TIGER SENIOR TRIO

TAYLOR GADBOIS
SAMI FAGAN
EMILY CRANE

- ▶ The 2015 Mizzou squad took home its seventh NCAA Regional Championship under head coach Ehren Earleywine. The Tigers were led by a record-breaking offense that produced a .320 team batting average, 395 runs scored and 355 RBIs (all ranking first in program single-season history).
- ▶ At the top of the order throughout last season was a trio of budding junior Tiger hitters. Emily Crane, Sami Fagan and Taylor Gadbois provided Coach Earleywine with one of the most productive triumvirates in the country.
- ▶ Collectively, the three Tigers put up off-the-charts numbers a season ago. At the plate, Gadbois, Crane and Fagan produced a .359 (194-for-540), 16 HR and 99 RBIs slash line while also adding 161 runs scored, 22 doubles and five triples. The talented trio also made an impact on the basepaths as they were an incredible 84-for-88 (.955) collectively in stolen bases.
- ▶ Heading into their senior campaigns, the trio have already etched their names across the Mizzou Softball record books. Currently, Crane ranks second in all-time batting average (.375), Gadbois ranks third (.366) while Fagan ranks fourth (.362). Other all-time ranking highlights for Fagan include 10th in hits (200), ninth in runs scored (145) and eighth in RBIs (137). Lowary made an instant impact in her first year, posting an 18-7 record with a 3.40 ERA and 164 strikeouts. The strong Tiger debut earned her 2015 Freshman All-SEC honors. Additionally, Lowary earned national accolades as she was named to the 2016 USA Softball Women's Elite Team this past January.
- ▶ In her first two seasons at Mizzou, Finucane possesses a strong 42-14 (.750) career record, 2.31 ERA and 308 strikeouts. The outstanding .750 career winning percentage currently ranks fifth-highest in program history.

SANCHEZ & MACK LEAD THE POWER BRIGADE

AMANDA SANCHEZ

KIRSTEN MACK

- ▶ Last season, Mizzou slugged 79 home runs, ranking second-most in program history. Four Tigers recorded double-digit long balls, including sophomore Amanda Sanchez and junior Kirsten Mack. In her first-year campaign, Sanchez had a big year overall at the plate, tallying a .347 average, 14 home runs and 56 RBIs. Mack stepped up in a big way in her second season, posting a team-high 15 home runs along with 48 RBIs as the team's primary catcher.
- ▶ The 2016 Mizzou Softball lineup will once again be loaded from top to bottom, as Coach Earleywine forecasts another productive display from the slew of powerful bats. Three of the Tigers' top four power producers from a season ago return in 2016, including the addition of powerful bats in freshman Rylee Pierce and junior transfer Chloe Rathburn. Tiger fans can also expect increased power displays from senior Emily Crane, junior Natalie Fleming, sophomore Morgan Walters as the trio looks to add more punch to the lineup.

Mizzou Softball has become one of the top programs in the nation, and is a perennial contender to reach the Women's College World Series under the direction of Head Coach Ehren Earleywine, a mid-Missouri native who enters his 10th year leading the charge for the Tigers. With a career winning percentage of .743 (557-193 over 12 seasons), Earleywine is truly among the top coaches in the nation. He is the 13th-winningest coach in NCAA Division I history entering this season, according to winning percentage.

Mizzou enjoyed a proud softball tradition before Earleywine took over in 2007, but he's clearly since taken the Tigers to the next level. In the seven seasons before Earleywine's arrival, Mizzou averaged 32.0 wins per season (2000-06). The Tigers have averaged 45.7 wins per season in Earleywine's nine seasons in the dugout.

Earleywine has built the Tigers by striving for excellence in all phases of the game. Shut-down pitching, consistent fielding and explosive offense have been constants during his tenure in Columbia. In his nine seasons at the helm of the Missouri softball program, the Tigers have made three Women's College World Series appearances, recorded the first three 50-win seasons in school history and have advanced to seven NCAA Super Regionals. These accomplishments have come while building an incredible .749 winning percentage to rank as one of the winningest programs in the nation since 2007.

Mizzou Softball has competed at the highest level during Earleywine's time leading the Tigers, including the capture of two of the programs' seven all-time conference championships. As part of a stellar 50-12 overall record in 2009, Mizzou won the 2009 Big 12 Conference Tournament. The Tigers followed that up with a Big 12 Regular Season Championship in 2011, posting a stout 53-10 overall record. In Mizzou's first season of Southeastern Conference action in 2013, Earleywine's squad left an immediate impression. The Tigers placed third in the league's regular season standings before finishing as runners-up at the SEC Tournament.

Earleywine's teams have been ranked in the top-10 for seven straight seasons, including as high as No. 3 in the nation during a three-week run in 2010. Mizzou has finished as a top-10 team in the polls three times under Earleywine's leadership.

Named Missouri's head coach in August of 2006, Earleywine's model for winning was rewarded with a seven-year contract extension on Aug. 31, 2011, making him the first Olympic coach in Missouri history to receive an extension greater than five years. In his nine seasons at Missouri, Earleywine has managed a record of 411-138 and became the fastest Missouri softball coach to reach 300 victories. Since beginning his head coaching career in 2003 at Georgia Tech, Earleywine has turned in a .743 winning percentage, the 13th-best amongst active Division I coaches. He was the fifth fastest coach to reach 100 wins in NCAA Division I softball history.

Since Earleywine took the reins, Missouri's batting averages have been on the rise, which includes a .313 mark in 2009, a .304 mark in 2013, .310 rate in 2014 and .320 posting in 2015. Additionally, the team ERA has steadily been on the decline, highlighted by 2011's 1.40 mark, the Tiger's best end of the year ERA since 1998.

Mizzou's entire softball staff has received deserved recognition while helping the program ascend to the upper echelon of college softball. Earleywine and crew were named NFCA Midwest Region Staff of the Year three times in a four-year span (2009, 2010, & 2012).
