MEDIA INFORMATION

INTERVIEW POLICY

All player interviews must be coordinated through the media relations office at least one day in advance. No interviews or photo shoots will be conducted prior to kickoff. Out-of-town media should contact the media relations office to make arrangements for phone interviews. Players will be available for interviews following practice and, if prior arrangements have been made, before practice. The NAU locker and training rooms are closed to all media.

COACH LUCIANO INTERVIEWS

Andre Luciano and his staff are generally available for interviews after each practice. Luciano coordinates his own personal and phone interviews. Call (928) 523-1017 or 2553 to set up the session. The best time to contact Luciano is weekday mornings.

PRACTICE

Daily workouts are generally open to the public but media members are encouraged to confirm practice times and interview arrangements with the media relations office.

MEDIA LIST

In lieu of credentials, working media will be placed on a media list that will be at the north entrance to Lumberjack Stadium. Media members assigned to work an NAU soccer match are asked to provide their names to the media relations office. Only working media will be allowed on the pass list.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Photographers and videographers are allowed on the touch lines and goal lines but not behind the goals. Only photographers and videographers on assignment will be placed on the pass list. Please provide names to the media relations office.

MEDIA SERVICES

A postmatch release and a complete box score, will be faxed to media outlets.

POSTMATCH INTERVIEWS

The NAU locker room is closed. At home, postmatch interviews will be conducted on the field with requested players and coaches from both teams after a 10-minute "cooling off" period. A member of the media relations office will collect interview requests immediately following the conclusion of the match.

MOUNTAIN STANDARD TIME

Arizona does not move its clock ahead in the spring or back in the fall. As a result, Flagstaff time coincides with the Pacific time zone through Nov. 7. The rest of the season, Flagstaff is compatible with Mountain time (Eastern time minus two hours).

THE MOUNTAIN CAMPUS

Northern Arizona University provides an outstanding undergraduate residential education strengthened by important research, graduate and professional programs, and a responsive distance learning network delivering programs throughout Arizona.

NAU's underlying core strength at the undergraduate level is in its ability to provide knowledge of the world, an ability to appreciate change, diversity, and life itself.

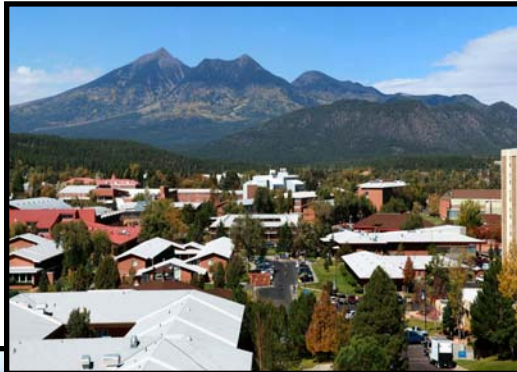

Faculty and staff members are committed to the residential campus concept and to the student population; however, they are also prepared to deliver education throughout Arizona and the world either online or in new campus structures.

The Mountain Campus has a student population of more than 20,000 at its main campus in Flagstaff and at sites across the state.

NAU was established in 1899 as the Northern Arizona Normal School. A close, personal interest in the development of each student as an individual has long been a trademark of the Mountain Campus. This educational experience is enhanced by an atmosphere that celebrates the diversity of opinions and cultures.

The undergraduate programs at NAU cover a diverse range of disciplines from liberal arts and the sciences to professional and career-related fields.

As NAU looks to the future, it continues to develop innovative ways to provide citizens with greater access to education and strives to strengthen its teaching and service partnerships to meet the needs of a changing Arizona.

Flagstaff, with a population of about 57,000, is rich in cultural diversity. Located at the base of the majestic San Francisco Peaks, Flagstaff is 140 miles north of Phoenix at the intersection of Interstate 17 and Interstate 40.

With its elevation of 7,000 feet and a four-season climate, Flagstaff is ideal for year-round outdoor activities. Nearby attractions include the Grand Canyon, Lowell Observatory, Oak Creek Canyon, Sedona, Monument Valley, Sunset Crater, Meteor Crater, and Arizona Snowbowl.

