ANNA NIMZ
Head Coach
5th season
Pittsburg State, 2008

Anna Nimz enters her fifth season at the helm of the Northwestern State women's basketball program in 2024-25. She is the 10th full-time head coach in program history, joining a list with six others whose first Division I success started at Northwestern State.

Nimz and her staff faced the challenge of the 2020-21 COVID season, her first season in Natchitoches, head on as they began to build NSU women's basketball back to a perennial contender in the Southland Conference.

The first fruits of that labor showed itself during the 2021-22 campaign.

The Lady Demons had the largest single-season win improvement (11) in program, one of the largest scoring increases (17.1 ppg) in the country, produced six Southland Conference Players of the Weeks, the most of any one team during the season, and won three consecutive non-conference road games for the first time in 33 years.

Three newcomers in the 21-22 season were named all-conference players including NSU's first all-defensive player selection since such honors were distributed following the 2012-13 season.

One of those newcomers, Candice Parramore, who was named Southland Newcomer of the Year in 2021-22, helped continue the program's path to resurgence by earning first-team all-conference honors following the 2022-23 season, the first first-teamer under Nimz's tutelage and the first for the program since 2016-17. She was also the first player to earn consecutive all-conference honors since Janelle Perez in 2014-16.

Parramore was second in the Southland in scoring during the 22-23 conference season reaching double-figures in 13 of the 14 games in which she played. She also set the NSU career free throw percentage record by converting on 85 percent of her more than 280 career attempts. Parramore was the first player to make 100 or more free throws in consecutive seasons since in 30 years. She scored more than 700 points for NSU in her two seasons with the Demons.

Nimz has coached the Demons to two straight Southland tournament appearances, the first time NSU reached back-to-back tournaments since a string of five straight trips between 2012-17.

A two-year letterwinner and team captain at Pittsburg State, Nimz served as the associate head coach at UTRGV in the two seasons prior to coming to Natchitoches. She helped the Vaqueros reach the 2019 Western Athletic Conference Tournament championship game and earn a 2019 Women's Basketball Invitational berth.

With Nimz on staff, the Vaqueros led the WAC in scoring defense in 2018-19, produced five All-WAC selections and tallied the most WAC wins (10) in program history.

Nimz arrived at UTRGV after eight years as a junior college head coach, spending five seasons at Labette Community College in Parsons, Kansas, before coaching three years at Kilgore College in Texas.

Nimz took over the Labette program at 25 years old, giving her ample opportunities to grow in an on-the-job atmosphere.

That approach helped Nimz recruit three all-conference and three all-region players at Labette while five of her student-athletes earned scholarships to NCAA institutions.

From Labette, Nimz was hired to rebuild a once-proud Kilgore College program that had fallen to seven wins in 2013-14. Hired in June 2014, Nimz took the standing Kilgore roster and improved from seven wins to 16 in her first season.

She followed with consecutive 21-win seasons, marking the first time in 21 years Kilgore College had won at least 20 games in consecutive seasons. In three seasons at Kilgore, Nimz posted a 58-36 overall record, reaching a pair of NJCAA Region 14 championship games.

Nimz credited her time at both junior college programs for giving her insight into the totality of running a college basketball program, something that was evident in her two seasons at UTRGV.

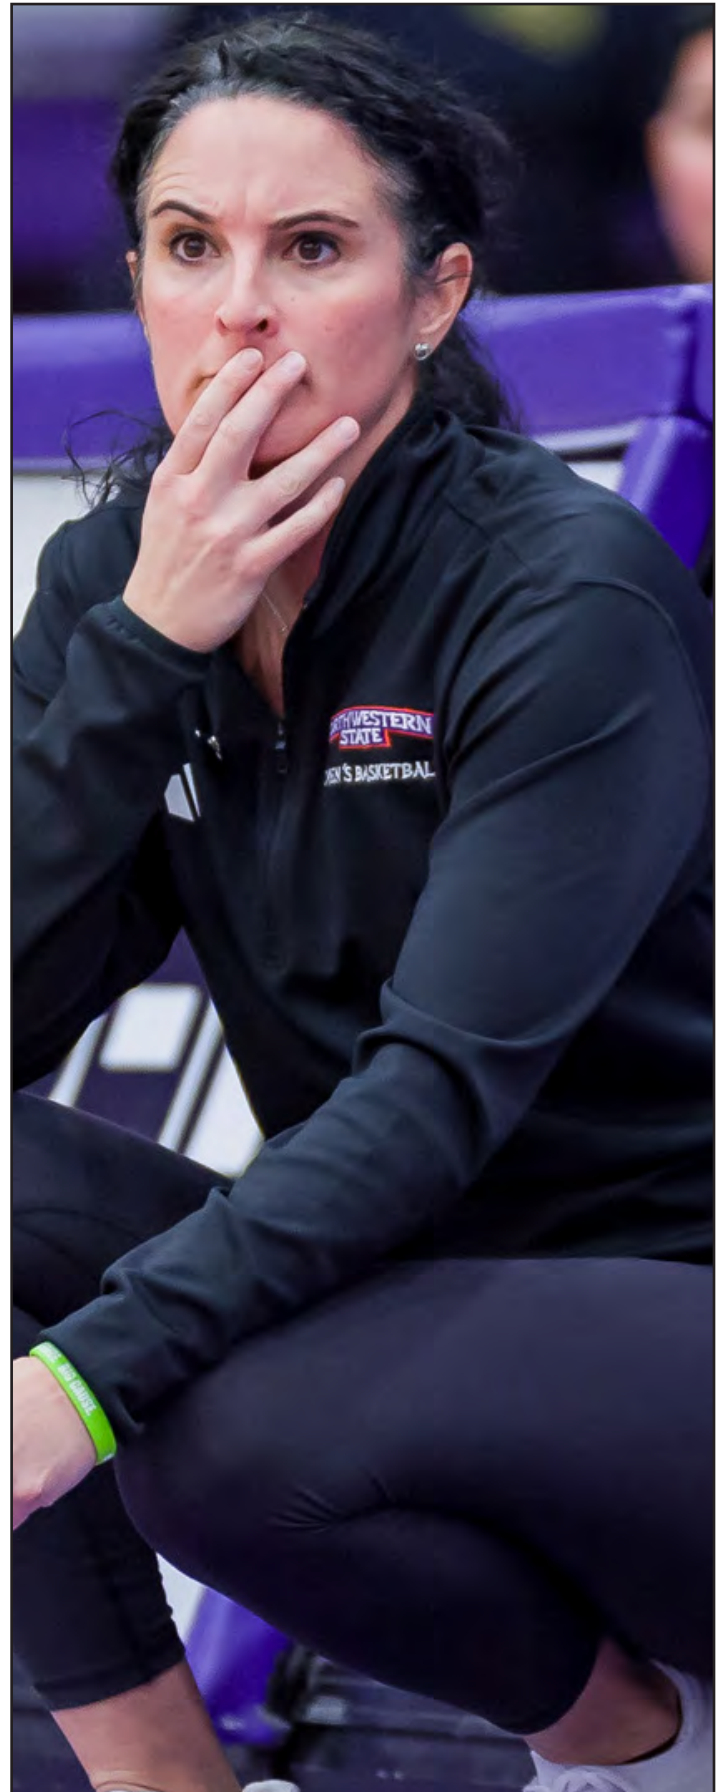

In addition to averaging 10.9 points and 3.1 assists per game in her two seasons at Pittsburg State, Nimz was named the Pittsburg State Outstanding Student-Athlete of the Year for 2006-07 and was a named Student Major of the Year in Health, Human Performance and Recreation. A two-time Pittsburg State graduate, Nimz was the 2008-09 Graduate Student of the Year in Health, Human Performance and Recreation.

She was Kilgore College's Employee of the Year in 2016-17.

Nimz began her coaching career at Pittsburg State as a graduate assistant, helping lead the Gorillas to their first 20-win season in 14 years while recruiting and coaching eight All-Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association honorees.

