THE GAME

This is the 19th meeting between the two programs and first meeting since 1963 that saw the Bears drop an 69-0 decision under former head coach Robert Jackson. Shaw is 3-17-1 overall against North Carolina A&T.

As the season begins, two team with a number of questions meet at Aggie Stadium. Today's game is the season-opening game for both the Bears and Aggies.

The Bears will likely start Darren Swinton under center to start the season, but freshman Terrance Shambry, II has taken a number of snaps with the first team during practices and has created a true quarterback competition.

The Bears will look to their running game, spearheaded by Marquise Grizzle, to help generate offense but Shaw is known for thier defense with many veterans leading the pack.

* Defensive Backs Coach Gerald Kennedy will return home to Greensboro, NC for the first time since 2009. Coach Kenndy is a native of Greensboro, NC.

Robert Massey will enter his fourth season as the Bears head coach, and the eight season on the SU staff. After serving five years as defensive backs coach and defensive coordinator, Massey took over the reins in 2012 and led a young Bears team to a 4-6 record, following a 6-4 record in 2013.

Massey brings a wide variety of football experience - both as a player and a coach - to the Shaw head coaching position.

During his first season, Massey took an inexperienced squad and built a 4-6 record, falling short of a .500 season after an unlikely comeback from Saint Augustine's in the final game of the season.

Prior to taking the position of head coach, Massey served two years as the Bear's Defensive Coordinator and before that, served two years as the defensive backs coach.

Despite a 3-7 record in 2011, the defense was a high point, with both Charles Deas and Stanley earning All-CIAA honors and receiving interest from NFL scouts.

In 2010, in his first year as defensive coordinator, the Bears won a CIAA championship in large part due to his "bend don't break" defense. Freshman defensive back Darnell Evans, a walk on, earned All-American honors under Massey's tutelage, while three players - Evans, Deas and Fred Sparkman - were named First Team All-CIAA.

In 2009, Massey's defensive backs helped Shaw earn the top ranking in the nation in pass efficiency defense. Cornerback Quintez Smith was named All-American and the CIAA Defensive Player of the Year under Massey's tutelage.

Prior to joining the Bears, Massey was interim head coach at Livingstone College, coaching for two seasons there.

In 2003, he returned to his alma mater, North Carolina Central, as their Receivers Coach. The next year, the Eagles named him to the post of Defensive Backs Coach.

As a player, he had a successful collegiate career at NC Central and finished third on the Eagles career interceptions list. He served as team captain and earned All-CIAA honors as both a junior and a senior.

In 1989, Massey was drafted by the New Orleans Saints, and was named to the 1989 NFL All-Rookie Team. He was one of six rookies to start all 16 games in 1989 and the first Saint to do so since 1981.

Massey was later selected to the 1992 Pro Bowl as a member of the Phoenix Cardinals. As a Cardinal, he tied the NFL record when he scored two touchdowns on interceptions in a single game against Washington on October 4.

After 10 season in the NFL, Massey retired as a member of the New York Giants in 1998. He finished his career with a number of records or season highs in statistically for the club. Massey continued on with the team as an assistant defensive backs coach.

He returned to Durham in 2001 to take over the football program at Hillside High School. In his second year as head coach, he guided the team to its first state playoff appearance in nine years.

Massey and his wife Adrienne have three children: sons Aaron (age 24) and Brandon (15), and daughter Bria (18).

PLAYERS TO WATCH

Raheem Bramwell
Senior
Defensive Back

Bramwell played in nine games during the 2014 campaign... He has switched back to free safety after playing linebacker one season ago... He will look to be a head hunter in the secondary when the ball is being thrown and will be a vocal leader on the defensive side for the Bears.

Roland Green
Senior
Linebacker

Green had 10 tackles in the Bears first conference division against Fayetteville State... He has been in games of this magnitude before and will need to use his experience to lead the Bears defense... In SU's multiple defensive package, he will be called upon to be equally adept at covering a pass receiver as he is stuffing the run.

Kendall Evans
Redshirt Junior
Offensive Lineman

Evans will be one of the heads of the O-Line. He has sights on protecting the backside of Shaw quarterbacks as the Bears () tackle, while creating space for the running backs to run.

Dwight Campbell
Junior
Defensive Lineman

Campbell had a game-high two sacks against Winston-Salem State... He has the reputation of being an under-sized lineman, like his 25 solo tackles during the 2014 campaign in which he started all 10 games... He will need to continue to be an anchor for line to stretch the field to help the Bears defensive game.
