Head Coach • 0-18 Overall, 0-9 SWAC (2nd Season)

Frank Davies, the most decorated soccer coach in the Southwestern Athletic Conference, joined Mississippi Valley State University in January 2020 as Head Coach of the women's soccer program. Davies leads the conference with five divisional titles and he's tied for second with two conference tournament championships.

Davies brings 22 years of collegiate coaching experience to MVSU, and has had a United States Soccer Coaching Federation Level A License since 2007. Prior to Valley, Davies was the women's soccer coach at Alabama A&M from 1999 to 2016. He led his Lady Bulldogs soccer teams to SWAC tournament championships in 2003 and 2007 with the latter season earning AAMU its lone trip to the NCAA Tournament. The team was SWAC runner-up in 2004 and 2006 to go along with semifinals appearances in 2005 and 2009.

Prior to A&M, Davies was a head coach of the girl's program at Grissom High School where he led the varsity team to consecutive State Championships. He then coached both the boy's and girls' soccer programs at Huntsville High School in 1998. While managing both squads, Davies led the boys to a state semifinals appearance and the girls made the state tournament for the first time in school history.

Davies also spent time as the Head Coach of Martin Methodist from 1995-97. Davies, while the leader of the men's program at Martin Methodist, took the initiative to start the women's program and within two years he took the women's team to the conference playoffs. During his tenure, Davies also led the men to the TranSouth Conference Tournament, where they finished as a semifinalist. His two-year record with the Martin Methodist men's squad was 13-20.

From 1990–1991, he was the Assistant Coach at the University of Alabama in Huntsville, his alma mater, where he was responsible for player development and on-field coaching with an emphasis on forwards and midfielders. Davies graduated from UAH with a Bachelors of Science in engineering.

About Mississippi Valley State University

The institution, which opened in 1950, was created by the Mississippi Legislature as Mississippi Vocational College. The legislation to form the institution was signed into law by Governor Thomas L. Bailey on April 5, 1946. On February 10, 1950, Governor Fielding L. Wright served as the main speaker at the opening ceremony.[5]

The legislature anticipated that legal segregation of public education was in danger because there were increasing challenges to it through legal suits (in 1954 it was declared unconstitutional in the United States Supreme Court's decision in Brown v. Board of Education). It created this institution in the hopes that it would attract African-American applicants who might otherwise apply to Mississippi's premier whites-only institutions: the University of Mississippi, Mississippi State University, and the University of Southern Mississippi.

State leaders hoped that founding separate institutions of higher learning for Mississippi's black population would reduce the pressure to integrate the state's premier universities. To attract the support of those who opposed any government action to provide higher education to blacks, those proposing creation of M.V.C. used the term "vocational" to imply that the institution's main purpose would be to train blacks to take on blue-collar jobs.

The site selection committee appointed by the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning had originally selected as a site the former Greenwood Army Air Base, which had many facilities ready for use and thus would have been a very cost-effective choice. The Greenwood Commonwealth celebrated the choice. However, residents of Carroll County, Mississippi objected to having the institution located near their properties.

After further study, the committee selected a site in Itta Bena. Whites of that town also objected to having a black institution nearby, so the final site chosen was away from the downtown area, and on land that was not good for cultivation.

In 1964, Mississippi Vocational College was renamed Mississippi Valley State College. In February 1969, a nonviolent student boycott, which included eight hundred students, male and female, was organized to protest President James Herbert White's administration. The students demanded required courses in black history, more library purchases of works by black writers, remedial courses in English and Math, scheduling of prominent black speakers, and fewer curfew restrictions.

In the early 1970s, civil rights leaders continued to protest the inequalities in higher education opportunities offered to whites and blacks in Mississippi. In an effort to defuse some of the criticism, Gov. Bill Waller proposed changing the names of three black institutions from "colleges" to "universities". Thus, in 1974, the institution was renamed again, as Mississippi Valley State University.

Following President White, Dr. Ernest A. Boykins, Jr. took office in July 1971. Dr. Joe L. Boyer became MVSU's third president in January 1982 and was followed by Dr. William W. Sutton in July 1988. Dr. Lester C. Newman became the fifth president of MVSU on July 1, 1998. Dr. Donna H. Oliver became MVSU's sixth president and first female president on January 1, 2009. On November 6, 2013, Dr. William Bynum took office as MVSU's seventh president.

In May 2017, Bynum departed MVSU to become president of Jackson State University. Dr. Jerryl Briggs, who served as executive vice president and chief operating officer in Bynum's administration, was named interim president of the university shortly afterwards. On October 19, 2017, Briggs was officially named as the university's eighth president.

In a 1997 article in Innovative Higher Education, the journalist Dale Thorn describes MVSU's successful attempt to avoid a merger with another institution and to remain a separate entity.

In 1998, the university renamed many of the buildings on campus, except for those named for white supremacist politicians Walter Sillers, Jr., Fielding Wright, and J. H. White