Nimz joins Pat Nolen Pierson, James Smith, Jennifer Graf,

Brooke and Scott Stoehr, Jordan Dupuy and Missy Bilderback as coaches whose first Division I job came at Northwestern State.

LEASA AILSHIE

Assistant Coach
5th season
Sam Houston, 2009

Leasa Ailshie enters her fifth season as assistant coach on the Northwestern State staff after success both as a head coach and athletic director at Jacksonville College in Jacksonville, Texas. She spent five seasons as the head coach for the Jaguars with the final two and a half years also serving as the school's athletic director.

Ailshie brings a wealth of knowledge, offensive acumen and uncanny ability to recognize and maneuver through an opposing defense to create success in pivotal moments of the game.

In her role as assistant coach for the Lady Demons, she works closely with Nimz implementing all facets of the offense including individual workouts for players, she also serves as the academic lead on the coaching staff working with the student-athletes to fortify their success within the classroom.

Ailshie served as a department chair and on multiple academic judicial committees while at UTRGV, completing and submitting Academic Progress Rate (APR) and Graduation Success Rate (GSR) reports for the Vaqueros to the NCAA.

She began her coaching career as a graduate assistant at her alma mater Sam Houston State where she played two seasons for the Bearkats after transferring from Connors State. In June 2011 she joined Jacksonville College as an assistant coach, working her way to head coach in 2013 and athletic director in 2015.

As the head coach, Ailshie led the Lady Jaguars to a school record 21-win season during the 2017-18 campaign, earning a finalist spot for the Women's Basketball Coaches Association Coach of the Year. She mentored four All-American players in her time, three in the NJCAA and another Parade All-American, saw 12 players earn Academic All-American honors, with her program enjoying a 100 percent graduation rate.

Jacksonville also had 14 All-Region 14 performers and a Region 14 MVP under Ailshie's direction.

Her comfortability in late-game, high-pressure situations and ability to put players in the best situation for their success, all of which she brings to NSU, are what led to the Lady Jaguars' athletic success on the court.

While serving as the women's basketball head coach, Ailshie was named Jacksonville College Athletic Director and served in both roles until May of 2018.

In addition to leading a successful basketball program, Ailshie boosted the notoriety of the school by winning the bid to host the men's and women's Region 14 basketball tournament. She served as the tournament director for the competitions in both 2017 and 2018. The tournament has remained in Jacksonville even after Ailshie's departure.

She was responsible for coordination and supervision of athletic events, fundraising for and promotion of the school, and budget, employee, and coach management.

No stranger to the Southland Conference, Ailshie earned a bachelor's and master's in health education from Sam Houston State as a member of the basketball team and then graduate assistant coach.

In two seasons with the Bearkats, she started 39 games and averaged 5.8 points and 3.7 assists. Prior to her time in Huntsville, Ailshie saw success at

MIKE BROWN
Assistant Coach
5th season
Drake, 1996

Mike Brown enters his fifth season on the NSU coaching staff, continuing his long working relationship with head coach Anna Nimz after the two coached and rebuilt the program together at Kilgore College.

Brown has over 20 years of coaching experience with three stints as a head coach beginning in 1997 at Iowa Central Community College before moving to Upper Iowa University in 2005 and William Penn in 2010.

In his most recent stop prior to NSU at Missouri S&T, Brown served as lead recruiter and academic advisor on the coaching staff. During his three years with the program he helped coach a pair of all-conference players along with a member of the conference's all-freshman team. The Miners also saw increase in academic success under Brown's direction, raising the team grade point average to 3.30 by his final year.

Brown spent two seasons as an assistant coach at Kilgore Junior College in Kilgore, Texas before his time in Missouri. During his tenure at Kilgore, Brown helped guide the Lady Rangers to a 37-25 record and consecutive appearances in the Region XIV Tournament Championship game.

Prior to his time at Kilgore, Brown spent five seasons coaching at William Penn College. He served as an assistant for two seasons before being promoted to head coach prior to the 2012-13 season. During his time as head coach he guided the Statesmen to a 42-47 mark.

In his first season he led the team to a 19-10 record, 9-3 in the Midwest Collegiate Conference which was good for second place. It was the program's best ever finish in league play. He had eight players earn all-conference honors during his tenure and coached the MCC's Newcomer of the Year in 2013-14.

Brown was the head coach at Upper Iowa from 2008-2010 where he coached the school's first-ever Division II all-conference and all-region players in addition to several academic all-region performers.

Before his first jump to Division II, Brown was an assistant and eventual head coach at Iowa Central Community College. Taking over the head coaching position in the 99-00 season, Brown led the Tritons to a 115-78 record in six seasons. During his first season as head coach his squad won the Region XI Tournament title, played in the national tournament, and finished the season ranked eighth in the country. Brown was named the Region XI Coach of the Year that season.

He has coached five All-Americans, dozens of all-conference performers and numerous academic all-region student-athletes.

Brown also has coaching experience at the prep (head sophomore and assistant varsity coach at Des Moines Roosevelt HS from 1996-1997) and NCAA Division I level (student coach at Drake from 1992-1996).

- Master of Business Leadership, William Penn, 2013

P'HARIZ WATKINS
 Assistant Coach
 1st season
 Heidelberg, 2021

P'hariz Watkins joined the NSU women's basketball coaching staff in July of 2024.

Watkins joins the staff after working two years at Tennessee while pursuing a second master's degree. He served as a graduate assistant with the Lady Vol Basketball program for the 2023-24 season after spending the previous academic year working with Tennessee Athletics as a member of the the 2022-23 FellowVOLS cohort.

While working with the UT basketball team, his responsibilities included player development on and off the court, managing male practice players, supporting recruiting efforts, scouting and game planning as well as basketball operations duties.

Watkins played basketball collegiately for four seasons, including three years as a letterman at Heidelberg College in Ohio and another at Adrian College in Michigan. He appeared in 86 total games during his collegiate career, logging 1,401 minutes, 573 points, 220 rebounds and 129 assists.

Off the court, Watkins served as the co-chairman for Adrian's Graduate Studies Advisory Committee and gained leadership experience as the student chairman for Heidelberg's D.E.I. Committee and Student-Athlete Advisory Committee. Adding to his student-athlete responsibilities, he handled duties as the social media coordinator for his team.

Additionally, he also interned with Georgia State Athletics in ticket sales and social media as well as with USA Basketball, where he served in the youth event operations department and as a basketball operations assistant coordinator for the HBCU All-Star Weekend. He also was a basketball operations manager for the first-ever 2023 NCAA Women's College Basketball Academy.

A May 2021 graduate of Heidelberg, Watkins double majored in communications and sport management while minoring in media technology. He then earned a master's degree in sport management from Adrian in December 2022 before beginning work on his second master's degree in (ALEC) agricultural leadership, education and communication at Tennessee.

A native of Dayton, Ohio, Watkins graduated from Chaminade Julianne Catholic High School, where he was first-team all-league and all-district as well as an honorable mention all-state athlete in basketball. He is the son of Nicole Parker and Dion Watkins and brother of Londyn Parker.

GREG WATERS
Director of Basketball Operations
1st season
Missouri State, 2020

Greg Waters is in his first season as the director of basketball operations for the women's basketball team.

He comes to Natchitoches from the University of Tennessee, where he was a video analytics volunteer for the Lady Vols basketball team during the 2023-24 season.

Among his duties, Waters developed film-based tracking categories, revealing connections between performance and outcomes. He expanded tracking categories throughout the season, introducing metrics not found in box scores.

Prior to his tenure in Knoxville, he worked as a video coordinator intern with Jacob Begin Basketball.

He performed game film analysis for clientele spanning high school, collegiate, and professional basketball levels, including first round NBA draft picks Gradey Dick and Payton Pritchard.

