Surrounded by pines and aspens and sitting at the base of the 12,633-foot San Francisco Peaks, Flagstaff is in the middle of the Coconino National Forest, the largest contiguous stand of ponderosa pines in the world, at an elevation of 7,000 feet above sea level. Flagstaff is surrounded by incredible scenery, including the Grand Canyon National Park, Lake Powell, the Sedona red rocks, Monument Valley, Sunset Crater and Oak Creek Canyon.

MEDIA INFORMATION

MEDIA RELATIONS OFFICE

The media relations office is located on the east concourse of the J. Lawrence Walkup Skydome. The phone number is (928) 523-6792 or 6330, and the fax number is 6793.

INTERVIEWS

All player interviews MUST be coordinated through the media relations office at least one day in advance. NO interviews or photo shoots will be conducted the day of a match prior to first serve. Out-of-town media should contact media relations to arrange phone interviews. Players will be available for interviews following practice and, if prior arrangements have been made, before practice. The NAU locker room and training room are closed to media.

Head coach Craig Choate and his staff are generally available for interviews after practice. To set up personal and phone interviews at other times, contact the media relations office at 928-523-6330 to set up the session. To confirm practice times each day, contact media relations.

PRACTICE

Daily workouts are generally closed to the public due to space constraints, but media members are allowed upon confirmation of practice times with the media relations office. Generally, practice starts at 2 p.m. in Rolle Activity Center, though the schedule could change without prior notice.

MEDIA PASS LIST

In lieu of credentials, working media will be placed on a media list that will be at the ticket table near the northwest entrance to Rolle Activity Center. Media members assigned to work a match must provide their names to the media relations office at least 24 hours in advance.

PHOTOGRAPHY/VIDEOGRAPHY

For safety, photographers and videographers are not permitted inside the sponsorship tables surrounding the court unless prior permission has been obtained from the media relations office. Due to space constraints, only those on assignment are placed on the pass list. Please provide names at least 24 hours in advance.

MEDIA SERVICES

Box scores for each set will be issued during the match, with a final box at the conclusion. Prior to first serve, a match program with team rosters will be issued to working media.

POSTMATCH

The NAU locker room is closed on the road and in Rolle Activity Center. At home, postmatch interviews will be held courtside with requested players and coaches from both teams. A member of the media relations office will collect requests immediately following the conclusion of the match.

MOUNTAIN STANDARD TIME

Arizona does not recognize Daylight Savings Time. As a result, Flagstaff time coincides with the Pacific time zone through Nov. 1. The rest of the season, Flagstaff is compatible with the Mountain time zone (Eastern time minus two hours).

LUMBERJACKS BY E-MAIL

The media relations office is always compiling a media directory to send out weekly advance releases, event stories and statistics in lieu of a fax. Media members interested in this service should e-mail Karen.Auerbach@nau.edu. Game notes will be available on the website prior to that week's matches. Call Karen Auerbach at 928-523-6330 for more information.

The Northern Arizona University Lumberjack volleyball team makes its home in the Joseph C. Rolle Activity Center, located on the south side of campus. In 2010, the facility celebrates its 22nd season as the everyday home for NAU volleyball.

The facility offers four complete volleyball courts, which the Lumberjacks use for their practices. For home matches, the Rolle Activity Center is set up with one court in the center surrounded on two sides by bleachers and sponsorship tents, with the bleachers seating up to 1,080 fans..

The turnaround of the NAU program has coincided with the team's dominance at home. Since 1995, NAU has posted a solid 120-62 (.659) record at home, which is the fourth-best record in the Big Sky Conference over the last 15 seasons. NAU set a record in 1999 by posting 11 home wins and set the arena record in 2000 by winning 90.9 percent of its home dates (10-1), then tying the mark in 2001. In 2010, the program will have 11 home dates including one home tournament.

The facility will be the home for the Fiesta Bowl, a tournament returning for its 18th year which will take place on September 3-4.

The facility has shown to be fan-friendly, as the Lumberjacks have rated among the nation's top-60 in home attendance for the last several years (out of more than 320 Division I programs).

