SETTING THE STAGE... 📢

- Mizzou Baseball will continue its week-long homestand as it welcomes Auburn (14-15, 2-7 SEC) to Taylor Stadium for a three-game series beginning Thursday (April 7) at 6:30 p.m. The game will be broadcast to a national television audience on ESPNU with Mark Neely and Gabe Gross on the call, Friday's game will begin at 6 p.m. on SEC Network+ and Saturday's finale is slated for a 1 p.m. first pitch at Taylor Stadium on SEC Network+. Pitching matchups for the weekend are below.
 - Thursday: Mizzou RHP Reggie McClain (3-1, 2.58 ERA) vs. Auburn RHP Cole Lipscomb (1-3, 5.61 ERA)
 - Friday: Mizzou RHP Tanner Houck (3-2, 2.76 ERA) vs. Auburn RHP Justin Camp (2-1, 4.57 ERA)
 - Saturday: Mizzou LHP Michael Plassmeyer (2-2, 5.13 ERA) vs. Auburn LHP Andrew Mitchell (4-1, 4.17 ERA)
- Mizzou and Auburn have met 11 times in history with Mizzou leading the all-time series, 8-3. The two teams last met in 2014 with Mizzou winning two of three down on the plains, also in a Thursday-Saturday series. Mizzou won game one, 4-3, with two runs in the seventh and another in the eighth to steal the game as Mizzou's bullpen 3.2 innings of shutout baseball. Mizzou then won Friday, 4-2, again scoring a pair of eighth-inning runs late to win the game. Auburn won the series finale, 7-3, tagging Mizzou starter Brett Graves for 13 hits and six runs in 5.2 innings. Auburn was ranked No. 21 nationally during that series. Mizzou has won the last three series over Auburn and six of the last nine games overall.
- Mizzou opened April in style, taking two of three games at #15 Arkansas, completing Mizzou's first road series win over a top-20 team since March of 2014 (the aforementioned series vs. Auburn). Mizzou scored 24 runs over the three games and slugged 16 extra-base hits (10 doubles, two triples and four homers) over the three games. Mizzou's bullpen was also tremendous in the threegame series, allowing just one earned run over 11.0 innings of work, registering a pair of saves and allowing just nine hits while striking out nine. Mizzou was also exceptional on defense, fielding at a .981 clip with just a pair of errors on the weekend. The bats, the bullpen and defense had hindered Mizzou through the first two weekends of SEC play, but Mizzou did all three things really well last weekend en-route to the series win. The series was Arkansas' first home series loss since March of 2015 when it lost to LSU. Mizzou then took a midweek game Tuesday vs. SIUE, 9-6, jumping out to a 9-0 lead after four innings.

@MizzouBaseball 🛩 🔯

2015 was his redshirt season Big, projectable frame at 6-7 Live arm to go with big frame Used 2015 to put on weight and his development in that area should pay dividends as his measurables offer him a chance to be special on the mound - 88-92 with his fastball. Deceptive arm action and pitches downhill as the ball jumps on hitters

■ Tossed shutout 3.1 innings in two appearances last week, earning a save with three hits and two walks. Save was last Tuesday at SLU.

Led Mizzou in App in 2014, 2015 (31) ■ His stuff has tons of movement and he can be a big strikeout guy and neutralizes lefties with a deceptive release. Sits 86-89 with his fastball but uses it as a set-up for his off-speed offerings, which induce plenty of swings and misses. Works backwards.

■ Moved back to the bullpen last week and was lights out, tossing 2.1 IP in 2 appearances, allowing just 1 hit, 1 BB with four Ks. Shut the door for his first save on the season Saturday at Ark. - Earned save Tuesday vs. SIUE

BOND, BENES, HARRIS RAKE

Heading into the season, Mizzou head coach Tim Jamieson and the rest of the coaching staff was counting on major contributions from its sophomores in the lineup - 3B Shane Benes, C Brett Bond and OF Trey Harris. After the Vanderbilt series, the trio seemed to be in a 26-game slump, hitting just a combined 62-for-280 (.221). Considering the trio hit a combined .270 a season ago while popping 25 extra-base hits and 55 RBI, the .221 clip was alarming. But the trio seemed to collectively come out of it the funk in four games last week, hitting a combined 13-for-40 (.325) with 10 runs, five doubles, one triple and three homers while driving in 11 runs and walking eight times. Mizzou's lineup was much more productive last week and the increased production from that sophomore group was a huge reason why. The duo went 3-for-11 with a run and two RBI Tuesday vs. SIUE