Waters also worked as a camp coach at the Bill Self Basketball Camp in June 2024, where he conducted offensive skill development drills for campers.

He earned his bachelor's in entertainment management from Missouri State in 2020.

LANDON STEPHENS
Graduate Assistant
3rd season
Northwestern State, 2023

Landon Stephens is entering his third season with the Northwestern State women's basketball staff, the third year as a graduate assistant, as well as basketball manager his senior year during the 2022-2023 season.

Landon's responsibilities as the women's basketball GA widely range from data analytics, recording video footage, assessing talent, preparing for practices and games, helping identifying player skills and weaknesses and fulfilling other duties as needed. He is also responsible for study hall monitoring, as well as promoting good sportsmanship, health, and academic balance.

Although he was born in Louisiana, Landon is from Nashville, Tenn., and received his bachelors in business administration from Northwestern State in May 2023 and will graduate with his master's in health and human performance in sports administration this spring.

AVRIE BASSINGTHWAITE
Athletic Trainer
1st season
Becker College, 2019

Avrie Bassingthwaite is in her first season as an athletic trainer at Northwestern State after being hired in July 2024. She works primarily with the women's basketball team.

She comes to Natchitoches from Florida Atlantic, where she worked with spring football and women's tennis.

While with FAU, she designed and implemented circuit training for athletes who could not fully participate in practice due to injury or a medical condition as well as assisted with emergency situations and managing athletes with medical conditions.

Prior to her time in Boca Raton, she worked with the University of Connecticut, where she performed injury evaluations, treatments and modalities, taping and concussion protocols.

Bassingthwaite also worked as an intern with the WNBA's Connecticut Sun. With the WNBA power, she was the game day away team liaison, assisting the away ATC for the duration of home games. She also assisted the home team ATC in pregame taping and treatments.

For five seasons, she was the medical coordinator for the Massachusetts Pirates of the Indoor Professional Football League, running the entire medical department.

While with the Pirates, she assisted athletic trainers in injury prevention, pain management, athlete maintenance and rehabilitation in various settings including games, practices and community events, as well as national travel for games and training.

Bassingthwaite graduated with her bachelor's degree in 2019 from Becker College and her master's in 2024 from UConn in athletic training.

NORTHWESTERN STATE WOMEN'S BASKETBALL HISTORY

Since the first team took the court in 1908, the women's basketball program at Northwestern State has always scored a lot of points and won a lot of games.

Dating to the mid 1960s, when little attention was given to women's athletics in college, the Lady Demons were already drawing attention with winning records and postseason success.

In fact, while women's sports were not yet funded by the university budget, the Lady Demons earned a trip to the National Women's Invitational Tournament in 1973, led by volunteer coach Lou Lewis Baxter, a physical education professor.

Recognized officially (and funded) by the university for the 1974-75 season, the Lady Demons hit the court running, posting an 18-9 record under head coach Mary Jane Mayfield.

In April 1975, Northwestern became the first university in Louisiana to issue full athletic scholarships to women, when NSU athletes Pat Nolen, Diane Pittman, Emma Ellerman, Louise "Do" Bonin, Sherrill Landry, Terri McDonnell, Inez Brew, Mona Davidson, Janie Wallace and Margaret Langford were the recipients. Tammy Primeaux and Lisa Brewer were high school seniors who accepted scholarships to play basketball for the Lady Demons.

In 1974-75, the Lady Demons advanced to the Louisiana Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women basketball tournament, splitting four games with Southwestern Louisiana before moving onto the AIAW Region IV tournament.

The Lady Demons repeated the accomplishment for the next three years under Charlotte Corley, posting a 14-13 record in state tournaments and an 8-8 mark in regional tournaments.

While the Lady Demons were a powerful force in state women's basketball under their first three coaches, it was under the leadership of Pat Nolen Pierson that the Lady Demons tasted their first bit of national recognition.

After finishing her playing career with the Lady Demons and graduating with honors, she came within one game of claiming a state championship in her only year of high school coaching at her alma mater, Pitkin High School.

She took over the Northwestern State program following that season, just 23 years old. During her nine years as head coach, the Lady Demons became a force on the national level as women's basketball moved into the NCAA Division I mainstream around the country after playing in the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women in the 1970s.

A formidable partnership was created when Pierson hired James Smith as assistant coach in 1980. He was responsible for installing the Lady Demons' trademark fast-break offense.

The Pierson-Smith tandem won 71 percent of their games (135-56) in their seven years together.

During those years, Northwestern State became a fixture in the national top 10 scoring rankings. That attack appealed to top athletes like Lonnie Banks, Teressa Thomas, Annie Harris, Linda Grayson and Sandy Pugh, highly recruited prep stars who became Lady Demon greats.

The Lady Demons won three straight Gulf Star Conference championships (1984-86), receiving votes for the AP Top 20 each year. The 1985-86 squad made the biggest breakthrough, setting a single season record for victories and becoming the first Northwestern State team to participate in postseason play at the NCAA Division I level.

That team, led by Thomas, Banks and Harris, stunned 1985 NCAA Final Four entry Northeast Louisiana (ranked No. 4 in USA Today Top 25) 86-83 on Jan. 30, 1986. Northwestern State had a 20-point halftime lead and held off a rally as Harris ripped in 37 points and Thomas pumped in 25 more to go along with eight assists and Banks, at 5-foot-5, snagged 14 rebounds.

A pair of late-season road losses at Southeastern Louisiana and Sam Houston probably kept the Lady Demons out of the 32-team NCAA Tournament. However, the NWIT issued an invitation to Northwestern State and it was well received on both ends.

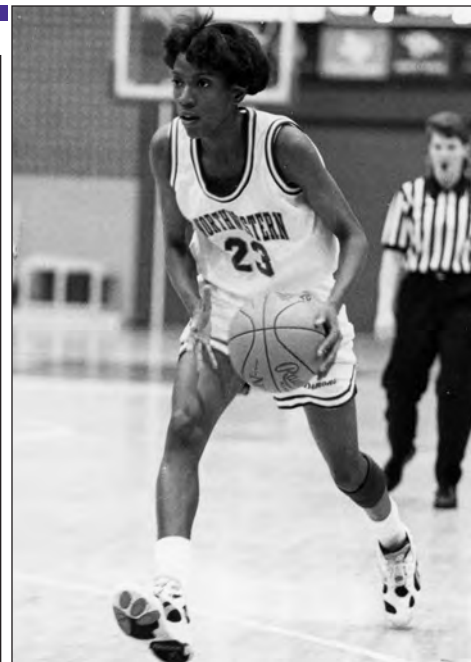

By the end of the NWIT in Amarillo, Texas, the Lady Demons had won over the local crowd and nearly won the tournament title. Seeded sixth, Northwestern State topped Tennessee Tech, 77-71, and squeaked by Duke, 89-88, on a last-second jumper by Harris to reach the championship contest.

As a crowd of 2,600 Texans cheered wildly "on another night in Lady Demon Land," as the local newspaper put it, Northwestern battled to the last minute before falling 100-91 to Idaho. Thomas and Harris were All-Tournament picks.

Thomas had a national record 19 assists in an 88-77 win over Mississippi College earlier in her senior year.

The Lady Demons won a fourth straight conference title in 1986-87 with a win over Southwest Texas, sharing the title with Stephen F. Austin. Sandy Pugh was named conference MVP, the first time a Lady Demon picked up that honor.

At the end of the 1987 campaign, Pierson made a difficult decision and left Northwestern to rejuvenate the women's basketball program at East Carolina. It was an easy decision, however, to elevate Smith to the head coaching position. In 17 years, he took the program to even greater heights while surpassing Pierson as the all-time winningest coach in Lady Demon history during the 1995-96 season.

NSU's all-time leading rebounder, Joskeen Garner

Senior Linda Grayson combined with junior college transfer Pam Hudson to lead another landmark year for the Lady Demons in 1988-89. Smith's second team knocked off No. 11 Stephen F. Austin, 78-76, and earned an at-large invitation to the NCAA Tournament.