After 15 seasons in now-raised Lumberjack Gym, the volleyball team moved into the Rolle Activity Center for the 1989 season. The squad was 12-11 in its first two seasons in the facility but has posted a 147-70 (.677) mark in 19 seasons since, including a 61-20 (.753) record against non-conference opponents and a team-record streak of six straight seasons with at least 10 home wins (1996-2001).

Non-league opponents due to come to Rolle in 2010 are Texas A&M Corpus Christi, Rider, and Maryland Eastern Shore for the Fiesta Bowl. In recent seasons, NAU has defeated NCAA Tournament teams Arizona State, Arkansas-Little Rock, Eastern Washington, Memphis, Houston, Oregon State, Radford and Sacramento State in the seasons those schools ended up in the NAAs, winning 71 percent of the games played in those matches (39 of 55).

While serving as the volleyball headquarters, the Rolle Activity Center is also used by the NAU men's and women's basketball teams as a practice facility and home arena for early-season games when the NAU football team is still competing and using the J. Lawrence Walkup Skydome; however, for the 2010-11 season, the volleyball team will share the facility with men's and women's basketball who will play all its home games at Rolle while the Skydome is under construction. Rolle is also used for open recreation and intramurals, and it houses the NAU men's volleyball club team.

The arena has also served as the training-camp home for the Phoenix Suns of the NBA and the WNBA's Phoenix Mercury has used the facility during its preseason training camp.

The gym was dedicated in the name of Dr. Joseph C. Rolle for his contributions as both an administrator and professor at NAU. He and his wife, Marie, annually give the Rolle Award to the most valuable player on both the NAU men's and women's basketball teams.

FIESTA BOWL TOURNAMENT

Rolle Activity Center, which celebrates its 22nd season as the home facility for the Lumberjack volleyball program.

This year, NAU welcomes Texas A&M Corpus Christi (Southland), Rider (MAAC) and Maryland Eastern Shore (MEAC).

NAU has compiled a 40-12 (.769) record in its own event and has won 10 team titles, including two of the last three. Some top programs have participated - Oregon State, Radford, San Diego State, Arkansas-Little Rock, Memphis, Houston, West Virginia and Santa Clara - and all earned national postseason appearances during the seasons in which they visited Flagstaff.

SEASON OUTLOOK

Northern Arizona women's volleyball opens the 2010 fall season with expectations of returning to the Big Sky Tournament after a two-year absense. The Lumberjacks return 10 letter winners all with starting experience, and head coach Craig Choate signed four players in the offseason furthering the prospect of a return to the postseason in 2010.

NAU finished 8-17 overall last year and 5-10 in the Big Sky Conference. The team was picked to finish seventh in the conference this fall.

The Lumberjacks begin the 2010 season in Wyoming with matches against Central Arkansas, Murray State, Southern Utah, and Wyoming. NAU holds a combined 14-9 record against teams at the Wyoming Tournament.

The next week, the Lumberjacks host their annual Fiesta Bowl Tournament. NAU welcomes Texas A&M Corpus Christi, Rider, and Maryland Eastern Shore to the Mountain Campus. The women have won two of the last three Fiesta Bowl titles.

The Lumberjacks close out the non-conference season at the Nevada Wolfpack Invitational the following week. NAU is set to play Nevada, Pacific, and Arizona.

NAU starts the Big Sky Conference regular season at Idaho State on September 17. The Lumberjacks first conference home game will be September 25 against Sacramento State.

Last fall, the Lumberjacks missed the postseason for the second consecutive year. At the Big Sky Championships, Northern Colorado defeated the regular season champions Portland State in the championship final. This year, Montana earned the top spot in the pre-season coaches' poll.

ROSTER BREAKDOWN

Seniors

Chelsea Cheeley returns for her senior season as the most experienced Lumberjack on the roster this fall. She has played in 63 total matches and appeared in a career-high 20 matches last year. As a senior, Cheeley will again see playing time in the middle blocker rotation.

"I want Chelsea to work as hard as she can and get on the floor," Choate said. "She is doing that and doing a nice job so I am happy with where she is at. What she needs to bring is consistency and we are getting closer to that."

Juniors

Katie Bailey is coming off a breakout season appearing in all 25 matches with 24 starts and setting career marks in kills (12) and blocks (10). She is coming off an injury during the offseason, but will return to the lineup later this season.

