single-game, with Gage holding the school record of 236 yards (accomplished twice). Missouri has had 16 different receivers go over 100 yards in a single game during Hill's tenure.

Previous to Missouri, Hill was the head football coach at Hutchinson (Kan.) Junior College. Hutchinson went 18-6 under Hill, including a 10-2 record in 1995 when it won its first Conference title since 1969 and ranked ninth in the final NJCAA national poll. He was named the conference Coach of the Year. Hill was the offensive coordinator at Hutchinson in 1992 and 1993 after serving as a graduate assistant at SMU in the spring of 1992.

Hill is a Mizzou grad who walked on the Tiger football team in 1980 and eventually earned a scholarship. He lettered in 1980, '81, '83 and '84 and played on Missouri teams that earned trips to the Liberty, Tangerine and Holiday Bowls. In his career, Hill caught 51 passes for 946 yards and scored seven touchdowns. As a senior, he caught 25 passes for 445 yards and three scores. Following his playing days at Missouri, he spent time in the training camps of the Kansas City Chiefs and Calgary Stampeders in 1985 and '86.

Andy and his wife Sarah are the parents of a daughter, Patricia Ryan, and son Andrew. He earned his Bachelor of Arts degree in economics from MU in 1985. He worked for the athletic department as MU's group sales coordinator in 1988-89, and also worked at American Bank in his hometown of Trenton, Mo., and for Edwards D. Jones Co. in Brookfield.

Brian Jones

Running Backs
11th Year at Mizzou
Falmouth, Jamaica
Connecticut, 1980

Brian Jones has been a member of Gary Pinkel's coaching staff since 1992. He has coached an excellent running game for the last 17 seasons, after initially coaching wide receivers from 1992-94.

Jones oversaw the transformation of the Tiger offensive attack into one of the nation's most balanced, as Mizzou was one of just two schools nationally in 2011 to average at least 235 yards rushing and passing.

His tailbacks carried a big load in 2011, as the Tigers won the Big 12 Conference team rushing title, averaging a league-best 235.67 yards per game (ranking them 11th in the NCAA). Led by super sophomore Henry Josey, who won the Big 12 individual rushing title, averaging 116.80 yards a game before ending his season early in game #10 against Texas.

Jones and his troops also rose to the challenge in 2010, as a talented group of tailbacks combined in committee style to rush for over 1,500 yards and 19 touchdowns as the Tiger run game ranked sixth in the Big 12 overall, averaging 156.38 yards per game (2,033 yards all told on the season). The quartet of De'Vion Moore, Kendial Lawrence, Henry Josey and Marcus Murphy all return in 2011, undoubtedly giving Jones one of the most experienced backfields in the nation.

In 2008, Jones took a first-year starter with limited prior experience, in true sophomore Derrick Washington, and helped mold him into one of the Big 12 Conference's top running backs. Washington became only the eighth running back in Mizzou history to rush for 1,000 yards in a season, as he tallied 1,036 on 177 carries (5.9 avg.) in 2008. He added 17 rushing touchdowns in his first year as a starter, which was just one shy of the school single season record.

The 2009 season saw the Tiger run game contribute with 1,651 yards, of which 1,342 came from the trio of junior Derrick Washington, sophomore De'Vion Moore and true freshman Kendial Lawrence. Washington earned honorable mention All-Big 12 acclaim for his season, which included 865 rushing yards and 10 touchdowns, to go with 26 receptions out of the backfield.

Of the eight Tiger running backs with 1,000-yard seasons, Jones has coached four of them in his time on the Mizzou sideline, including one each in three consecutive years, from 2006-08.

Jones helped develop Tony Temple into one of the top ball carriers in the Big 12 Conference in recent years, as the Kansas City, Mo., native ranked second in the league in rushing in 2006, with a career-high 1,063 yards and seven touchdowns, and followed with a 1,039-yard, 12-touchdown campaign in 2008, becoming the first running back in Mizzou history to claim multiple 1,000-yard seasons.

Temple closed his Tiger career in illustrious fashion, as he broke a 52-year old record by rushing for a Cotton Bowl-record 284 yards and four touchdowns in Mizzou's rout of Arkansas. The yardage total was also the second-most in the history of Division I-A bowl games.

With Mizzou's high-flying passing game getting most of the headlines, it's easy to overlook the fact that the Tigers also run the ball very well and very often. Mizzou ran for just under 2,500 yards in 2007 (2,467), and amassed 29 rushing touchdowns as well, providing a nice compliment to the air game. They followed with 2,153 yards and 28 rushing scores in 2008.

Temple earned honorable mention All-Big 12 status by league coaches in both 2006 and 2007. He also ran for 194 yards and two touchdowns in the 2006 Sun Bowl against Oregon State.

Despite their overall youth, and some injury problems for each one throughout the year, Jones' group made steady progress in 2005, and contributed heavily to MU's rushing attack, which ranked 3rd in the Big 12 Conference, and 17th in the NCAA, averaging 205.25 yards per game. Mizzou's tailbacks combined to rush for more than 1,100 yards and tallied 8 TDs in 2005, averaging a healthy 5.6 yards per carry.

Section 4_Coaches bios.indd 151 12/9/2011 8:39:28 AM

In May of 2006, Jones was one of only 25 coaches selected to participate in the prestigious NCAA Expert Coaches Academy.

Jones' backs rushed for over 1,200 yards and had 9 of MU's 13 rushing TDs on the season in 2004. They were led by junior Damien Nash, who had 792 yards and 7 TDs, and redshirt freshman Marcus Woods, who had 428 yards and 2 scores. Woods was named 1st-Team Freshman All-Big 12 for his efforts in 2004. Nash was a 5th-round draft pick by the Tennessee Titans in the 2005 NFL Draft.

Mizzou had one of the nation's most potent rushing attacks in 2003, as the Tigers pounded their way to 3,087 yards, good for a per-game average of 237.46 yards that ranked MU 1st in the Big 12 Conference and 6th in the NCAA statistics. It marked the first time since 1960 that MU won a conference rushing championship, when the Tigers led the old Big Eight with a mark of 249.3 yards per game. Missouri rushed for 38 touchdowns on the year, on the way to scoring a school single-season record 399 points.

Jones' workhorse from 2001-03 was tailback Zack Abron. Abron thrived under Jones' coaching and turned himself into one of the top backs in the Big 12 Conference. Abron rushed for a career-best 1,155 yards in 2003, making him only the 7th 1,000-yard rusher in MU history.

Abron set numerous career records in 2003, as he left MU holding the standard in rushing yards (3,198), touchdowns (42) and points (252). He improved his average yards per rush from 3.6 as a freshman in 2000 to a healthy 5.3 in 2003, and also worked with Jones to develop himself into a pass-catching threat out of the backfield. Abron was named 2nd-Team All-Big 12 in 2003 for his work, and went on to sign a free agent contract with the Atlanta Falcons following the 2004 Draft.

During Jones' last two seasons at Toledo, UT's running attack was ranked in the top-10 in the country. In 2000, the Rockets' running game ranked ninth in the country, racking up 253.8 yards per game. UT compiled 2,792 yards on the ground and averaged 5.43 yards per carry. In 1999, Toledo ranked 10th in the country in rushing, compiling 239.2 yards per outing and ranked No. 1 in the nation in yards per attempt (5.35). Jones' protégé Chester Taylor racked up 1,176 yards and ranked 20th in the country, while his rushing average of 6.5 yards per carry ranked second-best in the nation.

In 1995, Toledo led the league and ranked fifth in the nation in rushing, averaging 244.5 yards per game. The Rockets' starting tailback that season, Wasean Tait, broke 16 school records. Tait was the named the MAC Player of the Year and garnered second team All-America honors ranking second in the nation in rushing and third in scoring.

Jones came to Toledo from Lafayette College where he served as the wide receivers coach for one season. Prior to that, Jones served three years each as an assistant coach with the Massachusetts (1988-91) and Villanova (1984-87).

He also had coaching stints at Rensselear Polytechnic Institute (1983-84), Norwich (VT) University (1982-83) and the New York Institute of Technology (1981-82).

Jones was an offensive lineman at the University of Connecticut, where he earned a Bachelor of Science degree in marketing in 1980. He also holds a Master of Science degree in administration and physical education from Norwich (1983).

Jones was born in Jamaica and raised in New York City. He and his wife, Mary Kay, are the parents of sons Grant and Brandon, and daughter Audrey.

Craig Kuligowski

Defensive Line
11th Year at Mizzou
Southgate, Mich.
Toledo, 1991

Craig Kuligowski is in his 20th season alongside Gary Pinkel, including his 16th season coaching the defensive line. One of the more accomplished assistant coaches in the nation, Kuligowski has coached six Tigers to 1st-Team All-Big 12 honors, including four in the last five seasons – Lorenzo Williams in 2007, followed by Ziggy Hood in 2008, Aldon Smith in 2010 and Dominique Hamilton in 2011.

Hamilton has been an anchor on the line for Mizzou in 2011, as he leads all Big 12 interior linemen with his 55 tackles entering bowl season, and he also helped clinch a pair of dramatic wins at Texas A&M and against Texas Tech when he deflected passes to end each game.

The 2010 season saw Smith earn 1st-Team All-Big 12 honors despite missing three games with a broken leg early in the year. Following his sophomore season, Smith chose to bypass his final two years of eligibility and was a first-round draft pick in April's NFL Draft by the San Francisco 49ers, where he has blossomed into one the league's top defensive rookies in 2011.

Smith wasn't the only Kuligowski protégé to earn acclaim in 2010, as five linemen in all took home honors, including sophomore end Brad Madison (2nd-Team), junior end Jacquies Smith (Hon. Men.), junior tackle Terrell Resonno (Hon. Men.)

Coach "Kul" debuted a star pupil in 2009 – redshirt freshman end Aldon Smith – who turned out to be one of the top freshmen in the entire nation. Smith was named the Big 12 Conference Defensive Freshman/Newcomer of the Year, in unanimous fashion, and he also earned 3rd-Team All-American honors, as well as 1st-Team Freshman All-American honors for his outstanding play in 2009.

Smith broke the MU single-season quarterback sacks record in 2009, with 11.5 to surpass the old mark of 11 set in 2000 by former All-American Justin Smith. Aldon Smith also had 19 tackles for loss in his first year on the field for Mizzou, and he led all of the nation's freshmen in both sacks and tackles for loss a year ago. Smith was joined by senior Jaron Baston (2nd-Team All-Big 12) in receiving all-conference honors in 2009.

Kuligowski's defensive line was stout against the run in 2009, as it helped the Tiger defense to a national ranking of 26th against the run (allowing 118.62 yards per game). The ranking and yards allowed were the lowest by any Mizzou defense against the run since the 1983 team ranked 5th in the country with an average of 97.70 yards per game.

Hood, and another star disciple, defensive end Stryker Sulak (who earned 2nd-Team All-Big 12 mention in both 2007 and 2008) were invited to participate in the 2009 NFL Combine, and both were eventually taken in the 2009 NFL Draft, with Hood going in the first round with the 32nd overall pick by the defending Super Bowl Champion Pittsburgh Steelers, with Sulak going in the 6th round to the Oakland Raiders. Sulak ended his career tied for second on Mizzou's quarterback sacks list, with 22.5, while Hood finished 10th with 15.5 for his career.

In 2007, Kuligowski coached all four of his starters on the Tiger defensive line to at least honorable mention All-Big 12 honors, including Lorenzo Williams, who claimed 1st-Team mention for his outstanding play.

The 2006 season also saw Kuligowski's pupils succeed at a high level, as he coached standout defensive ends Brian Smith, Xzavie Jackson and tackle Lorenzo Williams to All-Big 12 honors, with Smith earning 2nd-Team mention, while Jackson and Williams won their first-ever honorable mention acclaim.

Despite being hurt severely by injuries in 2006, the Tiger defensive line was a disruptive force early and often, as they amassed 28 combined sacks of MU's overall 36 sacks on the season which were the second-most in school history (41 sacks in 1982 is the MU record). Smith was a catalyst, as he broke MU's career sack record before breaking his hip in game eight against Kansas State. Jackson and Williams stepped up in Smith's absence, and rank on MU's alltime career top-10 in sacks.

Facing arguably the biggest rebuilding job at any position on the team in 2005, Kuligowski oversaw a defensive line that grew into a solid unit, despite losing three starters from 2004 to the NFL. Junior defensive end Brian Smith blossomed into an every-down player, and had a monster year, ranking among the best in the Big 12 Conference with 9 QB sacks, 17 tackles for loss and 12 QB hurries, to go along with his career-high total of 66 tackles. Smith earned 2nd-Team All-Big 12 accolades for his performance.

Section 4_Coaches bios.indd 153 12/9/2011 8:39:29 AM

Kuligowski's line was a focal point for the Tiger defense in 2004, and a major reason for the overall improvement of the defense. Three of his pupils – tackles Atiyyah Ellison and C.J. Mosley, and end Brian Smith – earned various All-Big 12 honors for their play in 2004, with Ellison and Mosley pulling in 1st-Team distinction. Redshirt freshman Lorenzo Williams also earned 1st-Team Freshman All-Big 12 honors by The Sporting News.

Two of Kuligowski's protégés were drafted as part of the 2005 NFL Draft, as tackles Atiyyah Ellison (3rd round) and C.J. Mosley (6th round) were picked by the Carolina Panthers and Minnesota Vikings, respectively. Later, defensive end Zach Ville signed a free agent deal with the Kansas City Chiefs.

Kuligowski's line has steadily improved against the run since he arrived in 2001. In 2006, Mizzou allowed 134.54 yards per game on the ground, which ranked 58th nationally. The 2004 Tiger outfit allowed 152.09 yards rushing per game, which ranked them 64th in the nation. In 2005, the numbers were virtually identical, with an average of 152.18 yards per game that ranked MU 63rd nationally. That followed a mark of 167.23 yards per game in 2003, which ranked them 72nd in NCAA statistics. That marked an improvement from a rank of 78th in 2002 (167.75 ypg) and 89th in 2001 (198.73).

Under Kuligowski's leadership, the Tiger defensive line proved to be the strength of MU's defense in 2002. Led by senior tackle Keith Wright and senior end Antwaun Bynum, the Tiger front four was a constant disruptive force for opposing teams. Wright led the Big 12 Conference, and ranked in the top-10 nationally, with 23 tackles for loss in 2002, while Bynum ranked among conference leaders in sacks, fumbles forced and tackles for loss.

Bynum earned first team All-Big 12 honors in 2002, and was named an honorable mention All-American by CNNSI.com, while Wright was a first team All-Big 12 pick by various outlets. Wright's development led to him being a 6th-round selection by the Houston Texans in the 2003 NFL Draft.

Kuligowski was credited with building one of the top defensive lines in the MAC during his tenure at Toledo. In 2000, the Rockets were ranked fifth in the country in rushing defense, allowing just 81.5 yards per game and 2.46 yards per carry. They were ranked third in the country in scoring defense, third in total defense and No. 1 in turnover margin.

