QUICK KICKS

- Omaha is coming off a few losses to Northern Colorado, No. 20 Colorado, and Minnesota and looks for its first win since Aug. 25.
- Emma Konsmo made her debut in goal for the Mavericks at No. 20 Colorado. She tallied a pair of saves vs. the Buffaloes and recorded a season-high six saves at Minnesota last week.
- Mia Reedtz Rehde Olesen looks to return to goal for Omaha after nursing an injury. She currently ranks four in the league with a .960 GAA, fifth with a .783 save percentage, and seventh with 3.0 saves per game.
- Sophia Green made her return to the Omaha starting line-up at Minnesota. She led the Mavericks with six goals scored last season.
- Regan Zimmers leads the Mavericks with 11 shots, while Cece Behrens has a team-high five shots on goal.
- Beginning this season, if the score at the end of regulation is 0-0, the teams will earn a draw in their record. Overtime will no longer be played in the regular season.

DIGGING INSCOUTING THE IOWA STATE CYCLONES

The Cyclones are 2-3-2 heading into the week's action. They're coming off a 0-0 draw with South Dakota last weekend. Prior to the draw, Iowa State earned a 2-1 win vs. in-state rival Iowa. ISU also has a big 3-2 win vs. No. 24 Michigan and a 0-0 draw vs. Creighton.

CYCLONES TO WATCH

- Jada Colbert leads the Cyclones with three goals this season. She scored them on five attempts on goal. Colbert tallied her first vs. Michigan and netted a pair vs. Iowa including the game winner.
- Jordan Silkowitz has logged all 630 minutes in goal. She's made 41 saves and allowed 12 goals. Silkowitz made a career-high 12 saves vs. Iowa. She recorded 10 earlier this year vs. Memphis.

SERIES HISTORY

Iowa State holds a 2-0-0 edge in the all-time series. The last regular season match-up was in 2019. The Cyclones posted a 1-0 win on their home turf.

SCOUTING THE AIR FORCE FALCONS

The Falcons are 2-2-1 overall so far this season. In the season opener, USFA played to a 0-0 draw at Seattle U. The Falcons earned their first win vs. Army (2-1) and also picked up a 2-1 win at Northern University over the weekend. Prior to start the year, USFA's head coach had one career win. She has already doubled that to start the year.

FALCONS TO WATCH

- Andrea Mosher has started all five matches. She is one of four Falcons with a goal this season. Mosher also has six shots with three on goal.
- Cammi Bych has made four of the five starts in goal for USFA. She has 17 saves this season and allowed eight goals for a 1.78 GAA. Bych made a season-high six saves vs. Washington. She has one shutout vs. Seattle U.

SERIES HISTORY

Omaha aims to even the all-time series as the Falcons lead 1-0-0. The teams met in the first year of Division I competition.

LAST TIME OUT

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. - Omaha took its third straight game on the road Thursday night to Minnesota. The Gophers took a 2-0 win after two first half goals.

With the loss, Omaha falls to 1-4-2.

How It Happened

- The gophers came out on the attack Thursday night tallying the first six shots of the match. Minnesota found the back of the net in the eighth minute on a goal from Gabbie Cesarone for a 1-0 lead.
- In the 13th minute, Emma Konsmo was challenged between the posts for her first save of the night.
- Marissa Gohr responded in the 30th minute for Omaha's first attempt on goal but Megan Plaschko made the stop.
- Just over eight minutes later the Gophers doubled their lead. Sophia Boman scored low left giving Minnesota a 2-0 lead at the break.
- Konsmo was tested four more times in the second half. She made every save, and the Gophers earned a 2-0 win.

Inside the Box

- Gohr has Omaha's lone shot of the match.
- Izzy Brown recorded six of Minnesota's 23.
- Konsmo made a career-high six saves in goal.

PRESEASON PLAYERS TO WATCH

Sophia Green and Grace Ostergaard were named 2022 Preseason Players to Watch. Green led the Mavericks with 13 points on six goals and one assist. She went on a four-match scoring streak spanning Oct. 22 through Oct. 31 to close the regular season. Green was the 2020 Newcomer of the Year, All-Summit-Second Team, and All-Summit Newcomer Team Selection.

Ostergaard was a 2021 All-Summit Second Team selection. She started all 19 matches last season. Ostergaard tallied five points on one goal and three assists for the Mavericks.

KEY RETURNERS

The Mavericks return eight starters and 15 total letterwinners from the 2021 season. Between the pipes for Omaha returns junior goalkeeper Mia Reedtz. Reedtz made 11 starts in goal last season and posted five shutouts. She went 4-4-2 on the year with a .91 GAA and a .816 save percentage.

Jordyn West and Grace Thede return to the Omaha defensive line, while Grace Ostergaard, Sophia Green, Cece Behrens, Emilie Erland, and Marissa Gohr fill in the remaining line-up.

Behrens earned All-Newcomer honors last season after posting three goals on 12 shots over 17 starts.

NEWCOMERS

The Mavericks added 11 players to the 2022 roster. Lauren Schmidt made her Maverick debut vs. Nebraska. While at Papillion-La Vista, Schmidt earned All-State, All-Metro, and All-Class honors.

Payton Federmann is from Edwardsville, Illinois where she helped her team to a conference championship. She was also named to the All-Conference Second Team twice.

Ava Blum hails from St. Louis, Missouri. As a junior, she helped her team to a 19-3 record and a second place finish in the state championship. Blum netted the game winner in the district finals and the Class 4A Missouri State semifinals.

Schmidt, Federmann, and Blum are joined by Emma Kosm, Emma Nylund, Morgan Fenton, Kayla Hassler, Lindsey Birch, Maggie Gunderson, Mac Henson, Breana Whitaker, and Isabella Saldarriaga.