"Katie had a good sophomore year and we want to see more improvement from her as a junior," said Choate. "She is not playing now, but we are counting on her to be back to her usual form soon."

Sam Hodgkins played in 10 matches last fall at outside hitter. She started six of the final seven conference matches for the Lumberjacks. Hodgkins played her freshman and sophomore seasons on the outside but will move to setter this year.

"Sam is one of our two setters right now," said Choate. "She is doing a pretty nice job considering for the last two years she has not been a setter. She is working hard. Sam has some things we need to clean up but that will get better with time as she transitions into a new position."

Kobi Christensen also produced a breakout season as a sophomore playing in 15 matches and posting a career-high with 17 kills in NAU's five-set win over Eastern Washington last fall. Christensen will move inside to middle blocker this season.

"Kobi has been a real nice surprise," Choate said. "I don't know if she has ever played middle but we moved her over in the spring. She is really doing a nice job getting up fast on balls and bringing some heat. She is blocking better than I thought she would. Kobi is bringing some ball control skills from the outside to the middle position. That is a good deal for us."

Kalena Frank joins the NAU program as a junior and will compete for time at outside hitter.

SEASON OUTLOOK

"She has been the wild card so far," Choate said. "Kalena is out-hitting all the outsides and making our job harder. She is winning points and finding ways to work herself into the lineup. As a coach that is always something you want. She keeps scoring points so it is hard to keep her out of the lineup."

Liz Alford is another junior entering her first season with the Lumberjacks. She spent the last two years playing at the junior college level. Alford plays as an outside hitter.

"Liz is someone that can get back the game she had in junior college," Choate said. "Everyday a little more comes back. She has the ability to be a big outside hitter. She has a chance to help us. Liz is a big block, and when she does times it, she can change things for us."

Sophomores

Lauren Campbell led the team with 2.83 points per set and the most kills with 227. Campbell was one of three Lumberjack players to appear in every match and set last year. She will compete for time at outside hitter.

"Lauren spent a lot of time in the summer playing ball and it shows in her game," Choate said. "She did a good job as a freshman, but had a tough spot in the spring. But she is coming back. Lauren is hitting the ball higher this year and becoming more consistent. She is always 100 miles per hour so we are happy with that."

Kelli Dallmann became the second Lumberjack in as many years to be awarded Big Sky Conference Freshman of the Year. Dallmann split time between setter and outside hitter and produced one of the best seasons among freshman in Division I volleyball. Dallmann will again be asked to fill different roles for NAU this season.

"Kelli is doing a spectacular job at setter," Choate said. "She is so fast and such a good athlete. Now she is setting nice balls from any type of pass. She is a good outside hitter as well but she makes everyone else better as a setter. She is getting more confident with her jump serve too so that is another offensive weapon we have."

Anna Gott also excelled in her first collegiate season leading the Big Sky Conference with 4.60 digs per set as a freshman. She ranks second all-time at NAU in that category as well. Gott will remain the Lumberjacks starting libero this fall.

"Anna started fast and is staying fast," Choate said. "She is our best passer right now. She is doing a great job on defense. She is the smartest volleyball player on our team so it is nice to have her around."

Lexie Schroeder was used as a defensive specialist last year and will continue in a similar role as a sophomore. She played in 23 matches and finished third in digs per set.

"Lexie is starting to pass well now," Choate said. "Lexie always plays excellent defense. We are expecting her to do what she did last year, but also to continue to improve."

Lexi Sullivan began the 2009 season as the Big Sky Conference's reigning Freshman of the Year and was on pace to turn in another brilliant season. She suffered a season-ending injury in the Lumberjacks' first conference match and missed the next 15 matches. Sullivan is healthy and returns for her sophomore year after medically redshirting in 2009.

"The cannon of an arm is still there, but she is not fully back yet," Choate said of Sullivan's progress with summer. "She has not played that much coming off of injury, but when she does get back to form Lexi will be an important piece of our offense."

Jen Wilson emerged for NAU after the first month of the season and played an important role for the Lumberjacks during Big Sky play. Wilson finished third on the team in kills per set and hitting percentage. She played in 21 matches at outside hitter and will assume a similar role as a sophomore.