BULLPEN DIALED IN

Mizzou's bullpen was sensational last week in four games, allowing just two earned runs (three total runs) in 15.1 innings of work with three saves and a win. In all, the bullpen last week was comprised of RHP Cole Bartlett, RHP Liam Cater, LHP Brian Sharp, LHP Austin Tribby and RHP Nolan Gormacki. Those five bullpen arms allowed just 14 hits in those 15.1 innings, striking out 10 and walking six.

EXTRA BASES

Mizzou's offense slugged 18 extra-base hits in four games last week, averaging 4.5 per contest. The 18 hits were comprised of 12 doubles, two triples and four homers as Mizzou slugged .485 as a team last week. In comparison, Mizzou allowed just eight extra-base hits in the four games. The 18 extra-base hits come as an up-tick for a team that averaged just 2.3 extra-base knocks per contest through the first 26 games this season. Mizzou hit three more extra-base hits Tuesday vs. SIUE.

MIZZOU HAS TWO FRESHMEN OF THE WEEK 🍪 🧷

In two of the first three weeks of the season, Mizzou earned SEC Freshman of the Week honors as first-year players have continued to play a huge role for Tim Jamieson's club in 2016. OF Connor Brumfield earned the first honor for Mizzou following his performance in week two of the season. Brumfield led Mizzou in batting (.476), on-base percentage (.577), slugging (.619), RBI (10), doubles (three) and total bases (13) while going 7-for-10 with runners in scoring position and driving in three game-winning RBIs in five wins that week (four over Hofstra, one at FIU). UTIL Brian Sharp then earned the award following week three. Sharp was sensational that week, guiding Mizzou to a 4-1 record over five games. He picked up his second career win and second career save on the mound while hitting .333 with three runs and two RBI in the Mizzou lineup that week. Add Houck's SEC Pitcher of the Week distinction from last Monday and Mizzou has earned three SEC weekly honors this season.

DYNAMIC DUO...

Mizzou's top two pitchers - Reggie McClain and Tanner Houck are arguably the top 1-2 punch in any pitching rotation in the SEC, which makes them one of most feared in the nation. So far this season, the duo is a combined 6-3 with a combined 2.66 ERA in 101.1 innings, allowing just 84 hits and 15 walks with 100 strikeouts. Since each came to Mizzou last season, they have pitched more innings than any than any duo in the SEC (303.0 IP) and have a combined 3.30 ERA and a combined 271-46 strikeout-walk ratio. They are a combined 22-15 in wins and losses as well.

LAVY ON FIRE

Over the last 21 games, the leader of Mizzou's offense has been senior 1B Zach Lavy, who is batting a team-best .363 with seven doubles, three homers, four triples and 27 RBI while scoring 18 runs. He has also walked six times in those 21 games and leads Mizzou in batting, slugging, OBP, hits, doubles and homers in that span. He has also been exceptional defensively, fielding at a .995 clip despite leading the team in chances. His resurgence in the Mizzou offense comes after he hit just .231 with two RBI in the first 10 games of the season. On the year, Lavy leads the team in runs (28), doubles (10), extra-base hits (18), slugging and hits (38). In that span, he had a five-RBI game vs. YSU on that Friday, becoming the first Mizzou player with five RBI in a game since Josh Lester drove in five against Truman State on March 10, 2015.

HOUCK SET FOR TEAM USA AGAIN

RHP Tanner Houck has accepted an invitational to play with USA Baseball's Collegiate National Team for the second consecutive summer, as announced Monday by Mizzou head coach Tim Jamieson and USA Baseball. Houck, a Preseason All-American and Preseason All-SEC pick, spent last summer with the Collegiate National Team and he is the first Mizzou player to earn a spot on the team twice. He was sensational with Team USA a year ago, earning USA Baseball's International Performance of the Year for starting and throwing four perfect innings in a combined no-hitter against Cuba. In all, he Houck Team USA starters in ERA (2.16) and led the team in innings pitched (16.2) and strikeouts (14) while limiting batters to just .213 hitting and owning a 14-1 strikeout-walk ratio.