- William A. Franke, one of Arizona's most prominent business leaders, has made a $25 million contribution to Northern Arizona University's College of Business, the largest donation in the university's history.
- The university has created a new College of Health and Human Services to help the university respond to the need for more health-care professionals in the state and enhance the university's participation in the developing academic medical complex in downtown Phoenix.
- The Arizona Cardinals conduct training camp at NAU, which Sports Illustrated has called among the top five training camps in the NFL.
- NAU's graduate physical therapy program ranks among the best in the nation, according to U.S. News & World Report.

- ### NAU CHECK LIST
- 95 percent of alumni report they are either employed or in advanced study, and 80 percent of those employed report they are working in an area directly related to their major.

Lumberjack Academics has the following programs in place for student-athletes:

PROACTIVE MENTORING

Each year approximately 30-50 first year student-athletes will be selected to participate in NAU's ProActive Mentor program which targets students who Lumberjack Academics believes may benefit from academic mentoring. Student-athletes are selected based on incoming GPA's/ test scores and coaches recommendations. Student-athletes are expected to attend a weekly meeting with their assigned academic graduate assistant as well as with their respective coach, and to report on their progress in each class.

STUDY HALL

First year student-athletes (including transfer student-athletes) are required to complete 6-8 hours of study time beginning with the second week of classes through Reading Week. The 6-8 hours consist of scheduled times a monitor will be available and may also include tutoring by the Learning Assistance Centers, organized study groups facilitated by tutors, graduate assistants or faculty from the academic colleges and other academic-related activities that are approved by the Athletics Academic Department Staff.

ACADEMIC ADVISEMENT

All first year freshman student-athletes are assigned to an academic advisor at the Gateway Student Success Center (GSSC). After the student-athletes' first year, they will be assigned to a college advisor if they have declared a major while those who are undecided will remain assigned to a GSSC advisor. Student-athletes must declare a major before entering their 5th semester. Academic Coordinators are available for pre-advisement to make sure all NCAA/NAU policies and procedures are being followed.

TUTORING SERVICES

Tutoring services for all student-athletes are provided through the North and South Learning Assistance Centers. Student-athletes are given the option to utilize the master schedule which allows them to schedule set tutoring appointments for twice a week per subject throughout the academic semester. Student-athletes may also take advantage of the drop in services and make appointments on an as-needed basis.

EARLY ENROLLMENT

Student-athletes are afforded the opportunity to participate in priority registration which enables the student-athletes to accommodate practice schedules while continuing to make progress towards graduation. The student-athletes are grouped with seniors and honor students for registration. In order to utilize priority registration, student-athletes must have all holds cleared from their account and meet with their academic advisor for advisement and activation.

PROGRESS REPORTS

All student-athletes will have progress reports completed once a semester. Student-athletes who receive a "D" or "F" on a progress report will be required to complete an Action Plan with the faculty for the course in which the "D" or "F" was received.

ACADEMIC AWARDS & RECOGNITION

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR'S HONOR ROLL

Student-athletes on a current roster who achieve a 3.5 cumulative GPA qualify for the Athletic Director's Honor Roll. The student-

28 women's soccer players earned Golden Eagle Scholar-Athlete Awards in 2010-11. 13 received All-Big Sky Academic honors. athletes are recognized at a designated spring Men's Basketball game.

She was also named to the CoSIDA/ESPN All-District Academic Team along with senior Brandy Carr, as well as NSCAA Women's College Scholar All-Americans with senior Tori Howe and junior Tori Rocke. To cap off Andreassen's illustrious career at NAU, she was selected as the Female Scholar Athlete of the Year at the annual Golden Eagle Awards and the Female Athlete of the Year at the all-sports banquet.