In 1997, Kuligowski coached first team All-MAC lineman Jason Richards, who signed with the NFL's Tennessee Titans.

Kuligowski was a four-year standout at Toledo (1987-90) as an offensive tackle. He was named first team All-MAC two straight years and helped lead UT to the MAC title his senior year. He was an integral part of the 1990 offense that turned in totals of 135 rushing first downs, 2,474 rushing yards and 4,335 total yards, all top five marks in Toledo history.

Kuligowski earned a bachelor of business administration degree from Toledo in 1991. He and his wife Mary have two daughters: Peyton and Madeline, and son Max, who was born in March of 2005.

Barry Odom

Safeties
Ninth Year at Mizzou
Maysville, Okla.
Missouri, 1999

In his ninth year on staff at Mizzou is former Tiger standout linebacker Barry Odom. After serving for six seasons in various administrative roles, the former high school head coach took the opportunity to get back into the coaching side in February of 2009, when he was named the Tigers' new safeties coach by Head Coach Gary Pinkel.

A valuable part of the football program's operations since 2003, Odom showed his versatility when he jumped into recruiting responsibilities in December of 2008 to fill the void when former Tiger assistant Dave Christensen left to become head coach at the University of Wyoming just after MU's 2008 Alamo Bowl victory. Odom's hard work and personable nature helped secure the signings of several in-state standouts, as well as getting a late commitment from Louisiana's L'Damian Washington. He's also been the lead recruiter on a handful of signees with MU's 2010 recruiting class which was ranked 21st nationally by Rivals.com – marking the highest-ranked class in Tiger history.

Under his guidance, senior strong safety Kenji Jackson has developed into an unquestioned leader of the Tiger defense in 2011. Jackson ranked 4th on the team with a career-best 71 tackles, and he also led the Tigers with three interceptions on his way to earning honorable mention All-Big 12 honors.

The 2010 season saw the Tiger defense emerge as one of the most improved in the nation, as well as one of the top overall units in the Big 12 Conference. Despite playing against high-scoring Big 12 offenses each week, the Tigers led the Big 12 and ranked 6th nationally in scoring defense, allowing just 16.08 points per game. Additionally, thanks to the play of his safeties, Mizzou ranked 11th nationally in pass efficiency defense, holding opposing quarterbacks to a rating of just 108.45.

Senior Jarrell Harrison emerged as a solid playmaker in 2010 under Odom's direction, and he closed the year by being named an honorable mention All-Big 12 performer.

In his first year on the coaching staff, Odom oversaw the rapid development in first-year junior college transfer Jasper Simmons into an instant impact player. Simmons earned honorable mention All-Big 12 status for his play in 2009, as he also received votes for the Big 12 Defensive Newcomer of the Year. Simmons ended his season ranking fourth on the team with 73 tackles, and added two forced fumbles, one recovered fumble and an interception which helped seal Mizzou's win against Big 12 North rival Iowa State.

Odom made the jump to the collegiate ranks in 2002 after spending three seasons at the high school level, including a very successful two-year stint as head coach at Columbia's Rock Bridge High School.

The 2008 season was Odom's second as Director of Football Operations, after handling the duties of Director of Football Recruiting for the previous two seasons. Prior to the 2007 season, he added assistant athletic director to his title. Some of the many duties he performed in that role included overseeing the coordination of the team's travel plans, oversight of the football budget, handling compliance issues, scheduling of facilities, assisting with recruiting operations and managing the day-to-day overall operations for the football program.

Odom also coordinated all public relations activities and community service events that required the presence of football student-athletes, and oversaw all organizational aspects from a football perspective related to Mizzou's 2007 Cotton Bowl and 2008 Alamo Bowl trips.

Section 4_Coaches bios.indd 155 12/9/2011 8:39:29 AM

He also served a key role as part of the design and planning team for MU's $16 million expansion and renovation project of the Mizzou Athletics Training Complex which is the state-of-the-art day-to-day home for the Tiger football program.

Odom, a native of Maysville, Okla. who graduated from Ada High School, was a four-year letterman at linebacker for Mizzou from 1996-99. He was a key player on MU squads that went to bowl games in 1997 and 1998, and he ended his career ranked 5th on the school's career tackles list, with 362 stops.

Odom graduated from MU in December of 1999, and served as a development intern for the Tiger Scholarship Fund, assisting with various fund raising projects for Tiger Athletics while earning his Master's in education from MU. He returned to his home state of Oklahoma in July of 2000 to serve as an assistant coach for Ada High School, which finished that season as runners-up for a state championship.

Odom returned to Columbia in the spring of 2001 as head coach of Rock Bridge High School, and he quickly built the Bruins into a power, as they went 6-4 and won a conference championship that fall. He followed with an 8-4 campaign in 2002 that saw Rock Bridge reach the semifinals of the state championship playoffs.

Born Nov. 26, 1976 in Lawton, Okla., Odom and his wife, Tritia, were married in July of 2000. Tritia is a native of Kahoka, Mo., and is a graduate of MU's College of Human Environmental Sciences. The couple has two sons – James Trump Odom and Garyt Robert.

Bruce Walker

Co-Offensive Line
11th Year at Mizzou
East Wenatchee, Wash.
C. Washington, 1983

Bruce Walker made a move in 2009 to serve as co-offensive line coach, a position he had assisted with for the previous 13 seasons under Gary Pinkel, while also being in charge of the tight ends. He made a name for himself one of the top tight ends coaches in the nation the past several years, as he helped develop Martin Rucker and Chase Coffman into two of the most accomplished players in the nation. Each won consensus 1st-Team All-American honors in 2007 (Rucker) and 2008 (Coffman), and Coffman capped his record-breaking career by winning the John Mackey Tight End Award, given annually to the nation's top player at that position. Coffman became the first Tiger in history to win a national individual honor that is specific to a position group.

In Walker's first year as co-offensive coach in 2009, his group excelled at protecting first-year starting quarterback Blaine Gabbert. Thanks to the line's work, Mizzou ranked 14th in the nation in passing while allowing only 20 sacks in 13 games. Three of Walker's linemen – senior Kurtis Gregory (2nd-Team), and sophomores Elvis Fisher (Hon. Men.) and Dan Hoch (Hon. Men.) – all earned Big 12 award status. Gregory eventually earned an invitation to the NFL Combine for his stellar play.

It was more of the same from Walker's group in 2010, as the Tiger offensive line helped pave the way for an attack that ranked 35th in the nation, averaging 409.62 yards per game as Mizzou won 10 games for only the fourth time in school history. Four of Walker's starting five on the line earned some level of all-conference honors, including senior center Tim Barnes (1st-Team), junior tackle Dan Hoch (2nd-Team), junior tackle Elvis Fisher (Hon. Men.) and junior guard Austin Wuebbels (Hon. Men.).

In 2011, the Tiger offensive line – despite the pre-season loss of All-Big 12 left tackle Elvis Fisher to a season-ending injury – developed into a stout unit that paved the way for a Big 12 team rushing title in 2011. The Tigers ranked 11th nationally, and led the Big 12 in rushing (235.67 avg.) and also ranked 13th nationally in total offense (472.42 avg.), despite featuring a first-year starter at quarterback.

From 2004-08, Walker had the luxury of working with the best pair of tight ends in the nation, in Martin Rucker and Chase Coffman. Rucker culminated his outstanding Tiger career with an award-winning season in 2007, as he was a consensus 1st-Team All-American, becoming MU's first All-American tight end since the great Kellen Winslow in 1978. Rucker caught an MU-record 84 passes in 2007 for 834 yards and 8 touchdowns, while also being a finalist for the John Mackey Tight End Award. Rucker was selected in the fourth round of the 2008 NFL Draft by the Cleveland Browns.

Coffman caught 90 passes for 987 yards and 10 touchdowns in 2008, despite missing two games due to injury, and he ended his career with school records of 247 receptions and 30 touchdowns, to go with the 2nd-most receiving yardage in MU history (2,659). He was a third-round NFL Draft pick in 2009 by the Cincinnati Bengals.

Each player won 1st-Team All-Big 12 honors in 2006 (Rucker from coaches, Coffman from media), and Coffman was a semi-finalist for the John Mackey Award. The duo combined to catch 111 passes for 1,149 yards and 14 touchdowns in 2006.

In 2005, Rucker earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors after leading MU with 47 catches for 567 yards and 1 TD, with his catches ranking 1st among Big 12 tight ends in 2005, and 2nd-most in MU single-season history for the position. Coffman, despite being a true freshman, was nothing but impressive from day one in fall camp, as he tied Rucker with 47 catches for 503 yards and 4 TDs. Those numbers ranked at the time as the 3rd-best single-season performance in MU tight end history, and earned the rookie a spot on the Rivals.com Freshman All-American 1st-Team.

Section 4_Coaches bios.indd 157 12/9/2011 8:39:30 AM

In 2004, the tight ends were instrumental in MU's passing attack, with the primary weapons being senior Victor Sesay and redshirt freshman Martin Rucker. The duo combined for 50 catches, 577 yards and 6 touchdowns on the season. Rucker earned 2nd-Team Freshman All-American honors for his standout rookie year that saw him grab 19 balls for 263 yards and 4 TDs, the latter of which was the 2nd-best total on the squad. Sesay signed a free agent contract following the 2005 NFL Draft with the Miami Dolphins.

In 2001, Missouri tight ends combined for 50 receptions, 484 yards and eight touchdowns. Dwayne Blakley was tabbed honorable mention All-Big 12 after pulling in 34 receptions for 362 yards and four touchdowns. He went on to sign a free agent contract with the NFL's Kansas City Chiefs, and currently plays with the Atlanta Falcons, having started multiple games during the 2007 season.

Walker has successfully recruited some of the best high school players out of the state of Texas while at Mizzou. Walker signed highly-regarded all-state defensive end Brian Smith (Denton) in 2002 and all-state wide receiver Thomson Omboga (Grand Prairie) in 2001. Smith went on to become Mizzou's alltime career quarterback sacks leader and was drafted by the NFL's Jacksonville Jaguars. Walker also inked safety Justin Garrett, who was a productive multi-year starter for the Tigers, and more recently signed Jacquies Smith of Dallas, who made big impressions while earning significant playing time in 2008 as a true freshman defensive end. His recruiting bounty of several stars in 2010 helped the Tiger recruiting class garner a national ranking of 21st-best in the nation – the highest a Tiger class has ever been ranked.

While at Toledo, Walker coached two of the best tight ends to ever wear a Rockets' uniform. From 1998-2000, Walker coached All-MAC tight end Mike Bilik, who finished his career with 75 receptions. He also coached Lyle Green, who was voted the team's most valuable receiver in 1999 and a co-captain in 2000. Green was the third overall pick in the 2001 CFL Draft. During the 2000 season, the Rocket tight ends combined for 59 catches and six touchdowns.

In 1993, behind Walker's offensive line, the Central Washington led all NAIA schools in total offense, averaging 517 yards per game. CWU also ranked first in the NAIA in rushing, averaging 198.5 yards per game. In 1995, the Wildcats earned a share of the NAIA national title, tying Findlay (OH) in the title game.

The quarterback of that team, Jon Kitna, finished his career with 12,907 yards in total offense and 12,353 passing yards, the best and second-best, respectively, in NAIA Division II history.

Walker graduated from Eastmont High School in East Wenatchee, Wash., where he earned All-Mid Valley League honors at linebacker and center. He played two seasons at Yakima Valley College before Central Washington.

A 1983 graduate of CWU, where he earned a bachelor of science degree in business administration, Walker was a two-year starter for the Wildcats at center. He earned a Master of Science degree in physical education in 1989.

Walker and wife, Sharryn, are the parents of Natalie and Maggie.

Nick Otterbacher

Director of Football Recruiting
Eighth Year at Mizzou
Tampa, Fla.
Toledo, 2002

In his eighth year as part of the Tiger coaching staff – and fifth in his title of director of football recruiting – is Nick Otterbacher. He assumed those duties after serving as an offensive graduate assistant coach for the 2006 season, when he helped coach a Tiger offense that broke numerous school records and ranked eighth in the nation in total offense (425.62 yards per game).

In his current role, Otterbacher oversees organizational efforts of virtually all aspects of MU's extensive recruiting program operations, such as coordinating on-and-off campus visits, mailings and other logistical arrangements. Mizzou's 2010 recruiting class was ranked 21st-best in the nation according to Rivals.com, which marked the highest-ever ranking for a Tiger class of recruits. The 2009 class was another highly-regarding group of athletes that Otterbacher helped assemble for the program.

Otterbacher served as an offensive graduate assistant coach for the 2005 and 2006 seasons, after serving on staff as an administrative graduate assistant in 2004.

A native of Tampa, Fla., Otterbacher was a four-year starter at center for the University of Toledo, where he played under Tiger Head Coach Gary Pinkel through the 2000 season. In his four-year playing career, Otterbacher was part of Toledo teams that went a combined 34-13 from 1998-2001, and won or shared three Mid-American Athletic Conference championships, while playing in the Motor City Bowl in 2001.

After graduating from Toledo with a degree in business management in May of 2002, Otterbacher got his start in coaching at Duquesne University, where he served as the tight ends and assistant offensive line coach for the 2002 season which saw Duquesne post an 11-1 record and claim the Metro Atlantic Conference championship.

He then went to West Virginia Tech as an assistant coach, and was the offensive line coach and run game coordinator and recruiting coordinator for the 2003 season, prior to joining the Mizzou staff in July of 2004.

He and his wife, Jessica, have a daughter, Reagan, and a son, Kaine Charles Cotton Otterbacher, who was born in Dallas, Texas, the week of MU's 2008 Cotton Bowl victory over Arkansas.

Dan Hopkins

Director of Football Operations
Fifth Year at Mizzou
Harrisonville, Mo.
Missouri, 2004

Dan Hopkins, a 2004 University of Missouri graduate, is in his third season as Director of Football Operations, after being promoted to that post prior to the 2009 season. Previously, he spent two years as the Tiger Football staff's administrative graduate assistant.

In his current role, Hopkins is involved in a wide variety of important administrative duties that involve the Tiger program.

Some of his many duties include overseeing the coordination of the team's travel plans, oversight of the football budget, handling compliance issues, scheduling of facilities, assisting with recruiting operations and managing the day-to-day overall operations for the football program. He was also a lead figure in planning and executing the Tigers' trips to Houston, Texas for the 2009 Texas Bowl and last winter to the Phoenix, Ariz. area for the 2010 Insight Bowl.

Hopkins also is responsible for coordinating all public relations activities and community service events that require the presence of football student-athletes.

The Harrisonville, Mo. native made a return to his alma mater prior to the 2007 season as a graduate assistant coach, where he assisted the Tiger coaching staff with various recruiting administrative duties throughout the year, as well as lending a hand with scouting and game preparation efforts during the season.

A 2004 graduate of the Missouri School of Journalism, Hopkins served as a student assistant coach for the Mizzou Football team for the 2003 and 2004 seasons. Following his graduation, he served as quarterbacks and wide receivers coach at William Jewell College for two seasons, before moving to Central Missouri State University, where he was the defensive graduate assistant coach for the 2006 season.

