HEAD COACH

TYLER OSBORNE

HEAD COACH

Named Navy's head coach in July of 2018, Tyler Osborne enters his fifth year leading the Mids' squash program.

In his first season, Osborne led the Mids to a 13-7 record and featured 5-4 wins over Virginia, Western Ontario, Middlebury, Williams and Franklin & Marshall.

The Midshipmen, who won 11 straight matches to open the 2018-19 season and whose only setback was to then sixth-ranked Dartmouth, were ranked as high as eighth in the College Squash Association rankings.

Jack Lentz paved the way for the Mids in Osborne's inaugural season producing a team-best 16-6 record, playing 19 of his 22 matches at the No. 1 spot on the ladder. Meanwhile, team captain Senen Ubina closed out his career eighth on the Mids' all-time wins leader board with a 77-33 career record. Ubina is just one of 11 players in program history to reach 70 career wins. Remarkably, Ubina also graduated having won three Intercollegiate Squash Doubles Championships - all three with different partners - including 2018 when he teamed up with Michael Kacergis, the 2019-20 team captain.

2019-20 saw Navy join a conference for the first time in school history. Along with Navy, the Mid-Atlantic Squash Conference includes Dickinson, Drexel, Franklin & Marshall, George Washington, MIT and Virginia. The MASC is the first squash-specific athletic conference in the U.S. While it was formed in 2018-19 (minus Drexel and Navy), the College Squash Association Board of Directors did not sanction the MASC until 2019-20.

The Mids closed out the 2019-20 campaign with a 9-15 record, including a 1-5 mark in MASC action. Navy put together a 1-2 record at the CSA Team Championship to place 20th.

Junior Jack Lentz turned in a team-best 15-8 mark playing the No. 1 position on the ladder, while seniors Owen Davis (12-10) and Michael Kacergis (13-9) rounded out the top three. Lentz and Kacergis captured their first Intercollegiate Squash Doubles Championship as a team and the program's fifth-consecutive title by defeating Sanjay Jeeva and Shamseldeen Abbas from Franklin & Marshall in a five-game thriller.

The 2020-21 campaign was all but wiped out due to the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic. Navy was able to play two matches, however, against one of the nation's top teams in Virginia. The year ended on a high note for the Mids, as senior team captain Jack Lentz was presented the prestigious Skillman Award by the College Squash Association. The Skillman Award, voted on by CSA coaches and established in 1983, is the top honor bestowed each year to a senior men's squash student-athlete who has displayed exemplary sportsmanship and skill throughout his career. Players are evaluated based on their on-court poise and demeanor, skill level and ability in the game of squash, team play, contributions to intercollegiate squash, leadership and cooperation with players, coaches and tournament officials. Lentz joins Casey Garwood '93 as the only two Navy players to win the award.

Navy opened the 2021-22 season by winning nine of its first 10 matches en route to a 15-12 record. The Mids competed in the Summers Division of the College Squash Association Team Championship where they upset three-consecutive opponents - #18 Brown, #20 Amherst and #22 Tufts - by 5-4 scores to win the division and finish 17th in the national rankings.

A 2015 graduate of Princeton, Osborne spent three seasons as an assistant coach at his alma mater before arriving in Annapolis. He was a three-time All-American and All-Ivy player who amassed a 54-5 record (58-12 including individual championship) over four seasons. Additionally, he guided the Tigers to back-to-back Ivy League titles in 2012 and '13. He came to Princeton as the top-ranked U-19 player in Canada and successfully parlayed that into Second-Team All-America honors his freshman year (2011-12) when he turned in a 14-2 record. He also captured one of the biggest victories in Princeton history by scoring a 3-0 victory over Miled Zarazua which helped the Tigers end Trinity's streak of 13 consecutive National Championships.

He garnered First-Team All-America recognition as a sophomore (2012-13) playing primarily the No. 3 position and posting a 15-0 record. He put together an undefeated regular season and dropped just two of his 47 individual games. He reached the College Squash Association Individual Quarterfinals where he fell 3-1 to eventual National Champion Amr Khalifa of St. Lawrence and closed out the season ranked eighth nationally.

Despite an injury-plagued season, Osborne claimed Second-Team All-America honors and produced an 10-2 mark as a junior (2013-14). He completed his collegiate career in 2015 by posting a 15-1 mark in 2014-15, playing the No. 2 spot on the ladder for the Tigers.