"She is on her game and hitting well," Choate said. "Jen is still not as consistent as I want, but she is getting there. She is bringing some heat from the outside and can be a big block. Her defense has also improved. I think Jen can have a good season."

Freshmen

Niki Small is one of two freshman this season for the Lumberjacks. She joins the program after a standout career at Ashland High School in Ashland, Ore. Small will be part of the middle block rotation.

"Niki is better every week," said Choate. "She is easily the highest jumping middle we have. She isn't quite used to the pace of the game at the college level and the timing is a bit off. Once she adjusts to that I think Niki will settle in nicely for us."

Keely Stevenson is the second freshman for head coach Craig Choate this fall. Stevenson is a product of El Segundo High School in El Segundo, Calif. She will serve as a defensive specialist and libero this season.

"Keely defensively is on that level and can play with us," Choate said. "That is saying something considering the other girls as freshman did not come in where Keely has. She is not as good a passer yet, but just like with Niki, when she adjusts to the speed she will be fine."

HEAD COACH CRAIG CHOATE

CRAIG CHOATE
Head Coach - Third Year
BYU '78
Career Record 296-283

Craig Choate enters his third year as head coach of the Northern Arizona volleyball program. Prior to coming to NAU, Choate spent one year as an assistant coach for the men's volleyball team at Pepperdine University, and before that was the head women's coach at San Jose State University for 14 years. He has 19 years of head coaching experience.

Last year, Choate returned just four letterwinners from the 2008 season, but brought in one of the deepest and most talented recruiting classes in program history. He led the team to an 8-17 record with, a roster with only two upperclassmen, and at six freshman on the floor. The team improved throughout the year culminating in a five-set win over Eastern Washington, the No. 2 seed in the Big Sky Tournament.

Choate also delivered the Big Sky Conference Freshman of the Year for the second consecutive year. Kelli Dallmann was the Lumberjacks' most versatile player splitting time between setter and outside hitter. She was one of four players in Division I women's volleyball to average 2 kills per set, 3 assists per set, and 2 digs per set. She was also one of five players and the only freshman in Division I volleyball to record more than two triple-doubles.

The Lumberjacks continued to excel in the classroom under Choate's direction with seven Big Sky All-Academic selections. The Lumberjacks finished tied for third with Portland State with the most All-Academic winners in the conference.

The women improved upon its six selections from 2008 and also finished third among NAU's 15 varsity sports in the fall. The Lumberjacks had six players post GPA's of 3.5 or higher and two players, Ashley Ames and Lauren Campbell, turned in a 4.0 GPA in at least one semester. Eleven of 14 student-athletes turned in grade-point-averages (GPA) over 3.0 to earn Golden Eagle Scholar-Athlete awards.

In his first season with the Lumberjacks, Choate led the team to a 15-10 record which was the program's first winning record in seven years. NAU started the season 8-1 in its three non-conference tournaments, winning the team title at all three. At the Lumberjacks' two home tournaments the team was a perfect 6-0.

Senior Brittany Stowers was named the Big Sky Libero of the Year along with earning All-Big Sky First Team honors, and was second in NCAA Division I in digs per set at 6.32. Freshman Lexi Sullivan was named the Big Sky Freshman of the Year as well as All-Big Sky Honorable Mention, and finished the season ranked 25th in the nation in kills per set at 4.13.

Six of Choate's student-athletes earned Big Sky All-Academic honors, and 13 were recipients of NAU Golden Eagle Scholar Athlete Awards. Fourteen of the 16 student-athletes on the roster had GPA's of 3.00 or higher in the fall of 2008, during the competition season. Three of them- Sara Bowden, Roni Greenwood and Kailee Savage, recorded a perfect 4.0 GPA. In the spring semester Stowers and Sullivan also recorded 4.0 GPA's along with Bowden and Savage.

Stowers, with a 3.75 GPA, earned ESPN

award, and for her athletic accomplishments was named to the CVU.com Stellar Spikers First Team alongside athletes from national champion Penn State and runner-up Stanford.

Choate compiled a record of 244-191 in his time at San Jose State including five 20-win seasons, and left as the school's all-time leader in victories. His teams made three NCAA Tournament appearances and advanced to the second round with a win over Santa Clara in 2001. That squad became the first SJSU women's team to be nationally ranked in over a decade.

