NSU IN THE NBA

Norfolk State has a rich history in the National Basketball Association, with seven players alone selected in the NBA draft in the four-year period from 1968-71. NSU had 13 players all-together picked between 1968 and 1988 during the program's NCAA Division II heydays.

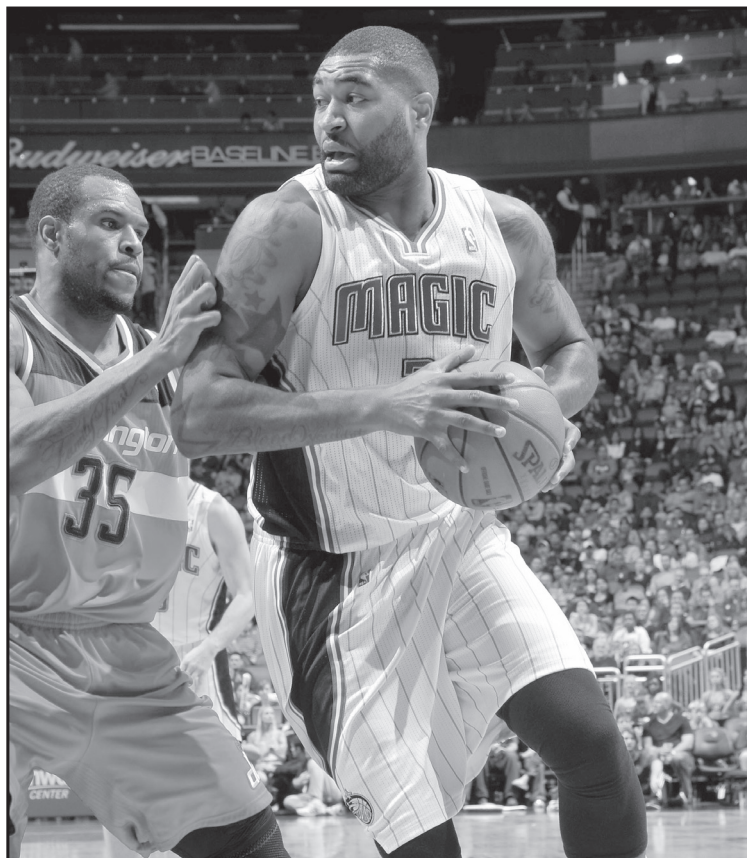

The most famous of those players is, of course, Bob Dandridge, who was selected by the Milwaukee Bucks in the 1969 draft after leading NSU to the CIAA title in 1968 and a runner-up finish in '69. Dandridge's career in the NBA spanned from 1969 to 1982 and included eight playoff appearances with Milwaukee and Washington as well as four NBA all-star appearances.

Dandridge finished his career with more than 15,500 points, 5,700 rebounds and 2,800 assists and averaged 18.5 points, 6.8 rebounds and 3.4 assists per game during his illustrious career.

Three other former Norfolk State players also saw time in the NBA: Ray Epps, David Pope and Kyle O'Quinn. Epps played in 13 games during the 1978-79 season with Golden State, while Pope spent parts of two seasons with Kansas City and Seattle from 1984-86 and saw time in 33 games. O'Quinn has spent the last two years with the Orlando Magic organization, averaging 6.2 points, 5.3 rebounds and 1.1 assists per game in 2013-14.

Lee Johnson was the last of those 13 players during NSU's D-II days to hear his name called in the NBA Draft after he was selected by Detroit in 1988. Nearly 25 years later, NSU had pick No. 14 when two-time MEAC Defensive Player of the Year Kyle O'Quinn saw his name come up on the screen during the 2012 Draft.

O'Quinn, who was taken in the second round by the Orlando Magic, became the first MEAC player selected since Florida A&M's Jerome James in 1998. With the 49th overall pick in the Draft, O'Quinn became the third-highest Spartan to be drafted behind Charles Bonaparte (No. 35) and Dandridge (No. 45) in '69 and the only one selected before the third round.

NSU IN THE MEAC

In 1997, Norfolk State University made the momentous move from NCAA Division II classification to Division I, which meant a change in conferences. NSU became the 11th member in the MEAC, a conference of historically black colleges and universities along the East Coast. NSU became eligible for MEAC basketball titles starting in the 1999-2000 school year.

The Spartans wasted no time in becoming a competitive force in the league. NSU has yet to have a losing conference record in its 16 years in the league, with a combined MEAC record of 170-104 (.620) in that time.

Here is a look at how the Spartans have fared since joining the conference:
