NEWS AND NOTES

BALANCED ATTACK

Four Wildcats are averaging double-digits in scoring since December 15. Joe French leads with 13.25 ppg in four games played, followed by Kevin Davis with 12, Marcus Garrett with 10.8, and Collins Joseph with 10 over their last six games played.

EXPLOSIVE PERFORMANCES

At least one Wildcat has scored over 15 points in five straight games, highlighted by a 31-point showing from French and a 26-point effort from Davis. Four of the top 20 scoring performances in the SWAC this season belong to either Joe French or Kevin Davis.

NO FREE POINTS

The Wildcats have allowed the second-fewest free throw attempts in the SWAC so far this season with 255.

BOARD MEN GET WINS

The Wildcats grab an average of 33.7 rebounds per game, the fourth-highest mark in the SWAC. B-CU ranks third in the conference in rebounding margin. Each of the three B-CU victories this season came when the Wildcats won the rebounding battle - they are winless in games in which they are out-rebounded.

STICKY HANDS

The Wildcats continue to boast the fewest turnovers per game in the SWAC thus far this season, turning the ball over only 12.9 times per game.

DEFENSE IS KEY

The Wildcats are winless this season when opponents shoot better than 45% from the field. All three Wildcats victories came when the Wildcats finished the game with more steals than their opponent.

REGGIE THEUS • HEAD COACH • 1ST SEASON

Former NBA All-Star turned coach Reggie Theus was named to the dual role of Athletic Director and Men's Basketball Coach for Bethune-Cookman University on July 7, 2021.

During his NBA playing career, Theus scored over 19,000 points and had over 6,000 assists. Theus oversees the Wildcats' vast athletic programs.

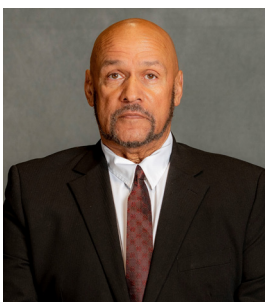

The Wildcats could not be any more excited about Reggie Theus taking the lead," said Interim President Hiram Powell. "We have a respected and beloved athletic program with a remarkable legacy, and like our peer institutions, our programs have been disrupted due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Having Reggie launch our new season and directing the future of our athletes will take us to the next level."

Theus, 63, has extensive experience both as a player, as well as a coach. Theus, who played for the Orlando Magic, also played for the Chicago Bulls, Sacramento Kings, Atlanta Hawks, and New Jersey Nets. Theus later returned as head coach of the Sacramento Kings. During his career, Theus served as an assistant coach at the University of Louisville under Rick Pitino, where the team went to The Final Four.

As head coach of the New Mexico State Aggies, Theus led them to the NCAA tournament in only his second year as head coach. He has also served in coaching roles with the Minnesota Timberwolves, and later was named head coach of California State University, Northridge. In addition to his playing and coaching careers, Theus has worked as a college and NBA sports broadcaster in various markets, including serving as a studio analyst for Turner Sports, The Los Angeles Lakers, and Sirius XM NBA Radio.

"I've had the great fortune of working in both professional and college sports most of my career, and being presented the opportunity to lead B-CU's athletic department is another dream being fulfilled," Theus said. "Becoming part of the family and culture of such a respected HBCU is the chance of a lifetime. I am eager to share my professional sports experiences to take the Wildcats even further. I look forward to every moment of this new role."