In 2009, Luciano led the Lumberjacks to the Big Sky Championship final, where they would defeat Idaho State, 4-0, to advance to their second-consecutive NCAA Tournament and face No. 1 Stanford. NAU finished with a 10-9-2 overall record, including a 4-3 regular season Big Sky record and two wins in the Big Sky Championship to claim the conference title. The Lumberjacks went 6-2-1 at home, and shattered the Lumberjack Stadium attendance record when 2,187 fans witnessed NAU draw with Arizona, 2-2, on August 28. Juniors Andreassen and Rebekah Schmidt were CoSIDA/ESPN the Magazine All-District Academic selections with Andreassen going on the earn All-American Academic Honors.

In 2008, Luciano led the women's soccer team to its first Big Sky Conference Championship in the program's 12th year of Division I competition. As the conference champion, NAU was an automatic qualifier for the 2008 NCAA Women's College Cup, its first appearance in school history. The women were defeated by No. 2 Portland in the opening round, but went 12-7-3 overall setting a school record for wins in a season (12) and best winning percentage (.614). The Lumberjacks set or tied 16 school and stadium records and broke two Big Sky Conference records for assists in a game (14) and points (32).

In addition, Luciano mentored future Hall of Fame selection Cee Odorfer to Big Sky Co-Offensive Player of the Year honors and her third straight All-Big Sky first team selection. Odorfer broke school records for points in a season (28), career assist (18), and game-winning goals (13). Also in 2008, Luciano tutored freshman Jenna Samora to Big Sky Newcomer of the Year honors.

During the 2007 season, goalkeeper Elizabeth Winkelblech received the NSCAA/adidas Scholar Athlete Award for excellence as a student-athlete. Under Luciano's guidance, Winkelblech set six combined school records and finished in the top five in seven other statistical categories in her first year as a full-time starter.

Andre Luciano enters his eleventh year as Northern Arizona University head women's soccer coach after claiming the program's third straight Big Sky title and first-ever regular season title in 2010. Luciano possesses a wealth of coaching experience from the intercollegiate level to club soccer coupled with a successful collegiate career at Indiana University that resulted in two conference championships and a NCAA Final Four appearance. Throughout his term, Luciano has shown an ability to master the coaching landscape.

Luciano epitomizes the commitment to the student-athlete relationship, and his philosophy has produced success on the field and in the classroom. For the sixth straight year, the women's soccer team led all fall-Lumberjack teams in 2010 with All-Academic Big Sky honorees (13) and also collected 10 All-Big Sky performers with four first team selections.

Also in 2005, Luciano placed 10 athletes on the All-Big Sky All-Conference teams, the most in school history. He added seven more selections to the All-Academic All-Big Sky team.

During the 2004 campaign, Luciano earned two impressive non-conference wins against Illinois State (1-0) and Western Illinois (1-0, OT) out of the Missouri Valley Conference and Summit League, respectively. The Lumberjacks finished 5-11-2, but could easily have gained several more victories as three matches went to double overtime.

In the 2003 season, the Lumberjacks posted a school-record four consecutive league wins en route to the best conference start in school history. NAU advanced to the Big Sky Championships for the first time since 2000. Under Luciano's direction, eight players earned All-Big Sky honors in 2003 including the league's first-ever two time offensive MVP, Sierra Cristiano.

In his first two seasons, Luciano led the Lumberjacks to a pair of historic wins. In his inaugural season in 2001, the Lumberjacks upset in-state rival Arizona State 1-0. In 2002, NAU upended Big Sky foe Montana, a feat equaled again in 2003 and 2005.

A native of Las Vegas, Nev., Luciano has built the NAU program with a Southwest influence with the majority of the roster from Arizona, Idaho, Nevada and California. Luciano has since expanded his recruiting net to include prep players from Canada, Illinois, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah, and Washington. His 2007 recruiting class received critical acclaim from notable soccer publications. The class became the first in NAU history to be nationally-ranked in the Soccer Buzz Top 100. The 2008 class was equally as strong ranking 33rd in the West Region.

Luciano came to Flagstaff from Tucson, Ariz., where he spent two seasons as an assistant for the Arizona program. Luciano joined the Wildcats' staff in 1999. In 2000, he served as recruiting coordinator for a rebuilding Arizona team. Luciano has also worked with the Washington, Arizona and Nevada Olympic Development Programs (ODP), and was an assistant coach for the Utah State women's program in 1998. Prior to Utah State, Luciano was an assistant coach with the Washington State women for the 1995 and 1996 seasons and also coached in the Washington East ODP during that time.