Hopkins is currently pursuing his Master's degree in health education and promotion at Mizzou.

Kathryn Lucchesi

Director of Football Multimedia
Springfield, Ill.
Missouri, 2009

Kathryn Lucchesi is in her third football season overall, and her first at a newly created position - Director of Football Multimedia. She took up this new title after spending two very successful seasons as the program's Multimedia Graduate Assistant, where she helped increase the reach and profile of Mizzou Football in various social media platforms.

You can usually find Lucchesi on the sideline of football games and practices shooting highlights. She shoots and edits numerous videos and photos for the team's popluar web site and blog, WeAreMizzou.com. She also assists the Tiger coaching staff with various recruiting duties throughout the year.

A graduate of the Missouri School of Journalism, with an emphasis in Broadcasting, Lucchesi joined the Mizzou staff in the fall of 2009 as a graduate assistant, where she helped the program grow in the social media world.

Before working with the athletic department, Lucchesi was a reporter and anchor at KOMU-TV8 in Columbia. She began as a news reporter, but focused her stories on sports during her last year at the television station, and she contributed heavily to the This Week In Mizzou Football television show throughout the season.

MISSOURI 17, MIAMI (OHIO) 6

James Franklin's gut reaction: He flunked his first career start.

Franklin was 17 for 26 for 129 yards. That was often a half-game under the three quarterbacks who preceded him at Missouri - Blaine Gabbert, Chase Daniel and Brad Smith - all of whom are in the NFL. Coach Gary Pinkel noted that Franklin made some nice throws in the second half, and said there was plenty of room for improvement.

E.J. Gaines had an end zone interception for the Tigers, who whipped the RedHawks by 38 points in their final pre-Big 12 tuneup last season but had their struggles on both sides of the ball in 90-degree heat. Three of their first four possessions ended quickly with punts for an offense that averaged 30 points last season, and Miami moved the ball with some success.

Gaines' pickoff halted a 67-yard drive near the end of the first half with Missouri up 10-0.

Missouri hurt itself with 81 yards on nine penalties, and has a short week ahead with the next game Friday night at Arizona State.

Miami recovered from a 51-13 spanking at Missouri last fall to win the Mid-American Conference, and entered the opener with a six-game winning streak. The RedHawks gave Missouri a scare, trailing 10-6 after Erik Finklea's 10-yard run late in the third quarter.

Missouri, which had been around a 20-point favorite, answered on the first play of the fourth quarter. Marcus Lucas' 10-yard catch was his first college touchdown and in his first start as the fill-in for injured Jerrell Jackson.

Dayonne Nunley's interception and 5-yard return of Franklin's overthrown pass gave Miami possession at the Missouri 19 and set up Finklea's score.

Down by 11, Miami ran out of downs at the Missouri 30 midway through the fourth quarter. Dominique Hamilton recovered quarterback Dysert's fumble with 1:49 left.

Two Missouri defensive players left with injuries. Linebacker Will Ebner sustained a high left ankle sprain in the first quarter, which could sideline him for a month, and end Jacquies Smith has a dislocated left elbow that'll keep him out for at least one game.

Franklin's 5-yard run up the middle capped a 76-yard drive late in the first quarter.

The RedHawks struggled on the kicking game, with Mason Krysinski wide left on a 41-yard field goal attempt in the first half and the extra point kick partially blocked after Finklea's score. It was the first game for Krysinski, a sophomore.

GAME NO. 2
ARIZONA STATE 37, MISSOURI 30 (OT)

Brock Osweiler hit Jamal Miles on an 11-yard touchdown pass in overtime and Arizona State made a big early season statement with a wild 37-30 victory over No. 21 Missouri on Friday night.

Arizona State (2-0), playing in front of a “Black Out” crowd at Sun Devil Stadium, built a 30-16 lead behind Osweiler’s 353 yards and three touchdowns passing, and another score rushing.

Missouri (1-1) charged back in the fourth quarter behind James Franklin, who hit L’Damian Washington on a 25-yard touchdown pass and tied it on 3-yard TD pass to Michael Egnew with 2:50 left.

Missouri’s Grant Ressel missed a 48-yard field goal with 12 seconds left in regulation, then Osweiler opened overtime with the TD pass to Miles, his second of the game.

Missouri’s final chance ended when Franklin’s pass on fourth down fell harmlessly in the end zone, ending a back-and-forth game that included 23 penalties for 224 yards.

Aaron Pflugrad had eight catches for 180 yards and a pair of touchdowns-- the second on a trick play from Miles--and Arizona State had 492 yards to end a 10-game losing streak against ranked opponents.

Franklin threw for 319 yards and two touchdowns, and ran for 84 yards and another score. Missouri had 501 total yards, but converted just three of 15 third-down chances to see its 22-game winning streak in regular-season nonconference games come to an end.

Both teams came in looking to make a statement against a big-time program after opening against smaller schools.

Osweiler was sharp from the opening drive, squeezing a 12-yard touchdown pass between two defenders to Miles, who was pinballed but still held on.

Arizona State had to settle for Alex Garoutte’s 47-yard field goal after a fourth-down conversion was wiped out by a penalty early in the second quarter, but Osweiler answered Missouri’s first touchdown with a 60-yard scoring pass to Pflugrad on the next play.

Osweiler had the hockey assist on back pass to Miles, who hit Pflugrad for a 35-yard touchdown pass, then took it in himself for a rumbling 12-yard touchdown run up the middle that put ASU up 30-16. Osweiler finished 24-for-32.

Franklin matched Osweiler with his arm and legs.

He had a 2-yard touchdown run in the second quarter, set up three field goals Ressel and opened the fourth quarter with a 25-yard TD pass to Washington that got the Tigers within 30-23 early in the fourth quarter.

Franklin followed with the 3-yard touchdown pass to Egnew, tying it at 30-all with 2:50 left, and had the Tigers moving again, but Ressel missed the final chance in regulation. Franklin’s last-ditch attempt on fourth down in overtime fell in the corner of the endzone when he receiver cut inside. He finished 26 for 42.

MISSOURI 69, WESTERN ILLINOIS 0

Henry Josey rushed for three touchdowns and 263 yards while James Franklin threw for three scores as Missouri overwhelmed Western Illinois 69-0 on Saturday.

Missouri (2-1) set a school record with 744 yards of offense and tied a school record for most points scored while holding Western Illinois (1-2) to just one first down and 44 total yards. That outburst broke the previous record of 665 yards against Kansas in 1949.

The Tigers built a 42-0 halftime lead against the overmatched Leathernecks of the Football Championship Subdivision. Josey scored on rushes of 6, 21 and 68 yards, breaking his career high of 112 yards in the first quarter. He didn't play in the second half, missing a chance to top Devin West's school-record 319 yards against Kansas in 1998.

Wes Kemp caught two TDs for Missouri, and backup QB Jimmy Costello threw his first career touchdown in fourth-quarter mop-up duty.

Western Illinois quarterback Josh Hudson was just 4 for 15 for 20 yards with one interception for the Missouri Valley Conference school. He was sacked four times and harassed all night by a Missouri defense that only had one sack in an overtime road loss last week against Arizona State.

Bryce Flowers led Western Illinois with 28 yards rushing on 14 carries. He replaced starter Caulton Ray, who was suspended before the game for an unspecified violation of team rules. First-string left tackle Enock Presendieu was also suspended.

Franklin was 18 for 25 for 246 yards for Missouri, playing just two series in the second half before coach Gary Pinkel summoned Costello and later Ashton Glaser. Franklin threw touchdowns of 10 and 37 yards to Kemp and 30 yards to T.J. Moe.

Jared Culver had 11 carries for 86 yards and one touchdown in relief of Josey, with Greg White adding 10 carries for 36 yards. Josey carried the ball just 14 times, an average of nearly 19 yards per carry. He started his first game of the season after injuries to De'Vion Moore and Kendial Lawrence.

Missouri's 69 points matched a mark set against Kansas in 1969 and tied against Nevada in 2008. The Tigers' 69-point victory margin topped the previous record of 60 points versus Centre (Ky.) 83 years ago.

GAME NO. 4
OKLAHOMA 38, MISSOURI 28

After leading the Sooners at the end of the first quarter, the Tigers fell to top-ranked Oklahoma 38-28 on Saturday night.

The Tigers (2-2, 0-1 Big 12) pounced early to take a 14-3 first-quarter lead, breaking a streak of 20 straight home games in which Oklahoma (3-0, 1-0) never trailed. It didn't last long, though.

The Sooners roared back with 28 straight points to avenge a loss in Columbia last year when they were first in the BCS standings and move their home winning streak to 38 straight games.

Oklahoma's Landry Jones threw for 448 yards and three touchdowns to Ryan Broyles. With two starting receivers out of the lineup, Broyles had to play up to his usual All-American standard without proven sidekicks. Kenny Stills, who caught the go-ahead touchdown in a win at then-No. 5 Florida State last week, was out with a head injury and Trey Franks is suspended indefinitely.

Henry Josey took an option pitch and raced 47 yards down the left sideline for a score to make it 31-21 with 6:44 left in the game, and it could have been even closer if not for a pair of missed 46-yard field goals by Grant Ressel.

The Sooners eliminated any drama by answering immediately with a 62-yard scoring drive, capped by Broyles' twisting 4-yard grab in the back of the end zone. Broyles finished with 13 receptions for 154 yards, helping Jones to his fifth career 400-yard passing game.

Broyles, who had 110 yards receiving despite playing with two injured ankles in last year's game, did much of the damage.

He got Oklahoma's rally started by scoring from 25 yards out on a throw that initially went through his arms. Broyles was able to cradle it along his leg and then secure it long enough before falling out of bounds that the touchdown call was upheld on review.

He followed that three drives later with a 4-yard TD catch in the right side of the end zone, and the Sooners never looked back.

Dominique Whaley added 150 total yards--82 on five catches and 68 on 16 rushes--and Jaz Reynolds contributed a career-high 93 yards receiving on five catches.

James Franklin scored on a 1-yard sneak and found L'Damian Washington open with a seam up the middle for a 45-yard touchdown pass to stake Missouri to an 14-3 lead. Only Texas Tech in 2006 had a larger lead at Oklahoma during its home winning streak, and Baylor had been the only opponent to hold a lead in Norman since Mizzou led by one in the fourth quarter in its last visit in 2007.

But after completing his first five passes, Franklin--the son of former Sooners tight end Willie Franklin--misfired on 15 of his next 19 attempts and finished with 291 yards on 16 for 33. He also had another 1-yard TD sneak with 32 seconds left to provide the final margin.

Michael Egnew, the Tigers' All-American tight end, didn't make his first catch until his team was down 17 in the fourth quarter. He ended up with two catches for 40 yards.

GAME NO. 5
KANSAS STATE 24, MISSOURI 17

Collin Klein had three touchdowns rushing Saturday, John Hubert added 126 yards on the ground and the Wildcats' defense made enough plays to prevent a late comeback by the Tigers. The result was a 24-17 victory and K-State's first 5-0 start since 2000.

James Franklin had 214 yards passing to lead the Tigers (2-3), who came into the game averaging more than 500 yards of total offense. They only managed 326 against the Wildcats, most of that coming on a pair of long touchdown drives in the fourth quarter.

The first was a 79-yard drive that Henry Josey finished with a 2-yard run to get the Tigers within 24-10. The Wildcats promptly went three-and-out, and Franklin led Missouri on a 74-yard drive that he finished off with a plunge from a yard out with 5:02 left in the game.

Missouri never got another chance with the ball.

Kansas State's defense set the tone on the first offensive play.

Franklin dropped back to pass, looked over the middle and threw right to Wildcat defensive back Ty Zimmerman, who had deftly stepped in front of the intended receiver. The interception ended a stretch of 108 consecutive passes without throwing a pick for the sophomore quarterback.

It took Kansas State six plays to punch it into the end zone.

Franklin was sacked for a 13-yard loss on Missouri's ensuing possession, and the Wildcats went 51 yards in 12 plays before Anthony Cantele's field goal made it 10-0.

By the time the first quarter drew to a close, the Tigers had exactly zero yards of total offense - 20 yards through the air and minus-20 on the ground.

Josey finally got things rolling for Missouri in the second quarter, using his quick feet to spring for a couple of long runs. But a false start inside the 10-yard line on second down pushed the Tigers back and they had to settle for Grant Ressel's 32-yard field goal.

Ressel had a chance to get Missouri within 10-6 at the break, but he pushed a 43-yard attempt wide right on the final play of the half as rain started to fall.

The Wildcats' only big mistake all game happened early in the third quarter, when Klein was picked off by Kip Edwards. But their defense held and Ressel's 36-yard field goal attempt was wide left.

Missouri cost itself later in the quarter when Darvin Ruise was called for roughing the punter, giving Kansas State the ball back. Hubert went to work, doing his best Darren Sproles imitation after taking a handoff, spinning away from a defender and going all the way down to the 3.

Klein scored seconds later for a 17-3 lead.

He added a short scoring plunge on the Wildcats' next possession, and although Missouri managed to make the game close with a couple late touchdowns, the lead was too much to overcome.

GAME NO. 6
MISSOURI 52, IOWA STATE 17

James Franklin accounted for five touchdowns and Henry Josey had 129 yards rushing and a score as Missouri routed Iowa State 52-17 in its 100th homecoming game on Saturday.

Michael Egnew, T.J. Moe and Wes Kemp each had a scoring reception for Missouri (3-3, 1-2 Big 12), which scored on its first four possessions. Much of a sellout crowd of 71,004 had dispersed by the end of the Tigers' 10th straight victory at home, and their first game at Faurot Field in a month.

It was the most lopsided setback of the year for Iowa State (3-3, 0-3). A.J. Klein's 78-yard interception return for a touchdown was the lone highlight for the Cyclones, who have been outscored 54-10 in the first quarter.

Iowa State's James White was held to 61 yards on 14 carries a week after getting a career-best 148 yards against Baylor.

White had 10 yards on 10 carries in the first three quarters.

Missouri had no penalty yardage in its fifth straight victory in the series. Linebacker Luke Lambert had two fumble recoveries.

After scoring on the first four drives for a 28-3 cushion, the Tigers turned it over in the passing game the next three times but were hurt only by Klein's third career touchdown. The Tigers had 298 yards rushing one week after managing just 112 yards in a loss at No. 17 Kansas State.

Missouri defensive tackle Terrell Resonno injured his right knee in the first half and did not return. The 295-pound senior has started all 14 games the last two seasons and had 15 tackles and a sack in the first five games.

Franklin was 20 for 28 for 289 yards and three touchdowns and rushed for 84 yards on 11 carries with two touchdowns. Josey had 129 yards on 19 carries for his third 100-yard game of the year and scored in the fifth straight game.

Missouri opened the game with 10 straight runs, including Franklin's 1-yard sneak with 12:03 to go in the first quarter for its fastest first touchdown of the year. The Tigers' second score came quickly, too, after Steele Jantz fumbled on an option run and Lambert recovered at the Iowa State 38, setting up a 2-yard run by Josey.