Choate's 1999 team finished with a record of 25-6, and Choate was named the Western Athletic Conference Coach of the Year that season. During his time at San Jose State, the Spartans defeated seven teams ranked in the Top 25.

His San Jose State squads finished second in the WAC regular season three times and advanced to the championship match of the WAC Tournament in 2001 and 2003. In 1994, the Spartans won 23 matches and finished second at the National Invitational Volleyball Championship.

Choate's coached one of his student-athletes at San Jose State to two All-American honorable mention honors, and he also trained seven all-region athletes and 25 all-conference selections. On the academic side, 21 of Choate's student-athletes were named Academic All-WAC.

Choate had the opportunity to spend a few days in Flagstaff in August of 2006, when his SJSU team went 3-0 at NAU's Hilton Garden Inn Invitational to take the tournament title.

Prior to his long stint at SJSU, Choate was the head women's coach at New Mexico State for three years, from 1990-92. His other coaching experience includes another year as an assistant men's coach at Pepperdine back in 1990 as well as assistant coaching positions with the BYU and Cal Poly women's programs.

As a player, Choate won silver medals at the 1999, 2002, 2003 and 2004 USA Open Volleyball Championships in Atlanta. He participated in the 1981 USVBA senior men's division open championships and received degree in physical education in 1982 and a second undergraduate degree in history in 1984, both from BYU.

THE BIG SKY CONFERENCE

THE BIG SKY CONFERENCE

The Big Sky Conference enters its 48th year of athletic competition in 2010-11. The Big Sky is an NCAA Division I member in all sports, with member institutions classified in the Football Championship Subdivision (formally I-AA). For the fifth straight year, the Big Sky is a nine-team league.

The current lineup includes Eastern Washington, Idaho State, Montana, Montana State, Northern Arizona, Northern Colorado, Portland State, Sacramento State and Weber State. Northern Colorado is the newest member of the league, having joined the conference in 2006.

The league has become one of the strongest Division I conferences in the West and is a national leader in the Football Championship Subdivision. Five times, Big Sky teams have won the Division I National Championship, and Montana has played for the title each of the past two seasons.

The Big Sky Conference was established in 1963 by six charter members – Idaho, Idaho State, Gonzaga, Montana, Montana State and Weber State. Those six schools formed the foundation of the Big Sky before the league expanded in 1970 by adding Boise State and Northern Arizona. Gonzaga left the Sky in 1979 and was replaced by Nevada, which gave the league eight members. The conference grew to nine schools in 1987 with the addition of Eastern Washington.

The 1990s saw change in the makeup of the league, beginning in 1992 when Nevada departed and put the Big Sky back at eight teams. In 1996 Boise State and Idaho left and at the same time the conference added Portland State, Sacramento State and Cal State Northridge. The Big Sky maintained nine teams for five years before Cal State Northridge departed in the spring of 2001.

The Big Sky spreads across eight states spanning from the Pacific Ocean to the Rocky Mountain Front. The Big Sky is represented along the entire west coast with schools in Washington, Oregon and California. League schools also range up and down the Rocky Mountains with institutions in Montana, Idaho, Utah, Arizona and Colorado. Of the eight western-most states in the contiguous United States only one, Nevada, is not represented in the Big Sky.

On Feb 25, 1963, the name Big Sky was adopted by the six presidents of the charter members as the name of the new conference. The name Big Sky originated in a novel written by the late A.B. (Bud) Guthrie of Great Falls, Mont., in 1947 entitled "The Big Sky." Jack Hollowell, a former Montana advertising director, promoted the Big Sky theme for the Treasure State. While on a track and field trip from Pocatello, Idaho, to Missoula, Mont., the legendary Dubby Holt of Idaho State saw a "Welcome to Big Sky Country" sign as his team entered Montana. Holt, and his athletes thought "Big Sky" would be a perfect name for the new conference. Harry Missildine of the Spokane Spokesman-Review called for the newly formed league to be named the Big Sky Conference in his column dated Feb. 20, 1963.

