Collegiate Sprint Football League

Sprint Football is a full-contact, intercollegiate, varsity sport and has the same rules as regular college football, except that all players must weigh 178.0 pounds or less. The league has been in existence since prior to World War II.

Sprint Football players are fundamentally sound. Execution is the focus in Sprint Football. Players are schooled on the basics and provide fans with an exciting brand of textbook football.

A CSFL athlete exemplifies hard work and dedication. Players who wish to become CSFL Athletes must weigh 178.0 pounds or less. Players must also have the desire needed to succeed in the CSFL. The league is made up of hard working players who strive to be the best in both academics and athletics. Players must first be dedicated to academics, but must also be willing to put in the time and commitment needed to help make their team a champion.

There are currently nine (9) teams playing in the CSFL: Army, Caldwell, Chestnut Hill, Cornell, Mansfield, Molloy, Navy, Penn and St. Thomas Aquinas.

2025 NAVY SPRINT FOOTBALL

COACHING STAFF

MAJOR CARTER READING, USMC

HEAD COACH

Major Carter Reading, USMC was appointed head coach of the Navy sprint football program during the spring of 2024, becoming the 33rd head coach in the program's history.

In his first season at the helm in 2024, Reading directed the sprint football team to a 6-2 overall record, including a 3-0 mark in the CSFL South Division and a spot in the CSFL Championship Game.

As a team, Navy scored 209 points (26.1 pts per game), while holding opponents to 88 (11.0) with three shutouts. The Mids amassed 1,688 yards rushing with 1,180 passing yards for 2,868 yards of total offense. Navy scored 27 total touchdowns with eight field goals, while limiting opponents to 14 total scores (12 TD, 2 FG). The Mids' defense picked off 14 passes, while registering 56 tackles for loss with 19 sacks and adding 17 pass breakups.

At the conclusion of the season, the CSFL announced its 2024 postseason list of All-League honorees and Navy had 13 different players earn All-Conference accolades. The Midshipmen tallied seven First Team All-CSFL honors – defensive back Seamus Carrasco, offensive lineman John Dutton, running back Hunter Gennicks, offensive lineman Kerry Johnson, defensive lineman David Niski, defensive lineman Mick Tabor, and linebacker Jake Wolinski; four second team accolades – quarterback Luke Wagner, wide receiver Chris Stumpf, kicker Jacori Sutton, and linebacker Simon Burger; and two honorable mention selections – defensive lineman Major Kent and defensive back Sean Bettwy.

Academically, 16 student-athletes from Navy were recognized on the 119-person CSFL All-Academic Team. Seamus Carrasco, John Dutton, Robert Flores, Kerry Johnson, Andy Jones, Major Kent, Lane Landas, Alvin Liu, Tyler Meisenzahl, David Niski, Luke O'Connell, Tucker Opdahl, John Shetty, Jackson Suddath, Luke Wagner, and Jake Wolinski were all recognized for the Midshipmen.

A 2016 graduate of the Naval Academy, Reading was a member of the Navy sprint football team from 2012 to 2015 and served as a coaching TAD (Temporary Assignment Duty) for the 2016 season. During his tenure, he helped lead the Midshipmen to a 30-5 overall record, including a 24-4 mark as a student-athlete, including winning the Collegiate Sprint Football League (CSFL) Championship in 2014. Reading and Navy earned a pair of Star victories, once as a player and another as a coach.

In 2016, Reading graduated from the Naval Academy and was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps.

He attended The Basic School in Quantico, Va. from 2016-17. Reading departed Quantico as a pilot/student at MATSG-21 in 2017, honing his skills through rigorous pilot training at MATSG-22 from 2017-18. His commitment to excellence was evident as he pursued advanced training with VT-27 "Boomers" in 2018, followed by immersive experiences with HT-18 "Hellions" and VT-35 "Stingrays" in 2019, specializing in TH-57B/C and T-44C respectively.

As he continued to ascend in his aviation career, Reading's determination propelled him to new heights in his primary platform, the MV-22B Osprey. While training with the VMMT-204 "Raptors" in 2020, he worked in the logistics department and as the Navigation Officer. Upon completing his training with the Fleet Replacement Squadron, Reading departed for MCAS Miramar where Reading's leadership qualities came to the forefront, as he assumed the roles of Navigation Officer and Operations Officer with VMM-362 "Ugly Angels," where he operated the MV-22B from 2020-24.