In 1989-90, the program took another huge step forward when Hudson won the Division I rebounding title (15.2 rpg), finished second in the scoring race (28.4 ppg) and rewrote school and Southland Conference records on the way to becoming the first major college All-American in Northwestern State women's basketball history. She was a second-team pick on the Basketball Writers of America team and a honorable mention Kodak All-American.

In 1993, the Lady Demons posted another winning campaign (24-8) with a freshman nucleus led by Joskeen Garner, the Southland Conference Freshman of the Year and a first team All-SLC pick. Northwestern State accepted a bid to the NWIT and claimed the consolation championship (third place).

The 1993-94 Lady Demons posted their 15th consecutive winning season with a 20-8 record as Garner was the nation's second leading rebounder (13.8 rpg) and named Louisiana's Co-Player of the Year with Pam Thomas of Louisiana Tech.

Northwestern State posted its fourth consecutive 20-win season en route to a record-tying 25-7 record in 1994-95. The Lady Demons captured their first Southland Conference championship, finishing league play with a 16-2 record. Northwestern State lost to SFA in the tournament championship game, but accepted a bid to the NWIT for the second time in three years.

The seventh-seeded Lady Demons were the surprise team in Amarillo, Texas. Northwestern State opened with an 80-64 win over Clemson. They followed with a 103-93 win over Notre Dame in a semifinal shootout before losing a hard-fought battle against Texas A&M in the finals, 85-81.

Joskeen Garner became the first Lady Demon since Pam Hudson to earn All-American honors, being named to the Associated Press Honorable Mention All-American team.

The Lady Demons again posted impressive numbers in 1995-96 while posting their 17th straight winning season, one win shy of a fifth straight 20-win season.

Northwestern State went through a rebuilding process

FIRST SIGNEES - In April 1975, Northwestern State became the first university in Louisiana to issue fall athletic scholarships to women. Signing basketball and volleyball scholarships were (left to right) Diane Pittman, Pat Nolen, Emma Ellerman, "Do" Bonin, and Sherrill Landry in 1996-97 but found a star in Judy Clark, named Southland Conference Freshman of the Year.

The 1998-99 squad put their stamp on the the Lady Demons record books. The team reeled off 13 straight wins from Dec. 20, 1998 to Feb. 6, 1999, a new Lady Demons record and finished the year with a 22-7 overall record.

Clark added another piece of hardware to her trophy case, as she was selected Southland Conference Player of the Year.

The Southland Conference regular season champions lost to Stephen F. Austin in the tournament finals, but once again were invited to the WNIT, the third time in six years for NSU. In a new format, the Lady Demons lost in the first round on the road against Arkansas.

In 1999-00, the Lady Demons (24-6) notched an .800 winning percentage, the best in school history. The Lady Demons also had the third-most wins in school history.

The 1999-00 season did end in disappointment, however, as the Lady Demons failed to earn a bid to the NCAA tournament despite a higher RPI ranking than several teams that were offered bids.

The 2000-01 team led by Kia Converse rolled off a school-record 15 straight wins from Jan. 1 to March 8, finishing the season with a mark of 23-7. The Lady Demons advanced to the tournament finals, only to lose to SFA. Converse became the SLC's all-time best 3-point shooter with 218 career 3s.

The 2003-04 team looked loaded in what turned out to be coach Smith's final season, and the pieces fell into place. The Lady Demons rolled through the SLC season with a 14-2 mark, including an 11-0 start. The team finished 24-7, tying for the second-most wins in a season while winning the SLC regular-season and tournament crowns, advancing to the second NCAA Tournament in school history.

Cooda Dobin became NSU's career assist leader with 921. She also became the first player in NCAA history, men or women, to lead the nation in assists per game for three straight seasons. She was featured in the NCAA Final Four official program.

Dobin later returned to the Lady Demon program as an assistant coach for the 2011-12 season.

On Sept. 1, 2004, the torch was passed. Smith stepped down as head coach and Lady Demon player and assistant coach Jennifer Graf, after being groomed by her mentor for the last two seasons, took over as head coach.

Graf stepped down at NSU after accumulating more than 100 wins for the Lady Demons at the conclusion of the 2011-12 season, and on Apr. 4, 2012, the first set of co-head coaches in program history was hired. Brooke Stoehr, who started at point guard for rival Louisiana Tech from 2000-02, was hired from Texas Tech with her husband, Scott.

The two immediately saw success after doubling the program's win total in just a year and taking NSU to its third NCAA tournament after an SLC Tourney championship in 2014.

The 2013-14 season was much like the days of old with a 20-win season, its first since 2004, and one team standing between NSU and the big dance, Stephen F. Austin.

The Lady Demons downed the Ladyjacks 62-44 on March 16 to claim the second league tournament title in school history which led to Brooke and Scott Stoehr capturing the Louisiana Sports Writers Association Coaches of the Year Award.

The Stoehrs added to their legacy in March 2015, leading Northwestern State to a second straight Southland Conference Tournament championship and a return trip to the NCAA Tournament. NSU's appearance against Baylor marked the first time in program history it had reached consecutive NCAA Tournaments.

Behind two-time All-Louisiana first-teamer Janelle Perez, who ended her stellar Lady Demons career in the top 10 in numerous career categories, NSU made its Women's Basketball Invitational debut in 2016. Perez, meanwhile, left NSU as the school's all-time 3-point leader, canning 241 career 3s.

The first three-year run of postseason play capped the Stoehrs' time in Natchitoches, leaving for Louisiana Tech after the 2015-16 season.

Jordan Dupuy began his run in 2016-17 promising to re-establish a high-tempo offense that long was a NSU staple.

Dupuy's inaugural season produced a program first as senior guard Beatrice Attura earned first-team CoSIDA Academic All-American honors. Attura, who left as the school's single-season 3-point record holder (88), added first-team All-Louisiana and All-Southland Conference honors in her final Lady Demons campaign.

Four Lady Demons have had their jerseys retired after great careers. Hanging in the rafters of Prather Coliseum, alongside the many championship banners, are Pam Hudson's No. 45, Linda Grayson's No. 33, Lonnie Banks' No. 10, and Teressa Thomas' No. 25.

It could be argued the sequel was more dramatic than the original.

For the second straight season, Northwestern State played its best basketball at the right time, collecting the second of back-to-back Southland Conference Tournament championships.

While the 2013-14 NSU team's run through the SLC Tournament included more game-to-game drama, the 2014-15 NSU team's tournament title likely was more unexpected.

Entering the tournament as the No. 6 seed and having lost four of its final six regular-season games, NSU made a historic run through the Merrell Center in Katy, Texas, to make program history.

With its run of four wins in four days, NSU became the first No. 6 seed to capture the SLC Tournament title, earning the first back-to-back NCAA Tournament berths in program history.

For the second straight year, Lamar provided NSU with its toughest challenge of the tournament, taking a 14-point, second-half lead. Doing what it did best all season long, the Demons erased the deficit and forced overtime with a pair of Keisha Lee free throws with 12 seconds remaining.

One year after Janelle Perez' buzzer-beater eliminated the Cardinals, NSU did it again, as Beatrice Attura poured in nine of her career-high 26 points in overtime to lead NSU to a 70-60 victory.

Attura dropped in 19 points in the tournament title game, earning tournament Most Valuable Player honors to cap an eight-game, late-season run in which she averaged 16.3 points per game, nearly doubling her season average (8.3).

In addition to take home the Southland's ultimate team prize for the second straight year, the 2014-15 season featured several individual milestones and the emergence of Janelle Perez as one of the Southland Conference's top players.

Perez and teammate Keisha Lee each surpassed the 1,000-point mark in their careers. It was fitting they did so in the same season as they have shared the backcourt since Lee's redshirt freshman season and Perez' true freshman season of 2012-13.