Before heading back west, Luciano served as a co-head coach for the girls program at McCauley High School in Cincinnati, Ohio, and was the coach of Team Acceleration, an under-17 girl's club program.

As a player, Luciano began his career at Yavapai Community College in Prescott, Ariz. He was named the ISAA/adidas Goalkeeper of the Year and the NJCAA Tournament Most Valuable Goalkeeper after leading Yavapai to the NJCAA championship in 1990.

Luciano transferred to Indiana for his final two seasons and became one of the top goalkeepers in the country at the Division I level. He helped the Hoosiers to Big Ten championships in 1991 and 1992, as well as a berth in the NCAA tournament both years. The squad advanced to the Final Four in 1991 and the Elite Eight in 1992. Luciano was selected Big Ten Goalkeeper of the Year in 1991 and finished in the top-10 in the nation both seasons in goals against average.

Luciano stayed on with the Hoosiers during the 1993 season, serving as an undergraduate assistant coach while completing his degree. He graduated from Indiana in 1993 with a degree in American history.

2010 SEASON REVIEW

#6 Lauren Zallie

Shutting the Opposition Down

Scoring didn't come easy for the opposition last year, as the Lumberjacks held their opponents to just 16 goals in 19 games. In its last 13 games of the season, NAU only allowed four goals scored, in which the Lumberjacks posted 10 shutouts. The 10 shutouts were just one short of the single-season record in school history.

Records, Records and More Records

2010 was a record breaking season for the NAU soccer program, both individually and as a team. Brenna Boies set the all-time assists record with her 19th career assist on September 19 against Air Force. She finished the season with eight assists for the second straight year, and wrapped up her career with 23 total.

Tori Rocke shattered the career shutouts record last season after posting nine shutouts in 2010 to bring her total to 21. The record breaking performance came on October 1 against San Francisco, where Rocke made one save for her 14th career shutout. Her .808 win percentage in goal and her 0.60 goals against average also set new NAU season-bests. Fellow goalkeeper Lauren Weaver and Rocke also allowed just eight goals apiece, setting a new school record for least goals allowed in a season.

Tori Howe and Kristi Andreassen both capped off their illustrious careers at NAU with a school-record 79 games played, equaling the mark set by Sarah Neatherton one year prior. Howe started every single one of those games to break the school record with 79 career matches started, while Andreassen now sits right behind her with 78 career matches started.

As a team, the Lumberjacks posted a 12 game unbeaten streak, a school-best and just one shy of the Big Sky mark. During this streak, the squad broke school and Big Sky records with six consecutive shutouts. NAU didn't allow a goal for 569 minutes and two seconds during that span, breaking the school-record for longest opponent scoring drought.

The team also matched the 2008 squad with 12 wins, a program-high, and its .711 winning percentage is a new single-season record. They also posted their best season at home with a .818 winning percentage at Lumberjack Stadium, despite the ongoing construction of the Health and Learning Center. Their first unbeaten conference season at 6-0-1 also clinched the program's first-ever regular season Big Sky title.

The Year of Number Three

Among the excellence exemplified by the team both on and off the field, Andreassen was the model of the perfect student-athlete. On the field, she led the team with six goals and 15 points while being named the conference's Defensive Most Valuable Player and a unanimous All-Big Sky First Team selection. Off the field, she graduated with a 4.00 GPA in exercise science and was named the ESPN Academic All-American of the Year for women's soccer. She was also a finalist for the Lowe's Senior CLASS Award and was a first team NSCAA Scholar All-American. Most recently, she was nominated by the Big Sky for NCAA Woman of the Year.

BIG SKY CONFERENCE

The Big Sky Conference enters its 49th year of athletic competition in 2011-12. The Big Sky is an NCAA Division I member in all sports, with member institutions classified in the Football Championship Subdivision (formally I-AA). For the sixth and final year, the Big Sky is a nine-team league.