The Big Sky sponsors championships in 14 sports, including men's and women's cross country, indoor and outdoor track and field, basketball and tennis. In addition, there are also championships in football, and women's volleyball, golf and soccer.

The 2010-11 season will mark the 23rd year that the Big Sky Conference will sponsor championships in women's sports. The former Mountain West Conference existed from 1982-88, sponsoring championships for women's sports at the same institutions the Big Sky had

Big Honor for Dallmann

Freshman volleyball player Kelli Dallmann ended the 2009 season as the Big Sky Conference's Outstanding Freshman. She finished with 2.43 kills-per-set, 3.74 assists-per-set and 2.22 digs-per-set and was one of only four players in Division I women's volleyball, and the only freshman, to average more than two kills, three assists and two digs per set.

Getting it Done in the Classroom

The Lumberjacks posted the top grade-point-average (3.49) among NAU's 15 varsity sports in the spring after earning the fourth-best GPA in the fall. Eleven of the 13 student-athletes on the volleyball team turned in grade-point-averages over 3.0 in the spring. The Lumberjacks had eight players post GPA's of 3.5 or higher and two players, Ashley Ames and Lauren Campbell, GPA's of 4.0. The team received the prestigious AVCA Team Academic Award for the second consecutive year.

Taking Down No. 1

On October 16, the Lumberjacks defeated the Big Sky Conference's top team, Eastern Washington, at home in a five-set thriller. NAU the first-place Eagles after opening a two-set lead, dropping the next two, and then finishing the Eagles off in the fifth and final set. NAU won by sets of 25-23, 25-12, 19-25, 26-28, and 15-12.

Top Libero Yet Again

After losing Libero of the Year Brittany Stowers to graduation, Head Coach Craig Choate brought in freshman Anna Gott who led the Big Sky Conference with 4.60 digs per set. Gott, from Phoenix, Ariz., kept Northern Arizona's three-year streak alive leading the Big Sky Conference in digs per set.

NAU VOLLEYBALL HISTORY

So, what is the history of Northern Arizona volleyball? We're glad you asked. Going back to the old AIAW days, NAU has been a player in women's intercollegiate athletics for 34 years now, and in volleyball, the program has been competitive. But in recent years the Lumberjacks have risen to levels above and beyond what could have been expected, based on the program's humble beginnings. Following is a brief anthology.

1974-81: Formative Years

The NAU volleyball program was given varsity status in 1974 and began as a member of the AIAW Intermountain Conference. The program posted a respectable 19-17 record in its first two seasons, headed by Joyce Gedde. The program's first win came at Colorado State and picked up its first winning campaign in its second year, carding a 13-11 mark.

The team would be up and down during the next four seasons under Becky Brown Bennett. The Lumberjacks posted their second and final winning season of the 1970s in Bennett's second year (13-11 in 1977). After Bennett, NAU brought in former Nevada-Reno head coach Kaprice Bray, who would play the role of transitional coach while NAU made a jump to NCAA Division I.

Bray came aboard in 1980 and started building respectability. The program closed its AIAW affiliation in 1981 with a 12-11 record, keyed by a 7-0 start.

1982-86: Independence Days

The Lumberjacks made the leap from the AIAW into NCAA Division I and showed that they belonged with the "big girls." What happened would be two of the most successful seasons in the history of the program in the first two seasons of Division I affiliation.

Bray led the team to its first 20-win season in 1982, as the Lumberjacks opened 7-2-1 to post a 21-16-2 record. In Bray's final season, she led the Lumberjacks to a 19-10 record, the program's best season in terms of winning percentage. The team opened 12-2, which included a then-record eight-match win streak and a still-intact record of 21 straight games won.

1987-90: Reaching the Sky

An invitation was extended to NAU from the Mountain West Athletic Conference during the 1985-86 school year. The move would lend legitimacy to NAU as a Division I entity, and former Idaho assistant Steve Hellmann was tabbed to lead the Lumberjacks into a new era.

The program transitioned from the Mountain West into the Big Sky Conference, but the program learned hard lessons. NAU topped with an 8-8 league record and a 12-13 overall mark in 1988, including a win over intrastate rival Arizona State.