Lee was the first of the pair -- and the 25th Demons -- to reach the milestone mark, doing so Jan. 21 against Nicholls in Prather Coliseum. Lee's baseline jumper with 18:30 to play in the game nudged her past the 1,000-point mark. Perez joined her less than a month later.

In keeping with her ability to deliver in clutch situations, Perez reached 1,000 points with a 3-point-er with 33 seconds left in regulation at McNeese on Feb. 14. Perez' bucket looked like it would be the game winner before the Cowgirls answered with a 3 and eventually won the game in overtime.

Perez tallied 26 points in that game, part of a season in which she scored 513 points, putting her just outside the top 10 single-season performances in school history. The loss at McNeese was part of a five-losses-in-six-games stretch that threatened to undo the strong start to conference play Northwestern State enjoyed.

NSU broke from the gates quickly in conference play, putting together its first 5-0 start in Southland play since 2003-04, and stood 7-1 in the conference after a 21-point home victory against McNeese on Jan. 24.

One constant that carried over from NSU's non-conference slate was its ability to claw back from double-figure deficits and emerge victorious. NSU trailed at halftime in each of its first three Southland Conference victories and erased a 10-point deficit in a victory at Sam Houston. Twice in the regular season, NSU rallied from at least 15 points down to grab conference wins, pulling off remarkable comebacks against Abilene Christian (15) and Southeastern (17 points).

A road loss at Central Arkansas initiated the 1-5 slide that dragged NSU to the middle of the SLC pack. After finishing the regular season by splitting its final four games, NSU made itself comfortable in what has become a second home to the program -- the Merrell Center in Katy, Texas.

Was it a return to the glory days? Twenty-one wins, a conference tournament championships and an NCAA Tournament appearance make a good argument for it. The program had not experienced 20 wins in a season since 2004, nor had it reached the Southland Conference Tournament finals or been to a national tournament in a decade.

All of that happened in 2013-14, a season that restored the shine to a tradition-rich program.

The vast majority of the previous high points in NSU women's basketball history came in 24 years from 1980-2004, including 13 20-win seasons, two WNIT championship game appearances, and a collection of signature wins including victories over Duke, Iowa, Louisville, Notre Dame and Texas A&M, among a length list of elite national programs.

In 29 of the program's first 31 season, NSU produced a winning record. In the first 18 seasons of Southland membership (1988-2005), the Demons reached the semifinals or finals of the SLC Tournament 15 times, winning the 2004 event and making five national postseason appearances. But over the last seven seasons prior to the arrival of co-head coaches Brooke and Scott Stoehr, NSU had five under-.500 records.

When the Stoehrs were hired in 2012, their main goal was to re-establish a winning culture. That gradual process game to fruition late in the season when NSU notched four straight wins to grab the fourth seed in the league tournament. That run reached seven when the Demons captured their first SLC Tournament title since 2004 by beating the tournament's No. 1, 2 and 5 seeds.

It was most apparent when NSU held a 22-22 tie with top-seeded Tennessee at Thompson-Boling Arena in Knoxville. NSU was fearless in that game, and was led by season-leading scorer Trudy Armstead.

"I could not be more proud of my team and the what they compete. I think fearless was a word that we kept using over and over this week," said Brooke Stoehr in the postgame news conference after the contest. "I'm just so proud of their fight, their effort and their will to compete for each other and our staff."

To even get to that point, NSU had to win a close game over in-state rival, Nicholls, in the first round of the SLC Tournament before Janelle Perez was able to lift the Demons over league champion Lamar in the second round.

The Cardinals held a six-point lead with just under four minutes to play, but was scoreless until there was 1:22 to play. Down 59-53, Robin Richardson hit two free throws that cut it to four, before Lamar's Jameisha Edwards made it a five-point lead by making one of two free throws.

Armstead grabbed the defensive board, which allowed Perez to score a fastbreak bucket followed by another 30 seconds later to cut it to one point.

The game-winner from Perez was set up by a five-second violation on an inbounds play from the Cardinals. Down one point, Perez took the ball to the top of the key, played for the last shot and drove the lane with just under nine seconds. After the ball bounced on the rim three times, it fell through the net to give NSU the one-point edge with 2.4 seconds to play.

It was not even close in the championship game that ended in a 62-44 win over Stephen F. Austin. Northwestern State held the lead for the final 32 minutes of the game, and almost 38 minutes for the entire game. SFA scored the game's first points on a layup and eventually took the lead back with 12:43 to play in the first half, but Perez drained a 3-pointer shortly after to put them down again.

Armstead and Perez took all-tournament honors, including Armstead winning the MVP award.

(The following recap was written by 2003-04 assistant coach Jennifer Graf)

The 2003-2004 Lady Demon basketball season has been one for the record books. The girls this year reached a goal that many Lady Demon teams have been unable to accomplish: winning the Southland Conference Tournament Championship along with winning the SLC Regular Season Championship.

My junior season, 1999, we won the regular season championship, but fell short in the tournament finals. I will never forget the crushing disappointment. Now I know, thanks to the girls who make up the 2003-04 Lady Demons basketball team, just how wonderful March Madness can be.

By achieving this unprecedented sweep, this year's Lady Demons gave all of us -- coaches, parents, former players, fans and supporters -- a huge sense of pride. Our team went on a challenging and ultimately rewarding journey this past basketball season. It all started with this group consistently demonstrating they wanted to be the best they could be. Their goals were "let the sky be the limit" and by daring to dream, and dedicating themselves to achieve, last week they experienced a journey few teams in the country get to enjoy.

March Madness was amazing. The support we got while winning the conference tournament was simply spine-tingling. It all climaxed in the final minute of the championship game as everyone in purple in Prather Coliseum went completely crazy. As the horn sounded and the celebration began, we experienced a feeling that for many, including myself, is nearly impossible to put into words -- it's the whipped cream on strawberries, it's the pecan pie after Thanksgiving dinner, it's the Cherry Coke on a hot summer day, it's the extra that I don't know if we deserve in this world but we are blessed with anyway -- and what a blessing it is!

The next day we met at Prather Coliseum to watch the NCAA Selection Show. We filled the seats inside with all eyes glued on the television as the show time finally approached -- with the excitement building, we were ready to enjoy the show. Suddenly, as the first bracket was revealed, the very first school to appear was Northwestern State, paired up against none other than the No. 1 ranked team in America -- Duke University! Of all teams, one we played three months earlier -- there was, you could say, a bit of shock and surprise. It all happened so fast, it was hard to believe.

Every afternoon throughout the season we practice at 1:00 and Tuesday was no different, except that there were reporters waiting for us. The girls headed into practice, excited that we were one of 64 teams in the country left playing. That day we concentrated on ourselves -- back to basics -- executing offenses -- defensive drills -- position play. Wednesday and Thursday, we spent much of the practice concentrating on our game plan for Duke. Friday was the day of departure. Along with fans, cheerleaders and our athletic director, Greg Burke, and other administrators, the team loaded the bus at 7 a.m. and headed to Shreveport to board the plane.

Saturday morning began with a catered breakfast buffet. Later that afternoon the team got its first look at fabled Cameron Indoor Stadium during a one-hour practice. Joining the girls for that workout was none other than the former UConn star Rebecca Lobo -- now an announcer for ESPN. Since we were the last team to work out, Rebecca was kind enough to visit with the girls and pose for pictures, a thrill that the other three teams at the sub-regional didn't get to enjoy.

After shoot-around before the game, it was back to the hotel for a big pre-game breakfast, taping, and getting dressed for the game. The game was an experience that really only needed to be lived once in a season, but I guess some people thought maybe we wanted it twice.

After the game we focused back on what an incredible season we experienced. Coach Smith did a great job of changing attitudes in the locker room. There were tears and frowns when he started, and once he finished, we were laughing and hugging each other, proud of what we accomplished this season.