Egnew had six catches for 105 yards. He split the defense and had an easy route to the end zone the last 20 yards on a 39-yard catch, the longest of the tight end's career, to make it 21-3 late in the first.

The Cyclones lost by 23 points in each of their first two Big 12 games.

GAME NO. 7
OKLAHOMA STATE 45, MISSOURI 24

Joseph Randle scored four touchdowns, two on runs that capitalized on big defensive plays by Shaun Lewis, as No. 6 Oklahoma State remained unbeaten and ended Missouri's 10-game home winning streak with a 45-24 victory on Saturday.

Henry Josey had 138 yards on 25 carries and T.J. Moe had six catches for 103 yards and a score for Missouri (3-4, 1-3).

Randle had 138 yards on 14 carries and scored on runs of 16, 59 and 12 yards. He also caught a 13-yard touchdown pass in the second quarter.

Brandon Weeden had three touchdown passes after the opening snap of the second quarter. Lewis' interception and fumble recovery helped the Cowboys (7-0, 4-0 Big 12) pull away despite injuries to both starting wide receivers.

The Tigers had a strong second quarter, scoring on an 18-yard run by Kendial Lawrence and Moe's 34-yard catch from James Franklin to cut the deficit to seven, before being undone by mistakes. Franklin threw two interceptions and lost a fumble at the Oklahoma State 4, all in the second half.

Lewis intercepted a tipped pass at the Missouri 27 and three plays later Randle scored on a 16-yard run for a two-touchdown cushion midway through the third quarter.

Missouri appeared to regain momentum when E.J. Gaines intercepted Weeden in the end zone and returned it 54 yards, also ending Weeden's string of 194 consecutive passes without a pick. Franklin's lost fumble gave the Cowboys possession at the 12, and again they needed just three plays to respond with Randle's 59-yard jaunt making it 38-17.

Weeden was 33 for 49 for 338 yards after a sizzling start. The 28-year-old senior was 19 for 25 for 214 yards in the first quarter, with all six incompletions on drops.
Michael Harrison was wide open on a 27-yard catch and Blackmon caught an 8-yarder for his 28th receiving touchdown in 19 games. On the first play of the second quarter, Oklahoma State went up 21-3 on Weeden's 13-yard TD pass to Randle.

A trick play produced Missouri's best play of the quarter, with Franklin throwing a lateral pass to Moe and then getting it back for a 31-yard gain to the 13. But the Tigers stalled, settling for a short field goal by Grant Ressel.

GAME NO. 8
MISSOURI 38, TEXAS A&M 31 (OT)

Missouri quarterback James Franklin didn't have a great game last week, with four turnovers in the second half a loss to No. 3 Oklahoma State.

He made up for it on Saturday, throwing two touchdown passes, including the game-winner in overtime, and running for two more scores to lead the Tigers to a 38-31 win over No. 16 Texas A&M.

The winning score came on an 11-yard throw to Marcus Lucas.

Texas A&M got the ball after the score, but Ryan Tannehill's pass on fourth down was deflected.

The Tigers had a chance to win it in regulation, but a 46-yard field goal attempt sailed wide right as time expired.

Missouri (4-4, 2-3 Big 12) got the ball when Jacquies Smith caused a fumble by Tannehill, which was recovered by Dominique Hamilton.

The Aggies led by 11 at halftime, but Missouri took a 31-28 lead on an 11-yard run by Henry Josey with about eight minutes left. Texas A&M (5-3, 3-2) tied it on a 35-yard field goal about four minutes later.

Franklin threw for 198 yards and ran for 97 yards. Josey, the Big 12's leading rusher, had 20 carries for 162 yards. It was the fifth 100-yard game for Josey and his second in a row.

Missouri took its first lead of the second half on the 11-yard touchdown run by Josey. To get that drive going, Josey bounced to the outside and dashed down the sideline for 43 yards before being dragged down from behind.

The Tigers went for it on fourth-and-1 from the Texas A&M 43 early in the fourth quarter and Franklin's run was short. Missouri made up for it when Tannehill was hit as he threw a pass which was intercepted by Randy Ponder. Ponder returned it 45 yards and Franklin cut A&M's lead to 28-24 when he scored on an 8-yard run three plays later.

Tannehill threw for three touchdowns in the first half, but the Aggies managed only a field goal after that to lose their third game this season after leading by double digits at halftime.

Tannehill hit Cyrus Gray on a short pass and he ran into the corner of the end zone for a 12-yard touchdown to tie the game at 14 early in the second quarter. Missouri's offense stalled on the next drive and they had to punt. The punt was shanked and it went just 22 yards, giving A&M the ball at the Missouri 41.

The Aggies took advantage of the short field when Tannehill found Swope for a 6-yard touchdown pass take a 21-14 lead in the second quarter.

Texas A&M pushed its advantage to 28-14 when Tannehill scored on a 3-yard touchdown run with about three minutes left in the second quarter.

The Tigers had a first down from the Texas A&M 11 late in the second quarter, but the offense stalled and they settled for a 26-yard field goal to make it 28-17 at halftime.

Franklin broke four tackles on a nifty 20-yard run on third-and-1 to give Missouri a 7-0 lead on the team's second drive of the game.

GAME NO. 9
BAYLOR 42, MISSOURI 39

Robert Griffin III threw for 406 yards and three touchdowns and ran for another, and Terrance Ganaway ran for touchdowns of 38 and 80 yards, leading Baylor to a 42-39 victory over Missouri on Saturday night.

Baylor set a school record by gaining 697 yards. Griffin, a dazzling dual-threat quarterback, cracked 400 yards passing for the third straight game; this time was more meaningful as the last two games were lopsided losses.

The Bears (5-3, 2-3 Big 12) improved to 5-0 at home and are one win from being bowl eligible for a second straight season. They haven't been to bowls in consecutive seasons since 1991-92.

A week after overcoming an 11-point, fourth-quarter deficit at nearby Texas A&M, Missouri could only come close to wiping out a 14-point, fourth-quarter deficit. The Tigers (4-5, 2-4) scored 25 points in the final period, but were thwarted when Baylor recovered an onside kick with 1:59 left.

Perhaps days from joining the Southeastern Conference, Missouri didn't have the kind of stingy defense it's going to need to compete in that league. The Tigers wasted leads of 7-0 and 14-7, then let a 14-13 halftime advantage turn into a 28-14 deficit. Their fourth-quarter offensive surge was undermined by allowing a 68-yard touchdown pass and Ganaway's 80-yard TD run.

Baylor went ahead on its first drive of the second half, with Griffin throwing a 28-yard touchdown pass, then running in for the two-point conversion. Ganaway stretched the lead with his 38-yard touchdown following a fumble by Missouri.

The Tigers got within 35-25 midway through the fourth quarter, but on the Bears' next snap, Ganaway broke loose down the right sideline for his 80-yarder. Missouri followed with another touchdown, but there wasn't enough time left for the Tigers to pull off another late rally in central Texas.

Griffin - who came in as the second-most accurate quarterback in the nation, and third in total offense - was 27 of 41. His best pass was a heave that hit Tevin Reese in stride for the 68-yard TD. He also ran 18 times for 64 yards.

Ganaway had 186 yards on just 12 carries.

Missouri's Henry Josey, who came in leading the Big 12 in rushing, ran for 132 yards and two touchdowns. It was his fourth straight game with at least 129 yards. Fellow sophomore James Franklin was 33 of 46 for 325 yards and a touchdown, and he ran 16 times for 57 yards.

The game got off to a bit of an odd start, with each team's first possession ending with a 9-yard punt. Only Missouri's was into the wind. Kicking was a problem all game for the Bears, as they had a point-after blocked and missed field goals of 27 and 54 yards.

GAME NO. 10
MISSOURI 17, TEXAS 5

In the final Big 12 meeting, Gary Pinkel got the best of Texas.

Missouri's coach didn't seem all that euphoric about ending the school's six-game losing streak in the series and knocking off the only conference school he hadn't beaten heading into next year's move to the SEC.

The Tigers likely lost the conference's leading rusher for the rest of the year.

Kendial Lawrence topped 100 yards with a touchdown in relief of Henry Josey and a defense burned for 697 yards at Baylor a week earlier kept No. 21 Texas out of the end zone for the first time since 2004. Missouri won for only the second time in the last 17 times in the series.

Pinkel said Josey was undergoing an MRI exam but didn't expect positive news. Coming off four straight games with 125 or more rushing yards, Josey was held to 19 yards on 11 carries.

Before Josey was carted off in the third quarter Brown came across the field to check on the sophomore from Angleton, Texas. Josey also missed the last nine minutes of the first half after an apparent helmet-to-helmet hit.

Missouri upset a ranked team for the second time this season after beating Texas A&M on Oct. 29. The Tigers finish against Texas Tech, whipped 66-6 by Oklahoma State on Saturday, and Kansas in search of a seventh straight bowl bid.

James Franklin completed his first 10 passes and ran for a 2-yard score for the Tigers (5-5, 3-4), who beat Texas for the first time since 1997. Lawrence had 106 yards on 18 carries with a 35-yard score in the second quarter.

Texas (6-3, 3-3) entered with injury concerns at running back and was held to 76 yards rushing in only its third road game of the year. Missouri allowed only a chip-shot field goal for the game's first score and a safety off a blocked punt in the third quarter.

The previous two weeks at home, Texas whipped Kansas and Texas Tech by a combined 95-20 and topped 400 yards rushing in both games. Leading rusher Malcolm Brown (toe) and Joe Bergeron (hamstring) got no carries and the depth chart got leaner after Fozzy Whitaker left with an apparent right knee injury while making a cut in the first quarter.

Lawrence, who won the tailback job in fall drills but was shelved for three games early in the season by a broken fibula, stepped up with 79 yards on eight carries and a TD before intermission.

Missouri controlled play in the half even after fumbling away a scoring chance on its first drive when Emmnauel Acho stripped L'Damian Washington after a reception and Texas recovered at its own 12.

Franklin scored his 11th rushing touchdown on a 2-yard keeper to put Missouri ahead and Lawrence's 35-yard run made it 14-3 with 4:43 to go in the half.

Thanks to the defense, Missouri was able to sit on its lead most of the second half.

Eric Waters' blocked punt set up Missouri at the 1 for its first score in the third quarter in four games, though the Tigers had to settle for a 19-yard field goal by Trey Barrow that made it 17-3.

Less than four minutes later, Leroy Scott's blocked punt out of the end zone gave Texas two points.

GAME NO. 11
MISSOURI 31, TEXAS TECH 27

James Franklin accounted for four touchdowns and got the go-ahead score on a 9-yard run with 2:22 remaining as Missouri rallied past Texas Tech 31-27 on Saturday night.

Franklin rushed for a career-best 152 yards with two touchdowns to help the Tigers (6-5, 4-4 Big 12) overcome Henry Josey's season-ending knee injury last week. He was 13 for 20 for 172 yards and two more touchdowns, including a 7-yarder to Marcus Lucas earlier in the fourth that cut Texas Tech's lead to three.

Texas Tech threatened late, driving to the Missouri 6, before Dominique Hamilton tipped a pass from Seth Doege and Michael Sam intercepted at the 4.

Doege threw for one touchdown and ran for another for Texas Tech (5-6, 2-6), which has lost four in a row and must beat Baylor next week to become bowl eligible for the 12th straight season.

Missouri trailed entering the fourth quarter for the seventh time, and won for the second time under those circumstances.

A week after trailing 49-0 at halftime in a 66-6 loss to Oklahoma State, Texas Tech started fast, playing with the wind on a gusty day, and led 17-10 at the break, fueled by touchdowns on two of the first three possessions - a 1-yard run by Bradley Marquez out of the wildcat formation and Doege's 3-yard run. It was only the third time Tech had led at the break all season.

Michael Egnew's first touchdown catch in five games came on a leaping grab in the back of the end zone to cut Missouri's deficit to 20-17 with 4:43 to go in the third quarter. It was the first touchdown in the third quarter in five games for the Tigers, who have totaled 40 points in that quarter all year.

Texas Tech went up 10 again on Darrin Moore's 24-yard catch from Doege with one second left in the third that made it 27-17.
The wind was such a factor early that Texas Tech called a timeout to force Missouri to punt into it. The move was foiled when Trey Barrow got a very favorable roll on a 68-yarder into the end zone.

Missouri lost a scoring chance in the first quarter when Kendial Lawrence got stripped by Cornelius Douglas at the Red Raiders 6-yard line and fumbled the ball out of the end zone.

Moore's 54-yard run to the 6 topped his season total of 39 yards the first 10 games and set up a 5-yard run by Franklin that capped a 10-play, 90-yard drive, the Tigers' longest of the year.

Missouri cornerback E.J. Gaines had two pass breakups for a season total of 16, breaking the single-season school record set by Michael Harden in 2002.

GAME NO. 12
MISSOURI 24, KANSAS 10

James Franklin rebounded from three early interceptions to toss two second-half touchdown passes, and Missouri rallied for a 24-10 victory over Kansas on Saturday in what could be the final edition of the 120-year-old Border War rivalry.

The Tigers (7-5, 5-4 Big 12) head to the SEC next season, and Kansas has said it has no intention of playing Missouri out of conference.

Missouri improved its bowl prospects by winning its third straight game to finish the regular season, doing so with coach Gary Pinkel back on the sideline.

On the other sideline was Turner Gill, who may have coached his final game for Kansas (2-10, 0-9).

There was a meager crowd of 47,059 on hand at Arrowhead Stadium to see what could be the finale of a series that began in 1891, and is second in games played only to Wisconsin-Minnesota among major college football rivalries. Those who were left on a cold, dreary afternoon - mostly clad in black and gold - began chanting “SEC! SEC!” in the closing minutes.

Jordan Webb finished with 60 yards passing and two interceptions for the Jayhawks (2-10), who managed only 137 yards of total offense. James Sims carried 15 times for 35 yards.

Franklin had a rough first half. The Missouri quarterback, who had gone four games without throwing an interception, was picked off by Tyler Patmon midway through the first quarter - the first of three consecutive drives by the Tigers that ended in an interception.

On their ensuing series, Franklin was pressured by Toben Opurum and threw a wobbly pass that was intercepted by Greg Brown near the Missouri sideline. He returned it 20 yards to the Tigers 15, but the Jayhawks could manage only a field goal when three plays netted them minus-1 yard.

Franklin’s third pick was the most costly.

Facing third-and-16 from the 47, the sophomore quarterback threw a pass that was undercut by Kansas safety Bradley McDougald. He started up the Missouri sideline, bobbing and weaving his way through traffic before sprinting the rest of the way for a 57-yard touchdown return.

The Tigers finally got something going on offense later in the second quarter, marching 59 yards in 5:12 - largely on the ground - before Trey Barrow kicked a 23-yard field goal.

The Jayhawks looked like a two-win team on their first possession of the second half, when three plays netted minus-2 yards. When they tried to punt it away, the snap nearly went over the head of Ron Doherty, giving Missouri the ball at the Kansas 14-yard line. It took Kendial Lawrence only three carries to tie the game at 10.