MIZZOU QUICK HITS...

Mizzou is third in the SEC with 26 double plays so far this season. Mizzou turned five double plays last Tuesday night vs. St. Louis at Kauffman Stadium, a season-high mark. In fact, it is the most double plays by a Mizzou team since April 26, 2014, at Florida.

Mizzou leads the SEC with 160 walks this season, just ahead of Vanderbilt (151). Three Mizzou players have walked more than 20 times this season, led by Jake Ring's 23 while six of Mizzou's regular starters have walked 17 or more times. The only Mizzou player with more than 80 at-bats who has walked fewer than 10 times is slugger Zach Lavy who leads the team in nearly all power hitting numbers.

Mizzou stole eight bases against Seton Hall in the second game of the season, the most by a Tiger team since 2011 against Le Moyne and just two off of the school record. Mizzou is third in the SEC with 26 steals.

Mizzou has three shutouts this season and had five a season ago giving them eight in the last 88 games since Tim Jamieson took over as pitching coach. Mizzou had just seven shutouts from 2011-14 before Jamieson took over as pitching coach last season, a span of 223 games.

Mizzou hit four homers the Sunday game against UIC, marking the first time Mizzou has done that since May 2, 2015, in an 18-1 romp of Ole Miss. The 13 runs scored that game are a season-high and also the most for a Mizzou team since that Ole Miss game. Mizzou also hit two homers in the fourth inning of that game, marking the first time Mizzou had a multi-homer inning since that Ole Miss game as well.

🧎 Mizzou has a pair of walk-off wins this season and had four last season, giving them six in the last 88 games. Mizzou had just five from 2012-14, a span of 164 games.

Mizzou's three freshmen in the lineup have been incredible with runners in scoring position. The trio is hitting a combined 29-for-91 (.318) w/ RISP this season while Connor Brumfield and Brian Sharp rank 1-3 on the team w/ RISP (.406 and .367, respectively).

HOUCK IS TOP 2017 DRAFT PROSPECT...

Mizzou Baseball sophomore righty Tanner Houck was tabbed as the No. 1 prospect for the 2017 Major League Baseball Draft according to PerfectGame.com, as the website released its annual rankings on Dec. 2. Houck, a consensus Freshman All-American in 2015, was also dubbed as the top-rated collegiate prospect in the 2017 draft by Baseball America earlier this season.

Houck put together one of the best freshman seasons in Mizzou baseball history. His eight wins are the most by a Tiger freshman since Kyle Gibson (a former first-round draft pick) in 2007 and his 100.2 innings are the most ever by a Tiger freshman under Tim Jamieson. At the end of the regular season, he had thrown more innings than any other freshman in the country. He compiled a 3.49 ERA on the season, striking out 91 batters over 100.2 innings while walking just 12 in 15 starts as a freshman.

HOUCK, HOWARD PLAY WITH TEAM USA...

Mizzou Baseball's Ryan Howard and Tanner Houck wrapped up impressive stints with the USA Baseball Collegiate National Team (CNT) last summer. Overall, the team went 9-8 against some of the world's best competition and Howard and Houck were key in many of those nine wins. Below is a look:

SS Ryan Howard - Howard hit .310 in the 17-game tour with four doubles, a homer, six runs and three RBI. He started 16 of the 17 games at short and committed just three errors while playing some of the nation's top competition. He homered in Team USA's July 4, 11-1 win over Cuba, also notching a double in that win. Howard was incredibly consistent as well, hitting .313 against lefties and .310 against righties during the summer and hit a blistering .345 with runners on base and .286 with runners in scoring position. When leading off an inning he reached base at a .455 clip as well. Just as he did with Mizzou last spring, Howard was incredible with two outs, hitting .370 on the summer while ranking third on the team in two-out RBIs. Howard had five multi-hit games, second-best on the team, and at one point put together a 13-game streak in which he reached base safely, also second-best of the team.