When you think back to September 8th (the first day of conditioning) and then again to October 18th (the first day of practice) or how about opening up by coming from 19 points down to defeat Ball State in DePaul's Tournament -- it was a great start. After that game I remember thinking 'I wonder how this year will turn out. Maybe, just maybe, this could be the year we've always dreamed about.'

Looking at our team -- what talent -- what personality -- what great kids we deal with, day-in and day-out. I wish some of you could really know, as we coaches do, how special these girls are. They love Northwestern State, they care about academics and getting a degree, they love the Lord, they love basketball, and more importantly they truly care about each other. They are competitors on the court and close friends off the court. I wouldn't trade this team for any team in America!

The 1998-99 season proved to be one of the more successful seasons in Demon women's basketball history.

NSU finished with an overall record of 22-7. The 22 victories is tied for the third highest total in the storied 25-year history of the program. Their 16-2 Southland Conference record equaled the mark set by the 1994-95 team, the team that recorded the most wins in program history with 25.

Last season brought the second Southland Conference championship back to Prather Coliseum, both coming in the last five years.

Judy Clark was named Southland Conference Player of the Year, the third time in five years a Demons has garnered that award. Senior guard Sonya Bearden, the only senior on the team, ended her four-year stint at Northwestern as the most prolific three-point shooter in conference history. Bearden finished with 213 three-pointers, a new Southland Conference record for career three-pointers.

Many memorable moments also occurred during last season's magical role. After an inauspicious 1-2 start, with both losses coming on the road against stiff competition in Alabama and Oklahoma State, the Demons showed signs of what they were capable of doing. On November 28, in the second game of the Oklahoma State Cowgirl Classic tournament, NSU dominated New Mexico with a 66-59 win. Northwestern led by as many as 17 points at one time in the second half. This game served as an eye-opener, letting people know this team was not to be taken lightly.

On Dec. 12, in the second game of the Mississippi State Classic, NSU lit up the scoreboard with a 105-60 victory over Troy State. The 105 points were the most scored by a Demon team since 1995, when NSU scored 111 points against Louisiana College. Coincidentally, the game proved to be much more than a scoring frenzy for the Demons, it proved to be a catalyst leading to perhaps the greatest stretch of games in program history.

The next game on Jan. 4, 1999, proved to be more of a test for Northwestern. The Demons defeated Sam Houston in Prather Coliseum 66-63 to open conference play. After three more conference victories, an old nemesis came calling once again.

NSU traveled to Nacogdoches, to face the Stephen F. Austin LadyJacks, who were picked to win the conference title. The Demons stunned the LadyJacks, on their home floor for that matter, with an exciting 85-84 win. Judy Clark led the way with a career high 31 points, while a game-saving steal and foul shots by Kia Converse sealed the deal.

NSU once again used the momentum gained from a big win on the road and reeled off five more victories in conference play, winning by an average of 16 points per game. The Demons had won an amazing 11 games in a row.

On Feb. 4, NSU defeated Southwest Texas in Prather Coliseum 72-45 for its 12th straight victory, a new program record for consecutive victories. Two days later, NSU pushed the total to 13 straight with an 86-65 win over UTSA. At that time nationally, Northwestern's win streak was bettered only by top-ranked Tennessee, Purdue and Duke. All three teams advanced to the Women's Final Four the season prior. On Feb. 9, NSU dropped a 79-76 SLC game on the road to Sam Houston. The loss ended the phenomenal stretch and was also the first loss of 1999. The 13-game winning streak, which began on Dec. 20, 1998 against Troy had lasted seven weeks.

Not to be discouraged, Northwestern won four of its last five SLC contests to take home the outright Southland Conference regular season championship.

NSU then faced Northeast La. in the CenturyTel Southland Conference Classic. Judy Clark capped a miraculous comeback with a floater in the lane as the Demons defeated NLU 67-65, the third time Northwestern had defeated Northeast La. during the season.

After dropping the championship game to Stephen F. Austin, Northwestern accepted an invitation to the Women's National Invitational Tournament, the third time in six years the Demons would participate in this event.

Northwestern lost 78-60 in the first round on the road against Arkansas, which went on to win the WNIT title.

The 1994-95 edition of Northwestern State women's basketball was greeted with a great deal of optimism and high expectations. The Demons were picked by both the media and coaches to unseat seven-time defending Southland Conference champions Stephen F. Austin in the preseason polls.

Northwestern did not disappoint. They finished the conference race with a 16-2 record, winning their first SLC championship. The Demons posted their fourth consecutive 20-win season with a 25-7 record, which tied the school record for most wins in a season.

Northwestern opened the season with a very challenging non-conference slate. They played three teams ranked in the Top 25, going 1-2. After a road trip to Nebraska, which resulted in a 70-57 loss, the Demons traveled to Oxford, Miss., to play in the Ole Miss Lady Rebel Classic. Northwestern trounced Oral Roberts 94-69 in the first round but found the going much tougher in the finals. The Demons hung tough, taking a lead early in the second half, but the upset fell short as No. 20 Ole Miss prevailed 86-63.

Following a route of Louisiana College in the home opener, Northwestern headed west to play in the Stanford Cardinal Classic. The Demons shocked No. 24 Iowa 54-53 in the opening round. Bridgete Williams connected on two free throws with one second left in the game for the win. Physically, emotionally and mentally drained, Northwestern was no match for No. 6 Stanford, losing 102-62 in the finals.

Northwestern opened conference play with five straight wins. A surprising loss at Sam Houston gave SFA an early lead in the conference race. After the loss, the Demons bounced back to beat SFA 87-82, breaking the LadyJacks 86-game home conference winning streak. Northwestern went on to win seven consecutive games before losing at home to SFA. The Demons finished the conference schedule with only two blemishes to win the regular season title.

Wins over Northeast and McNeese in the Century Cellunet SLC Classic set up a championship game with SFA. Northwestern struggled from the field, shooting only 32 percent and lost 68-60 in the finals. After not receiving an at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament, Northwestern accepted a bid to the National Women's Invitational Tournament in Amarillo, Texas. The Demons drew Clemson in the first round. The Tigers were the first team in ACC history to win eight conference games and not get a bid to the NCAA tourney. The Demons jumped out to a 27-10 lead midway through the first half and coasted to an 80-64 win. Northwestern defeated Notre Dame 103-93 in a semifinal shootout. Angela Simpson scored 37 points, 22 in the second half. The Demons plated No. 1 seed Texas A&M in the finals. The Aggies prevailed 85-81 in a bruising battle that went down to the wire.

Several Demons received individual honors for their outstanding season. Joskeen Garner was named SLC Player of the Year and earned Associated Press honorable mention All-American honors. Garner was a first-team All-SLC selection for the third straight year. Simpson and Stephanie Shaw received second-team honors. Garner was a first-team All-Louisiana pick, Simpson earned third-team honors and Shaw was an honorable mention.

Northwestern enjoyed another terrific season in 1994-95. The season featured exciting games, a conference championship and postseason play. Several received well deserved honors and accolades and the team came together and never quit fighting.

PRATHER COLISEUM

Perhaps the toughest arena to play in the Southland Conference, Prather Coliseum is now in its sixth decade of hosting Northwestern State basketball and is named after H. Lee Prather, the all-time winningest coach in Demon Basketball history. The 3,400-seat multi-purpose facility was constructed in 1963 and sits on the banks of Chaplin's Lake, just south of Turpin Stadium.

The coliseum houses offices for men's and women's basketball, volleyball, soccer, the NSU news bureau, sports information, compliance, athletic facilities and vice president of external affairs offices. The arena was given a major facelift before the 2012-13 season with the addition of a permanent wood floor that fits three basketball courts, attractive new courtside purple seating that includes end-zone bleachers and new interior signage and banners.

JAMES T. GENOVESE

Northwestern State President

Northwestern State University President James Genovese is a native of Opelousas who previously served as an associate justice on the Louisiana Supreme Court.