After the Jayhawks were forced to punt, the Tigers went 93 yards for a touchdown, the big plays a 22-yard completion to Jerrell Jackson, a 20-yard run by T.J. Moe and a 25-yard TD pass from Franklin to Wes Kemp in the back of the end zone. The pass was initially called incomplete, but the officials reviewed it and ruled that Kemp’s feet came down inbounds.

Franklin hit Marcus Lucas for a 53-yard touchdown on the first play of the fourth quarter.

1924 Christmas Festival

USC	20
Missouri	7

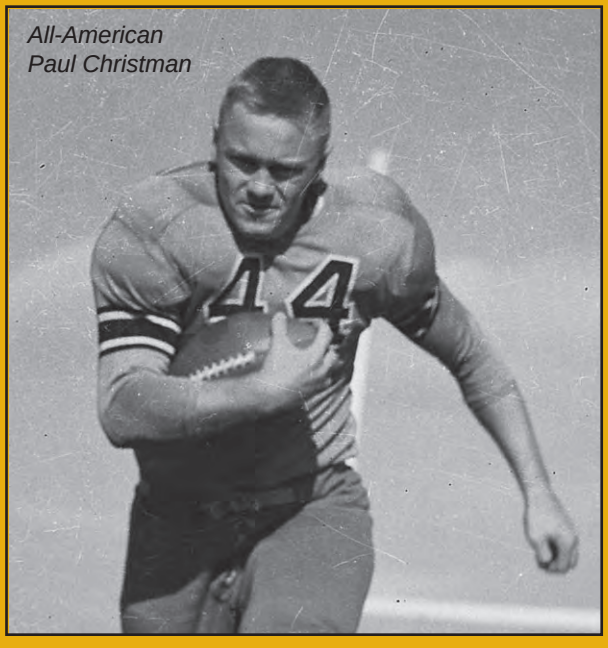

Missouri's first football team to play in a bowl game, the 1924 squad which lost to USC, 20-7 in the Christmas Festival, would not have even played in that bowl game were it not for an enormous stroke of luck.

Southern California and Stanford had tied for the Pacific Coast Conference title and the right to play Notre Dame in the Rose Bowl. The Rose Bowl took Stanford, and USC seemed to be left out of the bowl picture.

Instead, the city of Los Angeles chose to honor the Trojans in a Christmas Day game, called the Christmas Festival. The best remaining team in the nation was to be chosen as USC's opponent. Missouri, the Missouri Valley champion with a loss to Nebraska its only setback in eight games, was chosen to play in the game.

While the selection was an honor, Mizzou had expected to be spending the holiday at home and had not held practice in nearly two weeks when the Tigers headed to California. Perhaps this should have served as a warning to the Tigers.

Despite the layoff, Mizzou performed well early particularly on defense, and found itself in a scoreless deadlock at halftime. An unexpected delay at halftime apparently got the Tigers off track though, as Southern Cal engineered three long scoring drives against the Tiger defense. The Trojans ran away with a 20-7 victory in MU's first bowl appearance.

1940 Orange Bowl

Orange Bowl - Miami, Fla.

Georgia Tech	21
Missouri	7

The 1939 Missouri Tigers headed into the 8th annual Orange Bowl well aware that the Georgia Tech Engineers and quarterback Johnny Bosch would use ball-faking and offensive deception to win the game. Bust Bosch still fooled the Tiger defense and over 30,000 fans with his play-action fakes.

After Missouri's star, quarterback "Pitchin'" Paul Christman, plunged across from the one-yard line to give the Tigers an early 7-0 lead, it was all Tech. Bosch's offense used trickery to its full advantage in a 21-7 victory, ending Missouri's first Big Six Championship season in defeat.

Georgia Tech's Howard Ector scored on a one-yard run to answer Christman and tie the game at seven. Then the tricky Tech offense, with a little help from a stingy defense, put the game away.

Bob Ison gave the Engineers their first lead, 14-7, on a 59-yard end around in the second quarter. The final score of the game came on another trick play, a 34-yard double reverse. These big plays were over one-third of Georgia Tech's 210-yard rushing total.

The Tigers had chances to earn their first bowl victory, but failed gambles and Tech's goal-line defense denied them.

In the second quarter, still tied at seven, Mizzou faced a 4th-and-15 from Georgia Tech's 37. Rather than punting, Coach Don Faurot chose to go for it. A pass failed and Tech marched down the field in just three plays for the go-ahead score.

Down 21-7, the Tigers mounted a final scoring effort. They drove to the Tech two before Christman was stopped on fourth and goal. Georgia Tech then took over on downs and ran out the clock to preserve the 21-7 triumph.

1942 Sugar Bowl

Tulane Stadium - New Orleans

Fordham	2

The 1942 Sugar Bowl was a textbook example of the term defensive struggle. Missouri, spearheaded by a defensive unit which had allowed just 37 points in nine regular-season games, held Fordham to only a first quarter safety on a punt blocked out of the end zone. But even that was too much for an uncharacteristically impotent Tiger offense to overcome. Hurt by four turnovers, Mizzou fell to Fordham, 2-0.

During the regular season, Missouri had beaten five teams by shutout and outscored opponents by nearly 19 points a game. Harry Ice, Red Wade and Bob Steuber were the "Touchdown Trio" that led Missouri's dangerous Split-T rushing attack. Fordham, however, held Missouri's rushing game relatively in check, giving up 148 yards, and forcing two fumbles by a squad that had led the nation in rushing. Mizzou's defense was equal to the task in a losing effort, giving up just 137 total yards, including none through the air.

Neither team could cross the goal line and, in a game which featured more penalty yards than passing yards (40-21), Fordham's safety was enough scoring for the victory.

1946 Cotton Bowl

Cotton Bowl - Dallas, Texas

Texas	40
Missouri	27

The 1946 Cotton Bowl pitted two teams with totally opposite histories: the Texas Longhorns who had never lost a bowl game and the Missouri Tigers who had never won one. The result was not the expected rout, but a record-breaking shoot-out which Texas won, 40-27.

The game featured 980 yards of total offense (514 for Missouri, 466 for Texas) and a Cotton Bowl-record 67 points. Missouri rolled up a stunning 408 yards rushing in the game and had two men over 100. Leonard Brown had 121 yards on 18 carries, and Robert Hopkins led the team with 125 yards and a touchdown on 16 attempts.

All this offense could not deter the Longhorns though, whom Missouri must have wanted to rename "The Bobby Layne Show." Layne, Texas' legendary quarterback, had a hand in each of the Longhorns' six touchdowns. He ran for three scores (1, 1, and 2 yards), threw for two (15 and 48), and caught one (50). Layne also made four of five PATs.

While Texas used a one-man demolition crew to win, Missouri had four players score touchdowns on the day, all finishing drives of 62 yards or more. But it wasn't enough to beat Layne and the Longhorns who had six drives of 60 or more yards and walked away victorious from yet another bowl game.

1948 Gator Bowl

Gator Bowl - Jacksonville, Fla.

Clemson	24
Missouri	23

Missouri headed to the fourth annual Gator Bowl in 1948 expecting to get its first post-season victory over a Clemson team which had won just one bowl game in its history. Instead what the Tigers got was a surprising 24-23 defeat and another empty-handed trip home.

The game was every bit as close as the scoreboard suggested. Each team had 298 yards total offense and three touchdowns. It was Jack Miller's 32-yard FG for Clemson, offsetting a third quarter safety by Mizzou, which gave Clemson the margin of victory.

In a match-up where even the teams' mascots were the same (the Tigers), they also copied each other's manner of scoring. Both teams had two first-half touchdowns. Clemson's Fred Cone had two scoring runs in the first quarter and Mizzou's Bus Entsminger tied it with two touchdown scampers of his own in the second. Each team scored its final touchdown on a halfback option touchdown pass with Missouri's safety and Clemson's field goal sandwiched in between.

Despite all the build-up of Entsminger and Clemson tailback Bobby Gage, both of whom performed well, and the razzle-dazzle of two halfback passes, it was nothing but the ordinary which decided the outcome. Miller's 32-yard kick from a difficult angle proved to be just enough for the Clemson victory.

1949 Gator Bowl

Gator Bowl - Jacksonville, Fla.

Maryland	20
Missouri	7

At the 1949 Gator Bowl, the Missouri Tigers faced an unfamiliar team at a familiar site. Making its second consecutive January trip to Jacksonville, Fla., Mizzou met the Maryland Terrapins for the first time on the gridiron. The Tigers did not receive a kind greeting.

Though Mizzou outgained the Terps by 25 total yards and had more first downs, the game was never close on the scoreboard. Maryland turned an interception and two Tiger fumbles into first-half touchdowns and had a 20-0 lead at the half.

In the first quarter, Mizzou signal caller Dick Braznell was intercepted and Maryland's John Idzik returned the ball to the Mizzou 11. On the very next play Bob Shenonski gave the Terps the lead for good on an 11-yard run.

Tiger fortunes got no better in the second quarter when first Braznell and then John Glorioso fumbled, setting Maryland up in outstanding field position at the Tiger 28 and then the 15, respectively. Both turnovers became Maryland touchdowns and the Terrapins had this one in hand by halftime.

Late in the fourth quarter the Tigers forced a Maryland fumble at the Mizzou four. They then drove 96 yards and Phil Klein scored the Tigers' lone touchdown on a five-yard run to avoid the shutout. But with less than two minutes to play, it was too little too late to stop a fifth straight bowl game from ending in defeat for Missouri.

Orange Bowl - Miami, Fla.

Missouri	0

Missouri's 1959 squad gained the school's second Orange Bowl berth, the first in 20 years, by defeating Kansas, 13-9 on the season's last day. The 2nd-place Tigers went to Miami because Oklahoma had won the conference championship the year before as well and conference rules at the time forbade a team from playing in the same bowl two straight years. Unfortunately for Mizzou, this Orange Bowl trip ended just as the first one had—in defeat to a team from Georgia.

In 1940 it was Georgia Tech which sent the Tigers reeling. This time, Fran Tarkenton and the Georgia Bulldogs beat Mizzou in Miami in shutout style, 14-0.

The Tigers went into the 1960 game with a pass defense that was seen as weak—not a good thing to have against Tarkenton, who went on to throw more touchdowns than any quarterback in NFL history. However, the game took on a familiar look as MU outgained its opponent, both in the air, on the arm of quarterback Phil Snowden, and in total yards, but were still beaten.

Outside of two scoring passes from Tarkenton, a 29-yarder in the first quarter and a 33-yarder in the third, Georgia never posed a real threat. Punter Bobby Walden kicked it away seven times. In fact it was Walden's leg which kept the Bulldogs ahead, repeatedly pinning Missouri in its own end.

Mizzou did, however, have numerous opportunities to dent the scoreboard. Three times Mizzou had first downs inside the Bulldog 25 and twice inside the 10, but could never convert those chances into points.

Orange Bowl - Miami, Fla.

Navy	14

Missouri's 1960 team was the first to be ranked No. 1 nationally. The Tigers began the season with nine straight victories, a string which included Oklahoma's first home conference loss since 1942. Only a 23-7 loss to Kansas knocked them from that pedestal. However, Mizzou was later awarded a win when it was discovered the Jayhawks had used an ineligible player. The Tigers got their second straight Orange Bowl bid in the first year a team was allowed to play in the same bowl two consecutive years.

Mizzou's opponents were the Navy Midshipmen, a team boasting Heisman Trophy winner, halfback Joe Bellino. The Tigers held Bellino to four yards rushing, a key to their 21-14 victory.

The game's opening quarter was so bizarre, it nearly made the rest of the game seem uneventful. The circus started with Missouri on Navy's two-yard line, threatening to score. But on the next play, Navy's Greg Mather scooped up a fumble and returned it for a 98-yard score, the longest play in Orange Bowl history, for a 6-0 Navy lead. Not to be outdone, Mizzou's Norm Beal picked off a Hal Spooner pass at the Tiger 10 and brought it back for a Missouri touchdown and a 7-6 advantage.

After this exchange of touchdowns, the game settled into a Missouri domination at the line of scrimmage. The Tigers went on drives of 80 and 74 yards, piling up 296 yards rushing to Navy's minus eight. Mel West led the way for the Tigers with 111 yards and Donnie Smith helped out with 93.

Despite Mizzou's ground domination, it was the pass defense which preserved the victory, grabbing four interceptions, including two by Andy Russell and one by Fred Brossart on the game's final play.

The win capped an undefeated season and Mizzou finished fourth in the UPI and fifth in the AP polls. In those days final polls were released before bowl games, so in the AP poll Missouri was actually ranked behind Navy in the final poll.

1966 Sugar Bowl

Tulane Stadium - New Orleans, La.

Missouri	20
Florida	18

The 1966 Sugar Bowl was a tale of two halves. The Missouri Tigers led the Florida Gators at halftime, 17-0 and added a third quarter field goal to make it 20-0. But the Gators came roaring back and scored three fourth-quarter touchdowns thanks to talented quarterback, Steve Spurrier. Spurrier, the game's MVP and the winner of the 1966 Heisman Trophy, threw for two scores and ran for one to spearhead a comeback which was thwarted only when Mizzou's defense, eighth in the country in points allowed, stiffened and stopped all three two-point conversions.

In its second Sugar Bowl appearance, Missouri's ground game was dominant. The Tigers boasted the country's third-rated rushing attack at 247 yards a game. They topped that with 257 while holding Florida to minus-two. Because of Mizzou's defense against the run and the early deficit, Florida was forced to pass often. Spurrier put the ball in the air a record 46 times. He also set Sugar Bowl records with 27 completions, 16 coming in the wild fourth quarter, and 352 yards passing, but did so in a losing effort.

Halfback Charlie Brown and quarterback Gary Lane led Mizzou with 120 and 76 yards rushing, respectively. Brown also scored the first touchdown of the game on a 10-yard sweep early in the second quarter. Earl Denny had the other Tiger touchdown on an 11-yard halfback option catch from Johnny Roland.

The victory landed the 8-2-1 Tigers in sixth place in the national polls, just behind Big Eight champion Nebraska, which had beaten the Tigers earlier in the year on a late field goal.

1968 Gator Bowl

Gator Bowl - Jacksonville, Fla.

Missouri	36
Alabama	10

Missouri's third trip to the Gator Bowl game was its first that ended in victory—and it came convincingly, 35-10 over Alabama.

The Tigers were on a two-game losing streak as they prepared for the Crimson Tide, national champs just two years before and ranked 12th in the country. The result was the most lopsided bowl victory in Missouri's history and Paul "Bear" Bryant's worst defeat at Alabama to date in his 11-year career.

Led by Greg Cook, who tallied 179 yards rushing and a touchdown and Terry McMillan, with 76 yards and three scores, Mizzou gained 402 yards of total offense, all rushing. The offense put on its show while Alabama was held to less than 100 total yards. The Tiger defense sacked Tide quarterbacks 12 times. 'Bama's only touchdown came on defense, a 38-yard interception return by Donnie Sutton.