The current lineup includes Eastern Washington, Idaho State, Montana, Montana State, Northern Arizona, Northern Colorado, Portland State, Sacramento State and Weber State. Northern Colorado is the newest member of the league, having joined the conference in 2006.

The Big Sky will expand to an 11-team league with 13 football-playing members on July 1, 2012. Southern Utah University and the University of North Dakota will join as full members. Cal Poly and UC Davis will join as football-affiliate members.

The league has become one of the strongest Division I conferences in the West and is a national leader in the Football Championship Subdivision. Six times, Big Sky teams have won the Division I National Championship, including Eastern Washington in 2010. A Big Sky team has played for the national championship each of the past three seasons.

The Big Sky Conference was established in 1963 by six charter members – Idaho, Idaho State, Gonzaga, Montana, Montana State and Weber State. Those six schools formed the foundation of the Big Sky before the league expanded in 1970 by adding Boise State and Northern Arizona. Gonzaga left the Sky in 1979 and was replaced by Nevada, which gave the league eight members. The conference grew to nine schools in 1987 with the addition of Eastern Washington.

The 1990s saw change in the makeup of the league, beginning in 1992 when Nevada departed and put the Big Sky back at eight teams. In 1996 Boise State and Idaho left and at the same time the conference added Portland State, Sacramento State and Cal State Northridge. The Big Sky maintained nine teams for five years before Cal State Northridge departed in the spring of 2001.

The Big Sky spreads across eight states spanning from the Pacific Ocean to the Rocky Mountain Front. The Big Sky is represented along the entire west coast with schools in Washington, Oregon and California. League schools also range up and down the Rocky Mountains with institutions in Montana, Idaho, Utah, Arizona and Colorado. Of the eight western-most states in the contiguous United States only one, Nevada, is not represented in the Big Sky.

On Feb 25, 1963, the name Big Sky was adopted by the six presidents of the charter members as the name of the new conference. The name Big Sky originated in a novel written by the late A.B. (Bud) Guthrie of Great Falls, Mont., in 1947 entitled "The Big Sky." Jack Hollowell, a former Montana advertising director, promoted the Big Sky theme for the Treasure State. While on a track and field trip from Pocatello, Idaho, to Missoula, Mont., the legendary Dubby Holt of Idaho State saw a "Welcome to Big Sky Country" sign as his team entered Montana. Holt, and his athletes thought "Big Sky" would be a perfect name for the new conference. Harry Missildine of the Spokane Spokesman-Review called for the newly formed league to be named the Big Sky Conference in his column dated Feb. 20, 1963.

The Big Sky sponsors championships in 14 sports, including men's and women's cross country, indoor and outdoor track and field, basketball and tennis. In addition, there are also championships in football, and women's volleyball, golf and soccer. The Big Sky will add a softball championship in the spring of 2013.

The 2011-12 season will mark the 24th year that the Big Sky Conference will sponsor championships in women's sports. The former Mountain West Conference existed from 1982-88, sponsoring championships for women's sports at the same institutions the Big Sky had men's programs. The Big Sky merged with the Mountain West in 1988, forming one league for both men and women.

Doug Fullerton, the fifth commissioner of the Big Sky Conference, is in his 17th year at the helm. Fullerton took over the Big Sky on July 1, 1995, replacing longtime commissioner Ron Stephenson, who passed away in 2011. Stephenson served the league for 14 years. Steve Belko was the commissioner from 1977-81, while John Roning held the post from 1971-77. The first league commissioner was Jack Friel, who served from 1963-71.

The new Lumberjack Stadium seats 1,000 fans comfortably and serve as an integral part of the new Health and Learning Center. It will be the host to two regular season tournaments this season, and eight home matches in total.

The newly renovated Lumberjack Stadium is a major façade of the $106 million Health and Learning Center (HLC), providing Northern Arizona University with one of the top soccer facilities in the West. Located on the north side of campus, the Lumberjack Stadium location remains rich in history.