SP Tanner Houck - Houck was one of the headliners on a loaded Team USA pitching staff and the Tiger sophomoreto-be led the CNT in inning pitched (16.2), strikeouts (14) and walked just one batter in four appearances (three starts) while compiling a 2.16 ERA, second-best on the team among players with multiple starts. He started a team-high three games and threw 4.0 perfect innings in a combined no-hitter against Cuba on July 1. Houck limited batters to .213 hitting and allowed just one double in 16.2 innings. His WHIP for the summer was a tremendous 0.96. He was also sensational against lefties, allowing just two hits all summer (.143 average) and allowed just five two-out hits all summer. His 0.54 walks per nine led the team as did his 14-1 strikeout-walk ratio. Houck earned USA Baseball's International Performance of the Year for his four perfect inning in the combined no-hitter vs. Cuba, as announced by USA Baseball on Feb. 3.

HOWARD, RING AMONG TOP 300 PROSPECTS...

D1Baseball.com released its list of the top 300 prospects for the 2016 MLB Draft in college baseball prior to the start of the season. Two Mizzou players made their way to the list and those two players - SS Ryan Howard and CF Jake Ring - figure to be the cornerstone of Mizzou's offense. Howard checked in at No. 97 while Ring rated as No. 217 on the list. Howard hit a team-best .308 last season and led the team in hits (69), at-bats (224) and total bases (97). He will be looked at as one of the SEC's top shortstops this season. Ring had a breakout sophomore season in which he hit .282 while leading the team in doubles (15) and extra-base hits (22) and runs. He hit with tremendous power in the fall and will be a huge factor at the top of the lineup in 2016.

HOUCK PRESEASON ALL-AMERICAN...

Mizzou Baseball sophomore righty Tanner Houck has been named a Preseason All-American by D1Baseball.com and PerfectGame.com as announced in January. Houck, who was a consensus Freshman All-American a year ago, landed on D1Baseball's and PerfectGame's All-America Third Team. Houck is Mizzou's first Preseason All-American since Kyle Gibson and Trevor Coleman earned the distinction in 2009.

McCLAIN, HOUCK HONORED BY PERFECTGAME...

Mizzou Baseball starting pitchers Tanner Houck and Reggie McClain were both honored by PerfectGame.com as the national baseball publication released its top collegiate players by class this week. Houck checked in as the No. 1 college sophomore nationally while McClain was rated as the eighth-best college senior. Mizzou joins just Florida, Kentucky and LSU as the only SEC schools to bring back both its 2015 Friday and Saturday starters.

SHANE BENES HEALTHY... 100 100 100

So far in 2016, Mizzou has gotten a hefty boost to its offense as slugger Shane Benes is fully healthy after recovering from a pair of ACL tears over his senior year of high school and during his freshman year fall at Mizzou. Benes missed the first 39 games of 2015 but made an impact when finally being inserted into the starting lineup. He hit a triple off the wall in his first at-bat and slugged seven extra-base hits in 71 at-bats last season (seven of his 16 hits were for extra bases) including two homers and four doubles. Benes is the son of former No. 1 overall draft pick Andy Benes, who had a long major league career, most notably with the St. Louis Cardinals. Benes is penciled in at third base and is one of the top prospects to watch for the 2017 draft. He has the most power potential of any player on the Mizzou roster.

DOHERTY, HUNT PLAY MULTIPLE SPORTS.. 🕠 🔗

Hunt. Both players also played football at Mizzou in the fall. Doherty, a freshman, redshirted in the fall with the football team while Hunt had a tremendous senior season, earning the nickname 'The Human First Down' from the Mizzou faithful. This is the first season with the baseball program for both players. Hunt had 185 yards on 42 carries with 203 yards on six catches and had Mizzou's three longest plays from scrimmage in the fall. He was a standout pitcher in high school as well. Doherty was the top overall recruit in the state of Missouri coming out of high school on the diamond and has scouts drooling over his five-tool skill set. He is a running back with Barry Odom's football team. Mizzou is the only team in the SEC with two baseball/ football players. Alabama and South Carolina each have one.

HOWARD TABBED BEST INF ARM IN SEC... 💪 🦾

Mizzou SS Ryan Howard is primed for a breakout season and should be one of the most talked-about players as he ushers in a new crop of talented SEC shortstops following last year's group that largely departed to the MLB Draft. Baseball America tabbed Howard as the best infield arm among infielders in the SEC, quite an honor considering the talent level in the league. Howard fielded at .972 last season at the infield's toughest position and committed just seven errors at short. The seven errors by Howard are the fewest by a Mizzou starting shortstop in the last decade.