He served on the Louisiana Supreme Court's Judicial Council Appellate Court Work Point Values Working Group and the Trial Court Committee to Review the Need for Judgeships and as chairman of its Long-Term Subcommittee.

Genovese was the Supreme Court's appointee to the Juvenile Justice Reform Act Implementation Commission. He is a board member of the Supreme Court of Louisiana Historical Society.

As an undergraduate at NSU, Genovese was a four-year letterman in tennis at No. 1 Singles and Doubles. He was named to Who's Who Among Universities and Colleges, Who's Who Among Greek Fraternities and Sororities of America and Outstanding College Athletes of America.

He was also president of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity and involved with Interfraternity Council, Student Government Association and intramurals. Genovese was inducted into the Long Purple Line, NSU's alumni hall of distinction, in 2018.

Genovese is married to Martha Anne Janes, who also attended Northwestern State, and is the father of four daughters, Celeste, Stephanie, Adrienne and Sarah, and a stepdaughter, Elizabeth. He is the grandfather of four.

He was named NSU's 21st president on July 18, 2024.

Genovese graduated from the Academy of the Immaculate Conception in Opelousas in 1967 and earned a Bachelor of Arts degree from Northwestern State University in 1971.

He received a juris doctorate from Loyola University in New Orleans in 1974 with honors in property law.

Genovese practiced law in Acadiana from 1974-1995 and was past president, vice president and secretary-treasurer of the St. Landry Parish Bar Association. He is a member of the Louisiana Bar Association, Colorado Bar Association and American Bar Association.

He is admitted to the bar in all state and federal courts in Louisiana, including the United States Supreme Court.

Genovese's judicial career began as a judge ad hoc of the Opelousas City Court from 1975-1989.

He was elected district judge of the 27th Judicial District Court for St. Landry Parish in 1995 and served as district judge through 2004, whereupon he was elected to the Louisiana Third Circuit Court of Appeal.

He served on the appellate court from 2005-2016. He was elected Associate Justice of the Louisiana Supreme Court, commencing January 1, 2017.

Genovese has been a panelist, speaker and lecturer at conferences and continuing education seminars on topics such as professionalism, ethics, summary judgment, writs, appeals, practices and procedures of the Louisiana Third Circuit Court of Appeal.

KEVIN BOSTIAN

Director of Athletics

Kevin Bostian took control of the Northwestern State athletic department in February 2022, three weeks after being named NSU's new Director of Athletics.

Regarded as a team builder with an innate ability to raise funds, Bostian came to Natchitoches after nearly two years at UNC Greensboro, serving as the Spartans' executive associate athletic director for development.

While at UNCG, the 43-year-old Bostian had the athletic department on pace for its highest fundraising year in school history. In his final full year at UNCG, the athletic department raised $1.8 million in funds, surpassing its goal by 50 percent.

Throughout his nearly two-decade long career in college athletic administration, Bostian has consistently surpassed his goals and currently has UNCG on pace for its highest fundraising year in school history in the 2022 fiscal year. In his first year with the Spartans, UNCG athletics raised $1.8 million in funds for the department, surpassing their goal by 50 percent.

He also oversaw the UNCG athletics ticketing, marketing and promotions and athletics communications offices and was the sports administrator for the UNCG men's basketball team, which won the Southern Conference regular-season and tournament championships and reached the NCAA Tournament.

In addition to his role in the external operations department, Bostian served as the interim athletic director at UNCG from September 2021 through earlier this month.

Before coming to UNCG, Bostian was a major gifts officer at his alma mater, North Carolina State. As the officer in charge of gifts of more than $50,000, Bostian secured nearly $2.5 million in gifts in his 25 months with The Wolfpack Club.

Prior to his arrival at NC State, Bostian spent almost four years as Georgia Southern's senior associate athletic director and executive director of the athletic foundation where he increased the athletic department's revenue three straight years and helped cultivate a record number of donors four straight years. While at Georgia Southern, Bostian secured the second-largest cash gift in the department's history and helped GSU push its athletic revenue to $3.909 million during the 2017 fiscal year.

A veteran of mid-major college athletics, Bostian spent more than three years at Tennessee Tech as its associate athletic director for development, serving as the department's chief fundraiser. Bostian secured the largest gift in Tennessee Tech athletics history, maintained a portfolio of more than 200 donors and increased total donor revenue by 80 percent, total number of donors by more than 77 percent and total number of major gifts by 58 percent.

Bostian spent nearly seven years at East Tennessee State in Johnson City, Tennessee, starting as a marketing, promotions, merchandise and licensing coordinator before moving into the director of corporate sales, marketing and regional athletic advancement position. He then spent three years as ETSU's assistant athletic director of corporate development and regional athletic advancement.

In his time as the assistant athletic director, Bostian increased corporate sponsorship cash revenue and total revenue all three years and overall boosted cash revenue by 69 percent and total revenue by 47.6 percent. He developed, implemented and solicited donors on a capital campaign for a new weight room and a phase of the baseball stadium project at ETSU.

Bostian began his athletic administration career as a marketing specialist at South Alabama and spent a year as the sports marketing coordinator at the Gwinnett County Sports Commission in metro Atlanta.

A 2000 magna cum laude graduate of North Carolina State in business management, Bostian earned his master's of business administration and master's of sports administration from Ohio University in 2002.

He and his wife, Megan, have three children, Ayla, Zoe and Piper.

The Southland Conference

AFFILIATED MEMBER INSTITUTIONS

Now in its 60th year, the Southland Conference has transformed itself into a dynamic and respected consortium of 10 comprehensive universities in Texas and Louisiana. Beginning with a historic meeting of five original institutions in Dallas on March 15, 1963, the Southland Conference set on an extraordinary course that has proven successful well into the 21st Century.

The members of the Southland Conference are Houston Christian University (formerly Houston Baptist University), the University of the Incarnate Word, Lamar University, McNeese State University, University of New Orleans, Nicholls State University, Northwestern State University, Southeastern Louisiana University, Texas A&M University-Commerce, and Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi. All told, the membership of the Southland encompasses over 140,000 current students and an alumni base of nearly 900,000.

Southland cities encompass approximately 14 million people, and its geography covers many of the nation's top 100 television markets, including Dallas-Fort Worth, Houston, San Antonio, New Orleans, Shreveport and Baton Rouge. League institutions, their locations, and many of their namesakes are significant to the history of the South Central and Southwest regions of the United States.

Southland institutions are annually positioned among the nation's best public and private universities, exemplified by superb undergraduate and graduate education rankings, and featuring unique and accomplished curriculums at the bachelor's, master's and doctoral levels. Member universities are frequently acknowledged for their superior standing in areas such as college buy value and return on investment, student engagement, best-in-region status, favorable student-to-faculty ratios, service learning, military-friendly designations, honors programs, online learning, faith-based learning, and access to higher education for all income levels.

Numerous Southland alumni have earned acclaim as business, medical, education and government leaders and innovators, iconic entertainers such as filmmakers, musicians and television/film actors, and athletes that starred at the professional and Olympic levels to earn hall of fame distinction.

Athletically, the Southland Conference sponsors championship play in 18 NCAA Division I sports at the NCAA Division I level. Women's sports include basketball, beach volleyball, cross country, golf, soccer, softball, tennis, indoor and outdoor track and field, and volleyball. Men's sports include baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, tennis, and indoor and outdoor track and field. Since 2015, the Conference has also administered the Southland Bowling League, an affiliated women's sport that has produced NCAA national champions in three of the last four years.

The Conference boasts automatic qualification in all NCAA team sports, and league members have taken advantage of this access with recent wins in NCAA baseball, softball, football, and basketball championships. Additionally, Southland teams have won numerous contests in other national postseason events.