For the past 14 years, Lumberjack Stadium has been home to Northern Arizona women's soccer. The covered facility will hold 1,000 fans in chair back seating to watch home contests for the Northern Arizona women's soccer program after serving as the main football facility at NAU for more than 40 years. The Lumberjack soccer program has advanced to two NCAA College Cups since 2008 while winning a combined three Big Sky Conference Championships. They opened the new stadium on Aug. 26, 2011.

New lights blanket the field that meets the minimum NCAA dimensions of 65 yards wide by 120 yards long, allowing for highly popular evening matches. There is also a new press box, locker room facilities and coaches' offices for the team, while HLC provides offices and locker rooms for women's golf, tennis, track and field and other NAU Athletics staff members.

In 14 years as an NCAA sponsored sport, NAU women's soccer has continued to attract support from the Flagstaff community and surrounding areas. In 2009, the Lumberjacks enjoyed a record-breaking year in attendance, earning the highest total attendance and average attendance figures in program history. The Lumberjacks' opening match against Arizona (T, 2-2) earned the highest all-time single game attendance figure.

The women's soccer program christened its home on October 24, 1997, with a Big Sky Conference tilt against Cal State Northridge. It was a match to remember, as Danielle Wile of NAU scored in the second overtime session to give the home team a wild 7-6 win. The match still holds NAU records for most shots in a game, most goals between two teams, and most goals scored (7), a record tied in 2008 against Lamar.

The original stadium, which seated 3,000 fans, began as the home of Lumberjack football in the fall of 1957, with the Lumberjacks opening the facility with a 47-0 win over Ft. Huachuca Army Base. The stadium remained the football home until 1977, when the gridiron program moved into its current home, the J. Lawrence Walkup Skydome. During its 20 years in Lumberjack Stadium, the football team carded a 61-33-3 (.644) record. It is also the spring home of the nationally prominent NAU outdoor track and field teams, highlighting a recently resurfaced track.

Over the Football Homecoming weekend of 2008, the 1958 Arizona State College (NAU's former name) football team gathered in Flagstaff for their 50th Anniversary celebration. On the afternoon prior to the game, the playing surface at Lumberjack Stadium, the former home of the football team, was named "Max Spilsbury Field" in a special ceremony in honor of their coach Max Spilsbury.

Spilsbury coached at NAU from 1956-64, posting 58 wins over nine seasons. It was a mark that stood for the five decades before current head coach Jerome Souers broke the record in 2008.

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

The NAU weight room is located in the Walkup Skydome. It features 30 tons of free weights, 10 Olympic training platforms with modernized sport-specific training and high-tech motion analysis cameras. In the summer of 2005, the weight room received a facelift with new platforms and interior paint, as well as a complete enclosure of the complex. The student-athletes work to improve themselves under a philosophy based on performance enhancement and safe participation.

Cody Hodgeson comes to NAU in 2010 from Big Sky Conference member Northern Colorado, where he served as the assistant director for 18 months. He was responsible for 217 athletes and seven different teams, including wrestling, baseball, women's basketball, women's soccer, women's swimming and diving and men's and women's tennis. He also assisted with all aspects of the football strength and conditioning program. He earned a degree from NAU in exercise science in 2006 and is a board certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist.

The strength and conditioning facilities at NAU are among the best in the West. The 6,500-square-foot facility has been utilized by the likes of Olympians Pablo Morales, Summer Sanders, Jenny Thompson and Wes Barnett, as well as a host of foreign athletes and teams preparing for a variety of international competitions. The German bobsled team trained in the facility prior to winning a gold medal at the 2002 Salt Lake Olympics.

DR. JOHN HAEGER

John D. Haeger leads Northern Arizona University in its commitment to undergraduate education—a commitment enhanced by the university's ongoing efforts in research, graduate education and distance learning.

Dr. Haeger has been NAU president since November 2001 after joining the university to serve as NAU provost in June 2000.

During his term as president, Dr. Haeger has guided the university to new heights in student enrollment. He also has ushered the university into its largest building boom since the 22-year term of former NAU President J. Lawrence Walkup.