MIZZOU TELEVISED...

Mizzou Baseball will have 10 of its games in 2016 featured on national television through the Southeastern Conference's television deal with ESPN, as announced by the SEC on Thursday (Jan. 14). In addition to Mizzou's 10 games on the ESPN family of networks, Mizzou's game at Florida on March 18 will be featured as part of a four-hour Bases Loaded special on SEC Network, a show that will feature a compilation of all seven SEC games taking place on opening night of league action. Seven of Mizzou's 10 televised games will air on SEC Network while the remaining three will air live on ESPNU. In addition to Mizzou's televised games through the ESPN deal, every game at Taylor Stadium will be streamed on SEC Network-Plus with the exception of Mizzou's March 5 doubleheader vs. UIC. All SEC games at opposing schools will be on SEC Network-Plus as well.

ON THE AIR... (a) (ii)

Once again, KTGR ESPN Radio is the radio home of the Tigers, with all of the games being broadcast on 103.1-FM, 100.5-FM and 1580-AM. The games can also be heard online at KTGR.com. Tex Little is in his 26th season of calling Tiger Baseball and is joined in the booth by Mizzou graduate assistant coach Trevor Coleman as an analyst. Coleman is one of the most recognizable names and faces from some of the most winningest teams in program history as he was a standout for Tim Jamieson and the Tigers from 2007-09. Coleman was the team's catcher and one of the top hitters during his time with Mizzou, amassing a 116-66 overall record over his three seasons. He helped the 2007 team win 42 games and host the NCAA Regional round at Taylor Stadium. He again helped the Tigers to 39 wins and a Regional the following year in 2008.

Coleman was the 2007 Big 12 Freshman of the Year and a Louisville Slugger Freshman All-American after hitting .282 in 49 games, tallying nine homers, 11 doubles and 42 RBI. He then hit .295 in 2008 and .260 in 2009 before being drafted by the Seattle Mariners in the ninth round of the 2009 First Year Player Draft.

MIZZOU HELPING PUPPIES... 🐼 🐯 🕠

The Mizzou Baseball team has partnered with the Puppies With Purpose program again for the 2016 season in an effort to help raise money for Columbia service dogs. The initiative, dubbed "K's for K9's," will allow fans to pledge a donation amount to be paid per strikeout during the 2016 season.

"I'm a dog lover," head coach Tim Jamieson said. "I've read more and more about dogs and actually researched whether or not there were places in Missouri that train dogs for this purpose and ironically find out that there's one in Columbia and one on Mizzou's campus. So it seemed like it was a really good fit and I introduced it to our players and they are really excited about it."

MIZZOU ADDS, JERRY ZULLI, JC FIELD...

Mizzou Baseball head coach Tim Jamieson has announced the hiring of Jerry Zulli and J.C. Field, a Mizzou standout from 2005-06, as the program's assistant coach and volunteer assistant coach, respectively.

Jerry Zulli is one of college baseball's rising coaching stars, and joins Mizzou as the program's new assistant coach and recruiting coordinator. Zulli (pronounced ZOO-lee) will comes to Mizzou after an incredibly successful stint as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at South Alabama, where he was the key architect to three top-50 recruiting classes, one 40-win season and two Sun Belt Conference Championships. Zulli brings to Mizzou the reputation of being a tireless recruiter. In three of his four seasons at South Alabama, he put together top-50 recruiting classes, including a 2013 recruiting class that ranked 29th overall by Collegiate Baseball Newspaper. That class was a key contributor to last season's South Alabama team that won 37 games and the Sun Belt Conference Championship, the program's second in three years. He has forged recruiting ties all across the SEC footprint after assistant coaching stints at South Alabama, Memphis and Middle Georgia College and routinely turned in top-rated recruiting classes despite battling SEC schools for the same prospects.

Field is an up-and-coming coach with a résumé that includes coaching stints at North Dakota and Southeast Missouri. He joins Mizzou after spending the last seven seasons at North Dakota, including the last two as the program's associate head coach. At UND, Field oversaw the team's hitters, catchers and outfielders while leading the team's west coast recruiting efforts.

UP NEXT...