His commitment to duty saw him deploy with VMM-362 as part of SPMAGTF-CR21.1 from 2020-21, gaining invaluable experience in high-pressure environments and earning an Air Medal. He spent a brief period in Al-Udeid, Qatar with the Combined Air Operations Center. Building on this foundation, he was assigned as Aviation Life Support System Officer as well as MV-22B Pilot with VMM-362 (REIN) "Ugly Angels" from 2021-23, where he deployed with the 13TH MEU from 2022-23. His expertise and leadership qualities were recognized, leading to his appointment as Aviation Safety Officer and the Director of Safety and Standardization with VMM-362 "Ugly Angels" until 2024, where he played a pivotal role in ensuring the safety and efficiency of aviation operations.

Upon his return, Reading continued his service as the Director of Safety and Standardization until he was chosen to lead the Navy sprint football team as head coach.

Reading is married to the former Nina Smith and the couple have three children, daughter Emerson Lou, son Carter Jay, and daughter Leighton Mae. In his spare time, Reading enjoys spending time with his family, wake boarding, training for triathlons, playing pickleball, and a quick round of golf

TONY VERDUCCI

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH / DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

A 1980 graduate of the Naval Academy, Tony Verducci returns to the Navy sprint football program as the associate head coach / defensive coordinator in 2025 after distinguished careers as a Marine Judge Advocate, Department of the Navy (DON) Senior Executive, and high school football coach.

Verducci earned two varsity letters and was a member of two sprint football championship teams as an offensive lineman. His first stint as a Navy football coach occurred after graduation, coaching defensive ends for the sprint football team.

Verducci returned to Annapolis to serve as a Company Officer, serving as tight end coach under Navy football head coach Gary Tranquill. Law school and service as a Marine Judge Advocate followed, before Verducci returned to coaching football at Bishop Ireton High School in Alexandria, Va. He finished his high school coaching career (2007-15) as Ireton's winningest coach and was twice honored as the Virginia Independent School Division I Coach of the Year.

Off the field, Coach Verducci became a DON Senior Executive in 2016, filling several significant leadership positions before serving as the Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Navy (Civilian Personnel) from 2022 until 2025. He was responsible for leading a team of 1,300 human resources professionals and providing policy direction to 250,000 DON civilians.

A lifelong learner, Verducci earned a bachelors degree in economics from the Naval Academy, a masters degree in computer management from Webster University, a Juris Doctor degree from Seton Hall University Law School, and a Master of Laws (LLM) in labor and employment law from the Georgetown University Law Center.

Verducci is married to Peggy (Malone) Verducci. The couple have four adult children and six grandchildren.

Daughter, Kara Firth, is married to Thomas and the couple have four kids – Poppy, Tierney, Thomas, and Margaret Mary, while daughter, Meghan Albornoz, is married to Kristian and they have two children – Martin and Malone.

Son, Matt, was a 2014 graduate of the Naval Academy and member of the men's club lacrosse team. He specializes in human performance and is the head lacrosse coach at Newport Harbor High School in California. Son, Ryan, was a 2022 Academy grad and is currently a Navy helicopter pilot stationed in Mayport, Florida.

Verducci's father, Tony, is a New Jersey High School Hall of Fame football coach (Seton Hall Prep). His brother, Frank, played football at the University of Nebraska, while brother, Tom, is a senior baseball writer for Sports Illustrated and an Emmy Award winning Fox Sports broadcaster.

CHUCK ABATE

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Longtime high school head coach Chuck Abate joined the Navy sprint football coaching staff as the offensive coordinator prior to the 2025 season.

Abate has coached high school football for over 20 years in the state of Illinois. His experience has ranged from freshman assistant coach to a varsity offensive and defensive coordinator at the 8A level. He also spent three years at Burlington Central High School as an offensive coordinator / associate head coach. He coached current Navy sprint football head coach, Captain Carter Reading, USMC, for four years at St. Charles East High School.

Abate takes pride not only in winning games, but in the relationships he has developed over the years with his players and coaches. His philosophy is that he does not coach football, but that he coaches men, through football.