Further, he has fully endorsed a national effort to increase institutional accountability, explaining that NAU must perform on a level that demonstrates its significance to students and to society.

Among university achievements under his leadership:

* Tuition guarantee. Dr. Haeger instituted a “block tuition” plan that guarantees first-time, full-time freshmen and transfer students the same tuition rate for eight

JIM FALLIS

Jim Fallis was named the Director of Athletics at Northern Arizona University in May, 2004, and the department has had success across the board under his leadership.

Under his direction, the 300-plus Lumberjack student-athletes have maintained 3.00 or better cumulative mark in 13 of the 14 semesters under his direction.

Eight squads posted a 3.0 or higher cumulative GPA last year led by the soccer team which posted a department-best 3.39 in 2010-11. The positive grade report comes after a semester that produced a school-record fifty-five student-athletes participating in spring commencement ceremonies. NAU also recently had all 15 sponsored sports are exceeding NCAA academic standards in the Academic Progress Report.

One hundred sixth-three student-athletes were recognized in 2011 at the Golden Eagle Awards for significant contributions to the Lumberjack athletics program while maintaining a minimum of a 3.0 GPA. Fallis established the Athletic Director's Honor Roll to recognize student-athletes with a 3.5 or better GPA and men's basketball player Kelly Golob, women's golfer Ali Carter and soccer player Kristi Andreassen have earned NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships under his leadership.

Outside the classroom, the department staff and student-athletes contributed 4,000-plus community service hours in Flagstaff and around the state of Arizona each of the last five years and totaled more than 28,000 hours during his tenure. The yearly contribution is believed to be the highest among the three state universities.

NAU has ranked among the top 100 athletic departments in the Learfield Directors' Cup standings four times under Fallis, while winning 27 Big Sky Conference titles, recording 20 Top-40 national finishes and winning eight individual national titles. The initiative streamlines the credit transfer process, allowing students enrolled at partnering community colleges to save time and money by being admitted to NAU while they are earning an associate degree.

* Innovation. NAU-Yavapai opened its Prescott Valley doors last fall, allowing students to earn bachelor's degrees at about one-third the cost of a traditional, residential college experience. The savings comes from offering a limited number of degree options and using existing resources through NAU's Flagstaff campus. The cost-saving model garnered the attention of Gov. Jan Brewer, who called it “visionary” and “an example for the entire state and the nation.”

* Expansion of nursing and the health professions. The university has placed emphasis on graduating more students in nursing and developing or expanding programs in occupational therapy, athletic training and physicians assistant.

Fallis has also overseen the installation of state-of-the-art scoreboard and message-center in the Walkup Skydome since his arrival. The Skydome also welcomed the installation of a removable REALGRASS™ Matrix system during the Spring of 2008, the first removable REALGRASS™ system to be installed in the United States. It marked the first accomplishment by the President's Task Force on Athletics Facilities.

NAU signed a five-year apparel agreement with Adidas in 2008 to outfit all 15 intercollegiate teams with practice and game gear. The deal replaced NIKE as the official team outfitter, a three-year contract originally developed by Fallis.

Prior to NAU, Fallis served as athletics director at the University of Northern Colorado since 1993. Academic and athletic successes as well as fiscal responsibility were hallmarks of Fallis' tenure at Northern Colorado. Northern Colorado teams won 31 conference championships in his 10 years. Academically, UNC produced 13 NCAA postgraduate scholarship recipients in his 11-year tenure.

UNC won two Division II National Championships in football (1996, 1997) under his direction. At the time he left, athletics had over $8 million in endowments and $600,000 in reserves. Prior to UNC, Fallis spent seven years as athletic director at Lake Superior State University. Under his leadership, LSSU won NCAA Division I Hockey Championships in 1988 and 1992.

Fallis, 58, has been actively involved in the administration of intercollegiate athletics at the national level. Presently, he serves on the Learfield Directors' Cup Committee and represents the Big Sky on the Division I Championship cabinet and serves on the Administrative Committee.