Mizzou heads to Missouri State for an in-state showdown next Tuesday at 6:35 p.m. Tex Little and Trevor Coleman will have the call on KTGR. For all the latest on Mizzou Baseball, stay tuned to MUTigers.com and follow the team on Twitter @ MizzouBaseball.

MAX SCHERZER // SP // WASHINGTON NATIONALS

- ▶ One could make the argument that Max Scherzer is the most successful professional athlete to ever come out of Mizzou, in any sport, A three-time MLB All-Star and 2013 AL Cv Young winner, Scherzer has led the American League in wins twice and is coming off of a season in which he threw two no-hitters for the Washington Nationals.
- ▶ Under Tim Jamieson, Scherzer was sensational at Mizzou, earning Big 12 Pitcher of the Year honors in 2005 while being inducted into the 2012 Mizzou Athletics Hall of Fame class. He was drafted 11th overall in 2005 (the first ever Tiger to be drafted in the first round) and began a long line of Mizzou hurlers taken in
- ▶ Scherzer debuted in the major leagues on April 29, 2008, He earned the American League Cy Young in 2013, opening the season with a 12-0 mark while starting the All-Star Game. He surpassed the 1,000-strikeout mark that season and finished the regular season with a 21-3 record and a 2.90 ERA with a 0.97 WHIP and a career-high 240 strikeouts. He was the league's only 20-game winner that season and received 28 of 30 first-place votes in the Cy Young balloting that year.
- ▶ Scherzer signed a seven-year deal worth $210 million with the Washington Nationals prior to the 2015 season. He tossed two no-hitters (one batter shy of a perfect game against the Pirates in June) and had two game scores of 97 or better, becoming the first to do that twice in a season since Pedro Martinez in 2000 -Nolan Ryan in 1990 is the only other pitcher to do so.

IAN KINSLER // 2B // DETROIT TIGERS

- ▶ Despite spending just one season at Mizzou, lan Kinsler made quite an impact and was a star that helped lay the foundation for a Mizzou team that went to NCAA Regionals from 2003-09. His 2003 team was the first regional team at Mizzou since 1996. He was inducted into the Mizzou Athletics Hall of Fame in 2013.
- ▶ Kinsler is a four-time MLB All-Star, has twice joined the 30-30 club and was the 2014 Wilson Defensive Player of the Year winner at second base in 2014.
- ▶ He first joined the 30-30 club in 2009 and hit for the cycle that season as well. While with the Rangers, he set club records for leadoff homers and times stealing third base. He again went for 30-30 in 2011, again for the Rangers. That year, he hit a leadoff homer in each of the first two games of the season, becoming the first player to ever accomplish that feat.
- ▶ Kinsler was an All-Star in 2008, 2010, 2012 and 2014, doing so most recently with the Detroit Tigers.
- ▶ He is a lifetime .276 hitter with 184 homers, 704 RBI, 324 doubles, 942 runs scored and 197 stolen bases.

KYLE GIBSON // SP // MINNESOTA TWINS

- ▶ After a successful career at Mizzou, Kyle Gibson was a first round draft pick in 2009, going 22nd overall to the Minnesota Twins. He made his major league debut in 2013 as Tommy John surgery slowed his progress to the major leagues.
- ▶ Serving as the Twins No. 3 starter in 2014, he had a breakout season in 2015, earning the club's Pitcher of the Year Award, tallying 11 wins and a 3.84 ERA in a team-high 194.2 innings, striking out 145 batters.
- ▶ Gibson has been touted as a possible breakout star in 2016, so he is certainly a pitcher to watch as the Twins have hopes of getting back to the postseason with Gibson heading the pitching staff.

AARON CROW // RP // MIAMI MARLINS

- ▶ Aaron Crow was the heir apparent to Max Scherzer and he was outstanding in college, guiding Mizzou to host the 2007 Columbia Regional. He went 23-8 with a 3.27 ERA in his college career and the highlight of his career came in 2006 when he earned his first career victory in a complete game over Pepperdine, staving off elimination in the regional round as Mizzou became the first ever #4 seed to win a regional that season.
- ▶ In 2007, Crow went 13-0 with a 2.35 ERA and was named Big 12 Pitcher of the Year with four complete game shutouts. He had a 43.1 shutout inning streak that season.
- ▶ Crow was drafted in the first round twice, going as high as ninth before electing to not sign with the Nationals in 2008. In 2006, he was drafted 12th by the Royals and wound up becoming an All-Star in 2011 with the club. He was moved to Miami but missed the 2014 season with Tommy John surgery.