Upon graduation, he joined the coaching staff of both the men's and women's programs at his alma mater where he helped five Princeton players (Olivia Fiechter, Youssef Ibrahim, Kira Keating, Adhitya Raghavan, and Maria Elena Ubina) earn All-America honors.

He and his wife, Stephanie, reside in Pasadena.

MIDSHIPMEN PROFILES

MATTHEW WANG

SO. | MALVERN, PA. | THE HAVERFORD SCHOOL

2021-22 // Freshman Year

- In his rookie season, Wang paced the team in the wins column with an 18-10 record ... saw action at the #2 (2-0) and #3 (16-8) positions
- Opened the year by winning nine of his first 10 matches, including an 11-2, 11-0, 11-5 win over Chicago's Ishaan Patel for his first collegiate victory
- Earned a 3-0 sweep against Jordan Sprecher to help lead the Mids to a 5-4 win over Franklin & Marshall in the team's final home match of the season
- Captured a five-game victory over F&M's Teddy Eill the following weekend in the opening round of the Mid-Atlantic Squash Conference Championship
- Produced a 3-0 mark at the CSA Team Championship - 3-0 vs. Blake Roshkoff, Brown; 3-1 vs. Neal Malani, Amherst; 3-1 vs. Kerwin Teh, Tufts
- With the Mids trailing Amherst 4-3, Wang stepped onto the court knowing he was facing a must-win situation. He dropped his opening game to Neal Malani, who played #1 in the previous meeting against the Mids, but Wang went on to win the next three to set up teammate Henry Sparkman for the game-winning match.
- Capped the season by competing at the College Squash Association Individual Championship where he lost to Rochester's Abdelrahman Lasheen in three games and Brown's Grant Sterman in a five-gamer

High School

- 2021 graduate of The Haverford School in Haverford, Pa.
- Four-year letter winner who served as team captain his senior year
- Put together undefeated records as a freshman and senior
- Member of the Haverford School teams that placed second at Nationals in 2018 and '19
- Led The Haverford School to the program's 50th Inter-Ac title and extended its MASA title run to six behind a 6-0 (4-0 in the Inter-Ac) record in 2019-20

Personal

- Son of Jim Wang and Julia Tseng
- Majoring in Mathematics with Economics, he owns a 3.52 grade-point average
- Named to the Superintendent's (F2021) and Commandant's (F2021) Lists

2022-23 NAVY SQUASH

USS BARB SQUASH RACQUETS PERPETUAL TROPHY

The USS Barb Squash Racquets Perpetual Trophy has been awarded since 1958 with 42 different midshipmen winning the weeklong, round-robin tournament. Sixteen of the 42 have been multi-year winners, including Tucker George who became the first player in program history to win the trophy all four years (2004-05-06-07). Additionally, three-time winners include All-Americans Spencer Wall (1984-85-86) and Jamie Slough (1992-93-94), along with Andy McCann (2000-01-02), Andrew McGuinness (2012-14-15) and Jack Lentz (2018-19-20).

The trophy was established by Medal of Honor recipient Rear Adm. Eugene B. Fluckey, a World War II submarine commander, who patrolled the Pacific Ocean in the USS Barb that sank more tonnage of enemy ships than any U.S. commander.

A member of the Naval Academy Class of 1935, Adm. Fluckey died on June 28, 2007, at the age of 93. He was laid to rest at the Naval Academy Columbarium on Aug. 28, 2007.

Adm. Fluckey was known as a fearless leader, who once landed some of his crew members on mainland Japan, where they blew up an enemy troop transport train. Another time, he mounted rockets to the deck of his submarine and attacked a Japanese settlement. He made five war patrols in the Pacific Ocean aboard the sub the Barb.

In 2011, Carl LaVo published "The Galloping Ghost," a biography of Adm. Fluckey. The book's title came from a nickname the Japanese had for Adm. Fluckey - the "ghost," who would show up, wreak havoc and then vanish.

Adm. Fluckey was also known for his love and respect for his crew. One such example included using the proceeds from "Thunder Below!", a book he penned, to take his former crew on a cruise to Alaska, as well as a Mississippi River cruise.

In addition to receiving the Medal of Honor, Adm. Fluckey held four Navy Crosses and was considered the most decorated living American at the time of his death. He also served as a leader of NATO in Europe.

Assigned to the Naval Academy in the 1950s, Adm. Fluckey helped raise money from private contributors to build Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium.