Despite complete domination for three quarters, Missouri led just 14-7 going into the fourth. The Tigers then turned it on. Following an interception by All-American Roger Wehrli, his second of the game, McMillan scored from two yards out and made the lead 21-10. On the Tigers' next possession, Cook rambled 37 yards and put Mizzou up 28-10. Dennis Poppe then returned an interception 47 yards for the final margin.

Alabama came into the game seeking its ninth consecutive national top-10 finish. What it got instead was its first loss to a Big Eight team, and only Bear Bryant's fifth loss by more than seven points in his 140-game career.

MU's performance, which boosted it to ninth in the polls, inspired Bryant to say, "They ran up and down the field as though they were playing a barbers' college team."

Orange Bowl - Miami, Fla.

Penn State	10
Missouri	3

Missouri's 1969 team was a record setter in many ways. The Tigers, 9-1, Big Eight co-champions and ranked fifth in the country, set records for points and total yards gained in a season. Quarterback Terry McMillan and running back Joe Moore set individual records for yardage at their respective positions. It was therefore shocking the way the 1970 Orange Bowl took shape.

Penn State, riding a 29-game winning streak, used its defense to dominate Mizzou's highly touted offense to win 10-3. But it was the Tiger defense which kept Missouri in the game and gave the Tigers a chance to win.

The Nittany Lion defense forced nine Tiger turnovers including a disastrous five-interception performance by McMillan. Missouri's defensive unit was nearly as good though, allowing just 10 points and forcing 12 Penn State punts in the contest. Thanks to the defensive effort, Missouri was at the Penn State 14-yard line in the last minute, still down just seven.

Penn State coach Joe Paterno said the Tigers "had us backed up to where I was thinking about what kind of defense we'd use for a two-point conversion."

Penn State avoided that dilemma when safety Neil Smith intercepted McMillan for the seventh and final time. In the end, Penn State's defense, which Tiger coach Dan Devine said was far better than any other the Tigers had seen, was too much for the Missouri offense.

1972 Fiesta Bowl

Sun Devil Stadium - Tempe, Ariz.

Arizona State	49
Missouri	35

Contrary to popular belief, there were defenses on the field in the 1972 Fiesta Bowl. But not according to the final stats.

The 49-35 Arizona State win featured 1,129 yards of total offense (718 for ASU, 411 for Mizzou), 681 yards rushing (452 by ASU, 229 by MU), four touchdowns of over 30 yards, including a 100-yard kickoff return by Missouri's Mike Fink, and 84 points.

Sun Devil All-American Woody Green ran for 202 yards and four touchdowns including a 17-yarder and a 21-yarder in Arizona State's decisive 21-point fourth quarter. Fullback Brent McClanahan also topped 100 yards for Arizona State, totaling 171 in 26 carries.

Mizzou trailed 28-7 at half after two scores by Green, McClanahan's only TD and a 34-yard scoring pass from Danny White to Ed Beverly on which it seemed Missouri's Fink had an end-zone interception.

But the Tigers, as they had all year, clawed back after the break. Fink's return and two passes from John Cherry to Chuck Link sandwiched around another score by Green made it 35-28 ASU early in the fourth. Two fourth-quarter scores by the Sun Devils, though, were too much for MU to overcome.

1973 Sun Bowl

Sun Bowl - El Paso, Texas

Missouri	34
Auburn	17

The Missouri Tigers went to the 1973 Sun Bowl eager to erase the memory of three straight losses to end the season which left them 7-4 after a quick start. A rushing total of 295 yards and two TD passes by Ray Smith ensured they would do just that.

Behind a 28-point second quarter, a Missouri bowl record, the Tigers rose to 8-4 with relative ease.

After falling behind 3-0 early in the second quarter, Mizzou scored three straight times and led the rest of the way. Ray Bybee, who ran for 127 yards, scored a second-quarter touchdown which was sandwiched between two touchdown catches by John Kelsey.

A 35-yard strike to Kelsey from Chuck Link, put the Tigers on top for good. Then came a pair of two-yard scores, one a run by Bybee and on a pass from Smith to Kelsey, before Auburn got on the board again. Following an Auburn touchdown, John Moseley took the kickoff 84 yards for the fourth Tiger touchdown of the quarter and gave Mizzou a sizable 28-10 lead at halftime.

The Tigers got only one score in the second half, a 15-yard pass from Smith to Jim Sharp. It was plenty for the Tiger defense, though, which held Auburn to 233 total yards and forced five turnovers.

An offense ranked last in total yardage and next to last in scoring in the Big Eight had racked up 34 points and 390 yards.

1978 Liberty Bowl

Liberty Bowl - Memphis, Tenn.

Missouri	20
LSU	15

The 1978 season, Warren Powers' first at MU, was one of incredible highs and devastating lows for the Tigers. The highs included a 3-0 win over defending national champion Notre Dame, the first time the Irish had been shut out since 1960, a victory over KU and a bowl-clinching win over Nebraska, 35-31.

The lows included a 35-20 loss to Oklahoma State, a 38-20 loss after having then No. 1 Alabama on the ropes and losing a 20-point lead in a home loss to Colorado.

So the 1978 Liberty Bowl was a rewarding end to the Tigers' season. Mizzou won 20-15 over LSU to advance to 8-4 against the nation's toughest schedule, but it was again a game in which Mizzou was up and down.

Missouri was up at halftime, riding a 20-3 lead and on the verge of a blowout victory. MU was slightly down in the second half, scoring no points, but moving the ball well enough and playing enough defense to win.

Sophomore James Wilder led the Tigers in rushing with 115 yards. The Tiger defense nabbed five turnovers (four interceptions and a fumble) to take the spotlight from big names Wilder, Phil Bradley and Kellen Winslow in a game in which MU never trailed.

1979 Hall of Fame Bowl

Legion Field - Birmingham, Fla.

Missouri	24
South Carolina	14

For the second straight year a strong running attack and an explosive second quarter led Missouri to pay-dirt in a bowl game. This time, the South Carolina Gamecocks were the Missouri victim, bowing 24-14 in the 1979 Hall of Fame Bowl. Even 133 yards from Heisman Trophy winner George Rogers was not enough for the Gamecocks to overcome Missouri's 17 second-quarter points.

After falling behind early, 6-0, quarterback Phil Bradley engineered three scoring drives. The first ended in a 22-yard field goal by Ron Verilli. The next two resulted in touchdowns by Bradley, the first a 28-yard pass and the second a one-yard plunge which gave the Tigers a 17-6 halftime edge.

Missouri used just one second-half touchdown to maintain its lead.

After South Carolina closed to 17-14 in the third, Gerry Ellis ran 12 yards for the final tally in the 24-14 triumph. Ellis had 81 yards on 12 carries and James Wilder ran for 95 on 24 attempts. Neither was as individually impressive as Rogers' totals but they combined to knock out the Heisman winner and his teammates. Bradley led an offense which controlled the ball and needed just 72 yards passing as the Tigers rolled to their third straight bowl win and a 7-5 record in 1979.

1980 Liberty Bowl

Liberty Bowl - Memphis, Tenn.

Purdue	28
Missouri	25

An 8-3 Tigers squad earned its second Liberty Bowl berth in three years under Coach Warren Powers following a 31-6 shellacking of Kansas, the third straight year Mizzou had downed the Jayhawks.

The Tigers started the 1980 season quickly at 6-1, but in the Liberty Bowl it was a slow start which doomed the Tigers and allowed Purdue to walk away with a 28-25 victory. All-America quarterback Mark Hermann started anything but slowly in leading Purdue to a 21-12 halftime lead with three touchdown passes of eight, 43 and five yards.

By the time Missouri had its second first down, the Tigers trailed 14-0. Powers then called a reverse on the ensuing kickoff and Ron Fellows turned it into a 92-yard touchdown. The extra point was no good and the Tigers trailed 14-6. James Wilder scored from a yard out, but when the two-point conversion missed, Mizzou lost its only chance to draw even in the game and trailed 14-12.

After halftime, Hermann threw his last touchdown, his second to Bart Burrell and the Boilermakers were up 28-12. With just under 13 minutes left, Mizzou had a chance to cut the deficit to six with first and goal at the six. Wilder though was stopped on fourth down at the one and the Tigers got no points.

The Tigers managed a 10-point flurry which included a safety and were within 28-25 with 5:05 to play. But the next time Phil Bradley and the offense touched the ball, it was on their own six with 1:16 to play and they could do nothing about it.

The Boilermakers sent the Tigers home at 8-4, thus ruining Mizzou's chance at its first nine-win season in 11 years.

Tangerine Bowl - Orlando, Fla.

Missouri	19
Southern Mississippi	17

The outcome of the 1981 Tangerine Bowl hinged largely on the leg of one player —Tiger kicker Bob Lucchesi. A sophomore walk-on, he had struggled even with extra points early in the season, but responded brilliantly in the bowl game. He hit an MU and Tangerine Bowl record-tying four field goals to propel Mizzou, 8-4, to a 19-17 win. For his efforts, Lucchesi earned the game's Most Outstanding Offensive Player award.

Lucchesi, though, was not Mizzou's only standout. Jeff Gaylord, the game's Most Valuable Player, led a stellar defensive effort. Missouri's defense held Southern Miss quarterback Reggie Collier, the first Division I quarterback to rush and pass for 1,000 yards in the same season, to 70 yards of total offense—16 rushing and 54 passing.

Bobby Meyer, who led all players with 96 yards rushing, scored Missouri's only touchdown, with a three-yard run late in the first quarter. MU led 7-0 and never trailed. After the teams traded field goals, Lucchesi hit from 41 yards in the first half's final seconds for a 13-3 Tiger advantage.

Two more Lucchesi field goals were just enough for Missouri to withstand touchdowns by two of Southern Mississippi's future pro stars — running back Sammy Winder and wide receiver Louis Lipps.

Following Lipps' TD, a 74-yard reception from backup quarterback Davy Sellers, the Golden Eagles trailed just 19-17 with 1:03 to play. But the Tigers' Tony Davis expected the ensuing onside kick and recovered it, killing the Golden Eagle comeback two points short.

1983 Holiday Bowl

Jack Murphy Stadium - San Diego, Calif.

Missouri	17

The 1983 Holiday Bowl was a clash of two conflicting styles. Missouri, led by sophomore fullback Eric Drain and walk-on quarterback Marlon Adler, boasted a tough running game and a feared defense. Brigham Young, on the other hand had highly touted Steve Young at quarterback with 4,216 yards passing and a bag of tricks. In the end, it was the last trick out of the bag which gave BYU a 21-17 victory.

In a see-saw game which saw four lead changes, Missouri held a 17-14 lead and the ball on fourth down at the Cougar seven. The clock showed 3:57 left in the game. Drain, the offensive player of the game with 115 yards rushing and both Mizzou touchdowns, got the call and was stopped short. Still the Cougars had 93 yards to go to win the game.

After defensive player of the game Bobby Bell sacked Young, his fourth sack of the game, on second down, Tiger hopes were high. They went down quickly on the next play, when Young lofted a pass to Mike Eddo for 53 of BYU's 328 passing yards.

The most important yards, though, were yet to come. On fourth and 10 from the MU 25, Young completed a 11-yard strike. Then came the razzle-dazzle.

After throwing for 314 yards in the game, Steve Young suddenly assumed a new role, but one at which he was equally successful. Young became a receiver. As he pitched to halfback Eddie Stinnett, Young went out on a pass pattern. Stinnett floated a pass just over the reach of Missouri's Bell and into Young's waiting arms for the winning touchdown with 23 seconds left.

Despite 314 yards passing from Young, Mizzou contained the Cougar quarterback for most of the game. They sacked him five times and intercepted him three. But in the end, it was Young's pass catching, not throwing, that did in the Tigers.

Mizzou had a chance earlier to pad its lead, but freshman Jon Redd coughed up the ball twice, once at the Cougar three and once at the Tiger 32. The Cougars converted the second fumble into a touchdown to stay within striking distance.

1997 Plymouth Holiday Bowl

Qualcomm Stadium - San Diego, Calif.

Colorado State	35
Missouri	24

The Missouri Tigers dodged deficiencies in their kicking game all season, but when the school's first bowl victory since 1981 was on the line, those problems swung the game's momentum in the direction of the Colorado State Rams.

The 20th Plymouth Holiday Bowl eventually turned on a punt return, a fumbled punt, and a fake field goal that enabled the WAC-champion Rams to win a 35-24 decision.

After all-WAC quarterback Moses Moreno marched CSU to a touchdown on its first possession of the game, the Tigers got it in gear. A 65-yard drive to the CSU 15-yard line, highlighted by a 34-yard run by Corby Jones, culminated in a 32-yard FG by Scott Knickman.

In the second quarter, Missouri took the lead, first converting a fumble recovery by Donnell Jones into a short TD march that led to a four-yard scoring run by Corby Jones, then producing a 75-yard, all-on-the-ground drive that ended with a seven-yard touchdown run by Ernest Blackwell. Along the way, tailback Devin West got outside for a 40-yard gain.

In between the two MU touchdowns, Moreno passed 22 yards to Corey McCoy for a touchdown, but Missouri held a 17-14 halftime lead.

The second half, though, started ominously for MU. Ricky Ross fumbled the kickoff and the Tigers had to begin their first possession at their own 10-yard line. A 22-yard Jones-to-Kent Layman pass seemed to spark the Tigers, but the drive stalled near mid-field. Vince Sebo, who in the first half had kicked a Holiday Bowl-record 61-yard punt, booted the ball away to CSU's Darran Hall.

He took the ball at the 15-yard line, and avoided a tackle by Mizzou's Shad Criss then sped untouched 85 yards for a back-breaking touchdown.

Just over two minutes later, the Rams padded their lead on a 47-yard Moreno-to-Dallas Davis touchdown pass. That followed a 31-yard run by tailback Damon Washington.

Missouri closed to within 28-24 on its next possession. Jones gained 48 of the drive's 55 yards with a pair of runs, then MU career rushing king Brock Olivo stuck it in the endzone from three yards out.

Seemingly with the momentum back on their side, the Tigers were eager to begin the fourth quarter. MU held the Rams on three downs and were ready to accept a punt.

But Mizzou's Ross fumbled at his own 25-yard line and Ula Tuitele recovered at the 23. Again, the Tiger defense stiffened. Barry Odom stopped Moreno for a loss of two, then a holding penalty shoved the Rams back to the 42-yard line. A 19-yard pass from Moreno to Davis, and an incomplete pass, left Colorado State with a fourth-and-10 situation at the Missouri 23-yard line. Allowing a field goal would be a moral victory for the Tigers who would then trail by only a touchdown with nearly 11 minutes to play.

But CSU Coach Sonny Lubick chose to roll the dice. Holder Ryan Eslinger picked up the snap and ran up the middle 23-yards for a touchdown that surprised everyone. Now trailing 35-24, the Tigers had to discard their running game.

Missouri managed one late drive in the final minutes, but Jones' final pass was intercepted at the 11-yard line and Colorado State ran out the clock.