TIM JAMIESON

22nd Season at Mizzou - Head Coach/Pitching Coach New Orleans, 1984 Career Record: 690-548-2

- Second-winningest coach in Mizzou history
- 75 players drafted in his tenure, including four first-round picks
- 15 30-win seasons at Mizzou, including two 40-win seasons
- Nine NCAA Regionals
- 2006 NCAA Malibu Regional Champions
- Two Conference Championships
- Two-Time Conference Coach of the Year
- Took over coaching the pitchers last season

JAMIESON'S SEC CONNECTIONS

Mississippi State head coach John Cohen was an assistant to Jamieson from 1995-97 and the two were assistant coaches under Gene McArtor at Mizzou from 1992-94.

Coach J and LSU head coach Paul Mainieri were college teammates at New Orleans

Arkansas associate head coach Tony Vitello was an assistant under Jamieson at Mizzou from 2003-10.

No head coach has been at Mizzou longer than Mizzou baseball's Tim Jamieson, who will enter his 22nd season at the helm of the program in 2016. Jamieson was tasked with transitioning a team that had rose to be one of the most consistent programs in the Big 12 to a program that can compete in the premier baseball conference in America - the SEC. In 2015, Jamieson led one of the nation's top turn-around stories as Mizzou finished third in a loaded SEC East while ranking as high as No. 14 nationally. He garnered plenty of SEC Coach of the Year consideration and Mizzou Director of Athletics Mack Rhoades rewarded Jamieson with a three-year contract as the Mizzou skipper once again has his Tigers poised for another successful run through the nation's best baseball conference.

In his 21 seasons at the helm of the program, Jamieson has compiled a 675-537-2 overall record as he is the second-winningest coach in program history, trailing only Gene McArtor's 733 career wins.

2015 may have been one of the top coaching jobs in Jamieson's career, and that came as he took over as pitching coach while also serving as the head coach. Picked to finish dead last in the SEC in the preseason by virtually every preseason publication, Jamieson's team used great pitching and defense to win six of 10 SEC series, including series wins over two top-10 programs, en-route to a third-place finish in the SEC East. A talented freshman class with key upperclassmen were paramount to the success. He coached RHP Tanner Houck to Unanimous Freshman All-America honors and closer Breckin Williams was a second-team All-SEC honoree under Jamieson's tutelage. Three of his pitchers from 2015 were drafted over the summer as well.

Winning with class and high-character have been trademarks of Jamieson's tenure at Mizzou and he has done a phenomenal job of upholding the school's and the athletic department's core values during his 21 years. And he has done it while producing some of the top talent that has ever come through Mizzou - in any sport. Coaching the likes of 2013 American League Cy Young winner Max Scherzer and four-time MLB All-Star Ian Kinsler, it can be argued that Jamieson has seen more of his athletes excel at the next level than any other coach in history at Mizzou, in any sport.

That is why Jamieson is the perfect coach to lead Mizzou into its fourth year in the Southeastern Conference. His body of work speaks for itself as does his ability to groom players for the next level. He took Max Scherzer, an unpolished power arm out of St. Louis, from a high school player that was drafted in the 43rd round to a first-round draft pick. Aaron Crow, now an All-Star pitcher for the Miami Marlins went undrafted out of high school and was twice a first-round pick by the time he was done at Mizzou. Most recently, Rob Zastryzny - undrafted out of high school - was selected with the second pick of the second round by the Chicago Cubs. At the helm of one of the last decade's most consistent programs, paired with the resources that are available in the SEC, look for Jamieson to get Mizzou rolling while playing aside the best competition in the country week-in and week-out.

2012 was a memorable season for the Tiger skipper as he won his 600th career game - a 5-0 decision over Texas in the first round of the Big 12 Tournament - all while winning his first ever Big 12 Championship and guiding Mizzou to its eighth NCAA Tournament in 10 seasons.

A native of Columbia, Jamieson grew up attending several Tigers' games. After his playing days at the University of New Orleans, he spent six seasons on the UNO coaching staff before returning to Columbia in 1988 where he was an assistant coach under McArtor for six seasons before becoming head coach following the 1994 season.
