Game Facts

Previous Game: The Aggies picked up their second straight win on Thursday with a 56-47 victory at UNC Wilmington. The Aggies held the Seahawks to just 34 percent shooting in the contest. The Aggies were led offensively by senior forward JaQuayla Berry, who had 15 points, seven rebounds, three assists and a block in the game. Sophomore guard Adriana Nazario recorded 10 points for the Aggies. The Aggies were out-rebounded, 41-29, in the contest. A&T will look to close out their non-conference slate with a victory over George Washington on Sunday evening.

George Washington Scouting Report: This will be the first meeting between the Aggies and Colonials in program history. The Colonials are 6-7 under first year head coach Jonathan Tsipis, and have lost their last two games. The Colonials have not played since Dec. 30. George Washington returned four starters from last year's 11-18 team. George Washington was picked to finish eighth in the Atlantic 10 this season. Graduate student Tara Booker and senior Danni Jackson were named to the Preseason All-Conference Third Team. Jackson was named Atlantic 10 Player of the Week on Dec. 24. She is averaging 9.6 points and 2.0 rebounds per game with 34 steals on the year. Tara Booker leads the team with 77 rebounds. Megan Nipe leads the team with an average of 9.8 points per game. As a team, the Colonials are averaging 55.7 points per game, and allowing 56.8 points to opponents. The Colonials are 2-5 on the road this year. The Aggies are the second MEAC team that the Colonials will play this year. George Washington defeated Morgan State on the road, 75-40, on Nov. 28.

Tracking the Aggies

Berry Good on Offense: The Aggies are relying on senior JaQuayla Berry this season to be a leader on both ends of the floor. Berry, who was named to the Preseason All-MEAC 1st Team this year, is first on the team with 163 points (12.5 ppg) and 86 rebounds (6.6 rpg) to start the season. Berry has a team-best 26 steals on the year. She's also averaging a team-high 31.3 minutes per game this season. Berry recorded 12 points with 9 rebounds against Omaha on Nov. 12. Berry tallied 19 points (with 15 in the second half) on Nov. 28 at Richmond from the bench. She totaled a season-best 13 rebounds on Nov. 25 against Winston-Salem State. She led the team with nine rebounds on Dec. 1 against N.C. Central. She had 11 points in the Dec. 15 win at Liberty, and a team-best 15 points on Dec. 18 against Charlotte. She also led the team with a season-best 29 points and had nine rebounds and four steals in the victory over William & Mary on Dec. 21. She had a career-best 14 field goals in the game against William & Mary. She picked up her first MEAC Player of the Week honors on Dec. 24 for averaging 22.0 points and 7.5 rebounds from Dec. 18-21. Berry led the team with 16 points at Virginia Tech on Dec. 28. She led the team with 15 points, seven rebounds, three assists and a block on Jan. 3 at UNCW. Berry, who had 1,041 career points entering into her last season, is a valuable player for the Aggies, playing as a forward or fourth guard. Berry earned 2nd Team All-MEAC honors last year after finishing last season with 414 points (14.3 per game), 214 rebounds (7.4 per game) and 65 steals. She led the team in scoring, rebounding and steals in 2011-12.

Keeping Cool with A.C.: Redshirt junior Amber Calvin, who was named to the Preseason All-MEAC 2nd Team, is second on the team in scoring with 135 points (10.4 ppg) and second in assists with 29 (2.2 app). She led the Aggies with 19 points from the bench, including four 3-pointers, on Nov. 16 against Iona in the team's home opener victory. She led the team with an individual and team season-best 28 points on Nov. 20 at Siena, with 11-for-14 shooting including five 3-pointers. Her 11 field goals set a new career high. She tallied 11 points on Nov. 28 at Richmond. She led the Aggies with five assists and four steals, with seven rebounds on Dec. 1 against N.C. Central. She led the team with 21 points (including five 3-pointers) in the Dec. 15 victory at Liberty. She was named MEAC Player of the Week on Dec. 17. She had 12 points and went 6-for-6 from the free throw line on Dec. 21 against William & Mary. She recorded 16 points, four assists and two steals against Elon on Dec. 31. She holds the team lead in 3-pointers made with 23, and is shooting .489 (23-for-47) from beyond the arc. Last season, Calvin was second on the team in scoring with 393 points (13.6 per game) and led the team in assists (117), becoming the sixth player in program history to total more than 100 assists in a single season. Calvin also finished the year with 198 rebounds (3.2 per game) and 57 steals. Calvin was named the A&T Female Athlete of the Year in 2012 for her performance.