Colorado State's Hall, a San Diego native playing in front of his hometown fans, was the game's MVP. In addition to his 85-yard punt return, he rushed once for 14 yards, caught four passes for 20 yards, and returned three kickoffs for 79 yards.

The Tigers gained 314 yards on the ground, including 132 from Jones and 104 from West, but their passing game lacked rhythm. A lengthy layoff since their last game (Nov. 15) was a big factor. Jones completed just 7-of-17 passes for 68 yards.

The experience, though, was good for the Tigers, who hadn't been to a bowl game since 1983. Sixteen returning starters for the 1998 campaign left an air of optimism with the Tiger faithful, who turned out strong in San Diego.

1998 Insight.com Bowl

Arizona Stadium - Tucson, Ariz.

Missouri	34
West Virginia	31

West Virginia couldn't quite keep up with the Joneses in the 1998 Insight.com Bowl.

Corby Jones rushed for three touchdowns and Julian Jones intercepted a pass and blocked a punt for a safety as Missouri (8-4; unranked ESPN/USA Today, No. 23 AP) held on to beat the Mountaineers (No. 25 ESPN/USA Today, unranked AP) 34-31.

"There's not much you can say," said Corby Jones, whose father Curtis, a Missouri assistant coach, died of a heart attack in July. "We just did this for my dad and for the team."

Julian Jones, who also had 10 unassisted tackles and a 39-yard free kick return that helped set up a score, was named the game's outstanding player.

"Julian played a fantastic game," Missouri coach Larry Smith said. "There he was thrown into a tough position, and he responded." The sophomore started at cornerback because senior Wade Perkins was suspended for the game for unspecified team rule violations.

"I was sad for Wade because I knew it would have been his last game," Julian Jones said. "I tried to come in and do the things that he would have done for our team, because he is a big-time player."

West Virginia's Marc Bulger completed 34 of 50 passes, both Insight.com Bowl records, for a school-record 429 yards and four second-half touchdowns to bring the Mountaineers back from a 21-point deficit. Bulger's four touchdown passes tied an Insight.com Bowl record. His leading receiver, Sean Foreman, caught an Insight.com record 11 passes for 189 yards.

Bulger's nine-yard scoring pass to Amos Zereoue cut Missouri's lead to 31-24 with 10:27 to play, and his one-yard touchdown toss to David Saunders made it 34-31 with 2:11 to play.

But Missouri's Dwayne Blakley recovered the onside kick attempt and the Tigers ran out the clock.

West Virginia (8-4) lost its eighth consecutive bowl game, tying South Carolina's NCAA Division I record.

Corby Jones and Devin West, in their final collegiate game, led a 76-yard, 14-play fourth-quarter drive that consumed 6:43 before stalling at the West Virginia one. Brian Long's 18-yard field goal with 3:44 to go put the Tigers up 34-24. A facemask personal foul penalty kept the drive going.

"That really, really put it to us," said West Virginia coach Don Nehlen, who didn't like the call. "But there's not much I can say. We didn't play very well early. We dug ourselves a hole. We made mistakes, and then the penalties."

West, the No. 5 rusher in Division I-A who was held in check most of the night, pounded West Virginia's defense for 46 yards in 12 carries in the critical drive. He finished with 125 yards in 31 attempts. Zereoue, the nation's No. 6 rusher, managed just 32 yards in 22 carries.

Special teams dominated much of the game. Missouri's Jeff Marriott blocked a field goal attempt and Carlos Posey returned the ball 70 yards for a score, West Virginia's Boo Sensabaugh blocked a punt to set up a Mountaineers' score, then Ricardo Rhodes returned a kickoff 60 yards to set up a Missouri touchdown.

The Tigers, who appeared in their first bowl game in 13 years in 1997, won a postseason game for the first time since the 1981 Tangerine Bowl.

Missouri took a 7-0 lead with 9:17 left in the first quarter when Marriott blocked a field goal try for the second time this season, a 48-yard attempt by West Virginia's Jay Taylor, who had been bothered by a hip injury all year. Posey scooped up the ball near the sidelines and raced untouched for the score.

On West Virginia's second possession, Bulger's pass bounced off wide receiver Khori Ivy's hands and was intercepted by Julian Jones at the Missouri 42. It was the first career interception for Jones.

2003 MainStay Independence Bowl

Independence Stadium - Shreveport, La.

Arkansas	27
Missouri	14

Cedric Cobbs ran for 141 yards, including a 41-yard touchdown, to help the Razorbacks end a three-game bowl losing streak with a 27-14 victory over Missouri in the Independence Bowl.

Arkansas' defense made two key fourth-and-one stops, one of them at the goal line, as the Razorbacks won for only the second time in their last 12 bowl games.

"It gets the monkey off our back," Nutt said. "You know what, we won a bowl game and a very good bowl game. We beat a good team, we really did."

Chris Balseiro kicked four short field goals, an Independence Bowl record, as Arkansas (9-4) rebounded from a 31-point loss to LSU in the regular-season finale. Arkansas' 300 yards rushing also was an Independence record.

Backup DeCori Birmingham added 85 yards on 10 carries and quarterback Matt Jones had 74 yards on seven carries.

"We just ran the ball," Jones said. "We knew their rush defense wasn't sophisticated, and that we could run against it."

The Razorbacks likely benefited from a largely pro-Arkansas crowd. That state's border is only 30 miles away, and there were about twice as many Arkansas supporters as there were for Missouri.

Special teams was a problem area for Missouri (8-5), which lost 41 yards to its own three after a high snap went over punter Brock Harvey's head - essentially handing the Razorbacks a touchdown. Arkansas' Tom Crowder intercepted a pass on a fake field goal attempt by holder and backup quarterback Sonny Riccio on the last play of the first half, and Crowder also blocked a punt in the fourth quarter.

"That's very uncharacteristic of one of my teams," coach Gary Pinkel said. "I'm embarrassed. I take a lot of pride in the product we put out there."

Brad Smith of Missouri had 155 yards passing and 96 yards rushing to set the school career total yardage record in just his second season. He scored on a five-yard run late in the third quarter to cut the gap to 10 points. But he fell 23 yards short of becoming the first player in NCAA history to pass for 2,000 yards and run for 1,000 in two seasons.

Zack Abron added 137 yards on 19 carries for Missouri, making its first bowl appearance in five years and only the school's third in 20 seasons.

The Tigers had a 407-385 edge in total yardage, but didn't have a lot to show for their 407 total yards.

"I know everybody wanted to win this game," Smith said. "I guess we needed a little extra focus and determination to get the job done."

Cobbs set a school record with his seventh 100-yard rushing game this season - the 11th of an injury-plagued career. He's totaled 460 yards in his last three games, and was named the game's offensive MVP.

The only time he was touched on his second-quarter scoring run was when he collided with Jones on the handoff. He ran for 99 yards in the first half to help Arkansas take a 21-7 lead.

"I think this definitely puts a stamp on everything for me that I can run for 100 yards against anybody," Cobbs said. "We wanted to go out there and be mistake-free, and we did that."

Missouri was hurt when it came up empty on consecutive 10-play drives, one at the end of the first half and another at the start of the third quarter.

Freshmen Keith Jackson Jr. and Jeremy Harrell stuffed Abron on fourth-and-one at the Razorbacks 12 with 1:59 left. Then Lerinezo Robinson intercepted a rollout pass from Smith on fourth-and-goal from the one as Arkansas preserved its 21-7 lead.

During the regular season, Missouri was 13-for-15 on fourth-and-one. The Tigers also were thwarted on fourth-and-goal from the eight with about five minutes to go.

Section 6_Bowl History.indd 236 12/9/2011 8:49:50 AM

"If you make it, it's a great call," Pinkel said. "I think the fake field goal was just what we needed. I don't second-guess myself."

Missouri led 7-6 when Zach Strom's snap sailed high above the head of Harvey and rolled to the Tigers three. Jones slipped two would-be tacklers on a one-yard run three plays later, and his conversion pass to George Wilson put the Razorbacks ahead to stay at 14-7.

Arkansas scored on consecutive plays, making it 21-7, as Cobbs scored following a three-and-out for Missouri.

Balseiro was 4-for-4 on field goals, connecting from 33, 28, 25 and 24 yards. Balseiro didn't get the kicking job until the fourth game of the year and finished 11-for-15 on field goal attempts.

2005 Independence Bowl

Independence Stadium - Shreveport, La.

South Carolina	31

As Brad Smith goes, so goes Missouri, or so the theory goes.

South Carolina knew that and the game plan of keeping Smith in check worked great - but only for awhile.

Then, the Missouri quarterback broke loose, as he has done so often in his career, rushing for three touchdowns - including a one-yarder in the final minutes - and passing for another to rally the Tigers for a 38-31 victory over the Gamecocks in the Independence Bowl.

"It wasn't anything magical," Smith said. "We just played within our system."

Smith, who rushed for 1,151 yards and passed for 2,022 this season, accounted for 431 yards of Missouri's 504 yards as the Tigers staged their biggest comeback win in school history.

Missouri (7-5) trailed 21-0 after the first quarter as Steve Spurrier's Gamecocks dominated the early going. South Carolina (7-5) outgained Missouri 312 yards to 174 in the first half and held the football almost 11 minutes longer (20:02-9:58)

"We knew he was an excellent quarterback," Spurrier said. "We had him hemmed in in the first half, but we weren't good enough to do it the whole game."

The Tigers didn't convert a third-down until the final 58 seconds of the half.

Smith completed 21-of-37 passes for 282 yards, with one touchdown and an interception. He passed for 200 or more yards for the 18th time. He also ran for 150 yards and three touchdowns on 21 carries.

"I was trying to make too much," Smith said. "At the end of the second quarter I was able to make something happen and get my timing down."

The Gamecocks needed less than three minutes to go 80 yards for their first score. Blake Mitchell's 23-yard pass to Sidney Rice put Carolina up 7-0. Rice finished with 12 receptions for 191 yards.

Tony Temple fumbled on Missouri's first play and South Carolina's Ricardo Hurley scooped up the ball. Four plays later Mike Davis, who ran for 125 yards on 18 carries, scored on a five-yard run for a 14-0 lead.

The Gamecocks' third scoring drive covered 69 yards in 1:59. This time Mitchell, who completed 20-of-38 passes for 266 yards, hit Carson Askins with a 20-yard scoring pass to make it 21-0. Mitchell passed for two touchdowns, and was intercepted three times.

"Twenty-one-nothing is no safe lead for us," Spurrier said.

Marcus King gave Missouri its first points, grabbing Mitchell's pass at the goal line and returning it 99 yards to make it 21-7 in the second quarter. That was an MU and Independence Bowl record for longest interception return.

After Davis' two-yard TD run gave the Gamecocks a 28-7 lead, Missouri staged its first long drive of the game. The Tigers went 77 yards and Smith hit Chase Coffman with a five-yard touchdown pass to make it 28-14 at halftime. Coffman finished with eight catches for 99 yards – both MU single-game bowl records.

On its first drive of the third quarter, Missouri faked a field goal at the Carolina 14. Martin Rucker ran to the one-yard line, but the Tigers couldn't push it in and Adam Crossett's 22-yard field goal attempt sailed wide right.

Smith pulled Missouri to 28-21 with a 31-yard run with 2:41 left in the third quarter.

Another apparent Missouri touchdown was nullified by a 15-yard tripping penalty. Smith finally got the score on a four-yard run that tied the score at 28 early in the fourth quarter.

Crossett kicked an MU-record length 50-yard field goal to put the Tigers up 31-28, but Josh Brown countered with a 30 yarder that tied it at 31-31.

Then, with 2:13 remaining, Smith sealed the Missouri win with a one-yard TD run.

"It shows us no matter where we are or who we play, we can stay with them," Missouri safety David Overstreet said. "We spotted them 21 points. To go out and get the win is great for everyone's confidence."

2006 Brut Sun Bowl

Sun Bowl Stadium - El Paso, Texas

Oregon State	39
Missouri	38

Yvenson Bernard barely pushed into the end zone on a gutsy 2-point conversion run after Joe Newton caught a 14-yard touchdown pass with 22.1 seconds left, and No. 24 Oregon State beat Missouri 39-38 in the Sun Bowl.

Oregon State coach Mike Riley was set to take his chances in overtime at the Sun Bowl.

Then Missouri called timeout to have Joe Newton's 14-yard touchdown catch with 22.1 seconds to go reviewed, believing he may have bobbled the ball. During that break, Riley decided to go for the win.

Yvenson Bernard barely pushed into the end zone on the gutsy 2-point conversion run, giving the 24th-ranked Beavers a 39-38 victory over the Tigers on Friday.

"Like in a card game at the end, we were all-in," Riley said. "We put all of our chips on the table. These guys made it happen."

The Beavers (10-4) trailed by 14 points with 12:08 to go before rallying for their eighth victory in nine games. Bernard's 7-yard reception had cut the gap to seven with 6:02 to go, and Riley said the senior running back lobbied the hardest to go for two at the end.

"I was telling him, 'Let's go for it,"' Bernard said. "I definitely wanted to do it."

Tony Temple had 194 yards, four short of the Sun Bowl record, on 20 carries with two touchdowns and Chase Daniel threw two touchdown passes for Missouri (8-5). The Tigers lost four of their last five after a 6-0 start, dropping the finale despite 561 yards of total offense.

Temple missed setting a Sun Bowl record for rushing, 197 yards by Charles Alexander of LSU in 1977, after losing 4 yards on his final carry.

"A lot of positive things," coach Gary Pinkel said. "Obviously, the locker room is a tough place to be right now."

It was no surprise to Daniel that Oregon State decided to go for broke. He was on the phone with quarterbacks coach Dave Yost talking strategy for what Missouri might do if the Beavers scored.

"It's bowl season, what do you have to lose?" said Daniel, who averaged 20 yards per completion, going 16-for-29 for 330 yards. "I just had a feeling they were going to go for two."

Matt Moore threw four touchdown passes and ran for a fifth for Oregon State, which helped produce the second-highest scoring game in the Sun Bowl's 73-year history. He was 5-for-7 for 55 yards on the winning drive, set up after Sammie Stroughter's 38-yard punt return to the Oregon State 46.

Missouri had seven plays of 29 yards or longer, including Danario Alexander's 74-yard touchdown catch and Temple's 65-yard run. Missouri responded after Newton's first touchdown catch on Oregon State's opening drive of the second half cut the Tigers' lead to 21-17.

Tommie Saunders' 29-yard TD catch from tight end Chase Coffman off a lateral gave the lead back to Missouri and Temple's 65-yard untouched touchdown run seemingly put the Tigers in control at 31-21 with 5:58 in the third.

The victory was the latest in a series of nail-biters for Oregon State, which beat Hawaii and Oregon by a combined five points in the last two regular-season games. The Beavers' biggest triumph after a 2-3 start that had fans calling for Riley to be fired was a 33-31 stunner over then-No. 3 Southern California on Oct. 28.

"It's just a pretty typical Beaver win," Riley said.