Abate is married to his wife Donna. The couple have two children, Erin and Alex, with one grandson, Cam.

Season Notes

- Naval Academy Director of Athletics Chet Gladchuk announced that Captain Carter Reading, USMC was appointed head coach of the Navy sprint football program. Reading became the 33rd head coach in the program's history. A 2016 graduate of the Naval Academy, Reading was a member of the Navy sprint football team from 2012 to 2015 and served as a coaching TAD (Temporary Assignment Duty) for the 2016 season. During his tenure, he helped lead the Midshipmen to a 30-5 overall record with a 24-4 mark as a student-athlete, including winning the Collegiate Sprint Football League (CSFL) Championship in 2014. Reading and Navy earned a pair of Star victories, once as a player and another as a coach.
- The CSFL announced its 2024 postseason list of All-League honorees and Navy had 13 different players earn All-Conference accolades. The Midshipmen tallied seven First Team All-CSFL honors – junior defensive back Seamus Carrasco, sophomore offensive lineman John Dutton, sophomore running back Hunter Gennicks, junior offensive lineman Kerry Johnson, senior defensive lineman David Niski, sophomore defensive line Mick Tabor, and junior linebacker Jake Wolinski; four second team accolades – senior quarterback Luke Wagner, senior wide receiver Chris Stumpf, freshman kicker Jacori Sutton, and senior linebacker Simon Burger; and two honorable mention selections – senior defensive lineman Major Kent and sophomore defensive back Sean Bettwy.
- The CSFL announced the 2024 All-Academic Team and 16 student-athletes from the Navy were recognized on the 119-person team. Junior Seamus Carrasco, sophomore John Dutton, senior Robert Flores, junior Kerry Johnson, senior Andy Jones, senior Major Kent, senior Lane Landas, sophomore Alvin Liu, junior Tyler Meisenzahl, senior David Niski, sophomore Luke O'Connell, sophomore Tucker Opdahl, junior John Sheddy, senior Jackson Suddath, senior Luke Wagner, and junior Jake Wolinski were all recognized for the Midshipmen.

- Navy dropped a 17-3 decision at home to Army at Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium in the Star Game, which is part of the overall Army-Navy Star Series, presented by USAA. The Midshipmen were unable to sustain any momentum in the game, fumbling five times, including twice in their final three possessions.
- Navy registered a 31-0 shutout over Penn to win the CSFL South Division and secure a spot in the CSFL Championship game against Army. Despite their best efforts, the Midshipman dropped a 21-16 decision to the Black Knights at Shea Stadium in West Point, N.Y. in the championship. The loss snapped the Mids' streak of three consecutive CSFL Championship victories.
- During the season, the Midshipmen picked up four CSFL Athlete of the Week honors – one offensive, one defensive, one rookie, and one special team accolade. Sophomore running back Hunter Gennicks was named Offensive Player of the Week (Sept. 23), while senior Tyler Cox claimed Defensive Player of the Week (Nov. 12). On Sept. 30, Navy recorded a pair of honorees as freshman Broderick Freeman was named Rookie of the Week and freshman Jacori Sutton was tabbed Special Teams Player of the Week.
- As a team, Navy scored 209 points (26.1 pts per game), while holding opponents to 88 (11.0) with three shutouts. The Mids amassed 1,688 yards rushing with 1,180 passing yards for 2,868 yards of total offense. Navy scored 27 total touchdowns with eight field goals, while limiting opponents to 14 total scores (12 TD, 2 FG). The Mids' defense picked off 14 passes, while registering 56 tackles for loss with 19 sacks and adding 17 pass breakups.

Barrett '06 Award

Presented to the player who exhibits an unwavering dedication to his team, day in and day out. He leads by example on and off the field and embodies what makes a Navy Sprint Football player a special breed of Midshipman. He works hard for neither glory nor accolades but for the men on his left and right flank. He is the man we all want in our corner when the going gets tough and clock is ticking down to zero. This award is presented in honor of Navy Sprint Football player, Captain Brandon A. "Bull" Barrett, USMC (USNA '06). On May 5, 2010, Bull made the ultimate sacrifice while honorably serving his Country, Mission, and Marines during combat operations in Helmand Province, Afghanistan.