King of the Court: The Aggies hope to gain plenty of production from junior Tracy King this season. King is third in scoring (107 points) and second in rebounding (59) this year for the Aggies. She is third on the team with 19 steals. King recorded 11 points with seven rebounds on Nov. 16 against Iona in her first start of the season. She also had a steal in that contest. She led the team with 22 points in the 40-point victory against N.C. Central, with three assists, two blocks and two steals. She had 14 points on 7-for-10 shooting against Charlotte on Dec. 18. She recorded 20 points--including a season-best 10 from the free throw line--with four assists and two steals on Dec. 21 against William & Mary. King, who tore her meniscus in January, is looking to have a healthy, full season this year. Before her injury last season, King was a scoring leader, averaging 13.5 points and 5.9 rebounds per game. She totaled 229 points and 101 rebounds in 17 games in 2011-12, and was named MEAC Defensive Player of the Week twice. She led the MEAC in free throw shooting at 88 percent before her injury.

Tracking the Aggies

The Aggie Attack: The North Carolina A&T women's basketball program has been a dominant force in the MEAC in the last seven seasons. The Aggies tallied a 130-88 overall record (.596) and a 84-32 mark in the MEAC (.724) from 2005-2012. The Aggies won three MEAC regular-season titles in that span, including three consecutive seasons of 20-plus victories. The Aggies won 26 games in the 2008-09 season, setting a MEAC record. The Aggies garnered a No. 14 seed in the 2009 NCAA Tournament. It was the highest seed ever given to an HBCU basketball team, men's or women's team, up to that season. Their 15 wins during the 2007-08 and 2008-09 season are also MEAC records for conference wins. The Aggies look to continue their winning ways in the 2012-13 season under first-year head coach Tarrell Robinson, who was a part of those record-setting seasons.

Rankings in the MEAC: The Aggies rank seventh in the conference in scoring offense and fourth in scoring defense this season. A&T is third in the conference with a .386 field goal percentage, and first with a .349 3-point field goal percentage. The Aggies are third in rebounding defense, with an average of 38.4 per game. Senior JaQuayla Berry is 13th in the conference with an average of 12.5 points per game. Redshirt junior Amber Calvin is 19th in the MEAC in scoring with 10.2 points per game. Berry is 10th in the MEAC with 6.9 rebounds per game. Redshirt junior Amber Calvin is seventh in the conference in field goal percentage (.422) and third in the MEAC in free throw percentage (.880) and 3-point field goal percentage (.500). Redshirt freshman Eboni Ross is eighth in the conference with 1.0 blocks per game. (Through all games on Dec. 30)

Tarrell Robinson

Head Coach

No. Years with Aggies: 1st

No. Years as Head Coach: 1st

Alma Mater: North Carolina A&T, 2001

Tarrell Robinson was named the sixth head coach in the history of the North Carolina A&T women's basketball program on May 2, 2012. He returns to A&T after spending three years as an assistant coach, recruiting coordinator and associate head coach at Virginia Commonwealth under head coach Beth Cunningham. Before his stint at VCU, Robinson spent four successful seasons at A&T under legendary head coach Patricia Cage-Bibbs. Robinson made a name for himself as a talented recruiter, having brought in highly touted players to A&T and helping to lead the Aggies to consecutive MEAC regular-season championships starting in 2007.