NOTES & QUOTES

PRO-MAHA

Andrea Daves inked the first professional contract by a former player in the spring of 2022. Daves signed with Madrid Club Futbol. She plays for the club's B side, Reto Iberdrola Sur, in the second division.

Daves was a five-year member of Omaha women's soccer appearing in 90 matches and making 68 starts for the Mavericks. Daves posted eight goals, 14 assists, 71 shots, and 34 shots on goal over her career.

The Denver, Colorado native is the program's Division I leader in career assists. She tallied six as a sophomore, three as a freshman and fifth year, and two as a senior.

REWRITING THE RECORD BOOKS

Going into her third season with Omaha, Sophia Green sits second in the Division I books with 12 career goals. She scored six in each of her first two seasons. Green is also the program's Division I leader in game-winners with seven.

Mia Reedtz has made a name for herself between the pipes. Reedtz has 12 shutouts in her first two seasons, which ranks first in DI history. Her 10 wins ranks second.

Reedtz rewrote a few single-season records so far in her tenure. She holds the top two seasons with a .70 GAA (2020) and .91 (2021). Reedtz's .816 save percentage in 2021 ranks second, while her six wins in 2020 sits second.

TIM'S TENURE

Head coach Tim Walters is in his sixth season leading the Mavericks. Omaha posted their best finish with him at the helm last season, which he surpassed with nine wins this regular season. The nine wins marks the most wins in a Division I season. Walters led the Mavericks to back-to-back Summit League Tournament appearances. They've seen the championship match twice under his guide.

The Mavericks posted back-to-back record breaking seasons under Walters with single-season shutout records. In 2020, the team notched 10 for the most in program history. In 2021, the team almost matched that record with nine.

Walters added Erin Gunther to the staff an assistant coach. Gunther spen the last two seasons as a graduate assistant at LSU.

ON DECK

The Mavericks return home to play Air Force on Sunday, Sept. 18 at 1 p.m. Conference play then opens at Caniglia with North Dakota and North Dakota State next week.

TIM WALTERSHEAD COACH | FIFTH SEASON*RECORD AT OMAHA - 37-48-14 (5 YEARS)*CAREER RECORD - 37-48-14 (5 YEARS)*QUICK HITS

Tim Walters enters his sixth season as the head coach of the Omaha women's soccer program after joining the program in December 2016.

For the second straight season, Walters led the Mavericks to the Summit League tournament as the No. 3 seed in 2021. The program's 9-8-2 overall record marked the most wins in a Division I season. Walters helped coach Margaret LaVigne to First Team honors, while Grace Ostergaard was named to the Second Team. Sena Ahoivissi, Cece Behrens, and Rachel Thigpen were named All-Newcomer.

Walters led the Mavericks to their second appearance in the Summit League Championship match in the 2020-21 season. Omaha posted an 8-5-5 overall record with an 8-4-4 finish in league action to secure the third seed in the tournament. The Mavericks advanced to the championship match after winning 3-1 in penalty kicks vs. South Dakota State.

The 2020-21 season was record breaking in many categories for the program. Walters led Mia Reedtz Rehde Olesen and Sophia Green to Summit League major awards. Olesen was tabbed Goalkeeper of the Year, while Green earned Newcomer of the Year honors. It marked the first time in program history Omaha earned either award. In addition to the major awards, six Mavericks combined for nine All-Summit nods, which is the most ever in program history.

Under Walters, Olesen and Margaret LaVigne were also tabbed First Team All-West Region by the United Soccer Coaches. Olesen was also tabbed College Soccer News All-Freshman Third team and top Drawer Soccer Freshman Top-100 with teammate Green.

In his first three seasons, Walters has helped eight Mavericks to All-Summit accolades and Omaha has earned the United Soccer Coaches Team Academic Award in three consecutive seasons.

In just his second season at the helm, Walters guided his team to the program's first berth in the Summit League Tournament in 2018. Omaha knocked off top-seeded South Dakota State 3-1 in the opening round to advance to the Summit League Finals against Denver before falling to the second-seeded Pioneers.

Prior to becoming a head coach, Walters spent six seasons as an assistant on the UNO men's soccer coaching staff. He helped the Mavericks post a 29-16-9 (.620) overall record in the last three seasons, including two Summit League regular-season championships (2014, 2016).

His coaching career began as an assistant Rolling College in Winter Park, Fla., where he was an assistant under head coach Keith Buckley for one season. In 2010, Walters helped the Tars to a 15-4-3 overall record and a national runner-up finish in NCAA Division II.

The St. Louis, Mo. native served as an assistant coach at Creighton during the 2009 season while finishing his degree in management information systems.

After starting his collegiate playing career at Kentucky, Walters transferred to Creighton for his final three years of eligibility. An attacking player, he started 29 of the 53 matches he appeared in, tallying seven goals and seven assists over his final two seasons. During Creighton's 16-2-2 campaign in 2008, Walters had three goals and three assists. All three of his goals as a senior were game-winners, including clutch shots at sixth-ranked California and against Bradley in the Missouri Valley Conference Tournament semifinals.

Walters enjoyed a career year as a junior, posting four goals and four assists to finish third on the team with 12 points in 2007. Walters scored the game-winning goal against second-ranked Indiana and followed with an assist on the game-winning overtime goal against Loyola Marymount to earn Saint Louis Nike Classic Tournament Co-MVP honors in addition to several national team of the week accolades in September 2007.

A graduate of Lafayette High School in Wildwood, Mo., Walters owns high school career marks of 97 goals, 222 points and 24 game-winning goals. His father, Tim, played soccer at Indiana in the late 1970s. Walters and his wife, Molly, have two sons and a daughter.