The Southland has also taken a lead role in the NCAA Division I Football Championship Subdivision by serving as the host conference for the annual DI national championship game in the league office's base of Frisco, Texas, since 2011. Working with its partners, the City of Frisco and Hunt Sports Ventures, the Southland's hosting role has been reaffirmed three times since the initial game, that will remain at Frisco's Toyota Stadium at least through the 2025 game.

The league also has a tradition of innovation and creativity with its work in television, corporate sponsorships, officiating services and the use of technology in its efforts to support its membership and the well-being of student-athletes.

The Southland has long partnered with ESPN Networks throughout the broadcast company's history, and the league and its members are producing more than 200 television productions each year on the network's various platform. The league has also developed broadcast opportunities with other national and regional networks such as Cox Sports Television, Fox College Sports, AT&T SportsNet and Eleven Sports.

Previously, the league launched the Southland Conference Television Network from 2008-2015, and broadcast more than 160 events to a network reach of roughly 13 million households throughout Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma. During its run, the network earned numerous College Sports Media and Telly Awards.

The Conference has also developed a comprehensive corporate sponsorship program that aligns the business community with league initiatives and championship events. The Southland's corporate sponsorships are managed by Van Wagner Sports & Entertainment, a national leader in multimedia rights representation.

The Southland was the first Division I conference to develop a comprehensive football officiating agreement with another league when it partnered with Big 12 Conference in 2007, giving the league a first of its kind dual program that combined singular training, observation, video review and development, a model followed by many other Division I conferences today.

JASON PUGH

Assistant AD for Media Relations

11TH YEAR AT NSU

Jason Pugh took the reins of the Northwestern State sports information office in May, 2019 following the retirement of longtime assistant athletic director/sports information director Doug Ireland.

In five-plus years at Northwestern State, Pugh has coordinated publicity for three baseball All-Americans -- pitcher Adam Oller (2016 Collegiate Baseball; American Baseball Coaches Association), David Fry (2018 Collegiate Baseball) and Logan Hofmann (2020 Collegiate Baseball). He spearheaded efforts to ensure all NSU baseball games are available via streaming audio beginning in the 2017 season, broadcasting select home and road games solo or serving as the color commentator on Demon Sports Network coverage.

During his 12-year tenure at The Times, Pugh was the Northwestern State football and men's basketball beat writer from 2010-2013 and covered the 2012-13 NSU team that captured the program's third NCAA Tournament berth.

While at The Times, Pugh covered the first three World Series that have took place in Texas, one College World Series, one NCAA Men's Final Four and Super Bowl XLV. He has won first-place awards in Best Feature Story and Best Sports Story from the Louisiana Press Association and first place in Best Prep Feature from the Louisiana Sports Writers Association.

He also has captured numerous other awards for writing and design from the LSWA.

While a student at Louisiana-Lafayette, Pugh was the sports editor of the campus newspaper, The Vermilion, for two years and was a part of the sports information office for three years. In 2000-01, Pugh was the primary media contact for the inaugural season of Lady Cajuns soccer and for the nationally ranked Ragin' Cajuns baseball team, which made its lone College World Series appearance the previous year. He was the media relations contact for the 2001 Sun Belt Conference Baseball Tournament in Lafayette.

A 1997 graduate of Airline High School in Bossier City, Pugh was named the 2001

Louisiana-Lafayette Department of Communication Outstanding Graduate. He completed his master's in sport management from the Mark H. McCormack Department of Sport Management at the University of Massachusetts in May 2015.

BRAD WELBORN

Assistant Sports Information Director

6TH YEAR AT NSU

After running the sports information show at Louisiana Christian University, Brad Welborn was promoted to assistant sports information director in June 2022.

Welborn began his Northwestern State tenure in July 2019 and is the primary contact for NSU volleyball, women's basketball and softball.

At Louisiana Christian, Welborn was responsible for the publicity and statistics for the school's 18 athletics programs.

He used his technical skills to implement live video streams for all Louisiana College home sporting events as well as a social media presence for the Wildcats on Twitter, Facebook and Instagram. That included graphics and schedule posters as part of the publicity package.

Welborn has won three Louisiana Sports Writer's Association feature writing awards and a radio sports story award from the Louisiana-Mississippi Associated Press. He placed in the "best sports writer" category at the Southeast Journalism Conference. Welborn has radio experience as he hosted a two-hour morning program on KJVC 92.7 FM for more than six years and was a play-by-play announcer for various high school sports.

He obtained an associates degree in telecommunications at Bossier Parish Community College in 2009 and a bachelors degree in convergence media and sports journalism at Louisiana Christian in 2019.

Welborn also served as the media director at Southside Baptist Church for more than seven years, creating graphics and producing videos.

JONATHON ZENK

Assistant Director of Communications

3RD YEAR AT NSU

After a two-year stint at LSU-Alexandria, Jonathon Zenk returned to Northwestern State as its assistant director of communication in July 2022.

Zenk works as the main contact for women's soccer, women's basketball and men's and women's track and field.

During his tenure at NSU, he has covered three All-Americans in track and field: Zachaeus Beard (2023 indoor, 2024 outdoor), Djimon Gumbs (2024 indoor) and the women's 4x400 relay team (2024 outdoor). Beard in the outdoor earned a first team selection in the 100-meter dash.

He collected a third-place LSWA finish in 2023-2024 for a feature written on sprinter Lynell Washington carrying on her father's legacy following his death.

Zenk, who was a graduate assistant at in the NSU sports information department from 2018-20, spent the past two years as the sports information director at LSUA, where he coordinated public relations and media coverage for all seven of the the school's athletic programs.

After his first year at Northwestern State, he was presented the Louisiana Sports Writers Association's Ace Higgins Award, given to the state's top student assistant sports information staffer.

Zenk graduated in 2012 from the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay. There, he worked for the 'Fourth Estate,' the school paper throughout his time in school. At Green Bay, he covered men's and women's tennis, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's swimming and diving and women's volleyball.

NORTHWESTERN STATE

DEDICATED TO ONE GOAL. YOURS.

We are Northwestern State, the oldest institution in the University of Louisiana System and a university with a long tradition of academic excellence in a student-centered environment.

Founded in 1884 as the State Normal School, Northwestern State grew into the leading four-year university of the region with satellite campuses and learning locations serving northern and central Louisiana.

Northwestern State has nationally-recognized programs in computer information systems, creative and performing arts, nursing, educational technology and industrial technology. The university has put an emphasis on incorporating technology in the classroom, working to provide students with cutting-edge technology that is applicable to the workplace. Northwestern State also includes real-world experience through internships and workplace-oriented coursework. Along with four colleges -- Allied Health, Education, Science, Business and Technology and Arts and Sciences -- NSU is the home of the Louisiana Scholars' College, the state's designated honors college.

Consistent with its roots as Louisiana's first teacher instruction institution, Northwestern State pioneered aggressive ways to deliver to courses to students. Starting with distance education innovations in the later 20th century, Northwestern State's global campus of eNSU now serves students around the world with 31 fully on-line degree programs and hundreds of individual course offerings.

Enrollment at Northwestern State is more than 9,000 students with more than 80,000 alumni in all 50 states and 12 countries. Students come to NSU from every parish of the state of Louisiana.

Located in Natchitoches, the oldest settlement in the Louisiana Purchase, the university and community value history. Part of the university is entered in the National Register of Historic Places. The university is home to the National Center for Preservation Technology and Training, a unit of the National Park Service dedicated to promoting and enhancing the preservation and conservation of prehistoric and historic resources in the United States.

Northwestern State seeks to provide a well-rounded education for its students, allowing them to take part in a variety of extracurricular activities. More than 100 chartered organizations are available to enhance what is learned in the classroom.

*SLC Game // Home Game

NSU broke

Southland play... 2003-04, and stood 7-1 in the... point home victory against McNeese on Jan. 24.

One constant that carried over from NSU's non-conference slate was its ability to overcome deficits and emerge victorious. NSU trailed at halftime in each of its first three