Robinson inherits a talented club, including three players he recruited in Amber Calvin, Nikia Gorham and JaQuayla Berry. In 2011-12, Berry became the 12th player in program history to hit the 1,000 points milestone, and she is a two-time All-MEAC selection, earning first-team honors in 2011. Calvin is closing in on the program's all-time assist record, and was named the A&T Department of Athletics Female Athlete of the Year in 2012.

Robinson, a 2001 graduate of A&T, helped Bibbs resurrect a dormant program. After a 9-19 season in 2005-06, Robinson assisted Bibbs in signing what turned out to be some of the best players in school history, starting with Fayetteville, N.C., native Ta'Wuana Cook. Cook went on to be the program's first MEAC Rookie of the Year, its second all-time leading scorer and its all-time leader in assists. He was also instrumental in signing two-time MEAC all-tournament performer Lamona Smalley and 2009 MEAC Player of the Year Brittanie Taylor-James. When Jaleesa Sams, who was ranked as high as No. 31 nationally by Scouts.com, signed to play at A&T in 2007, the women's basketball team had its most highly-touted recruit in history.

Robinson's recruiting efforts paid off. From 2007-09, Robinson and his recruits helped the Aggies compile a 51-15 record and their first MEAC tournament championship since 1994. The Aggies earned a berth to the NCAA Tournament in 2009, and were awarded a 14th seed. At the time, it was the highest seed ever given to an historically black college or university. Cook, Sams, Taylor-James and Berry are all 1,000-point career scorers and all-conference performers. His tenure as an Aggie assistant also yielded 13 all-conference selections. He was promoted to associate head coach prior to the 2008-09 season, after establishing himself as one of the best recruiters in the MEAC.

After leaving A&T for VCU, Robinson continued to excel as a recruiter. He was promoted to associate head coach in May 2011 at VCU after serving as the program's recruiting coordinator. He helped the Rams make three-consecutive postseason appearances from 2009-12. The Rams also made it to the third round of the WNIT in 2010 and 2012. He helped land back-to-back classes that ranked among the best in the Colonial Athletic Association, including players that ranked among the Top 30 in their respective positions. His 2011-12 class included the Ram's most highly recruited player in center Aprill McRae, who was named the 22nd post player in the nation by ESPN.

Robinson was also invited to the prestigious Nike Villa 7 Consortium in 2011 and 2012. The Nike Villa 7 Consortium is a partnership with the VCU Center for Sport Leadership, and brings together the country's elite assistant basketball coaches to help prepare the next generation of college basketball leaders. Prior to his successful stints at A&T and VCU, Robinson coached at the high school level and was a graduate assistant for the A&T men's basketball program. Robinson worked for two seasons as the assistant boys basketball coach at High Point (N.C.) Andrews High School, where he helped Andrews compile a 42-13 record and a pair of appearances in the NCHSAA State Tournament.

Before coaching at Andrews, Robinson spent two seasons as an assistant coach for the A&T men's basketball program under head coach Curtis Hunter. He served as the graduate assistant for the men's basketball team for the 2001-02 season. Robinson also made his mark as a student-athlete at A&T. He played on the men's basketball team from 1997-2001, and had a stellar playing career at A&T. He scored 934 career points, grabbed more than 700 rebounds and blocked 35 shots during his career. He led the Aggies in rebounding his junior season. Robinson attended E.E. Smith High School in Fayetteville, N.C., where he was an Honorable Mention McDonald's All-American and lettered three years on the varsity level. He was an all-conference and all-regional performer as a senior, and helped lead the Golden Bulls to a conference championship and regional runner-up finish in the state playoffs.

Robinson earned his B.A., degree in psychology in 2001 and was enrolled in the graduate program at A&T, where he was a candidate for a master's degree in Human Performance and Leisure Studies. Robinson and his wife, Kelli, have three children, Jordan, Jada and Lauren.