Peggy Poremba and Debbie Orr ended their careers during this stretch, and both are still on the NAU career top-10 lists for kills and total blocks. This period also started the record-setting career of Ruth Parsons, the most recent spiker to adorn the NAU Athletics Hall of Fame. As a freshman in 1987, Parsons was the first NAU player to earn a national statistical ranking when she finished 17th in Division I in digs.

1991-92: The Turnaround

The program's sixth head coach, Kim Hudson, came to NAU after leading West Texas State to the 1990 Division II national title. While her stay at NAU was brief, she lifted the program to a new level.

The 1991 squad exceeded all expectations by rolling to an 11-0 start en route to a 26-8 record, a second-place Big Sky finish and a trip to the NIVC tournament, the program's first national postseason. Thirty school records were set or tied—including wins, conference wins and consecutive wins. Parsons

As one of the true underdog stories, the 1999 NAU team became the lowest seed (No. 4) to win the Big Sky Conference Championship tournament, rallying from a 2-1 deficit in games to win the title and earn the program's first trip to the NCAA Championship tournament. The 1999 team will earn induction into the NAU Hall of Fame during the 2009 football season.

closed her NAU Hall of Fame career by being the first Lumberjack with 4,000 career assists. The two seasons under Hudson resulted in the program's first trips to the conference tournament. The 1992 season marked the end of a Hall of Fame career, as Angel Leath became the first Lumberjack to record 1,000 kills and 1,000 digs in three seasons.

1993-96: The New Foundation

Just before the 1993 season, Kelley Sliva was named the seventh head coach in team history and was charged with establishing a new foundation.

NAU battled to stay in the middle of the Big Sky while Sliva looked to improve the quality of student-athlete in the program. A record-setting class of Tami Burchard, Jenny Treglown and Susan Brondell joined the program in 1994, and that group would be the nucleus of future success.

The team made a postseason splash in 1996. Entering the tournament as the No. 6 seed, NAU pulled off the biggest upset in postseason history by beating Eastern Washington in the first round. That was the start of something big, especially as the 1994 class matured into the 1997 senior corps.

1997-2001: New Heights

The volleyball team ascended into the league's elite over a five-year stretch (1997-2001), all seasons with at least 16 overall wins. The 1997 squad, led by that recruiting class of 1994 (and league co-MVP Treglown), became the first team to play three league-tournament matches and battled host Sacramento State in a draining final match.

That letdown from a tough-luck 1998 served as motivation in 1999, as Tiwi Bond and Maggie Barrera helped NAU defy odds by winning the Big Sky tournament as a No. 4 seed and earning the program's first trip to the NCAA Championship. NAU made its NCAA debut against North Carolina, and although the Tar Heels swept the NCAA rookies, the experience showed that the Lumberjacks had arrived nationally.

The 2000 campaign took NAU to a new level that no other prior team achieved. Thanks to a 12-1 close to the regular season, NAU rallied from an 0-3 hole to earn a share of its first regular-season title.

2002-07: Rebuilding Years

After nine years with Sliva at the helm, NAU went through a youth movement and went in a new direction when Michelle Hansen was hired in 2002 to lead the program. Hansen led the team to a 23-34 record over two seasons before Chris Campbell took over in 2004 as the acting head coach, and was named the head coach by the close of the season.

Campbell led the squad to its 10th consecutive Big Sky Tournament appearance in 2004, but the team did not advance to the postseason in 2005 or 2006. The 'Jacks returned to the tournament after their best season in a number of years in 2007 (12-15), and senior Kim Babcock recorded one of the most impressive seasons in NAU history, which included being ranked first in NCAA Division I in kills per game.

2008-Present: The Future Looks Bright

The team entered yet another new era in 2008 under the guidance of Craig Choate. The team started the season with a bang, going 8-1 and winning all three of its non-conference tournaments. Freshman Lexi Sullivan was named Big Sky Freshman of the Year after recording 4.13 kills per set, good enough for 25th in the nation. Senior Brittany Stowers earned Big Sky Libero of the Year honors and ranked second in the nation with 6.32 digs per set.

With a 7-9 Big Sky record the Lumberjacks just barely missed a conference tournament berth, but with the return of Sullivan and the addition of a strong recruiting class, it looks to be only a matter of time before NAU is a team to watch out for in the Big Sky.