Missouri was on the other end of a big bowl comeback last year, rallying behind quarterback Brad Smith from a 21-point deficit to beat South Carolina 38-31 in the Independence Bowl.

Moore was 31-for-54 for 356 yards and set a school record of 182 passes without an interception before getting picked off by Brandon Massey in the third quarter. Oregon State retained possession on the play after Massey was stripped.

Section 6_Bowl History.indd 240 12/9/2011 8:49:51 AM

"To finish like this, that doesn't happen every day," Moore said. "Ten wins doesn't happen every day. It's a great way to end it."

Oregon State prevailed despite a porous defense that allowed 98 points the last three games. Among Missouri's other big plays were a 40-yard catch by Coffman that led to Temple's 7-yard scoring run on the opening drive. A 47-yard run by Temple was followed by an 18-yard touchdown pass from Daniel to Coffman on the next play for a 38-24 lead with 12:08 left in the game.

Newton also caught an 11-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter and had six receptions for 74 yards.

2008 AT&T Cotton Bowl

Cotton Bowl - Dallas, Texas

Missouri	38
Arkansas	7

Colorful confetti flip-flopping around him, fans in black and gold chanting his name, Tony Temple and his Missouri teammates were basking in a terrific ending to a magical season.

Only one thing was wrong - the setting. See, this was the Cotton Bowl, not the national championship game they were a win away from reaching, and it wasn't the Orange, Fiesta or Sugar Bowl like they thought they deserved.

Motivated instead of deflated, the guys from the "Show-Me State" took down Darren McFadden and Arkansas, 38-7.

"They found out what a great game the Cotton Bowl is and then embraced it," Mizzou Head Coach Gary Pinkel said.

Properly focused, the only thing left for the Tigers was figuring out that No. 25 Arkansas (8-5) had loaded its defense with cornerbacks and safeties to neutralize Missouri's Heisman Trophy finalist quarterback, Chase Daniel.

Temple cracked the code pretty early, finding no linebackers after he broke the line of scrimmage in the first half. He had three carries of 22 yards, a 38-yarder and a 41-yarder as part of his 159 yards and two touchdowns by halftime.

Temple pulled a hamstring in the third quarter and missed several series, but said he was ready to return about the same time Pinkel heard that Temple was close to setting a Cotton Bowl record.

He went back for just one play - a spinning, tackle-breaking 40-yard run into the end zone, then rode back to the bench on the arms of Daniel and a lineman. The lift was part-celebration, part-transportation because Temple tweaked his hamstring around the five-yard line.

"It was one of the best runs I've ever seen," Daniel said. "That was awesome."

Daniel was 12-of-29 for a season-low 136 yards with an interception. It was his second straight game without a touchdown pass, but he didn't care because handing off to Temple was the way to go. Daniel enjoyed it so much that he expects to be chastised by coaches for turning into a spectator; he stopped pretending to have the ball after handoffs to stand still and watch.

Temple's final run broke the Cotton Bowl rushing record of 265 yards set by Rice's Dicky Maegle in 1954, a performance that's best remembered for him being awarded a touchdown when Alabama's Tommy Lewis came off the bench and tackled him on a breakaway run.

Maegle had three touchdowns in that game, as did Texas' Bobby Layne in 1946 and Syracuse's Jim Brown in 1957. Temple's name is now above theirs in the record book.

McFadden ran 21 times for 105 yards and a touchdown, but didn't play the fourth quarter. The Heisman finalist pushed his single-season total to 1,830 yards and his career total to 4,590. Both are school records and second to Herschel Walker in SEC history.

The rest of the Razorbacks made a horrible first impression on incoming coach Bobby Petrino, from the defense allowing the most yards rushing by a single player to having five turnovers - an interception returned for a touchdown and four fumbles.

Freshman kicker Alex Tejada came in perfect on kicks of 40 yards or less, but missed from 35 and 37. In between, a successful fake punt was wiped out because someone called timeout just before the snap; the Razorbacks tried the play again and lost a yard. Then a squib kick to open the second half backfired.

The final offensive play summed things up: Interim coach Reggie Herring ran about 20 yards asking for a timeout, but didn't get it and a fourth-down pass was dropped in the end zone.

"The way we played, we couldn't have beat anyone," said Herring, who had been defensive coordinator until Houston Nutt stepped down in late November. "We did everything poorly. I'm embarrassed right now."

2008 Valero Alamo Bowl

The Alamodome - San Antonio, Texas

Missouri	30
Northwestern	23

Chase Daniel's last game at Missouri ended with a fitting flourish.

The star quarterback threw a 7-yard touchdown pass to Jeremy Maclin in overtime and the Tigers rallied to beat Northwestern 30-23 in the Alamo Bowl.

It was Daniel's first overtime game since leading Missouri to a 27-24 win over Iowa State as a freshman when he took over mid-game following an injury to Brad Smith.

After the 25th-ranked Tigers scored on the opening possession of overtime, their defense delivered, too. Missouri sacked a backpedaling C.J. Bacher, forcing a fumble that left Northwestern with fourth-and-goal from the 32-yard line.

Bacher's desperation heave into the end zone was knocked down, and Daniel rushed off the sideline with his teammates to celebrate.

"To start off and end off with overtime - both wins - you can't ask for anything more," he said.

The win gave Missouri (10-4) double-digit victories in consecutive seasons for the first time in school history. The No. 22 Wildcats (9-4) fell to 1-6 in bowl games, with their only win coming in their first bowl appearance in 1949.

"They made more plays than we did on that (last) drive," Bacher said. "That's why they're sitting over there Alamo Bowl champs and we're not."

Playing his final college game, Daniel overcame three interceptions to lead the Tigers back from a three-point deficit in the fourth quarter.

Jeff Wolfert made three field goals, including a 37-yarder with 2:49 remaining that tied it 23-all. But he missed a 44-yard attempt that could have won it for Missouri as time expired.

Daniel, who finished fourth in 2007 Heisman Trophy voting, matched a season high with his three interceptions. He was 27-of-44 for 200 yards and two touchdown passes.

The speedy Maclin, a first-team All-America as an all-purpose player, also returned a punt 75 yards for a score that tied it at 10 in the second quarter.

Bacher threw for 304 yards and equaled an Alamo Bowl record with three touchdown tosses. His 23-yard scoring pass to Ross Lane in the back of the end zone gave Northwestern a 23-20 lead at the end of the third.

The score came after Brad Phillips grabbed an interception and returned it to the 24.

After the Tigers tied it, Northwestern had a chance to drive for a go-ahead score, but Bacher's pass on third-and-3 with less than two minutes remaining fell incomplete.

Wildcats kicker Amado Villarreal missed an extra point in the third quarter that could have made the difference in regulation.

A 43-yard field goal by Wolfert made it 20-16 Missouri with just under four minutes remaining in the third. That score was set up by an interception and 22-yard return by Brock Christopher.

Danario Alexander gave Missouri a 17-16 lead - its first of the game - with about seven minutes remaining in the third quarter on an 11-yard touchdown pass from Daniel.

Bacher found Rasheed Ward for a 46-yard touchdown pass on the first drive of the second half. Villarreal's extra point bounced off the right upright to leave the score at 16-10 Northwestern.

Maclin, who leads the NCAA in all-purpose yards, tied it 10-all with his 75-yard punt return for a touchdown just before halftime. He bolted through the first wave of defenders before getting a good block and zooming past punter Stefan Demos, who had an angle on him but tripped.

It was the first punt return TD this season for Maclin.

Things started rough for Daniel when his pass was tipped and intercepted by Brian Peters on Missouri's first drive. Northwestern took advantage of that mistake when Bacher found a wide-open Eric Peterman streaking down the middle of the field for a 35-yard touchdown to put the Wildcats up 7-0 early in the first quarter.

Section 6_Bowl History.indd 244 12/9/2011 8:49:51 AM

Northwestern got a 21-yard field goal by Villarreal to make it 10-3 in the second.

Daniel's second interception came on an ill-advised throw under heavy pressure from David Arnold in the second quarter. Defensive end Corey Wootton, 6-foot-7, made a diving grab just before the ball would have hit the turf.

Northwestern came away empty, though, when Villarreal's 47-yard field-goal attempt sailed wide left.

Wootton, who also had a sack, appeared to injure his right leg with about four minutes remaining and did not return. Fitzgerald said he did not have an update on his condition.

Missouri's first points came on a 31-yard field goal by Wolfert early in the second quarter.

2009 Texas Bowl

Reliant Stadium - Houston, Texas

Navy	35
Missouri	13

Ricky Dobbs ran for 166 yards and three touchdowns and Navy downed Missouri with its triple-option offense in a 35-13 win over the Tigers in the 2009 Texas Bowl.

Dobbs also threw a touchdown pass to Bobby Doyle and Marcus Curry ran for a score as the Midshipmen rushed for 385 yards against Missouri's 12th-ranked run defense. Navy won time of possession by nearly 22 minutes and ran 81 offensive plays to only 57 for the Tigers.

Blaine Gabbert threw a 58-yard touchdown pass to Danario Alexander on Missouri's second play from scrimmage, but the Tigers mustered only 298 yards the rest of the game - largely because they only had the ball for just over 19 minutes.

Gabbert also threw two interceptions and was sacked four times.

Alexander, who led the nation in receiving yards coming into the game, took a short pass from Gabbert and outran the Navy defense just 24 seconds into the game. It was Alexander's 14th TD catch of the season and eighth covering more than 50 yards.

The Tigers knew what to expect from Navy's offense and still couldn't stop it.

Dobbs broke a 24-yard run on Navy's second possession, diving into the end zone with 2:58 left in the first quarter. It was Dobbs' 25th touchdown run of the year, adding to his NCAA single-season record for a quarterback.

Tigers' defensive end Aldon Smith sacked Dobbs on the first play of the second quarter, setting a Missouri record with his 12th sack of the season.

Dobbs wasn't sacked again, and the Midshipmen drove to the Missouri 22 late in the half. Dobbs ran up the middle, but Missouri safety Jasper Simmons forced a fumble just before Dobbs crossed the goal line and the Tigers recovered in the end zone.

Missouri's Derrick Washington fumbled on the next play, Navy recovered and Dobbs scored on a 12-yard run with 45 seconds left before halftime.

Gabbert's 36-yard pass to Washington set up Grant Ressel's 31-yard field goal on the last play before the break to make it 14-10.

But Navy had already set the tone for the game, rushing for 216 yards in the first half and holding the ball for more than 21 minutes.

Dobbs' 3-yard touchdown pass to Doyle finished the first drive of the third quarter and put Navy up 21-10.

Navy's Ross Pospisil picked off Gabbert's pass near midfield on Missouri's next play. Gabbert had not thrown an interception since a 36-17 win over Colorado on Oct. 31.

Missouri only slowed down Navy's offense when the Midshipmen made mistakes. Dobbs fumbled the snap on fourth-and-one from the Missouri three, and the Tigers' offense finally got back on the field.

Wes Kemp caught a short pass and got help from several blocks on a 56-yard gain to the Navy 9. The drive stalled there and Ressel kicked another 31-yarder to make it 21-13.

Dobbs threw a 47-yard pass to Curry on Navy's next play. Dobbs joined Craig Candeto (2003) as the only Midshipmen to run and pass for over 1,000 yards in a season.

Curry ran 11 yards for a touchdown on the next snap, finishing Navy's second-fastest touchdown drive of the season (35 seconds).

Dobbs, named the game's most valuable player, finished one more time-consuming drive with a 1-yard touchdown run with 4:56 left.

The Midshipmen went 6-0 this season and improved to 41-5 over the last seven years when they've scored at least 30 points.

2010 Insight Bowl

Sun Devil Stadium - Tempe, Ariz.

Iowa	27
Missouri	24

Micah Hyde snatched the ball near the sideline, ran toward the middle of the field, even backward for a few yards before sprinting up the far sideline.

Fill-in freshman Marcus Coker took a more direct approach at the Missouri Tigers: he ran right over them.

Coker bulled his way through Missouri's defense in place of suspended starter Adam Robinson and Hyde scored the decisive touchdown on a meandering, 72-yard interception return in the fourth quarter, helping Iowa close out a difficult season with a 27-24 win over Missouri on Tuesday night in the Insight Bowl.

Undermanned due to injuries and suspensions, Iowa (8-5) turned to Coker, a backup who had 403 yards and a touchdown during the regular season.

The bruising freshman had no trouble taking over for Robinson, running over and occasionally around the Tigers to set school records with 219 yards and 33 carries while scoring two touchdowns in front of an Insight Bowl-record 53,453 fans.

Behind Coker, Iowa piled up 425 yards against one of the nation's stingiest defenses to overcome two rare turnovers by Ricky Stanzi and win three straight bowls for the first time.

Missouri (10-3) had its way with Iowa's once-stout defense most of the night, rolling up 512 yards, including a school bowl record 434 passing by Blaine Gabbert.

Gabbert finished 41 for 57 to set two more school records, but inexplicably threw the ball right to Hyde, who dodged several tackles and seemingly every Missouri player for the second-longest interception return in Insight Bowl history.

Missouri had one final chance, but a fourth-down reception at Iowa's 33-yard line by T.J. Moe with 2:15 left was overruled on review and Coker helped grind out the clock. Moe finished with an Insight Bowl record 15 receptions for 152 yards for the Tigers in their second straight bowl loss.

Once fierce rivals, these teams hadn't met in a century, despite being separated by less than 250 miles. The 12-game rivalry plagued by dirty play, riots and racial discrimination ended following a particularly brutal game in 1910, and a planned four-year series from 2005-08 also fell through, putting an interesting twist on this Midwest battle in the desert.

Missouri was looking to cap one of its best seasons, even after having its Big 12 and BCS bowl chances dashed with consecutive losses to Nebraska and Texas Tech. The Tigers won their final three games to get into the Insight Bowl and were in position for their third 11-win season as a program.

After opening the season No. 9 in the polls, the Hawkeyes were plagued by injuries and an inability to close out games. They played most of the season without defensive coordinator Norm Parker, who had a foot amputated due to complications from diabetes, had five losses by a combined 18 points and entered the bowl having lost their final three.

Gabbert was doing what he does best going the other way, picking apart Iowa's defense with short and intermediate throws. He was 23 for 31 for 284 yards in the first half, setting up a 23-yard field goal by Grant Ressel in the first quarter and Henry Josey's 10-yard touchdown run that made it 17-10 in the second.

Gabbert had the Tigers moving again late in the half, but the drive ended when Brett Greenwood picked off a deflected pass in the end zone.

Coker and Gabbert continued to counterpunch in the second half.

Coker ran over Missouri linebacker Jarrell Harrison on a 35-yard run early in the third quarter, setting up Mike Meyer's second field goal, from 21 yards.

Gabbert kept winging passes all through Iowa's defense. He set up his 7-yard touchdown run, then followed the first of two interceptions thrown by Stanzi, who had four in 324 attempts in the regular season, by hitting tight end Michael Egnew on a 3-yard TD pass that put the Tigers up 24-20 heading into the fourth quarter.
